PASTOR SAYS FAREWELL

Rev. Mr. Mooney Predicts That Monroe Avenue Church Will be a Big Institution.

GIVES SOME ADVICE

Before a congregation that filled the church, Rev. George Mooney delivered his farewell sermon as pastor of Monroe Avenue M. E. church yesterday morning. Mr. Mooney is slated for appointment by the Newark Conference, which starts Wednesday, to the South Orange church. Rev. Dr. G. H. Whitney, former president of Hackettstown Institute, assisted in the service.

Preaching from the twenty-seventh verse of the twentieth chapter of Acts, "I have not shunned to declare unto you the whole counsel of God," Mr. Mooney touched on the ideals of ministry and of professed religion that he had felt, and had sought to act in his service at Monroe Avenue. St. Paul, next to Jesus Christ, had been the model on which he tried to build his own ministry.

"My purpose in the first place has always been to preach the simple gospel of Christ. We have no quarrel with the higher critics, no great fault to find with those who seek to search to the root of those great truths that touch us all, but somehow, inbred in our minds, our hearts and our lives are the old simple faith and belief in the gospel of truth—in the redemption and salvation of a lost race through Christ, and it has always seemed to me better to persuade a man of his course toward salvation on those lines of simple faith than to lead him to doubt, and from conjecture to conjecture.

"I have endeavored to preach a gospel bringing encouragement to those in sorrow, those whose hearts are heavy and those who mourn; a gospel to strengthen those against whom the struggle of life is going; a gospel of encouragement, a gospel of hopefulness. It is a gospel for rejected men, for through it they see their right to come into a new life.

"I have endeavored to impress on you thoughts of individual piety. Ministry and laiety should cultivate spirituality, should quicken the life of the soul. Emphasis should be laid everywhere on the development of spiritual life. The social life, the business life, the political life, will all grow and quicken of themselves—we need not concern ourselves about the participation of men in them. But we must call on people strongly to look well to their spiritual life. Are conditions of the every-day world about us such as to cause alarm—cause us to pause and ask whither we are going? Such conditions are to be met only by strong spiritual life.

"Along two particular lines I have frequently spoken. First, personal testimony. And here let my say that if I have had any measure of success, if my ministry has in any degree been successful, I owe it to the man who sits on the platform with me—who has been to me as a father. My sweetest memories are of the personal testimony meetings of my school days at Hackettstown. I would be untrue to my training and to my best friend, if I did not continually urge the importance of personal testimony.

"It seems to me that if God has given us blessings if he has made our lives better and sweeter and more peaceful, the least we can do is to tell of his goodness. I pray God the day will come when this church that we love, which was once noted for its outspeaking, will again speak out freely. The church of Christ should be a witnessing church.

"Personal service is the other important thing. We should couple our testimony with acts. Does it pay to serve Christ? The world always cares for those who serve it. The man who gives himself wholly for Christ, to serve the world, wants for nothing."

Speaking his formal farewell as pastor, Mr. Mooney said:

"We stand today, brethren and sisters, in a place that ought to evoke feelings of thanksgiving. Prosperity has been accorded us during the past two years, especially the year just past. We have made material progress, but, better than this, we come to the close of the year having made spiritual progress. There is a better spirit among us, heartier co-operation and greater love.

"We shall look back with satisfaction, with joy, with thanksgiving. It is never enjoyable to sever relations that have been happy or profitable, but the regret in going away from you has been deepened by the many testimonies of the past few days.

"Turn your thoughts and your hearts to the church itself. Love the

JACOB BLIMM, JR., WEDS MRS. EDITH NEILL

CEREMONY TOOK PLACE QUIETLY AT THE HOME OF BRIDE'S MOTHER.

With only the immediate relatives of both in attendance, Jacob Blimm, Jr., of Somerset street, and Mrs. Edith Neill, daughter of Mrs. Albert Hedden, of West Fifth street, were quietly married Saturday afternoon. The ceremony was performed at Mrs. Hedden's home at 4 o'clock by Rev. L. R. Howard, pastor of Hope chapel. Miss Ella Hedden acted as bridesmaid and Robert Crosson was best man. The house was prettily decorated with cut flowers and plants.

Following the ceremony a reception was held and later Mr. and Mrs. Blimm left on a wedding trip, with Washington as the destination. On their return they will make their home in the New Madison. The groom is associated with his father in the hotel business and enjoys a wide local acquaintance.

SON OF MAYOR FISK TO WED ON APRIL 12.

CEREMONY TO BE SOCIETY EVENT IN CINCINNATI EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

Mr. and Mrs. Chittenden Collings, of Cincinnati, have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Miss Edith Collings, and Augustus Ritchey Fisk, son of former Mayor and Mrs. Charles Joel Fisk, of this city. The nuptial event will take place Thursday, April 12, at 12 o'clock noon, in Calvary church, Cincinnati, and will be followed by a wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's parents in Biddie street.

The wedding will be largely attended by guests from this city and New York, as well as by society folk in Cincinnati, where Miss Collings is a favorite in exclusive social circles.

Mr. Fisk is a graduate of Yale and is in the Boston office of Harvey Fisk & Sons.

CRANFORD POSTMASTERSHIP.

There is much speculation at Cranford as to whether Postmaster John L. Derby will be reappointed. He has the indorsement of the Republican executive committee, but the department at Washington has notified Congressman Fowler to send in another name. Derby has had the office for thirty-five years. James E. Warren has published a letter, stating that he never was an aspirant and would not take the office. Robert Rindell, a coal dealer, is circulating a petition for signatures for his appointment.

It is said that the old fight between Congressman Fowler and Senator Kean is responsible for the failure of Mr. Derby to secure a reappointment. Mr. Derby is allied with the Fowler faction.

Changes in Residence.

Caspar Waglow Resigns His Position.

Caspar Waglow resigned his position at "The White Store" this morning, the same to take effect at once. Mr. Waglow was employed by Isaac Lederer for twelve years, two years by Edward White, three years by S. B. Carson, four years by Hill & Shupp, and has since been an assistant to A. E. Force, of the present management. His plans for the future have not been decided upon.

Valuable Dog Gone.

A fine greyhound dog, owned by W. S. Campbell, of West Front street, was killed by a trolley car last week. The animal was an intelligent one and a great pet of the family. A grocer calling at the house let the dog out and he ran into the street across the trolley tracks just as a car came along. The fender struck the canine, injuring his head and breaking a leg. He died soon afterward.

Sunday School Election.

The annual meeting of the officers and teachers of the Sunday school of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church will be held in the parlors of the church Thursday night at 8 o'clock. There will be an election of officers.

—The fresh vegetable display at Neuman Brothers' store includes fine strawberries and splendid asparagus. Prices are unusually low this week.

68TH ANNUAL SESSION

OFFICERS ARE CHOSEN

The sixty-eighth annual meeting of the Seventh-day Baptist church was held yesterday afternoon and evening, with Frank J. Hubbard as moderator. The afternoon session opened with devotional exercises conducted by the pastor, Rev. George B. Shaw. Then followed the routine business from 4 until 6 o'clock. Reports were presented by the trustees, of whom Dr. Henry M. Maxson is secretary and William M. Stillman treasurer.

A feature of the treasurer's report was its statement as to the removal of the cemetery from Cedar Brook, and the reinterment of the bodies in Hillside cemetery, thus preparing the site for the new High School building. The work covered five years' time. The report stated that this prolonged and difficult task had been successfully accomplished under the direction of the trustees, Frank J. Hubbard being their representative and having all the details in hand.

The following officers were elected: Trustees, Joseph A. Hubbard, to succeed himself for a term of five years; George E. Stillman for four years, to complete the unexpired term of J. F. Hubbard; clerk, Asa F. Randolph; assistant treasurer, G. E. Stillman; auditors, C. H. Dunham and A. L. Titsworth; chorister, David E. Titsworth; organist, Jessie M. Utter; ushers, Arthur J. Spicer, chairman; Rollin Williams, George Clarke, Charles Neagle, George L. Babcock, Wendell Mosher, James Pope, Milton St. John.

Rev. G. B. Shaw reported the completion of a booklet entitled "The Sabbath and Seventh-day Baptists," for distribution among the members of the church and their friends. This booklet is an expose of the belief of Seventh-day Baptists and tells briefly the history of the Sabbath and Seventh-day Baptists since a very early time. Communications were read and various questions discussed relative to the work of the church for the coming year. After prayer by Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis, the meeting adjourned to the parlors, where supper was served and a social and fellowship hour was enjoyed.

At 8 o'clock encouraging reports from the various departments of church work were presented by Rev. G. B. Shaw, pastor; Orra S. Rogers, superintendent of the Sabbath school; Mrs. A. T. Maxson, secretary of the Ladies' Society for Christian Work; Miss Bertha Mitchell, secretary of the Christian Endeavor Society. These reports showed permanent progress in all departments of church work, and by the different organizations of the church. They promise similar results for the coming year.

For many years J. D. Spicer served as church clerk, and as this occasion was the fortieth anniversary of his presence at the annual church meeting, Mr. Spicer gave some interesting reminiscences of the many changes that occurred during that period. This included names of sixteen men who were prominent workers in the church forty years ago, but one of whom, J. A. Hubbard, is still living. At that time the membership was one-half the present membership, and but twenty of those members are now living. The services of the church were then held in the meeting place of the Park Avenue Baptist church, now Reform Hall, the Seventh-day Baptist church having been sold to the railroad company because of changes in the laying of the track in that part of the city.

A feature of the evening was the roll call of church members. Of the ninety-two responses given, eighty-two were from those present, and ten were read from absent ones, including members in Kansas, Illinois, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Florida and Holland.

Prof. John B. Cottrell was elected moderator of the next annual meeting. The session closed with the singing of "Coronation."

Bliss Perry Will Lecture.

Bliss Perry, editor of the Atlantic Monthly and professor of English literature at Harvard University, will deliver a lecture before the Men's Club of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church tonight on the subject of "The Magazine." The annual meeting of the club for the election of officers will be held immediately before the lecture.

Reformed Church Classis.

The spring meeting of the Classis of Newark (Reformed Church) will be held Wednesday, April 18, in Trinity Reformed church. There will be two sessions, morning and afternoon.

FIGHTERS AND LEADERS HELD FOR GRAND JURY

FISTIC EXHIBITION ANNOUNCED AS A DANCE CAUSES A RAID.

County Detective Schwartz, of Elizabeth, with policemen from Westfield, raided a prize fight at Brink's Hotel, Graceland, at 1:40 o'clock yesterday morning. Eighteen persons, mostly young men, and including the principals, Ernest Cotter and Erward Wahl, of Westfield, were arrested and locked up at Westfield. Of the eighteen, all but four were released after being fined $2.60 by Recorded Toucey.

Proprietor Brink was held in $400 bail and Charles Gaffney, the bartender, who refereed the bout, was released in $100 bail, as were also Cotter and Wahl. Bail was readily furnished.

The affair was advertised as a dance, but the county authorities got a tip and planned the raid. The bout was to have been five rounds, but the first round was scarcely finished when the police walked in and arrested all hands and marched them to Westfield. Those held on bail will appear before the next Grand Jury.

EUGENE RUNYON DIES FOLLOWING OPERATION

Following an operation for the amputation of his right leg, Eugene Runyon, one of the best known residents of Dunellen, died in Muhlenberg Hospital at 6 o'clock this morning. He had been suffering with gangrene for five weeks and was removed to the institution last Saturday. The disease had made rapid progress, however, and he failed to rally after the limb was removed.

Mr. Runyon was sixty-five years old and had lived in Dunellen and the lower end of Piscataway township all his life. He was engaged in the real estate business and brought about many sales that helped the growth of the borough where he made his home. He was a deacon in the New Market Baptist church and served as its treasurer. He was also treasurer of the Dunellen Building and Loan Association, which he helped organize. He was married twice, his second wife surviving him. He leaves two sons, Walter G. Runyon, the Dunellen undertaker, and Oscar Runyon, who is employed in the Philadelphia offices of the New Jersey Central.

The funeral will be held from his late home on North avenue, Dunellen, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

PETITION WITHDRAWN?

Schanz Says So, but City Clerk Has No Record of It.

Charles Schanz, who applied for a retail liquor license on North avenue, in the property now occupied by Lawrence Paoli, declared today that he had withdrawn his application and that it would not be presented at the Common Council meeting tonight.

Inquiry at the office of City Clerk MacMurray this afternoon failed to show that there was any record of Mr. Schanz withdrawing his application. The applicant's counsel, William Newcorn, is in Trenton, and it was impossible to get a statement from him about the matter.

Another Lenten Recital.

Holy Cross church again held a large audience Saturday afternoon when F. Clinton Lee, organist, gave another one of his delightful Lenten organ recitals, assisted by Dr. Leonard Waldo, 'cellist. These recitals have been very popular during the Lenten season and the well-selected programmes as well as the artists have been well received. This programme was rendered Saturday: "Fourth Sonata," first movement, Mendelssohn; "Communion," Tombelle; "Melody in F," Rubinstein; "Grave," Ehrhardt; "Abenlied," Kretschmer; "Cantilene Nuptiale," Dubois; "Prayer," Lemiagre; "Le doux mal," Banger; "Crondellied," Merkel; "Grand Chorus," Lemaigre. Dr. Waldo gave two numbers and the rest of the numbers were by Mr. Lee.

Baptists Annual Meeting.

The thirtieth annual parish meeting of the Park Avenue Baptist church will be held at the church on Wednesday night for the purpose of electing four trustees, each for a term of two years, to succeed George E. Hall, George W. V. Moy, Roland C. Treadwell and Frank T. Ostrom, and transaction of other business.

Death of Mrs. Albert Johnson.

Emma S. Johnson, wife of Albert Johnson, died at her home on Johnson drive, yesterday. The funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

SERVICE IN THE THEATRE

Newark Pastor Preaches on "Son of Man" to a Congregation of Men.

MR. ANDREWS LEADS

Rev. Dr. James I. Vance Makes the Address—Y. M. C. A. Orchestra and Glee Club Furnish Music.

The second of the Y. M. C. A.'s meetings in the New Plainfield theatre was held yesterday afternoon before a gathering of men as large, if not larger, than on the previous Sunday. Practically every seat in the lower part of the house was taken and there were many in the balcony chairs.

Frederic H. Andrews was again in charge and led the singing, while special musical numbers were furnished by the association orchestra and the Lotus Glee Club. The latter rendered three pleasing selections and Whitney Frazee contributed a cornet solo while the offering was being taken.

The speaker of the day was Rev. James I. Vance, pastor of the North Reformed church, of Newark. His address was straightforward and simple, one of the kind that is easily followed and understood. His subject was "The Son of Man," and he sought to show his hearers that in adopting this name, Jesus Christ revealed His divinity. If He had been an insignificant person He would surely have taken some high-sounding title, but instead He preferred the lowly. In this way He could accomplish His mission on earth and mingled among those who occupied humble stations without making them think He was better than they.

If Christ were on earth today, he said, He would mingle among men like themselves, wearing their garb and acting as one of them. But though He is not on earth in the flesh, He is everywhere in the spirit, always ready to accept those who wish to take Him in their hearts. He is to be the Judge of everyone, because He has suffered as humans suffer and His judgment will be tempered with mercy.

At the close of his address there were many hands raised for prayer and after the service several men remained for conference with him. There will be no more meetings at the theatre, but those to be at the association rooms will be fully as interesting and all men are invited.

REVIVAL COSTUMES.

Evangelist Says Human Names Are Divisive.

Evangelist O. P. Spiegel delivered a strong discourse at the revival services in the Christian church last night on the subject of "The New Name," showing how God in different times had named His people sons of God, brethren, saints, disciples and Christians. He said: "Human names are diisive and sinful and people should give them up."

During the service Mr. Sturgis sang "A Clean Heart," and the orchestra, assisted by Mrs. John Manley, rendered the instrumental selections. The services will continue every evening this week at 7:45 o'clock. The special musical features this evening will be a duet and solo and Evangelist Spiegel will discuss the subject "Which Church Shall I Join?"

Prisoner Escapes from County Jail.

Joseph Shanley, of Elizabeth, who has the record of being committed to the county jail on twenty-seven different occasions, and who has been serving ninety days on a charge of being drunk and disorderly, walked out of the jail yesterday and has not been seen since. He had served twenty days of his present sentence. Shanley was not guarded closely, being considered more in the nature of a "trusty."

Men's Club Topic.

The meeting of the Men's Club of the Congregational church tomorrow night will take the form of a symposium on current events. "The Metric System" will be discussed by Joseph E. Morse; "Immigration," by R. D. Rice; "Austrian-Hungarian Crisis," by E. L. Suffern; "Life Insurance Reform," by Philip Suffern. Refreshments and a social time will follow.

Rubbish Heap Fires Alarm Residents

Workmen clearing off the lot at Washington avenue and Prospect place, Saturday afternoon, left two large heaps of rubbish burning when then went away. The sparks blew about the neighborhood in such dangerous fashion a nearby resident summoned the fire department. The blaze was put out with a couple of extinguishers.

Death of Infant Son.

Frederick O. Ball, Jr., the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick O. Ball, of Washington avenue, died this morning, aged one year. The funeral will be private.

FORMER PLAINFIELDER DIES IN N. Y. HOSPITAL

BROTHER LIVING HERE NOT NOTIFIED UNTIL FOUR DAYS AFTERWARD.

Peter Schmidt, who formerly resided on Regent street, died last Tuesday night in Bellevue Hospital, New York. Because of lax methods in vogue at the metropolitan institution, the young man's only relative, Fritz Schmidt, an employe of John Wirth, was not apprised of the death until Saturday. He at once took steps to have the body brought to Plainfield, and it was removed, to Cole's undertaking rooms yesterday.

Schmidt was a painter by trade, and went to New York but a short time ago to take a position. He was taken ill suddenly and his brother did not know that anything was the matter wit hhim until wired for instructions about the body. He was a cousin of Peter Blaich, of the borough, and had lived in the borough for a long time. The funeral arrangements have not been made, but it will probably be held Wednesday morning.

HUGH F. FOX AGAINST CONGRESSIONAL "GRAFT"

PLAINFIELDER OPPOSES FREE SEED DISTRIBUTION BY GOVERNMENT.

Senator John F. Dryden has filed protests in the Upper House at Washington against the free distribution of ordinary garden seeds from President of State Board of Children's Guardians Hugh F. Fox, of this city; the Oakland Nurseries, of Clarksboro, and L. B. Coddington, a rose grower, of Murray Hill. Mr. Coddington, while protesting against the distribution of "ordinary" seeds, favors the free distribution of "good and rare" varieties.

Mr. Fox, who is a large hop dealer, protests against the giving out of ordinary seeds, which he styles "this petty prize package business," and then adds that "nothing has been done by the Agricultural Department to improve the hop growing industry. If the money which is wasted in distributing seeds were applied to some sensible purpose for the general welfare, it might open up a great field of usefulness."

Men's Meeting at Hope Chapel.

There will be a meeting of the men of Hope chapel tonight at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of forming a men's club. All male members above eighteen years of age are cordially invited to attend.

ONLY 10,000 TONS HERE

Local Retailers are Supplying Coal in Small Quantities Only.

PRICES NOT RAISED

The annual coal consumption in this city and the borough is approximately 60,000 tons. At present there are about 10,000 tons in the yards of the local dealers. Consumers all over the city and borough have been rushing their orders in to provide for the future, but the dealers have adopted a policy of selling enough coal to supply current needs, and will book no large orders for future delivery.

This policy was adopted as soon as it was definitely known that there would be a strike in the anthracite regions. While the retail dealers admit that the operators are in better condition than ever to stand a long strike, they are afraid that they will limit the supply to the retailer, which will of course affect the consumer.

One dealer said this morning that he had turned away orders aggregating 200 tons, simply because he could not promise to fill them. Other dealers are taking orders with considerable caution. There has been no attempt made here to raise the retail price as yet. One dealer said today: "We will probably sell out our supply at the present price and then shut up our yards until another shipment is received." Other dealers have advised their customers not to worry, that they will be taken care of. The retailers say they have not yet received their April notice of prices and conditions from the operators.

Miss Tennyson's Birthday.

A surprise party was tendered to Miss Corinne Tennyson, of East Fifth street, on Saturday evening, in honor of the fourteenth anniversary of her birthday. The affair was arranged by Miss Mabel Cook and Miss Caroline Lambert, and the usual good time playing games, together with vocal and instrumental music was had from 8 to 10 o'clock. Those present were the Misses Mabel Cook, Jessie Clawson, Ethel Searing, Helen Woolley, Helen Ryder, Eleanor Bold, Marjorie Ackor, Ethel Pope, Caroline Lambert, May Chamberlain and Miriam Hall.

CHRIS SORENSEN HAS BEEN A BENEDICT SINCE LAST FALL

Chris B. Sorensen.

Emma Louise Ferguson.

Friends in this city have received with much surprise, announcement of the marriage om Chris B. Sorensen, formerly of Webster place, who has been travelling for the past few years in various theatrical and musical enterprises. He became a benedict in New York, last fall, when he wedded Miss Emma Louise Ferguson, piano soloist with the Couturier Concert Company, which he managed during the past winter. She is a native of Boston and is the daughter of a newspaperman. Her father was formerly on the staff of the Boston Journal and is now owner and editor of the Newtown Journal, Newtown, Mass. She is an exceptionally talented woman and has a wide reputation as a pianist, especially in the New England states.

Mr. Sorensen is also a musician of note and has been winning laurels in the concert field. He is especially proficient with the trombone, which instrument he played in Arthur Pryor's band during its two seasons at the Asbury Park Casino. For the past two seasons he has managed the tour of this organization and is at present completing arrangments for the third. The season opens at Willow Grove, Philadelphia, June 17, and then goes to Asbury Park again for nine weeks. After that the band goes on a western tour with the former Plainfielder in charge.

Mr. Sorensen has a host of acquaintances in the city who will join with his professional friends in extending congratulations. He is a member of Plainfield Lodge, No. 885, B. P. O. E., and several other local organizations in addition to his connection with theatrical fraternities. His permanent address is at the Daly theatre building, New York, while his home is in the uptown residential district of the metropolis.

NEWS IN THE SUBURBS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY

Rev. S. K. Doolittle preached his last sermon as pastor of the M. E. church, under appointment, yesterday. The Conference, which opens Wednesday in Jersey City, will decide whether he is to return here. No one here seems to have had any hint regarding it. A number from the church will attend Conference opening.

New Market Grange will celebrate its first anniversary with a supper tonight. An informal entertainment will follow the feast, which is to be of a bounteous and unstilted character. Judge Von Minden will make a speech.

As soon as the weather gets settled into mildness, W. H. Taylor will start on a driving tour through eastern and southern Pennsylvania.

Committees will be appointed by the Piscataway school board this afternoon. Plans for the Parker school will be considered.

Friendship Circle will hold its next meeting at the home of Mrs. Nelson Blackford, on Wednesday of next week.

Miss Edna Baldwin began her work as stenographer in W. S. Angleman's law office, Plainfield, this morning.

Various members of the lodge will entertain at the New England supper of Lakeside Council tomorrow night.

The monthly meeting of the Methodist church trustees will be held tonight at the home of I. J. Stites.

Council will meet tonight. Bids for stone to be used on the streets during the year will be received.

W. W. Oliver's case against John Smith, on tort, will come up for hearing Wednesday morning.

B. A. Cole is arranging to move into the Blair house. He expects to be settled there by Easter.

A candidate will be initiated at the next meeting of W. G. Holton Council, Jr. O. U. A. M.

Fred Kirchner entered the employ of the Craig Manufacturing Company this morning.

The Holy Name Society attended mass at St. John's church yesterday morning.

Miss Viola Tinsman has returned from a stay with relatives in Port Murray.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Funeral services of the late George F. T. Carter were held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late home in the borough. The home was filled with relatives and friends who had known the deceased during the many years of his residence here. Rev. George Mulford, rector of All Saints' Episcopal church, of which the deceased was an attendant, had charge of the obsequies. During his remarks he spoke of the departed as he was known in life, and offered words of sympathy and consolation to the bereaved family in this their hour of trial. A number of handsome floral set pieces bore silent testimony of kind sympathy from relatives and friends. Interment was made in the family plot in the Baptist cemetery.

Rev. Mr. Richards, of Drew Seminary, preached at the Methodist church Sunday morning, and in the evening Rev. Mr. Hoffman preached his farewell sermon, as the Conference meets this week and a new pastor will be appointed. Rev. Mr. Hoffman has only had charge of the church for a short time, having been appointed to fill the unexpired term of Rev. Warren D Coons, who was appointed by the Conference to another pastorate during the year, but the church has flourished under his guiding hand and he has made many warm friends here who regret his departure. The church has not been advised as to who the new pastor will be, but the Conference meeting generally appoints a student at Drew Seminary.

The members of the Epworth League held an interesting and well attended meeting last night in the class rooms of the Methodist church.

Joe Alberts started the season yesterday with the Loughlins ball team, of Brooklyn, in their opening game of the season with the Hobokens.

Miss Alyea and Miss Parse, both of Newark, were the guests Saturday of Mrs. Augusta Miller, of East Front street.

Another windy day or two to dry up the mud will bring out the small boy and his baseball and bat again.

The weekly meeting of the B. Y. P. U. was held last night in the church parlors.

The monthly communion was held yesterday morning at the Baptist church.

PERSONAL.

Charles Sturtevant, of East Sixth street, has returned from a business trip to Boston.

Mrs. Amos Giddes, of the borough, is detained at home with an attack of typhoid fever.

Mrs. Fletcher, of Lexington, Va., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Elderton, of East Front street.

Walter Gibson, a former local resident, now living at Passaic, has been visiting friends in town.

Postoffice Inspector W. J. Mehary, of Philadelphia, has been visiting his brother-in-law, W. J. Counihan, of Spooner avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Findley, of Jersey City, were guests yesterday of Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Dobbins, of West End avenue.

County Registrar and Mrs. F. H. Smith, of West Fourth street, arrived home Saturday from the South, where they have been sojourning for several weeks for Mr. Smith's health. He is much improved, the change of climate being beneficial.

Woman Escapes Flames.

Camden, April 2.—Mrs. Martin Kreck owes her escape from death yesterday by her agility in sliding down an awning pole. She lived on the second floor of a house at the corner of Sixth and Elm streets, and was awakened by smoke that poured into her bedroom from a fire that had started on the floor below. Escape by the hall being impossible, the woman ran to a front window and called for help. The flames were soon within a few feet of her. She climbed out upon the awning and slid down one of the poles to the ground while a crowd in the street cheered. Mrs. Kreck was taken to the Cooper Hospital. There is was found that her hands and face were severely burned.

Open 8:30 A. M.; Close 5:30 P. M. Until Further Notice.

NEW RULES ADOPTED BY U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.

One Pertains to Applications for Habeas Corpus Writs and Other for Admission of Attorneys.

Trenton, April 2.—As the result in part of the recent application for a writ of habeas corpus for Guiseppe Marmo, who was hanged in Newark, a new set of rules was promulgated in the United States Circuit Court yesterday. The rules were signed by Circuit Court Judge Gray, of Delaware, and District Court Judges William M. Lanning and Joseph Cross, of New Jersey. The rule directly affecting habeas corpus writs is as follows:

"No application for a writ of habeas corpus in favor of a person restrained of his liberty by virtue of the process of any court of the State of New Jersey will be considered unless the attorney representing the petitioner be a member of the bar of the Supreme Court of the State of New Jersey and also a member of the bar of this court."

The purpose of this rule is to prevent the procuring of habeas corpus writs on trifling grounds. The United States Circuit Court has already placed itself on record as opposed to delays on frivolous grounds, and has threatened to strike from its rolls the name of any lawyer applying for any suc writ without reasonable grounds.

By restricting to the members of the New Jersey bar the lawyers who may apply for such writs, the United States Court makes it possible for the Supreme Court to take further action looking toward the disbarment of any lawyer who manifestly attempts to trifle with the ends of justice. The adoption of this rule was brought about at the suggestion of Judge Lanning, during whose term several cases of the kind sought to be remedied have been before the courts. The rule was heartily approved by Judge Gray.

Another new rule provides for the admission of attorneys to the United Circuit Court, placing several restrictions thereon. This rule follows:

"Any attorney or counsellor of the Supreme Court of the United States or any of the Circuit courts of the United States, or of the Supreme Court of the State of New Jersey, may be admitted as an attorney or counsellor of this court on motion of a member of the bar of this court, or upon presentation of certificate of admission to the Supreme Court of the United States, upon taking the oath prescribed by the Constitution and laws of the United States and signing the roll. Any person admitted as an attorney may also act as solicitor in any equity case.

"Every attorney or solicitor of record in any cause, not resident within the district of New Jersey, and not maintaining an office therein for the regular transaction of his business, shall file with each cause in which he appears for any party an appointment of an attorney or counsellor of this court, resident within the district of New Jersey, upon whom all notices, rules and pleadings may be served in accordance with the rules and practice of this court, and who may be required to attend before the court clerk, commissioners, auditors, trustees, receivers or other officer or officers of the court."

Big Plant to Be Rebuilt.

Elizabeth, April 2.—The large tract of land at Elizabethport owned by the Standard Rope and Twine Company, and on which a big cordage factory stood for many years, or until its destruction by fire March 18, 1891, was sold on Wednesday afternoon, at the courthouse here, on a foreclosure of mortgage. The land was bought in for $27,000 by Alvin W. Krech and James B. Clews, acting as a committee for the reorganization of the Standard Rope and Twine Company. It is stated by them that the new company intends within a year to rebuild the Elizabethport plant on a more extensive scale than before. Mr. Clews, of the committee, is a member of the banking house of Henry Clews & Co., of New York city. The new company that will take over the holdings of the old one will be known as the Standard Rope Company. It is capitalized for $2,800,000. There will be issued $2,800,000 first mortgage five per cent. bonds and $2,500,0000 adjustment bonds. The reorganization, it is expected, will be perfected in thirty days.

Sue for $25,000 Damages.

Trenton, April 2.—The Trenton, Lawrenceville and Princeton Railroad has been made defendant in a $25,000 damage suit brought by Mr. and Mrs. K. I. Cody, of this city. Both Mr. and Mrs. Cody were injured last summer in a trolley collision when the road was running special cars on a fast schedule to carry people from a big baseball game at Princeton. Mrs. Cody alleges she was permanently disabled by her injuries.

W. G. Hogencamp Resigns.

William G. Hogencamp, for forty years president of the Second National Bank, at Washington and Montgomery streets, Jersey City, resigned Saturday. Much of the bank stock has been bought by Western men. The stockholders resolved to increase the number of directors from five to fifteen. Joseph Bernstein, the vice-president, will be the acting president until an election is held. It is thought a local man will be chosen.

Mission or Arts and Crafts "Heirloom" Furniture.

Lots of people are tiring of the extremely ornamental in furniture, especially those who have had their houses crowded with fancy pieces ever since the Colonial period passed. The pendulum is swinging back again to the plainer, sturdier stuff—the kind that is handed down from generation to generation—and this Mission or Arts and Crafts Furniture is being received with open arms. Fewer things, but better things, for the home will soon be the rule, and we have set our sails to catch the tradewinds as they blow. An immense space in our great Furniture Store is given over to the show and sale of Mission Furniture. The variety is really astonishing; almost every piece is different, and the price range is wide enough to satisfy all.

Mission Extension Tables, $12 to $64.
Mission Dining Chairs, $4.75 to $31.

The Lord's Supper was observed at the First Baptist church yesterday morning at which time several new members were received by letter and on confession of faith.

Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, of the First Baptist church, will give a lantern talk before the Young People's Society on Friday night. The subject will be "The Making of the Bible."

The Women's Home Missionary Society of the First M. E. church will meet at the home of Mrs. J. W. Jackson, 113 Crescent avenue, tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. The Misses Tompkins, preceptresses in the Deaconess Home, Washington, will be present and speak concerning their work.

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the First Baptist church will meet in the lecture room of the church Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Daniel R. Douglass will lead the devotional exercises. Mrs. L. V. F. Randolph will read a paper on "South Africa," and Mrs. J. Hervey Buchanan will present the paper on current events.

ASSEMBLYMAN BERG "JOHNNY ON THE SPOT."

Didn't Know Both Houses Were Closed, and Appeared at Trenton Day After His Wedding.

Trenton, April 2.—Assemblyman Berg, of Hudson, who was married Wednesday afternoon, appeared at the Assembly chamber about noon Thursday and anxiously inquired if there was any session of the house Thursday. When being told that both houses adjourned for the week Wednesday night he expressed surprise.

"Gosh," he exclaimed, "I wish I had known that, I would have had some more sleep this morning." Then he consulted his watch and declared he would take the first train back.

"You'd better hurry," said one of the few in the chamber at the time, "or you will be missed at home."

"That's right," said Mr. Berg, as he hurried down the main corridor to catch a street car.

On Monday night when the Essex county men presented Mr. Berg with a set of silverware he was arraigned by the sergeant-at-arms at the bar of the House and placed under a mock bond to appear at the session Thursday morning. It would seem that Mr. Berg took the proceedings more seriously than they were meant.

The House of Assembly, amid enthusiasm, Wednesday unanimously adopted a resolution directing that the congratulations of the Assembly be telegraphed to Mr. and Mrs. Berg, in Jersey City.

Plainfield, N. J., April 2, 1906.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

It has been announced that a musical comedy will be produced next season entitled "The Gold Dust Twins." The cast will undoubtedly be a clean one.

Miss Mildred Holland, who appears in this city tomorrow night in "The Power Behind the Throne," is said to be one of the greatest emotional actresses on the stage. She has been at the head of her own company for many years and is a great favorite with playgoers in the larger cities. She is supported by a splendid cast that comprises many well known artists.

Little Miss Counihan, who recently came to the home of the genial manager of the New Plainfield, has been presented with a handsome gold locket and chain, set with diamonds, by Manager Shannon, of Havlin's theatre, St. Louis. Messrs. Counihan and Shannon were business associates in the Mound City and the latter keeps his eye on the doings in Plainfield. The young lady has also received several beautiful floral gifts from papa's brother Elks and other friends.

The Haverly minstrel closed its season of thirty-six weeks after the performance in this city Saturday night. The show was booked through the Pennsylvania coal region where the strike trouble is on and the management deemed it unwise to visit that section at this time. It was to have continued for the next four weeks. The performance was the best of its kind seen in the city this season and delighted two big audiences. It is to be reorganized in the fall and Manager Counihan has asked for a return date. In its travels the past season, the troupe, starting at Trenton in August, went all the way to California and back. When the curtain descended Saturday night, the members gathered around Interlocutor Wolf and gave three rousing cheers for everything and everybody.

MONUMENT BILL PASSES.

Trenton, April 2.—The House Wednesday afternoon passed Senator Brown's bill, which authorizes erection of a monument on the battlefield of Monocacy, Md., to commemorate the valiant services which the Fourteenth New Jersey Volunteers rendered this country in that fight.

Mr. Reed, who took charge of the measure, said that the battle was fought on July 9, 1864, in the defense of Washington, and by the sacrifice made then by the Fourteenth New Jersey Volunteers, the National Capitol was saved from capture and probable destruction. This regiment was organized in the dark days of the Rebellion, in September, 1862, and was recruited in Monmouth, Ocean, Mercer, Middlesex and Union. It went to the front 1,009 strong and lost heavily in battle. There are now 120 survivors of the regiment, and they want the State to erect a monument to the memory of their brave comrades. The bill received the votes of all present.

Sues George P. Honnecker.

George S. Goerke, of New York, is the plaintiff in a suit that has been started in New York against George P. Honnecker, candidate of the people's party for Governor of New Jersey in 1904. Goerke is trying to compel Honnecker to pay for literature printed by Goerke which was distributed in Honnecker's gubernatorial campaign. Honnecker figures prominently in the much heralded movement launched in Newark last week to reform the New Jersey Democracy.

Mrs. E. D. Young, soprano, has resumed her position in Trinity Reformed church choir after an absence of about two months.

church—love it. Sacrifice for it; give your best to it; do your best for it. Don't hold back and see how little will do to give; open your hearts and strive to see how much you can do.

"I look into the future and I see the Monroe Avenue church is going to become a strong church, and wield a strong influence for good throughout this section, uplifting and saving men and advancing the glory of God. I commend you to God. I pray that the richest and most abundant blessings of God be on you."

The congregation and their friends will say a personal farewell to the department pastor and his family at a reception to be tendered them tomorrow night in the church. It will be an informal affair, and everybody is welcomed.

Mr. Mooney has been with Monroe Avenue church two years. During that time he has strengthened it materially and spiritually, and the congregation has learned to honor and esteem him to a degree that but few pastors win.

Mr. Mooney has been in the ministry for twelve years. He was born in New York, and started out in life as a dry goods clerk. In 1894 he entered the ministry, beginning his work at Landor, Wyoming. Landor is 150 miles from the nearest railway station, and Mr. Mooney went to his maiden charge by stage. He spent two years there, then returned East, on transfer, and took a charge at Hilton, N. J. He went from there to Caldwell, the birthplace of Grover Cleveland, where he built a church and parsonage. After three years at Caldwell, he went to Mendham for four. He came here from Mendham. As may be noted, Mr. Mooney's changes have all been upward. He is accounted one of the best and most successful working pastors in the Conference.

SECOND MUSICAL RECITAL BY MISS WHITNEY'S PUPILS.

Programme Executed Showed Skill of the Performers.

The second recital was given by the pupils of Miss May Vincent Whitney on Saturday afternoon at her studio in the Babcock building. This programme was rendered with accuracy of execution and artistic interpretation, reflecting much credit not only upon the pupils themselves, but also upon their talented instructor:

Piano duo, Gurlitt, Keyo Tetsuka, Bertha Martin; vocal solo, "Welcome, Sweet Spring," Rubenstein, Helen M. Whitney; song without words, Spindler; Sleepy Time, Orth; Hand Over Hand, Orth, May Clark; The Chase, Gurlitt; Barcarole, Nedlinger; The Gay Rider, Gurlitt, Keyo Tetsuka; Minuet, Snecker, Ruth Weinberger; Lullaby, Adams; Crossing the eFrry, Reid; The Gay Rider, Beth Martin; Elfin Dance, Iensen; Minuet from Beethoven op. 49, Martin Weeks; vocal solo, "Thou Art Like a Lovely Flower," Liszt, Helen M. Whitney; march, Schumann; waltz in C, H. Smith; Christmas Bells, Koehler, Clara Newman; waltz in E b, Wachs; prelude, Heller, Edith Hamilton; duo, "Two Kittens," Blasser, Edith Hamilton and Martin Weeks.

On Salary Basis.

Trenton, April 2.—Governor Stokes Saturday morning signed Senator Jackson's county officers' salary bill, and it is now a law of the State. It abolishes all fees and puts county clerks, registers, surrogates and sheriffs on salary, fixed on basis of population of counties. It does not affect incumbents.

Dr. Carroll As Speaker.

In connection with the 58th anniversary of the New York East Conference of the M. E. Churches of Brooklyn, to be held this week in that city, Rev. Dr. H. K. Carroll, of Westervelt avenue, will deliver an address next Sunday evening at the missionary anniversary.

Not Serious.

"Miss Flyrite," said the jealous lover sternly, "I demand an explanation."

"About what?" asked the fair girl.

"I want to know what you mean by being engaged to Tom Digby and me at the same time."

"Nothing."

Mrs. Lynch's Funeral.

The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth F. Lynch, wife of John C. Lynch, who died at her home on Elizabeth street Saturday morning, will be held at St. Mary's church tomorrow morning at 9:30. A solmen requiem mass will be said for the repose of her soul.

Board of Agriculture Meeting.

A regular meeting of the Union County Board of Agriculture will be held in the Court House, Elizabeth, Thursday, at 2 o'clock. The subject for discussion will be "Cultivation and Fertilization of Farm Crops."

Exempts to Elect.

The annual meeting of the Plainfield Exempt Firemen's Association will be held tonight for the election of officers and transaction of other business.

General Information. What To Buy. Where To Buy.

This is a rapid age. What is new today will be old tomorrow. People are constantly demanding what is newest. It is our mission to supply the very latest in each of the many lines which our establishment represents. We can assure our customers that goods purchased here may be depended upon as being new, fresh and strictly up-to-date. Each department is now at its best. Our store, always an attractive place was never more so than at present. Visitors are always welcome.

In the White Goods Department we are offering some excellent values in fine Table Damasks. Splendid Heavy Web Bleached Damasks, 72 inches, in extremely pretty patterns, at $1.00 per yard.

At 1.25, 1.50, 1.75, 2.00 and 2.50 per yard, a magnificent line of High Grade Double Damasks, with Napkins to match.

We also carry fine Damasks in the 2½ yard width for extra size tables. Price 2.50 yard.

For those who have round tables we have the round cloths in most exquisite designs and superb quality.

We have just received a case of extra good 54 inch Table Padding at 50c per yard.

NEW DRESS GOODS.

It's a great fallacy to think you must go to New York City to buy Dress Goods. A glance through our Spring selections will at once demonstrate the fact that we have many of the newest and most desirable fabrics in the best shades. All the popular grays are shown. Novelty Suitings that are very stylish. Black goods that are in every way desirable. Mixed Suitings, Plaids, Checks, etc., for children's wear. Batistes for waists, etc.

In the Men's Corner the new Spring Shirts are exciting most favorable comment. The 50c line is worthy of special mention. Made up well of fine Madras in choice patterns, they excel in general merit the average 50c goods.

The well known "Lion Brand" Shirts are largely in evidence. These goods are too well known to need more than passing mention. We do want to state, however, that the styles for this season are exceptionally fine. The variety great enough to satisfy all tastes. Price 1.00.

At 50c each—A special lot of extra full, plaited front Shirts in tan only. Men who are inclined to be stout will find these shirts exceedingly comfortable. The grade fully equal to the usual 75c shirts. Quantity limited. Sizes 14 to 16 only.

PERSONAL NOTES.

Dr. Benjamin Taylor Terry, of Columbia University, has offered Indiana University an endowment for pathological research.

Sir John Sinclair, a Scottish baronet, has presented gramaphones and records to 300 asylums and other institutions on condition that they are played to the inmates for half an hour every day.

Rev. Adiel J. Moncrief, pastor of the First Baptist church, of Brunswick, Ga., who has just accepted the presidency of the Southern Female College, is one of the most eloquent and forceful speakers in the South.

Ross R. Winans, a Baltimore millionaire, has rented a fine house in London and will entertain lavishly during the coming season. Mr. Winans is an artist, musician and inventor, and made his money in railroad construction in Russia.

Senator Tillman, of South Carolina, is engaged in writing "A Defense of the Senate" for publication. Discussing the task he has assumed, he admits that his views of the Senate have been tempered somewhat by his thirteen years of service in that body.

One hundred and fifty-four years of uninterrupted ministerial service by three men, or an average of more than fifty-one years for each, and in each case for one congregation, is the record of Revs. Henry Wunder, of Chicago, William Salter, of Burlington, Iowa, and Anton Wagner, of Chicago.

But Nearly.

"The giraffe was telling me he felt sick all over this morning," remarked the antelope.

"Wasn't he really sick all over?"

"Not quite; just throat trouble."

Onto Him.

"It was only two years ago," said Bragley, "that I started in with our firm at $6 a week, and now I earn $50."

"Yes?" replied Wiseman, "it's easy to earn that, but how much do you get?"

Quite a Job.

"Yaas," said Cholly Saphead, "I admit it takes me some time to make up my mind, but—"

"Naturally," interrupted Miss Peprey. "You must lose time trying to locate it."

SUBJECTS FOR PRIZE COMPOSITIONS ISSUED

Prize compositions at the Plainfield High School will be due this year on Monday, April 30. As usual there are in the writing of these themes certain conditions. The composition must be signed in pencil and should contain from 800 to 1,200 words; names of books and periodicals consulted for reference should be given; use photographs, sketches and pictures, where possible; compositions may be typewritten, if desired; compositions must be written on one side of paper only.

A large range of subjects has already been allowed the pupils but this year there is even a wider choice. With permission of teachers in charge of the English classes, a student may change the wording of the original subject to suit his treatment of the thing.

Following is the list of subjects: "The Motorman," "A Child Crusader," "An Original Story," "The Five Talent Man," "Nature's Winter Wraps," "Faces Seen On Broadway," "An Annual Autobiography," "The World Without Friction," "How Plainfield Is Governed," "A Story of Personal Experience," "The Biography of An Ostrich Feather," "A Plan to Unify the Grounds of the High School and of the Park," "Miss Sally Squirrel Explains Boys and Girls," "The State's Rights Doctrine in 1906," "The Star That Would Not Shine," "The Survival of the Fittest," "The Decemviro in Athens," "A Diary of Sixty Years," "The Battle of Trenton," "Wild Life War Home," "Modern Advertising," "An Original Poem," and "Wanted a Pocket."

CASUAL PHILOSOPHY.

What one goes into debt for nine times out of ten is a luxury.

Business based upon friendship threatens both; friendship based upon business strengthens both.

That man can best ignore the enmity of those who dont understand him who goes home to a wife who does.

It is a good deal easier to pray for mens souls than to pour balm into their wounds, not to mention that it costs less.

The Supreme Court has not yet decided which is the weaker man—he who is not able to see his own weakness or he who has no faith in himself.

From an intellectual point of view that time of ones life is most wasted when he tries, in a spirit of dumb loyalty, to admire all those things that are popularly considered admirable.—Success.

New Jerseys Awakening.

They are actually waking up in New Jersey. Not only are they going to increase the taxes paid by the railroads in that State, but they are going to investigate the men—or some of them—who buy law at Trenton. The investigation movement began with an effort to find out if certain Senators solicited money from pawnbrokers for their services in killing a bill which would hurt the pawnbrokers. But Senator Everett Colby has succeeded in having the scope of the inquiry broadened to include other charges of legislative corruption. Governor Stokes also urges the investigation and the matter is expected to be taken up and disposed of early next week. If the investigation gets well under way we suggest that the committee call Lincoln Steffens, of Connecticut, to tell what he knows about the Sale of Law in Ne wJersey. Hr. Steffens has told what he thinks with great fluency and readableness. The opportunity to learn how much of his belief is knowledge and how much inference would be welcomed by the country at large, and it ought to be welcomed by Mr. Steffens.—Brooklyn Daily Eagle.

"WHEN PATTY WENT TO COLLEGE," A SUCCESS

GIVEN IN NEW P. H. S. AUDITORIUM, ON SATURDAY NIGHT.

The new Plainfield High School auditorium was auspiciously opened Saturday night when an entertainment by the pupils was given there for the first time. "When Patty Went to College" was the performance given to a good-sized audience for the benefit of the Girls' Athletic Association.

Patty, the heroine of the story, is a college girl and it is with her life and companions that the story deals. Only part of the original story was given in the performance, which consisted of three acts and four scenes. The general opinion was that the young players acquitted themselves admirably and with glory.

Miss Louise Kline, as Patty, a senior, was remarkably skillful in the presentation of her part. The work of Miss Elizabeth Pound and Miss Florence Smalley was also praiseworthy. Stuart Freeman, the only boy character in the cast, interpreted the part of Peters. The entire cast showed careful training, for which Miss M. E. Ferry and Miss Ariadne Gilbert, of the faculty, are responsible. The affair was a success in every way.

The cast: Patty, a senior, Miss Louise Kline; Patty's roommate, Priscilla, Miss M. E. Pound; Georgie Merriles, a senior, Miss Florence I. Smalley; Catchy Fair, Bonnie Connaught, Mildred Connaught, underclassmen; Miss A. I. Aldrich, Miss A. H. Rafferty, Miss M. E. Berry; Lady Clara Vere De Vere, a freshman, Miss E. Van Tuyl; Peters, a janitor, Stuart Freeman.

Miss Mabel Maxson of the Plainfield High School faculty, assisted by Miss Rempson, rendered music throughout the entertainment and for the dance that followed.

GAS COMPANY'S JOKE ON FANWOOD TOWNSHIP

LAYS PIPES UNDER RESOLUTION PASSED IN 1882.

The Cranford Gas Company, of which John Kean is said to be principal stockholder, is having a laugh on Fanwood township over an attempt made last Thursday night to prevent them laying gas mains through the streets of Scotch Plains. The misunderstanding arose over a long forgoten resolution, passed in 1882, by a former Township Committee, of which the late George Kyte was chairman. The resolution granted to the Cranford Gas Company to lay gas mains upon any street in Fanwood township. The resolution was as binding as a regular franchise. For some reason the gas company did not value its privilege very highly until lately, when it decided that it would be well to take advantage of it and lay a main before the Public Service Corporation or some other company saw the need of the improvement and asked for a franchise.

On Thursday morning a large gang of Italians arrived in town and started tearing up Front street, working from the Plainfield line at Terrill road on to the village. The Township Commitee was not even consulted in the matter. The work had not progressed far when Township Committeeman Theodore Bruchman arrived on the scene and called a halt on the work. The foreman of the gang remonstrated but Mr. Bruchman would not hear of any truce, so work was discontinued for the day. The following day the gas company came forward and showed the Committee a copy of the resolution or franchise granted them in 1882. This settled the matter and work was again resumed. As the present Committee had no authority and had to bow to the inevitable, as they were powerless. The commiteemen are heartily in sympathy with any improvement which will benefit the town, but they believe franchises are worth something, as corporations like the Public Service Corporation and the Philadelphia and New York Telephone Company have found out. Mr. Bruchman's interfering with the work was due to the fact that he did not intend to see Fanwood township stand to loose anything.

Singing Societies Coming.

The Gesang and Turn Verein has received word that several of New Jersey's best known singing societies will attend the annual Easter ball to be held in Saengerbund Hall Monday night, April 16. Among them accepting invitations are the Arions from Newark, under the leadership of Lorenz; the Carlstadt Concordia, winner of all first prizes in State competitions; the Jersey City Liederkranz, the New Brunswick Aurora Society, and the Phoenix and Harmony societies of Newark.

—Mrs. L. J. Denton, the West Front street florist, has removed to Miss A. E. Lincoln's stand, No. 307 Park avenue. Easter orders should be left early. 3 31 3

WHT IS A HOME?

Sometime ago when the Brown Book asked for some original definitions of a home, it received among others the following answers:

An inn, where love is landlord and contentment chief guest.

The place where one is treated best and grumbles most.

That place where the heart is and bills are sent.

Home is where we express our worst and best selves.

Where we keep everything but our temper, criticisms and advice.

To some a place to eat, sleep and wash.

Simply two words: viz., love and mother.

A loving wife, a good table and a clean bed.

Home is love's bank, and our account is never overdrawn.

Home is God, father, mother, babies, love, education and eatables. Maid sublime, meals on time, None scrappy—all happy.

Home is where love rules; unselfishness, tact and harmony exist.

Home is the result of learning to bear and forbear.

Home is what we make it—either heaven or hell.

Father, mother, brothers, sisters, plenty to eat, wear and share.

My happy little wife,
Blue-eyed baby,
And God always.

Home is where the heart finds its greatest content.

Where loved ones "bunk" together.

The best school for making true men and women.

Where love reigns supreme,
And filthy dirt is never seen.

HAPGOODS (Inc.) Brain Brokers
Suite 512, 309 Broadway, New York

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

The big fun show, "The Irish Pawnbrokers," which has been one of the biggest successes ever known in farce comedy, will be the attraction at the New Plainfield theatre tonight. This is the fourth successful season of this popular skit and each season it has been improved and rewritten. This is the fourth edition and is the work of Edgar Selden. He has so rewritten the comedy that not a line of the former editions is retained, at the same time he has woven a consistent story of intrigue depending on the situations and complications and together with funny lines and business to furnish the fun, which is all the more enjoyable from the fact that laughs are furnished naturally and with reason, and not from the efforts of the performers who as in some farce comedies stop at nothing to produce a laugh whether revelant to the action of the farce or not.

"The Power Behind the Throne," Theodore Kremer's phenomenally successful romantic drama, will be presented at the New Plainfield theatre tomorrow night. Mildred Holland's tour last season was marked by the most emphatic success. Many return dates were played, and on each occasion Miss Holland played to capacity. The production of "The Power Behind the Throne" is costly and elaborate, and it is promised that the play will again be one of the season's most satisfactory and enjoyable performances. Miss Holland is one of the few really great actresses in America. She has the physique, training, and above all the temperament essential to success. As Miss Holland has in preparation a new play which will be produced in November, this will be her farewell appearance in "The Power Behind the Throne."

Lovers of light opera, musical comedy and refined vaudeville will be pleased to learn that the Countess von Hatzfeldt, who for several years has been one of the reigning stars on the American stage, comes to the New Plainfield theatre next Saturday afternoon and night in "The Little Duchess." This magnificent production will be presented in all its original beauty and elaborateness and by a company that is most capable and efficient. Supporting the Countess von Hatzfeldt are several well known and popular light opera people—Robert Lett, Irving Brooks, George F. Moore, Harry Carter, Eugene O'Brien, Madelene Cook, Kitty Duebel, E. C. Connelly and others who have made enviable reputations for themselves in the best of the big musical comedies.

"McFadden's Flats," brightly new and furnished with a glittering new outfit of scenery, costumes, music, jokes and pretty girls will be the welcome attraction at the New Plainfield theatre next Thursday afternoon and night. This clever farce comedy, written by E. W. Townsend and Glen MacDonough, as is well known, was suggested by the famous pictures and sketches known as the "Yellow Kids." It has been one of the most successful entertainments ever staged and has made a fortune for its management, who has, therefore, not hesitated at a lavish expenditure on this season's production. In the company are a number of star entertainers, among whom may be mentioned Mlle Floretta, Marion Henry, the Preston Sisters, May Baker, Allie Barbiear, Annie Muller, Marie Donoghue, Billy Clark, Billy Barry, Chas. Gramlich, the Speck Brothers and Joe Deming. There will be many clever specialties introduced during the performance and the latest and best popular music of the day will be heard.

From recent encomiums there appears to be no limit to the progress and possibilities Lyman H. Howe can attain in his exhibition of high-class moving pictures. His ability to overcome all difficulties alone explains the high order of his production. There is a certain atmosphere and technical finish always attending Mr. Howe's programmes that must be seen to be appreciated and that certainly is not realized by other exhibitors. Just as we find the speed of running and trotting horses actually constantly increasing through a perfection of the breed, and through the efforts to train them more carefully, just so we find Mr. Howe's ability to present moving pictures with ever increasing precision, fidelity and brilliancy. They will be seen in a return engagement at the New Plainfield theatre next Monday night.

Lewis Morrison's name has been so long associated with the part of his Satanic majesty in "Faust" that millions are as familiar with his matchless performance as they are with the beauties of his dramatized version of Goethe's story. In a short time Lewis Morrison himself will appear here as Mephisto in his new production of "Faust." The scenery and effects are all new and said to be the most artistic and expensive ever gotten up for this play. The supporting company and choir are the best obtainable and the new electrical and mechanical appliances have been devised to surpass all previous efforts.

Well Worth Seeing.

The tendency of the times is towards fewer things and better things in the furnishing of the home, a fact brought out by Hahne & Co., Newark, in their talk on Mission Furniture which they aptly term "heirloom" furniture in their announcement of today. The display of Mission Furniture in the great furniture store in this establishment is now bigger than ever, and seekers for things both beautiful and substantial will find the choosing easy. Prices are pared in many instances for those who buy this week, and it behooves the economical to take advantage of them. The show of costumes and millinery continues as good, or, if anything, better than during the opening days, and the displays throughout the house are now most interesting. A visit to this, Jersey's biggest store, is bound to prove immensely profitable.

Postmaster Wanser Reappointed.

President Roosevelt sent to the Senate Thursday the name of P. Farmer Wanser, for appointment as postmaster of Jersey City. General Wanser is serving his second term as postmaster. He was first appointed in 1898 by President McKinley. The term is four years. He is Major General of the New Jersey National Guard.

MEATS

POULTRY

Its a Funny Idea

some dealers have about our stock being just the same. We know it isn't. Beef, Veal, Lamb, or Pork which has been carefully raised and fed will taste better and give more nourishment than "wild" meats. We don't sell any but prime Meats, and a customer can sit down to a roast or steak, or chops from here without fear of hurting his teeth or his sense of taste. Prices won't hurt anybody's pocket, either. We sell Siegfried Arens' delicious Broilers.

SOFTNESS OF SEALSKIN,
Is Rivaled by Human Hair Where Dandruff is Eradicated.
Sealskin is admired the world over for its softness and glossiness; and yet the human hair is equally as soft and glossy when healthy; and the radical cause of all hair trouble is dandruff, which is caused by a pestiferous parasite that saps the vitality of the hair at its root. Newbro's Herpicide is the only preparation that is fatal to the dandruff germ. Without dandruff there is no falling hair, but a luxuriant growth of glossy, soft hair is certain. Securing the scalp won't cure dandruff. Kill the dandruff germ. Thousands of women owe their beautiful suits of hair to Newbro's Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

POSTAGE STAMP CONTRACT.

That for Printing May Go to Government Printery.

Washington, April 2.—In a speech in the House last week, John J. Gardner, of New Jersey, made good his claim to the title bestowed upon him the other day by Samuel Gompers, of being the best friend of union labor in Congress. It has been a thorn in the side of union labor that the last postage stamp contract was given to the Government Bureau of Engraving and Printing, which, under the President's orders, is an open shop.

The labor leaders are against the printing of anything in any but union shops, in which the work would probably be done by private contractors.

Mr. Gardner opposed a provision of the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, which proposed abolishing the stamp agency that now inspects and supervises the manufacture of the stamps and the transfer of this work to a division of the Postoffice Department. The proposition was attacked by Mr. Gardner on the ground that it was in antagonism to existing law. The present law, declared the Jersey man, had in prospect that all this printing should be done by private contractors, at the lowest bids. By abolishing the stamp agency it would be impossible that the contract for printing the stamps would eevr go outside the city of Washington. It was, in effect, giving a perpetual contract for this work to the Government bureau, and this he opposed.

The motion urged by Mr. Gardner to strike out this provision for abolishing the stamp agency was defeated by a narrow margin of two votes. With the stamp agency abolished, it is proposed to have the Bureau of Engraving and Printing make all the postage stamps.

It is claimed by the department that the work can be more economically done by the Government than by private contract.

Keeping Tabs on Trading Stamp Bill.

Trenton, April 2. — Assemblyman Kayser, of Essex, is keeping a strict watch on his bill to abolish trading stamps, which passed the House on March 21. On March 26 the bill was received in the Senate, and by President Bradley referred to the Corporations Committee, consisting of Senators Minch, Wakelee and Avis. The bill is still in the custody of that committee, and Mr. Kayser on Monday will endeavor to persuade them to lay in before the Senate.

SHERIFF'S SALE—In Chancery of New Jersey. Between Olive J. Haviland Chesebro, complainant, and Charles E. Huxley, Jr., and William G. DeMeza, administrator, defendants. Fi. fa. for sale of mortgaged premises.

By virtue of the above-stated writ of fieri facias, to me directed, I shall dispose for sale by public vendue, at the sheriff's office, in the city of Elizabeth, N. J., on at two o'clock in the afternoon of said day, all tract or parcel of lands and premises, situate, lying and being in the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey:

Beginning at a point in the southeasterly side of South Avenue, distant fifty feet southwesterly from the southerly corner of South Avenue and Central Street; thence southwesterly along said side of South Avenue, fifty feet; thence southeasterly at right angles to South Avenue one hundred feet; thence northeasterly parallel with South Avenue fifty feet to the southerly corner of lands conveyed by the Central N. J. Land Improvement Company to John G. Bicknell by deed dated June 2, 1894; thence northwesterly along said Bicknell's line one hundred feet to the place of beginning. Being the same premises conveyed to John G. Bicknell by deed of the Central N. J. Land Improvement Company by deed dated February 19, 1895, and recorded in book 289 of deeds for Union County, pages 100, etc.

Conveying also a right of way in and over a certain strip of land ten feet in width next adjoining the premises above described, which said right of way was reserved to said Ariadna Bicknell and John G. Bicknell by deed dated December 5, 1896, and recorded in book 315 of deeds for Union County, pages 328, and conveyed to Olive J. Haviland before her marriage by deed dated April 12, 1898, and recorded in book 336 of deeds for Union County, pages 102, etc.

Being the same premises conveyed to the said Louise L. Huxley by deed of the said Olive J. Haviland Chesebro and husband of even date with these presents which are given to secure a portion of the purchase money therefor.

WILLIAM H. LAWRENCE, Sheriff.

MRS. APPLEGATE WELL AGAIN!

"I have had a bruised leg and foot for several years, caused by the brass eyelets of my shoe, which became very sore and painful especially at night. It itched, burned and ached me till it nearly set me crazy. I used everything I found and was suggested to ease it and nothing gave me any relief till I found and applied Azienza Cream, which I think is a wonderful remedy for all sores and inflammation of the skin. The hard knots on my legs were as painful as bee stings, with discolored and purple spots. A running sore on my instep size of a half-dollar; the top of my foot a seething sore clean around to my heel. The bone was sore for a whole year and very painful. I used five and one-half jars of Azienza Cream and healed the sore all up. The foot remained tender and I continued to use to strengthen and toughen the skin until now it is entirely well." (Signed) Mrs. Hannah Applegate, Evergreen Ave., Avon, N. J., Sept. 3rd, 1905. 50 cents. Ask the druggist or by mail. Azienza Specialties Co., Jersey City, N. J.

Disappears Third Time.

Trenton, April 2.—Albert Anison, once well known, has disappeared again. It is believed he is suffering from injuries received a year ago, when he and his wife were both severely burned. Anison left a hospital and in Baltimore joined the navy as Albert Wilson. He soon deserted, saying he did not know why he had joined it, and lived here again with his wife. He again disappeared. Mrs. Anison went to her parents, in Hartford, Conn. Recently she received a letter saying her husband was again in Trenton.

HOBOKEN SHUT 'EM OUT

Daab's Nine Defeats Loughlin Lyceum by the Score of 6 of 0.

WALLER IN THE BOX

With "Red" Waller in the box the Hobokens opened up the season yesterday in Brooklyn by administering a shut out to the crack Loughlin Lyceum team. The score was to 0 and the game was played within an enclosure of mud and mire. While the players of both teams were trying to keep their feet dry in the swampy morass which constituted the diamond and outfield three thousand Greenpoint baseball fans looked on and shivered. Five hundred of the bravest stayed and saw the game out. The grounds were in a horrible condition and it is no exaggeration to recount that Mallen went over his shoe tops in mud and got stuck with his two feet while trying to capture a fly in center field. Goldberg, of the Lyceums, encountered the same hair-raising experience.

Owing to the condition of the grounds there was very little fast playing executed although Manager Daab's aggregation pulled off a double play to its credit, Mike Rochford and Tony Pastor taking the major parts. The game revealed the fact, however, that Manager Daab has corraled two good players in the persons of Curley and De May. Both are made of the right kind of stuff and are sure to make good in this city.

The salient feature of the game was "Red" Waller's work on the slab. The old Mt. Ararat warhorse was in midsummed trim and is just as effective in cold weather as under the sweltering rays of a July sun. His delivery was touched up safely six times, all of the hits being scattered, while nine of his opponents expired on the Breezeville route. At critical stages of the game "Red" was on the spot. Twice did he retire men on strikes when runs looked likely for the Greenpointers.

George Mallen, the ex-Union County Pirate, figured very prominently in the run getting. In the third he drove Pastor and Brogan over the plate with a slashing two bagger and in the fifth he sent Rotchford home from second on a tantalizing bunt which bewildered the Brooklynites. The score:

The result of the American League this season has already been doped out by J. Percival Hall, the well known North avenue baseball prognosticator. He declares that Cleveland cannot lose and that Chicago will come in second and that Clark Griffith's Highlanders will have to content themselves with third place.

DAAB SELECTS HIS TEAM

Manager's Preparations For Season Told at Baseball Club Meeting.

WANT THE MONEY NOW

Six Games With Somerville Probable —Runyon In the Chair As President.

Further progress in preparation for the coming season was made at the meeting of the Plainfield Baseball Association held at the Hotel Iroquois, Saturday night. Encouraging reports were presented by the different committees.

President William N. Runyon was in the chair, and he presented a copy of the agreements to be printed on the certificates of stock to be issued this week. Each share represents a $5 contribution of non-assessable stock. If the association breaks even at the end of the season each shareholder will receive the money he put in.

The association authorized the issuance of the certificates and they will be ready for distribution in a few days. It is desired that as near as possible the money subscribed be collected by Saturday night when Mr. Daab will be present to close the deal with the association and perfect details.

A report was received from the committee on score cards and the association authorized the committee to go ahead and secure advertisements. It was decided to sell the score cards at the game for five cents and to give each purchased a lead pencil. The batting order will be printed on the card the same as last season and it will be up-to-date in every respect.

Manager Daab announced his probable lineup for the Plainfield team, which is subject to such changes as may deem best for the interest of the game. This is the lineup:

O'Neil, catcher; Deegan, pitcher; "Phil." Smith, substitute pitcher; Henriques, first base; Brogan, second base; Curley, short stop; Leonard, third base; Mallen, center field; Bertwhistle, left field; De May, right field.

Mr. Daab has said that with the exception of the pitcher, the Plainfield team will be the same as the one which will play in Hoboken on Sunday and necessarily it will have to be a strong one. In using Deegan here, he will probably have to engage another pitcher for Sunday and it is likely that Waller may be secured. Every player in the lineup is well-known and it is believed that the team will "make good."

It is probable that six games will be arranged with Somerville, three here and three at Somerville, and it is believed that this series will be one of the best of the season. It is also likely that some of these games will be scheduled so as not to interfere with the big race meet at the driving park on Fourth of July afternoon. It has been suggested that Somerville could play here in the morning and that Plainfield go to Somerville for the afternoon. If such an arrangement is agreeable to the association it will no doubt be fixed that way. Plainfield would be a drawing card at Somerville for the holiday afternoon, and the Somerset county boys would draw well here in the morning.

Each member of the committee of twenty appointed to secure subscriptions is asked to send the names of his subscribers to President Runyon at the earliest possible time so that the stock certificates can be filled out at once. The association adjourned to meet again on Saturday night at the same place.

"Joe" Alberts, of Scotch Plains, has signed with the Loughlin Lyceums for the season. "Joe" covered right garden yesterday and had the only dry spot in the field. He had a couple of chances to become popular by making a hit which would have resulted in a run or more, but Joe could not gauge those midwinter vapor slants and grapevine benders of Mr. Waller.

FIVE CLOSED SEASON WITH LOSING GAME

ORANGE QUINTET SCORES 25 TO PLAINFIELD'S 22.

The Y. M. C. A. basketball game team ended its season with a defeat Saturday night. The quintet made a game fight against the impending fate, but the Orange youths were too rapid for them. The score was 25 to 22.

Orange brought a bunch of rooters, including some fancy effects in spring hats and daintily-gloved applause machines. Plainfield rooters showed some feeling in the second half, over decisions made by Manager Metzdorf, of Orange, who acted as referee, so that, the closeness of the playing and everything considered, the wind-up of the season was one of the liveliest finales ever turned off at the local gym.

Both fives played fast and accurately. The first half ended 10 to 6 in Orange's favor. Plainfield quickened the pace in the second, but the visitors were in line all the time. Shorter made a great showing at the basket; his eagle eye was of the kind. Leary, Thompson and Smith made a good showing.

After the game the Orange forces were photographed on the floor. Then they were made welcome at an ice cream and cake fest, which marked the ending of the season.

Line-up and summary:

PLAINFIELD.		ORANGE.
Smith	right forward.	Hand
Thompson	left forward.	Shorter
Scull	centre.	Poeller
Leary	left guard.	Wright

Goals from field—Smith, 2; Thompson, 1; Scull, 3; Leary, 3; Shorter, 3; Poeller, 3; Patton, 1. Goals from foul—Thompson, 4; Shorter, 11.

Referee—C. B. Morse, Plainfield; A. E. Metzdorf, Orange. Timer—John H. Doane. Scorers—Caldwell and Buttz.

DIAMOND DUST.

Charlie Denman promises not to startle Plainfield with any more of his dreams until the moon changes.

"Dummy" Taylor will twirl next Sunday for the Elizabeth Stars in the opening games against the Amsterdams, of New York.

"Teddy" Shortman, the former Hope chapel player, who was to be given a trial on the Hobokens, failed to show up yesterday for some reason or other.

"Doc" Voehl will omit automobiling for the next ten days. He has succeeded in resurrecting an old Crescent league uniform and will try himself out with the Jersey City players.

The good grub will still continue. Last season it was Westfield turkey, this year Somervilian lambs. Brother Bogert Conklin will spend the next two months in fattening them up for the sacrificial altar.

"It makes no difference to me about the weather," ejaculated "Red" Waller after the game yesterday. "All I want is good players behind me. I think Daab has a much stronger team than he ever had."

Manager Frank Burke, of the Elizabeth Stars, visited Brooklyn yesterday for the purpose of getting a line on his team for next Saturday. Mr. Burke had heard of the rumor that Manager Daab had signed Waller and came over in a very excited state of mind. Mr. Burke says he is going to have the strongest aggregation that ever represented the mosquito burg and is anxious to take a whack at Plainfield. He can no doubt get accommodated.

Our fellow townsman, Lou Wiltse, was caught in a baseball tornado over in Brooklyn yesterday afternoon. Wiltse pitched for the Brightons against the Philadelphia Giants. The score was 16 to 3 in favor of the ebony hued experts. "Oh Joy, it was terrible," is the way Mr. Wiltse described the catastrophe. The third baseman and short stop of the Brightons alone made 12 errors, Cruzius, the former Scotch Plains player, at short, making 7 himself.

Martin I. Cooley has returned to his home in Rockview terrace after spending some months at Summerville, S. C.

WINNING TEAM LOOKS FOR THE BOWLING CUP

LEAGUE CONTEST DECIDED BUT WHERE IS THE TROPHY?

The local bowling league has ended, as expected of course, the winners of the championship being the Suburbans, of Fanwood. When the league started it was understood that the victors would be presented with a silver cup, rapturous in appearance and handsomely designed. But no cup has yet come forth and the victorious Suburbans are wondering when the energetic promoter will deliver the trophy, so they can hang it up in a conspicuous place, which has been awaiting its reception since the windup of the season three weeks ago.

When the league started each club was supposed to "divvy" up equal parts of cash for a cup fund. Some clubs paid up and others did not, but the promoter said this didn't make any difference, as there would be a cup just the same, even if there wasn't enough in the sinking fund at the end of the season.

Several bowling alley proprietors are registering a kick about going to the expense of buying a cup as is understood that there is yet some alley claims that are not yet settled up. One of the bowlers said last night that some of the players refused to "come up" with their share of the alley expense and as a result a number of games were "chalked up." One bowling alley proprietor reports that he is anxiously awaiting the sum of $6, which sum represents two nights' bowling by a certain team. He is said to be willing to wait if there is any show of getting the "mazuma," but he protests about the unnecessary expense in buying cups.

Just how the entanglement will be unraveled is hard to conjecture, but one thing is certain, the Suburban Bowling Club, of Fanwood, wants the cup that is due it.

ANNUAL BASEBALL "POW-WOW" AT P. H. S.

Lindsay Best Encourages Pupils to Support the Team.

The annual baseball "pow-wow" was held this morning at the Plainfield High School morning exercises. Lindsay Best, of the faculty, spoke as usual, and he said the prospects for a winning team this year are bright.

This year the schedule will consist of eighteen games, fifteen of which have been already arranged with representative High School teams in the vicinity, among which are Brooklyn Boys' High School, Commercial High School, DeWitt Clinton High School, Newark High School, Jersey City High School, Leal's School, Camp Bewser and Rahway High School.

PERSONAL.

J. A. Smith is detained at his home in Central avenue with an attack of tonsilitis.

Jed M. Smalley, of the borough, who has been at Muhlenberg Hospital for eight weeks suffering from an injury to his knee cap, was discharged yesterday.

Miss May Bachelor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Bachelor, of West Seventh street, who is a student at Wellesley College, is home for her Easter vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bolsterli, of New Brunswick, spent yesterday in Plainfield with relatives and friends. Mr. Bolsterli is preparing for the ministry at Rutgers College.

Miss Laura Varian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel T. Varian, of Orange, has been visiting friends in town. Mr. Varian removed with his family from Plainfield some years ago.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Staats, of the borough, will move to 923 West Front street this week.

—Eight officials of the Public Service Corporation made a tour of inspection over the lines yesterday in the private car "New Jersey." At noon they stopped at "Uncle Jesse" Hetfield's Eldorado restaurant on Watchung avenue and enjoyed one of his fine dinners.

Church Mission Work.

"The Progress of the Church in the Twentieth Century" was the subject of an illustrated lecture given at Grace church last night by the rector, Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson. About twenty-five excellent views were shown and the talk was very instructive giving the large congregation a good idea of the progress made by the Episcopal Church.

Men's Club Meeting.

The Men's Club of Grace church will meet in the parish house next Monday night, when there will be a discussion of the subject, "Public Health." Dr. W. H. Murray and Helath Officer Leon R. Thurlow will introduce the subject to be followed by an informal discussion.

Gol-Dingist.

A woman is either an idealist or a gol-dingist.—Hotel Life.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of Grace M. E. church will be held at the parsonage tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The Woman's Association of the Congregational church will hold a sewing meeting in the church parlors tomorrow afternoon at 2:30.

The Ladies' Aid Society of St. Peter's German Lutheran church will meet Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Frederick W. Gray, 984 Hillside avenue.

The Women's Foreign Mission Circle of the Park Avenue Baptist church will meet at the home of Mrs. J. Wesley Johnson, of East Seventh street, tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

JOSEPH W. BALLANTINE DIES IN A FLORIDA HOTEL.

Somerville Man, Former State Executive Committeeman, Dead.

Jos. W. Ballantine, of Somerville, aged seventy-six, a well known politician and business man of Somerset county, died yesterday at City Point, Fla., where he had gone for his health.

Mr. Ballantine was for a long time chairman of the Democratic State Executive Committee; was twice Mayor of Morristown, and twice surrogate of Morris county. In 1876 he became a member of the clothing firm of Colyer & Co., of Newark, and in 1878 established a branch clothing store and residence in Somerville.

Mr. Ballantine retired from politics a year ago, after he was defeated for the nomination for Congressman in his district. He was the senior member of the firm of Ballantine & Van Fleet, carriage makers, until a few months ago, when he retired from business.

He leaves a widow and four children. Mrs. Ballantine, who was in ill health, is reported to be in a critical condition at her hotel in Florida.

Judge Strong Off Bench.

New Brunswick, April 2.—Judge Woodbridge Strong, the oldest law judge in this State, retired Saturday as judge of Middlesex County, and on Tuesday he will be succeeded by Theodore B. Booraem, city attorney. It is expected that Mr. Booraem will send his resignation to the Common Council tonight, and that Judge E. W. Hicks, of the District Court, will be named in his place as city attorney. Judge Strong served fifteen years as judge in this county.

Time for New Pupils.

In accordance with the school law, this week is the time for receiving beginners in the lowest primary and kindergarten classes. All parents who have children to enter school for the first time, Dr. Maxson says, should present them next week, otherwise they will be unable to enter until fall.

Watch Your $10 Bills.

The Newark police have notified merchants to be on the lookout for a counterfeit ten-dollar bank note that has made its appearance in this city. One of the spurious notes was paid out by a woman in a Newark department store on Broad street Saturday night.

Sale of Property.

The property No. 515 Park avenue, owned by John W. Murray, Sr., and the estate of J. Frank Hubbard, and occupied by Mrs. DuBois, has been purchased by James C. Pope and Joseph A. Hubbard. The consideration is not known.

Church's Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church for the reception of reports, election of three elders, two deacons and one elder who will succeed the late Stephen Cahoone, will be held in the chapel Wednesday night.

Former Resident Injured.

N. W. Conway, a former resident of this city, but now of Jersey City, slipped on an icy sidewalk last week and fractured a leg. He is now in Christ Hospital, Jersey City, where he will be detained six or eight weeks.

Mrs. Andrew Ryan Dead.

Mrs. Andrew Ryan, colored, died at Muhlenberg Hospital yesterday, following a brief illness. The body will be taken to her former home in North Carolina, where the funeral will be held Wednesday.

City D. and D. Captured.

Joseph Rafferty, of the city side, was arrested in the borough for drunkenness and disorderly conduct early yesterday morning. He was released on bail for appearance tonight.

"The Great Pumpkin Case."

"The Great Pumpkin Case" will be given by the members of the North Plaineld High School next Friday night, for the benefit of the athletic association.

Building Inspector Reports Granting 22 Permits—Street Commissioner Also Makes Monthly Statement.

The Highland Park Realty Company, which is developing property in the east end of the city, presented several petitions at the April meeting of the Common Council last night, asking for the proper street and sidewalk grade on Leland avenue between Front street and South avenue, and on George street; also asking for an extension of the sanitary sewer on East Second street, from Berckman street to Leland avenue; for sidewalks on Leland avenue, from Front street to North avenue, and the acceptance of East Second street from a point east of Netherwood avenue to Leland avenue. The petitions were referred to the street and sewer committee.

Similar activity is shown in the west end. J. D. Loizeaux and others petitioned to have West Third street from Monroe avenue to the city line graded and lighted. It was cited in these petitions that during the past year twenty-five new houses have been built in that section of the city. These matters were referred to the street and sewer committee. C. C. Meeker and others asked for a hydrant at Hunter avenue and West Fourth street. The matter was referred to the fire committee.

E. Robinson & Co., of New York, communicated with the Common Council, informing the members that the firm had prepared an elaborate new atlas of Plainfield, and asked that careful inspection of it be made and that the city purchase several copies. The communication was referred to the proper committee.

Charles F. Debele and others petitioned for two electric lights, one at Rock and Dunellen avenues, and the other at the bridge over Greenbrook on Rock avenue. The matter was referred to the light committee.

The board of directors of the Plainfield Public Library and Reading Room informed the Common Council that its estimate of expense for the coming year was $5,100, and asked that that amount be received from the taxes. The communication was referred to the finance committee.

At the request of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., Mr. Hibbard offered a motion that according to the annual custom $100 be appropriated to the post for the observance of Memorial Day. The motion was adopted.

W. R. Cock, president of the board of governors of Muhlenberg Hospital, asked the Common Council to take up the matter of extending the sanitary sewer out Park avenue, so that the hospital could be connected with it. The matter will be considered by the street and sewer committee. The board of governors of the hospital also acknowledged the receipt of suggestions as to the establishment of a contagious disease ward and said that they would be followed out.

Building Inspector T. O. Doane reported that during the past month twenty-two permits were granted, and Street Commissioner Gavett reported that between December 1 and March 1 twenty-five sewer permits were granted.

Mr. Gloak stated that the bid of Newton B. Smalley for crushed stone and that of Andrew Roach for crosswalks, culverts and curbing were the lowest, and he moved that the contracts be awarded to them. The motion was adopted.

Mr. Hibbard moved that when the Common Council adjourned it be to meet on Wednesday night, April 11.

On a motion offered by Mr. Hibbard $100 was appropriated to purchase a typewriter for the city clerk. The money was appropriated a year ago, but the machine was not purchased at that time. It is needed now, hence the reappropriation of the money.

Mr. Hibbard offered another resolution, which was adopted, authorizing the city treasurer to transfer $2,500 from the general to the fire fund.

In new business, Mr. Gloak called up the ordinance providing for the laying out of a portion of Denmark road, and it was adopted on final reading.

On a motion by Mr. Mellick, of the fire committee, one two-way hydrant was ordered located on Rahway road opposite the entrance to the residence of Otto Arens, and one two-way half way between that point and Belvidere avenue. This action was in accordance with a petition from Howard J. Runyon and others. At the same time Mr. Mellick moved that the petition of Floyd Fuller and others for a hydrant at Union and Stelle avenues be denied, the committee deciding that there is ample water for fire protection in that vicinity.

MEN'S CLUB ORGANIZED BY HOPE CHAPEL MEMBERS

RALPH ECKERT MADE PRESIDENT AND OTHER OFFICERS ELECTED.

At a meeting of the male members of Hope chapel last night formal organization of a men's club was accomplished. It will be conducted for the spiritual, social and financial welfare of the congregation and gives promise of becoming one of the strongest societies engaged in the chapel work.

The following officers were elected: President, Ralph Eckert; vice-president, John Slorah; secretary, Herbert Fluck; treasurer, Henry Vogel. Pastor L. R. Howard will act as chaplain and a committee composed of Donald McInnes, Henry Vogel, Herbert Fluck, John Slorah, Ralph Eckert and Thomas Hendry was appointed to draw up a constitution and by-laws.

The meeting was called to order by Philip Braunsten, who stated the need of a men's club in the chapel, and called for a discussion of the subject. The gathering was unanimous in its belief that one should be formed, and the proceedings were along this line. With the election of officers it was decided to call the organization the Hope Chapel Men's Club."

The next meeting will be held on Wednesday night, April 18, when it is hoped to appoint committees and begin work for the spring and summer months.

ORGANIZING BRANCH OF PROTECTIVE LEGION

CANDIDATES NOW BEING SECURED BY THE PROMOTERS.

District Manager F. C. Meeker, of Paterson, is arranging to organize a local legion of the National Protective Legion in this city. He is being assisted by Arthur C. Hunting, of New street, and others who have been connected with the order for a number of years. Already about twenty candidates have been secured and there are in addition eight or ten old members who will transfer to the new legion.

The objects of the organization, as set forth in the constitution, are: "To unite in fraternal bonds all acceptable persons, male or female, not less than eighteen years of age, of good character, reputable calling and without reference to creed, faith or politics.

"To improve the mental, moral, social and financial condition of its members, and to render timely aid in times of distress."

Also to establish and maintain a fund for the benefit of its members while living and for the protection of their families in the event of death. From this fund members may draw in case of sickness or accident; their beneficiaries are paid in event of death, and dividends are paid to all who have been members for five years. These dividends comprise the excess accumulations and profits of the order, and have never failed in the eleven years they have been paid to exceed the entire cost of membership.

The legion has nearly sixteen years of history behind it, and has assets of about $2,500,000 and has paid over $4,500,000 in benefits.

Special Lenten Services.

Special services will be held at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings of next week. The Good Friday service will be a union service to be in charge of the pastors of the city, and will be held in this church. The other services will be held in the church parlors. Thursday evening an address will be given by the Rev. Dr. Kerr Boyce Tupper, of the Madison Avenue Baptist church, New York.

Collings-Fisk Wedding April 21.

The wedding of Miss Edith Collings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chittenden Collings, of Cincinnati, and Augustus Ritchey Fisk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Joel Fisk, of West Seventh street, will take place in the Calvary church, Cincinnati, Saturday, April 21, at 12 o'clock noon, and not on Thursday, April 12, as announced yesterday.

Special Lenten Service.

A special Lenten musical service will be given at the First Baptist church on Thursday evening, April 12. The choir will render the sacred cantata by Mr. Dubois entitled "The Seven Last Words," and other appropriate music. The Schill string quartette will assist in the service.

Mrs. Hughes Entertains.

Mrs. Charles Hughes, of West Fifth street, entertained a number of young people at a party last night. Games, music and refreshments were the features.

CHURCHES RAP SENATE

Repudiate New Bills Introduced in Behalf of the Brewers' Interest,

ADOPT RESOLUTIONS

Amendments Would Place State in position of Ridicule—Letter from Bishop Lyons.

The interdenominational conference of New Jersey clergymen, which drafted the so-called Bishops' bills for the regulation of the liquor business, held another meeting at Trenton yesterday afternoon, at which resolutions were unanimously adopted protesting against the amendments to the bill offered by the Senate Committee on Miscellaneous Business. It was the sense of the conference that the bills as reported to the Senate should be repudiated as in the interest of the brewers rather than of the moral element of the community. The resolutions adopted are in part as follows:

"It is the firm conviction of this conference that the amendments so thoroughly change the character of the original bills that they cannot in any way be considered as a forward step in the earnest movement to eliminate the evils of the liquor traffic.

"We beg to offer a determined protest against the general purport of these amendments, believing, as we do, that they are made in the interest of the liquor traffic rather than in the interest of the moral welfare of the State. Especially we wish to protest vigorously against the amendment which relieves the owner of the premises of all responsibility for violation of the law in a saloon conducted there."

In a protest against the provision of the amendments on the license fee adding $50 to the amount now required, the resolutions declared the act to be so manifestly a temporizing policy that it was really an insult to the sentiment of the State, which was urging a high license law. The resolution continues:

"It will be observed that the demand for high license is receiving the attention which it deserves by legislators in other states, and the alteration which this amendment suggests is so beggarly that it would, we are confident, place our State in a position of ridicule."

The conference also protested against the legalizing of back rooms in saloons. Another resolution adopted provides for the formation of a permanent organization, with branches in each county, to fight for a stricter enforcement of the present law and more stringent regulation of the saloons.

Bishop Lines, of Newark, write a letter to the conference, in which he said:

"I have had the feeling that the dignified thing for us to do is to say that our bills have been so changed that they are no longer ours, and that we make our appeal from the committee on miscellaneous business to the people of New Jersey. There ought to be no threats and no recriminations. The Legislature appears to respect the brewers and liquor dealers more than the churches. We can accept the issue."

TEMPLARS ELECT.

Robert Rushmore Becomes Eminent Commander.

Trinity Commandery, No. 17, K. T., held its annual election last night with this result: Eminent commander, Robert Rushmore; eminent generalissimo, George M. Kirkner; captain general, W. A. Pinto; senior warden, Clarence Goss; junior warden, J. Z. Hatfield; prelate, B. Frank Coriell; treasurer, C. H. Rugg; recorder, H. L. Hall; sword bearer, Charles A. Sturtevant; standard bearer, Gilbert Fletcher; warder, Samuel Craig; sentinel, Kaspar Bolsterli.

The same trustees, same finance committee and same members of the Masonic Hall Association were continued in office. George McIntyre declined re-election as eminent commander.

Mayor's Appointments Confirmed.

The appointment of George K. Dobson and Daniel McDonald as special patrolmen by Mayor Buckle, was confirmed at the April meeting of the Common Council, last night, and it is the intention of the police committee to put the men into service at once to meet the present needs in the east and west ends of the city. Mayor Buckle also appointed M. J. Higgins a call-man in the fire department and this appointment was confirmed.

Horse Wandered Off.

One of the horses W. W. Warnock uses on his bakeshop delivery wagons wandered away from the stable last night. Patrolman Higgins found it on Front street early this morning.

TO EXAMINE PUPILS TEETH

Board of Education Appoints Three Dentists as Inspectors.

MR. HERRING'S GIFTS

Presents Bas-Relief of Abraham Lincoln—Selecting Commencement Day Speaker.

The Board of Education, at its meeting last night, granted the request of the New Jersey State Dental Society to introduce into the schools the inspection of children's teeth without expense to the board, and appointed as examiners Dr. William E. Stelle, Dr. O. B. Whitford and Dr. C. G. Davis.

For a number of years the board has appointed medical men to examine the pupils periodically as to eyesight, hearing, condition of throat and other physical characteristics. Whenever the examiners discovers any defect that needs attention, a notice is sent to the parents of the child calling attention to the matter and recommending that the family physician be at once consulted, the medical examiner doing nothing except to detect the need. It then rests with the parents to attend to the matter as they see fit. As a result of this examination many cases of defective eyesight and hearing and other physical handicaps unsuspected by the parents have been called to their attention, and the health and physical condition of many children improved.

The move taken by the board last night simply extends this examination to include the teeth and appoints as inspectors specialists in that line of work who would more readily detect imperfections than the ordinary medical practitioner. The same method will be followed that is now used by the medical examiners. Pupils will be examined from time to time in such a way as not to interfere with school work, and if defects are discovered the parents will be notified of the same and recommended to consult the family dentist. There will be no expense for the examination to either the city or the parent, and it will not be compulsory in case any parent should object to it.

It is now generally recognized that decaying teeth affect the digestion and the general health of the child and that neglect of teeth in childhood may seriously affect the health of the man or woman. Also, offensive teeth and breath are a serious handicap to obtaining employment in many kinds of labor.

The Board received a communication from F. O. Herring, of Park avenue, in which he expressed his willingness to present the city schools with a bronze bas-relief of Abraham Lincoln to be placed in any one of the buildings. His offer was accepted with thanks and it will be added to the valuable collection at the High School.

Dr. Maxson was instructed to take steps to secure the speaker for the High School Commencement exercises and an attempt will be made to get Dr. A. V. V. Raymond or a man of equal prominence. In a statement to the Board, Dr. Maxson made emphatic denial of the story published in the Courier-News that the simplified method of spelling had been introduced at the High School. The report was evidently originated, he said, by an imaginative space writer.

Special School Board Meeting.

The borough Board of Education held a special meeting last night for the purpose of discussing teachers' appointments for the coming school year. The list will be the same with but three exceptions, caused by resignations. The teachers' committee was empowered, also, to secure three additional teachers as provided for in the appropriation.

Mrs. Mary Ryno Buried.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Ryno, the aged Rahway woman who died at the home of her cousin, Mrs. Lavina Stewart, 433 West Fifth street, where she had lived for three years, was held yesterday. The interment was made in Rahway. Mrs. Ryno was seventy-five years old.

Petit Jurors from Plainfield.

In the Union County Court this morning Sheriff Lawrence selected the ptit jury for the May term of court. These Plainfielders were chosen: Horace F. Boice, Hugh McDonald, Lewis C. Randolph, Michael J. O'Keefe, Henry Paul and Cornelius van Herwerden.

Fireman Now Delivering Milk.

Walter Harrison, who resigned as a driver in the local fire department because, it is alleged of a dispute with a fellow member, started work yesterday as driver of a milk wagon for a local dairyman.

Miss Adelia Runyon, of West Fourth street, has returned home after an absence of several weeks in Cuba and the South.

BLISS PERRY'S LECTURES

"Thomas Carlyle" in the Afternoon; "Magazines Making" at Night.

BILLIONS IN "ADVS."

Under the guidance of Dr. Bliss Perry, editor of the Atlantic Monthly and professor of literature at Harvard University, the members of the Men's Club of Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church had a peep behind the scenes of the magazine makers, last night.

"Magazine Making" was the subject of a lecture delivered by Dr. Perry to the club, in which he showed how the magazines are made and distributed.

The speaker paid a high tribute to powerful influence of the popular magazine on important issues of the day. Taking his auditors into the business office, Dr. Perry disclosed the advertising rate card, on which the prosperity of all magazines is based. The general rate is one dollar a page for every thousand of circulation—$500 a page in a half-million magazines. The Ladies' Home Journal, Dr. Perry said, got $5,000 a page, or $1,000 a column. During the year a total of seven billion dollars was spent in the United States alone.

There were two general ways of working up subscriptions. In the central and western States the old method of canvassing from house to house was used; in the East the premium was the fertilizer used to make the field fruitful. McClure's is the only magazine that holds to the doorway argument."

Incidentally Dr. Perry paid a great tribute to the worth and solidity of Youth's Companion, pioneer of clean family weekly magazines. He remembered well how, forty years ago, he recived his first jack-knife from Youth's Companion. That magazine was the great exponent of the premium method.

The responsibility of the editorial department was touched on at some length. Dr. Perry let some humorous sidelights on the sanctum. He read twelve "letters to the editor," each of which was full of delightful, if unconscious, humor.

The lecture last night was Dr. Perry's second in Plainfield during the day. He addressed the Monday Afternoon Club, at the Casino, on Thomas Carlyle, in the afternoon.

Dr. Perry said that he would endeavor to show the difference between the transient and abiding in Carlyle, and during the course of his remarks took occasion to refer to two or three strong traits about the great man of letters. In the first instance, he said, he was a man of absolute sincerity, which is appreciated in these days when there are so many writers trying to get prominence through the magazine and newspaper. They write in the singular to attract attention and throughout their work there is to be noted a lack of sincerity.

In the second place, there was Carlyle's great regard for the value of the individual. He was always impressed with the fact that each individual counts and has a part to play no matter how weak he may be. Another point dwelt upon by Dr. Perry was that it was Carlyle's belief that the unseen world is the real world and that literature should be used as a vehicle for the communication of truth, which the speaker thought is as applicable to the twentieth century as in the early days.

Dr. Perry's conception of Carlyle was that Carlyle was built on a great plan, and that his work had been obscured. He agreed that he was unable to restrain his tongue from caustic judgment. The speaker referred to Carlyle's books, "Sartor Resartorus," "Heroes and Hero Worship," the "French Revolution," and spoke especially of the "New Letters," published in 1904. He also read extracts from some of these books and commented upon them.

He said that Carlyle had splendid human sympathy, but didn't have the patience and logic always to work out his ideas. He thought that a person to fully enjoy Carlyle's writing in the real spirit should read them in his language, which was peculiarly his own.

Women's Club Entertainment.

At a public meeting of the Woman's Club, of Westfield, to be held April 9, at 3 o'clock, in the Presbyterian chapel, Miss Helen Mae Wilson, the well known monologist, will render "Midsummer Night's Dream." The monologue will be accompanied by music and the entire Mendelssohn suite will be given.

ACTION ON WATER QUESTION URGED BY MR. TYLER

The Public Affairs Committee Chairman Intimated That Nothing Could be Done Until Fall.

IN COMMON COUNCIL

Whether People Want Municipal Water Plant Easy to Decide Says Mr. Tyler—Wants Vote Without Delay.

Believing that valuable time is being lost in Plainfield's opportunity to acquire a municipal system of water works, Councilman Tyler, at the April meeting of the Common Council, last night, asked Chairman Buxton, of the committee on public affairs, what progress was being made in the matter. He said that there is now a law on the statute books determining a majority vote on such a question and correcting defects in a previous law and Corporation Counsel March had informed him that the question could be voted on at a special election or at the general election.

Mr. Tyler said the sooner the people were given an opportunity to decide the question the better it would be for Plainfield, as the plant of the Plainfield Water Supply Company, in his opinion, is more valuable every day.

Mr. Buxton said that he had a talk with Corporation Counsel Marsh about a month ago, before the present bill became a law, and that he informed him then that nothing could be done. Now that there is a law giving Plainfield the right to vote on the question he said that his committee intended to act promptly, although he did not think that much could be done before September or October, as it was necessary that the people be thoroughly posted on the question before a vote is taken.

Mr. Tyler said that the question of the Common Council acquiring the local water plant is a tremendous undertaking, but that of getting a decision of the people as to whether they want a municipal system of water works a comparatively easy task and he thought the vote should be secured as early as possible. He said that it was necessary to advertise the election for seven days and other details could be arranged within a short time. Last year's Common Council thought the proposition a good thing and he thought that the present body would think likewise when it was thoroughly understood.

Mr. Tyler cited the condition in Orange where the water company demanded more money for its plant than the appraised value. The Orange Common Council informed the company that it must sell at a true value or it would establish a water works of its own. As a result it sold its plant to Orange for $100,000 less than the appraised value.

The only difference he could see between a special and a general election was that of expenses and this he thought should not stand in the way of deciding the question.

Mr. Buxton promised to take the matter up soon and ascertain what can be done toward securing a vote on the question.

HACK REGULATIONS BEFORE THE COUNCIL

AMENDED ORDINANCE IS PASSED TO THIRD READING.

Amended ordinances regulating hacks and similar vehicles presented at the April meeting of the Common Council last night by Mr. Montgomery, chairman of the license committee, were adopted on first and second reading, ordered advertised and engrossed.

These ordinances were read at the March meeting for information only, and in the meantime Corporation Counsel Marsh made a few changes of minor importance. Provisions are made for the display of license numbers on either side of the hack, not less than an inch and a half in length, and also on a button, not smaller than one and one-half inches in size, to be worn in the left lapel of the coat. A folder containing rates of fare must be placed in a pocket inside the carriage where it can easily be seen.

The fares are twenty-five cents for one passenger within the prescribed limits and fifty cents for two or three passengers from one place to the same destination. Outside these limits the rate is fifty cents for one passenger and twenty-five cents for each additional passenger. After 11 o'clock at night and before 5 o'clock in the morning the rates may be doubled. The ordinance also regulates the distance from the railroad stations and places of public amusement where hacks are allowed to stand, and hackmen are not permitted to solicit business at a less distance than fifteen feet from such places and they are not to act in a loud or boisterous manner.

HUNDREDS OF MOURNERS AT MRS. LYNCH'S FUNERAL

MASS CONDUCTED BY SCHOOLMATE OF BEREAVED HUSBAND.

The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Lynch, wife of John C. Lynch, held in St. Mary's church, this morning, was one of the largest that has ever been conducted in the city. Hundreds of friends from Plainfield, Westfield and other places were in attendance and the body was followed to its last resting place in St. Mary's cemetery by so many mourners the procession of carriages extended for blocks.

A mass of solemn requiem was said by Rev. Father Glennon, of the Church of the Holy Cross, Harrison, acting as celebrant; Rev. Father Bogan, deacon, and Rev. Father Delehanty, sub deacon. Father Glennon was a schoolmate of Mr. Lynch and officiated at his marriage ceremony. He is a former Plainfield boy and resided on Elizabeth street directly next to the Lynch residence. The floral tribues were numbered by scores and included a great many handsome set pieces. One of the most noticeable of the latter was contributed by the Fourth Degree of Watchung Council, Knights of Columbus, of which the bereaved husband is a member.

The pall bearers who bore the casket to the grave were John Powers, Frank Milligan and Michael Higgins, of this city, and Messrs. Fealy, English and Kenney, of Westfield.

Application Considered in Executive Session Last Night.

During the Common Council meeting last night Mr. Montgomery, chairman of the license committee, asked for a ten minute recess to discuss the application of Charles Schanz. No mention was made of what transpired in the exceutive session, but it was learned after the meeting that consideration of the petition had been postponed until the adjourned meeting Wednesday night, April 11. It requires a majority vote of the entire body to take favorable action on such applications, and inasmuch as two members were absent, it was decided to let the matter go over.

Former Assemblyman William Newcorn and his client, Charles Schanz, were in the lobby during the executive session. Mr. Newcorn informed some of the councilmen that a majority vote is imperative and that under the circumstances he was perfectly willing to have any action on the petition postponed.

—Delicious strawberries are a feature of the fruit and vegetable display at Neuman Brothers' store. They have many others, all strictly fresh.

WANT GREEN BROOK CLEANED AND WIDENED.

Effort to Have Two Counties Assist in Defraying Expense.

Councilman Gloak at the Common Council meeting last night introduced the question of cleaning out, widening and deepening Green brook to prevent an overflow of the banks in heavy rains. Mr. Gloak offered a resolution instructing the city clerk to communicate with the officials of Union and Somerset counties, with a view to seeing what they will do toward making these improvements between Scotch Plains and a point between Plainfield and North Plainfield in the western part of the city to be decided upon.

Mr. Gloak described the unsightly condition of Green brook and the necessity for cleaning it out and widening and making it deeper, and thought that the officials of the two counties should be willing to assist in defraying the expense.

NEWS IN THE SUBURBS.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Tickets are out and selling well for the minstrel entertainment to be given for the benefit of Excelsior Hook and Ladder Company on Friday night of this week. The Gold Medal Minstrel Troupe needs no introduction to the local amusement public, as its cast includes nearly all the old familiar faces that appeared at the minstrel held last spring for the benefit of Excelsior.

With the gas mains of the Cranford Gas Company running through the town the residents here will then be enjoying all the modern improvements that other places enjoy with the exception of that of street sprinkling and that has got to come, for the popularity of automobiles will compel the town to adopt some measure to abate the dust nuisance in summer.

The Arion Club's reception and dance tonight in Co. K armory, Plainfield, will be attended by the usual delegation of the club's friends from here.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Flannery, of New York, have been visiting Mr. Flannery's sister, Mrs. George H. Johnston, of Westfield avenue.

A number of young people from here attended Eugene O'Reilly's farewell dance and reception last night in I. C. T. Hall, Plainfield.

Fanwood Bucket and Engine Company holds its regular monthly meeting tomorrow night in the company rooms.

Mrs. Robert Walpole has been entertaining her nieces, the Misses Merritt, of Newark, over Sunday.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

A petition signed by nearly all the women of the village has been taken to the Senate in behalf of the borough bill, setting forth the need of police protection on account of the prevalence of vagrants who follow up the Lehigh Valley Railroad from New York, Perth Amboy and elsewhere.

William Hamilton and Archie Steengrafe are in Trenton looking after the interests of the local borough bill, which is being held up by politicians.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel LaTourette, of Asbury Park, are visiting at Mrs. W. B. Manning's.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

The New Plainfield will be lighted only two nights next week—for Howe's pictures on Monday and "The Old Homestead" on the following Saturday.

The advance sale for "McFadden's Flats" indicates that Treasurer Cunningham will have a rousing benefit. He deserves it and that's why his friends are "pushing it along."

Mark up another big one for Plainfield. Edward Harrigan it is and he comes here on Saturday, April 21, with his big company in "Old Lavender," the play that has lived for a generation. It is at present making a tour of the principal cities of the East.

"The Redskin," booked for this city on April 19, has been breaking records at Philadelphia, where it has been showing since the New York run. Manager Counihan is to be congratulated in securing a production of this magnitude for local playgoers.

Like many other big stars, Kyrle Bellew has a name that leads to arguments over its pronunciation. Let five people make a try at it and every one will give it a different twist. A Plainfielder who went to college with the originator of the role of "Raffles," is authority for the statement that the cognomen is pronounced as though it were spelled, "Curl Belloo."

"Faust," on a scale of splendor never before attempted, and with scenery and effects which are all new and elaborate, in honor of the return of Lewis Morrison himself to his role of Mephisto, will be seen at the New Plainfield theatre shortly. Lewis Morrison himself will positively appear here in this part, aided by a supporting company and electrical effects which have never been equaled for this play in former seasons.

As a specialty in "The Old Clothes Man," which comes to the New Plainfield Friday night, Danny Dougherty and "Kid" Sharkey box three rounds as a preliminary to the great fight scene which is a part of the action in the play. Both are notable figures in the fistic world and the exhibition they give is one that is purely scientific and is always enjoyed by the women as well as the men. Other specialties are introduced by The Broadway Comedy Four and the Devaux Sisters.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

The Epworth League of Grace M. E. church will hold a business meeting Friday night.

The Women's Association of the Congregational church held its weekly sewing meeting at the church this afternoon.

The Girls' Mission Club will hold a special sewing meeting at the home of Miss McIntosh, of College place, tomorrow afternoon.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Park Avenue Baptist church will hold a consecration service Friday night. David M. Runyon will be the leader.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Park Avenue Baptist church will hold its monthly business meeting at the home of Roland C. Treadwell, 821 First place, tonight. A musicale will follow the business session.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Home Missionary Society will be held at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. It is hoped that Mrs. V. P. Boggs, secretary of Freedmen's Department, will be present and speak on her work.

At the April meeting of the Men's Club of the Congregational church, to be held this evening, there will be a current events symposium. The programme will include the following addresses: "The Austro-Hungarian Crisis," Edward L. Suffern; "The Metric System," Joseph E. Morse; "Immigration," Roland D. Rice; "Life Insurance Reform," Philip S. Suffern.

ACCUSED SENATORS DENY THE CHARGES

SHINN AND MARTENS DEMAND BRIBERY ALLEGATION BF FULLY INVESTIGATED.

Trenton, April 3.—Immediately after roll-call in the Senate last night, Senators Shinn, of Ocean, and Martens, of Hunterdon, made formal denial of charges of extortion made against them last Wednesday by Philip Krimke, of Newark. Krimke asserted in an affidavit that the two Senators offered to smother a bill in committee for $400.

President Bradley appointed the Judiciary Committee, consisting of Senators Hillery, Wakelee and Minturn, to investigate the charges.

Senator Shinn first arose to a question of personal privilege and presented a statement which he asked to be read in full to the Senators. The Senator made a positive denial of the charges and denounced them as lies. He said they were made for revenge. He asked that a full investigation be made.

Senator Martens requested that the charges be investigated. He said the charges were made for the purpose of ruining his good name and casting reflections on other Senators.

Senator Hillery, leader of the majority, presented a resolution providing for the appointment of a committee of three Senators to investigate the charges. The resolution was carried and the Judiciary Committee was appointed.

The charges grew out of a bill introduced by Senator Shinn reducing the amount of interest charged by pawnbrokers. The bill was opposed by Krimke, who is president of the State organization of pawnbrokers. In an affidavit taken by George E. Carpenter, a lawyer, of Newark, Krimke swore that the two Senators attempted to extort money from him to smother the bills in the committee.

BANK OFFICIALS QUICKLY INDICTED.

They Hold or Have Held Places in Several Towns of Hudson County.

A batch of indictments was handed up last evening by the Hudson County Grand Jury at its final session in Jersey City yesterday afternoon. These are the persons indicted: City Collector Edward Fry, of Jersey City, for contempt of court in criticising the Grand Jury; Tax Commissioners Edgar B. Bacon, John H. Weastell and Thomas J. Degnan, of Jersey City, for adding $3,000,000 of ratables to the estimate which they submitted to the County Board of Equalization; the Jersey City Excise Commissioners, George W. Decker, John H. O'Brien, Gustav Pfingsten and Matthew Fallahee, for allowing alleged improper resorts to sell liquor; the Hoboken Common Council, Police Board and Fire Board, of 1905, and ex-Mayor Lankering, as member ex-officio of those boards, for making unauthorized expenditures; ex-Mayor John E. Otis, treasurer of West New York, illegal expenditures; Policeman John O'Brien, of Hoboken; ex-Mayor Brady, ex-Water Purveyor Cavanagh, some of the Common Council of 1905, and it is reported other officials of Bayonne.

Two presentments went with the indictments. One reported that the Grand Jury had investigated the appointment of a "certain Mrs. Riptic" by the votes of Police Commissioners Potts and McNulty, but had not had time to finish the investigation. The appointment appeared to be without authority of law. It would be a proper subject for investigation by the next Grand Jury.

She has acted as police court interpreter sixteen years. Her recent appointment as assistant matron is said to have been a recognition of her effective work for Mayor Fagan in his last campaign.

The other presentment condemns the practice of "individual members" of municipalities in Hudson county in making expenditures of public funds without consulting other members, a custom which has resulted in disbursements in excess of appropriations.

BALL PLAYER-ACTOR STARTS NEW CAREER

From the plaudits of the baseball diamond, to the glamor of the footlights and thence to the printing shop, is three interesting steps in the career of Bert Moore, of Grove street, a well known and popular young man of this city. Mr. Moore has tired of the theatrical, business having been a member of the famous "Florodora" sextette and lastly "The Duke of Duluth" company.

The ex-thespian now holds a position with the Winthrop Press, of New York, one of the largest printing houses in the metropolis. No sooner than did Mr. Moore inhale a few whiffs of printers ink in the composing room of the concern and heard the merry clicks of the linotype machines in the printery, than did he decide that it would be very profitable for him to learn the art of manipulating a Mergenthaler machine.

Four weeks ago he entered the large manufacturing plant of the concern in Brooklyn and started on a course of instruction. He is now what is considered an expert among the students and can turn out on an average of 4,000 ems every sixty minutes. In addition to the machine operating end of the business Mr. Moore will take a course in the machine end of the business and when he has completed this branch he will not only be able to operate a machine but also to make repairs when necessary.

Mr. Moore said he has lost the theatrical fever and never expects to appear on the stage in a professional way again. He declares the business is too monotonous for him, and besides there is very little money in it nowadays.

Local baseball fans will remember Moore as one of the stars of the City League four seasons ago when he covered second bag for the Y. M. C. A. pennant winners. Mr. Moore also worked for a time at the local plant of the Manganese Steel Safe Works.

"HONESTY THE BEST POLICY."

New Providence, April 3.—Elmer Dickson, of this place, had a piano, which he wished moved a distance of about five hundred feet. Being new in the place himself, he asked the advice of Freeholder John F. Wahl, who owns a blacksmith shop next door, as to how he could bet the job done cheaply and quickly. Mr. Wahl, who is also fire chief, said that he would get a few firemen and do the job. "How much will it cost?" said the owner of the piano. "Oh, I'll see that it don't cost much," was the reply. "Just treat some of the boys and they will do it for nothing."

"All right, here's $2; blow them to soda water and peanuts," said Dickson, who is a teetotaler. "If you need more, just call on me, and I'll give it to you." The "contractor" collected half a dozen stalwart young men and soon had the job completed. He then took them to a nearby store and bought a quart of peanuts and a ten-cent bottle of soda water for each one. He put twenty cents in his own pocket, saying that he didn't care for soda water, and peanuts hurt his teeth. As there were seven of them, this left a balance of sixty cents. He looked at the change for a moment, then said: "Boys, there's sixty cents left. Now, we can't divide that amount among seven men, because it wouldn't be fair to everybody. So I move that we give Mr. Dickson the change." No one said anything, so Mr. Wahl walked out of the store to the residence of Mr. Dickson and handed him sixty cents.

NEW POSTOFFICE OPENED.

Perth Amboy's Building Ready Now for Transaction of Business.

Perth Amboy, April 3.—The new postoffice building was thrown open to the public yesterday for inspection and transaction of business.

The building is of granite, limestone and glazed terra cotta, and is located in the centre of the city, on the corner of Maple and Jefferson streets. It measures 84x73.6, and is nearly thirty-fie feet high. The building is furnished inside with Vermont marble, oak and yellow pine, with furniture to match. A corridor runs the entire length of the building from east to west, with a T-lobby separating the postal and customs deparments.

Congress made the first appropriation of $60,000 for the building early in 1904. Postmaster Tice, Collector Carson and Congressman Howell are responsible for its existence. It is expected that Congress will appropriate $10,000 for beautifying the grounds this year.

Men's Club Officers.

The following officers were elected at the annual meeting of the Crescent Avenue church Men's Club: President, H. C. Munger; vice-president, James E. Kimball; secretary and treasurer, Arthur Lovell; executive committee, Edward A. Stevenson, Dr. B. VanD. Hedges, L. R. Hopton and Lindsey Best.

—The regular meeting of the McAll Auxiliary will be held at the Public Library tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock.

Plainfield, N. J., April 3, 1906.

High license is sure to become a part of the law of New Jersey notwithstanding any adverse action that may be taken by the present Legislature, says the New Evening News. The reason given by the State's leading newspaper for its assertion is that the people have concluded that it is a wise provision. Discussing the subject at length, it states Plainfield, Chicago and the State of Ohio have taken the initiative in raising the license rate to $1,000. The Newark paper says:

"The effect of high license it not unknown in New Jersey. There are several object lessons within the State which afford abundant evidence of some of the benefits that result from raising the license fee. In Camden the fee is now $500, and the limit of saloons is one for every 370 inhabitants, instead of one for every 200, as provided in the Senate committee's substitute for the 'bishops' bills.' In Passaic the fee is $501, and the ratio of saloons is one to every 330 inhabitants. In East Orange the fee was raised from $250 to $400, and the number of licensed places fell from thirty-nine to twenty-four, or one to each 1,100 inhabitants. In New Brunswick the fee was raised from $250 to $350, and the saloons now number eighty-four, or one to every 273 of population. But Plainfield furnishes the best object lesson in this respect. In that city the fee was raised from $700 to $1,000, and today it has but a single saloon to about 2,050 people. The only exception to the rule in this State is Atlantic City, which, in spite of a fee of $350, has 245 saloons, or one to every 154 persons. But Atlantic City is a resort with much more than double the population in summer that it has during the rest of the year, and its liquor traffic is extremely large for four months at least. It is hardly fair, under these conditions, to assume that this ratio of saloons to permanent population is the one from which the effects of the increased license fee should be taken. To adopt high license is, according to all reliable statistics and arguments, to reduce the number of saloons. This is undoubtedly why Englewood recently raised its license fee from $150 to $500 at a single bound. This is why Chicago a few weeks ago decided upon a license fee of $1,000. This is why the Ohio Legislature at its session which closes today voted that the saloon tax throughout the State be increased from $350 to $1,000. This is why high license is being advocated at the present time in so many different States. Out of 13,000 saloons in Cincinnati alone it is estimated that between 400 and 500 will go out of business, while as many more will abandon the business in both Columbus and Cleveland. The 'bishops' bills' did not keep pace with Ohio, Chicago or Plainfield. They did not ask for $1,000 license fees, but only $500 as the maximum, with others graded below this sum. But the Senate committee judged this was too much, and made the maximum only $300. This may mean that the $200 thus saved the saloonkeepers will be subscribed to the election fund for the return of the men who were thus faithful to the liquor interests. But high license has been by no means defeated. The 'bishops' bills' have not yet been acted upon and should not be abandoned till every member of the Legislature is on record with reference to them. A committee's report may be evidence of individual opinion or even of partizan policy, but public sentiment has been strong enough to overcome both. Higher license is sure to come because the people of New Jersey have reached the conclusion that it is a wise provision. Since the Avis-Hillery-Wakelee report they are more than ever determined to have it, and it would not be surprising if, after being insulted when asking for only $500, they should decide at the next election to make it $1,000."

CATHOLIC CATHEDRAL IS 100 YEARS OLD

TO CELEBRATE CENTENARY OF LAYING CORNERSTONE OF EDIFICE.

Baltimore, Md., April 3.—Probably the most notable gathering of prelates of the Roman Catholic church since the plenary council in 1884 will be held at the celebration on April 29 of the centenary of the laying of the cornerstone of the old Baltimore Cathedral, the seat of the primacy of the American Roman Catholic church hierarchy, the great hall of legislation for that church in the United States.

Twele archbishops and a hundred or more bishops, monsignors, abbotts and leaders of the various ecclesiastical orders will take part in the ceremonies, which will be on a scale of magnificence never before equaled in this church, not even at the national councils.

For more than a year decorators and gilders have worked on the minarets, dome and the interior of the big edifice, completely renovating it for the centenary. The costly work is now complete.

The Baltimore Cathedral is the second oldest cathedral in the United States, the oldest being the cathedral at St. Augustine, Florida, built by the Spaniards.

The programme for the celebration includes a procession of the prelates and priests around the Cathedral block, on the morning of Sunday, April 29, to be followed by mass, at which Archbishop Farley, of New York, will pontificate. Archbishop Ryan, of Philadelphia, will preach the sermon. To this service may also be invited the President and Vice-President of the United States, members of the cabinet, Senators, Representatives and diplomats and State and city officials.

At vespers Archbishop Messmer, of Milwaukee, will pontificate, and Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul, will preach. These two services will complete the religious part of the programme.

The main social feature will take place on the evening of the following day at the Lyric. There all of the prelates will gather to a reception. This will be one of the most notable gatherings of its kind ever held in this country. Charles J. Bonaparte, secretary of the navy, will make the principal address, welcoming the prelates, and he will also speak on the Cathedral and the work of which it has been the seat for a century.

The history of the old Cathedral is told by Cardinal Gibbons, who, in speaking of the importance to church circles of the coming event, said:

"In celebrating the centenary the name of Archbishop Carroll will occupy a conspicuous place. John Carroll was appointed first Bishop of Baltimore by Pope Pius VII, and was consecrated on August 15, 1790, in the chapel attached to Lulworth Castle, Dorsetshire, England. His see, the oldest in the United States, embraced then the whole country. The consecrating prelate was the Right Rev. Dr. Walmsley, vicar apostolic of the London district.

"The site selected for the edifice was purchased from Governor Howard, of Revolutionary fame, whose equestrian statue adorns Mount Vernon place. His daughter, Mrs. William George Read, whom I had the pleasure of knowing, a convert to the Catholic church, was for many years a devout worshipper in the cathedral and a zealous member of the Sanctuary Society. The architect of the cathedral was Benjamin Henry Latrobe, the grandfather of General eFrdinand C. Latrobe, many times mayor of Baltimore. Mr. Latrobe also designed the old capitol at Washington.

"The cornerstone of the cathedral was laid by Bishop Carroll on July 7, 1806. Baltimore, which today has nearly 600,000 souls, at that time had a population of about 30,000, and the Catholic community amounted to hardly 5,000 souls.

FIRM SEEKS TO RUN A PUBLIC SCALE HERE.

Old Matter Revived at Last Night's Council Meeting.

VanZandt & Voorhees, the Park avenue feed and grain dealers, revived the question of a public scale for Plainfield last night when they asked the Common Council to locate such a weighing machine at the side of their building. The firm agreed to do all weighing of a public character and whatever revenue was derived from this source to turn it over to the city treasurer. The firm suggested that Meyer scales be purchased.

The question of having public scales was discussed a year or two ago, when it was also suggested that a public weigher be engaged who would also look after weights and measures in Plainfield. Robert L. Lee, then a member of the Common Council, had such an ordinance prepared, but it was never adopted. It is now said that a public scales would be a good thing for the city as it would guarantee full weight to a purchaser.

The communication of VanZandt & Voorhees was referred to the public affairs committee to be reported on later.

Miss Tilney, from out of town, is the guest of Mrs. A. V. Heely, of Willow avenue.

General Information.

What To Buy. Where To Buy.

This is a rapid age. What is new today will be old tomorrow. People are constantly demanding what is newest. NEW DRESS GOODS.

It's a great fallacy to think you must go to New York City to buy Dress Goods. A glance through our Spring selections will at once demonstrate the fact that we have many of the newest and most desirable fabrics in the best shades. All the popular grays are shown. Novelty Suitings that are very stylish. Black goods that are in every way desirable. Mixed Suitings, Plaids, Checks, etc., for children's wear. Batistes for waists, etc.

In the Men's Corner the new Spring Shirts are exciting most favorable comment. The 50c line is worthy of special mention. Made up well of fine Madras in choice patterns, they excel in general merit the average 50c goods.

The well known "Lion Brand" Shirts are largely in evidence. These goods are too well known to need more than passing mention. We do want to state, however, that the styles for this season are exceptionally fine. The variety great enough to satisfy all tastes. Price 1.00.

CITY COUNCIL GETS BOROUGH MAYOR'S QUERY.

He Seeks to Obtain Plainfield Attitude on Sewage Question.

Mayor Newton B. Smalley, of North Plainfield, communicated with the Common Council last night asking for information as to the possibility of North Plainfield taking advantage of Plainfield's sewer system. Mr. Smalley stated that his inquiry for facts and figures was the result of a joint meeting of the borough Council and Board of Health held recently, when he was instructed to take this step.

Mr. Smalley sought general information, such as the terms Plainfield would ask for taking the borough in, also the terms of years for which such an agreement could be made, and the possibility of the borough being sewered in this way. The matter was referred to the street and sewer committee, and it will report later.

DEPUTIES GUARD BRICKYARD.

Employers Fear Five Hundred Strikers Will Try to Stop Work.

New Brunswick, April 3.—Five employes of the National Clay Company brickyard at South River struck yesterday. The company, fearing the strikers would try to make the night force quit work at night, asked assistance from Sheriff Andrew Church. The sheriff swore in and sent fifteen deputies to the scene at 6 o'clock last night. They remained on guard all night.

The men are demanding $1.50 a day, and say they won't return to the works unless their demand is met. The men expect that the increased rate will be given them. They now get $1.30 a day.

HIGH HEEL QUESTION IN COURT.

Husband Also Objected to "Lover's Knot" in Wife's Hair.

Mrs. Frank W. Foster, twenty-four years old, of 431 High street, Newark, had her husband summoned to a police court yesterday because he objected to her wearing high heels and did not like a "lover's knot wave" in her hair. She made other charges, too, among them being that for five years, or since she married Foster, she had been compelled to live in a furnished room. The husband was warned by Judge Sweeney that he would have to pay $5 a week to his wife for the support of two small children or go to jail. Mrs. Foster was satisfied with that arrangement.

Mr. and Mrs. William Van Eps are the happy parents of a small boy. He arrived yesterday.

Averts a Possible Wreck.

Cranford, April 3.—The towerman at the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad junction of the Central Railroad, by prompt action, averted a possible wreck on Saturday afternoon. He noticed a freight car on a westbound tilted over to the track on which expresses run. A passing train was due, so the man telegraphed Cranford station to flag the train, likewise setting signals against the train. The freight train was stopped at Cranford and the damaged car "cut out."

NEW LAWS ABOUT THE NATIONAL GUARD

OFFICERS WILL PROBABLY RECEIVE AN ALLOWANCE FOR EQUIPMENTS.

Officers of the National Guard throughout the Sate are much interested in the passage of the Frelinghuysen military bill, which is now in the House of Assembly, having passed the Senate. The bill is said to be booked for a through trip and it is certain that there will be no delay in the executive offices, if the bill goes to the Governor for signature.

The bill adds the Colonels of the five regiments to the State Military Board and also makes the senior officer of the Naval Reserve a member of the board. The addition of the Colonels to the board will bring the soldiers of the Guard in closer touch with the supreme authority of the State's forces, and will probably bring about a needed reform in the administration of the affairs of the citizen soldiers.

Another subject embraced in the bill is found in paragraph 127, which provides for the payment of an annual allowance to the officers for the purchase of their uniforms and equipments. At present the officers receive no compensation for their services, other than the payment for the week in camp every two years.

The Frelinghuysen bill, in its original form, allowed a sum not to exceed fifty dollars to be paid to each mounted commissioned officer and a sum not to exceed thirty dollars to each other commissioned officer. Some of the lawmakers regarded this as too liberal and paragraph 127 was amended to read as follows:

"Every commissioned officer of regiments, troops, batteries, companies and signal corps shall provide himself with the arms, uniforms and equipments prescribed by the regulations of bill of dress of this State, and there shall be allowed annually for such uniforms and equipments, a sum not exceeding twenty dollars for such officers, said allowance to be paid on vouchers of expenditures for such uniforms and equipments, duly verified by affidavits."

The reduction of the amount prescribed in the original bill is not hailed with delight by the officers, particularly those who have to bear the added expense of horse equipments, but the bill is generally regarded as a step in the right direction and a recognition by the State of the fact that the officers give freely of their time and effort in the training of the young men who will represent New Jersey in the field, should there be occasion for their services in that way.

P. S. C.'s ANNUAL MEETING IS HELD.

Senator Dryden Out of Directors' Board—Deal with the Morgan Firm.

The annual meeting of the Public Service Corporation was held yesterday at noon in Newark. The only business transacted was the election of directors. The following directors were named: A. B. BACKBONE OF REVOLT AT CALVARY BROKEN

NEGRO CHURCH LEADER SAYS SO AFTER TRUSTEES ARE DISMISSED.

Calvary Baptist church went the limit in discipline last night against Spencer Conway, Ernest Crite and Charles Hardway, who were recently found guilty of attempting to usurp the authority of the church in trying to seat Rev. P. S. Morris in place of Rev. G. W. Baily, who was called by a majority of the congregation to be pastor of the church. Conway, Crite and Hardway were expelled from membership by a vote at a special meeting called for the purpose of acting on the recent trouble.

The trio were formally charged with attempting illegal action knowingly, and after a hearing the vote of expulsion was taken. They were also dismissed from the board of trustees, dismissal to take effect May 20.

The trustees were increased in number from five to seven. An election will be held later.

Mansfield Robinson was voted the thanks of the church for his faithfulness as treasurer during the past several years. The Bound Brook mission, it was resolved, had no right to vote in the meetings of the church.

A report on the meeting given out by one of the church governors states that "Everyone returned home assured the backbone of the revolt is broken."

EXEMPTS HOLD THEIR ANNUAL ELECTION.

W. L. Force's Handsome Trumpet, Belt and Cap Added to Relics.

The Exempt Firemen's Association at its annual meeting last night elected the following officers: President, V. W. Nash; vice-president, Charles Conover; secretary, Guillermo Thorn; treasurer, E. M. Laing; trustees, D. W. Littell, E. M. Laing, W. A. Woodruff, Joseph A. Hubbard and T. O. Doane; representatives to Relief Association, G. Thorn and J. O. Cranston; representatives to State Association, J. O. Cranston, George Studor, George Ball, Charles Conover and C. C. Burnett; representative to Board of Visitors, George W. Clark.

C. C. Burnett and Charles J. Fisk were added to the committee of arrangements for the parade at Elizabeth next October.

The handsome silver trumpet, belt and cap belonging to the late William L. Force were received by the association with thanks.

LODGE'S GIFT.

Jewel for Joseph Kingston from I. O. O. F.

In honor of the completion of his twenty-five years as a member of Plainfield Lodge, No. 44, I. O. O. F., Joseph Kingston was presented with a twenty-five year jewel by the lodge at its meeting last night. Past Noble Grand John Becker made the presentation on behalf of the members, and Mr. Kingston received it with a few words of appreciation.

A delegation from Westfield Lodge attende the meeting and in the good of the order speeches were made. Refrshments were served afterwards. During the evening Plainfield Lodge received four applications for membership.

Street Sprinkling Begins.

John E. Keely, who has the contract for street sprinkling for the coming season, broke his agreement with the city yesterday, not having the water wagons on the streets as required. The repairs and painting caused a delay, he says in excuse, adding that he expects that the work will be in full swing today or tomorrow. At present the sprinkling is needed greatly in the business part of the city. The merchants complained very much yesterday and today about the nuisance.

Mr. and Mrs. Homan Surprised.

Mr. and Mrs. George Homan, who moved this week from the New Madison to their own property at 120 Plainfield avenue, were given a shower surprise party last night. The affair was arranged by Mrs. J. P. Homan. The company comprised twenty-five relatives and friends and the evening was passed in dancing. At midnight refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Homan received a large collection of useful presents.

Will Discuss Foreign Missions.

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the First Baptist church will be held in the Sunday school room tomorrow afternoon at the usual hour. Mrs. Daniel R. Douglass will lead the devotional exercises and Mrs. L. V. F. Randolph will present a paper on "South Africa." The current events will be presented by Mrs. J. Hervey Buchanan.

Want to Purify Elizabeth River.

City Surveyor Luster, of Elizabeth, presented elaborate plans at the meeting of the Elizabeth Council last night providing for the cleaning, draining and purification of the Elizabeth River. If his plans are adopted it will call for an expenditure of $140,000. This includes the establishment of a purification plant.

EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATIONS TO HOLD A CONFERENCE.

Ninth Annual Meeting to be Held in New York, Beginning April 17.

The ninth annual conference of the Eastern Public Educational Association will be held at the Teachers' College, Columbia University, New York City, April 17, 18, 19 and 20, at the invitation of the Public Educational Association, the Round Table and the Women's Municipal League of New York City.

The subject chosen for discussion is "Public Education as Related to Social Service and Vocational Life." As illustrative of what is being done along these lines in New York, a series of carefully planned excursions will be arranged for the delegates to places of special educational interest. Well-known speakers will present various phases of the subject.

The 17th will be devoted to visiting the Teachers' College, the Horace Mann and Speyer Schools, with business meeting of delegates and a formal opening session in the evening at the Teachers' College. Visits to various public schools, the Manhattan Trade School and the Children's School Farm are to be provided during the week. A civic afternoon is also planned, with a discussion of the "School City" and a presentation of the methods of the City History Club. One session will probably be held at the Ethical Culture School.

Stirring the Political Waters.

Senator Colby and George I. Record, who lead the Republican reform movement in New Jersey, have been holding secret conferences in the past three weeks at the Hackensack Golf Club with Bergen county independent Republicans. C. Van H. Whitbeck, editor of the Evening Record, is the reform leader in Bergen. Last Saturday evening the Winter Club of the golf club gave a social at which Mayor Fagan and Mr. Record were speakers. Former First Assistant Postmaster-General William M. Johnson, of Hackensack, is prominently named as the next Republican candidate for Governor.

TO KILL THE DANDRUFF GERM.
Is the Only Possible Way of Having An Effective Cure.
If you see a woman or a man with luxuriant glossy hair, you may be sure neither has dandruff to amount to anything. In nearly every case where women and men have thin brittle hair, they owe it to dandruff. There are hundreds of preparations that "claim" to cure dandruff, but not one but Newbro's Herpicide tells you that dandruff is the result of a germ burrowing into the scalp, and that permanent cure of dandruff and its consequent falling and baldness, can only be had by killing the germ; and there is no other preparation that will destroy that germ but Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, and you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.
L. W. Randolph, Special Agent.

MEATS

POULTRY

Its a Funny Idea
some dealers have about our stock being just the same. We know it isn't. Beef, Veal, Lamb, or Pork which has been carefully raised and fed will taste better and give more nourishment than "wild" meats. We don't sell any but prime Meats, and a customer can sit down to a roast or steak, or chops from here without fear of hurting his teeth or his sense of taste. Prices won't hurt anybody's pocket, either. We sell Siegfried Arens' delicious Broilers.

YELLOW WALKING FEVER.

Victims of the Disease Who Unwittingly Infect Others as They Go About.

"In the south they have had this fall yellow fever," said a lady who, according to the New York Herald, is an exile from Dixie because of the sickness. "But one of the sources of the disease is of a peculiar character. It is distributed by persons who have what is called the 'walking fever.' They go about their business or affairs while the fever is latent in them, but still of a malignant character. A victim in whom the disease is established, and who is put to bed by reason of coming in contact with but few persons, rarely becomes a focal point of its spread. But the victim who still moves about distributes the malignant taint to many. The curious thing about these sufferers is that they keep on going about till they simply fall down and quickly die. They have a headache and stiff joints, but their temperature is little above normal, and they attribute their sickness to other than the serious causes which give rise to it.

"In a previous invasion of yellow fever in the south I remained until too late to leave my home. The quarantine was imposed and its terms were executed with cruel rigidity. A gentleman living in my street, a merchant, gave his whole time and attention to health work. Our street is on high ground and is kept in the best possible sanitary condition. The gentleman came home daily and one evening fell fainting in the street. That night he died. Not a house in the row, some 30 of them, was spared by the dread visitant. We were able to trace from him the progress of the malady that twice decimated the residents of the street within 12 days.

"A woman friend of mine in New Orleans had the walking fever during the current outbreak of the disease. She communicated it to her family, and now all of them, eight in number, are dead."

HOW PERSEVERANCE WON.

Salesman Who Proved Himself to Be the Limit of Pertinacity.

"I was in the office of an American consul in a German city not long ago," said Wilfred M. Hale, relates the Washington Post. "While I was there a wine agent came in who wanted to sell the consul some 'sehr schoene' Rhine wine. The consul didn't want to buy, and, becoming irritated by the fellow's persistence, finally ordered him out of the place.

"In five minutes the agent was back, and blandly asked the consul if he didn't want some very excellent sherry. By this time Uncle Sam's representative was at white heat, and he kicked the wine man through the door and half way down the stairs. To our amazement, only a little while elapsed before the irrepressible drummer again appeared, and with a broad grin, asked to submit some rare old brandy.

"'By the Stars and Stripes,' quoth the consul, "wouldn't this outjar an earthquake? Isn't one kicking a day enough for you, fellow?'

"'Ordinarily, yes; but your honor exerted yourself so much the other time that I thought a little good brandy would come in nicely to brace up on.' He got an order."

GRAND OLD SPANISH RELIC

Of all the missions in California, the Santa Barbara mission occupies the most commanding position, writes Page Fellowes, in Four-Track News. Standing on an elevation 300 feet above the sea, the white facade and long corridor may be seen from far out on the ocean forming a striking object to sailor or tourist. Back of the mission the mountains rise to a climax of grandeur; on the other side rolls the fertile country with lovely little houses, half buried in flowers, shrubs and trees; and beyond the city gleams the peaceful sea dotted with gliding ships.

After entering the mission visitors are received by Brother Huysoline, the noted cicerone. He is a most interesting man, very cordial to strangers, pleased to show them about, and prepared to answer all questions regarding the mission except those about the "Mysterious Garden." His account of the early mission days is most vivid.

Coughing Saves Your Life.

A cough is the response to a danger signal which says that something is irritating the delicate mucous membrane which lines the air passages leading to the lungs. This cause of irritation may vary, but in the common cough of winter it is some offending matter which nature seeks to clear off and expel by means of the compelling cough, lest it should block the bronchial tubes, and cause suffocation. The sensitive nerves that belong to these vital tubes act as sentinels, and send a message for succor to the brain, which at once responds to the call by dispatching orders to the chest muscles. These then contract violently with one accord, and force out the air in a cough, which carries with it the cause of irritation.—Stray Stories.

The Real Thing.

"Did you secure your title of 'colonel' in the army?" asked the formidably frank person.

"Certainly not," replied Col. Stillwell. "It is the expression of genuine esteem by my friends and neighbors; not a mere formality of red tape."—Washington Star.

MRS. APPLEGATE WELL AGAIN!

"I have had a bruised leg and foot for several years, caused by the brass eyelets of my shoes, which became very sore and painful especially at night. It itched, burned and ached me till it nearly set me crazy. I used everything I found and was suggested to ease it and nothing gave me any relief till I found and applied Azienza Cream which I think is a wonderful remedy for all sores and inflammation of the skin. The hard knots on my legs were as painful as bee stings, with discolored and purple spots. A running sore on my instep size of a half-dollar; the top of my foot a seething sore clean around to my heel. The bone was sore for a whole year and very painful. I used five and one-half jars of Azienza Cream and healed the sore all up. The foot remained tender and I continued to use to strengthen and toughen the skin until now it is entirely well." (Signed) Mrs. Hannah Applegate, Evergreen Ave., Avon, N. J., Sept. 3rd, 1905. 50 cents. Ask the druggist or by mail. Azienza Specialties Co., Jersey City, N. J.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

Manager Counihan, of the New Plainfield theatre, is sparing neither time nor expense to secure for its patrons the very best attractions in the country. In the engagement of Mildred Holland and her excellent company in "The Power Behind the Throne," a genuine dramatic treat is promised theatregoers. It is not the policy of the present management to endorse any actor or actress unless it knows whereof it speaks, but from reports from local house managers throughout the country the management of the New Plainfield theatre is justified in recommending Miss Holland to its theatregoers. The advance sale is reported to be very large for the engagement of Miss Holland tonight. The production is sumptuously staged and costumed.

Merriment, song and beauty are the predominant features of the ever popular "McFadden's Flats," which comes to the New Plainfield theatre next Thursday night. There has been no farce comedy ever written which has enjoyed the same degree of public favor as has "McFadden's Flats." It not only amuses the people and distracts their attention from the ordinary cares of life, but it gives them a chance to hear the newest and best humor of the day and the latest as well as the most tuneful popular music. Written by E. W. Townsend and Glen MacDonough, "McFadden's Flats" is both clever from a humor standpoint and well balanced from a dramatic standpoint. In this year's edition of this ever popular farce comedy the management takes particular pride in calling attention to the very clever people who have been engaged, regardless of expense, for this organization. Among the number may be mentioned Joe Deming, Billy Barry, the Speck Brothers, Marie Henry, the Yellow Kids, May Baker, Fred Coulter, Allie Babier, Annie Muller and the Preston Sisters, Ethel Sinclair, Josephine Crawford and Charles Gramlich.

"The Old Clothes Man," which appears at the New Plainfield theatre Friday night, with James Kyrle MacCurdy, the author, in the title role of Solomon Levi, is a melodrama dealing with slum life in New York and teeming with clever specialties and comedy situations. It has been placed far above the average melodrama and instead of showing the coarsest episodes of slum life, it looks at events in the light of sober characterization, rather than in a satirical or caricaturing mood. The leading role is that of Solomon Levi, a Jew peddler, and is played by the author, James Kyrle MacCurdy, who has reached a high standard and received plaudits from critics all over the country for his portrayal of this role.

The Countess von Hatzfeld is coming to the New Plainfield theatre next Saturday afternoon and night in "The Little Duchess." With her is an array of musical comedy talent that has seldom been seen in this city before, and a bunch of statuesque beauties—the Sadie girls—that would put the original Anna Held tribe to shame. And who does not remember the Sadie girls? There were twelve of them, dressed in expensive Worth gowns, and carrying themselves with all the hauteur of a Broadway show girl who found herself for the first time on the stage in long dresses. Messrs. Aborn have gone Anna Held one better and have gotten together a dozen young women who are a distinct advance in the matter of pulchritude, and are furthermore vocalists of no mean ability. And then there are the original "fencing girls," who dispert themselves in the drill room of the Parisian duelist. They are also famous in stage annals, and have probably been photographed and used for advertising more generally than any other type of chorus girl. "The Little Duchess" would not be complete without these two types of girls, and for that reason as much attention has been bestowed on them as the rewriting of the libretto or the interpolation of musical numbers.

There are so many keen witted, active and agile newsboys found all over, and in every big city, and so accustomed are we to them all that it never occurs to us that many of their lives contain much that is at once pathetic, romantic and comic. Often too, they are full of adventure, struggle and danger. But they never despair. They embody the spirit of the times, are quick, eager and irrepressible. Just how checkered is the career of some of them can be realized from a very complete series of moving pictures of the "Life of a New York Newsboy" included in Lyman H. Howe's Lifeorama, to be seen at the New Plainfield theatre next Monday night.

How far the famous old New England play, "The Old Homestead," will go in the affections of the theatregoing public seems to be a query as unanswerable as the famous question as to who smote Billy Paterson. Suffice it to say that it is now in its twentieth year and is still vigorous in its drawing power and its ability to please. Time does not wither nor familiarity destroy its firm hold on the populace, and the end is not yet. This season it is being presented by a company which is practically the same as for a dozen years past. The scenic environment is promised to be elaborate and characteristic, and the famous double quartette is said to be the best that Mr. Thompson has ever had. It will be at the New Plainfield theatre Saturday afternoon and night, April 14.

"SKEETERS" BEGIN WORK

Jersey City Eastern Leaguers Arrive and Put Up at Hotel Iroquois.

MGR. MURRAY ON HAND

The Jersey City Eastern Leaguers reported today at the Hotel Iroquois, where they will make their headquarters during their spring training at Crescent Oval. That the visit of the leaguers will awaken an interest among the local fans is assured. During the stay of the "Skeeters" here their many friends in Jersey City will make frequent trips to this city to watch the trying-out process.

Manager Murray has heard from the majority of his men and all have expressed themselves as being in the best of condition and anxious to get out for the real business. Every one of the players have been indulging in light exercise during the winter, so as to keep in shape, and the indications are that the men will show up in better form than ever. The winter has been less severe and all have had the advantage this season of outdoor experience. "Joco" Halligan has been spending the last two weeks at Mt. Clemens Hot Springs, and the veteran outfielder informs Manager Murray that he is renewing his youth and absorbing a stock of ginger that will last him all season. Halligan says he will show the young fellows something in hitting and fielding this year.

Manager Murray was a bit surprised at the news received from Wallace Clement, the Jerseys' popular left fielder. Clement informs Manager Murray that when he reports there will be two of him. He says he has signed another contract this week and from now on he will line-up with the Benedicts. Clement has just been married to one of Maine's most charming young women and when he reports today Mrs. Clement will accompany him and will spend the summer in Jersey City.

Capt. Joe Bean has been spending the winter at his home at Cambridgeport. Manager Murray in his visits to Boston has had several talks with Bean and says the Jerseys' captain has been giving a lot of attention this winter to basketball. He has developed a team of plays that has been invincible, having beaten every Boston team they have confronted. Joe Bean is the instructor and manager. Bean is glad the season is at hand and will be one of the first on the grounds. He left Boston Sunday night. He will play second base on the team this year and with the short throw that will now be necessary to get the ball over to first Bean will be more valuable than ever as an infielder and a great improvement over Pattee in ground covering.

The new players signed for the infield, Grant, Holmes and Moore, will all be given ample opportunity to make good, and if reports are realized by their performances Manager Murray will have trouble in deciding which one to favor. They are all very highly recommended and it is to be hoped they will reach the expectations. Grant is a Harvard boy, Moore is a former Williams College player but has been playing professional ball for several seasons and has had lots of experience. Holmes is a western player who is coming all the way from Layette, Iowa. He is a friend of Linderman, Jersey's pitcher of last year, who gave Manager Murray the tip to get him.

Merritt has been wintering in Paterson and is always in shape. Keister has kept in trim all season and is eager to get busy. Cassidy and Woods have not been heard from lately, but are expected with the others. Cassidy embarked in the hotel business in Wilmington this winter and has had lots to keep him busy. Pfanmiller has been in town all winter and has kept his arm in trim by swinging the bowling ball. McCann has been occupied with mercantile business all winter in Baltimore and will have something new in clothes and curves to offer his friends when he rejoins them this week.

The return of William Foxen to the pitching staff will add greatly to its strength. Foxen has been with Hartford for the last two years and led the Connecticut League pitchers. He also twirled Sundays for the Manhattans at Olympic Field, Harlem, under the names of Jones, and altogether pitched in 78 games last season. An unusual amount of work for a pitcher. He is heavier than when here last and should prove a great help to the Jerseys in this year's pennant race. McQuillan (better known as Mack), the young Paterson boy, will also be in line. He did well last year and will be even better this season.

Vandergrift will help out in the catching and in the coaching again with his old-time success. He is the only one of last year's backstops who will be in harness this season. McCauley, having been given his release, Manager Murray is seeking another backstop, also two extra pitchers, and will land good ones, as he knows just where to find them.

AUTOING.

Assemblyman Randolph Perkins, of Westfield, who ordered a 1906 Thomas flyer from the Autovehicle Company, has received his new car and is often seen in it when relief from his arduous duties at Trenton permits. Were the roads in firstclass condition he would use the car to carry him back and forth between Trenton and his home. Ward L. Ferguson, of this city, is another Thomas car user who has just received his new machine.

Really the world must be getting better. This must be so when Jack O'Neil was taken for a minister up in the Bronx one day last week.

ANNUAL TENNIS TOURNEY

East New Jersey Lawn Tennis Association Issues Programme.

ONE LOCAL CONTEST

Championship in Men's Doubles and Women's Singles to Take Place on Country Club Courts.

The East Jersey Lawn Tennis Association, of which the Plainfield Country Club is a member, has just issued its announcement of tournaments for the coming season, decided upon at a meeting of the executive committee held recently.

The men's doubles championship and the women's singles championship, the first of the tournaments arranged, will be played at the Plainfield Country Club on Saturday, May 26; Wednesday, May 30, Memorial Day, and Saturday, June 2. This will be one of the chief attractions of the season in tennis in this part of the State and will bring together many crack players.

The mixed doubles championship will be held at the Ilderan Outing Club, Rahway, Saturdays, June 16 and 23, and the men's singles championship will be played at the Elizabeth Town and Country Club Saturday, June 30, and Wednesday, July 4.

Circulars giving details regarding these tournaments will be issued a little later. In addition to the four association championship tournaments, the open tournament of the association for the East Jersey challenge cup will be held at the Elizabeth Town and Country Club on August 28 to September 3, Labor Day.

Individual prizes will be awarded in each of the association championship tournaments, and the club championship trophy, now held by the Bergen Point Lawn Tennis Club, will be competed for under the same conditions as last year, namely, first place to count five points and second place two points, the club winning the greatest number of points to hold the cup for one year, the cup to become the permanent property of the club winning it three times, not necessarily in succession.

DIAMOND DUST.

One of the best moves made so far this season by Manager Daab is signing the ex-rebel Mr. George Mallen. For five years this popular Westfield idol has been a thorn in the side of every Plainfield baseball crank, but this season conditions will be reversed. Instead of jeers and the time-honored battle yell of "Hot Air" Mr. Mallen will no doubt receive cheers as lusty as ever accorded a player who wore a Plainfield uniform.

Nearly everybody is overjoyed over the action of Manager Daab in signing the former Westfield captain and there is every reason to believe that he will be a tower of strength to the team. In fielding he is as fast as any going and in stick action he will hold his own with any of them, including the two year olds and yearlings.

Mallen is aggressive, therefore naturally scrappy, just the makeup a good ball player should possess. Come down to fine points it was mostly jealousy that caused the rough feeling against Mr. Mallen, but since the reconstruction period this has about all disappeared.

In the game against the Loughlin Lyceums Sunday Mallen's ginger went a good way in winning the game in the bleak surroundings. The "old boss" pushed four runs across the plate, pretty good work for an old "vet" on a cold day.

So on May 5 let every loyal crank rise up and say "Welcome George." "Soak it out and bang the stiff."

WELCOMED TO CITY BY BOROUGH MAYOR

"SKEETERS" GUESTS OF MR. SMALLEY AT THE PLAINFIELD THEATRE.

H. Eugene McCann, Vandergriff, Merritt, Mack, Kiester and Holmes comprised the advanced guard of the Jersey City Eastern League club that arrived at the Hotel Iroquois, last night, and this morning, Pfanmiller, the pitcher, came to town. Manager Murray, Captain Bean, Halligan, Clements and a lot of youngsters will arrive this afternoon.

Last night the players were the guests of Mayor Newton B. Smalley at the New Plainfield theatre, where they witnessed the production of "The Irish Pawnbrokers." Later they visited "Warry" MacLaughlin's bowling alleys, where they gave their arms a little exercise.

Bright and early this morning the "Skeeters" donned their uniforms and engaged in their first practice at Crescent Oval. The time was given up to general fielding and batting. The players are in fine condition and believe that in a few days will be able to get down to hard work. They are much pleased with the grounds and are looking forward to lots of good practice. Following the morning work the men ran all the way from the grounds to the hotel, when they were ready for a hearty dinner. Practice will be continued every morning and afternoon, except Sunday, and it is expected that big crowds will visit the oval to watch the leaguers. They are a gentlemanly lot of men and have already made friends since coming to town.

CLINTON AVENUE BALL TEAM TURNED DOWN.

Local Organization Refused Admission to Union County League.

The Union County Baseball League in process of formation, decided at a meeting held in Elizabeth, last night, to drop the Clinton Avenue Club, of this city, and the Rahway team, from the league, is being the opinion of those present that Plainfield and Rahway was too far away to make the trips profitable. The plan to select teams in and near Elizabeth was adopted.

The league will be comprised of eight teams and all but one, the Garwood Imperials, are from Elizabeth. The teams: Y. M. C. A. Morey-La-Rue, Bushtown, Weston, Bethany, Bayside and Turn Verein, of Elizabeth, and Imperials, of Garwood. Mahlon Morey was elected president of the league, and Francis K. Anderson secretary. A schedule will be announced soon.

BOWLING LEAGUE CUP HAS BEEN ORDERED.

Promoters Have Done Their Whole Part In the Organization.

The promoters of the bowling league gave out an official statement this morning regarding the cup over which the Suburban team, the sure winners, are said to have been worrying.

"The cup has been ordered," said the league spokesman, the man who conceived and organized the body, "and it will be presented to the winners at the end of the season. The season has not closed yet, and no club has any right to raise any question of the trophy's delivery at this stage.

"What trouble there may be within the league," he continued, "is not the fault of the promoters, and is not to be traced to them. They have done their part, and will continue to do so."

DIAMOND DUST.

"Mike" Rotchford and other Westfield players have unpleasant recollections of Mt. Ararat last season. "Mike" said Sunday that quite some "coin" was coming to him and others. It will probably be coming for some time yet unless the fence is sold.

What is the status of Charlie Denman this season? He says they have an association in Westfield but they don't associate.

Manager Daab three years ago had an acrobat by the name of Sweeney who played third base. According to Mr. Daab's story this same Sweeney nearly set the natives in Trenton delirious one day when the Hobokens were playing a game down in Mercer county. The score was 1 to 0 in favor of Trenton in the ninth inning. Sweeney was on second base when Bill Tierney came to the plate and slammed the ball over the fence for a home run. Sweeney seeing the ball go over the fence started home from second base doing the handspring stunt and the Trentonians looked on and gasped with astonishment. This is a true uncolored yarn, if you do not believe it, ask Manager Daab some day.

—Jed Smalley, of the borough, who has been in Muhlenberg Hospital for the treatment of an injured knee, was discharged yesterday. He is able to get about with the aid of crutches.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

Commencing July 1 next and continuing for six months the Sabbath-school session of the Seventh-Day Baptist church will be held at 12 o'clock noon on Saturday, following the morning preaching service.

At the meeting of the Ladies' Christian Work Society of Trinity Reformed church yesterday afternoon, the disposition of missionary money was made. The missionary collection, $68.01, was equally divided between the two boards of missions, foreign and domestic. A special gift of $20 to Amoy, China, was donated, and $5 each to Arabia, from two members, making $30 in all. The mite boxes collection, amounting to $40, was given as a special gift to Arabia.

TO MARK SITE WHERE PLAINFIELDERS FOUGHT.

Jersey Monument for Monocacy, Md., Battlefield.

The Assembly this week passed Senator Brown's bill, which authorizes the erection of a monument on the battlefield at Monocacy, Md., to commemorate the valiant services which the Fourteenth New Jersey Volunteers rendered their country in that fight.

The achievements of this regiment in that memorable fight is one of history, and Plainfield furnished fourteen volunteers in the gallant old Fourteenth N. J. Vols. They joined Co. C, of Elizabeth. At the close of the battle the loss was heavy. These Plainfielders are left: Edward P. Thorn, William N. Pangborn, William B. Ayers, James K. Giles, Russel C. Johnson, Jacob Naylor and Christopher D. Pope. The departed members are James H. Dewey, Charles H. King, David S. Pangborn, Alonzo C. Townley, William W. Wolfe, John A. Waldron and Oliver D. Runyon.

HIGHER PAY FOR PUBLIC SERVICE MEN.

A New Wage Schedule Issued Took Effect Yesterday.

Dudley Farrand, general manager of the electric light division of the Public Service Corporation, has issued a new wage schedule, which took effect yesterday, the actin being taken in accordance with an agreement made between the corporation and its powerhouse employes.

The schedule provides for a raise of ten cents a day for all firemen in the plants of the Public Service. They will now receive $2.35 a day instead of $2.25. They demanded $2.43 a day.

J. J. DOLLIVER DEAD.

South Branch Man, Known Here, Succumbs to Long Illness.

G. O. Dolliver, of Fairview avenue, and J. L. Dolliver, of East Fifth street, received word yesterday that their brother, Joseph J. Dolliver, of South Branch, was dead. He succumbed to a long illness. The funeral will be held tomorrow.

The dead man was known in this city and the borough. He visited here at frequent intervals. He was sixty-five years old, and is survived by several sisters and brothers. One of the latter, P. Q. Dolliver, lives in Piscataway near New Market.

A Farewell Reception.

The members of Eugene O'Reilly's dancing class tendered him a farewell reception in I. C. T. Hall last night. It was attended by a large gathering of young people, who enjoyed dancing until after midnight. Mr. and Mrs. O'Reilly leave this week for Union, where the former is to assume the proprietorship of the Old Meeker Inn.

NO POWER OVER BROOK

Freeholders Can't Take Action on Widening and Deepening.

STATEMENT BY WILBUR

Property Owners Control Stream, He Says, and Municipalities Will Have to Act, Not the Two Boards.

From a statement made by Freeholder Samuel P. T. Wilbur this morning, it appears that Councilman Gloak's plan for joint action on the widening, deepening and cleaning of Greenbrook, to prevent overflow to the street, by the Freeholders of Somerset and Union counties falls flat. Mr. Gloak broached his plan at the Council meeting Monday night. Mr. Wilbur said today that the Union county board had no authority over the brook in this city, and the conditions are supposed to be the same for the Somreset lawmakers.

Mr. Gloak said Monday night that he believed the freeholders should assume the burden of the brook improvement, because "the brook was county property, and much of the trouble to the city came from that section over which the city government had no control."

Mr. Wilbur stated this morning that the abutting property owners, and not the freeholders, controlled the brook. That the property owners hold the brook rights to its center line. That being so, improvements must be made by the city and borough. Steps probably will be taken by the municipalities to do the work as soon as the freeholders' lack of power is officially made known to them.

That some action is necessary along the brook is not debated. The overflow from the stream after heavy rains does a lot of damage, and creates more annoyance that any other like condition in the city. It is believed that the widening, deepening and cleaning of the stream from Farragut road to Scotch Plains will obviate the trouble.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR SOCIETY'S ANNUAL.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the First Presbyterian church held its annual meeting last night. Splendid reports were received. The society increased its membership by fifteen during the year, reaching a total of forty, and there is a comfortable balance in both the missionary and general funds, and all current expenses have been paid. The society collected and disbursed $60 for missionary purposes.

The officers elected are as follows: President, Fred C. Lounsbury; vice-president, Mrs. E. W. Poinier; recording secretary, Stanley Karner; corresponding secretary, Miss Mabel M. Conover; treasurer, George A. Ballantine.

Mrs. Bodine is superintendent of the Junior Society and her assistant is Mrs. B. G. A. Bodine.

The committees:

Missionary—Miss Leah A. Hammond, chairman; the Rev. C. E. Herring, Miss Mabel Conover, Mrs. C. M. Hummer, Mrs. G. A. Ballantine and G. A. Ballantine.

Prayer Meeting—Mrs. John S. Johnston, chairman; the Misses Ricker, Lizzie Wilcox, Miriam Wilcox, Ethel Boice and John S. Johnston.

Social and Music—Miss Beatrice Miner, chairman; the Misses Helen A. Burroughs, Winifred B. Hammond, Cornelia Lounsbury, Rita Meeker, Arthur Denning and Stanley Karner.

Lookout—Wilbur Dunning, chairman; T. Edward Burroughs, E. W. Poinier, A. V. Searing, Jr., Ogden E. Meeker, Mrs. Ogden Meeker, Mrs. E. W. Poinier and Miss Bertha Wilcox.

Flower and Visiting—Miss Marion A. Englehardt, chairman; the Misses Sarah Hopewell, Bertha Hill, Sue Farland, Emma Korff, Mamie Mehl and Anna Hopewell.

Death of Young Son.

Joseph Long, the three-year-old son of Mrs. Anthony Long, of North avenue, whose husband was killed at the Westfield crossing of the New Jersey Central a year ago, died yesterday afternoon. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock and interment will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

MISAPPROPRIATED EMPLOYER'S MONEY

JAMES M'ELHANEY CHARGED WITH EMBEZZLING COLLECTIONS.

Constable John Manley went to South Amboy this morning to get Joseph McElhaney, collector for Meyer Leichtentritt, a clothier, on a charge of embezzling money belonging to his employer. McElhaney was arrested in South Amboy yesterday for drunkenness, and the police there are holding him for Manley in response to a request from Justice Hand, before whom the warrant for his arrest was sworn out.

McElhaney is a young man and his home is in this city. He disappeared with collections in his possession, it is claimed, several days ago. Mr. Leichtentritt didn't know where he was until he heard of his arrest in South Amboy yesterday. Arrangements were made at once to have him arrested. It is claimed that he went on a drunk and scattered Leichtentritt's money about as well as his own.

It was said at the justice's office this morning that McElhaney had been arrested several months ago on the same charge. At that time, it is alleged, he was released out of pity on his promise to do better, and given another chance.

DEACONESS' WORK TOLD INTERESTINGLY

The Women's Home Missionary Society of the First M. E. church held its monthly meeting at the home of the treasurer, Mrs. James W. Jackson, of Crescent avenue, yesterday afternoon. The president, Mrs. Erastus Clark, Jr., was in the chair, and introduced the Misses Ellen and Martha Tompkinson, preceptresses in the Lucy Webb Hayes National Training School, Washington. The object of the visit was to give the society information regarding the deaconess work to which these women have consecrated their lives. The subject of the first talk by Miss Ellen Tompkinson was "The Preparation Required and the Field of Labor."

The speaker recommended a visit to Ellis Island, where the members might behold the material from which many of the citizens of the United States will be made. "They will not always prove attractive," continued the speaker; "indeed, some almost seem animal, and if we are to prevent anarchy and the desecration of the Sabbath we must come in close touch with these people. In the kindergarten we see the deaconess teaching these foreign children the flag drill, and they become familiar and learn to love the flag of our country in this way. Older children reading the lessons of history are taught to speak of our country's achievements and the victory of our troops."

The society has established schools in Washington, Kansas, Michigan and California, from which are graduated young women of refinement and education. Only the most competent are selected and they devote their energies, comprising teaching in the kindergartens, nurses, pastors' assistants in mission work and field deaconesses.

Miss Martha Tompkinson, the next speaker, referred to the work in the Philippines and of the training schools in the Philippines, Porto Rico and Haiwaii, where many persons are preparing and engaged in this branch of work and learning the Spanish language. Following the addresses there was a social hour.

CHURCH PAPER'S PROTEST.

The Messenger, the monthly publication of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, has the following to say regarding a matter of general interest:

"A notice is being published that an application has been made to sell liquors on North avenue, near the depot, a most disastrous location, in view of the number of men who will pass such a saloon on their way home from the trains. We believe we are speaking the sentiments of our people when we protest against the granting of such a license. But this protest cannot accomplish much standing by itself. Let those who read it immediately sit down and write personally to their representative in the Council, asking that this temptation be not permitted to face our young men as they arrive in their home city."

THE SCREENS TO STAY

The State Senate at Trenton spent most of the day yesterday discussing the Bishops' bill. The original measure (Senate 136) was taken up on second reading soon after the opening of the morning session. Senator Avis spoke of the bill as it went to the Committee on Miscellaneous Business. He said the amendments were proposed in good faith by the committee, and that No. 136 was also reported in its entirety, and that it was for the Senate to choose that which it deemed the better. He referred to the resolution adopted by the interdenominational conference in Trenton yesterday.

Senator Hillery paid a high tribute to Senator Avis, and said that there was no influence of any sort, liquor interests or any other, brought to bear upon the committee, which could not be influenced to do any but what it deemed its duty. He said that moral tone must be back of all liquor laws.

Senator Wakelee asked that press and Church be fair in their criticisms, and that the amendments had been merely proposed and had not even the recommendation of the committee.

Senator Hutchinson, who introduced No. 1,136, spoke in advocacy of the original bill. He told of the conference that drew the bill, saying that it was composed of the most eminent men of the State, who met to draw this bill without reference to creed, politics or their station in life. He said that the amendments utterly misapprehended the sentiment of the people upon the bill as originally introduced.

The first amendment, permitting liquor in quantities less than a quart to be taken away from the premises where sold, was adopted.

When the second amendment came up, making the owner of the property liable for the conduct of the place licensed and making him a joint applicant for the license, Senators Lee and McKee were of the opinion that the "liability clause" would complicate license applications and place a tenant at the mercy of his landlord. Senator Lee said that the clause could be easily evaded by the saloonkeepers becoming the ostensible owner, with a mortgage held by the real owner. Senator Minturn spoke in behalf of the clause in the original bill in the interests of morality and decency. The amendment was adopted by a vote of 9 to 8.

Amendment No. 3, making the minimum fee $300, was carried by a vote of 11 to 8.

During the debate on this amendment, these fee payments for liquor licenses were shown: Plainfield, $1,000; Trenton, $350; New Brunswick, $350; Englewood, $500, and Egg Harbor City, $100.

Amendment No. 4 was adopted as read. It applies to wholesale licenses in the same manner as No. 2 does to retail. The vote was reconsidered and the ayes and noes called, with this result: Ayes, 11; noes, 6.

Amendment No. 5, same as No. 3, but referring to wholesale places, was lost by a vote of 11 to 6.

Amendment oN. 6, providing for revocation of license for the sale of liquor to minors under any circumstances, was adopted. Amendments 7, 8 and 9, pertaining to No. 6, were also adopted. Amendment No. 10, penalizing a licensed place for four months instead of a year, was lost.

Amendment No. 11, licensing barrooms and two rooms adjoining the barooms, open at all times to the barrooms, also permitting courts or excise boards to order all screens to be taken down, was pending when the Senate adjourned at 2 until 3 p. m. Senator McKee offered an amendment to this amendment exempting bowling alleys, recreation and picnic grounds from its provisions. This was adopted. One concerning the words "interior view" to strengthen the clause No. 11, as he stated, was lost. Senator Horner offered an amendment for the measurement of the 200-foot restriction from church, school or armory to be along or across the street line instead of across the block. This was lost.

At the afternoon session Senator Lee moved to reconsider the motion by which Amendment No. 10 had been lost. The motion was defeated.

Senator Hutchinson opposed Amendment No. 11. He thought the provisions of the original bill were much better. The amendment destroyed the effect of the Bishops' bill. He believed there was no more

BOULDER HITS ITALIAN AT STONE QUARRY

VICTIM TAKEN TO HOSPITAL—HAS A CHANCE OF RECOVERY.

Refusing to heed repeated warnings to leave the dangerous position in which he was working at Smalley Brothers' stone quarry in the valley, yesterday afternoon, James Elizabeth, an Italian, was struck on the head by a boulder which was loosened by a blast, receiving a fracture of the skull and general contusions. The man was taken to Muhlenberg Hospital, where it was reported this morning that he would recover.

Elizabeth, who is fifty-three years old and married, has been one of the trusted employes at the quarry, having charge of placing the dynamite for the blasts. There were several blasts yesterday and after one of the explosions Elizabeth started in to work with a pick. Mayor Smalley noticed the man and several times warned him about getting too close to the loose stone. He thought he was safe nad paid no attention. When the boulder fell, striking Elizabeth on the head, it knocked him down. When fellow-workmen rushed to his assistance he was in an unconscious condition. By the time he reached the hospital he regained his senses. At the hospital it was said that the man would recover.

PASSION SERVICE AT HOLY CROSS CHURCH

REV. MR. WARNER'S ANNOUNCEMENET FOR GOOD FRIDAY'S OBSERVANCE.

Preparations have been completed for the Good Friday services at the Church of the Holy Cross. In addition to the regular services at 9:30 o'clock in the morning and 7:45 at night, there will be the special service from 12 o'clock noon to 3 o'clock in the afternoon, in commemoration of "The Three Hours' Agony of Our Most Holy Redeemer Upon the Cross." The full chair will assist at this service.

A special service leaflet published in London will be distributed through the church for use of the congregation. The leaflet contains familiar hymns, responses, prayers and Good Friday litany.

The service is so arranged that at proper intervals between the prayers and familiar hymns, each in turn of the seven words spoken from the cross will be considered and a brief address made by the rector who will take up devotional and practical lessons of the seven last words spoken by Christ.

AFTER ROOKERIES.

Following up its work of clearing the town of rookeries and unsanitary dwellings, Health Officer Leon R. Thurlow has made a complaint against the building at 507 West Third street, which is owned by Emeline Ruggles. He declares it has been unfit for human habitation since February 10, because of uncleanliness.

Mr. Thurlow says in his complaint that the ceilings are unclean and the floors filthy. The sidewalls and furniture are also dirty. He makes further grounds for complaint.

Mr. Thurlow asks that action be taken by fixing a time and place when and where evidence may be heard. The board fixed Tuesday afternoon, April 17, at 4 o'clock, as the time, when a hearing will be given on the complaint.

THE YALE CLUB DINNER.

The Yale Club's annual banquet will be held at the Casino on Saturday night, April 21, at 7:30 o'clock. All Yale men of Union and Somerset counties, and in fact all sons of old Eli, are invited to join in the affair.

City Judge William N. Runyon will be the toastmaster and the speakers will be Prof. Charloton Lewis, representing Yale; D. W. Richards, representing the Essex County Alumni Association, and other good Yale men. T. M. Day is president of the Yale Club, and Lewis A. Williams the secretary.

Sues P. S. C. for $5,000.

Michael Gallagher has brought suit against the P. S. C. in the Supreme Court for $5,000. He seeks compensation for injuries sustained on November 15, when, he claims, a trolley car hit his truck. The case is set down for April 24 before Justice Fort. W. L. Hetfield, Jr., is the plaintiff's lawyer.

—The olive oil sold by Neuman Brothers is imported by them direct from France. They guarantee the quality to be the very best.

End Came Last Night, Death Being Due to a Brain Tumor.

John P. D. Kirch, at one time one of the best known practicing lawyers in the city, died at his home on Duer street at 10 o'clock last night. He had been a great sufferer for nearly a year with a brain tumor and had been confined to his bed since August.

Mr. Kirch was born at Mount Bethel thirty-eight years ago and had lived in this vicinity all his life. He adopted law as his profession and after being admitted to the bar practiced until five years ago. He was a member of several local fraternal organizations and was widely acquainted both in Union and Somerset counties. He is survived by a widow, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kirch, of Duer street, and one sister, Miss Lizzie Kirch.

The funeral will be held from his late home Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and interment will be at Hillside.

MACCABEE TEAM HERE.

Twenty-Two Carteret Members Come to Institute New Camp.

The degree team of the Carteret Camp of the Order of Maccabees, which is to institute the new camp in this city tonight, arrived in town this morning, twenty-two strong. They were met at the depot by Grand Commander A. W. Frye, of Newark, who is overseeing the formation and launching of the new camp. He took them to the Iroquois, where they will be entertained. During the afternoon prospective members of the camp will take the team about the city and show them the sights. It is hoped to make them feel so mellow that they will be moved to treat the novices gently and with patience tonight.

The institution will take place at Jr. O. U. A. M. Hall. A collation and a social time will follow it.

Miss Susan Guyre Engaged.

The engagement of Miss Susan Guyre, of Dunellen, to Joseph Edward Little is announced. The wedding is set for the evening of Wednesday, April 18, at 8:30 o'clock. Miss Guyre is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Ferdinand Guyre.

Lenten Musical.

A Lenten musical service will be held at the First Baptist church on Thursday night, April 12, when the choir will sing the cantata, "The Seven Last Words," by DuBois. The Schell string quartette, of Newark, will assist.

GETTING READY TO ABANDON GAS-MAKING HERE

Supply Pipe to Bring Illuminant From Camden Works Is Being Laid.

LINE COMPLETE BY FALL

P. S. C. Starts First Step On Plan to Concentrate Gas Manufacture In New Jersey—Three Works.

With the successful sinking of pipe across the bed of the Delaware and Raritan Canal at New Brunswick, the first step, and the most difficult one, in the construction of the new ten-inch feed line through which the big Camden works of the P. S. C. is to furnish gas to all the towns, cities and villages in this section of the State, as well as that about it, has just been taken. From now on the work will be pushed with all rapidity to completion.

Construction has been started in both directions from the canal. The line will be laid toward Plainfield and Trenton simultaneously. A high officials of the gas department of the P. S. C. told a Daily Press reporter yesterday that the work would be completed by October 1. As soon as it is, the Plainfield gas plant will go out of business as a manufacturing point.

But while no gas will be made here, the plant will be maintained as a storage center and an emergency station. The big gas holders will be kept charged and the plant will always be in readiness to assume the burden of supplying the surrounding districts with illuminant the instant a break in the service from Camden shall occur. Within a year, it is believed, another holder will be erected.

Little difference in the size of the force employed at the local plant will result from the abandonment of manufacture. There are about forty-five men on the payroll now, but comparatively few of them are employed in the actual making of gas. Most of them are engaged on outside work, and pretty much the same force will be required after the change. Perhaps three or four, maybe five, men will be dropped.

The laying of the pipe across the canal, which marked not only the beginning of this particular change, but the first real step in the execution of a great plan for the centralization of gasmaking in New Jersey, was an interesting bit of work. It was at first thought that the construction of a cofer dam would be necessary, but the engineer in charge figured out a simpler method than that. Beginning work before the full flow of water entered the canal, the men trenched approaches to the waterway and floated the pipe out across it. The pipes were then filled with water and sunk. They were allowed to bed themselves in the silt and mud and then the water was driven out of them. After that the construction gang was ready to begin working back from both banks. Pipes are now being laid through New Brunswick toward Trenton.

When the line is complete the Camden works will furnish gas for every consumer between that city and New Brunswick and between Plainfield and Raritan, and the adjacent districts. That will be the establishment of the first of a trio of works in which the service of the whole State is to be centered. It is stated on the authority o fthe high official mentioned above that the P. S. C. has definitely planned, and is steadily working to bring about, the concentration of gasmaking in three such plants.

"The time is coming, and it is not far off," said this official yesterday, "when the whole State will be supplied from three big works."

"And they will be?"

"This one at Camden, another at Newark, and one at Jersey City. That has been decided upon."

"Reduction in operating expenses is the aim back of the plan?"

"Of course. Centralization of manufacture means a maximum of product and of service with a minimum of cost."

PUBLIC LIBRARY RECEIVES SOME GIFTS

I. HERBERT CASE PRESENTS PLAINFIELD BANK BILL OF 1861.

The board of directors of the Plainfield Public Library, in regular session last night, received a gift of an old $5 bill of the Union County Bank of Plainfield dated November 14, 1861, from J. Herbert Case, and a copy of the Philadelphia North American's almanac for the year 1776 from W. L. Gavett. On motion the thanks of the board were extended to Mr. Case and Mr. Gavett.

The president reported that he had filed with the city clerk the resolution of the board to the Common Council for the tax moneys required for the library for the coming year. The library committee reported the purchase of twenty-three volumes of the quarterly review, 113 Blackwood's Edinburgh Review and twenty-five volumes of the Library of Technology.

ONLY 3 MARRIAGES ALL LAST MONTH

HEALTH OFFICER SAYS "23." WHEN ASKED THE NUMBER OF BIRTHS.

The reports presented at the April meeting of the Board of Health yesterday, shows that the health of Plainfield is good, there being but few cases of contagious disease. At present there are four houses under quarantine.

These permits were granted: To sell milk—William S. Crook, 664 South avenue, and Soloman Mann, 919 West Third street, both store; to collect garbage—Mrs. Noah Terry; to carry on business of scavenger—Joseph F. Burke. The plumbing bond of James Harper was filed.

Considerable work was accomplished during the month on dairy inspection and milk analysis. Sixty dairies were inspected and thirty-seven samples of milk analyzed.

There were three marriages during March, twenty-three births, three still-births and twenty deaths. Of the number of deaths eight were over the age of sixty years.

During the past month the annual report of the board was published and distributed throughout the city. Accompanying the report was a circular giving information for consumptives and those living with them.

GRACE M. E. WOMEN HOLD ANNUAL SESSION.

Mrs. John Valiant Chosen President of Ladies' Aid Society.

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of Grace M. E. church was held yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The annual report presented by the treasurer, Mrs. Anna Most, showed that the society has raised $517.41 during the year, and after paying a debt and for repairs on parsonage there is a balance of $96.32 on hand.

The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. John Valiant; first vice-president, Mrs. Edmund P. Stevens; second vice-president, Mrs. Charles Lippincott; secretary, Mrs. George C. Nelson; treasurer, Mrs. Anna Most. After the business meeting and election of officers a social hour was spent. Refreshments were served at the close.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The result of the raid made by the Westfield police and county officers at the Manhattan Hotel, Graceland, on Saturday night, should place Judge Vail in a position to know just what to do when an application for a renewal of the license is asked for in May. This prize fight is only one of the many nuisances the residents in that end of the township have had to contend with for several years past, but remonstrances seem to do no good. The residents brought their troubles before the Township Committee, but they are practically powerless as the license is granted by the court, and this section is too far removed from the town to receive any benefit from the local police department.

Robert Whittaker and his famous trick horse, "Dahl," of Plainfield, were in the 'Plains on an exercise jaunt yesterday afternoon and incidentally entertained a gathering attracted at first by the equine's almost human actions.

Joe Alberts, who is covering right field for the Loughlins, of Brooklyn, managed to get in one of the seven base hits secured off "Red" Waller in the opening game of the season with the Hoboken team on Sunday.

Township Committeeman Theodore Bruchmann has started the annual spring work of repairing Front street, filling in the holes and bad spots in the roadway with crushed stone.

The reception and dance held by the Arion Club, of Plainfield, in Co. K armory, last night, was enjoyed by quite a number of the club's friends from here.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Dean, of Summit, have been visiting Mrs. Dean's mother, Mrs. Charles M. Mooney, of the valley road.

William S. Rapp and son, Frank Rapp, expect to return to Albany, their former home, about April 15.

Corporation Notice.

Sewer Assessments.

Second Notice.

The subscriber, the Collector of Taxes of the City of Plainfield, hereby gives notice pursuant to section 25 of the act of the Legislature entitled, "An Act to provide for drainage and sewerage in cities of this State," Approved April 7th, 1890, and the amendments thereof and supplements thereto, that unless the assessments hereinafter specified, with interest thereon at the rate of one per centum per month, and all costs and fees shall be paid to the subscriber, at his office, No. 151 North avenue, Plainfield, N. J., within thirty days after the first publication ofthis (being the second) notice, the subscriber will, on Monday, the sixteenth day of April, 1906, at his said office, No. 151 North avenue, in the City of Plainfield, New Jersey, between the hours of one and five o'clock in the afternoon, that is to say, at two o'clock in the afternoon of that day, proceed to make sale of and to sell at public auction, the several parcels of land and real estate upon which the said assessments shall remain due and unpaid, being those hereinafter particularly described, for the lowest term of years, but in no case exceeding fifty years, for which any person will take the same and pay the amount of such assessment, with the interest thereon as aforesaid, and all costs and fees, including the expense of advertisement and sale. The assessments above referred to are the assessments made by Robert A. Meeker, John W. Murray, Jr., and Samuel P. T. Wilbur, the Commissioners of Assessments of the City of Plainfield heretofore appointed under the ordinance entitled "An Ordinance to provide for the appointment of Commissioners of Assessments to assess damages and benefits under and by virtue of the act entitled 'An Act to provide for drainage and sewerage in cities of this State,' approved April 7, 1890, and acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto," approved February 8th, 1905, as ratified and confirmed by the Common Council of said city September fifth, 1905, containing the assessments of damages and benefits or expenses, as the case may be, for the making and constructing of sewers and appurtenances (including house connections), under and by virtue of the act of the Legislature entitled "An Act to provide for drainage and sewerage in cities of this State," approved April 7th, 1890, and acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto, and ordinances and other proceedings of the Common Council had under said acts of the Legislature, said report and assessments covering the whole of said system of sewerage and appurtenances already completed (not covered by assessments heretofore made) and particularly in and through the following named streets and parts of streets, to wit:

Hahne & Co.

"THE GREAT STATE STORE"
Broad, New and Halsey Streets, Newark, N. J.

Store Closes at 6 Evenings Except Saturday

Handsome Suits for Easter and After

Our great Garment Store is crowded with beautiful Springtime Suits and Gowns of every sort. No store in Newark, and none in New York, shows a greater variety, and, since quality and price are always to be depended upon here, the question of selection can be easily decided It is certainly most pleasing to choose from a stock embracing practically every good model that the makers have produced, a stock containing not only all the popular and staple styles, but many exclusive things to be found in no other store—more exclusive things, in fact, than will be found in all other Newark stores combined.

Here you have not only popular priced suits, but the finest sorts of dresses to choose from. There ought to be no hesitancy on the part of any woman within reach of the store in choosing Springtime gowns from this stock; there ought to be no excuse for passing Newark by and going to New York, where prices are almost invariably higher for equal qualities.

WOMEN'S SUITS—In a most attractive model; made of beautiful new gray all-wool plaids and mixtures, with Eton coats, having elbow sleeves beautifully trimmed; with skirts in circular shape with cluster of plaits and two bands around the bottom; suits that most stores would mark at $15 from $16.50 to $18.50; sold here at..... $10

WOMEN'S WALKING SKIRTS—In a variety of plaited styles of Broadcloth, Cheviot and Fancy Mixtures; a lot including values up to $6.50; many styles to choose from, special price $3

WOMEN'S TAILOR-MADE COATS—Of Covert, Broadcloth, Cheviot, Silk and Fancy Mixtures, in tight-fitting, semi-fitting, Eton and box effects; also long tourist coats; special prices:

$5.75, $6.98, $9.98, and $12.50.

WOMEN'S VOILE SUITS—In all the latest shades, including gray, old rose, Alice blue, reseda and navy; coats trimmed with fancy embroidery, lace and braid; skirts in circular style with plaits, silk lined; regular value $39.50; our price $29.50

WOMEN'S PANAMA SUITS—Four new models, made with handsome Eton jackets; charmingly trimmed with braid, lace or tailor straps, with circular, circular-gored and Princess skirt effects, with cluster plaits, straps and bands employed in various ways; in Alice blue, gray, old rose and reseda, at these very low prices:

$16.50. $18.50, $19.50, $22.50.

WOMEN'S WALKING SKIRTS—Of Voile, Panama and Fancy Mixtures in new circular plaited effects, in white, gray, reseda and helio; regular values up to $9.50; specially priced at only... $4

NEW SUNBURST SKIRTS—Made of various attractive materials and sold at very popular prices.

Sunburst Skirts of Black Taffeta, $12.50.

April Sale of Hosiery

The Hosiery we offer in this sale is the product of the best German makers. There are no job lots, samples, soiled, mis-shapen or imperfect hose in the entire lot. Instead, we present new and staple stockings, all first quality, in a complete range of sizes, so that all who come may get exactly what they want, and be satisfied with their purchase after it is made.

ON SALE TOMORROW AND ALL THIS WEEK.

Usually sales of hosiery are made up of odd lots in the least desirable sizes and worse colors, and, in a day's selling the lots offered are rifled of all the good things that were in them.

In this sale you will find the staple blacks, the good colors, and the best of fancies, and there will be all the sizes you usually find in a well regulated hosiery stock.

There should be no disappointment—and there will be none if well laid plans and wisely bought stocks can prevent them.

Group 1—Imported Stockings of fine cottons in various styles of striped effects, plain grounds, fancy figures, as well as fast black lisles in Richelieu and Rembrandt ribbed styles; double heels, toes and soles; 25c to 50c grades..... 19

Group 2—Imported High Grade Stockings of fine Lisles and Cottons with silk embroidered insteps, a grand variety of designs and effects; this is a sensational offer; regular 50c grades 29

Group 3—High Grade Imported Lace Stockings, all the finer qualities of the best German makers; fast blacks only, in fine Lisles and Cottons; various styles; regular 75c to $1.09..... 50

Plainfield, N. J., April 4, 1906.

While it is not all that might be desired, the "bishops' bill" as amended in the Senate, will prove satisfactory to the great majority of Jerseymen who have the public welfare at heart. The lawmakers have turned down the proposition to remove all screens from saloons, but, on the other hand, they have stamped their approval on the proposition to do away with the notorious "side room." This in itself is a great victory for morality, and every Senator who cast his vote in favor of the amendment deserves the commendation of his constituents.

Since the announcement that the conservative Democratic Club, of New York, is planning to hold a monster demonstration in his honor when William Jennings Bryan returns from the East, there is one man in Plainfield who is chock full of joy. It is not hard to guess that the individual in question is James E. Martine, the personal and political friend of the Nebraska statesman, who has been steadfast in his devotion to the political principles of the radical leader. Mr. Martine still believes that Mr. Bryan will some day be the boss at the White House.

When he declared before his fellow councilmen on Monday night that the question of establishing a municipal water supply plant is a very big one, Councilman Tyler made a statement that will not be disputed by any one at all familiar with the subject of municipal ownership. Probably there are reasons why the proposition would not prove so great an undertaking as in less favored cities, for the source of supply is comparatively easy to reach and the cost of obtaining the water would not be so great. It will also occur to any fair-minded man and right-thinking man that the aggressive member from the Third ward was correct in stating that the first step to be taken, namely, to obtain the consent of the people to make an investigation of the proposition, is not a very grave matter. It should be understood in the first place that before the Common Council can expend any money in conducting an investigation of the feasibility and desirability of public ownership of the water supply, the voters must order it to be done. The result of the election would not affect the city in any manner, save that it would permit the use of an appropriation to defray the expense of collecting necessary data. Not until the city fathers obtain the facts and figures can there be any intelligent discussion of the proposition. Consequently the final move, an election on the question to buy or erect a plant, can not be made until the Common Council has completed its investigation. It will be conceded, therefore, that postponing the matter until fall will be of no material benefit. Why, therefore, any delay?

Adopted Resolutions of Sorrow.

At the regular rehearsal of the Y. M. C. A. orchestra, Monday night, the members were formally apprised of the death of Curtis E. Adams, who had been connected with the organization. Resolutions of sorrow were adopted and R. W. Barnes was appointed a committee of one to convey the sentiments expressed to his bereaved sister, Mrs. John Dunn.

Sergeant Overland Quits Army.

Richard Overland, sergeant in the U. S. cavalry, has returned to his home in this city to resume civilian life. Sergeant Overland enlisted three years ago. He was stationed for some time at the post at West Point, and came home frequently. Latterly he was stationed at a Vermont fort. His term of enlistment expired last week.

Mrs. James F. Brown, of East Sixth street, has gone to New York to visit friends.

MEN'S CLUB HEARS INTERESTING SYMPOSIUM

FOUR TOPICS OF CURRENT INTEREST DISCUSSED BY MEMBERS.

A symposium on current topics was the feature of the monthly meeting of the Men's Club of the Congregational church last night. The programme was much enjoyed by the good-sized gathering of members.

Talks were given on "The Metric System" by J. E. Morse; on "Immigration" by Roland D. Rice; "The Austro-Hungarian Crisis," E. L. Suffern; "Life Insurance Reform," by Philip S. Suffern. The talks were brief.

Mr. Morse strongly favored the establishment of the metric system. He satirized the old style.

Mr. Rice gave some interesting figures on immigration. He touched at length on the comparative illiteracy of the different peoples.

E. L. Suffern made the gravity of the crisis in the relations between the constituent countries of the dual monarchy plain. He explained the intense feeling that springs up in the Hungarian's breast when the spread of his language is threatened.

The essential features of the new insurance bills in New York were presented by P. S. Suffern. He advocated no method of reform himself.

Refreshments of sandwiches, cake and coffee were served after the symposium. The committee were Alonzo Weseman, A. B. Noe and S. W. Dunning.

COMBINE BUSINESS WITH PLEASURE

Reports for the past month's work were presented by the several committees, treasurer, intermediate and the junior superintendents at the monthly business meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Park Avenue Baptist church at the home of R. Coles Treadwell, of 821 First place, last night. Other routine business was considered, after which a musical programme was given.

The opening number on the programme was a vocal selection, "Sweet and Low," by the music committee, comprising R. Coles Treadwell, Miss Violet Van Winkle, Miss Florence G. Hawkins and Nelson Van Winkle. Miss Ethel Lorton gave a piano solo, "The Hurricane," and Miss Arline Brown recited "The Portrait." A vocal selection, "Happy and Light of Heart," was rendered by Miss Cora Brokaw, Mrs. Frank Lyons, R. Coles Treadwell and Charles Van Winkle. A vocal duet, "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep," was given by Charles Van Winkle and R. Coles Treadwell.

The next number was a vocal selection, "The Old Folks at Home," trio, with mandolin accompaniment, by the music committee. Miss Marjorie Brown and Miss Arline Brown gave a violin duet and the programme closed with a vocal selection, "O Hush Thee, My Baby," by the Bible school quartette.

Mrs. von Brakle accompanied the violins; Mrs. Nelson Runyon accompanied the Bible school quartette, Miss Violet Van Winkle accompanied the selections given by the music committee, and Miss Elizabeth Van Winkle and Miss Violet Van Winkle played the madolins. Those presenting the programme responded to encores and R. Coles Treadwell gave an Italian song that was much enjoyed. The various numbers were announced by Charles Van Winkle.

The musicale was arranged by R. Coles Treadwell, chairman of the music committee. After the programme refreshments were served and there was a social hour.

New Market Lodge Supper.

Friendship Council, D. of L., New Market, held a New England supper and dance last night. It was largely attended and very successful. The supper ended at 9 o'clock, and dancing was enjoyed from then until after 12. The committee was made up of Miss Irene Day and William Piddington.

Two Suits; Two Juries.

V. G. Miller has sued Harold Hansen and G. M. Merrill, on contract, in Justice Hand's court. The actions are separate. Lawyer F. J. Huff, representing both the defendants, has asked for a jury in each case. The hearings are set for Saturday morning.

To Preach on Hell.

Messrs. Martin, Sturgis, Parsons and Spiegel sang a beautiful song at the revival service of the Christian church on Grove street last night. Tonight a mixed quartette will sing and Evangelist Spiegel will have as his theme "Hell."

Will Elect a Business Manager.

The annual election of the business manager for the Oracle, the Plainfield High School publication, will be held this afternoon. William Osgood, '07, and Orlando Lounsbury, '08, are candidates for the position.

L. H. Ball and family, who have resided during the winter on Washington avenue, have returned to their home on Rockview avenue.

General Information. What To Buy. Where To Buy.

This is a rapid age. What is new today will be old tomorrow. People are constantly demanding what is newest. It is our mission to supply the very latest in each of the many lines which our establishment represents. We can assure our customers that goods purchased here may be depended upon as being new, fresh and strictly up-to-date. Each department is now at its best. Our store, always an attractive place was never more so than at present. Visitors are always welcome.

In the White Goods Department we are offering some excellent values in fine Table Damasks. Splendid Heavy Web Bleached Damasks, 72 inches, in extremely pretty patterns, at $1.00 per yard.

At 1.25, 1.50, 1.75, 2.00 and 2.50 per yard, a magnificent line of High Grade Double Damasks, with Napkins to match.

We also carry fine Damasks in the 2½ yard width for extra size tables. Price 2.50 yard.

For those who have round tables we have the round cloths in most exquisite designs and superb quality.

We have just received a case of extra good 54 inch Table Padding at 50c per yard.

NEW DRESS GOODS.

It's a great fallacy to think you must go to New York City to buy Dress Goods. A glance through our Spring selections will at once demonstrate the fact that we have many of the newest and most desirable fabrics in the best shades. All the popular grays are shown. Novelty Suitings that are very stylish. Black goods that are in every way desirable. Mixed Suitings, Plaids, Checks, etc., for children's wear. Batistes for waists, etc.

In the Men's Corner the new Spring Shirts are exciting most favorable comment. The 50c line is worthy of special mention. Made up well of fine Madras in choice patterns, they excel in general merit the average 50c goods.

The well known "Lion Brand" Shirts are largely in evidence. These goods are too well known to need more than passing mention. We do want to state, however, that the styles for this season are exceptionally fine. The variety great enough to satisfy all tastes. Price 1.00.

At 50c each—A special lot of extra full, plaited front Shirts in tan only. Men who are inclined to be stout will find these shirts exceedingly comfortable. The grade fully equal to the usual 75c shirts. Quantity limited. Sizes 14 to 16 only.

Superfine Spring weight Lisle and Silk and Lisle Undergarments at 98c per garment. A special purchase well worthy your immediate consideration.

DAYS OF DIZZINESS.

Come to Hundreds of Plainfield People.

There are days of dizziness;

Spells of headache, sideache, backache;

Sometimes rheumatic pains;

Doan's Kidney Pills cure all kidney ills.

James Harding, employed at the gas works, and living at 119 West Fourth street, Plainfield, N. J., says: "Hard backaches, pains in the head and, at times, dizzy spells, bothered me for several months. The aches became so sharp and painful that I was in no condition to work. Reading of the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills I went to Randolph's pharmacy and got a box and began using them. I am very glad to state that they relieved me from all symptoms of kidney complaint and I am of the belief that it was the treatment with Doan's Kidney Pills alone that cured me."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

"SIDE ROOM" IS DOOMED

danger from the public gaze into the saloon than into a grocery store or drug store. He considered the back room one of the great evils. Incidents in the daily press proved this, he said. The amendment plan of two rooms only visible from the barroom nullified all the good intent of the original bill.

Senator Minturn also opposed the amendment. It did not furnish a solution of the back room problem. He objected to having the saloons so exposed that he could be seen sitting at a table taking a drink with some of his fellow Senators; but he wanted the immorality of the back room stopped, and he believed the Bishops' bill furnished the only reasonable remedy.

Senator Avis said he had no objection to striking out from the amendment the back room entrance. Senator Lee suggested that two-thirds of the partition between the rooms should be taken away, so that the view would be absolutely unobstructed. Avis then offered an amendment which cut off the back or side room and provided for a clear interior view of the bar or business room. This amendment was adopted, and then Amendment No. 11, as so amended, passed by a vote of 10 to 5.

Amendment No. 13, providing that the Court of Common Pleas shall appoint excise boards where they are now appointed by the Mayor or governing body, came up next. Avis had it amended at the start so as to have it take effect on July 4. Minturn thought the act might be made unconstitutional by the adoption of the amendment, and Colby did not believe the judiciary should be dragged into the excise business. But the amendment was adopted by a viva voce vote.

Colby offered an amendment, which was adopted, adding the word "village" to the bill. This was to cover some cases where incorporated villages exist.

The Bishops' bill, as amended, then went to second reading. Minturn offered an amendment providing that saloons could be open afternoons on Sundays in cities of the first and second classes. He said the German and Irish elements in the big cities wanted their drink every day. It was not fair to keep the poor man from his beer.

"If the Senator from Essex and I want a bottle on Sunday we can order it up at home and it comes up," said Minturn. "The poor man can't do that. He has to go to a saloon."

Minturn was the solitary supporter of the amendment when a vote was taken. He then offered an amendment that no license to keep an inn or a tavern shall be granted to any person who is not a citizen of the United States and who has been a resident of the city, town or township wherein said inn or tavern exists for at least one year. This passed unanimously.

The measure was then ordered printed and to have a third reading. The bill will probably come up on final passage when the Senatorial investigation is over.

The committee bill providing that licenses can be issued at the ratio of one for every two hundred inhabitants then came up on second reading. Senator Lee offered an amendment, which was adopted, providing that places bordering on the Atlantic and being seaside resorts should be excepted from the act.

CLOSED PORTALS.

Members of Freedom Castle, No. 42, Knights of the Golden Eagle, took part in the institution of a new Castle at Orange, last night. The degree team from the local Castle performed the work in a praiseworthy manner.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

If you are musically inclined, don't forget that William A. Brady's big musical attraction, "Girls Will Be Girls," will appear at the New Plainfield theatre at an early date. Among the many cling-to-the-tongue airs are "Swinging," "Etiquette," "Sally," "Dora Lane," "My Rubber Ball," "And That Little Girl is You." Al. Leech and the three Rosebuds are the principal funmakers, assisted by a company of forty.

Tuberculosis Here.

Fifteen per cent. of deaths in Plainfield are from consumption, and a campaign that was inaugurated against tuberculosis at a mass meeting of the citizens the other evening seems to have been too long delayed. The Clinical Society and the Board of Trade have inspired the movement, and the effect of the repressive measures to be enforced will interest other communities in the State in which tuberculosis is altogether too prevalent.—Hudson Observer.

Organizing Jr. O. U. A. M. Council.

At the meeting of the Plainfield Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., to be held in Junior Hall, West Front street, on Monday night, April 9, at 8 o'clock, State Secretary William H. Miers and other speakers will be present. The charter list of the new council will be open for signers. Admission to this meeting will be by card only and they can be procured from Daniel G. Van Winkle, Ellis Emory and P. H. Bennett.

Rent Chapel for Court.

At a meeting of the consistory of the First Reformed church of Somerville Monday evening it was decided to rent the old and new chapels to the Somerset County Board of Freeholders for the purpose of holding courts in while the new Court House is in course of construction. The Board of Freeholders is advertising for bids to be opened May 1.

Arions Ends Dance Series.

The Arion Club conducted the last of the winter series of dances in Company K armory last night. It was attended by a large gathering of young people from this city and other places. Suhr's Imperial orchestra furnished the music.

There are many men who wear their hats practically all the time when awake, and are blessed with a heavy shock of hair; yet if the scalps of these same men once became infested with dandruff germs, the parasites would multiply all the quicker for lack of air. Baldness would ensue as the final result. Newbro's Herpicide kills these germs and stimulates unhealthy hair to abundant growth. Herpicide is a pleasant hair dressing as well as a dandruff cure and contains not an atom of injurious substance. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

POULTRY

Its a Funny Idea

some dealers have about our stock being just the same. We know it isn't. Beef, Veal, Lamb, or Pork which has been carefully raised and fed will taste better and give more nourishment than "wild" meats. We don't sell any but prime Meats, and a customer can sit down to a roast or steak, or chops from here without fear of hurting his teeth or his sense of taste. Prices won't hurt anybody's pocket, either. We sell Siegfried Arens' delicious Broilers.

REAL ESTATE.

A GOOD START.

You will never own your own home by paying rent. Why not come in and let me explain to you how I have started lots of other people and they have gotten their homes? You can get a home as well as they—if you will let me start you by a small saving each week or month. Come and see me.

MRS. APPLEGATE WELL AGAIN!

"I have had a bruised leg and foot for several years, caused by the brass eyelets of my shoe, which became very sore and painful especially at night. It itched, burned and ached me till it nearly set me crazy. I used everything I found and was suggested to ease it and nothing gave me any relief till I found and applied Azienza Cream which I think is a wonderful remedy for all sores and inflammation of the skin. The hard knots on my legs were as painful as bee stings, with discolored and purple spots. A running sore on my instep size of a half-dollar; the toe of my foot a seething sore clean around to my heel. The bone was sore for a whole year and very painful. I used five and one-half jars of Azienza Cream and healed the sore all up. The foot remained tender and I continued to use to strengthen and toughen the skin until now it is entirely well." (Signed) Mrs. Hannah Applegate, Evergreen Ave., Avon, N. J., Sept. 3rd, 1905. 50 cents. Ask the druggist or by mail. Azienza Specialties Co., Jersey City, N. J.

At Breakfast Time.

There are few things so discouraging as a poor cup of coffee for breakfast. But one can't expect good coffee if the fire won't burn. With coal this happens frequently—with gas never. Turn the stop-cock, apply the match and there you are. The morning coffee is assured. Not only the morning coffee but every meal, every day, is easily cooked on a gas range. Prices, $9.50 to $15.00. $2.00 down; $2.00 a month. Connections Free.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

There could be no more welcome announcement for the amusement loving public than the appearance here Saturday, April 13, of "The Old Homestead." The dear old pastoral play itself is by this time so familiar to everyone that any attempt to describe it would be superpurgation. The mere mention of the names of Joshua Whitcomb, Cy Prime, Seth Perkins, Aunt Matilda and Rickety Ann is sufficient to bring to mind all of these delightful rural characters, and at the same time arises in the background the pictures of the old farm, the homestead in Swanzey, Grace church on Broadway, in New York City, and the aristocratic mansion of Henry Hopkins, the metropolitan merchant and millionaire.

Kyrle Bellew, the famous English actor, who comes to the New Plainfield theatre on April 20, with "Raffles, the Amateur Cracksman," spent many years of his early life at sea, and today he is an enthusiastic yachtsman. He is the owner of the "Moonstone," a splendid sailing boat, in which he spent his last vacation in and around Cowes. The boat was entered in the race for the Emperor's cup and sailed from Dover to Heligoland last June, but owing to some mishap on the passage from Cowes to Dover Mr. Bellew arrived too late to start, very much to his disappointment.

"McFadden's Flats," new, bright, re-edited, revamped and brought right up to the present moment, with new specialties, new music, new faces and new costumes, will be the offering at the New Plainfield theatre tomorrow night. This ever popular spectacular farcical comedy is better than ever and offers this season an unparalleled array of novelties and clever people. Among the leaders are Billy Barry, Joe Deming, the Yellow Kids, Marie Henry, the Speck Brothers, May Baker, Stella Raney, the Preston Sisters, Charles Gramlich. "McFadden's Flats" was written by E. V. Townsend and Glen MacDonough, and is probably the most clever and hilarious farce comedy ever written. A matinee will be given commencing at 2:15.

Above the clouds with a moving picture camera. If you never have enjoyed the exhilaration and rapture of mountain climbing in person, you can realize it with every degree of comfort and safety by seeing the splendid moving pictures of "Climbing the Alps" in Lyman H. Howe's new Lifeorama, to be shown at the New Plainfield theatre next Monday night. This reproduction is not only intended for those who have climbed, but for those who wish they could. You may see the hardy climbers with guides, equipments and alpenstocks leave their comfortable mountain hotel and pass beyond the lower regions of limpid fretful mountain torrents into the regions of perpetual snow, and with breathless interest the spectator may watch them traverse yawning chasms over frail bridges of snow with ominous boulders suspended overhead; can follow them on the knifelike edges of awful precipices and the brink of enormous glaciers; can even see the sharp, clean sections of the snow arranged in horizontal layers—each layer representing a year's formation. You can see the bottomless crevasses, the vast snow slopes and finally gain the summit with the climbers and with them behold the vast amphitheatre of this fresh young primeval earth wreathed in an azure firmament of almost celestial radiance.

Olga, the Countess von Haztfeldt, the bright shining star of "The Little Duchess" company, which comes to the New Plainfield theatre Saturday, is a lady well and favorably known to the theatregroers of the better class. In nearly every city in the union she has appeared in the big musical comedies and her appearance in roles of this class has always resulted in success—for it is in this kind of work that the Countess appears to the very best advantage. The Countess is young in years, but she has had a varied experience in musical comedy and light operatic roles. Her dainty and petite face and figure, her attractive and charming manner and sweet sympathetic voice have all added to her charms and made of her a decided favorite wherever she has appeared.

The Jewish people are a race that more rapidly assimilates with the American people and American customs than those of any other nationality. To follow the transition of "The Old Clothes Man" (James Kyrle MacCurdy in the title role), which appears at the New Plainfield theatre on Friday night, for instance, from his early days as a peddler carrying his pack across the snowy fields of icebound Siberia, his arrival at Castle Garden, New York, as an emigrant, his blossoming forth as an old clothes man in the Bowery and his final metamorphosis as a millionaire on Fifth avenue, illustrates a not uncommon example of what the "Sons of Israel" accomplish in free America. "The Old Clothes Man" depicts all these scenes graphically and all who have seen the play and Mr. MacCurdy's wonderful handling of the title role are loud in their praises of this gifted artist's wonderful versatility as an actor and playwright, as he is the author of the play.

Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Kenney and daughter, of the borough, have returned from Washington.

In the Special Department an account of from $5.00 to $25,000 may be opened on which 3½ per cent interest will be paid. On deposits made during the first three days of any month, interest will begin on the first of that month; after the third on the first of the following month. This interest is compounded semi-annually and is credited on January 1st and July 1st.

SKEETERS HARD AT WORK

NO SORE ARMS YET

Run-in From Field Enjoyed by Players—Want to Book Game for Sunday.

The Jersey City Eastern Leaguers, who have established their training quarters at Crescent Oval, are losing no time in getting into condition for the coming season. The squad of a half dozen that engaged in the first practice yesterday morning was increased to a baker's dozen in the afternoon, when under the direction of Manager Murray and Captain Joe Bean, the players gave a most satisfactory account of themselves. The day's work was given up chiefly to batting and fielding.

Considering that it was the first day out for a majority of the "Skeeters," they gave evidence of being almost in mid-summer form. Especially was this true in the case of Foxen and Mack, the star twirlers and Vandergriff, the catcher. The pitchers enjoyed a lively warming-up, and Vandergriff was agreeably surprised at their work.

Manager Murray was well pleased with the performance of the youngsters, Reilly, Moore and Holmes. They handled themselves well and gave evidence of being of league material. Manager Murray informed a Daily Press reporter last night that he feels confident that his team this year will be stronger than ever, and although it is a trifle early to judge, he thought that in the preliminary practice every man showed up particularly strong.

The "Skeeters" were handicapped a little yesterday by the condition of the ground, but Manager Murray had a conference with Mayor Smalley, last night, and arranged for the latter to start men at work today in putting the oval in shape. Manager Murray assured the Mayor that he would stand whatever expense was necessary for this work. Last night the Jersey City men retired at an early hour.

It was expected that this morning would develop a lot of sore arms, but by 9 o'clock the "Skeeters" were on the oval practicing harder than ever. One feature of the training enjoyed by the players is the "run-in" from the oval to the Iroquois Hotel. Foxen was the only one who wanted to cut this out yesterday, but he was won over by the majority and joined in the race.

The players here at present include Captain Bean, Halligan, Pfanmiller, McCann, Vandergriff, Merritt, Mack, Kiester, Holmes, Foxen, Reilly and Moore. Clements, Cassidy and Wood are expected here today and on Saturday Manager Murray is looking for a number of youngsters. He would like to arrange a game out of town for Sunday and may possibly go to Rahway.

ROD AND GUN.

The Plainfield Gun Club will hold an important meeting Saturday night at Harry Dreier's store, when plans will be made to hold an all day shoot in this city, at which a number of prominent cracks from different parts of the company will participate. The programme will include prize events and sweepstakes. The shoot will probably be held either on April 25 or 26. Henry Vosseller is devoting his energies to making the affair a big success.

To "Lift" the Cup.

Rothsay, Scotland, April 4.—Sir Thomas Lipton is to make another effort to "lift" the America's cup. He has finally commissioned Designer Mylne, of Glasgow, to design a challenger to contest for the coveted trophy.

Special Lenten Preacher.

Rev. Wallace Gordon, rector of St. Agnes chapel, East Orange, will be the special preacher at the Lenten service at the Church of the Holy Cross tonight.

DIAMOND DUST.

Stung! Stung! Stung! is the wail being put up by several ex-Westfield players.

According to some of the Jersey City players no Bishop's law is necessary in Plainfield.

The Hobokens will play the crack Cedars, of New York, Sunday, on the latter's grounds on 163d street.

"Mike" Rotchford says he is willing to take his share of the liabilities out in fence boards, as he thinks next winter will be a colder one than the one just past.

The old Somerville-Plainfield feud may be re-opened Decoration Day morning in Somerville. Manager Daab has offered Manager Bogert Conklin that date.

To start the season right in the eyes of the public it wouldn't be a bad idea to purchase a set of new uniforms for the team. It would be a good investment.

Mayor Smalley has developed into a genuine baseball enthusiast since the organization of the association. Monday night he acted as a "father" to the Jersey City players when they arrived in town.

Speaking of Phil. Smith, the Plainfield High School wonder and Manager Daab's utility slab artist, Catcher Vandergrift, of the Jerseys, declares he is a "ruby." He predicts that the boy will be in the league in less time than three years.

Manager Murray is anxious to get a game on for next Sunday. Last night he telegraphed Ray Potter, of Rahway, to ascertain whether a game could be played at Buffalo Park. If the game is arranged hundreds of Plainfielders would take the trolley trip.

To keep up the reputation of baseball players from rural districts Mr. Holmes, of Iowa, must execute one trick before he leaves town and if it comes out all right he will surely make a great ball player. That is to blow out the gas some night when he goes to bed.

J. Percival Hall went over to the Iroquois and carefully scrutinized the "Skeeters." Nine minutes afterwards he declared they were the coming champions of the Eastern League. In Timbo's Amen corner Jack offered to back up his opinion with real mazuma, but there were no comers.

That six diamond sparklet worn by "Gene" McCann, the Beau Brummels of the Jersey City aggregation, is attracting widespread attention among the natives. "Jack" Todd, of the Gold Medal Minstrel troupe, is thinking about bracing "Gene" for a loan of the ring to wear at the Scotch Plains performance Friday night.

"Red" Waller is anxious to play in this city, and unless Willie Deegan rounds to in proper time, it is not unlikely that he will be signed. As to the respective abilities of these two twirlers, it is a toss up, as both are good and considered the best pair in the semi-professional ranks. No small number of local cranks would like to behold Waller in a Plainfield uniform.

It is hoped that Manager Daab will succeed in signing Henriques for first bag. The terms made to the player by Manager Daab are satisfactory and he is dead anxious to play in Plainfield, but to do so, he must break his word or get the consent of Manager McMann, of the Manhattans, to whom he promised to play with some time during the past winter. Judging from this situation Henriques possesses a virtue not seen in more than one out of a thousand ball players. It is hoped, however, that he can induce Manager McMann to part with him.

For those who attend the Sunday games Manager Burke of the Stars, has gotten together the fastest team that has yet played under the Star's colors. The battery will be "Red" Waller and Billy Ross; and Melcher, Smith and Tom News, three members of last year's Atlantic City team, and Harry Noyes, will occupy the infield. Flick Luyster, Schuman and Bob Middleton will be in the outfield. The team will open either next Sunday against the Amsterdams, or on April 15 with the Cuban Giants.

These dates have been arranged by the Stars: April 22, Amsterdams; April 29, Cuban Stars; May 6, Havana; May 13, Frankford; May 27, Cuban X-Giants; June 3, Amsterdams; June 10, All Nationals; June 24, Philadelphia Giants; July 1, Frankfort; July 8, Manhattan; July 22, Ridgewood; July 29, Cuban X-Giants; April 5, Cuban Stars; August 12, All Nationals; August 19, Stamford; August 26, Amsterdams; September 2, Cuban X-Giants; September 9, Wilmington; September 23, Havana; September 30, St. Michaels.

GIVES OUT A NEW LIST OF DATES

EAST JERSEY GOLF LEAGUE RE-ARRANGES ITS SCHEDULE FOR SEASON.

A new schedule has been drawn up by the East Jersey Golf League. This new list of dates was made necessary because of the admission of the Canoe Brook Country Club to membership, thereby bringing the total up to six, the same as last season. The other clubs in the league are the Roseville Golf Club, South Orange Field Club, Forest Hill Field Club, Suburban Club, Glen Ridge Golf Club. Two of these, Canoe Brook and Forest Hill, are in possession of nine-hole courses.

The spring handicap, which proved so popular with the members for the past two seasons, will be held again and June 9 has been selected as the date. While it is not announced officially as yet, the golfers having the matter in charge are known to favor the Canoe Brook links. The individual championship is to take place on September 28 and 29 and the fall handicap also on the latter date. Some neutral course will be selected later in the season.

Howard Griffin, of South Orange, won the championship last fall over the Baltusrol links. It was his fourth win during the six championships held by the league. The new team schedule is as follows:

June 9—Spring handicap.

September 29—Individual championship.

September 29—Individual championship and fall handicap.

October 6—Roseville, at Elizabeth; Glen Ridge, at Forest Hill.

RIVAL BALL MANAGERS FIGURE IN CIVIL SUIT.

G. H. Johnston Demands Return Alleged Loan from Charlie Denman.

George H. Johnston, formerly manager for the Scotch Plains and Plainfield baseball teams, has brought suit against Charles H. Denman, of the Westfield Baseball Association, to recover $25 which he claims he loaned the defendant at Recreation Park, last September.

Justice Mosher has issued papers in the case which are returnable Wednesday, April 11.

The plaintiff has engaged W. L. Hetfield, Jr., Esq., to represent him, and Paul Q. Oliver will defend Mr. Denman.

The Watchung Hunt Club has arranged the following meetings for the month: April 7, the kennels, 3:30; 14, Oak Tree, 3:30; 21, Crescent avenue and East Seventh street, 3:30; 28, Netherwood Hotel, 3:30. The chase arranged for April 21 will terminate at Baltusrol, where H. A. Bourne will entertain the club.

FOOTBALL RULES ARE NEARLY READY

RADICAL CHANGES HAVE BEEN MADE, BUT SOME OLD FEATURES RETAINED.

New York, April 4.—The American Intercollegiate football rules committee, a consolidation of the old football rules committee and the representatives of colleges who attended the recent conference on football reform held in this city, finally adopted Saturday the new playing rules for 1906. The committee sat until late Friday night, the task before it being a tedious one. The committee has attempted to "open" the game wherever possible and to eliminate unnecessary roughness and brutality. At the same time the committee has striven to retain some semblance of the game as it has been played in this country during the last several years.

One of the principal changes doubles the distance to be gained in three downs, ten yards now being required of the team on the offense, instead of five, as heretofore. Forward passes are to be allowed, and whenever a forward pass crosses the goal line it shall count as a touchback. Reforms in methods of tackling, holding and interference have been provided, and the penalties for fouls have been severely stiffened. Six men only are to be on the line of scrimmage. A central board of control is to pass upon the competency of all games officials. More power is given to the game officials, and it is provided that there shall be a referee, two umpires and a lineman in all games of first importance.

There were a number of minor points settled Saturday. The question of retaining to punt out after a touchdown for a try at goal was decided favorably. Had it been acted on adversely, the goal posts would have to be widened. The question of allowing the punted out to make a fake kick to draw his opponents offside before actually kicking was settled affirmatively. Other similar questions were decided. On the new rule requiring men to be on the line of scrimmage, the addition was made:

"When a man is supposed to be on the line of scrimmage he shall be on the line of scrimmage in a bona fide way." The way will be specifically prescribed. In the new rule defining holding, a definition is to be prepared for the words "the arms close to the body," indicating permissible blocking.

The more important of the new provisions of the code formally approved follow: Disqualification, striking with the fist or elbows, kneeing, kicking, striking the runner carrying the ball in the face with the heel of the hand on defense, meeting with the knee, striking with the locked hands by the men in breaking through and roughing the fullback after he has kicked the ball, shall be punishable by the disqualification of the guilty player for the rest of the game, and the offending team shall lose half the distance to its own goal line. We further recommend to the institutions playing under these rules that upon being disqualified a second time in a season the player shall be declared ineligible to play football for one year from the date of the second offense; also that this same penalty apply to the deliberate injury of an opponent, not including the offenses specified or included in the next succeeding section.

Unnecessary Roughness—To include piling up, tripping, tackling the runner out of bounds, and all other acts of unnecessary roughness. The penalty shall be the loss of 15 yards.

Unsportsmanlike Conduct—To include use of abusive or insulting language to opponents of officials. The penalty shall be suspension for the remainder of the game.

It shall be the duty of all officials to penalize for the above offenses. Not more than six men shall be on the line of scrimmage on defense, the balance to be clearly behind the feet of all of the linemen and inside the men on the ends of the line.

Six men shall be in the line of scrimmage at all times; the five centre men shall always be on the line, except that one of the centre men may drop back at least five yards or more, another man to take his place in the rush line.

Stock Certificates Ready Tomorrow.

The certificates of stock for the Plainfield Baseball Association will be received tomorrow and will be ready for distribution among those who have subscribed. The committee hopes for a ready response, so that a major portion of the money subscribed can be collected by Saturday night, when Manager Daab will meet with the association at the Hotel Iroquois.

Red Men Backing It.

The Tucker bills, House 39 and 310, providing that it shall be a misdemeanor to organize a corporate body that shall use the name, signs, etc., of any fraternal society and to prevent the wearing of the insignia of such fraternal organizations, were passed in the House. The bill is backed by many of the secret societies of the State, notably the Red Men and the Elks.

Rudolph Bleier, of Grandview avenue, who has been visiting relatives in Austria since last January, arrived in New York last evening.

CHIEF KIELY BOWLS LIKE AN ALLEY SHARP.

Sets Great Pace and Leads His Five to Victory.

"Bob" Hoffman's faithful followers were again swatted by the "Police" five on McLaughlin's alleys last night. Chief Kiely's quintet rolled two games out of three into them by margins painfully large, and came near bagging the third.

The chief hit a tremendous pace. He touched high for the match in the first game with 222, and rolled 211 in the last. Blatz rolled 216 in the first game, but couldn't hold the pace good enough to get the other two games from his man.

This gives the "Police" two straight, and the combinations will probably roll no more this season. The scores:

Outdoor Gym Classes.

During the rest of the gymnasium term at the Y. M. C. A. outdoor classes will be held in pleasant weather. The change will begin this week. All the afternoon classes—police, boys, intermediate and business men—will enjoy the advantages of the innovation. Outdoor basketball and handball will be played and a baseball or two will be kept in motion.

Brooklyn High Cancels Game.

Managare Joe Gavett, of the P. H. S. baseball team, announced today that the opening game scheduled for Saturday with the Brooklyn High School has been cancelled on account of a disagreement of dates. The Brooklyn team disputed the date and therefore cancelled the contest. The Plainfield school boys will try to arrange a game for Saturday with the North Plainfield High School team.

ACKERMAN "ON HIS JOB"

Testimony at Shinn-Martens Bribery Trial Shows Union Man Off to Advantage.

STUDIES THE BILLS

Although Not Called Into Committee Meeting, Mr. Ackerman Posted Himself and Acted Accordingly on Measure.

The investigation into the bribery charges against Senators Shinn and Martens by the Judiciary Committee of the Senate, according to his friends, has brought to light the careful and conscientious manner in which Senator Ackerman, of this city, is fulfilling his duties. He is a member of the Committee on Labor and Industries, to which the bills were referred. No meeting of this committee was called to consider the bills, but they were reported back to the Senate by Senator Shinn, the chairman, and came up for passage.

The bills called for a reduction in the interest rate charged by pawnbrokers from two per cent. to one per cent., but left out the provision in the present law that no additional impost for storage, insurance, or other charge should be enacted. It would be a very easy matter to make up the loss of one per cent. in interest charge and provide an additional profit by charging for storage, insurance, and other matters.

Senator Ackerman had posted himself in the matter and called the Senate's attention to the omission, and Senator Shinn thereupon agreed to an amendment restoring the wording of the old law prohibiting any additional charges. It was the law as amended which aroused the ire of the State Pawnbrokers' Association.

Senator Ackerman was called as a witness at the hearing yesterday, and his carefulness in following proposed legislation is well told in his own words. His examination was, in part, as follows:

Mr. Corbin: "The amendment that was made to the bill on the floor of the Senate I see by the record is suggested as having been offered by Senator Shinn. Did you suggest that amendment?"

Mr. Ackerman: "Well, I will have to explain a little about that, how that came about, if it is proper for me to do so."

"Do so."

"When the bill came up as I understand it, for a third reading, not being a lawyer I have a good many memorandums attached to the bills, in order that I may attempt to vote intelligently, and I had a memorandum attached to 184, and I asked whether it was a fact that the present bill left out certain words that were in the present law, and then Senator Shinn came over to my desk, and I understand accepted the verbiage that was in the present law, and the senator put that in the bill.

"So that addition to the bill which provided that no special charge should be made for storage, insurance, etc., was put into the bill really at your suggestion, because it restored the wording of the old law?"

"I called the attention of the speaker to the fact that it was not in the bill that was then before the Senate."

Mr. Hudspeth: "Will the counsel ask the senator if he knows where the bill was at the time he made this suggestion to Senator Shinn, its legislative stage?"

Senator Ackerman: "I thought it was up for third reading."

Mr. Hudspeth: "Had it passed second reading?"

"I don't remember."

Mr. Corbin: "I think the record will show."

"I thought it was proper at that time before the bill went any farther to make mention of the fact that I had the memoranda."

Mr. Hudspeth: "Well, I want to ask counsel whether the bill was not brought back then on reconsideration of the order directing it to a third reading for the purpose of including that very memorandum?"

"Most assuredly, Mr. Hudspeth."

Mr. Corbin: "Senator Shinn did not object to this amendment did he?"

"No."

"He acquiesced in it?"

"As I understand it."

Told About Hell.

"Hell" was the subject of Evangelist Spiegel's discourse at the Christian church revival on Grove street, by the brook, last night. A quartette sang "Eternity." Tonight the subject will be "Heaven." As special musical features there will be a solo and duet. 7:45 p. m.

LEW MILLIGAN FACES A REVOLTING CHARGE

YOUNG PLAINFIELD CRIMINAL AND A DEPRAVED FATHER ARRESTED.

Lewis Milligan, of this city, was arrested in Easton, Pa., yesterday, with John Jerolaman and his thirteen-year-old son, Matthew, by County Detective Totten, of Somerville, on a revolting charge made by the twelve-year-old daughter of Jerolaman.

Jerolaman until recently, lived in Somerville, and Milligan was at the house a good bit of the time. It is charged that the father, son and young Milligan mistreated the girl time and again. According to the authorities the abuses began recently, after Jerolaman's wife died. Each of the trio, it is alleged, simply waited until one or the other was out of the way to abuse the child.

It is said that Jerolaman fled from Somerville because neighbors began to take notice of the goings-on at the house. The trio's depravity, Totten said today, attracted attention in Easton, and talk of lynching them started Monday night. The officials were afraid of mob action until the Somerset county officer got his prisoners aboard the train.

Milligan is well known here. He has a police record covering ten years.

CONTRACT CASE AN ECHO OF A MURDER

George W. Cole, the undertaker, secured a verdict of $57 against Mrs. Philomena Martin, of Hunter avenue, in Justice Hand's court this morning, on a contract action. Mrs. Martin is the widow of Tony Martin, a wealthy Italian padrone, who was shot to death by a fellow countryman in a quarrel at a Hunter avenue house in 1904, and Cole sued for the balance due on the murdered man's funeral.

The undertaker's bill was $117. Mrs. Martin paid $60 and refused to give the rest for some reason. The action this morning was contested by Lawyer J. P. Owens, representing the defendant, on the ground that the suit was improperly instituted. The action was against Mrs. Martin as an individual and the lawyer held that it should have been instituted against her as administrator of the estate. The decision will be appealed.

Immediately after the Cole suit was closed, Mrs. Martin assumed the character of plaintiff in a landlord and tenant case. She sought and secured possession of the premises occupied by Francesco Cuiffi on Hunter avenue.

Mr. Cole listened to the landlord and tenant action with amazement.

"I thought you told me you didn't own any property?" he asked Mrs. Martin.

"I own two houses on Hunter avenue," she said.

NO TRACE FOUND OF MISSING PUPIL.

Boy Wandered Off From Groszmann School Tuesday.

Despite a diligent search on the part of the local police and attaches of the place, no trace has been discovered of Daniel Norton, the pupil who wandered away from the Groszmann school, Tuesday afternoon. He was last seen at Lafayette Rosentiehl's barber shop on Somerset street, and was then evidently on has way to Watchung Crest but did not reach there. Dr. Groszmann believes he has merely wandered off and sooner or later will return. He was one of the trustworthy boys and was frequently sent on errands, always executing them faithfully.

The boy's home is in Idaho, but he has been at the Groszmann school three years. He is eighteen years old, rather tall and slender and is near-sighted. He wore a dark gray suit and soft brown hat when he disappeared. Unless he is found today, Dr. Groszmann will issue a circular bearing his picture in order to help people in this vicinity to recognize him should he be wandering about.

Crescent Ave. Church Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church will be held Wednesday night, April 13. Three elders will be elected to succeed William D. Murray, F. H. Andrews and A. W. Duxbury; two deacons to succeed S. H. Whitney and T. F. Budlong, and one elder to fill the unexpired term of one year of the late Stephen Cahoone. Reports for the year will also be presented at the meeting.

MAY ADOPT BRICK PAVE

MACADAM USELESS

Brick Cheaper For Streets In Business Section, Argues Councilman William L. Gloak.

If the hopes of the councilmanic street committee are fulfilled, Park avenue from Front street to the railroad bridge will be paved with brick similar to that in use at the trolley station on Watchung avenue. Particularly is this improvement desired by the committee for that strip extending from Second street to the bridge, and it is said that the proposition will be laid before the Common Council at an early date.

The committee is now considering plans for the widening of that part of the thoroughfare not yet improved in that way, in accordance with the ordinance adopted several weeks ago. As soon as that is completed the scheme to substitute brick for the macadam roadbed will be brought up.

Chairman William L. Gloak says that in his opinion if the Council can be prevailed upon to order brick pave for Park avenue sooner or later the improvement will be extended to cover the entire business section of the city. This would include Front street from Watchung avenue to Central avenue, Watchung avenue from the bridge to Front street, Second street from Watchung avenue to Madison avenue, and Park avenue from Front street to the bridge.

"I strongly favor a permanent pavement for the business section of the city," said Mr. Gloak, "and believe that in widening Park avenue such an improvement should be made. In my opinion the expenditure of money to macadamize these streets is a waste of money. The permanent pavement would cost a little more at first, but would pay for itself in the long run, and I am convinced that the taxpayers would heartily endorse this action on the part of the Common Council."

LEES DAMAGE SUIT TO BE HEARD AGAIN

WILL COME BEFORE STRUCK JURY IN SOMERSET COURT ON MAY 22.

The long drawn-out civil suit brought by George Lees, of the borough, against Dr. Albert Wickham, of Newark, for injuries alleged to have been inflicted by improper professional treatment, is to be tried again. The plaintiff was recently granted on order for a struck jury by Judge Garretson, and the case is to be heard in the Somerset County Court on May 22. The necessary number of men have been drawn by Sheriff Cooper and it is said that new witnesses have been secured.

Young Lees had been afflicted with a spinal trouble and Dr. Wickham undertook to provide treatment. The patient's body was encased in a plaster cast, as he alleged in his original complaint, it was not put on right, and his shoulders and back were so badly drawn that he was made a cripple for life.

Suits were brought against the physician and Lees was awarded a verdict for damages. Wickham took an appeal and succeeded in having the amount set aside as excessive. The case has now passed through several stages and the next step is the new trial over which Judge Garretson will preside. Lees is represented by Lawyer George W. V. Moy.

Papef on South Africa.

A good sized audience attended the meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the First Baptist church, held yesterday afternoon in the lecture room of the church. The devotional exercises were led by Mrs. Daniel R. Douglass, the theme being "The Widow's Mite." The paper on South Africa by Miss L. V. F. Randolph was full of interest, giving an account of the colonization of the country by the British and the Boers and emphasizing the need of other spirit than the commercial and the adventurous to evangelize the dark continent. Current events were given by Mrs. J. Hervey Buchanan. Mrs. J. A. Powlison gave a brief account of the origin of the Young Ladies' Band in 1870.

CONTRACTOR KANE ANGRY

Declares He Will Sue For Delay in Demolishing the Durlach Building.

THE WORK HELD UP

Chances Are That Former Owners and Board of Health Will Be Made Defendants in a Suit.

In his plans to demolish the condemned Durlach buildings on Watchung avenue, Contractor Aleck Kane struck an unexpected snag yesterday and as a result the work has been held up. The stoppage is costing him time and money and he declares that unless the obstacle is removed he will bring suit against the Durlach estate and the city board of Health. He figures out that both are responsible and that he can kill tw obirds with one stone.

When the Board of Health declared the structures to be unfit for habitation the owners served notice upon the tenants, eight in all, to vacate by April 1. With the understanding that all would be out at the specified time, they sold the buildings to Kane fo rold lumber and he arranged to begin work at the first of the month. All his men and wrecking implements were on had yesterday, but when the laborers started to rip out boards there was a vigorous protest from four families which had failed to move. The others have succeeded in getting other quarters, but the vacated premises are not in rotation and it is impossible to tear them down without leaving the others with only the sky as a roof.

The feminine partion of the families begged Kane to let them stay, and their tears caused him to suspend operations for the time being. As a man of business, however, he couldn't see just why he should shoulder the loss due to their unfortunate plight, and he appealed to the Durlachs. The latter saw no way out of the difficulty except by legal process of ejectment, but as this takes time Kane was no better off. As he did not contract to empty the houses of their occupants, he decided upon a suit for damages. He maintains that the Board of Health should be made to stand the blame with the Durlachs, as it condemned the buildings without furnishing the means for moving the tenants, and unless something is done in very much of a hurry papers will be served.

Kane met with a delay in tearing down the buildings on Park avenue where the McCutchen structure is now being put up and his time loss cost Charles McCutchen $75.

GLOAK DISAGREES WITH WILBUR'S IDEA

COUNCILMAN DECLARES FREEHOLDERS CAN HELP IMPROVE GREEN BROOK.

Councilman William L. Gloak takes exception to Freeholder S. P. T. Wilbur's statement that the freeholders have no right to spend money on improving Green brook, and intimates that before he gets throught with his plans he will convince the board that it has not only the power but that it is its duty to assist in the work of cleaning, deepening and widening the brook.

Mr. Gloak says that the brook is a county stream over which the officials of both Union and Somerset counties have control and it is up to them to see that the stream is kept free of obstructions that would prevent an overflow of the banks in heavy rains. The councilman maintains that if the brook is deepened and widened properly there would be no flooding of property in the East End of the town and he intends to enlist the aid of the county officials in making this improvement.

The First ward member says he was surprised at the remarks of Freeholder Wilbur, and says that it will not discourage him in the least in his efforts to effect the improvements. He says that he has had the matter under consideration for some time and is now determined to see it go through. He sees no reason, he says, why the brook should not be made attractive instead of eye-sore and will do all in his power to make it so.

Senators Not Guilty.

Investigation into the charges made against Senators Martens and Shinn by a pawnbroker, who alleged that they received bribes for their action on a pending bill, was completed by the State Senate this morning. It was decided that the charges were not proven and that the testimony of the complainant's witnesses was too contradictory to be worthy of belief.

CONFERENCE GETS BUSY

Bishop Hamilton Tells Methodists to Say "Amen" at Communion Service.

COMMITTEES NAMED

Rev. Mr. Mooney, Rev. A. C. McCrea and Rev. E. L. Earp Assigned to Duties—Proceedings This Morning.

Methodists from far and near gathered at the West Side Avenue M. E. church, Jersey City, yesterday at the opening session of the forty-ninth annual convocation of the Newark Conference. When Bishop Hamilton, of San Francisco, who is presiding over the deliberations of the conference, took his place on the platform there were approximately 200 ministers present. The clergymen included in the jurisdiction of the conference number 250. Business sessions will be held every morning, while in the afternoon and evening the various societies having affiliation will observe their anniversaries.

Before preceding to the formal organization the sacrament of the Lord's Supper was celebrated, with Bishop Hamilton as leader and several ministers acting as co-chanters. The bishop warned the congregation as to the manner they received the sacrament, adding, "I want every one of you to come to the table in a true, practical, loving spirit. I like to hear Methodists says 'Amen' in a proper way. Give it a true, hearty ring, and don't utter it in an abusive sense."

John F. Dodd, of Newark, was elected secretary of the conference for the twenty-sixth consecutive time, by acclamation. Rev. Jacob A. Cole, of the Halsey street church, Newark, was re-elected treasurer, and he appointed Rev. John W. Ryder, of Arlington; Rev. John O. Sparnon, of Staten Island, and Rev. Warren R. Neff, of Newark, as his assistants. Rev. John A. Gutteridge, of Ocean Grove, was re-elected statistical secretary. He named the following aides: Rev. Samuel K. Doolittle, Rev. Frederick C. Mooney and Rev. Harry P. King. Following this, memorial services were held for clergymen who died during the last year. The list included Rev. Dr. J. R. Bryan, of this city.

In the announcement of the standing committees for the year, Rev. George Mooney, of the Monroe Avenue church, was placed on the committee on Bible cause, Rev. A. C. McCrea, of the First church, on the committee on Epworth League. Rev. E. L. Earp, formerly of Grace M. E. church, was placed on the committee to nominate officers and standing committees for 1907. Rev. H. J. Johnson, who was also a former pastor of Grace church, is placed on the same committee. Rev. W. C. O'Donnell, formerly of Monroe Avenue M. E. church, was placed on the committee on conference qualifications.

Yesterday afternoon and last night the Women's Foreign Missionary Society celebrated its anniversary, and evangelistic services were held in Trinity church, 113 York street.

This morning the conference opened with devotional exercises conducted by Rev. A. B. Richardson. After an address by Rev. Rufus K. Boyd, the business session was held. This afternoon Rev. Dr. George P. Eckman, of St. Paul's church, New York, delivered an address at the anniversaries of the Women's Home Missionary Society. Tonight the anniversaries of the Missionary Society and Church Extension Society will be held. Rev. Dr. Stephen O. Benton, recording secretary of the Missionary Society, and Rev. Dr. James M. King, corresponding secretary of the Board of Church Extension, will be the speakers.

Will Observe Surrender.

Several local members of the Military Order, Loyal Legion, New York Commandery, will attend divine services at the Church of the Incarnation, Madison avenue and 35th street, Sunday afternoon, in commemoration of the surrender at Appomattox, which ended the War of the Rebellion. The sermon will be preached by the Rev. Dr. William M. Grosvenor, rector of the Church of the Incarnation.

A Surprise Party.

A surprise party was tendered Aaron Darby at his home in Willow Grove last evening by a number of his friends and relatives. There were about fifty guests present from Newark, New York, Westfield, Rahway, Scotch Plains, Fanwood, Somerville and this city. Dancing was the feature of the evening.

Prominent Baptist to Preach Here.

Rev. Dr. Kerr Boyce Tupper, pastor of the Madison Avenue Baptist church, New York, and one of the leading Baptist clergymen in this country, will speak at the service to be held in the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church on Thursday night, April 12.

CAST OF "MUFF VS GUFF," TO BE ACTED FOR N. P. H. S. A. A.

A mock trial is to be held at the North Plainfield High School tomorrow night, for the benefit of the athletic association. The trial, entitled "The Great Pumpkin Case of Guff vs. Muff," will be acted by the following cast:

Judge Fobb, Frank Webster; Clerk Fizz, Wilbur Dunning; Lawyer Foozle, Jack Peacock; Lawyer Squibbs, Ralph Kutz; Whipsaw, bailiff, Lester Matthews; Hi Guff, plaintiff, Arthur Van Arsdale; Abe Muff, defendant, Stanley Fisher; Pike Whiffles, chief witness of plaintiff and owner of a cow, William Burtis; Samuel Gump, witness of plaintiff, William Day; Aby Shooks, witness for defendant, William Demler; "Doc" Poodle, witness for defendant, Leo Kenney; jury list, Aruthur Dunning, Clarence Steiner, Fred McClintock, George Bailey, George Parsons, Leslie Powlison, Charles Doughty and Harry Smith.

Two other numbers will be on the programme, a quartette, "Under Southern Skies," by Myra Emmons, piano; Maud Emmons, mandolin; Edna Smith, violin; Herbert Smith, violin; and vocal solo, "Hoo-doo-doo-doo Man," by Clarence Steiner.

FANWOOD OFFICER NABS EX-CONVICT

Officer W. J. Logan, of Fanwood, captured two suspicious characters along the railroad late last night. Not satisfied that the men had any right to be at large, Recorder Sheelen, before whom they were arraigned this morning, committed them to the county jail pending investigation.

Logan caught the men setting fire to a big pile of ties not far from the Fanwood station. There would have been great danger of the flames spreading to the station had the officer not detected the men in the very act of starting the pile.

In examining the couple, Recorder Sheelen forced one of them, who gave his name as Thomas Grady, to confess that he had been out of State prison only a short time. The recorder decided that his past was worth looking into, and accordingly committed him to give the officers a chance to investigate. The other man, who called himself Martin Henderson, was sent down because he was found in bad company. Recorder Sheelen says he is convinced they are a bad pair.

The men said they fired the pile to warm themselves. The officers think they had a more sinister purpose than that, but just what their game was is unknown.

THINKING OF PAYING FIREMEN IN FANWOOD.

Borough Council Considering the Possibility of Making Up Lost Exemptions.

The possibility of a paid fire department in Fanwood was discussed by the borough Council at its monthly meeting last night. It is feared the cessation of tax exemption will handicap the borough in maintaining an efficient volunteer department, and the matter is receiving serious consideration.

It is the general idea to put all the active members of the present department on some sort of a paid basis, to make up for the loss of the exemption.

The Council did but little actual business. Bills were ordered paid and the new jail matter was again laid over.

School Teachers Resign.

Summit, April 5.—The Board of Education has received the accepted the resignation of three teachers in Public School No. 1. The resignation of Miss Etta S. Einstein will take place on April 6, because she is unable to attend her duties on account of illness. The other two teachers have secured better positions for next year, and their resignations will go into effect in June. They are Miss Ruth Hobart and Miss Helen A. Anderson, both of the grammar grades. The resignations were entirely voluntary.

Additional Sprinklers Out.

Additional sprinkling carts were put on the streets yesterday by John E. Keely, the contractor, and some of the outlying districts were reached. One of the great nuisances just now is the dust kicked up by the trolley cars and the presence of the company's sprinkling car would be a blessing.

ICE GOES UP 10 CENTS

60 CENTS A HUNDRED

Ice has advanced in price from fifty cents to sixty cents a hundred. The raise went into effect the first of the month.

None of the consumers who heard or were notified of the advance were taken by surprise. Ever since midwinter, when the ice men began to complain of a crippling shortage in the crop, the public has been expecting the announcement of higher prices. The dealers are still talking gloomily of more than half-empty houses, and the people are helplessly waiting for news of another climb in the price, when the warmer weather makes the demand for the product and the need of it greater.

The dealers say they have no alternative to an advance—the crop is so short, they say, the price must go up.

"We have less than a third of what we had in the houses at thi stime last year," said P. J. McDonough, head of the Natural Ice Company, this morning. "I am speaking, you understand, for myself—I don't know about the others; but I suppose conditions are the same."

At the end of September last year, when the crop was supposed to have been depleted by constant and heavy mid-summer demands, the price was ten cents lower than it is now. In May last year, a month later in the season than now, the price was forty cents a hundred. In April, 1904, it was thirty cents a hundred.

Although ice was undoubtedly scarce hereabouts last winter, other sections not so far off had plenty of cold weather and an abundant crop of ice. The northern part of the State, and Pennsylvania, turned out an ample crop. Consumers, especially those who have lived in big cities, where practically all the ice used is shipped in to dealers, have been wondering why these sources of supply are not figured upon in planning the service here.

Elmer Mills, of West Front street, a confectioner and maker of ice cream, worked that problem out for himself. As soon as he saw that the ice was to be shy here and that the dealers were tuning up for a-calamity howl, he converted an outbuilding into an icehouse and had ninety tons of hard, clear ice shipped here from Bear Creek, Pa. Now Mr. Mills smiles gently whenever he hears an iceman wail over the terrible smallness of the harvest.

Smalley Bros., the butchers, have gone even farther than Mr. Mills. They put in a refrigerating plant last week and made themselves independent of the dealers and the eccentricities of the weather man for all time. The machine, which is located in the cellar of the store, pumps expanded ammonia through coils of pipe, each of which gets as chilly as a big chunk of ice. The pipes through which the ammonia circulates get thickly coated with frost. The machine is run by an electric motor. It is the same sort of a machine with which ice is manufactured, the pipes, in manufacturing, passing through brine surrounded by a tank of water, instead of being coiled bare in the refrigerator compartments. The machine at Smally Bros. will make a ton of ice a day. It costs not much less than $900.

Mr. McDonough, in answer to a reporter's question, this morning said three dealers were supplying the city —F. T. Ostrom, John Morton and his own company.

P. S. C. Improving Roadbed.

The Public Service Corporation has a large gang of Italians at work on West Front street, between Albert street and Grant avenue, putting in new ties and otherwise improving the roadbed. The laborers are carting the dirt away and in its place good sized cracked stone is being used. This makes a solid roadbed and will be a great improvement. Dozens of times during the past season cars have left the tracks between these points, and the company is sparing no expense in putting the roadbed in first class condition.

Will Discuss Moody Resolution.

The Union Count Democratic Committee will meet at headquarters in Elizabeth tomorrow night, when it is expected that there will be a general discussion of the Moody resolution, which seeks to improve the platform of the party. James E. Martine will attend from this city and participate in the debate.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

Rev. Dr. Sleeper, of Elizabeth, will be the special Lenten preacher at St. Stephen's church, Netherwood, tonight.

The Epworth League of the First M. E. church will hold a business meeting and social in Vincent chapel tomorrow night.

Rev. William R. Mulford, of All Saints' church, Scotch Plains, will preach at St. Stephen's church, Netherwood, on Thursday night, April 12. This will be the last special Lenten service.

The Sunday-school of the First Baptist church is preparing a special programme of music for Easter Sunday afternoon. The school will be assisted by the church choir and instrumental music.

A Lenten Class meeting was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. DeWitt C. Ivins, of Hillside avenue, when Miss. Elizabeth R. Cock presented a paper on an appropriate topic. This was followed by a general discussion.

The officers of the Park Avenue Baptist church have decided to continue running the stage between Netherwood and the church during April. This affords many persons an opportunity to attend services who could not do so otherwise.

Rev. A. S. Peck, rector of St. Stephen's church, Netherwood, took possession of the new parish house, the Hyde property, at South and Woodland avenues, yesterday. Mr. Peck will occupy the upper floors and the first floor will be used for meetings and social gatherings.

The four Sunday-schools connected with the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church will join in a union Easter service at the church on Sunday afternoon, April 15. The primary department of the home church will have its Easter exercises next Sunday under the direction of W. D. Murray, the superintendent.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. Harry Roberts, of Prospect place, is detained at home by an attack of grip.

Miss Florence G. Neighbor, of North avenue, has recovered from an attack of the grip.

The Misses Ellen and Martha Thompkinson, of the Lucy Webb Hayes National Training School at Washington, who addressed a meeting at the home of Mrs. J. W. Jackson, Tuesday afternoon, left yesterday for Jersey City to attend the Newark Conference of the M. E. church.

HAT WORN BY SOME FASHIONABLE WOMEN.

A feature of a small black mohair hat in empire style was the narrow black velvet strings that were brought under the chin, tying in a large bow at the left side. The brim of this hat was edged with gold braid and two black tips were placed on the left side, with tiny pompadour roses beneath the brim.

A smart hand-made sailor hat of dark blue silk braid was trimmed with a wide fold of printed taffeta ribbon draped around the crown and caught at the left side with a large gold buckle. The high bandeau in the back was concealed with rosettes of the same ribbon.

A dainty little toque was of a delicate shade of violet hemp braid, and was trimmed with roses shading from pale pink to violet and rosettes of violet messaline ribbon.

The hats for children this season seem to be more charming than ever. The shapes as a rule are large and made to droop over the face.

A handsome model was of white pyroxylin braid finished with tiny ruffles of valenciennes lace, with a huge bow of flowered taffeta ribbon and a wreath of forget-me-nots beneath the brim.

Cause for Joy.

"You look happy, old man."

"Yes, I just heard some good news. My uncle is going to give me the money I need to start me in business."

"Ah, that's really what you might call 'capital news.'"

Trouble Enough.

"I don't suppose you ever have smallpox or typhoid out at Swamphurst," remarked Citiman.

"No," replied Subbubs, disgustedly, "there's no room for it; the place is too full of malaria."

Leading Him On.

"He claims he has the first place in your heart," said the new flame.

"Oh, yes," replied Miss Flyrt, "but the first place, of course, is down at the bottom. The new tenant is always at the top."

Bitter.

"I wonder why Miss Passay acts so kittenish?" remarked Miss Ascum.

"Probably," replied Miss Speitz, "to conceal the fact that she's a cat."

NEWS IN THE SUBURBS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY

The Young People's Club met at the house of Miss Emma Tappen last week, and an enjoyable time was had. Games were played until 11 o'clock, when refreshments were served. Among those present were Miss Ida Mae Haelig, of Bound Brook; Miss Ida McCullough, Miss Elsie McCullough, Miss Vera Nelson, Miss Lyranthia Nelson, Miss Hattie Smith, Miss Randolph, Miss Ethel Stryker, Miss May Tappen, Miss Virginia Randolph, Miss Mattie Giles, Miss Fannie Giles, Miss Eva Dayton, Miss Florence Voorhees, Walter Nelson, Robert Randolph, Bertram Dayton, Frank Smalley, Parker Morris, Henry Smalley, John Morris, Mr. Devert, Lylord R. Wilson, Harvey Stryker, A. Voorhees, Harry Giles, Miss Ida Mae Haelig and Miss Ida McCullough were on the committee.

Howard Craig's baseball stock is being boomed by his brother, Hazelwood. "Howie" made a great showing on the Dunellen team last year, and was one of the few amateur stars in the meeting between the All-Plainfields and the semi-professional Plainfields at the wind-up of the season. Hazelwood Craig says Howard is fast enough for a minor league. Brother Hazelwood is a good judge; he used to be a star himself.

There may be only one service at the Methodist church next Sunday. Rev. S. K. Doolittle will be at the Conference and unable to occupy the pulpit. Rev. H. N. Jordan, of the Seventh-Day Baptist church, has been secured to conduct the morning service, but no preacher has yet been obtained for the evening service. Unless a preacher is secured for that service by tomorrow, there will be no church Sunday night.

Judge R. P. F. Von Minden, as a member of the State Board of Agriculture, is interested in that body's action against seed adulturators. At a recent meeting of the board he took part in the discussion that resulted in the crusade against the bunco seedsmen. The farmers of this vicinity are, of course, watching the progress of the movement closely.

Friendship Lodge is arranging to present the Gold Medal Minstrel troupe, of Plainfield, at Friendship Hall. The assistant manager of the troupe made preliminary arrangements for the show Tuesday night. The lodge was anxious to book the show two nights, but the troupe could only promise to give one date.

Susan Harrison, an inmate of the Plainfield Industrial Home, well known about the borough, was arrested yesterday by order of Judge Campbell, for disorderly conduct on the streets. She is half-witted, and instead of arraigning her, the kindly recorder sent her back to the institution in a hack.

All the trouble at the Aluminum Press works shop over the no-smoking order has died away. The order still stands, and the men have become used to the new arrangement. Smoking is allowed in the wash room and the hands get what comfort they can out of that privilege.

Plans are being made by Court Dunellen for an entertainment to be held the last meeting night of the month. The committee in charge is made up of Bert Brandon, Dr. Brakeley and John Peters, Sr.

The members of the Holy Name Society are forming a debating team to go to St. Joseph's church, North Plainfield, next Sunday night, to meet a combination of that parish.

Rev. A. S. Phelps, rector of Holy Innocents' church, is suffering from a severe grip cold and will be unable to conduct services this week. He is much in need of recuperation.

The Young People's Social Club, a Piscataway organization, will meet at the home of Miss Fannie Giles Saturday night.

The Lawlor family have moved from Mrs. Fisher's boarding house to the Siriski building.

Dr. Brakeley is having his store exterior repainted. The color is a soft gray.

Confirmation class will meet at St. John's church this afternoon, for instruction.

Dr. Platt was in New York yesterday.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Recorder Charles Sheelen, of the borough, gave two hoboes 30 days apiece yesterday morning. The knights of the road were picked up by Officer Logan, while they were enjoying life around their camp fire near the railroad. Recorder Sheelen thought that 30 days with Warden Dodd would give them both a chance to get cleaned up and enjoy a rest for a time.

William Collins, a former well known resident of this place and the borough, died at his home in Brooklyn Sunday night. Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon from the home. The deceased is survived by a widow and five sons, W. E., George (city accountant, Plainfield), John, Elliott T. and Thomas R.

Miss Egan, of the corps of teachers, is still ill at her home in Plainfield, suffering from a severe attack of tonsilitis. During her absence Mrs. Thomas M. Paff, Jr., is acting as substitute teacher.

Tickets are selling fast for the minstrels in the hall tomorrow night, and from present indications Excelsior Hook and Ladder Co.'s treasury will be enriched by a neat little sum.

Fanwood Bucket and Engine Company met last night. Only the regular monthly business was transacted.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Gere, of Brooklyn, have moved into the Meyers cottage on Westfield avenue.

Twilight Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., meets tonight in the Library rooms.

Mrs. Isaac Ryno has been entertaining her mother from Westfield.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

The new house being built for M. W. Payne, on Clinton avenue is approaching completion. Mr. Payne and family expect to reside in the new building when it is finished.

The annual parish meeting of the Baptist church will be held Saturday afternoon, April 7, at 2:30. Reports will be read, trustees elected and other business transacted.

The old house occupied by Samuel Pyatt is being repaired. The house is more than one hundred years old.

A son has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Goff, of Maple avenue.

Mrs. W. K. Mackey, of East Seventh street, has returned home after an extended trip to Cuba.

Rev. A. S. Peck, of St. Stephen's church, Netherwood, has entirely recovered from a severe illness.

Scene in "McFadden's Flats," at New Plainfield Theatre This Afternoon and Evening.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

"McFadden's Flats," brightly new and furnished with a glittering new outfit of scenery, costumes, music, jokes and pretty girls, will be the welcome attraction at the New Plainfield theatre this afternoon and tonight. This clever farce comedy, written by E. W. Townsend and Glen MacDonough, as is well known, was suggested by the famous pictures and sketches known as the "Yellow Kids." It has been one of the most successful entertainments ever staged and has made a fortune for its management, which has, therefore, not hesitated at a lavish expenditure on this season's production. In the company are a number of star entertainers, among whom may be mentioned Mlle. Floretta, Marion Henry, the Preston Sisters, May Baker, Allie Barbiear, Annie Muller, Marie Donoghue, Billy Barry, Chas. Gramlich, the Speck Brothers and Joe Deming. There will be many clever specialties introduced during the performance and the latest and best popular music of the day will be heard.

Too little is known nowadays of the noble work that the Salvation Army is doing daily and nightly in the slums of great cities like New York and London. James Kyrle MacCurdy, in "The Old Clothes Man," which appears at the New Plainfield theatre tomorrow evening, shows the self-sacrificing work done by the army of God, performing their noble duties in a manner at once interesting and fascinating. The great scene in "The Old Clothes Man" is night life in the slums of New York, in which is graphically unveiled the army's workers rescuing the fallen and helpless. It is artistically depicted in a manner to wring the heart and open the eyes of that half of the world that never knows how the other half lives, and has thoroughly aroused the press and public to announce in unison that the stage, when used for such carefully enacted scenes as described above is one of the most powerful mediums for the elevation of good.

The coming of the Countess Olga von Hatzfeldt to this city in "The Little Duchess," in which she is now appearing, will be welcome news to the theatregoers of this city and vicinity. The Countess has in the role of the little duchess one of the most congenial that she has held in all her theatrical career, and with her petite and charming manners, her clever and characteristic style of acting, she will prove herself a decided favorite here as she does in the larger cities where she has appeared so much. The musical comedy in which the Countess makes her appearance here is DeKoven and Smith's "The Little Duchess," in which Anna Held appeared so successfully for a time. The cast is one of exceptional merit and is composed of clever people. The chorus is of the beauty class and was chosen for its fitness to sing and dance and to perform accurately and cleverly the many evolutions required of it. In every way the piece is one of the best now before the public and up to the present time has pleased immensely wherever it has been presented.

One of the features of Lyman H. Howe's ever new and welcome Lifeorama at the New Plainfield theatre next Monday night reveals not merely the appalling hazards of mountain climbing, but also every soaring pinnacle, every mighty chasm, every broad, deep crevasse, the sheer snow slopes, the yawning abysses and awful precipices that encounter the climbers at every step. To ascend, cross and surmount them seems utter madness. Yet so graphic is this reproduction that the spectator watches their progress with bated breath as they pass from marvel to marvel and finally reach the dizzy heights of that monarch of European peaks—the Wetterhorn. Rooted to the spot, motionless, mute with surprise, awe and wonder, every spectator of this wonderful exhibition can share the reward of the patience, endurance and bravery of the climbers and behold with them the resplendent glory of the most magnificent spectacle that man ever contemplated—the abodes of silence and majesty radiant with the living rose tint of the roof of the world.

BOOREAM TAKES HIS SEAT ON THE BENCH

FORMALLY SWORN IN AS COMMON PLEAS COURT JUDGE OF MIDDLESEX.

New Brunswick, April 5.—Theodore Booraem was formally inducted to the office of Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Middlesex county, at the beginning of the April term Tuesday. The occasion was marked by tributes to the retiring judge, Woodbrige Strong, by Supreme Court Justice Fort and by former Judge J. Kearney Rice, on behalf of the bar of Middlesex county. In the court room were Judge Booraem's sister, Mrs. Richardson; her son, Alan Richardson, and Mr. Booraem's brother-in-law, Rev. H. J. Scudder. On the desk was a large bouquet of a horseshoe of roses and orchids from John T. Brady, of Elizabeth. The oaths were administered by County Clerk Conger. Justice Fort then formally introduced Judge Booraem to the county bar.

Justice Fort said in part: "It is with personal pleasure that I greet Judge Booraem as my associate in the courts of this county this morning. I bespeak for him your support and confidence. This I am sure you will give him.

"I am confident that Judge Booraem will bring to his duties in this large and prosperous county not only ability and experience, but a conscientious purpose to do the right in all his judicial acts. The bar can help him much, and I trust it will be your aim and purpose to do so."

Former Judge Rice then read a resolution commenting on Judge Strong's long and faithful service, which was adopted. Then Justice Fort spoke again. He said in part:

"It is eminently proper that the minute just presented should find a place upon the permanent records of this court, over which Woodbridge Strong presided for so many years. Judge Strong is of the old school class of lawyers, and I am quite ready to accept the statement that the new school, if that is what those who are now upon the scene of action may be called, have much to learn from the old school.

"Judge Strong will carry the good wishes of the bench and bar of this county with him into his retirement. After all, the best that can be said of us in old age is that our life has been honorable, kindly and just, and that our fellow-citizens recognize that we have lived a life of usefulness.

"The minute presented will be ordered entered upon the minutes of the Court of Common Pleas, and the clerk will be requested to send to Judge Strong a certified copy thereof under the seal of the court, and I am sure that there will go with it the wishes of us all for his continued health and happiness in these days of the winter of life."

STRIKE FELT IN JERSEY.

Central Railroad Laying Off Men—Merchants May Suffer.

Hampton April 5.—Already the effects of the miners' strike is being felt here. The Central Railroad yesterday closed its telegraph office, and a number of trainmen have been laid off.

Similar conditions are said to exist all along the line. A number of men employed on coal trains running between Port Johnston and Mauch Chunk live here, and more than a dozen of these employes have been laid off, as the railroad company has no work for them. A large force of laborers are being employed at the coal storage plant, reloading coal to be shipped to tidewater. The storage plant will, it is said, work night and day, commencing next week. It is estimated that over 1,000,000 tons of coal is lying in the half dozen mountain-like heaps at the storage plant, which is equipped with machinery for reloading the coal into cars. Railroad men say that four to five trainloads can be shipped from here every twenty-four hours when the plant is worked to its full capacity. A railroad men said yesterday morning that the company anticipated a long siege, and that the strike would probably affect two hundred employes along the line of the road, who would be laid off for lack of something to do. Locomotives are being stored, and the tracks at interlocking switch plants have been spiked and signal towers abandoned until after the strike is settled. Merchants and other business men at railroad centres will suffer.

—The Plainfield High School mandolin and glee club orchestra will give its annual summer entertainment at the new High School on Tuesday night, April 17.

J. A. Smith, of Central avenue, is improved from an illness that has detained him at home several days.

NEW TROLLEY LINE FROM IRVINGTON TO ELIZABETH.

Essex Cross Railway Co. Gets Franchise After Three Years' Effort.

Elizabeth, April 5.—Elizabeth's Board of Alderman, Tuesday, after the matter had hung fire three years, finally granted an amended franchise to the Essex Cross Railway Company to enter the city with its road and connect with the Public Service. The new road will run through part of Union and Essex counties to Irvington.

The chief cause of delay was that the company, after getting the privilege, did not have the necessary money to construct the street railroad. When this obstacle was removed then the Elizabeth aldermen insisted on certain changes being made in the route by which the trolley line would come into the city, and this caused another prolonged hitch. The road, when completed, will bring people living in Irvington and other points along the line to the heart of the business section of Elizabeth.

Patent Medicine Bill Hearing.

Trenton, April 5.—There was a hearing yesterday afternoon on Senator Cornish's bill to compel druggists and patent medicine manufacturers to put labels on their packages stating what the ingredients are. The editor of a monthly publication was the principal advocate of the bill. He gave testimony that those proprietary medicine men who had put the formula on their bottles had increased their sales, and not lost, as some of them contended. The Rev. Dr. Hundley, of Long Branch; Dr. Newton, of Montclair, and Dr. Evans, of the Morris Plains Asylum, also argued for the measure.

County Bar Organizes.

New Brunswick, April 5.—At a meeting of the Middlesex county lawyers at the Court House yesterday afternoon the Middlesex County Bar Association was formed. Ex-Judge J. K. Rice was chosen president; City Attorney C. C. Hommann, of Perth Amboy, vice-president; George S. Silzer, secretary, and Judge T. B. Booraem, treasurer. The association will give a dinner to ex-Judge Strong and Judge Booraem on April 23, to which Justice Fort, Judge Heisley and ex-Judge Collins will be invited.

Real Estate Transfers.

Aged Farmer Hangs Himself.

Belvidere, April 5.—Levi Lightcap, a farmer, living in Lower Mt. Bethel Township, Pa., along the Delaware River, a short distance from here, committeed suicide yesterday by hanging in the wagon-house. He was about sixty years old and a bachelor. He leaves three brothers and one sister, the latter, Mrs. Davis, living in Belvidere. It is thought money matters caused worrimen that drove him to suicide.

HOUSE PASSES BILL FOR WOMAN'S REFORMATORY.

But Two Votes Recorded Against It, Those of Speaker Robbins and Mr. Morris.

Trenton, April 5.—With no one speaking against it and only Speaker Robbins and Mr. Morris, the leader of the Democratic forlorn hope, voting against it, the bill for the establishment of a woman's reformatory passed the House yesterday afternoon. When the measure was laid before the House Mr. Perkins, who introduced it, said that every member of the House was interested in the reformation of women who were convicted of crime. The bill carried no appropriation, he explained, but simply provided that such an institution should be established in the State. He spoke of the good work which was being done by the reformatory for men at Rahway, and said that the day was coming when the State Prison would be the smaller institution and its place would be taken by the reformatories. Mr. Perkins expressed the hope that every member would vote for the bill.

Mr. Berg, of Hudson, spoke earnestly for the bill, and then the vote was taken.

MUST GET NEW FRANCHISE.

Summit Council So Decides in Case of Morris Traction Company.

Summit, April 5.—A long session of the Common Council, at which a great amount of routine work was transacted, was held in the City Hall Tuesday night. The special trolley committee reported that because of the final passage by the Legislature of the limited franchise bill it would be necessary for the Morris County Traction Company to file a new application for a franchise here.

Contracts were awarded for sidewalk work as follows: Mountain avenue, to W. P. Fleming, whose bid was $698.38; Waldron avenue, to Miele & Bruno Co., $1,303.75; Hobart avenue, to Miele & Bruno, $254.56; Elm street, to Charles L. Pitts Company, $604, and Franklin place, to W. P. Fleming, $77.30. The street committee recommended that hereafter all requests from property owners for permission to construct sidewalks along their land be granted if the request is filed before the city has decided to do the work. A motion to that effect was adopted. The same committee declared that the Rahway Valley Railroad is maintaining an unsightly structure at Ashwood avenue, and a motion to notify the company to remove it was adopted.

JAMES L. HAYS RE-ELECTED.

Atlantic City, April 5.—James L. Hays, of Newark, president of the New Jersey State Board of Education for the last twelve years, has been re-elected at the annual meeting of the board at the Hotel Chalfonte. William Edwin Florence, of New Brunswick, was made vice-president. Professor Louis Bevier, Jr., of New Brunswick, was reappointed State Inspector of High Schools, and State Comptroller J. Willard Morgan, of Camden, the oldest member of the board, was named to act as treasurer of the State School for the Deaf. J. Bingham Woodward, of Bordentown, will serve in the same capacity for the State Normal School, the Colored Industrial School at Bordentown and the Farnum Preparatory School.

The State board deferred until June the appointment of a successor to Overseer Tilton, of Ocean county, and authorized the Paterson High School to adopt manual training. The High Schools of Hammonton and Hackettstown received permission to take up commercial courses.

REDISTRICTING IS BEATEN

Martin Scares South Jersey Assemblymen Who Oppose It.

ACCUSE ESSEX MAN

Perkins and Hoagland Among Those Who Help Defeat the Measure —Motion to Reconsider Lost.

The Assembly Redistricting bill was beaten in the House at Trenton yesterday by a vote of 25 to 26. William P. Martin, Assemblyman from Essex, did the trick in a very clever way, if that was his object. He said that while the bill was a slap in the face of the progressive Republicans of Essex county, he should support the measure because he believed it was a step toward the ultimate election of state Senators by districts. This statement arouse the South Jersey members, who saw the ghost of Senatorial election by Representatives looming up, so they turned in and voted in the opposition. Mr. Miller, of Cumberland, said he was opposed to the bill because it was for the benefit of the Republican faction in Essex and Hudson and for James Smith, Jr., the Democratic leader.

Drake, Vanderveer, Marelli, Hicks and Elvins also spoke against the bill. After the vote had been taken and the bill lost, a motion to reconsider was tabled. Later on an attempt was made to kill the bill for good.

Miller moved to reconsider the vote, and Cruthers moved to lay the motion on the table. Then some time afterward Marelli moved to take the motion to reconsider from the table. Leader Perkins was on his feet and tried to dissuade Marelli from pressing his point. While this talk was in progress Perkins suddenly changed his tactics and moved to take a recess.

There was an uproar and the members gathered in groups on the floor until the Speaker rapped vigorously for order. The roll was called on the motion to take a recess, and it was carried by a vote of 29 to 21. The negatives votes on the bill were cast by Berg, Cottell, Coyle, Drake, Elvins, Firth, Gibbs, Hock, Henry, Hoagland, Holcombe, Hunt, Frick, Kayser, Mabie, Marelli, Miller, Morris, Perkins, Prince, Reed, Robbins, Roeber, Serbe, Van Derveer, and Wright.

The leaders are disturbed and apparently indignant over the result. They seem to think Martin was responsible, and talk of having a caucus called not only to arrange for the reconsideration of the bill, but also to get even with the Essex leader by restoring the original lines in Essex prepared by Major Lentz and his county committee. The bill to regulate the reconstruction and maintenance of pound nets, similar to the measure that comes up regularly every session, was beaten in the House. The bill was strongly opposed by Reed and Henry and Monmouth county, and was lost by a vote of 20 to 26.

Mr. Wright introduced a bill authorizing mayors of cities having from 100,000 to 200,000 inhabitants to appoint boards of finance, of public works, of fire and of police, each board to consist of four persons, not more than two on each board to be members of either political party, at salaries of $500 each a year. The finance board is to have charge of all financial matters and public works, of all streets, real estate, etc., in place of a board of aldermen. The bill applies only to Paterson.

The House yesterday afternoon passed the following bills:

Creating the Borough of Roosevelt in Middlesex county, the Camden Municipal Ownership bill, the Jersey City Firehouse bill and the three Hillery bills that passed the Senate granting additional privileges and placing extra duties upon Circuit Court judges.

The House passed the Mosquito bill by a vote of 40 to 8.

The Speaker appointed Assemblymen H. D. Thompson, Elvins and Warren as House members of the joint committee under the resolution naming two Senators and three Assemblymen to urge upon Congress the improvement of the inlets along the coast.

The House adjourned for the week last night, despite a great deal of opposition. It begins to look as though a majority of the members wanted to keep in session until the June roses are in bloom.

To Wash the Street.

Councilman William L. Gloak, chairman of the street committee, is planning for the weekly flushing of the brick pavement on Watchung avenue, between North avenue and Second street. During the course of the week a considerable amount of dirt and rubbish collects in that block despite the fact that the street men do their best in attempting to keep the street clean by constant sweeping.

Mrs. John Manley, of Park avenue, left yesterday by the Old Dominion Line for Washington and Norfolk, where she will visit for several days. She will return home by the Pennsylvania Railroad.

General Information. What To Buy. Where To Buy.

OPPOSE THE COUNTY TAXING BOARD SCHEME.

Newark's City Attorney and a Trentonian Slash the Avis Bill.

Trenton, April 5.—The House Judiciary Committee worked overtime Tuesday night, for when the Assembly adjourned soon after 6 o'clock it sat for two long, weary hours listening to arguments for or against Senator Avis' County Board of Equalization of Taxes and Mr. Martin's measure for the abolishment of grade crossings.

John P. Dullard, president of the Trenton Tax Board, appeared to speak on the equalization board measure. He objected to the provision of the bill which compels the filing of the original assessment list and duplicate on the second Tuesday in July. It would be a physical impossibility, he declared, for the assessors in the larger cities to complete their work by that time. The Trenton man also objected to the provision that the county board should be permitted to retain the original assessment lists. He advocated an amendment to the bill that there should be no appeal to the county board from individual assessment in cases where the assessment was not greater than that for the preceding year unless the appeal had first been made to the local board.

In speaking on the general subjection of taxation, Mr. Dullard objected to the provision in the general tax law permitting deductions for debt and declared that until such deductions were disallowed there never would be anything like good work in assessing personal property.

Mr. Dullard was followed by Malcom MacLear, city attorney of Newark, who agreed with almost everything he had said. It would be impossible, he declared, for Newark to get its duplication ready by ythe second Tuesday in July, as the city did not get its field work done by that time. The board appointed by the bill would have no place to keep its records and people from distant parts of the county would have to come to Newark to consult the lists for their municipalities. Newark, he said, objected to the bill because it gave the proposed county boards the same power now vested in the State Board of Equalization. It was further objected to because it gave the county boards more power than it gave the State board, namely, the right to lower assessments.

He agreed with Mr. Dullard that before people were put to the expense of going to the county boards they should have the opportunity of having their appeals considered by the local boards.

Mr. MacLear objected to Section 8, which provides for separate columns for various items of taxation, and said that the experience of Newark had been that it was better to lump the items referred to.

Chairman Perkins asked why that had been placed in the bill, and Mr. Dullard replied that there was no sense at all in the provision. Mr. MacLear further objected to Section 10, which abolishes the board now charged wit hthe duty of reviewing taxes on appeal, saying that in Newark the board which reviewed the assessments was the same board which made them, and he claimed that that section would abolish the city's present Board of Assessors. That there was a difference of opinion on that subject he admitted; still he thought that the act should be so amended as to remove all doubt.

Mr. MacLear further agreed with Mr. Dullard that property owners should not be allowed to swear off taxes for debt. Section 4 of the bill, he thought, was too drastic, as it practically made the local assessors servants or employes of the county board. In Newark they had a board of five experienced men who were thoroughly acquainted with the duties of their office and in whom the citizens had confidence, and he thought that they should not be placed under the new board. He also thought that the bill should be modified to meet the objections raised against it.

VARIED PROGRAMME AT U. V. U. BOX SOCIABLE

SPEECHES OF HISTORICAL CHARACTER AMONG THE NUMBERS.

The Union Veterans' Union held a box sociable at its rooms in the Pittis building, East Front street, last night. It was largely attended and a marked success.

There was a long and varied programme of entertainment. It went as follows:

Opening address, by Col. Edward E. Townley; remarks by General John R. Neilor, on the workings of the union of the Union Veterans' Union; selections by Albert Neilor's orchestra; song, "Camping on the Old Camp Ground," Col. Edward Townley, Gen. Perry and Comrade Bowman; remarks, Comrade Henry C. Drake, on the service of the army in preserving the Union; an old-time song, Comrade H. C. Seaman, of Elizabeth, "Lather and Shay;" remarks, C. M. Raybert, on the valuable service done in the War of the Rebellion by members of the Union Veterans' Union; remarks, Col. Perry, on the cruel treatment of General Worth at Andersonville; solo by Miss Lydia Edgar; poem, Edward E. Vanderweg; dialogue, Col. Neilor, Albert G. Perry, Lewis Willett and Henry Frazee, the latter in blackface costume, creating intense amusement; stereopticon views, Albert Neilor; remarks, President Alexander McMunn, Reform Club.

The committee in charge: Edward Townley, Lewis Willett and John R. Neilor. The affair was as successful financiall as in other respects.

Troublesome Question at Plainfield.

A question recently arose at Plainfield, N. J., as to the appointment of an assistant chief, which savors very much of politics and tends to impair the existing good discipline of the fire department. The force consists of one chief, one assistant chief, ten men and three captains, all full paid. Besides these there are one assistant chief, one captain, twenty-three men and one engineer of steamer on the call list. Some discussion arose, in which a lot of busybodies took part, as to the appointment of the call Assistant Chief John Cose being the nominee for the place. His name was twice submitted to the Council, but failed to carry the number of votes to elect; consequently, no appointment was made. An ordinance was then introduced in Council to abolish the position of second assistant, and it went to a third reading of that body. The argument was made that, as an assistant call chief no great good could be accomplished by continuing that office, more especially as his time was his own, and he could be away from the city, when, possibly, his services might be required. At the third reading some snag was run against, the threat being made that, unless the second assistant named was not appointed and the office abolished, a raise of insurance rates would be made. This stopped action for the time being; but it is learned that such senseless talk emanated from an insurance broker, who was interested in Cose's appointment, but had no authority to speak for the National Board of Fire Underwriters. For a city of the size of Plainfield there is no immediate need of two assistant chiefs, and, no doubt, Council will pass the ordinance to preserve the excellent reputation and fine discipline of the department. Chief Doane is one of the best men in the fire service of New Jersey, and it is a fact that he is opposed to any politics hampering his work—a stand in which he should be supported by all the people of that prosperous Jersey city.—Fire and Water Engineering.

SPEAKER CHIDES TUCKER.

Union Assemblyman Had Been Lured From the House to the Senate.

Trenton, April 5—The House rested from its labors Tuesday afternoon for a few minutes to have a little pleasantry with Mr. Tucker, of Union. Mr. Perkins introduced a resolution directing the sergeant-at-arms to produce Assemblyman Everard Tucker before the bar of the House. The sergeant disappeared and in a short time produced the Union man as desired.

In violation of the rules of the House, while the House was under a call, Mr. Perkins said Mr. Tucker had absented himself from the Assembly chamber in order, as was believed, to escape voting upon the woman's reformatory bill. He moved that the gentleman from Union be reprimanded by the Speaker.

"My only excuse it," said Mr. Tucker, meekly, "that I was so interested in the 'bishops' bill' that I went over to the Senate to see how it was getting along."

The gentleman must remember, the Speaker said, that the business of the House came first with him and he was impressively informed that he must not commit the offense again.

Passenger Has Narrow Escape.

Rahway, April 5.—An unidentified man in boarding a moving train here yesterday came in contact with the Cherry street gates, ripping his coat completely through from collar to hem. The man collapsed after getting inside the car. The alarm bell on the bar was rung by the force of the impact.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

Howe's moving pictures, which left a very favorable impression when shown here earlier in the season, are booked for the New Plainfield Monday night.

Tonight's the night and don't forget it. "McFadden's Flats" is the attraction and it is for the benefit of Treasurer Sam Cunningham. Fall in line and make it a rousing ope.

Lovers of musical comedy should keep "The Little Duchess" in mind. It is one of the largest companies of its kind on the road and has enough leading people in it to supply three organizations of the ordinary run.

That three round bout specialty in "The Old Clothes Man" Friday night looks good to us. It's a novelty, to be sure, and the reputation of the contestants is well known to Plainfield sports. It ought to draw a good house.

Here's a sample of the jokes rung off in "McFadden's Flats," the laughing show: "Why is a clock like a vain and pretty chorus girl?" "Because it is all face and figure; has no head to speak of; is hard to stop when once it is wound up; and has a striking way of calling attention to itself every hour in the day."

Next season at the New Plainfield theatre will be one that will make even the oldest local playgoer sit up and take notice. Manager Counihan has already booked sixty big shows and the list includes some Broadway stars who used to think Plainfield was a "tall grass" town. None of them come too high for this city now—fact of the matter is they are trotting in of their own accord and asking for time. Which all goes to show that nothing succeeds like success.

CLOSED PORTALS.

The sewing circle of Mizpah Lodge met at the home of Mrs. Randolph, Elmwood place, yesterday afternoon. A social time and refreshments were enjoyed.

Mrs. Brown, daughter of the late Mrs. Susan Whitney, of West Front street, left yesterday for Olympia, Washington Territory, where she will spend the summer.

AN ORDINANCE

to lay out and open a portion of Denmark Road.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That the portion of the street known as Denmark road, shown on map on file in the office of the City Clerk, entitled "Application Map to Lay Out and Open Denmark Road, from the southeasterly side of Berkeley Avenue to a point two feet northwest of the northwesterly line of property owned by David Hand, City of Plainfield, N. J., February, 1906," as already layed out, opened and dedicated to the public, be and the same is hereby accepted as a public street of said city.

Adopted by the Common Council April 2, 1906; approved by the Mayor April 2, 1906.

J. F. BUCKLE, Mayor.

Attest: J. T. MacMurray, City Clerk.

will be held in Jr. O. U. A. M. Hall on Monday evening, April 9th, at 8 o'clock.

State Secretary Wm. H. Miers and other speakers will be present.

The Charter List will be open for signers.

Admission by card only, which can be procured from Daniel G. Van Winkle, Ellis Emory or P. H. Bennett.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning April 8.

By REV. S. H. DOYLE.

Topic.—Our pledge and how to keep it. —Matt. xxviii. 20; Eccl. v, 1-7; Ps. ii, 6.

The Christian Endeavor pledge is an old subject for discussion, and yet must be one that is ever new. New generations of Endeavorers are coming on who need instruction upon this important instrument, and older ones not infrequently become careless and indifferent to the pledge and need to be exhorted to new faithfulness. The old cry that the pledge cannot be kept should be forever silenced. Any young Christian who is sincere and conscientious can perfectly keep the Endeavor pledge. It is all conditional. Every article is conditional upon the strength of Christ and our own consciences. We pledge ourselves to do certain things, "trusting in the Lord Jesus Christ for strength" and upon the further condition that we have a conscientious excuse to give to Him for nonperformance of our pledged obligations. Christ will never fail us. If we have no good reason for not doing what we have promised, we can do it, and that is all there is to it. No one pledges himself to absolute attendance upon the meetings. That would be folly. We might be sick or have a good reason for absence from the meeting. In such cases we would not be breaking the pledge in staying away. Nor does any one pledge absolute, ironclad participation in the meeting. Conscientious absence would make taking part impossible, and we could be present even and have conscientious excuses to give to Christ for not taking part in the meeting. No one is always in a fitting mood to participate in a religious service. Let us do away with the nonsense that has so frequently prevailed concerning the pledge and see in it a common sense Christian compact, not demanding the impossible, but asking only what any conscientious young person who loves Christ and wants to serve Him can keep even to perfection.

But that we may not be careless and indifferent we frequently need exhortation upon the subject. Duties that are possible of fulfillment are not always performed. Many do not depend upon Christ for strength. Ofttimes our excuses for not keeping the pledge are weak and tame. We would not dare even to ourselves, much less to Christ, to call them conscientious excuses. Many Endeavorers ought to be heartily ashamed of themselves for the trivial excuses they give for not keeping the pledge and for the silly pretexts for which they neglect pledged obligations. Their excuses are no excuses, and they should stand self condemned as well as Christ condemned.

But what will help us to keep the pledge?

1. We should know what we are doing when we take the pledge. No obligation should be lightly taken, much less one to God. God "desireth truth in the inward parts," and if we seriously consider the pledge within before we take it we will be more apt to keep it outwardly when we have taken it. If we have lightly taken it let us not desert the society or recall our vows, but at this time give it serious consideration and keep it. It is better to keep it than to recall it.

2. Depend upon Christ for help in keeping the pledge. All power has been given unto Him. He is with you always and you "can do all things through Christ, who strengtheneth you." Don't depend upon yourself, but lean hard upon Him, and the seemingly heavy burden will become light, and what seems impossible will readily become possible. Buttress your pledge with prayer and you will not only find it a possible performance, but a pleasurable one.

BIBLE READINGS.

Gen. xxviii, 20-22; Num. xxi, 1-3; xxx, 1, 2; Deut. xxiii, 21; Eccl. v, 4, 5; Ps. i, 14; cxxxii, 1-5; I Cor. x, 31; Gal. vi, 9, 10; Jas. i, 22-27; Rev. ii, 10.

"Inasmuch as Ye Have Done It."

Some Russian immigrants were stranded by some misunderstanding at Newcastle, England. After they had waited for hours in their isolation and anxiety they were found by some Endeavorers, who at once took charge of them, sheltered and fed them and sent them on their way rejoicing. A capital illustration of the international fellowship of the movement.

The Will! The Will!*

[Christian Endeavor anniversary hymn.]

Around the world the chorus rings,
And hands are joined with hands;
A brotherhood of service sings
In all the happy lands,
And blithe they sound the watchword still
That ever has sufficed—
"The will, the will, the blessed will,
The will of Jesus Christ!"

In crowded town or lonely plain,
'Mid many friends or few,
With man's applause or man's disdain,
To one allegiance true,
That sole desire their hearts could fill,
Though all the earth enticed—
The will, the will, the precious will,
The will of Jesus Christ!

When proud Ambition gilds her goal,
When Ease to slumber calls,
When silken Mammon lures the soul
To rainbow tinted halls,
The brotherhood of service still
Exalts the Pearl unpriced—
The will, the will, the holy will,
The will of Jesus Christ!

And when at last the golden years
Have brought the crowning day,
When toil and trial, pain and fears,
Forever pass away,
Upon the summit of the hill
Is One that keepeth tryst—
'Tis He, the Will, the living Will,
Our Master Jesus Christ!

* This striking hymn is from the pen of the talented managing editor of the Christian Endeavor World, Amos R. Wells, and was written for the quarter century number of that paper. It is copyrighted by the Golden Rule company and is here reproduced by permission.

CLEANLY WOMAN.

Erroneously Thinks by Scouring Her Scalp That She Cures Dandruff.

Cleanly woman has an erroneous idea that by scouring the scalp, which removes the dandruff scales, she is curing the dandruff. She may wash her scalp every day, and yet have dandruff her life long, accompanied by falling hair, too. The only way in the world to cure dandruff is to kill the dandruff germ, and there is no hair preparation that will do that but Newbro's Herpicide. Herpicide by killing the dandruff germ, leaves the hair free to grow as healthy Nature intended. Destroy the cause you remove the effect. Kill the dandruff germ with Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

April 8: "The Cost of Service"—Matt. xviii. 24, 25; Luke ix. 23; Mark x. 21; Rom. vi. 6; Gal. vi. 14; v. 24.

By REV. WALTER J. YATES, D. D.

"If any man would come after Me, let him deny himself and take up his cross daily and follow Me."

It is very clear to any one who reads the New Testament at all attentively that the kind of life there set forth as the true one for all men to live is far different from that which the great mass of people around us are now living.

It is equally clear that Jesus did live just the kind of life which He taught was the only right one for men to live and the one which God intended for every one.

It is further very evident that the noblest and most worthy life we have ever heard of was that of Jesus Christ. Though He never accumulated great riches, never was a power in political circles nor great in military affairs or in any other of the ordinary ways in which men become influential and famous, yet His was the most satisfactory of any life ever lived on the earth and more profoundly effective for good in the affairs of men than any other which can be produced from the past of human history. He was the manliest of men. His ideal was the loftiest attainable, and He achieved His ideal completely and was gloriously triumphant and satisfied. He succeeded, succeeded completely in what He attempted. He penetrated to the secret of life, found out God, revealed Him to men and secured the enthusiastic love of men.

But it cost. It took all there was of Him and in Him. There was neither time nor strength for anything else.

Would you be like Him? It is the only course worth while for you. But consider what it will cost. It will take all there is of and in you; all your time and strength. But it is worth all it costs.

It will cost the crucifixion of every lust and evil passion and the building of every pure affection and worthy interest. It will mean the repression of every appetite and desire for the selfish, the sordid, the sensual and base and the cultivation of every taste for the friendly, the generous, the reasonable and godlike. It will require every possible exertion of every power. First it must mean an honest, full souled acceptance of the leadership of Jesus Christ regardless of where it may lead and what it will cost. It is self abandonment to His direction absolutely and then patient, obedient following wherever He leads.

At the end it means glorious manhood and womanhood and victorious achievement of all that is best.

Will you pay the cost?

Right Time For Kindness.

In life, not death,
Hearts need fond words to help them on their way;
Need tender thoughts and gentle sympathy,
Caresses, pleasant looks, to cheer each passing day.
Then heaped them not until they useless be;
In life, not death,
Speak kindly; living hearts need sympathy.

"I didn't think," is what people say ofttimes when they suddenly become aware of the pain which some heedless act or careless word of theirs has given to a gentle heart. Too often our thoughtfulness is an afterthought. The problem is to get it to its true place, where it will become motive and inspiration to gentleness instead of pain and penitence over a failure in love's duty. We would do well to get our kindnesses done while they will do good, giving cheer and encouragement and not keeping them back till there is no need for them.—J. R. Miller, D. D., in Christian Work and Evangelist.

Christ's True Kingliness.

This is a point on which Christians of every age have been apt to err. We divide the life of Jesus into two states—a state of humiliation and a state of exaltation—and we apply the former term to His mission of sacrifice. Now, if I were asked to put my hand on the most aspiring effort of the life of Jesus, I should point to that moment in which He attempted the valley of sacrifice. Christians habitually refer to His miracles as the sign of His divinity, to His cross as the sign of His humanity. To me the attempt to bear the cross is quite the most regal feature, the most ambitious feature, in the portrait of Jesus.—Rev. George Matheson, D. D.

Golden Grains.

Character determines condition.
Life is ever more than literature.
Strength comes through struggle.
Feeding malice is fostering murder.
Men differ not so much in their faith as in their phrases.
Sin is no more essential to salvation than disease to health.
Separations come from setting up your fad as another man's faith.
The best time to attend to your neighbor's affairs is in your sleep.
When a man falls in love with heaven he learns how to love this earth.

An Exhaustless Possession.

Love is the only possession of which the more one gives the less thereof he parts with.—Ivan Panin.

My Creed.

Not one holy day, but seven.
Worshiping not at the call of a bell, but at the call of my soul.
Singing not at the baton's sway, but to the rhythm in my heart.
Loving because I must.
Giving because I cannot keep.
Doing for the joy of it.

"My Little Book of Prayer," by Muriel Strode.

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

Are you seeking for a reliable expressman? You will find him in A. E. Hoagland, Park avenue.

Clean up your pores and get in tune for spring. Get a Turkish bath at Brookside Sanitarium, Somerset street.

Have your carpenter work, big or little, done by M. D. O'Keeffe, West Fourth street. He is expert and reasonable as to cost.

I. N. Wyckoff, of West Front street, painter and decorator, is very busy these days. Better let him estimate on your work.

Time to have your spring clothes and overcoat cleaned and pressed, and A. LeVine, of Watchung avenue, will do this work promptly and at reasonable prices.

When you get ready to move let William Hand & Sons, of East Second street, do the work. The firm has large vans and employs only careful and experienced men.

Pure milk and cream are always promised by dealers, but not always delivered. Marchant Bros., North avenue, make promise and product dovetail. Fresh eggs at the prevailing rate.

Your last year's spring suit, madam, will be as good as new if you have it cleaned. Maybe dyeing will do it more good. Mary A. Brown, West Second street, can do either to it expertly.

Look here: If you find the same people going to the same store time and again and other people following suit, you have reason to believe it is a popular place and justly popular. Well, that's Peck's, West Front street.

Get the habit of saving. Get it now! Start an account in the Plainfield Trust Company. If you are looking for a place to pile idle money or your small weekly surplus, the special account is the haven for you. Look into it. Do it now.

A. M. Griffen, the East Front street hardware dealer, has received a choice supply of garden seeds and is prepared to meet the demands for garden and farming implements. The housefurnishing department is replete with bargains, while the stock of hardware and builders' materials is large.

Woodhull & Martin, the dry goods firm, is prepared for a large spring and summer trade. For several weeks new goods have been received daily and they are now being put on sale. Every department in this fine store is just brimful of these goods and it is well worth the time of a shopper to inspect them. The carpet department on the first floor offers a large variety of fine carpets and rugs, while the housefurnishing department in the basement is the mecca for the women folks who are looking for useful articles in this line.

GOTHAM'S AMUSEMENTS

New Amsterdam theatre. Last appearance in or near New York this season of Richard Mansfield. Tonight, 8:15, Ivan the Terrible. Tomorrow night, Don Carlos. Saturday matinee, Beau Brummel; Saturday night, The Merchant of Venice. Last week, Monday, April 9, The Scarlet Letter; Tuesday, A Parisian Romance; Wednesday, The Merchant of Venice; Thursday, Beau Brummel; Friday, King Richard III.; Saturday matinee, The Merchant of Venice; Saturday (farewell) night, in 5 acts from 5 plays.

In Benjamin Chapin's character drama of "Lincoln," at the Liberty theatre, the author-actor reveals the martyred president and his catholicity and good will toward all mankind in such a manner as to present him as a living breathing human being, possessed of all those rare qualities of mind and heart which in the light of the present time causes his memory to be held in as much reverence almost if not quite, in the South as it is in the North. It will be remembered that it was the opinion of many of the greatest soldiers of the Confederacy that the greatest calamity that befell the South was Lincoln's death. Had he lived there would have been none of the distressing scenes of the Reconstruction period and it is altogether likely that the Klu Klux plan would have never been known. Mr. Chapin has successfully accomplished the prodigious task of placing Lincoln reverently in a story that would be of absorbing interest, even where the central figure of Lincoln left out, so that his impersonation is not only most artistic portraiture, but in addition to the great characterization is likewise a great play, indeed some critics, for instance that of the Providence News and that of the Hartford Telegram declare that no historic figure has been so well placed upon the stage by any other dramatist since Shakespeare, and the News critic added that it did not seem like a play at all it was so vividly realistic.

A baby daughter is the centre of attraction at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mefford Giles, of East Seventh street. She is now about one week old.

MRS. APPLEGATE WELL AGAIN!

"I have had a bruised leg and foot for several years, caused by the brass eyelets of my shoe, which became very sore and painful especially at night. It itched, burned and ached me till it nearly set me crazy. I used everything I found and was suggested to ease it and nothing gave me any relief till I found and applied Azienza Cream, which I think is a wonderful remedy for all sores and inflammation of the skin. The hard knots on my legs were as painful as bee stings, with discolored and purple spots. A running sore on my instep size of a half-dollar; the top of my foot a seething sore clean around to my heel. The bone was sore for a whole year and very painful. I used five and one-half jars of Azienza Cream and healed the sore all up. The foot remained tender and I continued to use to strengthen and toughen the skin until now it is entirely well." JERSEY'S GROWTH IN POPULATION

INCREASE IN THIS STATE IS MORE RAPID THAN IN OTHER COMMONWEALTH.

The New Jersey census of 1905 shows that New Jersey has gained in the last five years over a quarter of a million inhabitants.

New Jersey is not only growing faster than New York, but faster than any of the other Middle or New England States. In thiry years it has doubled its population, as compared with thirty-nine years for New York to show the same growth.

New York is popularly supposed to be growing faster than any other community on earth, yet as shown in the New Jersey census report, New York's ratio of increase in population in the last fifteen years has been sixty-one per cent., which is the same as the growth of Elizabeth. Some towns in New Jersey are growing twice as fast and some three times as fast as New York city. The causes of this unusual growth are chiefly due to the increase of suburban population in the vicinity of New York and Philadelphia, and the extension of the manufacturing industries of the State. The manufacturing cities, such as Newark, Trenton and Camden, continue to grow because of their location along the main lines of transportation, and within easy reach of the two great cities of New York and Philadelphia, which constitute their chief markets.

The growth of the suburban resident and industrial population of the State is certain to be rapid and continuous, and to all present appearances they are likely to add a half million to its population each decade for a long time to come.

	1905.	1900	Increase P.C.

CONGRESSMAN WOOD URGES CHANGE OF NAME.

Writes to Secretary of Navy Bonaparte for Citizens of Trenton.

Congressman Ira W. Wood, who has interested himself in having the cruiser New York, now being repaired in the Boston Navy Yark, renamed the "Trenton," has addressed the following letter to the Secretary of the Navy:

House of Representatives,
Washington, D. C., Mar. 31, 1906.

"Hon. Charles J. Bonaparte, Secretary of the Navy:

"My Dear Sir—I should be very glad to have the cruiser New York, which is now undergoing, I understand, extensive repairs at Boston, and is to be renamed and placed in another class when she is again put in commission, named the 'Trenton.' I am also sure that such action would be exceedingly gratifying to the citizens of Trenton.

"It is a historic name, and is associated with that great event in the Revolutionary War, the battle of Trenton, that marked the turning point in our Revolutionary struggle.

"Trenton is not only notable in Revolutionary history, but it is today a great, progressive and enterprising city, one of the great manufacturing centers of the State of New Jersey.

"The last warship named in honor of this city was wrecked in the harbor of Samoa, a large oil painting of which now adorns the council chamber of the city.

"Believing that there would be eminent propriety in renaming the vessel the 'Trenton,' and trusting that favorable consideration will be given to the matter, I am, with great respect,

"Sincerely yours,
"IRA W. WOOD, M. C."

Father Follows Son in Death.

High Bridge, April 5.—After a brief illness, Henry McLain, about fifty-five years old, died at his home in East High Bridge yesterday of heart disease. A week ago Mr. McLain buried his son, Percival McLain, about eighteen years old, who died after an illness of a few days from pneumonia. This, together with the serious illness of his wife, is attributed as the cause of his death. He leaves three daughters and two sons. They are Mrs. Austin Wolf, of Lebanon; Mrs. George Weire, Miss Gertrude McLain, Freeman McLain and Earl McLain, of this place. Five sisters and three brothers survive. The funeral will be held today from the local Methodist church. Interment will be in Evergreen cemetery, Clinton.

—Miss Minnie Nischwitz, of the borough, has taken a position as typewriter and stenographer in the real estate offices of Liefke & Laing, of Park avenue.

AUTOMOBILE NOTES.

Robert Graves is to have another Mercedes car in the Vanderbilt cup race of this year, and it will in all probability be driven by Jenatzy. It is also probable that Mr. Graves will enter a Mercedes in the Grand Prix, the big road event of French auto circles, this year.

William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., returned from abroad yesterday brimful of news from foreign auto centers. He reports the outlook for this year's Vanderbilt cup race to be especially bright, with assurances of French, Italian and German teams and representation from England. Mr. Vanderbilt gave out the news that he would enter a car in the fight for the trophy this year. His original plan to secure one of the new six-cylinder Mercedes has been abandoned, for the time being at least. That he would have some high power machine in the contest next fall was not denied. Now that Mr. Vanderbilt is at home, Jefferson de Mont Thompson, chairman of the A. A. A. racing board and of the Vanderbilt cup commission, will undoubtedly call a meeting to consider cup matters at a very early date.

NO HOODOOS FOR THEM

In Solemn Conclave Skeeters Do Resolve to Shun All Emblems of Bad Luck.

MURRAY IS ON DECK

Gene McCann and Captain Bean Rise in Meeting to Say That No More Will They Wear Opals.

— The balmy air of yesterday was just to the liking of Manager Murray's band of ball tossers and they cavorted about the diamond on Crescent Oval like two-year-olds. So far there are no tales of Charley Horse or stiffened joints. On the contrary, the players individually are in excellent form and if circumstances demanded, every member of the team could jump into a game at a moment's notice. Manager Murray declared last night with just one week of such weather as yesterday the team would start off at a faster clip than in any past season.

Manager Murray is overloaded with confidence and is greatly pleased over the outlook for winning the pennant this season. He is not making any rash predictions, but does not hesitate to state that the Skeeters will be in the race right from the start. Captain Joe Bean said the boys are determined to make a good start and will make a supreme effort to get well in the lead so as to be prepared for August slumps, which is the dread of all baseball managers and players.

That Williams College phenom, Earl Moore, bears the stamp of being a ball player in all departments of the game. Under the tuition of Captain Bean he is taking a course in scientific bunting, and is succeeding admirably. Moore works fast and has the same moves as Devlin, the third-bagger of the New York team. Riley, the young man from Buffalo, a protege of Jocko Halligan's, and Holmes, the recruit from Iowa, have shown up well in practice.

Manager Murray spent most of the day yesterday in Jersey City looking after the improvements at the new ball park. He says the work is progressing satisfactorily and the grounds will be in readiness for the opening game as per schedule.

Last night the players held a "hoodoo session" in the corridor of the Hotel Iroquois. Gene McCann was chairman of the proceedings and Mr. Merritt, the husky-looking first baseman, acted as secretary. McCann notified his associates that he was going to quit wearing an opal scarfpin which was presented to him by a Jersey City fan as a souvenir of the championship season. McCann, during his stay in town, heard that opals were unlucky, and in fear and trembling he announced to the assemblage that he was going to quit wearing the pin.

This declaration also brought Captain Bean to his feet, and he exhibited a pair of cuff buttons with opal settings. He, too, said he believed they hoodooed him during the past two seasons and was going to invest in a pair of buttons when the ghost walked for the first time.

Manager Murray was asked his opinion as to opals being unlucky. He wouldn't consent to give a hidebound opinion and doged the question by saying, "Well, boys, if you think they are unlucky, don't wear them." Further than this Manager Murray would not discuss the hoodoo question. Perhaps it is because he is a native of Peabody, Mass., which history records as a great center for witchcraft and other superstitions in the seventeenth century.

TRAINING CAMP WHISPERS.

Captain Bean, who is an Elk, fraternally speaking, has made himself acquainted with a number of the local brethren.

Gene McCann's six-decked diamond and pale blue necktie are the talk of the town.

Handford, the former hard-hitting fielder of the Trenton Y. M. C. A., whom Manager Murray corraled this spring, has arrived and looks to be in first class condition. He came fully prepared for business and brought with him a willow bat which he has been plunking out base hits with for two years.

Gene McCann received a letter from Jersey City last night with feminine handwriting on the envelope. Manager Murray explained this by saying that Gene mailed the letter to himself before he left.

Billy Foxen, who will be one of the regular slab artists this season, has plenty of steam and is fit to start in any time. Young Mack also has a large assortment of benders and good control.

Mr. Vandergrift, the star backstop, is the champion pool players of the team, having defeated Mack Monday night in a hair-raising contest.

There is some talk of Groundkeeper O'Mara coming out to spend Sunday with the boys.

Pete Cassidy has reported from Delaware. He reports a mild winter and a big peach crop this season from his vicinity.

DIAMOND DUST.

George Bushfield, sporting editor of the Jersey City Journal, was in town yesterday. In the afternoon he took a trip to Crescent Oval, where he watched the "Skeeters" in practice. He believes that Manager Murray has plenty of good material and that his team will be the best ever.

Holy Zippo! Here is a tip for baseball managers who want to make some money this season. Every baseball mogul in the land is after the mazuma, even Manager Murray, of the Skeeter tribe, who is sojourning at the present time in our city, and Manager Daab may also be classified in this category.

The Most High Apostle Dowie, of Zion City, Illinois, is down and out, financially speaking. Very hard up it is said, all his lands and houses have been taken from him while he is in the far off country of Mexico. Elijah is hard pushed for cash.

His Holiness Elijah will do almost anything to turn an honest cent. Everybody remembers the show he gave in Madison Square Garden two winters ago. Why he drew thousands of people. They sacrificed their money freely and when fellows like Pete Feiring would shell up to his holiness two plunks without shuddering on a snowy night, it must be admitted that old Elijah is a great drawing card and money maker.

Baseball teams need money, especially tailenders. Would not Elijah do for an umpire or a coach? Prize fighters have made a big success in the same role, why not Dowie, the white whiskered opponent of Satan? Where he drew hundreds of thousands in Madison Square Garden to see him he would draw his tens of thousands on the roads.

Manager Murray has stamped the idea a good one, provided, of course, Mr. Dowie would not insist on having all the money.

It might be a good idea for Vice President Smalley, of the Plainfield baseball association, to ponder over this idea. If arrangements can be made to get Dowie here for two games sufficient funds can easily be realized for a brand new board fence and a set of new uniforms.

So far as known Mr. Dowie has not booked any engagements and it might be a wise move to open negotiations without delay if the plan is favored.

His present address is Mexico City. His stay there will be indefinite as it is understood that he has telegraphed to Chicago for the "gettins" of a ticket home, but the prospects for a favorable answer are not over bright.

If Phil. Smith succeeds in getting a berth in the National or American League some day, as the wiseacres hereabouts declare, South Plainfield will occupy as big a place on the baseball map as Plainfield.

"The best friends must part." Too bad that Georgie and Charlie have quarreled. The ought to get together and make up.

Howard Craig, the sturdy little short stop of the High School team last season, is getting pointers from the Jersey players. He wants to be a big league star some day.

Bandmaster LaVere arises to remark that it would be very appropriate to have a band of music at the opening game, and a street parade, too.

Billy Bock Hurst Wiener, of Garwood fame, who nearly threw 1,000 Plainfield cranks into hysterics one day last summer when he went in against Westfield, says he is much faster this season and would like to get a try out with the Jersey Citys.

Red Waller will be in the box for Hoboken Sunday against the Cedars. Judging by his exhibition of slant shooting last Sunday Waller will be in faster shape than ever this season.

The Poole brothers, of Garwood, along with Supple, of the same place, have signed with New London this season.

Billy Foxen's blonde curls are something like Bert Moore's when he played second base for the Y. M. C. A's.

It begins to look that Tuck Turner "is all in." Players say he has gone back and no manager has so far shown any desire to sign the veteran.

How to Run Bases.
By Arthur Devlin.

Watch the pitcher carefully. A good start depends upon knowing his preliminary motions. Tell the coach to keep you posted on what the first baseman is doing and don't try to bother about that yourself. When you make up your mind to try for second be ready to start on your toes and don't be caught off your balance. If you are, the catcher's throw will almost certainly beat you out. Slide behind the baseman, not in front of him, where he can touch you. If he has to reach for you, your chance to get the base is as good as his to touch you out.

The "Spit Ball."
By "Jack" Chesbro.

People scoff at the "spit ball" and say there is nothing in it. I know better. There is a lot in it, but sometimes you can't get it all out. I have had as much experience with the "spit ball" as any pitcher in the country. I know that I have lost some important games because of wild pitches, but on the other hand I have won some that were needed by my team. The only thing to the "spit ball" is simply to moisten the cover and then pitch as you would for any curve. Of course you can't always control it as you would like, and control never can be secured except by practice, but those who practice most will do the best with it. Pitchers who begin with it early will probably do better than those who try to change their style to meet its demands.

Playing Second Base.
By William Gilbert.

Remember that the second baseman is sort of a right field shortstop and baseman combined. Don't hug the base too close. If you do there is many a grounder which will dance out to right field which you should have stopped. Play well out. Hard-hit balls are too apt to get away before you can get up to them if you keep up on the line. When the first baseman goes after bunt hits don't forget that it is your business to cover first while the shortstop will look after second base. Above everything, learn to be speedy on double plays. A slow second baseman will stop many a chance for a double and give a life to a team which would otherwise be beaten.

ON THE COURTS.

The tennis courts of the Plainfield Country Club, new last year, give promise of being the scene of many exciting matches this season. Events that are sure to bring together the best players in the county are the tournaments of the East Jersey Lawn Tennis Association, men's doubles and women's singles championship, scheduled for Saturday, May 26, Wednesday, May 30, Memorial Day and Saturday, June 2. These tournaments will attract many good local players.

Thomas M. Day, chairman of the tennis committee at the Plainfield Country Club, is preparing an attractive schedule of events for the season. It will be as general in character as that of last year and tend to induce all lovers of the game to participate. Of course, there will be the annual play for the club championship which always arouses the players to their best efforts.

The tennis contingent at the Park Club is already beginning to show signs of activity and it is expected that a number of good players will be developed from the membership. Throughout the season there will be play on the courts Saturday afternoons with special events on holidays. Last season matches were arranged with the Cedar Brook Tennis Club and no doubt the similar events will be planned this season.

GOLF.

The pleasant weather of the past few days has had remarkably good effect on the course of the Plainfield Country Club and if it continues play will be possible very soon.

Provided his strength will permit, Frank O. Reinhart will probably devote considerable time to golf this season. He is now convalescing from an attack of typhoid fever.

The golf committee of the Plainfield Country Club is busy at work on the season's schedule. It will be stronger than last year and will comprise many very attractive events for prizes.

The coming season promises to be very successful at the Park Golf Club. The committee on golf will soon announce its schedule of events, which will include play for several valuable prizes.

Among the members of the Plainfield Country Club who are sure to make a good showing this season are Robert Abbott, Gordon Abbott, Dudley H. Barrows and W. L. Glenney. They will be important factors in the play at the local course this year.

NEWLY-MARRIED CLEMENTS JOINS SKEETERS SQUAD.

Brogan Also With the Jersey City Team Now.

W. O. Clements, one of the popular "Skeeters," accompanied by his bride, arrived at the Hotel Iroquois late yesterday afternoon and J. J. Brogan, who expects to play second base for the Plainfield team, and who will be given a try-out by Manager Murray, arrived last night. Both Clements and Brogan joined the squad at Crescent Oval this morning and engaged in hard practice. The same line of work as followed yesterday was taken up today. Manager Murray does not expect to get down to fine work before the first of the week.

"Louis" Wiltse met the Jersey City boys at the hotel, last night, and partially arranged to play a game on Saturday. Wiltse says that he can get a strong team of local players together that will give Captain Bean's men a hard game. Of course, Wiltse would occupy the box and shoot them over. Other local players mentioned for the team include "Warry" aMcLaughlin, Jimmie Montross and several boys who play with the Clinton Avenue and the Plainfield High School teams.

SOMERVILLE'S WEST ENDS CHOOSE CONKLING MANAGER.

John A. Maxwell is Elected President at Annual Meeting.

A meeting of the West End baseball association was held on Tuesday evening in the Somerset Hall building, Somerville, and was very largely attended. Organization for the coming season was effected as follows: President, John A. Maxwell; vice president, John G. Gaston; secretary, William D. Nolan; treasurer, Jacob Woodruff; manager, Bogart T. Conkling. The officers, with C. P. Hoagland, H. W. Reusswig, Edward Thomas, Charles C. Kenyon and A. M. Beekman, are the trustees.

The grounds and stands will be placed in first-class condition for the opening of the season on May 19 with Garwood. Manager Conkling is hustling for players and expects to sign a strong team before that date.

Girls' Basketball Game.

The Whittier school girls' basketball team will close its season next Tuesday afternoon with the High School seconds. The game will be played at Hope chapel gymnasium. There is an old score to be wiped out between the fives, and the going will be lively all the way. The games played between them so far stand two to one in Whittier's favor.

Whittier Nine.

The Whittier School baseball association has begun planning for the season. There is plenty of good material, and the nine will be as strong this season as it ever has been. Edward Harding, last year's pitcher, is captain, and Roy Woodhull, last season's third baseman, is assistant captain. Morris Thompson is manager.

Alton Gun Club Shoot.

The Alton Gun Club will hold a shoot, the first of the season, at the Sabocker place, Rahway road, Saturday. The grounds are fifteen minutes' walk from the trolley.

Brooklyn Minister at Mission.

Rev. N. P. Boyd, of Brooklyn, rector of St. Philip's church, that city, will preach at the Lenten service at Grace Church Colored Mission tonight.

SHOWER PARTY REVEALS MISS WYMAN'S ENGAGEMENT.

Through a shower party given to her at her home in East Front street, last night, by fellow-clerks at Woodhull & Martin's store, the engagement of Miss Minnie Wyman and William Kriney was announced. The wedding will take place in the near future and the couple will go to housekeeping in a new home recently bought by the groom on East Fifth street.

Last night's affair was arranged by the clerks at Woodhull & Martin's store and they just showered the prospective bride with household articles of use. After the presentation of the gifts, which included everything from an ironing holder to tin pans, etc., the young people spent the evening in playing games and listening to vocal and instrumental music. Refreshments were served and the guests parted for their homes about 11 o'clock.

Carriage Hit Bike.

A bicycle ridden by Walter Caldwell, fifteen years old, was run into by W. G. Hockridge's carriage, driven by Charles Richardson, colored, yesterday afternoon, at Park and North avenues. The boy was unhurt, but the wheel was wrecked. The legs of the horse, which became tangled in the machine, were cut. The boy and the driver jawed one another, but eye-witnesse told Officer McCue, who was attracted by the crowd, that the accident occurred as a result of Caldwell's effort to avoid an automobile, and was the fault of neither one involved.

Annual Meeting of Medical Society.

The annual meeting of the Plainfield Medical Society will be held at the Casino tonight. In addition to the election of officers for the ensuing year and transaction of other business, there will be a paper presented by Dr. Aspell, of New York, to be followed by an informal discussion.

Mrs. Catherine Haberle, of West Fifth street, fell down in her home this week, and dislocated her hip. Dr. Cooper, of Westfield, the family's physician, attended her.

May Build Up Farley Avenue.

L. B. Woolston is having a frame dwelling, 25x30, erected on Farley avenue. The house is being put up for sale, as a test of the neighborhood from the speculative builder's standpoint. If the dwelling sells readily, and the conditions warrant it, other moderate-priced houses will be erected. M. A. Rose, of Franklin place, a real estate operator, is interested in the venture. He is strongly impressed with the neighborhood as a field for development and sees great possibilities in it. J. B. Mills is superintending the carpenter work on the house that is going up.

Certificates Ready for Distribution.

The certificates of stock to be issued by the Plainfield Baseball Association were received by President William N. Runyon, today, and are now ready for distribution. The members of the committee of twenty are urged to see Mr. Runyon at once and arrange to place them in the hands of subscribers and collect the money, according to the number of shares subscribed. The association wants to get as much as possible of the money subscribed by Saturday night.

McElhaney Committe.

Constable Manley brought Joseph McElhaney, charged with embezzling collections from M. Leichtentritt, back from South Amboy yesterday afternoon. He pleaded guilty before Justice Hand this morning and was held in $200 bail for the grand jury. He was committed. Mr. Leichtentritt says he has given McElhaney three or four chances after similar slips, and intends to press this charge.

Ed Burk In Town.

Edward Burk, of Elizabeth, well known as the proprietor of the Burkley Hotel, where county political leaders congregate, was in town this morning. He dropped into police headquarters, where he met Freeholder Wilbur and City Judge Runyon. Chief Kiely is well acquainted with the hotel man.

Alarm for Rubbish Fire.

An alarm was turned in from box 34 at 1:49 this afternoon for a fire in a pile of rubbish in a yard on West Fourth street near Plainfield avenue. It was put out with a few extinguishers.

Y. M. C. A. BOYS DINE

Annual Banquet of Junior Department a Delightful Affair.

MR MURRAY ADDRESSES

Urges Young Hearers to Fix on High Ideals of Conduct—Prizes Presented to Winners of Athletic Competitions.

With roast chicken as the piece de resistance of a menu topped by five kinds of cake and three flavors of ice cream, interesting speeches just long enough, and a spirit of informal fellowship to set them entirely at their ease, the members of the Boys' Department of the Y. M. C. A. enjoyed their annual banquet last night as few affairs of the sort are enjoyed. The dinner was the most successful one the Juniors have ever held, and none of the ones that preceded it fell anything short of a high standard of excellence.

The banquet was held in Warren chapel. Both the association halls were preempted last night. About 125 boys were seated about the tables, which were set in straight rows down the chapel. The speakers' table was on the platform. The decorations were simple, but attractive, soft-shaded lamps adding to the informal, home-like effect. Vases of cut flowers graced the main table.

Harold Robbins, boys' president of the department, presided. Grouped about him were J. W. Gavett, president of the Y. M. C. A. and W. D. Murray, the speakers; O. S. Rogers, chairman of the boys' work committee; Philip Smith, Malcolm Douglas, and H. F. Welsh, of Westfield, who were honored with the special seats as the winners and the representatives of the winners in the recent school athletic contests, held under the auspices of the Juniors, the prizes of which were to be presented to them in the course of the affair.

Mr. Murray, who is one of the most prominent Y. M. C. A. workers in the United States and a noted figure at boys' meetings, was the chief speaker. His theme was the pursuit of a high ideal, the concentration of youthful energies and earnestness in striving for advancement.

Nothing was impossible to the boy who intensely desired what he aimed at and worked unceasingly to attain it. "Every boy here can be a rich man," he said. "If you want to be rich, with all your heart and work steadily to accomplish your desire you will realize it." It was the concentration of effort, singleness of purpose and tenacity that produced results.

Mr. Murray dwelt on the importance of fixing on a high ideal of living and holding fast to it.

"Fix on some good thing," he advised," and strive for its execution, no matter what it costs in effort and in time.

Every act a person did, Mr. Murray held, had some effect, good or bad, on the character of that person. "The things we do now have a bearing on the things we do in the future."

Mr. Murray urged his hearers to keep themselves prepared for every crisis in their moral life. They were to be prepared to meet and grapple with the sudden temptation to which so many young men succumb.

Boys' Secretary Robbie folowed Mr. Murray, with a brief talk on the plans for the boys' camp on Tuxis Island next summer. The party will be limited to twenty boys. A lively programme of competitions is in course of preparation.

In presenting the prizes, President Gavett strongly endorsed Mr. Murray's advice as to concentration. Speaking of the vices that threatened boyhood, he said the cigarette was a great factor in weakening young men who travel the wrong path. He spoke highly of athletics; Mr. Gavett himself was a successful and enthusiastic athlete in his younger days.

The big silver cup won by the Plainfield High School in the meet between that school, Westfield and Cranford High Schools, was presented to Malcolm Douglas, representing the P. H. S. A. A. H. F. Welsh, of Westfield, the winner of the individual prize, received a medal. Philip Smith received the cup won by the P. H. S. five in the interscholastic basketball league, as captain of the team. The three youths made brief speeches of acceptance. They were enthusiastically applauded.

The dinner broke up with three rousing cheers for the Women's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A., which prepared the banquet. The arrangements for, and serving of, the dinner were in the hands of the boys' work committee, of which Mrs. Walter Caldwell is chairman, and the social committee, of which Mrs. L. M. French is the head.

PLAINFIELD PAYS TOO MUCH FOR ARC LIGHTS

EASIER TERMS IN OTHER PLACES, THE BOARD OF TRADE LEARNS.

That Plainfield was paying too much for her arc light service was declared at the meeting of the Board of Trade last night. Rates in other places were cited to show that the service here should cost less than $100 a year.

President Woolston introduced the subject. He said that there is no reason at all why Plainfield could not have arc lights for less than $100 a year. Other towns and cities throughout the State were paying only from $50 to $80 a year.

Charles W. Runyon, a member of the committee appointed to investigate the arc light question, stated that it was planned to cut out the incandescent lamps in the business part of the town and substitute sixteen arc lights. This would mean a total cost of $1,600 a year. The investigation disclosed the fact that Paterson is paying $83 a year for arc lights, New Brunswick $70 and Somerville $65. Mr. Runyon thought that Plainfield should not be compelled to pay more than $65, and the Public Service Corporation would then be making a good profit at that.

ANGLING FOR A NEW MANUFACTURING PLANT

BOARD OF TRADE HAS SITE TO OFFER A NEW YORK CONCERN.

An effort is being made by the Board of Trade to induce the Atlas Roofing Co., of Ithaca, N. Y., to locate here. The company is looking for a new site and the board has one on its available list that would probably meet all the requirements of the concern.

The Atlas company is looking for a site with 4,000 square feet, in a town where there are good schools and train service; where labor organizations are reasonable; where living is not high and rents are low. President Woolston, at the Board of Trade meeting last night, stated that Augustus J. Brunson recently informed him that he had a plant covering 200 square feet, a building, 100x35, equipped with a gasolene engine, that he would rent it at a reasonable figure. Mr. Woolston thought the plant might suit the Ithaca company and the company's communication to the board was referred to Mr. Brunson.

In a discussion on factories later in the meeting someone wanted to know what inducements Plainfield could offer manufacturers to locate here, and whether the Common Council has any right to remit taxes or guarantee a certain tax rate for a term of years. The question was asked with the idea of finding out what could be done to bring factories to Plainfield.

Councilman Buxton stated that he did not think that the Common Council would be willing to make any such inducements. He doubted whether it would have the right to do so.

President Woolston said that he had no desire to see Plainfield made a mill town, but he would welcome industries employing high-class mechanics, such as live here now. He did not think that any town or city in New Jersey would be in a position to offer inducements until the taxation question was settled.

It was cited that an adding machine company wanted to locate here some time ago, but at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., the citizens brought the plant there by subscribing for stock in the concern and building its factory. It was the opinion of the members that it was up to the New Jersey Central to offer some inducements in this line.

Democrats to Meet.

At the meetings of the Democratic County Committee this evening at Elizabeth a candidate will be endorsed for appointment to the County Board of Elections to succeed John L. Crowell, whose term is about to expire. Mr. Crowell is again a candidate for the office. His only opponent is Frederick J. Zior, who is secretary of both the city and county committees of the Democracy.

With Western Company.

H. R. Brokaw, of the Public Service Corporation staff here, has been made manager of its appliance department by the Fort Dodge (Ia.) Light and Power Co. He left for Fort Dodge, to enter on his new position, today.

ICE AT $1.20 PER TON

That's What it is Said it Would Have Cost Local Dealers.

THE POOR MUST SUFFER

Suggests That a Co-operative Plant Be Started — Time Now to Put Up Houses.

Among a number of communications received by The Daily Press regarding the seemingly arbitrary demands of the ice dealers, who have already advanced the price to sixty cents a hundred, the following one, by one of Plainfield's best citizens, will prove interesting:

Editor, The Daily Press:

While the price of ice in Plainfield soars to sixty cents a hundred, with the prospect of further advances, word comes from Florida that ice is being manufactured and delivered there, in qauntities, for seven dollars a ton and fifty cents a hundred. It is sold for twenty-five cents if called for.

Referring to the inquiry in yesterday's Daily Press as to why the dealers did not take advantage of the opportunity in the winter to secure a supply of ice from other sections, I am informed that ice could have been obtained, on the cars at Plainfield, for $1.20 a ton, or six cents a hundred. To this price should be added the cost of carting and storing, also the loss by breakage and melting. Even with all these items included, there would still seem to be a chance for selling at a reasonable price and at a fair profit.

While the total additional cost of the season's ice at the advanced rate will not be a serious matter for the well-to-do and those in moderate circumstances, to the poor, and especially to those who are both sick and poor, the lack of ice will be a real calamity.

It is too late now to do anything about a larger supply for this year, but, unless I mistake the temper of our people very much, they would subscribe for stock in a co-operative ice company (under proper auspices and management) so quickly that the record in the baseball subscription would be left in the distance. The fact that the enterprise would have a charitable side would not be its least recommendation, but the company should expect to meet a rate perhaps as low as fifteen cents a hundred next summer, in case a cold winter should enable the present companies to harvest a plentiful supply. Now is the time to organize and put up houses. A.

MEDICAL SOCIETY'S ANNUAL BANQUET

DR. CHARLES B. LUFBURROW CHOSEN PRESIDENT OF THE ORGANIZATION.

Dr. Charles B. Lufburrow was elected president of the Plainfield Medical Society last night. The election took place at the annual meeting in connection with the banquet at the Casino, which was attended by a representative gathering of medical practitioners of the city and borough.

The banquet itself was a delightful affair, the menu being fully in keeping with the Casino's reputation for excellent cuisine. After the dinner, cigars were passed around and informal speeches were made by a number of the guests. The principal discussion was furnished by Dr. Aspell, of New York, who read a paper on a topic of interest to medical men.

At the election, Dr. Fred Hughes was chosen vice-president, and Dr. F. C. Ard secretary and treasurer. The new officers took their seats at last night's banquet.

The members present were Drs. P. J. Zeglio, W. Kempton Browning, Marcus L. Clawson, Fred Hughes, Ellis W. Hedges, B. VanD. Hedges, W. H. Murray, A. H. Dundon, N. W. Currie, J. H. Carman and P. B. Cregar, of this city, and Dr. Aspell, of New York.

Celebrated Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Schleif, of Park avenue, celebrated the fifteenth anniversary of their wedding Wednesday night, when they entertained a large number of relatives and friends. The evening was spent in dancing and at a late hour supper was served. Mrs. Schleif was Miss Ficke, daughter of Charles Ficke, of East Front street. She was married to Mr. Schleif fifteen years ago by Rev. Mr. Koechli, formerly pastor of the German Reformed church, but now of Somerville.

COLBY MOVEMENT REACHES UNION CO.

Senator to Attend Conference Called For Tomorrow Night at Corey Building, in Elizabeth.

QUIETLY ENGINEERED

Mayor Fagan to Be Present—Leaders in the Reform Party Not Revealed—Secrecy Maintained.

Republicans from various parts of Union county have been invited to attend a conference at Elizabeth tomorrow night. Those who are in sympathy with the movement inaugurated by Senator Everett Colby for good government in State, county and city will make up membership of the meeting, which has been planned for some time.

For some weeks Senator Colby himself, and others closely identified with him, have visited prominent men in different quarters of Union county. As a result, it is said that they feel much encouraged over the prospects of an organization for good government in this particular part of the State.

Just who will be present at the confab is not known, for the work has been going on quietly and the identity of the leaders seems to have been well kept from the public. This is done, it is said, to prevent any missionary work on the part of machine organization leaders in the various cities, boroughs and townships which might lead to some desertions from the camp of the enlisted reformers.

The meeting in question will take place at the Corey building, Broad street, Elizabeth, at 8 o'clock. Only those receiving special invitations will be present. Senator Colby will attend, and it is likely that Mayor Mark Fagan, of Jersey City, will also be at the gathering.

FREEHOLEDRS COMMITTEE ON GREENBROOK OVERFLOW.

Elston M. French Asks Union County to Prevent Further Damage.

In the absence of Director King, of the Union County Board of Freeholders, Freeholder Cady filled his place at the April meeting of the board held at Elizabeth yesterday. The only matter of interest to Plainfield was the action taken on the communication of Elston M. French, of this city, who asked the board to make some repairs about the Leland avenue bridge which will prevent the overflow of the banks at that point of Green brook.

A committee, comprising Freeholders Wilbur and Westphal, of Plainfield; Gladek, of Rahway; Robinson, of Scotch Plains and Kline, of Rahway, was appointed to attend to the matter. The committee will also visit the Scott avenue bridge, near Scott Press Works, where some repairs are necessary.

BENEFIT A BIG SUCCESS.

Testimonial to Treasurer Sam Cunningham Appreciated.

The fact that both Manager Counihan and Treasurer Sam Cunningham, of the New Plainfield theatre, have many local friends was attested to last night when "McFadden's Flats" was presented as a benfit performance for the latter. The "standing room only" sign was hung out shortly after 8 o'clock, and even then there were many admissions. Manager Counihan had exerted himself in billing the attraction, and this, coupled with his own and Sam's popularity, did the trick. There was also a good attendance in the afternoon.

Aside from the testimonial feature, the attendants were fully repaid for any time or money expended. "The Flats" are just as funny now as they were when "Aleck and George," the yellow kids, occupied the front pages of the Sunday paper supplements and delighted thousands of children all over the country. The Speck Brothers took the parts of the little fellows and made the biggest part of the fun.

New Board of Trade Members.

Arthur Murphy and Albert Lederer were elected to membership at the Board of Trade meeting last night.

TO RUSH CONSOLIDATION

Board of Trade Appoints Committee on Municipal Union Projects.

TO CONSULT COUNCILS

Governing Bodies Will Be Asked To Discuss For Bringing the Proposition About—Sentiment Changing.

Consolidation of the city and borough is still being fostered by the Board of Trade. Further action toward its accomplishment was taken at the meeting last night, when a committee was appointed to present the matter before the councils of the two municipalities.

The appointment of the committee is in line with the board's declared intention of keeping the consolidation project awake. The first step in the body's campaign for a revival of public interest in the question was taken at the last meeting, when W. L. Saunders, leader in the ill-starred annexation project, spoke for the union of the municipalities. Discussion of the proposition, as was expected, followed that meeting and the board will work to keep the public alive to it, and interested in the various moves to bring it about.

President Woolston suggested the appointment of the committee to the board. He said he thought the body should learn, by conference with the councils, what steps can be taken to bring the municipalities together.

The committee appointed is made up of two borough men and three city men. Its members are William C. Smith, William G. Debele, of the borough; C. W. Runyon, Harry W. Marshall and Charles J. Fisk.

Sentiment on consolidation, observers say, is changing in North Plainfield. People who in their wholesouled aversion to annexation three years ago sent the consolidation idea packing because it was associated with the odious proposition to gouge out a section of Somerset county, now look favorably on the welding of the two places. They now understand fully what they did not three years back, that consolidation simply unifies the local governments and does not affect the county lines. Curiously enough, just as the borough distaste for consolidation is subsiding, solid citizens of the city are arising here and there and asking if the city really has any use for the borough, and if the vote here would not be against the proposition by a thumping majority.

SEEKING BETTERMENT OF TRAIN SERVICE

COMMITTEE FROM BOARD OF TRADE WILL STIR CENTRAL OFFICIALS.

Action on the complaints made by the travelling public over the train service of the Central Railroad to and from New York was taken by the Board of Trade last night. The Board, through a committee of one, will lay the complaints before the company, and seek better arrangements for travel.

Elston M. French brought the matter before the board in a communication asking the body's support in an effort to have the 11 and 12 o'clock morning trains from New York stop here. He said that local real estate dealers prefer these trains to bring prospective buyers to Plainfield. He also suggested that efforts be made to have the 11:20 morning train and the 12:39 and 1:20 afternoon trains to New York stop here.

The matter was referred to Charles W. Runyon and after he has gone over the time-table, he will consult with the New Jersey Central officials to find out what can be done toward securing the improvements in train service.

BISHOP O'CONNOR COMING TO ST. MARY'S.

Will Confirm a Large Class Next Sunday Afternoon.

Bishop O'Connor, head of the Roman Catholic diocese of Newark, will be at St. Mary's church next Sunday afternoon to administer the sacrament of confirmation. The service will begin at 3:30 o'clock.

The confirmation class is one of the largest ever organized in the parish. There are about 200 boys and girls in it.

Confirmation in the Catholic Church is an imposing ceremony. A procession of the candidates, the girls clad in white with long veils, the boys with flowers, and bows of white ribbon on their arms, is part of it.

Bishop O'Connor will deliver an address to the class.

TO TEAR DOWN THREE OLD FRAME STORES

DILAPIDATED STRUCTURE TO GIVE WAY TO A NEW BUILDING.

The old frame building on Park avenue, adjoining Charles W. McCutchen's new business block, will be torn down. The work will be done just as soon as the city gets ready to widen the avenue, which includes that strip between Second street and the railroad.

Clifton & Campbell, who has occupied a portion of the building for fourteen years, together with M. C. Dobbins, A. E. Hoagland and the families living on the second floor, will be permitted to remain where they are until the improvements in Park avenue are started.

It was originally intended to move the building back and next to the office of Boice, Runyon & Co., but it is doubtful whether the city building ordinances will permit it. In addition the structure is so old and dilapidated that John G. MacLaughlin, who holds the title, does not think that it will pay to move it.

It is said that a new building will be erected on the site.

MAY'S BODY FOUND IN BOUND BROOK

MATTHEW PELT MAKES DISCOVERY AND CORONER IS SUMMONED.

While fishing at the point where Bound brook enters the Raritan River, near the Port Reading Hotel, yesterday, Matthew Van Pelt discovered the body of a middle-aged man in the water. The man was evidently a laborer. Mr. Van Pelt notified the authorities at once and Coroner Moke, of Middlesex county, took charge of the body later in the day.

The dead man had on two pairs of trousers, a sweater, and the body was in such a decomposed state that Coroner Moke believed that it had been in the water at least three weeks. Nothing but some tobacco and two or three pipes were found on the body.

As the place where the man was found is close to the Port Reading Hotel, one theory is that he might have visited the hotel, imbibed too freely and fallen in the water. Another theory is that the body might have been washed to the place of finding from some nearby town. Coroner Moke believes it will be impossible to identify the man.

MARCH 1906 BREAKS A LONG STANDING RECORD.

Was the Coldest In Fourteen Years and Had Some Very Frigid Days.

According to Weather Observer Neagle the month of March just passed was a record breaker for cold weather. It was the coldest March in fourteen years and presented Plainfielders with some of the most frigid days of the winter. The mean temperature for the month was 6.2 degrees below the normal, while the precipitation exceeded the normal by 1.76 inches. Other details of the March weather are given as follows:

Died at Hospital.

Miss Agnes V. Kenney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kenney, of East Fourth street, died in Muhlenberg Hospital last night, following an operation. She was in her twenty-first year and is survived by several brothers and sisters. The funeral will be held at St. Mary's church Monday morning at 9 o'clock, when high mass will be said for the repose of her soul. Interment will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

BOY IS STILL MISSING

Mystery Surrounding Daniel Norton's Whereabouts Grows Deeper.

CIRCULARS SENT OUT

A Typical Youth's Description Given to Police of All Surrounding Place—False Clue from Bound Brook.

No trace of Daniel Norton, the eighteen-year-old pupils at the Groszman School for Atypical Children, who disappeared two days ago while on his way back to the institution from a Somerset street barber shop, has been found. The neighborhood has been searched thoroughly for clues to the youth's whereabouts, the most puzzling lack of any indication of what has become of him is the only result. The disappearance is complete, and the school police on both sides of the brook, as well as the school management, do not know what to make of it beyond pure conjecture. Circulars containing a description of the youth have been sent to the police of all the cities and towns in this section.

The finding of a body in Bound brook yesterday, a report of which reached this city this morning, led to a theory that the search would end there, but telephone queries to Bound Brook disclosed the fact that the victim was a middle-aged man.

Norton has been a pupil at the Groszman School for three years. He had proved wholly trustworthy, and it was customary to allow him to go Lafayette Resenstiehl's barber shop, on Somerset street, once a week. It was while on his customary errand to the shop that he disappeared. He was considered well able to take care of himself on such errands, and no fear that any misfortune would befall him while out was entertained. It was considered a matter of education and a valuable part of his training to give him the independence, freedom of action and responsibility involved in the errands.

Norton left the barber shop at 2:45 o'clock in the afternoon. He was wearing a dark brown soft hat, somewhat pulled down oer his eyes, a dark grey suit and black shoes. He is easily noticed on account of his peculiar, somewhat quick, shambling walk, visual difficulties and defective speech.

Any information which may come from outside will be welcomed by Dr. Groszman and the authorities. It is one of Chief Kiely's theories that the boy wandered into the country or to a nearby town, where some one seeing that he was in trouble took him in to care for him.

VICTIM OF PNEUMONIA.

Two Other Members of Family Also Ill with Same Complaint.

Miss Alice F. Randolph, daughter of Mary F. and the late Daniel D. F. Randolph, died at her home on West Seventh street this morning after a brief illness with pneumonia. She was a member of the first Baptist church and had a large circle of acquaintances. The funeral service will be private.

Mrs. Randolph is very ill at the present time with pneumonia, while andother daughter, Mrs. Runk, has double penumonia.

Informal Gathering Enjoyed.

Gathering in an informal manner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mundy, of West Front street, last night, twenty-five of their friends spent a very enjoyable evening. Musical numbers were the features of the occasion, the contributors being John Mitchell and Miss Agnes McInness, violin solos; Miss Mamie McInness, piano selections; William Spaulding, Allan Anderson and Gere Pann, vocal solos. John Gray sang several "coon" songs in Williams and Walker style and highly delighted his hearers. Refreshments were served in conclusion.

Free Organ Recital.

F. Clinton Lee, organist, assisted by H. Raymond Loder, baritone, will take part in the weekly Lenten organ recital at the Holy Cross church, tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. This programme will be presented: "Fragmen Symphonique," Lemaigre; "Allegretto Grazioso," Tours; recitative, "The Good We Wish For," air "Thy Glorious Deeds," Samson and Handel; "Intermezzo Sinfonico," Mascagni; "Andante and Allegro," F. E. Bache; "Jesus Only," Rotoli; "Prelude," Herzog; "Grand Offertoire," Wely.

Readings from Hubbard.

Principal Ira W. Travell read to the pupils of the Plainfield High School this morning from the writings of Elbert Hubbard, "the pastor of the Flock" in the Roycrofters community, at East Aurora, N. Y. "The Message to Garcia" was the literary masterpiece which the pupils herad.

MOSQUITO MEASURE IS NOW UP TO GOVERNOR.

It Appropriates $350,000 for Abolishing the Breeding Areas of the Pests.

Trenton, April 6.—The fate of the Jersey mosquito is sealed and unless Governor Stokes interferes he will have to pack his grip and seek pastures new. Wednesday afternoon the House passed the Senate bill, which appropriates 5350,000 for abolishing mosquito breeding areas and authorizes the State experiment station to carry out the provisions of the act.

Although very little opposition developed to the bill in the House, it had a narrow escape in the Senate. In its original form it provided for an appropriation of $350,000, of which not more than $70,000 was to be used each year for five years. Municipalities desiring State aid must first appropriate fifty per cent. of the amount required. The bill was amended in the Senate so as to provide for only such appropriations each year as might be needed, not to exceed $350,000 in the aggregate. It was in this form when it was defeated in the Senate, but it was subsequently reconsidered and passed.

When the measure came up on final passage in the House Wednesday afternoon it was advocated by Mr. Reed, of Monmouth, who explained its provisions and said it was demanded by all sections of the State. The authorities of New York, he said, were about completing on Staten Island a work similar to that provided for in the bill, and that would prevent mosquitoes coming to New Jersey from that quarter. The passage of the bill, Dr. Reed declared, would "make the mosquito of New Jersey extinct."

Mr. Bierck, of Hudson, and Mr. Martin, of Essex, favored the measure, and Mr. Drake, of Middlesex, opposed its passage.

DAYS OF OLD MILITIA RECALLED BY NEW GIFTS.

Company A Comes Into Possession of Relics of Civil War, Presented by General Skirm's Relations.

Company A, Second Regiment, N. G. N. J., of Trenton, has come into possession of a large number of prizes won by the command during the early years of its organization. A large number of these articles were presented Wednesday to the company by the relatives of the late General W. H. Skirm. One of the most handsome souvenirs is a silver tea service. A large number of pictures of the company taken years ago, while the company was in the old Seventh regiment, were also presented.

An honor role of the company has been present. This gives the names of members who served when the three months' men were called out by the president's proclamation, April 15, 1861; emergency men called out by proclamation of Governor Curtain, of Pennsylvania, June 17, 1863. It also gives a list of members of Company A who were officers in the United States army, marine corps and United States navy.

An effort is being made to secure all articles belonging to the company which are now in the possession of former members. These are all to be placed in the handsome parlors of the company at the armory.

Mr. and Mrs. William O. Chapman, of Newark, have been visiting relatives here for a few days.

Mrs. J. R. Truell, of Central avenue, who has been enjoying a pleasure trip to Cuba, has returned home.

Charles Wadsworth, of New York, has been spending a few days in town with his brother, William B. Wadsworth, of West Eighth street.

NEWS IN THE SUBURBS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY

The funeral of the late Eugene Runyon was held yesterday afternoon. There was a large attendance at the service and handsome floral tributes showed the high esteem in which the dead was held by his associates. The service, which began at 2 o'clock, was conducted by Rev. Frank Fletcher, of the Baptist church, Mr. Runyon's pastor and friend. The preacher delivered a glowing and touching eulogy on Mr. Runyon's character and works, moving a number of the dead man's older friends to tears. Hymns were sung by a quartette composed of Walter Clawson, Miss Dayton, Miss Ethel Garretson and John Nelson. The bearers were Henry Garretson, Lewis Walker, L. V. Von Minden, George W. Day, John Dayton and Nelson Blackford.

A cable failed to work properly on the gravity railroad at the crusher Wednesday noon, and as a result two cars, one descending loaded, and one going up empty, crashed together head-on. Both cars were wrecked and crushed stone flew in all directions. The accident caused a short shutdown.

There will be a public school meeting at New Market Tuesday, April 17, to secure public approval of the proposed sale of the Harris Lane school building. The board will meet after the vote.

Owing to the number of enrollments made the first of the month, the first grade in the school is crowded. Supt. Meseroll and the building committee are considering measures for relief.

Charles Thornton and W. W. Oliver secured a renewal of their liquor licenses from the County Court this week. There was no argument.

Garretson & Gray will furnish the stone needed for the borough street work. Their price is $1 and $1.10 for the two sizes.

A large safe, costing $110, is expected at the borough hall in a few days. All public records will be kept in it.

Alfred Osmun has returned to his home in Jersey City after visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ziba Osmun.

Garretson & Gray's crusher has resumed operation. The plant is rushed with orders for early delivery.

Rev. A. S. Phelps is spending several days at Atlantic City. His health is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Ruhl are happy over the arrival of a young daughter.

C. M. Whyhusky has resigned as janitor of the borough building.

W. J. Hamilton removed to Plainfield early in the week.

C. E. Kelly has been drawn on the Grand Jury.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Edward L. Hand started breaking ground Tuesday for two new houses on his property on Westfield avenue. Both dwellings have already been rented and the cellars are not finished yet. Others who are looking for a good thing could do the same, as the demand for houses here is far in excess of the supply.

A full house is assured the Gold Medal Minstrel troupe at Excelsior Hall tonight. The members of the troupe are well known locally and a big treat is in store for the lovers of the "black-face" here.

Surely the 'Plains won't let Fanwood borough do them on a paid fire department. This is the only satisfactory way to settle the $500 exemption the members formerly enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Schmidt have removed from Westfield avenue to their own house on Forest avenue.

Miss Elsie Shott, of Lyons Farms, has been visiting the Misses Cook, of Park avenue.

The weekly prayer and praise service will be held tonight at the Baptist church.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

The Women's Mission Circle held its regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. B. Manning. An annual report was made and new officers elected.

The P. O. S. of A., Camp 41, met last night in regular session in Washington Hall.

Howard Elliott has finished his new house and is now living in it.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. H. A. Todd, of East Third street, is seriously ill.

Pirie Moore has been suffering with a severe attack of neuralgia for several days.

Mrs. Albert Butler, of West Fourth street, is detained at home with an attack of tonsilitis.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Ferguson, of West Third street, are entertaining the latter's parents from Plymouth, Pa.

Miss Frances Jennings, of New Brooklyn, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Charles Frentz, of West Fourth street.

Miss Madeline Reed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Reed, of Myrtle avenue, has returned home for her Easter vacation from Dana Hall, Wellesley, Mass., where she is a student.

Sidney R. Titsworth, of West Fifth street, will be graduated from the College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York, next month, and has accepted a position as house physician at a hospital at Bridgeport, Conn.

Lewis E. Waring, who is spending the season in New York, was in town yesterday looking at his home in West Seventh street. He and his family will probably return there for a short time prior to spending the summer at Southampton, L. I.

Will Inspect Sewage Plants.

Paterson, April 6.—At the meeting of the joint sewage investigation committee at the office of the city counsel, in the city hall, Wednesday night, a communication was read from City Engineer Allen Hazen, in which he stated that now would be a good opportunity for the aldermanic members of the committee to make the trip of inspection of sewage disposal plants at Providence, Boston, Lawrence and Worcester. Dr. R. M. Curtis was asked to communicate with Mr. Hazen and ascertain if he could make arrangements for the trip for the latter part of next week.

Mother of Seventeen Would Adopt.

Jersey City, April 6—Mrs. Sternard, mother of seventeen children, of 156 New York avenue, this city, was among the unsuccessful applicants Wednesday who wanted to adopt the infant child of Jeremiah McCarthy, a tugboat captain, and his wife, Ida, who died recently, and were buried in the same grave. The child, which was eight days old when it became an orphan, was instrusted to Mrs. Charles Sternard, a daughter-in-law.

—The Plainfield Gun Club will meet at Harry Dreier's store on West Front street, tomorrow night, to arrange for an all-day shoot on Wednesday, April 25.

Each morning—'til the story's old—
The coffee pot is always cold
It's ever so when coal you burn
When you use gas, the tables turn.

At Breakfast Time.

There are few things so discouraging as a poor cup of coffee for breakfast. But one can't expect good coffee if the fire won't burn. With coal this happens frequently—with gas never. Turn the stop-cock, apply the match and there you are. The morning coffee is assured. Not only the morning coffee but every meal, every day, is easily cooked on a gas range. Prices, $9.50 to $15.00. $2.00 down; $2.00 a month. Connections Free.

FLAYS AVIS FOR CHANGE OF THE "BISHOPS' BILL."

Senator, Says Monsignor Sheppard, Is Either Very Innocent or Under Party Whip.

Jersey City, April 6.—In speaking of the action of the Senate in regard to the "bishops' bills," Monsignor J. A. Sheppard says:

"I cannot in any way account for the change made by the Avis committee. I know that at our last meeting some three weeks ago we were given to understand, when we would not compromise on any of the issues in our bill, wishing to be in a position to return to the next Legislature in case the present one did not grant our request, that Senator Avis asserted: 'I feel sure that you gentlemen will be satisfied with our amendment, and if you are not and do have to come back to Trenton next year I myself will introduce your bill.'

"Now after reading the amendments, I do not want to say that the Senator is a political juggler, but I must say that there is only one or two ways to account for his change of heart. Either the Senator is a very innocent and inexperienced man, or he is under the whip of a party. I would not accuse our representatives either in the Senate or in the House of coming in close contact with the brewers or the liquor dealers and imitating our mercantile friends on the Bowery of asking $1,000 and dropping to $400 as the purchase price of legislation. I never did believe, nor do I now believe, that any of our legislators in the past or present could so abuse the confidence of their constituents."

Opens Court in Church.

Hackensack, April 6.—Bergen County failing to furnish sufficient courtroom facilities, the court rented the First Reformed chapel, in which Judge Heisley opened the Circuit Court Wednesday. Justice Garretson held the Supreme Court in the old courtroom. The chosen freeholders have a new courthouse committee, appointed last year, but the Democratic majority of this year is fighting them in the courts and thus holding up the work.

Plans Canvas "Hotel" on Beach.

Atlantic City, April 6.—A "canvas hotel" is the newest novelty projected for Atlantic City's beach front. In fact, a veritable tented city is planned, but a tented city with all modern conveniences and luxuries. A Pittsburger discovered this latest form of entertainment for a summer seashore crowds. For his enterprise he has secured a block of beach front land in Chelsea, and expects to erect the "canvas hotel" next month.

Joshua Loiseaux is detained at his home in Putnam avenue by illness.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Thompson, of Netherwood, are home from a pleasure trip to Cuba.

SPORTS HERE AND THERE

DIAMOND DUST.

George Mallen is practicing with the Stevens Institute team every afternoon in Hoboken, which nine he is coaching, and is in fine fettle.

Manager Woodhead is very chesty over his team for this summer and has issued a bold challenge to Manager Daab to play a game in this city.

Quinby, who covered second bag on the Alis team three seasons ago, will be seen on the Crescent A. C. team in the Metropolitan Amateur League.

Benjamin Mumford has started to receive bids for the flag pole on which will fly the pennant. Better hurry and buy as the lumber market is advancing.

Kid Brogan came out from New York yesterday and romped about with the Jersey City players. Manager Murray declares the "kid" a wonder and has a bright future before him.

According to Gene McCann, Jack Burke, the former Westfield catcher, is out of the game for good owing to a kinky arm. Jack was one of the best catchers of his day and a genuine nice fellow, too.

Jack O'Neill has invented a new bat which he declares will wake up the dead before the end of the season. He is authority for the statement that it contains eighteen ounces of pure lead near the end.

Health Inspector Addis is responsible for the sane statement that Plainfield and Hoboken will be the biggest towns on the baseball map this season. He makes this boast despite the fact that Manager Conklin, of Somerville, will have to be consulted.

The baseball game scheduled for tomorrow by the Plainfield High School team has been called off and there will be no contest. Manager Gavett tried to arrange a game with North Plainfield High School after the Brooklyn H. S. cancelled their date, but this was found impossible. The local school boys' first contest will be on Wednesday with Rahway H. S. on Crescent Oval.

A player by the name of Russell has opened up correspondence with Manager Daab relative to playing on the team. According to the information already on hand he played last season with the Jamestown team, of the Northern New York League, and is a slab artist and first baseman, and bats in the vicinity of 280 per cent. This sounds pretty good. Manager Daab has notified him to report next Sunday when the Hoboken team will meet the Cedars when he will be given an opportunity to show his prowess. Manager Daab is looking around for a good first baseman and perhaps he will fill the bill. Russell says he has played with Dunleavy, now with St. Louis, Lynch, the star pitcher, and other celebrities. He is partly a resident of Plainfield, spending Sundays with relatives at Netherwood. Manager Daab was put on his track by Mayor Smalley.

Something About Batting.
By Napoleon Lajoie.

Once "Willie" Keeler, of the New York American League Club, defined his method of batting by saying that "to hit them where they ain't" was the great scheme with the stick. That's good, and I'll supplement it by remarking that it is also a good thing to "hit them so hard that they can't get them." First know your pitcher and then hammer him for all that you are worth. If he has speed, walk into it; if a slow ball, wait for it. Keep cool and keep your eye on the ball. Those are two of the most important points for the batter to remember.

Keep in Readiness.
By Hans Wagner.

If you keep your arms free you can hit the ball freely. The batter who strikes at the ball with stiff forearm and rigid elbows can't expect to get much distance. Look for the seam in the ball when it comes up around the plate and aim to meet it fairly with the bat. Don't take your eyes off the ball. If you do you'll lose. Never mind what the pitcher does before he lets the ball go. Watch for it as it comes from his hand, and then follow it as it approaches you. Learn to be easy on your feet, so that you can step in or out as the emergency demands and meet curves. Then you'll hit some.

In the Outfield.
By "Willie" Keeler.

Outfielders must be fast runners and have the best of eyesight. It is a fact that there are no two outfields alike in the large cities of the United States. In some you are compelled to play with the sun and in some against the sun. Where there is a sunfield the beginner should never go out and face the sun, but should play to one side of his field and run across the sun, when trying to catch fly hits. Young players should take the most practice on fly hits that go over their heads. They are hardest to judge and the fielders who are most accurate in catching hits of that description are those who get into the big leagues the quickest.

Plainfield, N. J., April 6, 1906.

In today's issue a correspondent suggests that a co-operative ice company be organized to sell the commodity at a fair profit, and thus free the people from the unreasonable demands of the alleged collection or combination of dealers that seems to have the consumers at their mercy. The least that can be said is, the latest advance in price, ten cents on the hundred, appears to be without justification. Surely it is exhorbitant to ask sixty cents for a hundred pounds at this season of the year, even though the supply from the immediate vicinity was limited by the unusual winter. Our correspondent, who is a leading citizen of the town and a man not given to misstatements of facts, says that he is informed that ice could have been obtained by the dealers at the rate of six cents per hundred on the cars at Plainfield. In view of the present situation and the probable conditions that will arise in the near future, we suggest that the Plainfield Protective Association devote its attention to this problem which vitally effects every householder and resident of the city.

CHORUS GIRL USED IT ON A MAN IN AN ORCHESTRA CHAIR.

Andrew Smith, a travelling salesman, thirty-two years old, was arraigned yesterday before Judge Mahon at Elizabeth on a charge of disorderly conduct. He was accused of having caused a disturbance Wednesday night in the Lyceum theatre during the performance of "New York by Night."

A chorus girl, according to the story told in court, started in to have a little fun with Smith during the performance. He occupied an orchestra chair near the stage. When the chorus girl winked at him he didn't like it and when she repeated the wink he became angry. After he had been the victim of still more winking he yelled angrily, "You quit," and then, it was alleged, he started for the stage.

He broke the backs of a couple of orchestra chairs in climbing over them, and wrecked two more in his struggle with a policeman, who had been called in by Edwin Elroy, the manager. The whole house was in an uproar and the winking chorus girl was badly frightened. Smith was finally taken out, shouting and protesting, and the play then went on.

Smith's only explanation of his conduct was that the girl had been "making faces at him." He was fined $20 and costs of court, which amounted to $2.85 more. He paid with money which he stripped from a comfortable roll, and was allowed to depart.

Milk Case Up Again.

Before Justice Mosher and a jury this morning the retrial of the contract case of Howard V. Sickle, of Lebanon, against Stewart S. Tompkins, a milk dealer of this city, over which a jury disagreed three weeks ago, was begun. The case was unfinished when court adjourned at noon, and was resumed this afternoon at 2:15 o'clock. The claim is for $170. Tompkins does not dispute the bill, but claims recoupment in the sum of $200 for damages sustained as the result of a sudden stoppage of milk deliveries by Sickle. S. S. Swackhamer is counsel for the plaintiff, and W. S. Angleman for the defendant.

The blessing of palms will take place at Holy Cross church at the early celebration Sunday morning. Palms will be given out after the morning and evening services.

HOPE CHAPEL REVIEWS WORK OF THE PAST YEAR

MEMBERSHIP AND FINANCES NOW BETTER THAN EVER BEFORE.

Officers and members of Hope chapel met in the Sunday-school room, last night, and reviewed the work of the past year by means of written and verbal reports. In was shown that every department, with one exception, had made healthy gains and that the chapel is now in a better condition, financially and otherwise, than it has ever been before. In the election of officers, Robert Slorah, by unanimous vote, succeeded himself as treasurer; Walter Bradford, Thomas Hendry and Donald McInness were made assistants and Ralph Eckert was elected secretary.

There were sixteen reports in all, giving detailed statements of the receipts and expenditures for the year and the membership figures. The Boys' Club was the only one to show a loss in members, having three less than the year before, but its gains in other directions offset this backward step. Rev. L. R. Howard's report for the church showed a net gain of twenty-five members, the enrollment now being 395 as compared with 370 for the corresponding time last year. In the twelve months just ended, four members were lost by death, Mrs. Rachael Moran, Mrs. Henrietta J. Sorensen, Mrs. Jeannette Bowden and Mrs. Annie Mary Nelson. There were fourteen baptisms, twelve of whom were children.

Treasurer Slorah's report of the finances showed the total receipts to have been $1,054.27, a gain of $396. The expenditures were $1,046.96. Treasurer John H. Cose, of the Sunday-school, reported receipts of $1,057, as against $671.89 for 1905. The membership of this department is now the largest in its history. The average attendance for the year, despite the fact that on one very stormy Sunday there were only eleven scholars present, was 343.

Mrs. L. R. Howard, treasurer of the Ladies' Aid Society, submitted a report showing receipts and expenditures for the year of $297.50, a gain over last year. Of this sum, $170 has been contributed to the organ fund. The report of Secretary Mrs. C. H. Leland showed a membership of 44, a gain of six for the year.

Other reports were presented by H. C. Squires, for the excursion fund; Mrs. John Johnson, for the flower committee of the Ladies' Bible Class; Mrs. Walter Bradford, for the Penny-A-Week Mission Society; Mrs. L. R. Howard, for the Women's Missionary Society; Mrs. Joseph Brown, secretary of the same society; Miss Edna Eckert and Miss Bertha Jones, secretary and treasurer of the Y. P. S. C. E.; Walter Firstbrook, representing the Boys' Club; Miss Grace Burke, for the sewing school, and Miss Jean Douglas, leader of the cooking class.

The pastor was appointed a ways and means committee and a vote of thanks was extended to all who had contributed reports.

BISHOPS' BILL PASSES SENATE MUCH AMENDED.

Hutchinson Declares That Framers of Original Will Not Know the Substitute.

Trenton, April 6.—The New Jersey Senate passed yesterday the Bishops' Anti-Liquor bill in greatly modified form, after considerable debate. It was drawn by an inter-denominational conference of clergymen, but Senator Hutchinson, of Mercer, in speaking against the amendments, said it bore no resemblance whatever in its present form to the bill originally introduced. It is believed the bill will go through the House in the same shape in which it passed the Senate.

Makes the minimum license fee in cities of over 10,000 inhabitants $300; abolishes back rooms to barrooms, except in hotels or cafes; fixes age of minors at eighteen years; no liquor can be sold to any person under this age, either for his own or another's benefit; no license shall be granted to any saloon property within a year, where the license has been revoked; places at the discretion of license-granting bodies whether the interior of saloons hall be open to public view from the street.

Death of Mrs. Edward McCann.

Mrs. Mary McCann, wife of Edward McCann, died at her home on South Second street, last night, after a long illness. She was sixty-three years old and leaves one daughter, Mrs. Edward Eskeson, and three sons, Charles, James and John McCann. The funeral will be held from St. Mary's church Monday morning and interment will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

"The Making of the Bible."

Under the auspices of the Young People's Society of the First Baptist church, Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, pastor, will give an illustrated lecture tonight on "The Story of the Book, or the Making of the Bible." Young people especially are invited, but every one will be welcome. There will be no admission fee.

ASSOCIATION ARMING FOR CAMPAIGN—GAS MACHINES WILL CLOG SEWERS.

Discussion at the Board of Trade meeting last night brought out the fact that the Plainfield Protective Association has engaged gas and electric light experts who are now engaged in collecting statistics and other data to be used when it gets after the Public Service Corporation in earnest for cheaper rates. The association has $2,000 in its treasury and a portion of the amount is being used to pay the experts.

A discussion regarding the private gas machines being installed in the city was taken up and one member said that trouble with the sanitary sewers would arise if any great number of such machines were used. In explaining this, he said the refuse from the machines, which consists largely of lime, will cake when thrown into the sewer and the ordinary water pressure will not wash it down. It was expected that it would only be a question of time when the Board of Health or the city would have to take some action about the matter.

There was considerable talk of the poor quality of gas sold here, and the fact that Plainfield is one of a very few towns where single phase electric lighting system is in use.

Honeymoon in Cell.

Merchantville, April 6.—Bride and groom of but a few hours, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Burke spent the first night of their honeymoon in a prison cell. Arrested at the same time were Harry Wharton, best man, and Maggie McCann, bridesmaid. The men were charged with disorderly conduct on a trolley car, Tuesday, in Merchantville. When arraigned before Justice of the Peace Longstreth, Burke exhibited his marriage certificate, and Mr. Longstreth imposed the costs on the men, which were paid.

Cut His Throat in Street.

Bayonne, April 6.—While the members of the congregation of the First Baptist church, Avenue C and Thirty-third street, were passing into the church for the prayer meeting Wednesday night, David Doyle, thirty-three years old, of Montgomery street, Jersey City, sat in the gutter in front of the church and drew a razor across his throat. Dr. B. Heintzelman stumbled over the unconscious man and had him removed to the city hospital. He will probably die.

Dog Leads Master to Dead Body.

Hackensack, April 6.—George Guggesberg, an employe at the Riverside Boiler Works here, owns a valuable collie dog. Wednesday it ran up to its master and manifested so much distress that he followed it. Between Hackensack and Ridgefield Park the dog led him to the dismembered body of a man who had been struck by a train. The man was unidentified, and the body was brought here for interment.

Democrats to Parade.

Long Branch, April 6.—In honor of their sweeping victory at the polls Tuesday, the Democrats of Monmouth Beach Wednesday night held a jollification meeting and parade. The women folk took part in the celebration. The new Mayor, William Heitsman, and Councilmen-elect John Maney, A. O. Johnson, Garrett White, William Butler, William Applegate and E. B. West were serenaded.

Ignores Wife in His Will.

Trenton, April 6.—The will of Patrick J. Berry, a contractor and builder, who died suddenly in his apartments in this city ten days ago, was Wednesday admitted to probate in the Orphans' Court. Mr. Berry totally ignores his wife, from whom he was estranged several years. Mr. Berry's wealth was all in real estate, and he was said to be worth more than $100,000.

COLT RESTORES LIFE OF SUPPOSED CORPSE.

Coffin Thrown from Hearse in Runaway, He Is Resuscitated and Drives Back to Town.

Lesueur, Minn. — The little village of Bleakwood, in this county, was the scene of a strange occurrence the other day.

There lived in the town for a number of years Peter Porter, a public charge, who lately became ill and died. The funeral day was set and attended by a number of the charitable and humanely disposed people of the town, who did not think that even a pauper should journey to the grave unattended. The man had fallen into a coma several days before he was pronounced dead by the city physician, a young man just out of college.

When the perfunctory mourners viewed the corpse after the short services all were agreed that the deceased looked natural indeed. The plain but decent casket was placed in the hearse and the rather short funeral train moved off on its way to the cemetery, half a mile distant.

They had gone but a little way, however, when an automobile passed at great speed and so frightened the horses that they threw the driver from his seat. Then the animal ran up the road in the direction of the cemetery, distancing all pursuers and leaving the funeral train far behind.

Before reaching the cemetery, however, the horses turned into Henlet road, to the left, and soon made several other turns so that the persons in pursuit did not know which way to go, and all returned.

Half an hour later the horses, still drawing the hearse, were seen coming over the hill north of the town. To the unbounded amazement of all, as the equipage approached, it was discovered that Porter was not dead, but had been in a trance. He had recovered and was driving the hearse back home.

The vehicle had tipped over two miles from town and the shock resuscitated Porter, who, instantly comprehending the situation, had called to some men near by to help him right the hearse. Then, mounting the seat, he drove back to town.

The funeral was, of course, postponed and Porter put back on the town again. The young city physician feels much embarrassed at his mistake.

S. S. TEACHERS ELECT.

Reports for the past year and the election of officers for the ensuing year was the principal business at the annual meeting of the Sunday-school of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, last night. Of the forty officers and teachers, twenty-five were present.

The reports showed that $600 was raised during the year, all of which was expended for benevolent purposes. The membership of the school is about 300, a slight increase over a year ago. It was decided to continue the use of the Blakeslee lesson studies for the coming year. These officers were elected: Superintendent: H. J. Cochran; secretary, Harry Slausson; treasurer, L. R. Hopton. Mr. Hopton was elected in place of Charles Cook, who resigned after a service of seven years. The usual missionary and library committees were appointed.

BAYWAY CROOKS ARE ENTERPRISING.

These Thieves Twice Carried Off Bodily Railway Station.

The third railroad station that the Central Railroad of New Jersey has put up at Bayway has just been finished. It is constructed of corrugated steel and concrete, built expressly to prevent its being carried away by thieves, as were the other two wooden stations.

The Bayway station is on the Sound Shore line and is used principally by employes of firms at that place. The flagman acts as station agent during the day, but at night there is no one in the station.

About a year ago a wooden station mysteriously disappeared and no trace of it ever has been found. The company then put up another of similar construction, but one night shortly after it was finished it was carried off by thieves, who loaded it on a truck and carried it off.

Then it was that the company decided to build the steel station. The one just finished was used yesterday for the first time. It is only 25 by 25 feet, but the officials of the company say that feel reasonably certain that it will not disappear on some fine evening, as did the others.

Slight Blaze in Loose Hay.

An alarm was turned in from box 13 at 2:15 this afternoon for a blaze in a lot of loose hay back of the City Steam and Hand Laundry building on East Fourth street. It was put out by Grover Schuck and Bert Hanson before the department arrived. While on the way down Park avenue the chemical engine ran over and all but killed a valuable bird dog. Two bullets from Patrolman John Payne's revolver put the animal out of its misery.

Dismisses Divorce Suit.

Jersey City, April 6.—Vice Chancellor Garrison dismissed the divorce suit of Mrs. Jennie G. Provost against Winfield Provost, of Hackettstown, an insurance agent in this city, Wednesday. Mrs. Provost alleged a "wilful and continued desertion," which the court said had not been shown.

PEOPLE OF PROMINENCE.

Mrs. George Gould is to have published a book on her recent trip abroad. Among her intimate friends she is spoken of as being "in the distinguished list of automobile survivors."

Dr. Isaac H. Hazleton, of Wellesley Hills, Mass., the only surviving officer of the First Vermont, was one of the guests at the recent launching of the new mammoth battleship Vermont.

Dr. Albert A. Van der Veer, of Albany, N. Y., has just received one of the highest honors that can be given to a surgeon. He has been chosen president of the National Surgical association. His works on surgery are standard.

Prof. Alexieff Torigony, one time of the University of Moscow, and who was imprisoned in 1891 for alleged complicity in the asssination of Alexander II., will shortly come to America from Japan to become a United States citizen.

William Kingsley, who was born in Ireland in 1783 and fought with Nelson at Trafalgar, is now living at the age of 122 near Bloomfield, Mo. He fought in the Crimean war, assisted in the taking of Sebastopol and in this country fought in the Mexican and civil wars.

Mrs. Marion B. Baxter is at the head of the only free hospital in Seattle, Wash., the hospital ship Idaho. Roger S. Greene and other public-spirited men of the city bought the ship and gave it for the benefit of those too poor to pay for admission to hospitals. Mrs. Baxter has been for several years on the editorial staff of a Seattle paper.

Gov. Miguel A. Otero of New Mexico is one of the most extensive sheep breeders in the southwest, his flocks in Guadaloupe county alone numbering 65,000 head. He is a native of the territory, a scion of one of its oldest families and speaks Spanish and English with equal fluency. The governor is now nearing the end of his second term and it is considered probable that he will be reappointed.

Thomas A. Edison came over to New York from his quiet New Jersey home to see some machinery in which he was interested. As soon as possible he hurried back again. "I want to get back to the quietude of my own workshop," he remarked on leaving. "I can't stand New York. You are too glaring and noisy over here, one of the chief reasons being that you are using so many of my contrivances."

MEANT FOR MERRIMENT.

"In Sweden a plumber is called a vattenledingsentrepenor." "He is, eh? I'll bet he charges for the time while he is being called it, too."

"You're dreadfully untidy again, Mary! I don't know what the baker will think of you when he comes." "The baker don't matter, 'm. The milkman's bin!"

"Pa," asked Tommy, "what's the difference between 'assurance' and 'insurance?'" "Well, my son, one is what the agent has and the other is what he persists in trying to sell you."

"How long does it take to empty this hall?" asked the lecturer, looking about the auditorium. "I don't know exactly," replied the janitor; "but if you wish, when you begin lecturing I'll time 'em."

"This is the first time you have been to prayer meeting in a long time," said the pastor of a colored congregation. "I had to come," replied Erastus Pinkley; "I needs strength'nin'. I'se got a job whitewashin' a chicken coop an' buildin' a fence around a watermelon patch."

"That barber seems to be doing a rushing business." "Yes. He has invented a hair tonic that smells exactly like gasoline." "But—er—I don't see the point." "It tickles the vanity of his patrons. They go around smelling of gasoline, and this gives the impression that they own automobiles."

AMONG SCIENTISTS.

Prof. G. Haberlandt, after studying the sensitiveness of the tendrils and hairs on plants, has come to the conclusion that some plants are capable of experiencing regular sensations.

The new method of producing general anesthesia proposed by Schneiderlin, of Berlin, consists in giving three hypodermic injections—two hours, one hour and half an hour before operation—of scopolamine with some morphine. Unconsciousness continues some hours after the operation.

A London chemist, Dr. McAlpine, has a new process of refining mineral oil, for which he claims that it will abolish the use of expensive chemicals, make two distillations do for the three now made, increase the yield of products 20 per cent., and improve the quality of all the products.

CENTER SHOTS.

Liquid courage is apt to evaporate.

People with high tempers when unduly excited are inclined to indulge in low language.

The husband of a society leader gets a lot more sympathy than he knows anything about.

The misanthrope who feels that he hasn't a friend in the world might just as well be a book agent.

The fellow who goes out of his way to put you on to a sure thing will generally bear watching.

The great trouble with the artistic temperament is that it revolts at the idea of making a living.

EASTER GOWNS IN PROFUSION.

The enthusiastic praise being bestowed upon our magnificent collection of Suits and Gowns for outdoor and indoor wear assures us that we not only meet the expectations of those who compare this store with New York establishments, but we surprise everybody by showing a variety of gowns that can hardly be matched by any New York store, much less excelled.

As we have before stated, we do not confine ourselves to limited lines, as many high class New York stores do, but we choose from many the best we can find anywhere. Many of the gowns shown here are exclusive with this house; in fact, most of them.

If you contemplate appearing in a new gown Easter Day, do not put off the selection another moment. The earlier you buy now the better, especially if alterations are to be made.

HANDSOME VOILE SUITS—In all the latest shades, including gray, old rose, Alice blue, reseda and navy; coats trimmed with fancy embroidery, lace and braid; skirts in circular style with plaits, silk lined; reg. $39.50, our price.. 29.50

PRETTY PANAMA SUITS—Four new models, made with handsome Eton jackets; charmingly trimmed with braid, lace or tailor straps, with circular, circular-gored and Princess skirt effects, with cluster plaits, straps and bands employed in various ways; in Alice blue, gray, old rose and reseda, at these very low prices:

16.50, 18.50, 19.50, 22.50

POPULAR-PRICED SUITS—Most attractive models indeed; made of beautiful new gray all-wool plaids and mixtures, with Eton coats having elbow sleeves beautifully trimmed; with skirts in circular shape with cluster of plaits and two bands around the bottom; suits that most stores would mark at from $16.50 to $18.50, for they look worth those prices; sold here at $10

WOMEN'S WALKING SKIRTS—In a variety of plaited styles; of good Broadcloth, Cheviot and Fancy Mixtures; a lot including values up to $6.50; a large number to choose from; special price $3

WOMEN'S TAILOR-MADE COATS—Of Covert, Broadcloth, Cheviot, Silk and Fancy Mixtures; in tight-fitting, semi-fitting, Eton and box effects; also long tourist coats; special prices:

5.75, 6.98, 9.98 and 12.50

WOMEN'S WALKING SKIRTS—Of Voile, Panama and Fancy Mixtures in new circular plaited effects, in white, gray, reseda and helio; regular values up to $9.50; specially priced at only $4

NEW SUNBURST SKIRTS—Of various attractive materials—sold at very popular prices.

Sunburst Skirts of Fancy Plaids and Shadow Plaids, $7.98 and $9.98.

Sunburst Skirts of Black Taffeta, $12.50.

Sunburst Skirts of Fancy Plaid Silk with velvet trimming, $18.98.

An Extraordinary Sale of Misses' and Girls' Coats and Reefers.

Tomorrow will certainly be one of the biggest Saturdays of the season in our Misses' Garment Section, for we have planned a sale of Coats and Reefers that will set the town talking.

The assortment of Coats shown here far exceeds in variety any other stock in the State, and better values than we offer at regular prices cannot be had anywhere.

More than 500 Coats will be involved in the sale tomorrow. Do not fail to be here if you need one of these Spring garments.

Other Handsome Coats for girls and misses in ¾ length, mannish cut; a large variety of popular styles; sizes 16, 18; good values at $15; special selling price $9.98

STRAY STORYETTES.

A certain gentleman on being asked to subscribe toward sending out a missionary to one of the cannibal islands of the Pacific, is reported to have answered, in the most discouraging manner: "Certainly not. I am a vegetarian."

A cartoonist in Manila was presented to genial Secretary Taft. "And so you are the man," exclaimed the secretary, "that has been taking liberties with my face!" "Guilty," pleaded the caricaturist; "but remember that your face is my fortune."

A story is told of a dying rabbi, who had been all his lifetime extremely religious, but had likewise always suffered much want and misery. "Do you know," he said to those in the sick-room, "if, after all the sad experiences I have had in the past, there is no future life, I shall be greatly amused."

"I know a woman," says Belva A. Lockwood, "who got a modern servant, a cook, from a noted cooking school. On the third day she announced that he was going to leave. 'You only keep two servants,' she said to her mistress, 'and I've been accustomed to living where there are four, which suits me better on account of my partiality for bridge.'"

A red-headed man one night raked up enough courage to propose to a girl with whom he was very deeply and sincerely in love. She replied to his suit in a sad voice: "I'm very sorry, George, but I could never marry anyone with red hair." "I'm very nothing," said her suitor, "my barber tells me that at the rate my hair is falling out I'll be completely bald in two years."

THE WORLD OVER.

The attempt to acclimatize in England the famous blue poppy of Thibet has proved a failure.

Canada has enacted a law providing for the payment of a salary to the leader of the opposition in parliament.

An advertisement from the Yorkshire Post: "Would any lady of means care to marry poor, crowded-out clerk age 37?"

Under the auspices of the University of Frieburg, Switzerland, a business academy for women only has been opened in that city.

The Alastian city of Malhausen not only provides free baths for its school children, but free medical inspection and dental treatment.

English poachers have adopted khaki for wear during business hours. They find it makes the evasion of watchful gamekeepers easier.

The town of Lucerne has bought for $200 Schaffhausen's old guillotine, and announces that it will lend it to other towns at $5.50 an execution.

During the last 11 months Oxford, England, has lost by death its mayor, three aldermen and four town councilors, which is considered a municipal record.

For the exclusive purpose of looking after motorists and motor cars, a corps of 200 policemen is being raised in Paris, who will be required to pass the official examination for motorists' certificates.

With the permission of the Russian government an Italian company is trying to raise a British war vessel which sank in Balaklava bay, Crimea, during the war of 1854-56. The wreck is believed to contain a large sum of gold.

TERSE TRUTHS.

Only those who have suffered can truly sympathize.

A friend in need is a friend in deed, not alone in words.

Some men who are quick to propose reforms are the last to accept them.

It is better to be known as a good man than to be known as a good fellow.

Some men think they are popular merely because people impose on them.

The world has very little confidence in a man who is too proud to remember his origin.

Some men would never know they had a good time yesterday if they had no headache to-day.

Instead of complaining that they do not get what they deserve, most men should be rejoicing because of it.

If the possession of money were the only reason for happiness, the world would lose most of its cheerfulness.

A mother is always ready to trust her daughter's happiness to a young man who is courteous and polite to his sisters.

SO IT IS SAID.

A shoemaker is the whole-soler man and generally well heeled.

A baker can always raise the dough.

A butcher can usually contrive to make both ends meet.

A hatter is sure to be a block ahead of all other men.

A huckster has no trouble with the police in making a good living out of green goods.

An electrician is always posted on current topics.

Marshall & Ball Clothing
The Highest Type of Ready-to-wear.

Easter Clothing

Akin to Custom Garments

In MARSHALL & BALL Clothing, whether for man or boy, there is that style, distinctiveness and tone that is so conspicuously absent in other ready-to-wear. It is the result of methods akin to those employed in fashioning custom garments.

These points are strikingly shown in our "Frenchcut" Overcoats, with their snug-fitting waist, flaring skirt and deep back vent. It is THE coat for young men. In no less degree are these features apparent in our Top Coats of covert, short and medium length; also our "Longcut" and Paddock Raincoats.

"Frenchcut" Spring Overcoats, $15 to $30

Raincoats $12 to $35 Top Coats $10 to $30

Men's Spring Suits, $10 to $25

Children's Overcoats, $3.00 to $10.00

The M. & B. Store particularly appeals to the sturdy boy's mother, and our prices appeal to his father's purse.

Our boxy Top Coats of covert, as well as Raincoats for boys, are as full of style as those for their fathers.

Our Spring line also comprises long, loose Overcoats and Double-breasted Reefers for the little chaps in all popular Spring materials.

Children's Suits, $2.50 to $10

Keep your boy well dressed and he'll keep his self-respect. The M. & B. Store helps parents dress boys economically.

Our showing of Norfolk, Russian Blouse, Eton, Sailor Buster Brown and Double-breasted Suits is unusually attractive. Some have either knee pants or bloomers. They're made of the new Spring fabrics and finished with the same care as our men's garments.

CHURCH PERSONALS.

A large portion of the library of the late Bishop McLaren has been donated by his family to the Western Theological seminary library.

Rev. T. G. Harper, of Wibsey, the newly elected president of the Wesleyan Reform union, was originally a Bedfordshire tinker, reared at Elstow, where John Bunyan was born.

Ian Maclaren, who is just leaving the Liverpool church where he has been minister for a quarter of a century, has been making a collection of his sermons as a sort of farewell volume.

Dr. Julius Goebel, who was dismissed as head of the German department of Stanford university without a hearing, has been appointed by President Eliot as the head of a similar department at Harvard.

Rev. H. Olin Cady, now of Evanston, Ill., who has been connected with Methodist missions in west China for the last 19 years, has been retired with a pension by the board of managers of the Missionary society.

Mr. E. Vickery, a leading member of the Methodist church in New South Wales, has bought the Lyceum theater and hotel in Pitt street, Sydney, and some adjoining property, for about $170,000, and intends to hand the whole over to the Sydney Central Methodist mission.

O. C. Barber, of Akron, O., known as "the match king," will build in the city named one of the most beautiful churches in the country. It is to be an exact duplicate of the Madeleine in Paris and will cost $500,000. As in the original, there will be no windows light being obtained through a system of skylights.

Rev. Charles Stelzle, who is labor representative for the Presbyterian church, is planning to have the Protestant churches of each large city select a fraternal delegate to the labor unions, and in turn a member of the unions it to be given the freedom of the ministers' meetings. In this way Mr. Stelzle hopes to bridge the chasm between labor organizations and the church.

TALES OF THE TOTS.

"Do you know where little boys who smoke cigarettes go?" "Yes, in behind our stable used to be the safest place, but ma's on to it now!"

"Do you know," said a Sunday school teacher, addressing a new pupil in the infant class, "that you have a soul?" "Course I do," replied the little fellow, placing his hand over his heart, "I can feel it tick."

Little Ethel was learning to sew, and one day, after vainly trying to thread a needle, she asked: "Mamma, don't they call the hole in a needle an eye?"

"Yes, dear," replied the mother.

"Well," continued the little miss, "I'll bet this old needle is cross-eyed."

Little Juana had noticed that nearly every Wednesday, the day her mother was supposed to be at home, her maternal relative went out. One Wednesday her mother made no move toward leaving, and Juana remarked:

"Mamma, this is your deception day; don't you think it's time to put on your hat and go out?"

Here is a bit of exact reasoning on the part of a little schoolgirl. The teacher wished to impress the idea of the wrong of idleness. He led up to it by asking who were the persons who got all they could and did nothing in return. For some time there was silence, but at last the little girl, who had obviously reasoned out the answer inductively from her own home experiences, exclaimed, with a good deal of confidence: "Please, sir, it's the baby!"

INDUSTRIAL ITEMS.

The Cramps have orders enough on hand now to keep the 5,000 men employed in their shipyards busy for the next 15 months.

The number of persons employed in mining in Great Britain and Ireland last year was 877,057, of whom 5,487 were females.

The United States last year launched 227 merchant ships of more than 100 tons each, with a total tonnage of 238,518 tons. Besides these there were launched 19 war vessels, aggregating 170,885 tons.

Louisiana brimstone is now added to Texas petroleum, Alabama iron, Carolina cotton goods and southern cotton, rice and sugar, as a commercial article in which Dixie is a prize maker and important source of supply.

The cotton trade in Austria is not carried on exclusively for home consumption. The exports of cotton and cotton goods, with a value of £19,512,000, showed an increase in 1904 of £436,000 on the preceding year. In Austria there are 3,250,000 spindles, and the yearly consumption of raw cotton is about 600,000 bales, whereas its neighbor, Germany, has about three times that number of spindles, and consumes about three times that quantity of raw material.

AUTOMOBILE NOTES.

The members of the Automobile Class at the Y. M. C. A. met again last night and were given further instruction on an Oldsmobile by Prof. Brokaw.

Orders for two armored cars were received last week by the E. R. Thomas Motor Co., of Buffalo. The first was from L. M. Hart, of Boston, who represents some large Western mining interests, and the second from the Giroux Consolidated Mines Co., of Los Angeles, Cal. As the Yaqui Indians are hostile in the localities of the mines, armored protection has become a necessity when automobiles are used in transporting gold from the mines to the railroad. In the two cars the system of protection varies—in Mr. Hart's, the motor and working parts as well as the driver and his cargo are encased and armed with rapid-fire guns. In the Giroux car spaces for four guards are provided with rifle racks, and slits in the armor for the rifles to be pointed through. Although the cars are heavy, they will have sufficient speed to get out of rifle range in a few minutes.

FOUR CRACK TWIRLERS

Foxen, Mc Cann, Mack and Pfanmiller Bombarding With the Little Sphere.

MURRAY ENCOURAGED

All the Skeeters Showing Up Well—Three Men Fail to Report.

Yesterday marked another strenuous session in the training camp of the "Skeeters." Barring a little soreness and stiffness in their joints, Manager Murray's band of ball tossers are in tip-top shape and in fairly good condition. Manager Murray was out on Crescent Oval all day and directed the practice play of his players. In fact, when the session ended he was sweating out in the same proportions as Billy Foxen and the rest of the twirlers who put in a hard day's work.

Manager Murray is very much encouraged over the rapidity with which his stars are rounding into form, and although he has demurred in making any predictions, he is carrying that jaunty air and wearing a winsome smile that betokens that all will be well along the banks of the Hudson this summer.

The four twirlers—Foxen, McCann, Mack and Pfanmiller—worked all day like Trojans and worked their curves and slants over the pan with sublime precision. Young Mack has a barrel of speed and declares he is ready to jump into the game at any time. Pfanmiller, too, is dropping them over, while Foxen and McCann executed their stunts like Mathewsons and McGinnitys. It is no exaggeration to say that the Jersey City pitching staff will be the biggest combination of its kind on the Eastern League circuit this season, particularly because the other clubs, Baltimore, Providence and Newark, for instance, are experiencing trouble in signing their pitching staff. While the quartet of pitchers were letting out their steam the other players were kept going through batting and running bases and fielding stunts.

In the field Merritt guarded his territory around the initial bag in faultless style and the way he scooped in liners was wonderful to behold. Captain Bean on second bag is as fast as ever, and any base hit that will slide by him must be the real article and not have any whiskers on it. Holmes and Moore, the two recruits, operated around shortstop and third base and showed a "sufficiency" of ginger in their manoeuvres. "They look like good 'uns," declared Manager Murray when he was asked for his opinion. Halligan, Keister and Clements attended to the fly catching, and it is a foregone conclusion that there will be no change in the stonewall outfield this season. The old guard captured everything in sight and not a ball got lost. Reilly, the Buffalo protege of Jocko Halligan, moves like a future league star. He shared the honors with the veterans in the outfield.

"Kid" Brogan, the second baseman for the Hoboken team, appeared in the training camp yesterday and practiced with the team. Manager Murray thinks well of this youngster and although he has not signed him, he is keeping a close eye on his doings. Wilson and Vandergrift did the catching. Old "Vandy" has no signs of a glass arm and is lining them down to "Joe" Bean with midsummer speed and accuracy.

For some unknown reason "Pete" Cassidy has failed to report, likewise Handford, the Trenton crack outfielder, but it is expected that the pair will pop in town at any time. Woods has written Manager Murray that he will join the team in its Easter trip "way down East."

TRAINING CAMP WHISPERS.

Gene McCann received two more letters from Baltimore yesterday. It beats all.

They all like the town. Jocko Halligan says it is something like Penn Yan, but it isn't.

Thoughts of home lingered in the breasts of the players last night judging from the number of letters that were written.

The sore arms and stiff joints are disappearing and the boys will be in condition to attend Palm Sunday services on the Sabbath.

"Joe" Bean, or Mr. Captain Bean, isn't so very big, but is one of the biggest swatters in the league and ranks up with the top potchers in the official average.

Tomorrow the story of how Zip Holmes saved a game at Barley Crossing, Iowa, will appear in one installment. Order a copy from your newdealer in advance.

Mrs. Clement, the wife of the heavy hitting outfielder of the team, who is on the trip with the players, is de-light-ed with Plainfield—the people and all that there is in it.

Merritt has about as graceful a motion around first base as any player in the business. He has a knack of scooping 'em in that bewilders the individual who doesn't know him.

May Manager Murray and his players have the pleasure of romping in at the head of the Eastern League procession again this season and many more after 1906.

So much for Manager Murray.

Manager Murray is a sticker for hard practice. As he is liked by all his players and recognized to be one of the fairest managers in the business, his members get into the fray with an unlimited quantity of vim and dash.

It might be well for Plainfield cranks to know that the genial manager was a league star himself once upon a time. For nine years he covered second base and managed the Providence Eastern League team, and was in active service for a continuous period of nine years.

Jocko Halligan came out with the Hamilton, Canada, team in 1897. They have pleasant recollections of his yet up there. History says he batted out 6 home runs in a single game one day. According to McCann there is a juvenile team in the town this year known as the Young Halligans.

Mr. Murray has been very successful on the managerial end of the baseball show. He gave Providence good ball and resurrected the national game in Skeeterville when the enthusiasm was at a low ebb. He succeeded in getting together the strongest team that ever represented the city which brought the pennant there two years ago.

"CHRISTY" MATHEWSON HAS COME TO TOWN

WORLD'S GREATEST PITCHER HERE TO RECUPERATE.

"Christy" Mathewson, the premier pitcher of the National League, and Mrs. Mathewson are visiting at the home of Dr. and Mrs. P. B. Cregar, of Grant avenue. "Christy" is recuperating from an attack of nasal diphtheria, which he contracted while in the South with the Giants. He has not fully regained his strength as yet, but says that his throwing arm is in the best of condition.

Mrs. Mathewson is also nursing a fractured arm, the result of a fall on the ice at her former home in Pennsylvania several weeks ago. The broken bones were promptly set, but improvement has been very slow.

The popular twirler will remain here for a week or more, when he believes that he will be ready for business. While in town he will visit Crescent Oval and watch the "Skeeters" in practice.

HORSES.

Work is progressing very fast on the new buildings of the Plainfield Riding and Driving Club and there is no doubt but that everything will be in readiness for the annual horse show and the steeplechase event early in the summer.

Murray Reads "Riot Act."

There was great commotion among the players Wednesday afternoon when Manager Murray caught them in the act of "cutting" practise. It was about 3:30 o'clock when the "Skeeters" were seen wending their way across the fields towards town. Manager Murray had been in Jersey City and came to town just in time to meet his men. He gave them a little "heart to heart" talk.

Clever Bethel Chapel Boys.

A pleasing entertainment was given by the Boys' Club at Bethel chapel last night, under the direction of Miss Helen Lovell. Scenes from Hiawatha were illustrated by tableaux, song and recitations, and after the conclusion of this part of the programme, baskets, mops, burnt-wood work, and other articles made by the boys, were sold. The attendance was large and the sum realized was over $40.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Marshall, of Grant avenue, who have been in Bermuda, will return home on Thursday, April 12, by way of Florida.

Mrs. W. Remsen Taylor and her daughter, Mrs. Townsend Dickinson, of Central avenue, who has been ill with grip, will go to Atlantic City tomorrow to recuperate. They will be away two weeks.

POWER OF LIFE AND DEATH

Trick with a Possum-Playing Adder That Was Too Much for the Natives.

There is a pug-nosed belligerent little reptile known as the hog-nosed adder that has a trick of playing possum when attacked. If it once gets started on the role the snake can be tied into knots and handled indiscriminately for an hour or more.

While snake hunting in the south a year or two ago, relates the New York Sun, Mr. Ditmars plotted to win the admiration of his guide and the population by announcing that he had marvelous powers. He was endowed with the gift of destroying life by a sign.

The natives had never heard of this possum stunt of their dreader adder and when the performer formed them in a circle around a specimen found in the fields they quaked in their boots; such as had boots.

The magician advanced rapidly as if to attack the inclosed snake, pointed his finger to the sky, muttered to himself, and the adder obediently turned on its back. It was timidly passed from hand to hand.

The performer beamed with satisfaction. He would go one better. If the audience would form a larger circle he would restore life to the dead reptile.

The audience obeyed. The snake found all surroundings peaceable after a few minutes, and turned over, to slide away to parts unknown.

Mr. Ditmars faced around to accept the admiration of his guides, but the landscape was all still life. To the last ragged urchin his assistant snakers were gone, never to exhibit their faces in camp again.

HOW JAP STUDENTS CHEAT

Pay for One Tuition Only and Learn Enough at Least for Two.

While Minister Takahira was at Portsmouth, he one morning chanced to overhear a remark made by a Rockingham guest, who ventured the opinion that lazy and slothful nations disliked the earnest, progressive little Japs—disliked them because they dreaded them. Half smiling the diplomat from the Land of the Rising Sun turned, relates the New York Times, and, with an apology for taking part in the conversation, said: "Excuse me, gentlemen, but I heard only the other day something which bears most closely upon what you say.

"It was in Washington, and two ladies whom I have the honor of knowing were talking. Said one: 'The Japanese should be excluded from America. No sooner do their young men come over here and matriculate in our schools and colleges but they begin a systematic course of cheating.'

" 'You don't say so!' exclaimed the other; 'why, how is that?'

" 'Quite simple,' returned the first speaker. 'They only pay for one tuition, and they always learn at least enough for two.' "

EACH MAN HIS OWN HORSE

The German Soldier Carries a Load Which Should Be Lightened.

The German Tommy Atkins is well known to be a hardy soldier, and this to a great extent is due to the severity of his training. When on the march he is loaded like a beast of burden, and the German war office is at present considering how best they may lighten this load.

They are beginning with the heavy calfskin knapsack, for which another of light waterproof canvas is to be substituted.

Of the German infantry recruit it is said that he carries his house on his back. Besides the knapsack itself and his rifle equipment and clothing, he carries cooking utensils, parts of a tent, an overcoat, 30 cartridges, a linen suit, a quantity of underwear, two pair of boots, boot brushes and blacking, metal tools, a prayer book and a small box for knickknacks.

"Shoddy."

It is old wool redressed by scientific and clean methods. It is a component of most of the woolen garments of today. The world does not grow enough wool to enable us to have a constant supply of new woolen garments, except with the aid of shoddy. It is shoddy that has enabled the workingman to buy a new suit of clothes at the price of a week's wage. In the olden days an all-woolen garment was so expensive that it had to last its owner many years, unless he were a wealthy man. It is better hygiene for a man to buy two new shoddy suits a year than to buy an all-wool garment which must last him two years. Most of the clothes we wear, in fact, contain an element of shoddy, and so far from being the worse for it, are the better.—Magazine of Commerce.

Diamonds Explode.

A curious fact regarding diamonds is that it is not uncommon for the crystals to explode as soon as they are brought up from the mine. Sometimes they have burst in the pockets or the warm hands of miners, due to the effect of increased temperature. Large stones are more likely to do this than small ones. Valuable stones have been destroyed in this way. By way of safeguard, some dealers imbed large diamonds in a raw potato for safe transport from South Africa.

Trivial Things Forgotten.

MRS. APPLEGATE WELL AGAIN!

"I have had a bruised leg and foot for several years, caused by the brass eyelets of my shoe, which became very sore and painful especially at night. It itched, burned and ached me till it nearly set me crazy. I used everything I found and was suggested to ease it and nothing gave me any relief till I found and applied Azienza Cream which I think is a wonderful remedy for all sores and inflammation of the skin. The hard knots on my legs were as painful as bee stings, with discolored and purple spots. A running sore on my instep size of a half-dollar; the top of my foot a seething sore clean around to my heel. The bone was sore for a whole year and very painful. I used five and one-half jars of Azienza Cream and healed the sore all up. The foot remained tender and I continued to use to strengthen and toughen the skin until now it is entirely well." (Signed) Mrs. Hannah Applegate, Evergreen Ave., Avon, N. J., Sept. 3rd, 1905. 50 cents. Ask the druggist or by mail. Azienza Specialties Co., Jersey City, N. J.

CITY JAILS AND LIBRARIES.

Difference Invested in Each by Some of the Larger Municipalities.

If reading is a preventive of criminality, as some persons declare, some American cities are slow about putting this remedy for crime into effective operation, says the New York Sun. New York city, for instance, has $8,500,000 invested in jails and correctional institutions, and less than $6,000,000 in libraries.

Philadelphia has $2,150,000 in jails to $360,000 in libraries. Cleveland has $350,000 in jails and $325,000 in libraries.

These are the notable exceptions: Boston has $2,600,000 invested in jails, and $5,200,000 in libraries. Chicago has $1,000,000 in jails and $2,500,000 in libraries. St. Louis has an almost equal amount, $850,000, invested in each.

Pittsburg and Milwaukee have more than a million each in libraries, and Pittsburg stands fourth in this particular, exceeded only by Boston, Chicago and New York. Allegheny City, which is geographically a part of Pittsburg, has $730,000 invested in libraries, and Newark has $515,000. Baltimore, Buffalo and New Orleans have only a small investment in library buildings. San Francisco has $275,000, and Omaha, a much smaller city, $315,000.

NERVE OF THE "SOONERS"

Methods Taken by the Adventurers Who Try to Beat to the Front.

For many persons, a newly discovered fact is simply a spring-board from which they dive into a bottomless sea of speculation, says Samuel McChord Crothers, in Atlantic. They pride themselves on their ability to jump at conclusions, forgetting that jumping is an exercise in which the lower orders excel their betters. If an elephant could jump as far, in proportion to his weight, as a flea, there would be no holding him on this planet. Every new discovery is followed by a dozen extravagances, engineered by the Get-wise-quick people. There is always some Young Napoleon of Philosophy who undertakes to corner truth-market. It's like what happened at the opening of Oklahoma territory. Before the day set by the government when they all were to start fair in their race for farms, a band of adventurers called "Sooners" smuggled themselves across the line. When the bona fide settler arrived on his quarter-section, he found an impudent "Sooner" in possession. You can't find any fresh field of investigation that isn't claimed by these sooners. It all comes because people are no longer educated logically.

SLOW CURE FOR INSOMNIA

The Victim Took Beer for It, But in Extremely Moderate Quantity.

"Speaking of homeopathy," said the doctor, according to the Philadelphia Record, "reminds me of the case of Miss N—, who traces her ancestry back through a long line of Puritans, and has imbibed from them strong and unyielding principles as regards saloons and liquor. Miss N— has been troubled with insomnia, and has tried all sorts of remedies. Finally, she told me of her trouble. I suggested that beer might help her to woo sleep. She was horrified, but at last a beer peddler stopped at her door and left a dozen bottles.

"The beer man returned in about three days for the empty bottles.

" 'My dear man,' said Miss N—, 'the bottles are not yet empty.'

"The beer man waited several days more and again appeared.

" 'Your bottles are perfectly safe,' Miss N— told him, and then a thought struck her, 'but if you need them I have one nearly empty which you may have.'

" 'I guess you don't drink it very fast,' suggested the man.

" 'Why,' replied Miss N—, 'I take two teaspoons twice a day.' "

SCOURGE OF STOCKMEN.

Ravages of the Big Gray Wolf Far Worse Than Those of the Coyote.

Big wolves are found in both Texas and Oklahoma, but they are rare compared to the coyotes; and they are great wanderers, says Theodore Roosevelt, in Scribner's. Alone or in parties of three or four or half a dozen they travel to and fro across the country, often leaving a district at once if they are molested. Coyotes are more or less plentiful everywhere throughout the west in thinly settled districts and they often hang about in the immediate neighborhood of towns. They do enough damage to make farmers and ranchers kill them whenever the chance offers.

But this damage is not appreciable when compared with the ravages of their grim, big brother, the gray wolf, which, wherever it exists in numbers, is a veritable scourge to the stockmen.

A Little More Credible.

A man who had been shooting on Cape Cod returned by train, and a stranger who was obliged to share his seat entered into conversation with him, and asked if he had had good sport.

"Very good, indeed," replied the sportsman. "We got 100 head to two guns."

"You don't say so!" ejaculated the stranger, apparently lost in astonishment at the size of the bag. "Double-barreled guns, I suppose?"—Youth's Companion.

PLAN TO SAVE THE FALLS.

Engineer Has Evolved a Plan for the Preservation of Niagara's Cataract.

With the attention of most thinking people directed toward Niagara Falls and its threatened destruction, Alton D. Adams, in an article on "How to Save Niagara Falls," in the Technical World Magazine, offers what may prove to be the final solution of the problem. Mr. Adams says: "With a dam across Niagara river, between Lewiston and Queenston, and a reservoir six miles long and reaching to the cantilever bridge behind it, plants taking water from the dam would operate with it a substantially constant head. To connect such plants with the dam only short steel pipes would be necessary and the cost of the entire development per horse power would be very moderate. The water head of 100 feet at this proposed dam is only two-thirds of that which is available most of the time at the falls, but on the other hand the volume of water passing the dam is equal to the entire discharge over both the American and the Horseshoe falls.

With the normal discharge of Niagara river, which is 222,000 cubic feet per second, falling 100 feet the gross horse power developed would be 2,500,000. Making liberal allowances for losses of head in the penstocks and tailraces, and assuming only a fair efficiency for water wheels and generators, fully 60 per cent. of this 2,500,000 gross horse power, or 1,500,000, could be continuously generated at the proposed dam in the form of electric current. This output is about two and one-half times the actual and proposed capacities of all the hydro-electric plants now completed or under construction about Niagara Falls, and is six or seven times the combined capacity of all the electric generators now ready to operate at the falls."

NOT CAREFUL OF SAFES.

There Are Jewelers Who by Slack Habits Invite the Attention of Cracksmen.

A recent robbery in New York calls attention to a very careless way in which many jewelers, both in and out of New York, place their safes, says the Jeweler's Circular Weekly. These dealers practically invite robberies by making them possible without interruption, in placing their safes in a partition with the front opening into a store and the back absolutely hidden from view in the street. This offers an opportunity to the safe crackers, who may come in from the back, to operate upon the rear of the safe without the slightest chance of being seen by a watchman, or by pedestrians no matter how well the store is illuminated.

Jewelers seem to be under the impression that the door of the safe is the only means by which it can be entered by cracksman, forgetting that in the case of most of the safes used by small jewelers, it is much easier to get through the iron or steel in the back, chisel through the cement, and force a way directly into the inner compartments, than it is to break through the main door and then into the smaller compartments within.

The robebry perpetrated last week is the second of this kind that has taken place in New York, and it should stand as a warning to the trade. It clearly shows that the only sure way for jewelers to protect their stocks is to have their safes occupy such a position that they can be seen from four sides, placing it out some distance from the walls, or if this cannot be done, by placing the back against a solid wall of the establishment and not against a partition.

THE BOY SPOKE TOO SOON

Elated Over Passing Bad Half-Dollar and Spoils Mother's Scheme.

W. Caryl Ely, of Buffalo, the president of the American Street Railway association, was talking, during the convention in Philadelphia, about motormen's and conductors' adventures.

"A conductor came to me with a smiling face the other day," he said. He wanted to tell me what had happened on an incoming car.

"It seems that a middle-aged woman and her little son, a lad of six or seven years, got on the car, and, as soon as they were seated, the woman took a half-dollar out of her pocket and handed it to the youngster to pay the fare with.

"The boy held the coin in his small fat hand, and examined it closely and solemnly.

"The conductor appeared for the fares, and the youngster gave him the half-dollar with owlish solemnity.

"The money was pocketed and 4[illegible] cents in change was put in the small extended hand.

"As soon as he got this change the boy laughed and shouted gleefully:

" 'Oh, ma, he's taken the bad half-dollar.' "

African Medicine Men.

Bishop Hanlon, of Uganda, in describing some of his experiences in central Africa, said recently that though many of the medicine men had been converted, they could not be induced to carry their confession so far as to divulge their undoubted valuable remedies for native disease. Some of the converted medicine women were not so reticent, but their revelations were generally worthless.

Butter-Making Machine.

One of the machines exhibited at the dairy show recently held in London was a neat contrivance by which butter could be made out of milk in 60 seconds at the tea table.

HAIR TELLS CHARACTER.

Color of Hair Said to Indicate a Person's Temperament.

Many people believe that blonde, or light hair denotes affection and dark hair constancy. A person without hair is not devoid of character; far from it. The disposition of the average baldheaded man is to show such solicitude for the welfare of others, that he neglects himself. A germ causes baldness. Prof. Sabouraud, of Paris, France, inoculated a rabbit with Dandruff germs, causing it to become totally bald in five weeks' time. To rid the scalp of these dangerous germs it is necessary to apply Newbro's Herpicide.

"Destroy the cause—you remove the effect."

PUBLIC FISHING RIGHTS.

There Is a General Belief That the Game of a Country Belongs to the People.

There has been a very interesting question brought up in Colorado with regard to the rights of a person to fish in streams stocked by the state, and it is claimed by Mr. Melville, a lawyer, that the constitution affirms the public ownership of the water of the natural streams of the state and that the legislature has publicly affirmed the public ownership of the fish in the state. From early times until the present, writes Dan Beard, in Recreation, legislatures have appropriated large sums of public funds for the purpose of stocking these waters with the choicest of fish. The members of the legislature appropriating such funds believe that the public has a right to go into and upon such streams and have the pleasure and profit of such fish from such a stream.

This seems to be good, sound, natural law, and accords with Recreation's politics, for Recreation has always claimed that the game of a country belonged to the people of the country and not to the landlords. The landlords do not create game. The landlord's only right to the use of the land comes from the public consent, inasmuch as he could have no possible valid title originating from any other source, consequently he can only own the right to the use of the land which the public agrees shall be under his control, and as the public has never consented or agreed that the game or fish should be the private property of the landlord, it is evident that he has no natural, legal, moral or ethical right to the game as a landlord, but only a general right as one individual of the public which owns the game and fish of the country.

BEAUTIFUL NEWFOUNDLAND.

Scenery So Beautiful That Parts of It Vie with Famed Killarney.

In looking over your magazine I was surprised to find how little mention is made of Newfoundland, with almost unlimited game, both fish and fowl, deer and bear, for those that go far enough, writes Bessie Bogan Cowman, in Recreation.

And scenery so beautiful that parts of it vie with famed Killarney. The rugged grandeur of Pete harbor, or the beautiful bay of Outer Cove, and the rock hills near Logy bay. I may be prejudiced, but I have not seen anything pictured to come near them.

Oh, Newfoundland, with your beautiful bayous and shining creeks, wherein salmon and that pet of good anglers, speckled trout, with its firm, pink flesh, abound. I often wonder that more lovers of fine sport don't visit you. Torsail is an ideal place to spend a summer; its beautiful scenery, the old-fashioned hospitality of its people leave nothing to be desired. And then, in September, when the partridge or ptarmigan comes in, what sport to go up to Pettigrew's and out to Toad's cove, when the ship, a point out on the barrens, usually finishes the trip. Then the lovely ride back amidst such scenes as can only be found among people that both fish and farm for a living.

DEEP-SEA FISHING-BANKS.

Where the People of New York City Get an Occasional Taste of Sport.

Every day through the spring and summer and autumn, and almost every day in winter, a boat leaves one of the East river piers bound for the deep-sea fishing-banks, writes Bertha H. Smith in Four-Track News. Every passenger on board is of that true democracy, the democracy of the rod and reel. Not death itself is more of a common leveler than the fishing-rod, and who crosses the gang-plank of this fishing steamboat leaves class distinction behind.

The professional man fleeing business for a day, the clerk with a holiday on his hands, the mechanic thrown into idleness by a strike, the invalid who finds the city irksome and longs for a sniff of the sea, old men, young boys and all ages and stages of mankind between, may be seen in the stream of people that dribbles along the pier while the sun is yet dodging behind the Brooklyn housetops. The man who would go deep-sea fishing must be up betimes, for it is a good three hours' run to the fishing-banks

Two Famous Pioneer Trees.

Two of the most famous pioneer trees in the west have a well merited place in history. These were the Lone Jack tree and the Lone Elm. The first is in western Missouri and the second in eastern Kansas. A good pioneer horseman might have covered the distance between them in a day. At the Lone Jack tree a great battle was fought during the civil war. At the Lone Elm caravans over the Santa Fe trail halted for the night and here were united two branches of the famous old trail.—Kansas City Star.

Strange Case.

"It's strange sir," said the lawyer who was doing a cross-examination stunt, "that you have no memory."

"Oh, I don't know," replied the witness. "Look in the jury box—there are 12 men who have no opinions."—Chicago Daily News.

BOROUGH SHY OF MONEY

Mayor Looks Serious When Councilman Suggests a Loan of $3,500.

RESOLUTIONS PASSED

No Fear of North Plainfield's Solvency—Temporary Condition Due to Taxes Yet Unpaid.

North Plainfield is shy of ready money. The fact that the municipality is in unusually hard straits financially was brought out at the monthly meeting of the borough Council last night, when Mr. McGee, of the finance committee, asked for authorization to borrow $3,500 with which to meet current expenses.

Mayor Smalley looked concerned when the resolution was read.

"That's rather a large amount to ask for at this time of the year," he said. "How much in taxes is outstanding?" he asked, turning to Clerk Rowley.

"The collector told me today that between six and seven thousand dollars was uncollected," replied Mr. Rowley.

"H'm. That looks as if we will be pretty well in debt by fall," said the Mayor seriously.

The members looked grave, but no comment was made. The resolution was passed. No fears are entertained over the borough's solvency. She may be a little hard up this year, but the Council expects her to escape attention from the Organized Aid Association.

Mayor Smalley announced that Engineer Pearson was unable to present his sewer report as expected. The weather, the Mayor explained, had been against the expert, and he wanted two weeks more in which to prepare his report. The extension was voted.

The Mayor said a ordinance arranging for a special sewer election was being prepared.

A resolution authorizing the street committee to macadamize Westervelt avenue, beyond Mountain avenue, to the bridge, a short stretch, was passed. The work was asked for by the Union County Investment Company, which will bear half the cost.

Mayor Smalley explained that the work would not cost much and was needed to help on a neighborhood otherwise well improved. Grading work would be practically unnecessary, he said, and the whole job would not take longer than a week or two.

In connection with the Westervelt avenue resolution, Mayor Smalley said that street improvements for this year were to be considered with reference to the sewer work.

"It is almost certain the sewer will be laid this year," he said, "and we must keep that in mind in preparing for street work. Sewer pipes are laid down the middle of the street, and to lay macadam along thoroughfares to be sewered would be economically unwise. The roadway would have to be ripped up for the pipes, and new work should be held until the sewer is down."

Mayor Smalley announced that the fire department was shy of three call men, but he wouldn't appoint them just now, because they were not needed just at this time

An appropriation of $25 was made for the Memorial Day celebration of Winfield Scott Post, G. A. R. The donation is an annual custom.

Mr. Lee, of the police committee, reported that $7 had been collected in fines during March from seven prisoners. John McDonough was confirmed as a special marshal on his motion.

Mr. Lee, reporting for the street committee, stated that $109 had been spent on street work during March. Snow removal cost $33.

The Council adjourned to meet in two weeks, when Engineer Pearson's report will be received. The clerk was instructed to notify the Board of Health of the meeting, and arrange for a joint session.

Choir to Sing "Crucifixion."

At the Scotch Plains Baptist church tomorrow night "The Crucifixion" will be sung by an augmented choir, led by L. D. H. Gilmour. At the morning service Rev. T. Moore-Smith will preach from the subject, "Christ in the City of Palms."

Opened New Law Offices.

Percy Stewart, of West Seventh street, has leased a handsome suite of offices in the Mutual Life Insurance Company's building, New York, where he will continue the practice of law.

—The best place in the city to get olive oil is at Neuman Brothers' store. It is imported by them direct from France and they personally guarantee it to be strictly high grade.

GOLD MEDAL TROUPE OPENS UP ITS TOUR

PLAYED TO A PACKED HOUSE IN EXCELSIOR HALL, SCOTCH PLAINS.

Before a packed house in Excelsior Hall, Scotch Plains, last night, the Gold Medal minstrel troupe, of this city, opened up its second annual tour of suburban towns. It presented the best black-face show it has yet put out and the performance moved with a swing akin to professionalism. The audience numbered many Plainfielders who went down to watch the work of the artists and all were enthusiastic in their praise.

Joseph C. Martin acted as interlocutor in the customary first part and the funmakers on the ends were Will Doud, Bert Firstbrook, Thomas M. Muir and Harry Blimm. The latter made a big hit in his introduction of George M. Cohan's latest song success, "You're a Grand Old Rag," with a patriotic accompaniment. Ira C. Bowers got a "big hand" on his buck dancing and the Gold Medal quartette, composed of Joseph C. Martin, Harry Roberts, Harry Johnson and Jack Tod, furnished one of the most pleasing numbers in the show. The olio in the second part illustrated songs by Arthur Browning, illustrated songs by Elmer Cutting, instrumental and vocal selections by the Minion Brothers, of Newark, and a sketch, "Razor Jim," in which the characters were taken by Harry Roberts, Thomas M. Muir, Harry Blimm and Arthur Browning.

Mr. Muir really outdid himself. His droll vocalization and his screamingly funny antics as "Razor Jim" won him hearty applause.

There were sixteen vocalists in the chorus and Harry and Thomas DeMeza acted as stage managers. The show will be repeated at New Market on Tuesday, April 17, under the auspices of Friendship Council, Jr. O. U. A. M.

PLANS FOR THE UNION GOOD FRIDAY SERVICE.

Pastors to Speak on the Words at the Cross.

In the arrangement for the union Good Friday service to be held at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church on Friday night, April 13, there has been a complete change in the programme from that of other years, when the local ministers spoke on the Last Seven Words on the Cross." The subject for this year's service will be "The Cross; the Words of the Beholders."

Rev. A. C. McCrea, of the First M. E. church, will be the first speaker, his subject being "The Word of the Soldiers." Rev. Erskine M. Rodman will speak on "The Word of Those Who Passed by and the Priests," and Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, of the First Baptist church, will speak on "The Word of the Repentant Thief." "The Word of the Centurian" is the fourth and last subject, upon which Rev. Dr. J. S. Zelie will speak. In addition to the remarks there will be appropriate music and other ministers will take part in the services.

"Prince of Pilsen" Coming Here.

"The Prince of Pilsen," the delightful Pixley and Luders' musical show that has been playing in the largest cities in the country for the past four years, is to come to Plainfield. Manager Counihan yesterday closed the contract for its appearance here on Tuesday night, April 17, coming direct from the New York theatre, where it is now holding the boards. Jess Dandy will be seen in the role of Hans Wagner, and the cast will include the young women originally engaged for the "Song of the Cities."

Dominie's Son Arrested.

Royal Morris and Archie Morris, small colored boys, were arraigned before Judge Runyon in the city court this morning, charge dby Michael Colucci, with having pummeled his son. The magistrate refused to see anything but a harmless boys' fight in the charge, and dismissed it. The colored boys are the sons of Rev. P. T. Morris, who was involved in the Calvary Baptist church pastorate mix up.

Machinists Strike.

The men on small lathes at the Aluminum Press and Plate Works, to the number of about forty men, went on a strike at 9 o'clock this morning after their request for an increase from twenty-five to twenty-seven cents an hour was denied them by the company. This action will not close the shop, but it is said that the other employes may go out in sympathy, thereby effecting a tie-up.

Mrs. McCann's Funeral.

The funeral of Mrs. Edward McCann, who died at her home on South Second street yesterday morning, will be held from St. Mary's church, Monday morning at 8:30. Interment will be in St. Mary's ceemtery.

Miss Jeannie Shepherd, of Brooklyn, is visiting Miss Joan Gilles, of Grove street.

ON EVE OF HOLY WEEK

Palm Sunday Services In the Catholic and Episcopal Churches.

PROGRAM OF THE WEEK

Solemn Services for Good Friday In Catholic Places of Worship—Altar Lights Will Be Extinguished.

Palm Sunday, the beginning of Holy Week, last and most solemn week of Lent, falls on tomorrow. In all Catholic and Episcopal churches special and impressive services will be held, to be followed by a series covering all the week.

In the Catholic churches tomorrow the blessing and distribution of the palms will be a prominent feature of the service in the morning.

Both at St. Mary's and St. Joseph's churches will have special music tomorrow. In the afternoon St. Mary's will receive the canonical visitation from Bishop O'Connor, head of the Newark Diocese, who will confirm a class of 230 candidates. There are thirty adults in the class.

During the week at St. Mary's the Tenebrae service will be sung Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings, with an augmented chancel choir. The usual Lenten devotions will be held Tuesday, and on Friday the solemn adoration of the cross. Easter will be greeted with an elaborate programme of music, in which a string orchestra will take part.

At St. Joseph's church Thursday morning at 7:30 o'clock there will be a procession of the blessed sacrament to the temporary altar at the side chapel, where it will be kept until Saturday morning, after the procession The altar lights will be extinguished Thursday and remain unlighted until Saturday; Good Friday is a day of darkness, gloom, fasting and prayer. On Friday, at 7:30 o'clock in the morning, prayers will be sung for all the people in the world. The Passion will be recited according to St. Luke. There will be mass of the pre-sanctified and the adoration of the cross at the foot of the altar. On Saturday morning at 7 o'clock there will be a blessing of the new fire at the door of the church and all lights will be relit. The gloria will be sung and the bell rung in the afternoon. The programme for the elaborate Easter Sunday celebration will be given out by Father Miller next week.

Services marking Palm Sunday will be held at Holy Cross P. E. church at 9:45 in the morning and 4 o'clock in the afternoon. During the week ante-communion service will be held daily excepting Thursday, when a full celebration will take place. There will be an address on Wednesday night. Aa three-hour passion service will mark the observance of Good Friday. Baptism of adults and children will be held Saturday night.

Warren chapel, Chatham street, will observe Holy Week with services every night, excepting Wednesday and Saturday.

DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE SHIES AT RESOLUTION.

Moody's Declaration Practically Rejected and State Platform Reaffirmed.

Emasculated of all the features dearest to the heart of its author, the Moody resolution, adopted at the recent "convention" of Democrats in Newark, was grudgingly adopted by the Democratic County Committee at its meeting at Elizabeth last night. A member who was present said this morning that the adoption was practically a rejection, because there was nothing to the resolution much like the original when it went through, with amendment holes all over it.

John Moody, author of the resolution, sat in the chairman's place while the instrument was being pounded.

Seventy-five or eighty committeemen attended the meeting, among them James E. Martine, of this city. The resolution was warmly received just as soon as it came up. Debate over it raged hotly from early in the meeting until 11 o'clock. Mr. Moody could hardly have liked the way it was handled, but he made no public announcement of his feeling in the matter. He made a simple statement of the intent and purpose of the resolution.

Appended to the resolution as it was finally adopted was a declaration of faith in Mr. Moody's sincerity in his efforts to purify and strengthen the Democratic party. The committee reaffirmed the platform of the last State convention.

John L. Crowell was pushed off the county board of elections. His term expires this year, and the committee proceeded to the election of his successor. He was renominated, with Fred Zior, secretary of the committee, running against him. Zior won out by two votes.

CARNIVAL'S ATTRACTIONS

Hospital Affair Will be Bigger and Better Than Ever.

FAIR OF ALL NATIONS

Women's Auxiliary to Have a Large Building For Picturesque Sales Place—Circus and Sideshow.

W. S. Miller, of New York, who made a big success of the affair last year and is to have charge of the second annual hospital carnival, came to the city today to begin arrangements for the event in earnest. It will run from May 19 to June 2, on the West Fourth street grounds, and be bigger than ever.

Preparatfons for it are on a more elaborate scale than for last year's big affair. Shows and fair games, attractions of all sorts, will be on the grounds. One of the central features of the carnival group will be a big building conducted by the Women's Auxiliary as a Fair of All Nations. The structure, 80x80, will be surrounded by balconies, and articles of all kinds will be sold by women dressed as the different races and nations of the world.

There will be a big circus run under the direction of City Judge William N. Runyon. A lively sideshow attached to the circus will be conducted by Maze Edwards, manager of the Casino. An electric theatre will also be in operation.

Minor, but lively, attractions will be scattered about the grounds. There will be an electric fountain, mystic maze, Punch and Judy, vaudeville show, Indian show, minstrel show, shoot-the-chutes, Ferris wheel, merry-go-round, cane rack, swings, snake show, gypsy camp, Indian novelty tent, and all the latest games.

Dancing will be a feature nightly. A big dancing platform is to be erected.

FINAL ORDINATION OF REV. MR. WHITESIDE

TO RETURN TO EAST NORWICH CHURCH, CORNERSTONE WHICH ROOSEVELT LAID

Along with several other young members of the New York East Conference, which is closing its annual meeting, at the New York Avenue church, Brooklyn, Rev. F. E. Whiteside, of this city, will be ordained into full elders' orders at that church tomorrow. The induction into elders' orders follows two years of trial in deacons' orders, which candidates for the Methodist ministry must pass. Mr. Whiteside was recommended to the Conference on trial by the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, of which he was a member, in 1904.

Mr. Whiteside was appointed to the church at East Norwich, L. I., last year, and is slated to return. The church has been strengthened under his guidance, and is now engaged in arranging the erection of a new parsonage. An interesting fact in connection with the charge is that East Norwich lies very close to Oyster Bay. President Roosevelt laid its cornerstone. East Norwich lies very close to Oyster Bay. The Executive takes an active interest in the church, and will probably make it a point to become acquainted with Mr. Whiteside when he settles in the summer Executive Mansion in June.

CHIEF KIELY GOES TO POLICE CONVENTION.

He Will Read a Paper—Frederickson Acting Chief, Flynn Sergeant.

Chief of Police Kiely left for Hot Springs, Ark., this morning, to attend the annual convention of the International Association of Chiefs of Police. He will be gone nine days. On the way down the chief will join police heads from several neighboring cities. He will read a paper at the convention.

During the chief's absence Sergeant Frederickson will be acting head of the force, on duty during the day. His place at the night desk will be taken by Officer McCue. Roundsman John Flynn will be acting-sergeant.

C. E. Ball Has Another Mishap.

Charles E. Ball, superintendent of the Prudential Insurance Company, who sprained his ankle several weeks ago and who has been laid up at home, made a trip to New York a few days ago, and in stepping off an elevated train again turned his ankle, and the injury is now worse than ever. Mr. Ball finds it almost impossible to walk and is obliged to ride back and forth to his office every day.

STOPPED BOXING BOUT

Road Company's Manager Stormed but Chief of Police Was Obdurate.

SUPPORTED BY MAYOR

Theatre Manager Counihan Told "Old Clothes Co." Man That the Bout Could Not Take Place and Scene Follows.

Acting under the anti-boxing law, Chief of Police Kiely prevented the appearance of Kid Sharkey and Danny Dougherty, professional pugilists, in a bout during the performance of "The Old Clothes Man" at the New Plainfield theatre last night. A "go" between the fighters was billed as a feature of the show.

Chief Kiely saw Manager Counihan just before the show started. He wanted to know what the announcement of a bout meant.

"It will be a three-round purely scientific 'go,' in a club scene," he was told.

"I can't allow that," said the chief. "No sort of a bout is allowable under the law."

Mr. Counihan told the manager of the show. The latter was angry, and showed it.

"Who is in authority here," he demanded, walking over to the chief with Mr. Counihan.

"I am," replied the chief promptly.

"Well, you won't have a chance to stop that act; see!" snapped the manager. "I won't put it on."

In the hope of straightening the matter out in some way that would save the management from the necessity of disappointing the people who had come to the house in the expectation of seeing the bout, Mr. Counihan sent word to Mayor Buckle and asked him to come to the theatre office. The Mayor arrived in a few minutes, and was told what had happened.

He supported Chief Kiely. "I will not interfere with the police in this matter," he said finally.

That settled it. Manager Counihan announced from the stage that the principals in the bout would not appear, and they didn't.

The show manager insisted that he could have run the bout off with entire safety from the law had he desired. He contended that the fighters were present in the role of actors only.

"The manager's contention is wrong," said Chief Kiely this morning. "The scene was plainly a subterfuge, in the eyes of the law, to get a bout on the stage. The act was billed as an extra. The violation of the law was so plain in the announcements that I thought at first they were fakes to draw a crowd to the show. I didn't realize at the beginning of the billing that the management actually intended to show a boxing bout."

City Judge Runyon and Mayor Buckle stood beside the chief's desk as he made the statement, and they both agreed with him.

"There was no discernible connection between the plot of the show and the proposed bout," said the judge.

"It was very plainly a subterfuge to evade the law," agreed the Mayor.

COMEDY CLUB WILL PRESENT "ON CHANGE."

Final Production to Be Given at the Park Club on May 4.

The Comedy Club, of North Plainfield, which, in its short existence, has won distinction in amateur theatricals, has decided to give its final play for the season at the Park Club on Friday night, May 4. The play chosen is a translation from the German by Miss Everetta Lawrence, called "On Change." It is a comedy centering round some speculations in the stock market by an absent-minded professor who doesn't even know the "just rules of the game." The cast is considered to be the best one selected and will include many favorites and a number of entirely new aspirants for amateur honors.

Alfred Young, well known here for his excellent coaching of "Diplomacy," "The Private Secretary," and W. L. Saunders are coaching the cast for "On Change." The cast follows: "Mr. Burnett," Charles H. Lyman; "Prof. Peckering Peck," E. C. White; "Tom," Victor McCutcheon; "Joe," H. Raymond Loder; "De Haas," Effingham A. Pinto; "Monser," William R. Cock; "Mrs. Burnett," Mrs. E. C. White; "Mrs. Prof. Peckering Peck," Miss Mabel Van Deventer; "Iris," Miss Louise Saunders.

Philip Daab Wants $25,000.

Philip Daab, manager of the Plainfield Baseball Association team, started a suit yesterday against the New York Central Railroad Company for $25,000. The action is the result of a dispute as to charges made by the railroad company, which Mr. Daab considered excessive. Leon Abbett will represent Mr. Daab as counsel.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER BOTH BADLY BURNED

TWELVE-YEAR-OLD GIRL'S LIFE SAVED BY PARENT'S QUICK ACTION.

Miss Hazel Morrison, the twelve-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Morrison, of 718 South avenue, was severely burned, this morning, and her bother, who ran to her assistance, received painful burns about the hands, all the result of a bone-fire. Miss Morrison was burning some rubbish in the yard at her home and the brisk winds swept the fire toward her. Before she could escape, her dress caught and instantly she was enveloped in flames.

The girl's cries attracted the attention of Mrs. Morrison, who, picking up a blanket, rushed to her assistance. The mother threw it about her daughter, but before she was able to extinguish the flames, her own hands were badly burned.

Miss Morrison was carried into the house, where the partly burnt clothing was removed. Dr. Probasco was summoned and he had the mother and daughter taken to the hospital, where their injuries were dressed.

Miss Morrison's burns were chiefly about the left arm and side and being superficial will not prove serious. Mrs. Morrison's burns were confined to her hands entirely.

WOODFIELD ARRESTED ON FORGERY CHARGE.

John L. Woodfield, of Bound Brook, president of the Plainfield Tobacco Company, was arrested at his home last night by Detective George Totten, of Somerville, on a charge of fraud. He was taken before Justice Sutphen at Somerville and held under $1,000 bail. He was afterward paroled in the custody of his counsel, F. A. Pope, Esq., of Somerville.

Woodfield is alleged to have secured a loan of $600 on a note from Patrick Tynan, of Bound Brook. When the note came due, Mr. Woodfield renewed it and the second time it was due he is said to have paid no attention to it. It is then said that Woodfield later paid $140 on the old note and asked Tynan to accept a new note for $460, which he said he would take to the First National Bank, of Bound Brook.

It is further claimed that Woodfield went to the bank and got the $460 note discounted, appropriating the money, making $1,060 in all that Tynan claims is due him. Last night Sheriff Cooper attached all of Woodfield's property at Bound Brook.

VAN SICKLE GETS VERDICT.

Jury Allows Him $86 of a Claim for $172.

After an all-day hearing and an hour and a half of deliberation the jury in the case of Howard Van Sickle, of Lebanon, against Stewart S. Tompkins, for $172, on contract, awarded the plaintiff $86 in Justice Mosher's court yesterday afternoon. As reported in yesterday's Press, the claim was for milk delivered to Tompkins, who is a dealer, the defense centering about a $200 claim for recoupment growing out of the sudden stoppage of milk deliveries.

A half a dozen witnesses were examined, and the defendant proved substantial loss. He will appeal the verdict. The plaintiff's lawyer was S. S. Swackhamer, and the defendant was represented by W. S. Angleman.

Co. K Will Go To Trenton.

Co. K will go to Trenton Monday night to take part in the review and inspection to be conducted by Brig.-Gen. Gilmore. The local militia will make the trip in a special car attached to the train leaving here at 7:12 in the evening and provisions have been made whereby friends of the company may go along by paying the regular fare.

D. A. R.'s Colonial Tea.

Continental Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will hold a colonial tea on Tuesday afternoon, April 24, at the Park Club. The members of the chapter will wear colonial costume, and there will be an interesting programme of monologues, music and an old-time minuet. Tea will be served.

Walter Smalley Out Again.

Walter Smalley, who was struck by an express train on the Newark Bay bridge and narrowly escaped with his life, two weeks ago, was out for the first since the accident yesterday. He is still lame and suffering from a severe gash on the thigh, but will be able to resume work within a few weeks.

Mrs. Ellen Carney, mother of David J. Carney, is seriously ill at her home in Lincoln place.

SISTER LODGES AT ODDS

Columbia Does Not Agree With Central's Protest to A.O.U.W. Grand Lodge.

MR. NASH EXPLAINS

Past Grand Master Workman Argues That State Order's Grand Lodge Was Compelled to Start Emergency Fund Assessment.

Columbia Lodge, No. 58, A. O. U. W., at its regular session last night, received a communication from Central Lodge, No. 48, asking it to join in an appeal to the Grand Lodge protesting against the recent action in establishing an assessment fund, and the members of Columbia Lodge decided, after an animated discussion of the subject, that it is not in sympathy with its sister lodge, and voted to sustain the Grand Lodge's action.

This action was expressed in a resolution offered by Past Master Workman J. W. A. Bauersachs, which in substances is as follows:

"Feeling convinced that the best interests demand harmony and while not thoroughly in accord with the manner in which the Grand Lodge at its late session in Atlantic City created the emergency fund, at the same time, however, believing that the establishment of this fund is certain to result in better protection, and, if heartily endorsed by the members generally throughout the State, will establish justice and insure a more harmonious feeling among the members and provide a defence and future surety of the beneficiaries of the members, that Columbia Lodge, No. 58, heartily endorses the action of the Grand Lodge in this matter and pledges its sincere support in carrying out its provisions and that the thanks of the lodge be extended to the special committee, Past Grand Master Workmen J. Alpheus Van Sant, John Enright and V. W. Nash, for its efforts and success in working out this desirable end."

During the evening Past Grand Master Workman V. W. Nash spoke at great length concerning the above matter, and he explained in detail the recently adopted plan whereby it would be possible to raise a fund to provide for any emergency. He referred to the appeal taken by Central Lodge and said that a decision would probably be received by June 1. In his opinion he thought that the Grand Master Workman as well as the Supreme Master Workman, would be very careful in deciding on the appeal, for there is too much at stake on the result.

He cited the fact that it is known that the laws of the order have been violated in California, Michigan and New York in raising money to meet death claims, and if the Supreme Lodge should decide against the action of the New Jersey Grand Lodge the right of the Grand Lodges in other States will be questioned at once, and if the support of the Grand Lodges in the various States is withdrawn it would be a serious blow to the Supreme Lodge.

Mr. Nash presented lots of figures to show how the different States provide for an emergency fund and then explained the new plan under which the New Jersey lodges are working. Other remarks were made by J. W. A. Bauersachs and W. A. Woodruff.

JOHN P. D. KIRCH'S FUNERAL.

Conducted by Rev. Gibbs, Assisted by Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck.

In the presence of a large gathering of friends, the funeral of John P. D. Kirch was held at his late home on Duer street yesterday afternoon. It was conducted by Rev. Peter Gibbs, of Millington, assisted by Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck, of Trinity Reformed church. During the service two selections, "We Shall Sleep, But Not Forver," and "The Christians' Good Night," were sung by E. E. Runyon and Miss Agatha Badum. There were many flowers, several set pieces being included among the floral tributes.

Interment was made in Hillside cemetery. Those who acted as pall bearers were Harry C. Runyon, Francis J. Blatz, John Powers, William H. Bohl, George W. Bird and H. Vermeule.

The Rev. George B. Shaw, of Plainfield, will preach at the Baptist church tomorrow morning at 10:30. The evening service will be conducted by the Christian Endeavor Society at 7:30.

A Christian Endeavor social and business meeting was held last night at the home of Mrs. William H. Manning.

Mr. and Mrs. William Voorhees, of Brooklyn, are being entertained by Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Thorne.

ACCUSES HUSBAND OF CONSPIRACY.

Mrs. Moore's Reply to Charge in Doctor's Divorce Suit.

New Brunswick, April 7.—Further complications were brought out yesterday before Vice Chancellor Stevens in the much entangled divorce suit of Dr. William N. Moore, of this city, against his wife, Hetty Slack Moore, daughter of Dr. C. M. Slack. The corespondent is Jesse H. Suydam, cashier of the People's National Bank, Lakewood, N. J. Mrs. Moore's evidence was a general denial of the charge and an allegation that Dr. Moore is anxious to get rid of her to marry the sister of the corespondent.

Yesterday Cashier Suydam was interrogated further as to a confession which he had signed in Lakewood. Suydam declared that he signed the statement to get rid of Dr. Moore's importunities and on the assurance that the confession would be shown to no one but Mrs. Moore, of whom the doctor declared, Suydam said, he wished to be rid.

The court then directed that the case go over until Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

The cantata, "The Crucifixion," will be given by the chorus choir of the Baptist church, tomorrow night. Miss Hayes will be at the organ and Howard Gilmore, Jr., the tenor soloist.

AN ORDINANCE

To Amend An Ordinance Entitled "An Ordinance to Regulate the Standing of Hacks and Stages, Etc., Approved December 16, 1874.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That section 1 of the Ordinance named in the title of this Ordinance, be and the same hereby is amended so as to read as follows:

"Section 1. It shall not be lawful for the driver of any hack or stage to stand, or move his horse or vehicle within less than fifteen feet of the curb in front of the passenger depot on North avenue, or within fifteen feet of a point in the curb directly in front of any entrance to any place of public assemblage or entertainment in the city for the purpose of soliciting or securing custom, nor shall it be lawful for any such aforesaid person or persons to occupy with their vehicles any portion of the street in such aforesaid neighborhoods in such way to obstruct public travel."

Section 2. That section 2 of the Ordinance named in the title of this Ordinance, be and the same hereby is amended so as to read as follows:

"Section 2. That it shall not be lawful at or near the said passenger depot on North avenue nor at or near any place of public assemblage or entertainment for the driver of or any person connected with any hack or stage, or any person acting for or in the interest of the owner or driver of any hack or stage, to proceed beyond the curb line for the purpose of soliciting or securing custom, and it shall not be lawful for any such aforesaid person to solicit custom in a noisy, persistent, or offensive manner."

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

"The Little Duchess," with Countess Olga von Hatzfeldt in the title role, will be the attraction at the New Plainfield theatre this afternoon and tonight. Those who like good, clean comedy mixed with singing and dancing by pretty girls should not fail to see it.

The yearning for instruction of a popular order which characterizes the American race is extraordinary. By playing delicately on this peculiarity, astute speculators have disposed of hundreds of sets of curiously antiquated encyclopedias and increased by thousands the circulation of unspeakably dull weekly papers of the cheaper and pseudo-scientific kind. This fact convinced Lyman H. Howe that instruction blended with entertainment will be greatly appreciated by the legions of patrons of his long established and perennially popular exhibitions. Concurrently it has been evident that moving pictures have been debased too often to unworthy uses. Prompted, therefore, by motives of developing moving pictures above a mere agency for the presentment of frivolous moving pictures, Mr. Howe with characteristic initiative is again the pioneer in grasping and developing the educational aspects of moving pictures, as he has in the past been the pioneer in developing their purely entertaining phases. How fully and perfectly he has realized these new possibilities of moving pictures will be revealed by his new programme at the New Plainfield theatre on Monday night.

"Ricketty Ann," in "The Old Homestead," at New Plainfield Theatre Next Saturday Afternoon and Evening.

Other plays may come and go, but "The Old Homestead," like Tennyson's "brook," is destined, apparently, to "go on forever." At any rate, it does not yet show any signs of falling off in public favor. Twenty years of service for star and play have not dulled the interest or diminished in the slightest degree its fine qualities which make for popularity. It appeals strongly to the human heart. It leavens all classes; rich and poor, good and bad, young and old find in it a well-spring of joy and inspiration, a sermon of faith, hope and charity, of honest manhood and simple unalloyed righteousness. It will be at the New Plainfield theatre Saturday afternoon and night, April 14.

One of the season's strongest theatrical offerings promises to be de Cordova and Rhode's new, sensational comedy drama, "A Ragged Hero," by Maurice J. Fielding, who has already a half-dozen striking theatrical successes to his credit and who has also an international reputation for cleverness gained by his magazine, newspaper and other literary work. The story of the play is of intense human interest and filled with heart throbs, stirring adventures and acts of self sacrifice and heroism. The mounting of this piece is said justly to be the most costly and magnificent ever given a comedy drama. It will be at the New Plainfield theatre on April 18.

In "Raffles, the Amateur Cracksman," which is to be the attraction at the New Plainfield theatre April 20, Kyrle Bellew has made an individual character of its hero. "Raffles" is frankly a detective story told in speech and action, with abundant suspense and surprise, on the stage. It is also the most interesting detective story that has been told there since the days of "Jim, the Penman." Better still, it has a central character beside whom "the penman" was only a commonplace forger who affected a respectable life in respectable surroundings. Raffles is a man of the world, sportsman, a bit of a philosopher, even a sentimentalist, as well as an uncommonly clever thief. Mr. Bellew blends these three sides of the character into a plausible and highly interesting human figure. It is the most ingenious and the most persuasive piece of acting he has done in many a day.

Scene in "A Ragged Hero," at New Plainfield Theatre April 18.

Lewis Morrison's famous "Faust," with its new and magnificent scenery, dazzling electrical effects, new costumes and skillful mechanical devices, will be seen at the New Plainfield theatre shortly, with Lewis Morrison himself as Mephisto. The scenery, costumes and effects are said to be the finest ever used in the long career of this play. In honor of Lewis Morrison's personal appearance as Mephisto it was decided to surround him with the best that money could procure. This will be realized when the scenery and effects are viewed.

Here is the latest hint to the quick witted. Al. Leech and his big bunch of fun makers will appear at the New Plainfield theatre in a short time in Wm. A. Brady's cyclone of fussy fun, "Girls Will Be Girls." There will be a cock fight, plenty of singing and lots of other things. Forty pretty girls will also be there.

WOMEN'S WOES.

Plainfield Women Are Finding Relief at Last.

It does seem that women have more than a fair share of the aches and pains that afflict humanity; they must "keep up," must attend to duties in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, bearing down pains; they must stoop over, when to stoop means torture. They must walk and bend and work with racking pains and many aches from kidney ills. Kidneys cause more suffering than any other organ of the body. Keep the kidneys well and health is easily maintained. Read of a remedy for kidneys only that helps and cures the kidneys and is endorsed by people you know.

Mrs. J. Krewson, of 119 Plainfield avenue, Plainfield, N. J., says: "Symptoms of weak or diseased kidneys afflicted me for some time, and dull heavy backaches and pains in the top and back of my head nearly drove me to destruction. I have also had trouble from inactive liver and at times my complexion has been of an almost saffron hue. About two months ago I was induced to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and did so with the very best of results, procuring them at Randolph's drug store. I am now free from the aches and pains in my head and back and my liver and bladder troubles have left me. I have a great opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills after what they have done for me, and I would not hesitate to recommend them to anybody suffering from such troubles."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

AN ORDINANCE

To Further Amend An Ordinance Entitled "An Ordinance To Provide For the Licensing and Regulation of Peddlers, Hawkers, Cartmen, Hack, Omnibus, Stage and Truck Owners and Drivers," Approved March 14, 1882, as amended.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows;

Section 1. That section 8 of the ordinance referred to in the title of this Ordinance, be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

"Section 8. That every person so licensed shall, at all times while engaged in the business for which he is licensed, cause the number of his license, in figures not less than one and one half inches in height, to be conspicuously displayed on both sides of the vehicle for which such license shall have been granted, and every person so licensed and the driver of every such vehicle shall, while engaged in the business for which he is licensed, wear in the button-hole of the left lapel of his coat on the outside, so that the same may be easily read by persons approaching or passing him, a button, one and one half inches in diameter with the number of his license thereon in black figures one inch in height on a white surface, and shall also keep in a pocket within said vehicle a card or folder showing in plain printed type the number of said license and the rates of fare specified in the tenth section of this Ordinance, which said pocket shall be firmly affixed within said vehicle to the under side of the top of said vehicle, at a point vertically in line with the back of the front seat, with the words 'Rates of Fare' conspicuously displayed so that the same will be readily observed. Every person who shall violate any of the provisions of this section of the Ordinance shall on conviction thereof, be punished by a fine not exceeding ten dollars for each offense."

Section 2. That section 10 of said Ordinance be and the same hereby is amended so as to read as follows:

"Section 10. That any person licensed under this Ordinance to use for hire or wages any hack, omnibus, stage or other vehicle for the carriage of passengers, may charge therefor the following rates, but no more, that is to say: for the carriage of any passenger or passengers from any point within to any point within that part of the city included within the following boundaries, that is to say: beginning at a point where the line of Johnston avenue produced would intersect Greenbrook, thence along said line and the line of Johnston to North avenue; thence in the same course in a direct line to South avenue; thence along South avenue to Woodland avenue; thence along Woodland avenue to Highland avenue; thence along Highland avenue to Hillside avenue; thence along Hillside avenue to Randolph road; thence along Randolph road to Plainfield avenue; thence in a straight line to the intersection of Spooner avenue with West Eighth street; thence along West Eighth street to Grant avenue; thence through Grant avenue to the northwesterly city line; thence following the northwesterly city line to the intersection of said line with the line of Johnston avenue produced; the point and place of beginning, twenty-five cents for one passenger, and fifty cents for two or three passengers carried from the same point to the same point at the same time; and for the carriage of any passenger from any point within to any point without the aforesaid boundaries, fifty cents for one passenger and twenty-five cents for each additional passenger; provided, however, that after eleven o'clock at night until five o'clock in the morning, the charges may be double the said fares; and whenever any such hack, omnibus, stage or other vehicle shall be engaged by the hour the person licensed to use for hire or wages such hack, omnibus, stage or other vehicle may charge one dollar for the first hour and seventy-five cents for each additional hour."

HELD COURT ON BANK OF CANAL.

Vice Chancellor Wanted to Find If Water Is Polluted by Paper Mills.

Vice Chancellor Henry C. Pitney held court Thursday afternoon on the west bank of the Morris Canal in Bloomfield. He was accompanied by the counsel and parties to the suit of the Morris Canal and Banking Company and the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company against the Diamond Mills Paper Company, of Bloomfield. The mills, it is alleged, have been polluting the canal.

In the party were Jesse R. Salmon, Vice Chancellor Pitney's official stenographer; former Justice Gilbert Collins, of Jersey City, and George S. Hobart, counsel for the complainants; Dr. Harry E. Richards, counsel for Thomas Oakes, whose woollen mills are located on the Third River, which receives water from the canal, and Frederick T. Johnson, counsel for the Diamond Paper Mills.

The first thing done was to draw two bottles of water from the canal to be used later in evidence. Vice Chancellor Pitney smelled the water and told his stenographer to make a note that the water smelled of chlorine. The others admitted the Vice Chancellor's statement.

Mr. Pitney also had Stenographer Salmon take down that there was fibre clinging to the stones. The water at this point was of a milky color.

Vice Chancellor Pitney advised that chemists be put to work immediately on the water drawn from the canal as well as on the sediment.

ALDERMAN KEEPS LIST.

Refuses to Allow Publication of Amounts of Appropriations.

Orange, April 7.—The Orange Common Council held a star chamber session last nigt to talk over the tax budget, which was made remarkable by the extraordinary attitude of Alderman Frank G. Coughtry, who got hold of the list of appropriations and refused to allow the sums to be published, though he was advised so to do by Leader Edward S. Perry, of the Council and others of the aldermen.

There was considerable public interest as to just what the aldermen purposed doing for the various departments of the city, in view of considerable adverse criticism that has been indulged in during the year. None of the other aldermen had lists which they could give information from, but it was learned through some of them that there had been increases in the school, health, interest and public scavenger funds.

Mr. Coughtry did not give any clear reason for concealing the facts from the public, and his action was criticised by some of his colleagues. He was asked if he thought the figures might be changed before the meeting of the Council Monday, and replied that he could not tell what would happen by that date.

He smiled triumphantly when some of the other aldermen confessed they could not remember the figures so they could be given to the newspapers.

Public Service to Pay Damages.

Hackensack, April 7.—The carelessness of a motorman on the Public Service line, when, on January 6, he struck a curve in Lodi, with such force as to cause the car to turn upside down after leaving the tracks, yesterday cost the corporation $2,000, the total of verdicts awarded in the courts at Hackensack, after brief trials. The plaintiffs were Mrs. Barney Den Bleyker and Mrs. Frank Jones, both of Lodi, who were injured in the accident. Each received a verdict of $1,000.

MAKING OF THE BIBLE

Dr. Chambliss Outlines History of Holy Writ From the Earliest Times.

A LABORIOUS TASK

Lucid Explanation of the Method of Translation—Lecture Well Illustrated.

Before the Young People's Society of the First Baptist church last night Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, the pastor, gave a highly instructive illustrated lecture on "The Making of the Bible." He began at the earliest period and traced the history of the Word of God as it has been handed down from century to century. Today there is the finest and most complete Bible in the American revised version; so pronounced by all recognized scholars.

All of this had been possible, said the speaker, although the original writings were gone and only copies and versions remained. He displayed pictures of Greek writings on stones and tablets and explained how they have been translated into the English language with the greatest difficulty, thus giving the world a book that has withstood the most severe criticism of the times. He also referred to the sacrifice of lives in making such a book possible and explained how the translations were made from the original Hebrew and Greek language.

Dr. Chambliss also took occasion to speak of the work of Constantine and Augustine, and especially of John Wycliff, to whom he said should be given the credit of being the first one to translate the Bible into the English language. He said he invoked the wrath of the Pope of Rome, his writings being condemned and ex-communicated. He spoke of the work of William Tyndall, who was arrested, tried and burned to the stake for printing copies of the Bible and circulating them. Three years later Henry VIII. ordered that a copy of the Bible be placed in all the churches within his realm.

Dr. Chambliss dwelt at some length upon the work of James I., how he called a conference of the bishops and Puritans to discuss certain grievances because there were two versions of the Bible, and how he decided to have a new version, which was published in 1611, and which is known as the King James Version, and which has been used by people throughout the world for nearly 300 years.

The views shown throughout the lecture were excellent and out the lecture were excellent and gave all a better idea of the progress through the centuries in "The Making of the Word."

Building Loan Note.

At the shareholders meeting of the Union Building and Loan Association at 146 Park avenue, on Monday evening, the annual report will be ready for distribution. A glance at the report shows that the average earnings for the past seven years have been seven per cent., which must be very gratifying to the members. This association is now over seven years old and has been very successful from the start. Its officers and directors are all local business and professional men who take a great interest in the association's welfare. A new series will be opened on Monday night and from the way applications for shares are coming in, the new series will be a record breaker. The entire earnings of this association is credited yearly to all shareholders.

IN THE MEN'S CORNER.

In the Men's Corner the new Spring Shirts are exciting most favorable comment. The 50c line is worthy of special mention. Made up well of fine Madras in choice patterns, they excel in general merit the average 50c goods.

The well known "Lion Brand" Shirts are largely in evidence. These goods are too well known to need more than passing mention. We do want to state, however, that the styles for this season are exceptionally fine. The variety great enough to satisfy all tastes. Price 1.00.

At 50c each—A special lot of extra full, plaited front Shirts in tan only. Men who are inclined to be stout will find these shirts exceedingly comfortable. The grade fully equal to the usual 75c shirts. Quantity limited. Sizes 14 to 16 only.

Superfine Spring weight Lisle and Silk and Lisle Undergarments at 98c per garment. A special purchase well worthy your immediate consideration.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

Florence Roberts, an actress who has been a great favorite for several years on the Pacific coast, is coming to Plainfield on Easter Monday in a high class dramatic offering, "The Strength of the Weak." It is to be presented to the New York public a short time later.

Easter week will be a big one at the New Plainfield. The bookings include "The Strength of the Weak" on Monday the 16th, "The Prince of Pilsen," Tuesday; "A Ragged Hero," Wednesday; "The Redskin," Thursday, and Kyrle Bellew in "Raffles" Friday.

Miss Emma Gwynette, a former Plainfield girl who lived with her parents on Prospect avenue, was a member of the chorus in "McFadden's Flats," which showed here Thursday night. She has been on the stage for several years and it was her first visit to the city since making her debut.

Johnstone Bennett, who made one of the biggest hits in recent years in the title role of "Jane," is dying of consumption at Bloomfield. She recently returned from California, where she went to obtain relief but failed. She appeared in Plainfield at the height of her success and played to a big house at Music Hall.

William A. Brady, owner and manager of the big musical comedy success, "Girls Will Be Girls," which is to be seen in this city shortly, has made arrangements to take the entire company to London next May, for a five months' engagement. During the abscense of the organization, Mr. Brady will have a new comedy written by Al Leech and the three Rosebuds, augmented by a company of seventy-five. The opening will be in New York next October and it will continue there for twenty weeks.

Connors Charges Tabled.

Friends of Detective James J. Connors, of Bayonne, who recently was suspended by Mayor Garven, charged with having assaulted William Wagner, a bartender, were pleased yesterday when they learned that the Common Council had failed to try him at a session Thursday night that ended at midnight. The charges finally were tabled.

ENTERTAINMENT FOR N.P.H.S.A.A. A SUCCESS

A MOCK TRIAL, THE FEATURE OF THE PERFORMANCE.

A packed house greeted the annual production of the North Plainfield High School Athletic Association last night in the assembly room of the Somerset Street School. The plan of past years of engaging outside talent to give the entertainment was abandoned last night an dthe entertainment given by the school boys was considered creditable.

The programme was in two parts, the first consisting of music and song, and the second of a mock trial. The entertainment opened with an instrumental quartet, "Under Southern Skies," which was well rendered by Miss Maude Emmons, Miss Myra Emmons, Miss Edna Smith and Herbert Smith. This selcetion was followed by a song, "The Hoodoo-doo-doo Man," by Clarence Steiner. So well did this please the audience that Steiner was forced to respond to frequent encores.

The second part of the programme consisted of a mock trial, "The Great Pumpkin Case of Guff vs. Muff." Excitement prevailed all through the trial, comedy and drama figuring in the proceedings of the trial. Frank Webster, as Judge Fobb, was amusing. Jack Peacock, as Lawyer Foozle, showed ability as a dramatic actor, while George Bailey, as the tramp juryman, kept the house in an uproar of laughter all the time.

The cast of the trial was as follows: Juge Fobb, Frank Webster; Clerk Fizz, Wilbur Dunning; Lawyer Foozle, Jack Peacock; Lawyer Squibbs, Ralph Kutz; Whipsaw, the bailiff, Lester Matthews; Hi Guff, plaintiff, Arthur Van Arsdale; Ab Muff, defendant, Stanley Fisher; Pike Whimes, chief witness for plaintiff and owner of a cow, William Burtis; Sam Gump, witness for plaintiff, William Day; Abe Snooks, witness for defendant, William Demler; Doc. Poodle, witness for defendant, Leo Kenney. On the jury list—Arthur Dunning, Clarence Steiner, Fred McClintock, George Bailey, George Parsons, Leslie Powlison, Charles Doughty, Harvey Smith.

Was Forced to Indorse Note.

Mrs. Annie D. Ellis, of Hudson Heights, testified in the Supreme Court in Jersey City yesterday that her husband, A. J. Ellis, a contractor, forced her to indorse a note for $25,000 for his firm. Suit was brought against Mrs. Ellis by the Irving National Bank of New York. Ellis testified that he could not remember whether he threatened his wife. The jury returned a verdict for $11,321.10, the amount claimed. An appeal will be made.

Firemen's New Pets.

Fire headquarters' collection of pets has been increased by the addition of four kittens having a curious combination of feet. Some have but four toes and the other proudly display six. The mother of the kittens is "Ragsy," a full blooded Angora cat that has an extra supply of toes. She was presented to Chief Doane by Guy Thomas, of Somerset street, who brought her from an Angora cat farm in Maine.

To Stop Carrying Weapons.

Some Italian residents of Orange have started a movement, the object of which is to put an end to the practice of carrying concealed weapons by their countrymen. The movement is headed by Court Marconi, Foresters of America. Circulars have been sent to all Italian organizations throughout the country, religious, political and social, asking their co-operation.

Royal Baking Powder
Absolutely Pure
Made from Pure Grape Cream of Tartar

In baking powder Royal is the standard, the powder of highest reputation; found by the United States Government tests of greatest strength and purity.

It renders the food more healthful and palatable and is most economical in practical use.

Housekeepers are sometimes importuned to buy alum powders because they are "cheap." Yet some of the cheapest made powders are sold to consumers at the highest price.

Housekeepers should stop and think. Is it not better to buy the Royal and take no chances—the powder whose goodness and honesty are never questioned?

Is it economy to spoil your digestion by an alum-phosphate or other adultered powder to save a few pennies?

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK

TRENTON FREIGHT HANDLERS.

Pennsy's Change in Method of Paying Those In Its Employ.

Trenton, April 7.—Pennsylvania Railroad officials have announced a change in the paying of freight handlers in this city. Hereafter the men will be divided into gangs of five, and each gang will receive fourteen cents a ton for all freight handled.

By this scheme the checkers will credit each gang for all the tons handled during the day. When the work is finished the number of tons handled by each gang will be divided between the five men in each gang. Heretofore the men were paid by the hour, and some are dissatisfied with the change because they claim they will not earn as much by the new system.

Some, however, have figured that each freight handler in the city will receive about $2.25 a day, this being above the amount they are now receiving.

A great amount of freight is handled daily at each freight station and many men are employed handling it. These are kept busy nearly the entire year, but a few are laid off at seasons when the traffic is slow.

No date has been set as yet for the change to go into effect, but it will probably be put into operation the latter part of April or May 1.

FORESTERS' CONVENTION.

Preparations Being Made for Session of the Grand Court.

Hoboken, April 7.—Local Foresters are making preparations for the annual convention of the Grand Court, State of New Jersey, Foresters of America, to be held in Liberty Hall, Tuesday, May 8. In connection with the convention the reception committee is planning for a large parade, to consist of the thirty-four lodges of Hudson county. Other features are being arranged to entertain the 400 delegates who are expected to be in attendance from all parts of the State.

According to P. J. O'Lome, the secretary of the Hoboken committee, there will be no change in the assessment plans of the lodge, and that the old rates will prevail. He says that the order is prosperous in every part of the State, and has gained nearly 1,000 members during the past year. The present State membership is 16,000, the order having a membership of 6,000 alone in Hudson county. Michael J. Ryan, of Bayonne, is spoken of as likely to be chosen to the office of grand chief ranger to succeed the present incumbent, William Bently, of Passaic.

FORT NONSENSE TO BE HOTEL?

Historic Site in Morristown May Be Transferred to a Boniface.

Morristown, April 7.—Grant B. Schley, of Bernardsville, is negotiating with the Sims estate for the purchase of the Fort Nonsense tract, in the center of Morristown. This historic hill is the site of a fort erected by the soldiers during General Washington's stay in Morristown in the winter of 1779-'80. It was built to occupy the soldiers' time and was called Fort Nonsense in consequence.

The site of the fortification is marked by a monument erected by the Washington Association of New Jersey. Mr. Schley will build a private driveway, it is said, over the hills from Morristown to the Somerset Inn at Bernardsville. He has secured practically all the property necessary, and with the purchase of the Fort Nonsense tract will have an ideal location for a big hotel. That he intends to avail himself of this opportunity is conceded, as it is said that the building of a hotel to be run on similar lines as the Somerset Inn is under serious contemplation.

Killed Herself In Bed.

Bordentown, April 7.—Sarah Tucker, eighteen years old, daughter of Samuel Tucker, living on a farm between Chesterfield and Georgetown, committed suicide yesterday afternoon by shooting herself in the head. She was in bed, with her head propped with pillows. One barrel of the gun was discharged by her with a strip of wood taken from a box. On the bed lay a hymn book, which was open, and a Bible, which was closed. She appeared to have been in the best spirits during the morning, and the father cannot give any reason why she should have killed herself.

DISCRIMINATING LADIES.
Enjoy Using Herpicide on Account of Its Distinctiveness.
The ladies who have used Newbro's Herpicide speak of it in the highest terms, for its quick effect in cleansing the scalp of dandruff and also for its excellence as a general hair-dressing. It makes the scalp feel fresh and it allays that itching which dandruff will cause. Newbro's Herpicide effectively cures dandruff, as it destroys the germ that causes it. The same germ causes hair to fall out, and later baldness; in killing it, Herpicide stops falling hair and prevents baldness. It is also an ideal hair dressing, for it lends an aristocratic charm to the hair that is quite distinctive. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

VERSE OF THE DAY.

An Idyl of the Autumn.

Take off your coat, the one of daily wear,
And don a jumper, glove your hands and brace
Your moral being. See if you can bear
The coming ordeal with a smiling face.
No naughty adverbs will you use, I trust—
Confine yousself to "Goodness me!" and "Jove!"
For now the time approaches when you must Put up the stove

Though the stepladder totters 'neath your weight
And jackknives, as stepladders often will,
Though common language seems inadequate
Just whistle and preserve your temper still:
Though the loose wire clings like an octopus
Around your neck, and sorrow fills your cup,
You yet may put, without unseemly fuss,
That stovepipe up.

The sections, though your fingers they may nip,
And fall apart from time to time, may fit;
Don't jump on them in wrath and tear and rip,
For such proceedings will not help a bit.
The soot will wash off in a little while—
Be very calm and patient, I entreat;
Take all that happens with a cheerful smile—
I use steam heat.
—Chicago News.

The Antiseptic Thumb.

We can sterilize his bottles, we can boil his little mug,
We can bake his flannel bandages and disinfect the rug
That envelops him when he partakes of medicated air,
But there's one impossibility that leaves us in despair—
And a not unjustifiable alarm, you will allow—
To-wit: We fear 'twould never do to sterilize the cow!

We are careful of his hours, we are thoughtful of his toys,
We are mindful of his sorrows and judicious of his joys,
We are prayerfully considerate of needful discipline,
Of our little "Mother's Handbook" and the precepts writ therein,
And we strive to render sterile all designed for mouth or tum,
But one frightful danger menaces—we cannot boil his thumb.
—Harper's Magazine.

The Tree Tavern.

In the Tavern of the Tree,
Listen to the revelry!
Mark the merry minstrel there,
Seated in his leafy chair.
At his cups the whole day long,
Paying toll with sl very song.
Every draught he takes is drawn
From the cellars of the Dawn;
Fragrant dew from flowery flasks,
Amber air from fairy casks
Brought from Araby, and bright
With the Orient's golden light;
Spicery of buds and vines
Flavors his delicious wines.
Is it strange his lyrics hold
So much of the summer's gold?
Rapture of the roses caught,
Into music deftly wrought;
Run and ripple of the rills
All translated in his trills;
Every sweet, enchanted thing
In his gladness made to sing.
Ah, my mocking bird, drink on
Till the happy day is gone;
Till the pale moon rising up
Drops the stars down in your cup.
—Frank D. Sherman, in Metropolitan.

A Kansas Sunset.

It is the sunset hour, and floods of light
Pour their full radiance o'er the western sky,
Giving the clouds a glory new and bright,
Of crimson robes and zones of Tyrian dye.

It is the sunset hour, and nature gay
Is hushed in slumber solemn and sublime,
As the last moments of departing day
Drop slowly, gently from the hand of time.

Now fades the brightness, and the veil of night
Enshrouds the splendor of the rosy West;
While all the stars upon their thrones of light
Glitter like jewels in a monarch's crest.

The brightness fades, and yet a lingering ray,
With shining finger touches yonder height
And links with gold the passing day,
And the still beauty of the coming night.
—Carrie M. Baker, in Colorado Springs Gazette.

Fail Not in Nobleness.

Although my feet may never walk your ways,
No other eyes will follow you so far,
No voice rise readier to ring your praise,
Till the swift coming of these future days
When the world knows you for the man you are.

You must go on and I must stay behind;
We may not fare together, you and I,
But though the path to Fame be steep and blind,
Walk strong and steadfastly before mankind,
Because my heart must follow till you die.

Steadfastly and strongly, scorning mean success,
Lenient to others—to yourself severe;
If you must fail, fail not in nobleness,
God knows all other failure I could bless
That sent you back to find your welcome here.
—Scribner's Magazine.

Thistledown.

Along the way it tarries here and there
Heading for nowhere in particular.
First it goes twisting 'round the mossy bar
And then a-down the dusty thoroughfare.
Its silver whiskers sleek and debonnair
One moment monkey with the daisy star
Then like the steam drift from a samovar
It swirls about and doesn't seem to care
A continental where it goes so long
As it's quite happy on its merry way.
'Tis like a woman who Joy's wave-crest tops
When idly floating on the wings of song
She pauses everywhere among the gay
Objects for which she fondly lives and shops.
—Puck.

Thanksgiving.

Let us be thankful for the loyal hand
That love held out in welcome to our own,
When love and only love could understand
The need of touches we ... never known.

Let us be thankful for the forgiving eyes
That gave their sweetness as they wept,
Yet in return found, with a new surprise,
Love's kiss upon the lids ... smiling, slept.

And let us, too, be thankful that the tears
Of sorrow ... kissed away,
That through them all, for a ... coming years
We may ... on the —James Whitcomb ... Reaper

TOLD OF THE TITLED.

Lord Roberts doesn't smoke, touches wine but seldom, and rises at 5:30 every morning, summer and winter—no matter how late he may have retired.

Lord Sheffield is the proud possessor of a photograph of the Billington cricket club of Oxford, and among the team is King Edward, then an Oxford undergraduate.

Princess Louise of Coburg is said to have sold the manuscript of her "Memoirs" to a Brussels editor for $207,000, and Leopold has ordered the police to find the editor and seize the book.

Baron de Forest is said to be contemplating the establishment of an empire in the Sahara desert, and carping critics declare that the British government will obtain a political advantage by the process.

Lord Brassey offered to erect, at his own expense, a large number of wooden cottages on the English model for the sufferers by the recent Italian earthquake. The offer was accepted by the government.

The duke of Argyll, King Edward's brother-in-law, has enlarged his literary scope by writing a book of nonsense verse in the form of a long ballad. His first work, "The United States After the War," brought him to the notice of American readers.

Sir William Macgregor, governor of Newfoundland, is one of the most remarkable men in the British colonial service, both physically and mentally, and is the only governor to wear the Albert medal, which is the civilian counterpart of the Victorian cross.

The princess of Wied, who is a prominent figure in the court circles at Berlin, and whose husband is in the line of succession to the throne of Holland, buys all the ill-used horses that come to her notice and gives them the benefit of a stay in her well-appointed stables.

HISTORICAL GLEANINGS.

Cabbages were introduced into England in the sixteenth century.

Pottery is the oldest and most widely known of the human arts.

The drum is said to have been the first musical instrument of the human race.

Four shillings per annum was the rent of a five-roomed house in Henry VIII.'s time.

Records of Firfax county, Virginia, show that eGorge Washington owned at the age of 27 50,000 acres of land, and in 1790 the Washington family had killed 150 hogs for their use.

New York was first called Gotham by Washington Irving and J. K. Paulding in their humorous work "Salmagundi," in sarcastic allusion to the singular wisdom of its inhabitants. There is a Gotham in England, seven miles from Nottingham, the people of which are usually styled "the wise men of Gotham," because for hundreds of years they have been credited with saying and doing the most foolish things.

Automatic cooking boxes were in general use among the Hebrews nearly 2,000 years ago. The Greek and Roman writers frequently refer to them. In his edition of "Juvenal," for example, Friedlander cites a commentator who refers to "the Jews who, a day before the Sabbath, put their viands hot into the cooking boxes, the pots being covered with napkins and wrapped about with hay, so that they may have warm food on the Sabbath."

SCHOOL NOTES.

The Alsatian city of Mulhausen not only provides free baths for its school children, but free medical inspection and dental treatment.

Miss Ellen Stone, the American missionary who was captured by brigands several years ago, will open a female college at Monastir, which will be conducted on American ideas.

Rhodes scholars at Oxford university, England, have come to be known as "Rhodesters." This is not in any way a term of reproach, for so far the young men have been conspicuously successful both intellectually and socially.

The Ramsbottom (England) education committee granted all the school children of the town a half holiday on the occasion of the visit of a circus, in order "to give the poorer children an opportunity of seeing unfamiliar animals."

A remarkably successful attempt is making in Germany to instill in the public school children a love for plant culture. Last year a gardening association inaugurated a system by which flowers and plants in pots were presented to a large number of children, and prizes, to be awarded at the end of the summer school term this year, were offered to such as should merit them by the care of their plants. In a single town, Wuerzburg, 133 children received these prizes at the school exhibitions.

NATIONALITY IN FIGHTING.

"An Englishman, when he is going to fight, throws his hat and coat in a blustering, bluffing way on the ground.

"A Scot pulls his hat down tight on his head and buttons his coat carefully. The canny Scot is not going to endanger any of his property.

"An Irishman appeals to the crowd to hold his coat. The Celtic nature desires sympathy and tries to build it up.

"A German—methodical, precise—folds his coat in a neat bundle and lays his hat on top of it to hold it down.

"An American is so anxious to pitch in and have the thing over that he starts fighting without giving a thought to hat or coat."

MRS. APPLEGATE WELL AGAIN!

"I have had a bruised leg and foot for several years, caused by the brass eyelets of my shoe, which became very sore and painful especially at night. It itched, burned and ached me till it nearly set me crazy. I used everything I found and was suggested to ease it and nothing gave me any relief till I found and applied Azienza Cream which I think is a wonderful remedy for all sores and inflammation of the skin. The hard knots on my legs were as painful as bee stings, with discolored and purple spots. A running sore on my instep size of a half-dollar; the top of my foot a seething sore clean around to my heel. The bone was sore for a whole year and very painful. I used five and one-half jars of Azienza Cream and healed the sore all up. The foot remained tender and I continued to use to strengthen and toughen the skin until now it is entirely well." HEARING REFUSED TO THE PRINTERS.

Newark Conference Sustains Managers of Methodist Book Concern.

At yesterday's session in Jersey City of the Newark Methodist Conference the petition of Typograhpical Union No. 6, asking that a committee of printers be allowed to appear before the conference and explain the trouble between the Methodist Book Concern and the union printers, was unfavorably acted upon. Rev. Mr. Eaton, one of the managers of the concern, who was present, was allowed the floor. He asked:

"Do you want me to say a word about the rabid attacks that have been made upon the concern?"

"No!" declared the members of the conference, "we will trust you."

Mr. Eaton denied the charge that the book concern had accepted objectionable advertisments.

At their own request these clergymen were taken from the active list and made supernumeraries: Rev. Joseph Daniels, of Ocean Grove; Rev. William S. Galloway, of Tottenville, Staten Island; Rev. Henry M. Simpson, of Metuchen, and William H. Haggerty, of Hibernia. Each has served a period in excess of forty years.

In his address to several theological students who are pursuing the conference course of study for admission, Bishop Hamilton warned the candidates not to make use of the Methodist ministry to advance any other business.

Bishop Hamilton attacked the vulgar rich for their extravagance and ostentation. He declared that the lust for wealth was never more prevalent than at present. Rev. Thomas Dixon, author of the "Clansman" and "The Leopard Spots," was the subject of criticism.

"The man who rails against a poor fellow who can not help himself," Bishop Hamilton said, "is unworthy of the association of clansmen. I have a good notion to have these writings excluded from the mails because they are incendiary."

BOY STRANGELY IS MISSING FROM HOME.

Distracted Parents Ask for Aid in the Search for Their Son.

Thomas Golden, oldest son of Patrick Golden, a prosperous dairyman of Elizabeth, is strangely missing. The lad, who is fourteen, left his home last Monday morning with his books under his arm to go to the Cherry Street Public School, which is a mile distant from the Golden residence. That was the last seen or heard of him. He had no trouble at the school, where he was regarded as a bright pupil.

His family is nearly distracted and has asked for aid in the search for the lost boy. The police of New York, Philadelphia, Boston and Newark have been notified, while the Elizabeth police are working on the case.

When Thomas disappeared he wore a dark tweed Norfolk suit with dark blue cap, laced shoes, pink and white striped shirt with stiff bosom, and a small black bow tie. He is tall for his age.

WHAT SISTERS MAY DO.

Ways In Which They May Be of Help to Their Brothers.

A sister can help to cure a brother of a boy's natural awkwardness and blundering by saying all the pleasant things she can of him in his hearing.

She can do more for him by encouragement than by rebuke. Boys flourish best in a kindly atmosphere.

She can take an interest in his fads and amusements and listen to him whenever he has anything to tell. In this way she becomes his most valuable confidant and comrade.

She can make her brother's friends her friends by being ready to entertain them when they call. She should not be continually finding flaws in them or holding them up to ridicule.

She can teach them to be manly by occasionally claiming his protection, and he will be quick to respond to such a call.

She should say nothing to her brother's disparagement before strangers. Harsh treatment will only result in hard heartedness.

Brothers stand in need of as much sympathetic affection as girls, and sister should see that they get it.

In this way sisters can teach their brothers to be as fond of home as they are, and a fondness for home will keep any body from straying from that path which leads to a noble manhood.—Exchange.

Body Covered With Tar.

The body of Charles Shiller, of No. 335 Third street, Elizabeth, was found yesterday on the banks of the Staten Island Sound, so nearly covered with tar that it was hardly recognizeable as that of a human being. The spot where the body was found is where the refuse from the tar works is thrown. Shiller had been missing from his home two months. He leaves a widow and three children, who are in destitute circumstances.

Pusher Engines Idle.

On account of the coal strike, the day and the night pusher engines working between Dunellen and Fanwood, have been taken out of commission. The cessation of coal freight traffic makes them unnecessary. The crews have been laid off pending a settlement of the trouble.

AUTOMOBILE NOTES.

Engineers and designers representing thirty of the principal automobile manufacturing concerns in this country yesterday discussed various points in the construction and operation of gasolene motor vehicles. One of the most interesting subjects under consideration was the elimination of noise in the operation of vehicles, and some of the recommendations resulting are likely to lead to detail improvements in gearbox construction and in the arrangement of driving chains, cam shafts and other points from which noises arise.

The discussion took place at a meeting of the Mechanical Branch of the Association of Licensed Automobile Manufacturers held in the Transit building and was presided over by A. L. Riker. Besides the elimination of noise several other subjects of interest were debated, one being the propriety of running an engine slowly on high speed. The opinion prevailed that mechanically it is not wise to encourage the practice, but the evidence was unanimous that the average purchaser prefers to run his car on high gear continuously whether on the open road, in a crowded street or ascending a hill. The practice is discountenanced by engineers abroad.

The efficiency of nickel steel tubing and the best types of transmission were other subjects considered. A comprehensive report was made by the committee on tests, in which the preparations being made for testing all material used in the construction of machines were given in detail.

Among the engineers taking an active part in the discussions were John Wilkinson (Franklin), Robert Jardine (Royal), H. P. Maxim (Columbia), L. H. Kittredge (Peerless), D. Ferguson (Pierce), and A. L. Riker (Locomobile).

A TWIRLER AT $3,000

Why Lindeman Prefers Not to Enter the Ranks of Big Leaguers.

A HIGH PRICED MAN

He Sticks to His Business But Incidently Reaps a Harvest on the Ball Diamond.

Some baseball fans who follow the crack professional and independent teams in and around New York, cannot understand why so many of the players refuse to enter the league ranks. The truth of the matter is that they can earn more money by playing two or three games a week on independent teams at good figures as well as hold their positions, many of whom enjoy lucrative ones in well known mercantile houses and corporations.

One example in particular is the case of Ernest Lindeman, who pitches Sundays for the Ridgewood team and formerly did slab duty for the Hoboken and Plainfield clubs. Lindeman is on the reserve list of the New York Giants, but has spruned the offers of McGraw to join the team for the last three seasons. Financially speaking, the blonde haired twirler is better off in this world's goods than many league players of years' standing. One reason why is because he is economical and saves his money.

He is probably the highest priced twirler today in the independent ranks, and if he meets with no accidents this season he expects to clear up no less than $3,000 by playing ball. This is easily possible to accomplish when you come to figure it out. Lindeman has signed with Manager Hussey, of the Ridgewoods, to pitch Sundays for the munificent sum of $70 per game. Hussey paid Lindeman last season $55 per game, and his work was so brilliant that several other managers this spring raised the ante and finally Hussey, to secure his services, handed over a crisp $100 bill a sa bonus. Lindeman pitched his first game of the season last Sunday and will continue playing untel the end of October. In addition to his Sunday games, he will play Wednesdays and Saturdays, the latter day with the Summit, N. J., team, and in these games he will receive no less than $25 every time he pitches.

Mr. Lindeman has declared that he will never play league ball, but will stick to his job and content himself playing on independent teams. He is employed by the Equitable Assurance Company, 120 Broadway, as a policy writer. He is an expert penman and is said to command a salary of $40 per week.

Of course, pitchers make the most money, but the other players fare very well. Good catchers do not find it hard to pick up in the neighborhood of $150 a week by playing two or three games a week, while infielders and outfielders make all the way from $75 to $150 a month. The poorest paid individuals in the business seem to be the umpires, who are generally paid at the rate of $5 per game.

"Tony" Pastor, the famous Westfield player, is up in the air. Owing to the negotiations between Toronto and Norwich, Pastor has declared he will not play in Norwich if released to that team by the Canadian club. Pastor says the Connecticut League is "on the crust" and that he would not play there under any circumstances. He would, however, be willing to accept a berth with the Lynn Club in the New England League.

DIAMOND DUST.

"Gene" McCann, the popular twirler of the Jersey City Club, has hypnotized the Plainfield belles with his six-stoned Baltimore sparklet.

George Merritt, a member of the Jersey City Club, practicing here, recently lost his father, and his mother is now critically ill at her home in Paterson.

Manager Burnham, of the Newarks, has signed a promising catcher in Ross, who did brilliant work behind the bat for the Elizabeth Stars and Trenton, Y. M. C. A.

"Jack" Merrity will handle the indicator again this season for the Plainfield team. Mr. Merrity's services in the past have been on a par with the grade of ball furnished by the team.

"Tommy" Moorehead, the veteran professional, will be seen in active harness against this esason. Sundays he will cover second sack for the Manhattans, and Saturdays he will play at Dover, N. J.

"Mike" Rotchford, who will return to Utica, is getting into shape with the Stevens Institute team on the Cricket Grounds. "Mike" played fast ball last season and got a substantial increase in salary.

"Kid" Brogan is just as aggressive as ever and will be one of the strong factors of the Plainfield team this season. He is always demanding his rights and is always ready for an argument with the umpire.

Manager Daab's new outfielder, Frank De May, is a fast man, judging from the ginger he displayed in the winter exhibition Sunday against the Loughlins. De May played last season with the Manhattans, of New York, and made good. He is a fast fielder and holds his own with the stick.

"Sergeant" Leonard has started the season with the same agility as a two-year-old. The members of the team are pleased over Leonard's appointment as captain and as usual harmony will previal in the ranks, which has been customary among players who have ever played on the Plainfield nine.

It is urged that so far as possible every member of the Plainfield Baseball Association attend the meeting to be held at the Hotel Iroquois, tonight. The certificates of stock will be ready for distribution, President William N. Runyon and Treasurer C. W. Runyon having signed them. Manager Daab will be present and have something of interest to say to the fans.

The retirement of Dave Fultz from the New York Americans has resulted in hundreds of independent managers to deluge him with offers to manage and captain teams in the suburban towns. As yet Fultz has made no arrangements to play ball, although he will probably keep in shape by participating in Saturday and Wednesday games when the warm weather sets in.

Orange, which has been active in baseball for the past fifteen years, will not be represented on the baseball map this season. For a number of years the town boasted of having the strongest semi-professional team in the metropolitan district, but last year Manager Mills sustained a heavy financial loss owing to a lack of patronage and as a result no team will represent the Newark suburb this season.

"Billy" Dalton, second baseman for Plainfield last season, and who has blossomed out as a manager in his home town at Yonkers, may not have smooth sailing when he attempts to play Sunday games in that village. According to newspaper reports, the Common Council of that town passed an ordinance against Sunday playing, making it applicable to players and managers alike by paying a $100 fine for each and every offense.

If reports are true, the players of both the National and American Leagues are getting in a restless condition because of the "screwing down" process inaugurated by the magnates in these organizations. Lou Wiltse declares that before another year dawns a strong players' association will be organized to take the place of the now defunct organization that started in business a few years ago with "Chief" Zimmer at the head. Wiltse says the collapse of this association was due to the fact of not having capable men at the head. He says efforts will be made to induce John M. Ward or A. G. Spalding to head the new enterprise, or some other reliable person not engaged in playing. Wiltse, although a member of the outlaw Tri-State League, is interested in the movement, and he predicts if the players do not organize themselves another $2,400 limit clause will be adopted by the magnates next fall.

The annual meeting of the Congregational church will be held on Wednesday night, April 11. In connection with the meeting the women of the church will serve a supper in the church parlors from 6 to 7:30 o'clock.

An elaborate programme of music for Easter Sunday is being prepared by Garret T. Dunham, organist, for the services at the Church of the Heavenly Rest. The regular choir will be augmented by an orchestra of four stringed instruments.

In the Special Department an account may be opened with $5.00 or more by the child who wishes to acquire the habit of saving; the husband and wife saving for the "rainy day;" the married woman who keeps an individual account; the teacher or the clerk who wants to get ahead; the business man setting aside his private income or surplus profits; the professional man who wishes to save the fruits of a "good year" to carry him over a bad year; the individual firm or corporation accumulating a sinking fund for some specific purpose; the capitalist who desires an absolutely safe investment, not requiring any looking after by one person in trust for another; in short by all those who spend less than they earn, and wish their surplus to work for them.

The Lenten Sewing Class of Grace church will meet Wednesday afternoon, April 11, at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. E. S. Hyatt, 243 East Ninth street.

Rev. Dr. J. B. Van Meter, a former pastor of the First M. E. church, will preach at this church tomorrow morning. There will be a special musical service in the evening.

The members of the Mission Aid Society of Warren chapel are requested to take the 9 o'clock trolley car from the Watchung avenue station Tuesday morning to attend the Foreign Missionary Society meeting, Presbytery of Elizabeth, at Westfield.

At the Tioga Presbyterian church of Philadelphia, of which Rev. Charles E. Dunn, formerly of this city, is the pastor, ninety-six new members were added to the church on Sunday, April 1. Thirty-nine of this number joined on confession of faith.

The regular monthly meeting of the Men's Club of Grace church will be held in the parish house Monday evening, April 9, at 8 o'clock. The meeting will be devoted to a discussion on the public health, which will be led by Drs. William H. Murray and Leon Thurlow, health officer of the city.

At the First M. E. church tomorrow morning the following musical programme will be rendered: "Jerusalem," by Parker-Rees; "The Palms," by Faure, Miss Bertha Willis. Evening: "Wilderness," short cantata, by Sir John Goss; "By Babylon's Wave," by Gounod; "From Thy Love As a Father," from the Redemption, by Gounod; "The Great Day of the Lord is Near," by Harker; solo, Miss Laura Geisswein, from the Oratorio Emanuel, "Come Unto Me," by Towbridge.

Jules Hittle, of East Front street, conducted a theatre party to New York Thursday afternoon. A dozen young people were in the affair. They went to the Hippodrome in the afternoon, saw the "Music Master" at night, and incidentally enjoyed a table d'hote dinner and a lobster supper.

CITY MAY LOSE FACTORY

Vacuum Company Considering Locating at Elizabeth Instead of Plainfield.

OWNS GROUND HERE

Local Board of Trade Inactive—What President Kenney Has to Say in the Matter.

An apparently well-founded rumor comes from Elizabeth to the effect that the Vacuum Cleaner Company, of which David T. Kenney, of the borough, is president, intends locating its factory in that city at a point near Elizabethport, adjacent to the New Jersey Central and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and where the latter company contemplates making a number of improvements in the near future. It is a well-known fact that Mr. Kenney recently purchased a 1,400 foot tract of land lying along the Central Railroad, east of the Hygeia Ice Company plant here, and it was generally supposed that Mr. Kenney purchased this property for a factory site.

A man closely identfied with the company when asked why the concern chose Elizabeth for a location, instead of Plainfield, said: "I do not know that we have fully decided to locate at Elizabeth, however, it is very probable that we will build our factory there. The high rate of taxes in Plainfield serves as a barrier against industries locating here, although none of the industries in this town affects in any way the aristocratic residential section of the city proper or the borough of North Plainfield. Somerville seems to have an enterprising Board of Trade that is always on the alert and after any industry desiring a New Jersey location. We have been looking at property there, but as yet have given no decision in the matter."

"Has the Board of Trade of this city been informed that your company desired to locate somewhere between Somerville and Elizabeth?" was asked.

"No, I think not. In fact, I am sure the matter was never brought before that body," was the reply.

When David T. Kenney was asked about the matter of the Vacuum Company locating at Elizabeth, in preference to Plainfield, he said:

"We have been looking around for a factory site, the railroad and water facilities of Elizabeth tend to make that city a very desirable place to locate. However, the matter has not yet been fully decided."

"How large would your factory be and how many men would you employ and what would you manufacture?" was asked. "We would probably employ several hundred killed hands at first and when our plans are fully developed we could furnish employment for 1,000 or more. Iron and brass fittings used in connection with the Vacuum Cleaner will be manufactured."

"Why not locate here in Plainfield where you live?" was asked again. "Well," said Mr. Kenney, "I would like to see the plant located here because I know it would greatly benefit the business men of the town and the working class and would tend to make the city more reliant, but there are things that must be considered before locating here, including the company's interests."

"It has been suggested that the tax rate is considered very high here and for this reason other places are deemed more desirable for locating industries than Plainfield. Is this true?"

"I don't know about that feature," replied M. Kenney. "and until I am better informed on the tax question would prefer not to discuss it. However, we have not yet decided just where our plant will be located."

Last Lenten Organ Recital.

The final Lenten organ recital at the Holy Cross church, Saturday afternoon, under the direction of F. Clinton Lee, organist, assisted by H. Raymond Loder, baritone, attracted a large congregation. Mr. Lee's work at the organ was up to his usual high standard and every number was fully enjoyed. The selections by Mr. Loder were also appreciated by the music-lovers present. The programme, as published Friday, was rendered entire. These recitals given during Lent have brought together a large number of worshippers each week, showing that they have been appreciated.

TO MUCH GLOATING OVER THE GRAFT EVIL

RECTOR SAYS PEOPLE OUGHT TO REJOICE OVER RIGHTEOUSNESS MORE.

Disapproval of the general tendency to hysteria over the evidences of corruption and vice in big corporations was expressed by Rev. George A. Warner, rector of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Holy Cross, North Plainfield, in his morning sermon yesterday. Not enough attention was paid, he said, to the innumerable examples of rectitude and righteousness, not only in the business world, but in many other directions.

Mr. Warner's topic was "Sincerity," carrying on a series of sermons on the familiar definition of charity by St. Paul. He deplored the hysterical cries of universal corruption in the corporate world which appeared to mark the outpourings of certain magazines and newspapers. There appeared to be a desire to gloat over the wickedness discovered, he said, and a hysteric appetite for more disclosures of the same sort. It was time the people turned their eyes to the sweetness and purity of the lives to be found in thousands of homes, to be seen in many business houses and corporations; time to rejoice over the virtue and righteousness of those people, rather than to stand on the qui vive, with a morbid appetite, waiting for more disclosures of evil over which to gloat.

HOLY WEEK SERVICES AT GRACE CHURCH

MOST SOLEMN WEEK IN CALENDAR BEING APPROPRIATELY OBSERVED.

Special services will be held at Grace Episcopal church all through Holy Week. This afternoon at 5 o'clock there will be evensong. There will be holy communion at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning and in the evening at 8 o'clock there will be "The Story of the Passion," illustrated with lantern slides. The only service on Wednesday will be the holy communion at 10 o'clock in the morning. On Maundy Thursday there will be holy communion at 10 o'clock and the commemoration of the Institution at 8 o'clock in the evening.

The services on Good Friday include ante-communion at 7 a. m., children's service at 9 a. m., morning prayer, litany and sermon, 10 a. m., meditations on the Passion, 12 to 3 p. m. Saturday morning at 10 o'clock there will be holy communion.

These services are announced for Easter Day: Holy communion, 7 and 8 a. m.; morning prayer, holy communion and sermon, 10:30 a. m.; children's carol service, 3 p. m.; evening prayer and sermon, 8 p. m. Rt. Rev. John Scarborough, Bishop of New Jersey, will administer the rite of confirmation at the 10:30 o'clock service Sunday morning.

Gave Battle to a Cop.

Loaded to the eyebrows with Somerset street fire water, Michael Gleason, of the city side of the brook, got hilarious in the borough Saturday night. He refused to obey Marshal Dooley's injunction to be quiet and when the officer attempted to get hold of him Mike put up a fight. There was a battle royal for a few minutes but in the end Dooley won out and the belligerent was landed in a cell, suffering from a severely bumped cranium. He is still locked up pending a hearing.

Child Starts $50 Fire.

A child at the home of Walter Daniels, colored, of St. Marys avenue, struck a match yesterday afternoon and accidentally set fire to some bedding. The blaze spread quickly and in a few moments one end of the room was in flames. An alarm was turned in from box 53 but before the department arrived the family had extinguished the fire with pails of water. The damage will reach $50.

Outdoor Singing Meeting.

Before the gathering at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium yesterday afternoon, the Rines Brothers, singing evangelists, held an outdoor hymn meeting at Park and North avenues. It attracted a large crowd, and numbers of those who stopped to listen followed the evangelists to the hall. A number of Y. M. C. A. workers supported the evangelists in the choruses of the songs.

Machinists' Ball Date Set.

Local lodge, No. 167, International Association of Machinists, will hold its annual ball in Saengerbund Hall on Friday night, April 27. The committee having charge of the arrangements has planned to make it the most successful affair the lodge has ever conducted and will introduce several features.

BISHOP AT ST. MARY'S

CONFIRMED BIG CLASS

Catholics crowded St. Mary's church to the doors yesterday afternoon, to greet Bishop O'Connor, who came to the parish on his canonical visitation. When the prelate ascended the pulpit to deliver his address, the church was so packed that 200 members of a delegation from the men's societies of the parish which had met him on the street were unable to get in.

He arrived in this city on the 3:40 train. Rev. Father Delahanty, assistant priest at St. Mary's, met him with a carriage and they drove directly to the church.

When they reached there two lines of men, representing the Knights of Columbus, the Temperance Cadets, Holy Name Society, the A. O. H. and graduates of St. Mary's school, drawn up on both sides of Sixth street, greeted the bishop. There were at least 250 in the lines. The prelate walked to the church between the lines, and Rev. Father Bogan met him at the door.

The class of candidates fell in behind the bishop, coming from the school, as he walked between the ranks of men, and followed him down the aisle of the church. There were eighty-nine girls and seventy-seven boys, and twenty-five adults in the class. Seventeen of the latter were converted since the last mission services. The girls were dressed all in white, with long veils and bouquets, and the boys were clad in black suits, with white bows on their left arms, and white gloves.

The bishop addressed the congregation, urging them to live according to a high standard of morality, and spoke to the candidates on the solemnity and importance of the sacrament of confirmation. He dwelt on the necessity for the maintenance of moral living.

The candidates marched to the altar after the address and were received into the church. Dr. Boone acted as sponsor for the boys in the renewal of their vows, and Mrs. J. L. Slevin for the girls.

The service closed with the benediction of the blessed sacrament. After the service the bishop made formal examination of the books of the parish and the church paraphernalia.

The prelate was entertained at dinner by Father Bogan, in the rectory. Only the parish priests were present. The bishop returned to South Orange, where the Episcopal residence is maintaned, on the 8:12 train.

Additions to Cast.

In the cast for "On Change," to be given at the Park Club on Friday night, May 4, which was published in The Daily Press on Saturday, two parts were omitted, that of Miss Overton, who will take the part of "Mrs. Prof. Peckering Peck," and Morgan Townsend, who takes the part of "Tiffin," the butler. A number of entirely new amateurs picked especially for the characters will be seen in this production, while there will be several old favorites.

Rines Brothers' Meetings.

During this week commencing tonight, Rines Brothers, evangelists, will conduct special meetings for men throughout the city as follows: Tonight, Hope chapel; Tuesday night, Y. M. C. A.; Wednesday night, Faith chapel; Thursday night, Grace M. E. church; Friday night, Faith chapel; Saturday night, Y. M. C. A. On Sunday afternoon the evangelists will be at the Y. M. C. A.

"Aunt Jemima's Singin Skule."

"Aunt Jemima's Singin Skule" will be given at Reform Hall tomorrow night under the auspices of the Reform Club. The programme will comprise old music entirely, including solos, duets and chorus selections. About thirty children in costume will take part. Mrs. H. Gibbons will have charge of the programme.

Missionary Meeting.

M. K. W. Heicker, a teacher in the North Plainfield High School, will conduct the missionary meeting to be held tonight at Trinity Reformed church, under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society. This is a subject that Mr. Heicker is greatly interested in as he intends going to foreign lands as a missionary.

Fred Mitchell and Fred Walton, of Paterson, were the guests of E. E. Nelson yesterday. Mr. Mitchell was Mr. Nelson's companion on a recent trip around the world.

ADOPTS A CONSTITUTION

Plainfield Baseball Association Finishes Its Work of Organization.

ARRANGING FOR GAMES

No Contest Here on July 4—Series With Somerville—Signing New Men—Stock Certificates Ready.

Perfecting plans for the opening of the local baseball season on Saturday, May 5, engaged the attention of the Plainfield Baseball Association at the Hotel Iroquois, Saturday night. In the absence of President William N. Runyon, the vice president, Newton B. Smalley, was in the chair. There was a good attendance and encouraging reports were received from the various committees. Manager Daab was present and expressed himself well pleased with the situation.

Mr. Smalley presented the copy of the association's constitution drafted by President Runyon and it met the approval of every one and was adopted. This contains an agreement between the association and Mr. Daab, each being part owners, and provides for paying Mr. Daab $400 for half interest in his franchise. It also provides for the duties of the various committees and the executive committee, comprising the president, vice president, secretary and treasurer, is to work with Manager Daab during the season.

Mr. Daab is to engage players, arrange the schedule, and only in the case where a series of games is played with out of town teams, such as Somerville, is the executive committee to consult as to certain details. Every confidence was expressed in Mr. Daab, while he felt sure that the association meant business. The question of holiday dates came up and it was the opinion that if it can be arranged it would be well to play the Fourth of July afternoon game at Somerville, provided Somerville would play the Memorial Day afternoon game here. This arrangement is desirable so as not to conflict with the race meet at the driving park on July 4.

Progress was reported on the work on score cards, privileges. George Voehl stated that he had seen Mayor Buckle and Chairman Frank Randolph, of the police committee, and thought that the city would furnish two policemen at each game at the city's expense. Mr. Randolph said that he would let him know definitely about it later.

Mr. Daab reported that he has signed Bertwhistle to play an outfield position, also "Phil" Reardon, who played in Connecticut, last season, for the outfield in place of De May, who will return to the Manhattans. Henriques, who was expected to play first base, will also go with the Manhattans, playing first base and captain the team. Mr. Daab said that he had several candidates for the initial bag, including a man named Russell, who is a first baseman and pitcher. He is a Yale man and is anxious for a trial. He expressed the opinion that by May 5 he would have his team definitely chosen and it would be a good one in every respect.

The stock certificates were all ready for distribution with the exception of the signature of the treasurer, C. W. Runyon, and he promised to complete his task so that the committee can have them today and begin at once the work of collecting money. Already some money has been paid in.

There was a discussion as to the possibility of putting a fence around the oval and renewing the lease for another year. These matters will be attended to at once and if it is possible to secure a fence this will be done. Mr. Smalley expects to see what he can do in this line. As to the care of the grounds it was thought best to engage Arthur Venable, who has had the job for five years. The work will be started at once so that the Jersey City Club can get the benefit of it during the week while the practice is continued.

Entertainment for Hospital.

An entertainment will be given under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary in Somerset Hall, Somerville, Friday night, April 27, for the benefit of Somerset Hospital. A one-act drama entitled "A Queen's Messenger," written by J. Hartley Manners, originally produced in London, and recently played in New York, will be given by Miss Bessie Robeson and George E. Anderson, of Bound Brook. Miss Robeson has received much deserved popularity in New York this season, where she has given readings with Amelia Bingham. A musical programme has been arranged which will be followed by another short play, entitled "Yellow Roses," to be presented by Gerald Williams and Miss Loretta Reed, of New York.

PALM SUNDAY SERVICES

The Catholic and Episcopal Churches Draw Large Congregations.

ST. JOSEPH'S CROWDED

Bright with spring sunshine and freshened by soft breezes, Palm Sunday was like an earnest of the traditional Easter. It awoke Easter thoughts, and the people responded with a display of spring clothes, and large attendance at the churches. There was a noticeable church parade in the morning, and strollers were in evidence on all the residential streets in the afternoon.

Special music and sermons appropriate to the day marked the services in practically all the churches. In those of the Roman Catholic and Protestant Episcopal denomination the long, solemn services prescribed for the day's observance by the rituals impressively inaugurated Holy Week, the final seven days of the penitential period. The Catholic churches were thronged at high mass.

At the services of the Catholic and Episcopal churches the attendance was large. In the former the procession of the palms was a feature of the service, and at all the churches of both faiths, excepting the Mission Church of the Heavenly Rest, the blessing and distribution of the symbolic palms was the salient mark of the significance of the day's services.

It St. Mary's and St. Joseph's R. C. churches, palms and purple hangings were used in the decorations, purple being the prescribed ecclesiastical color for the week. In the Episcopal churches palms were banked about the altar.

As usual, five masses were held at St. Mary's R. C. church in the morning, beginning at 6:30 o'clock. The last one at 10:30 o'clock, was a full high celebration, with an augmented choir. The blessing and distribution of the palms to the throng at the service preceded the mass. No sermon was preached, the reading of the Passion taking its place.

The principal service at St. Joseph's church was at 10:30 o'clock, when solemn high mass was celebrated. There was such a large congregation that the aisles were crowded with worshippers. The Passion was read during the mass instead of the gospel for the day. The musical feature of the service was the singing of "The Palms." Rev. Father Miller, the rector, conducted the service, and preached. There was a low mass at 8:30 o'clock. The benediction of the blessed sacrament was celebrated in the afternoon, and in the evening the usual Lenten instruction was held.

Morning services at Grace P. E. church were early celebration of the communion at 7:30 o'clock and morning prayer, litany and sermon at 10:30 o'clock. Rev. E. V. Stevenson, the rector, preached a Palm Sunday sermon. Mr. Stevenson preached in Somerville in the evening, and Rev. E. M. Rodman, rector emeritus, conducted the service at Grace.

There was a palm procession at the main service in the morning at Holy Cross P. E. church, North Plainfield. The palms were blessed at the early communion service at 7:30 o'clock. The 11 o'clock service was full morning prayer, litany and sermon. Rev. George A. Warner, the rector, preached on "Sincerity," in his series of sermons on St. Paul's definition of charity. Evening service, with sermon, was held as usual, at 7:45 o'clock. The palms were distributed at both services.

Rev. Erskine M Rodman, rector emeritus of Grace church, conducted the two services at St. Stephen's P. E. church, Netherwood. Rev. A. S. Peck, the rector, is still too ill to take up his rectorial labors. There was full morning prayer, communion celebration and sermon at 11 o'clock, and evening prayer at 4 o'clock.

One service was held at the Mission Church of the Heavenly Rest, Clinton avenue, at 11 o'clock. Rev. Charles H. Doupe, the rector, preached. The palms were not distributed and there was no communion celebration.

Cut His Foot With Axe.

William Handy, of East Fourth street, cut his left foot almost to the bone Saturday morning while chopping wood in the cellar of his home. The axe slipped and struck him on the instep. He was wearing woolen slippers and the blade cut into the flesh with unchecked force. He bound up the foot, unaided, and went to the hospital dispensary to have it sewn.

JUDGE RUNYON JOINS COLBY MOVEMENT,

PLEDGING TO HELP IN UNION CO. CAMPAIGN

Conference at Elizabeth Addressed by Everett Colby, G. L. Record and W. N. Runyon

THIS CITY REPRESENTED

The Judge Pledges to Work for Success of the Movement—Another Meeting Saturday, April 28.

"I am heart and soul in this movement. In so far as I can be of any service, even though it be in a small way, I pledge my best efforts."—Judge William N. Runyon, at the meeting in Elizabeth Saturday night when a Colby movement was inaugurated in Union county.

Judge William N. Runyon, to whom much of the success of the Republican organization has been due for a number of years and who is one of the most popular men in the city, has joined with Senator Everett Colby, of Essex county, in the movement for good government and honest politics. This is the second surprise the judge has sprung on his legion of friends in the last fortnight, the first being when hepublically announced exclusively in The Daily Press that he was through with the political game. His statement then meant that the local organization would have to count him out when figuring upon its friends.

His avowal of the reform principles was made at a caucus of the friends of Senator Colby in Union county at Elizabeth Saturday night. Standing upon a platform facing a goodly number of Republicans from various parts of the county, conspicuous among whom were some Plainfielders, Judge Runyon gave his pledge to consecrate himself to the effort now being made to rid the State of "graft politicians." He declared that he would use his endeavors to assist in the movement about to be inaugurated in Union, and his words were greeted with prolonged applause.

Prominent among the men in the caucus were Captain Robert Kirkland, one of the most influential party workers in Elizabeth, and Assemblyman Everard Tucker, of the same city. Included in the Plainfield delegation were Judge Runyon, Frank W. Runyon, former Freeholder J. Fred MacDonald, Councilman W. S. Tyler, Dr. Frank S. Wells, A. T. Slauson, G. W. V. Moy, John Cose, F. E. Kinsman and R. Henry Depew, George T. Rogers was the only one from North Plainfield, although the names of Samuel St. John McCutchen, of the State Board of Education, former Mayor W. L. Saunders and Charles W. McCutchen were on the roles.

Charles McBride, formerly editor of the Elizabeth Journal and now an editor of the Newark Evening News, called the meeting to order. Thomas Jones, of Elizabeth, was chosen temporary chairman, and W. F. Groves, also of Elizabeth, was named as secretary.

Amidst much applause, Senator Colby arose to explain the objects of the meeting, and in doing so set forth the reasons that prompted him to inaugurate a movement against bossism and graft in New Jersey politics. At the outset he declared that the caucus was really a mass meeting in comparison with some others that had been held. Noticing Captain Kirkland in the audience, he paid a tribute to him and then to Assemblyman Tucker.

"It is time," exclaimed the speaker, "that the people of this State got together and restored the old style of representation. Corporation representation is not representation of the people. The object of this gathering here tonight is to enlist the aid of Union county Republicans who are tired of boss rule and want to be represented themselves by their chosen representatives.

"Ninety per cent of the people in New Jersey," he went on to say, "demand representation and also demand laws for their general welfare, and not for the interests of the corporations. I came here to get you together, and all together, for the accomplishment of this result.

"Part of the effect of this new movement is a law which will bring us $3,000,000 more in taxes from the railroads. This is only one thing. The Legislature has passed certain

DISAPPROVES OF EASTER MUSIC ON GOOD FRIDAY

REV. E. V. STEVENSON URGES PARENTS TO SEND CHILDREN TO CHURCH.

Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, rector of Grace P. E. church, urged his parishioners at the morning service yesterday to keep their children from school Good Friday and send them to the special service of the church. He laid emphasis on the fact that Easter music was rendered at the schools on Good Friday as a strong reason why the Episcopal children should not be allowed to attend the sessions.

Good Friday is the most solemn fast day of the church year, commemorative of Christ's agony and death upon the cross, and it is diametrically opposed to church practice to listen to or take part in music or exercises in keeping with the joyousness of Easter. In urging his parishioners to keep their children from school on Friday Mr. Stevenson merely spoke as a priest of the church, pointing the proper path to his people.

The Episcopal children are at liberty to stay away from school Good Friday under the rules of the Board of Education. Easter music is going on that day in the schools, because it is the last day before the Easter vacation, and Easter exercises are appropriate from the school standpoint on that day. The Episcopalians are the only Protestants who observe the day strictly enough to find such music objectionable at that time.

Mr. Stevenson made no request that the Easter music be cut out of the schol programme. It is his contention that all good church members, young or old, should put aside their work that day and attend church, not matter what their occupation.

DANIEL DETWEILER DEAD AFTER SIX MONTHS' ILLNESS.

His Demise the First to Occur in the Ranks of the Local Lodge of Elks.

Following an illness of six months from a complication of troubles, Daniel Detweiler died at his home on Carlton avenue yesterday. He was thirty-eight years old and a native of Easton, Pa., but had resided in Plainfield for the past three years. He was general manager for the firm of V. Perrin & Co., glove manufacturers, formerly Perrin, Freres & Co. The sickness which resulted in his death had its beginning in a cold which he contracted while on a business trip to Kansas City last October.

Mr. Detweiler was a member of Plainfield Lodge, No. 885, B. P. O. E., and was the first member the organization has lost by death. He is survived by a wife and three children.

The funeral will be held from his late home Wednesday morning at 10:45 and the Elks will attend in a body. Interment will be in Mt. Hope cemetery, New York.

Conference Thanked Swackhamer.

The Methodist Conference at Jersey City passed a vote of thanks to former Assemblyman Samuel S. Swackhamer Saturday. The vote was given because he represented the Conference in the Court of Chancery last year and refused compensation for his services. Mr. Swackhamer is an earnest Methodist, and an active member of the church.

Purchases Big Tract as Investment.

Doane & Doane, real estate brokers, of Park avenue, have sold to a New York client, as an investment, the entire tract owned by Norman K. Barnes, fronting on Arlington avenue, Woodbine avenue and Randolph road. Mr. Barnes has built six houses on this tract and the new owner will develop it further.

Dog Poisoner Active Again.

The dog poisoning that has recurred along East Front street every spring has begun again. There are a number of very valuable dogs in the neighborhood, and one of the residents have broached the idea of a protective association, which will keep a reward for the detection of every dog poisoner standing.

"Patience" Rehearsal Tonight.

The Plainfield Operatic Association will hold its weekly rehearsal of the comic opera "Patience" at the Casino tonight. The production will be given at the Casino on Thursday and Friday, May 3 and 4, and it promises to be the best yet presented by local amateurs.

NEWS IN THE SUBURBS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY

Rev. Frank Fletcher has discovered the identity of the man who started the false story of his alleged opposition to "Bob" Fitzsimmons' sanitarium. "I would like to hold just five minutes' talk with that man," says Mr. Fletcher. The author of the story is well known in the borough and village.

Capt. George Laible is expected to visit his brother, William, in a few weeks. If he get here in time an effort will be made to induce him to appear in the minstrel performance to be given under the auspices of Friendship Council.

Mrs. Charles Kelly, who has been ill for some time, went to her mother's home in Plainfield yesterday, to stay for a week or so. She is regaining her strength and it is believed the change of scene will hasten her recovery.

Still unidentified, the body of the man found drowned in Greenbrook at Bound Brook last Thursday was buried Saturday. The only things found in his pockets were four bags of tobacco and two pipes.

St. John's and Holy Innocents' churches were largely attended yesterday, when services appropriate to Palm Sunday were held. Rev. Charles Doupe, of Trenton, was at Holy Innocents' church.

George Whitley, the old New Market pitcher, signed with the Clinton Avenue team last week. William Giles, captain of last year's Dunellen nine, is also on the Clinton Avenues.

Miss Fannie Giles entertained the Young People's Card Club Saturday night. There was a large attendance and a most delightful time was enjoyed. Refreshments were served.

Fred Nelson, who recently established himself in business in Newark, as proprietor of a big cafe, was in the borough Saturday afternoon. He called at Taylor's Hotel.

Several Piscataway women have been invited to a party to be held April 16 by Mrs. Frank Hay, of Metuchen, a former village resident.

Paul Brakeley, who is training for the infield of the P. H. S. nine, practiced with the Jersey City Eastern Leaguers Friday.

William Farrier continues to improve in health. He will probably be able to resume his business in two weeks.

Uncle John Tingley has recovered from the effects of his broken ankle, and gets about as usual.

W. G. Holton Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., will initiate a candidate tomorrow night.

All the Sunday-schools rehearsed Easter music yesterday afternoon.

There was no service at the Methodist church last night.

W. B. Smith is having another of his houses repainted.

Bernard Siriski visited friends in Raritan yesterday.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Special Palm Sunday services were held at all the churches yesterday. At All Saints' Episcopal church special music was rendered; at the Baptist church, Rev. T. Moore-Smith preached a special sermon at the morning service on "Christ in the City of Palms." At the evening service, the choir, under the direction of L. D. H. Gilmour, rendered "The Crucifixion."

The audience which greeted the Gold Medal minstrel troupe at their initial performance Friday night was the largest that has attended any performance since the opening of the hall a number of years ago. Even standing room was at a premium before the curtain was rung up for the opening number.

The local coal dealers still keep coal at the standard price, and do not expect to be forced to raise the price on account of the trouble between the miners and operators.

Rev. Mr. Phipps, of Drew Seminary, occupied the pulpit at the Methodist church yesterday, no regular pastor having been appointed as yet by the Conference.

An auction sale of the household goods and farming implements of the late John Berwind will be held tomorrow afternoon at the farm in Washington Valley.

Yesterday was the first real day of spring. The pleasant weather brought out the automobiles and visitors to town and the place took on a midsummer look.

Miss Anna Bruchmann, of Newark, is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Bruchmann, of Mountain avenue.

The monthly meeting of the Farther Light Society was held in the parlors of the Baptist church yesterday afternoon.

The weekly meeting of the Epworth League was held last night in the class rooms of the Methodist church.

Miss Tillie Schroeder, of Jersey City, has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Frank Hosinger, of Park avenue.

FASHION TIPS FOR THE YOUNG WOMAN.

Sailor suits retain their popularity for small girls for they are always becoming, and make even those of the "awkward age" have a semblance of grace.

A stylish model is of dark blue serge, with blouse made to slip over the head, and cut to admit of a deep shield. The wide sailor collar is trimmed with red soutache braid, and a large red emblem adorned the left sleeve. A wide red silk tie completes this serviceable dress.

Russian suits are still in vogue for small boys, and are seen in both woolen and wash materials. When made of the latter they are usually finished with white linen collars and cuffs, with patent leather belts in black and colors as an attractive finish.

A gray Panama eton suit for a young girl has a short jacket with turn over collar and wide cuffs of pale blue moire edged with narrow gold braid. The girdle is of cloth, and the skirt is cut in full circular style with a wide stitched box-plait in the front.

Distinctive Easter Millinery

In our Millinery Salon we are showing what is unquestionably the largest collection of pretty hats to be seen in any Newark store. It would perhaps mean little to you if we simply showed the largest line and the hats lacked beauty and character, but we believe, and thousands agree with us, that the hats we show are as pretty as any that can be seen in the most exclusive New York shops. That they are distinctive and full of character is also generally conceded by those who have carefully studied the styles.

For the Easter season many new creations have been brought out. The show at this time is probably better than on the occasion of our formal opening days. New things have been added daily, and as the season advances our milliners find ways of improving upon the earlier styles. The result is added beauty and effectiveness.

PLACE YOUR ORDERS EARLY

While our facilities for creating hats to order are not excelled by any house, we urge the early placing of orders so that our trimmers may have all the time possible in order to make and trim your hat carefully. It is our desire that every hat leaving the store prove "a thing of beauty and a joy forever" to its possessor, and we do not care to rush any work so much as to cause it to be in the least degree slighted.

CO. TAX BOARD'S PLUMS

Some of Those Who are Mentioned For the Jobs.

SLATEMAKERS BUSY

Assemblyman Tillman Talked Of—Other Names to the Front—No Candidates Here.

While the Avis bill, providing for the appointment of a board of tax commissioners in each county of the State, hangs fire in the Assembly the anticipatory selection of candidates for the berths, started immediately after the bill had passed the Senate, goes merrily on. The bill was sent back to the House after an amendment had been added to it. The salary for the fortunate or unfortunate ones, according to developments, who may be selected to take care of the taxation interests of the whole people of Union county, is not a very munificent one, but any number of men are willing to take thre jobs, and several are being named by their friends who probably wouldn't take a place on the board.

If the bill passes safely through the hands of the Governor it will be one of the most important pieces of legislation affecting Union county placed on the books in years.

The names of candidates may be heard in all parts of the county. Here are a few: George Stewart, of Elizabeth, of the Republican City Committee from the Twelfth ward; Dennis F. Burke, of Elizabeth, who fought for councilmanic honors in the Second ward; John Farrell, of Rahway, former freeholder and a member of the County Court House Commission; Assemblyman Peter Tillman, George Ford, and John Crowell, of Rahway; Joseph Hague, of the Ninth ward, Elizabeth. Then there are Hobart Sayre, John J. Lane, of Summit; John J. Farrelly, who has city valuations at his fingers' ends; Martin Kenely, William Miller and John W. Warren, a building and loan appraiser, who should know a lot about valuations. Besides these Judge J. Williams Crane has been spoken of with Edward C. Woodruff, of the Union County Savings Bank; A. D. Mulford and several others.

Running along with the selection of possible candidates is the discussion as to whence the commissioners will come and what the political complexion of the board will be when it is ready for business. The latter part of the discussion is not causing much anxiety among the Republicans and few Democratic enthusiasts bother with it. The most likely solution of the question, and one that has many backers, is that the commission will consist of one Republican from Elizabeth, one from some other part of the county, and a Democrat. No candidates have yet loomed up in this city.

The Willing Workers of Trinity Reformed Sunday-school will hold a business meeting and social at the home of the teacher, Mr. Martin, of 505 Watchung avenue, tonight.

The choir of the First M. E. church will render the cantata, "Easter Eve and Morn," on Sunday night. The Sunday-school will have its special exercises in the afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The Men's Club of the First Baptist church has postponed its meeting scheduled for tonight until Monday night, April 16, owing to the many other meetings at the church this week.

Rev. Dr. J. B. VanMeter, of Baltimore, formerly pastor of the First M. E. church, occupied the pulpit at this church yesterday morning, preaching an eloquent sermon. After the service many remained to renew their acquaintance.

The women of the First M. E. church whose names are included in the church directory from A to H will meet in Vincent chapel this afternoon to make arrangements for the pastor's reception on Friday night, April 20.

The thirtieth annual parish meeting of the Park Avenue Baptist church will be held at the church on Wednesday night. There will be reports from all the societies, election of trustees and transaction of other important business.

Miss Aimee Emmons, of Prospect place, the borough, had a prominent part on the programme at the meeting of the Middlebrook Country Club, of Somerville, last week. She gave several recitations.

Plainfield, N. J., April 9, 1906.

A dispatch in a New York paper states that "Mr. Fowler is immensely popular in Elizabeth." Is that news, yellow journalism or a joke?

As it is yet in its infancy, the Colby movement in Union is an almost unknown quantity, but there is ample reason to suppose that it will be quite a formidable figure ere long. One thing that augurs well for it here in Plainfield is the fact that such men as Judge Runyon and Councilman Tyler are enlisted in the fight. Neither one can be accused of having any axe to grind. Both are alike aggressive, earnest and able, and are likely to obtain a good sized following.

The Newark Sunday Call is certainly right when it says that Senator Kean "does not represent the sentiment of his constituents in opposing the rate bill in the United States Senate, nor does he obey the demands of his party that some action to relieve the people of the tyranny of railroad discrimination should be taken. While it is true that the greater evils exist in the Western and Southern States, and that in New Jersey, like other settled communities, business men do not suffer the wrongs which cause such complaint elsewhere, no one knows better than Senator Keap that there is gross discrimination here, and if he has any doubts he can be furnished with evidence right in this city of Newark. If he does not know about specific instances, he is much less informed as to matters personal and political than is generally supposed."

GAS MACHINE REFUSE BLOCKS THE SEWER.

City's Sanitary System Stopped Up by Waste from Acetelyne Machines.

A stoppage of the sanitary sewer system in Park and North avenues on Saturday led to an investigation by Street Commissioner Gavett, with the result that a large quantity of carbide of calcium was found to have caused the trouble. Substance from acetelyne gas machines was allowed to run in the sewer and instead of being washed down with the sewage matter had settled in the bottom of the pipe, causing a stoppage.

It was while looking after another connection to the sewer on North avenue that the trouble was detected, and further investigation showed that the manholes were full of sewage matter. A long jointed rod was then run through the pipes, but it did not clear them. Mr. Gavett finally decided to open up North and Park avenues at certain points. An excavation was made near the Kensington Hotel, at the point of the beginning of the trouble, at Park and North avenues and Park avenue and Second street. A gang of men worked until nearly midnight Saturday and yesterday until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, when all trouble was removed.

Users of independent gas machines wherein carbide of calcium is the active principle for light will no doubt be prevented from throwing this stuff in the sewer, and the councilmanic street committee will probably take some action in the matter soon.

The subject was discussed at the meeting of the Board of Trade last week and it was then stated by a member that he expected to hear of trouble from the use of the acetelyne gas machines where refuse was thrown in the sewer.

J. A. Staats, proprietor of the Hotel Kensington, who uses an independent system and who has been throwing the carbide of calcium in the sewer which caused the present trouble, has been notified by Mr. Gavett to discontinue the practice.

Rasores Club Meets.

The Rasores Club will meet tomorrow morning with Mrs. H. E. Bowen, Watchung avenue. The subject will be "Talks in a Library."

LAW-MILL'S LAST DAYS

Legislature Will Wind Up Its Business Probably By Thursday.

FEW BILLS REMAIN

Wheels Will Move Rapidly During Next Few Days—What Remains to Be Done.

Despite the fact that many people think the Legislature cannot close up its business by Thursday of this week, the session will likely end on Thursday at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

To do this the legislators will have to buckle down to hard work and the usual automobile ride of some members to Princeton for luncheon and return while the house waits an hour and a half for their return will have to be abandoned.

Mr. Perkins pledged the Essex members last Wednesday afternoon that bills would not be rushed through this week under suspension of all rules and he says that he made the promise in good faith. This means that everybody will have to give up their pleasure for the next four days and buckle down to the hardest kind of work.

The automobile bill has not passed the house and when it is taken up the amendments likely to be adopted will send the measure back to the senate, where it had so stormy a time. However, the senators are anxious to get away and it is believed they will vote for any amendments which the house makes.

The bishops' bills regulating the liquor traffic, have to come before the house and it is likely that there will be somewhat of a circus over them. While the house does not favor high license, that hearing given on these measures interested the members and had the bills been in the house, it is likely that they would have passed, as the bishops wanted them to go on the statute books. However, this is the last week and nobody is likely to obstruct final adjournment by bushwhacking.

On the question of equal taxation there is much to be done yet. There is the Hillery bill defining main stem, which means that there will be more second class railroad property than ever before, the Hillery amendment to the Hillery maximum tax rate law and the Avis bill creating county boards of equalization of taxes. All of these measures are in the hands of the house committee on judiciary, and, as many hearings have been given the bills, it is expected that they will all be reported this evening or at least tomorrow morning.

Governor Stokes is deeply interested in the assembly redistricting bill which the house defeated last week to the surprise of the leaders. It is very likely trat the measure will be taken up this week and passed by both houses. If the bill is not passed it will, in the opinion of some, hasten the day of a constitutional convention, in which case the representation of the larger counties in the Legislature would be increased.

Outside of these things, and possibly the renewed fight on the bills allowing municipal ownership passed in the senate last Thursday, there are no measures requiring any fighting, unless the Colby people take it in their head to filibuster against the holding in committee of the measures amending the primary election law and for the voice of the people in the election of United States senators.

Of course there are many important bills, the corrupt practices acts for instance but most of the measures have a local point and will not produce much debate. It is likely that the wheels of the Legislature will move rapidly this week, now that automobile rides are cut out at recess.

Lenten Musical at First Baptist.

A special musical service will be held at the First Baptist church Thursday night by the choir, under the direction of E. J. Fitzhugh and Howard M. Case, organist. The "Seven Last Words," by Theo Dubois, will be rendered, together with other appropriate selections. The Schill Quartette, of Newark, and a harp soloist, will assist the choir. The service will be free to all.

New Junior Council to Meet.

The charter members of the new Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., to be known as Plainfield Council, have issued invitations for a special meeting and smoker to be held at Junior Hall, West Front street, tonight at 8 o'clock. State Secretary William H. Miers, of Trenton, and State Treasurer J. Morgan Reed will be present to address the meeting. Admission will be by card only.

Wife Had Him Arrested.

John Stevens was arrested yesterday on complaint of his wife, who charged him with disorderly conduct. Mrs. Stevens asked Judge Runyon to postpone the case this morning so she could hire a lawyer to arrange her case, and the magistrate put the hearing off to Wednesday. Stevens has retained Walter L. Hetfield, Sr.

RUNYON JOINS COLBY

remedial measures which are uppermost in the popular mind, but has failed to act upon other measures, equally worthy, which have not gained such widespread attention."

If, said Mr. Colby, the railroads allowed one bill to go through, they used this as leverage to crush other measures inimical to their interests.

The movement, as started in Essex county, was related by him at some length. He learned at Trenton, when first elected to the Legislature, he said, how the people were cut out in framing the laws and running the State. The party, he declared, has absolutely nothing to say as to the making of laws or carrying on the work of government. "I found that it was all done on the back stairs," he said. A few men representing the big corporations in the State get together and they decide what they want, and get it. They put the money into the local campaigns and always see that the political machines in the various counties and cities are well supplied with cash. In return for putting up the money to run the campaign the corporations get what legislation they want and prevent the passage of any measure harmful to their interests. It matters not whether the local machine is Republican or Democratic; all they ask is that the ring stands in with the corporations.

In telling how legislation is stifled at Trenton, the Senator said that it was necessary for him to introduce a resolution instead of a bill when he wanted to put the members of the Legislature on record against free franchises. A few days after it was introduced, he declared that he was called into the office of an Essex county boss and told that the P. S. C. would not let the resolution go through in its original shape, and although the entire body of legislators had pledged their favor to the resolution, at the next meeting it was turned down and an alleged P. S. C. resolution substituted.

Senator Colby reviewed the efforts made by him and his friends for limited franchises and for equal taxation, bringing out some startling facts and figures. He also told of the new primary law and how it hurts the machinations of political ringsters.

In referring to the bill introduced by him for popular election of United States Senators, Mr. Colby exposed how the committee chairmen kill measures which they do not favor by refusing to report them. He declared that the chairman of the committee having that bill in charge had told him point blank that he "did not propose to report that bill." As a result the measure can not be brought up for consideration before the present Legislature. Bills are even stolen from members' desks, according to Mr. Colby, who related one significant instance which happened but a few days ago.

In concluding his speech, the Senator urged the men of Union county to concentrate their efforts in choosing Assemblymen. "Civic liberty is worth fighting for," he added.

George L. Record, of Jersey City, followed Mr. Colby. He told of the political conditions in New Jersey's second city and how it was in the grip of gigantic corporations when the people arose and elected Mark Fagan, the apostle of reform in the State, to the mayoralty. He scored the Pennsylvania Railroad principally and incidentally the street railroad monopoly in his own city.

Fagan, he said, was treated as an outcast at Trenton and friends of good government throughout the State are looked upon as representing everything that is bad. Like Mr. Colby, he urged friends of the movement to set right to work and pick out good material for the Assembly from Union county and to work from now on for their election.

Judge Runyon was given a fine ovation when he arose to speak in response to an invitation from Chairman Jones. He said in part:

"As one who has been an organization man for ten years, I feel that it is a good thing for all of us to have been here. While most of us in a general way have realized that corporations were the dominant influence in our Legislature, until now it has never been brought home to us in such concrete shape to what extent the corporations will go to attain their ends.

"I believe that this gathering tonight is one of great possibilities and that if a generous service is accorded by every one to the cause, Union county at least will this fall do its share toward the purification of the State.

"The coming campaign is one which will demand of every one interested in this movement personal sacrifice, but no great principle is ever attained without sacrifice.

"It will need more than an ordinary amount of conscientious work to push it through, and will need men, not only with capacity for work, but with the quality of stick-to-itiveness to win any kind of success."

"I am heart and soul in this movement. In so far as I can be of any service, even though it be in a small way, I pledge my best efforts."

After some informal discussion it was decided to hold a larger meeting on April 28. Chairman Jones was authorized to appoint a committee of five to arrange the details.

A GREAT SONG FESTIVAL

Eltborate Preparations For the Saengerfest to Held in Newark.

MONSTER CHORUSES

Gesang and Turn Verein of North Plainfield to Participate—High Quality of Work Expected.

Arrangements for the Saengerfest of the Northeastern Saengerbund, to be held in Newark next summer, are progressing favorably. It is believed the attendance will equal, if not eclipse, that at any previous similar event in this country, and assurance has been received that all of the societies composing the organization will sing with larger choruses than ever before.

The victory of Julius Lorenz, leader of the Arion Singing Society, of Newark, in the contest for the prize offered for the music for the Emperor's prize song, is particularly gratifying not only to him and his friends, but to all who have the interest of the Saengerfest at heart, because he is to have the direction of the entire musical programme during the festival. The compositions were passed upon by a committee consisting of Victor Herbert, Arthur Mees and Max Spicker, all men of world wide reputation in music. Under the conditions of the contest they awarded the prize without knowing the names of any of the composers. About 150 competed. Mr. Lorenz has been the recipient of many congratulations since the result became known.

The lyric for the Emperor's prize song is also selected in open competition. For this Saengerfest the judges were Emil Wenzel, editor of the New Jersey Freie Zeitung; Dr. Carl Kayser and Robert Metzger, of Newark. he fortunate lyrist is Robert Schmidt, a teacher in the public schools of Berlin, Germany. His poem is entitled "Hans and Grete."

The executive committee of the United Singers, in charge of the general arrangements for the Saengerfest, consists of the president of the organization, August Goertz; the first vice-pfesident, C. W. Hellman; the second vice-president, Oscar Thun; the secretary, John Goehring. This committee chose Mr. Lorenz as leader.

In quality of work, as well as in numbers participating, it is expected the coming Saengerfest will be especially notable. At the big concerts there will be choruses of about 6,000 singers. Among the soloists thus far engaged is Mme. Schumann-Heinck, who makes a journey to this country from Europe especially to appear at the Saengerfest. She comes direct from Bayreuth, after taking part in the Wagner festival, and after her engagement here will leave for Munich. Other soloists will be Campanari, the baritone who has been singing in grand opera at the Metropolitan Opera House during the last season, and Maud Powell, a violinist of international reputation.

One of the features will be the orchestral part of the programme, which will be in the hands of 120 musicians from the Philharmonic Society of New York. The festival will open with the arrival of the city's guests on Saturday, June 30, and will close on the following Thursday, July 5. On Sunday afternoon a reception concert will be given by the United Singers in Olympic Park, and on Monday and Tuesday nights there will be concerts at the First Regiment Armory. It is expected the one to be given there on the eve of Fourth of July will be attended by the Governor, the German ambassador, the Mayor and other civic notables.

On Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock there will be a concert in the armory, in which about five thousand school children will take part, under the direction of Miss Westwood, supervisor of musical instruction in the Newark public schools. On Monday and Tuesday afternoons there will be prize singing by city unions and societies, the unions to be divided into two classes and the societies into three.

The competition for the Emperor's prize, one of the most interesting events of the festival, will be held at 10 o'clock on the morning of the Fourth. The societies which will enter are the Jungermaennerchor, of Philadelphia, the present holder of the trophy; Arion and Germania Societies, of Newark; Franz Schubert Singing Society, of New York; Kreutzer Quartet Club, of New York, and Concordia Singing Society, of Wilkes-Barre, Pa. The prize becomes the permanent possession of the society which wins it three times consecutively. It has been competed for twice.

Such of the Fourth as is not taken up with the prize competition will be observed as a volksfest, in honor of the national holiday.

To accommodate the great crowds that are expected the hall and other structures at Olympic Park will be rebuilt, and at the armory stages that will comfortably hold the massed choruses will be constructed. States that will be represented in the prize and concert singing are New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Delaware, Maryland, Connecticut, Rhode Island and Kentucky. The national capital will also send singers to compete.

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

George F. Brown, of Somerset street, deals only in first class real estate. Consult his list.

Don't let the coal strike worry you while V. W. Nash, Sr., of Park avenue, is selling anthracite.

John A. Koch, the Watchung avenue butcher, would like to serve you with high grade meats, both fresh and salt.

Go to J. W. Van Sickle, of North avenue, for choice cuts of meat and the finest poultry. Only the best in the market.

E. B. Maynard's barber shop on North avenue is up-to-date in every respect and first class work is the reputation established.

Tonsorial luxury marks the shop of William B. Randolph, Watchung avenue. He will give you a shave or haircut of the finest sort.

H. W. Marshall, the East Front street laundryman, always takes good care of your clothes. Special attention is given to the washing and ironing.

The housewives who buy their meat at the Grandview Market, Somerset street, are always pleased. They get the best at the most reasonable prices.

There is no greater smoke enjoyment than the solid Havana cigars made by M. C. Dobbins, Park avenue. Pure tobaccos. The old reliable Yara is still a favorite.

ODD AND INTERESTING.

One peculiarity of the Transvaal climate is that, while being very healthy, it yet has the effect of making people appear far older than they really are. The rarefied air is popularly supposed to be responsible for this.

More than 800 bob whites recently came all the way from Kansas to Baltimore with the loss of a single bird. The shipment was made in response to a demand for birds for distribution in Baltimore county. Each crate contained 180 birds.

Jewsharps are made principally in Boccorio, the seat of the industry since the sixteenth century. A good workman can make seven dozen in a day, and, simple as the little instruments are, no fewer than twenty tools are employed in their manufacture.

It is stated that the best managers, pattern designers and dyers in the Lancashire cotton mills, tempted by high wages, are going out to India and Japan to take charge of mills there. Great quantities of textile machinery are also being exported.

A Paris flat owner has hit upon an idea which is popular with his tenants. On the door of every apartment is a number, and on the first of each month the landlord draws a lottery, and the occupant of the flat the number of which proves to be the winning one pays no rent.

A German student finds one of the causes of the inability of the Russian railroads to handle their traffic is the antiquity of their locomotives. The number of these seems in tolerable proportion to the traffic, for out of 14,326 locomotives no less than 6,919 are from twenty-four to twenty-six years old.

PERSONAL NOTES.

Maxim Gorky, the author, will shortly start for America. He is at present in Switzerland.

More than $11,000 has already been contributed in Boston to the fund for the purchase of the old Paul Revere homestead.

With a view of entering business in California, Captain J. J. McCardy, auditor for the United States Postoffice Department, has resigned, to take effect May 1.

Secretary Taft will deliver an address before the Tuskegee Institute, Alabama, next Wednesday, the occasion being a celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the institution.

Captain Henry Adams, in his tenton sloop Spray, in which he is making a tour of the world, has arrived at Georgetown He left Boston three years ago and since then has been to nearly every corner of the world in the little vessel.

Prof. Frederick Starr, the famous anthropologist of the University of Chicago, who sailed for Africa on September 23 last, and about whose safety there was much anxiety, has been heard from from the town of Udombe, in King Leopold's African possessions.

Among the signatures to the Declaration of Independence will be found that of John Witherspoon. The biography of this statesman, educator and theologian, who is claimed to be the real founder of Princeton College, has just been issued by his great-grandson, David Walker Woods, Jr.

Dr. Clifton F. Hodge, head of the biological department of Clark University, has started a movement that has for its end the establishment of a farm in the vicinity of Worcester, Mass., where an exhaustive study of birds and insects may be made for the purpose of ridding the State of insect pests by the propagation of their natural enemies—the game birds.

Regarding Wine and Men.

"Some men are like wine, they improve with age."

"Yes, but the likeness must be perfect."

"How do you mean?"

"Well, no wine can improve with age that is drunk too often."

UNHAPPINESS DISPELLED.

Men and Women Unanimous About It.

Many women weep and wail and refuse to be comforted because their once magnificent tresses have become thin and faded. Many men incline to profanity because the flies bite through the thin thatch on their craniums. It will be good news to the miserable of both sexes, to learn that Newbro's Herpicide has been placed upon the market. This is the new scalp germicide and antiseptic that acts by destroying the germ or microbe that is the underlying cause of all hair destruction. Herpicide is a new preparation, made after a new formula on an entirely new principle. Anyone who has tried it will testify as to its worth. Try it yourself and be convinced. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

CLIPPINGS OF CURRENT COMMENT.

In starting the use of railroad smoking cars for women, England has reached a stage of civilization a trifle too advanced for this country.—Cleveland Leader.

It's just this way: As individuals, the packers are immune, but as corporations they are in for it. Clear as daylight—and yet what is going to become of the individuals when the corporations are packed off to the penitentiary?—Newark Evening News.

The suggestion that courts issue no temporary restraining orders in rate litigation until both sides to the controversy have been given a hearing is one some people think might generally be applied with little danger of injuring the real interests of the litigants.—Omaha Bee (Rep.).

J. G. Phelps Stokes, the rich young reformer, says the evils we suffer can and should be cured. Will Mr. Stokes kindly forward an opinion as to the amount a violator of the anti-smoke ordinance should be fined after he has been sued for about the seventeenth time?—Chicago Record-Herald.

Judge Humphrey, of Chicago, has followed the President's decision in the Santa Fe case, that the corporation and not the individual is to be punished for rebates and violations of the anti-trust law. Chicago may proceed at once to build some jails large enough to hold a few packing houses.—Washington Post.

Our esteemed contemporary, the Brooklyn Eagle, has made a great discovery. It suggests that some inventor turn the Brooklyn Bridge stairs into a treadmill and store the power for industrial purposes. The only weakness in the proposition is that it would be impossible to accumulate and store the accompanying profanity.—Philadelphia Press.

RICHARD BURBAGE.

He Was a Great Actor and Shakespeare's Leading Star.

The first of the great English tragic actors, Burbage was in every way worthy to head the long roll of England's famous players. The son of an actor, the friend and compassion of Shakespeare, it was through him that many of the heroes of the dramatist first spoke to the eager playgoers who thronged the Globe theatre. He was the original of Romeo, Hamlet, Lear, Othello, Macbeth, Shylock, Richard III. and many other of Shakespeare's leading characters, and his name stands next to that of the great poet in the licenses for acting granted by James I. in 1603 to the company of the Globe theatre.

His powers as an actor were not his only claim to distinction, for he was also a successful painter. The fame of his abilities held a prominent place in theatrical tradition for many years, a poem in his honor, dedicated to one of the great players of the day, being written as late as the time of Charles II.

His death, which was probably the result of paralysis, caused the poets to turn their thoughts to his successful career, and it is from the numerous elegies then written that most of the information concerning him must be gathered. Few players have ever had the good fortune to be so well liked by the dramatists of their time, and all praised him, one even lamenting that his death "hath made a visible eclipse of playing."

A shrewd, careful man in his business affairs, Burbage left an estate producing a yearly income of £300, a large sum for a player in those days to bequeath to his heirs. Beloved and respected by all, he survived his great master by only a few years, his grave bearing the simple, expressive epitaph, "Exit Burbage."—London Saturday Review.

Advice from a Neighbor.

Mrs. Nexdore—My daughter's piano is so scratched I'll have to get some furniture polish for it.

Mrs. Pepprey—Kerosene oil would be best for it.

Mrs. Nexdore—To remove the scratches?

Mrs. Pepprey—Yes. Saturate the piano with the kerosene and touch a parlor match to it.

His Case Exactly.

"By the way, John," began Mrs. Dresser, "I saw a milliner's sign today that reminded me—"

"Funny," her husband interrupted, quickly. "I saw a sign in a shop window today that reminded me of myself."

"Of yourself?"

"Yes. It simply said: 'Reduced to 98c.'"

But Not to Pay Back.

"I see Graphter has bought an automobile. I didn't think he had sufficient means to do that."

"O! he has all sorts of means of borrowing money and just as many means of spending it."

Didn't Expect That.

"No," said Brokeleigh, "I don't know what time it is."

"Isn't your watch running?"

"I don't think so. I could hardly expect the pawnbroker to keep it wound up."

The Servant's Song.

"Ye my break, ye may shatter
The vase"—that's because
It doesn't much matter
Unless it's a "vaws."

SQUIRE COLLINS ASKS FARMERS TO A PICNIC.

Agriculturists Invited to Day's Outing in Westfield Township.

The farmers of Union county took advantage of the fine spring weather Thursday to prepare the soil for the reception of seed, and this was the reason there was such a small attendance of members at the meeting of the Board of Agriculture at Elizabeth.

The farmers had nothing but good words in commendation of Governor Stokes, who, they united in saying, with the exception of former Governor Newell, a Monmouth county man, had given more attention in messages in the interest of farmers than any governor who had ever been chosen.

The members are yet hoping that legislation may be enacted compelling less speed for autos. They are also looking hopefully to the time when a parcels post, similar to the system in Germany, England and other countries, shall be established in this country.

The invitation of Justice Collins to hold a picnic in Westfield township in June, was briefly discussed, but owing to the absence of the justice no action was taken, but the farmers will probably accept the invitation.

NEARLY ENDS IN FIST FIGHT.

Hoboken, April 9.—The meeting of the Board of Education Thursday night nearly terminated in a free-for-all fight. The trouble started over a motion, made by Commissioner Butler, to allow Business Manager Arthur Clayton to assist Architect Ciccarelli in the plans of the new grammar school. The architect declared at the meeting that he would not allow anybody to interfere with his plans. The motion was vigorously opposed by President Russ, but the motion finally prevailed by a vote of 8 to 3. After the vote was taken President Russ criticized the action of Commissioners Butler, Daab, Ford, Lankering and O'Neill, who supported the motion. He declared to these men that they were owned body and soul by Clayton. This started the trouble and brought Commissioner Daab to his feet, and he, it is asserted, called Russ a liar. At the same time the other four commissioners, who were intensely excited, were surrounding Russ.

The meeting came to an abrupt ending, some of the members going across the street to a drug store to talk the matter over. With the party was Architect Ciccarelli. The excitement unnerved him, which resulted in his collapse after he entered the store. It was thought at first that he was dead, and two physicians were summoned. After working over the prostrate man for an hour he was revived sufficiently to be taken to his home.

Governor to Address Women.

Orange, April 9.—Announcements were sent out yesterday of the annual civic dinner of the Oranges at the new home of Women's Club of Orange, on the night of April 23. Senator Everett Colby will act as toastmaster. William B. Lloyd and William B. Harris, retired Citizens' Union members of the East Orange City Council during the years 1904 and 1905, will be guests of honor. The speakers will be Governor Edward C. Stokes, of New Jersey; Mrs. Frederick Nathan, president of the Consumers' League of New York; Corporation Counsel George L. Record, of Jersey City; John Moody, president of the new State Democratic organization of New Jersey; Mrs. Philip Carpenter, president of the New York State Federation of Women's Clubs; Frank H. Sommer, sheriff of Essex county, and Mark M. Fagan, Mayor of Jersey City.

Hoboken Riding Club.

The colsing ride of the Hoboken Riding Academy was held Thursday evening at Hexamer's Academy, on Hudson street. The programme included a quadrille walk and trot by members of the club, with Henry Brueninger as commander; a tandem ride executed by Messrs. Gressard, Otten, Stein and Magnus, members of the club; a quadrille gallop and hurdle leaping. The reception committee was composed of Edwin Koch, George Hoffmann, August Junge, Robert Rath, Charles Feustel, Charles F. Harms, Philip Richter, John Stasse, Charles Polch, William Meyer, Herman Hoppe and Jacob Dillinger.

No Relief for Customers.

Vice Chancellor Stevenson Saturday refused to grant the petition of Joseph Cuparo, a barber, of Jersey City, to restrain the Bay Manufacturing Company and the Williams Farrant Company from carrying on a blacksmith business next door to Cuparo's barber shop, on the ground that because of the noise and vibration the customers in the barber shop were annoyed, the complainant was unable to study and his brother to take lessons on the violin. The court decided that there was no evidence to show that there had been any loss of business to the barber.

Mind Reader Boy Found.

Trenton, April 9.—George P. Nutt, twelve years old, son of William M. Nutt, one of the best known politicians of Trenton, was returned to his home yesterday after being mysteriously absent since Wednesday, when he ran away because his average at school was lower than he had hoped to obtain. His parents learned that the lad was in Asbury Park by consulting a mind reader.

MRS. APPLEGATE WELL AGAIN!

"I have had a bruised leg and foot for several years, caused by the brass eyelets of my shoe, which became very sore and painful especially at night. It itched, burned and ached me till it nearly set me crazy. I used everything I found and was suggested to ease it and nothing gave me any relief till I found and applied Azienza Cream which I think is a wonderful remedy for all sores and inflammation of the skin. The hard knots on my legs were as painful as bee stings, with discolored and purple spots. A running sore on my instep size of a half-dollar; the top of my foot a seething sore clean around to my heel. The bone was sore for a whole year and very painful. I used five and one-half jars of Azienza Cream and healed the sore all up. The foot remained tender and I continued to use to strengthen and toughen the skin until now it is entirely well." (Signed) Mrs. Hannah Applegate, Evergreen Ave., Avon, N. J., Sept. 3rd, 1905. 50 cents. Ask the druggist or by mail. Azienza Specialties Co., Jersey City, N. J.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

True gallantry and heroism under very grim conditions are often demonstrated by newsboys in our big cities. Their lives are so often crowded with adventure and their struggle for existence is so great that they have no time to feel just how tense and grim their life really is. Buoyancy and determination is their stock in trade. Anything less would lead to despair and despair to absolute starvation. That the typical New York newsboy is possessed of dauntless courage as well as of boyish trickery is forcefully shown in a series of moving pictures included in Lyman H. Howe's new Lifeorama to be seen in the New Plainfield theatre tonight.

"The Old Homestead" is a perfect transcript of life. Its characters are real people, whose troubles and joys are real as are their comedy and pathos which invariably beget laughter and tears. The company this season is practically the same as that of last year, including the famous double quartette, which will be heard in the old favorites and also in some new and effective numbers. The production from a scenic point of view, will be elaborate and characteristic. It will be at the New Plainfield theatre next Saturday afternoon and night.

With the announcement of the coming engagement at the New Plainfield theatre Wednesday night, April 18, of the melodrama, "A Ragged Hero," theatregoers of this city are promised something more gorgeous scenically and something absolutely novel in the line of high class melodramatic production.

Kyrle Bellew comes to the New Plainfield theatre a week from Friday night with "Raffles, the Amateur Cracksman." The public has become familiar with the stories dealing with the mysterious robberies of the amateur cracksman which baffled all detection and stirred all society—that is fiction society—as no other thing that London has ever known. These strange crimes form a splendid subject for a vivid melodrama, and in the leading character Mr. Bellew gives a delightful impersonation. It is a study from life that is practically faultless, being self-contained, alert and dramatic.

"The Prince of Pilsen," the popular musical comedy, by Frank Pixley and Gustav Luders, and one which enjoys a greater degree of favor than pertains to the general run of this style of performance, will be the attraction at the New Plainfield theatre on Tuesday night, April 17. Its tenure of favor has carried it through four seasons which have been uniformly successful. In any comparative analysis of the elements which give success to musical comedy "The Prince of Pilsen" will be found to possess a combination as rare as it is welcome—a wholly delightful musical setting joined to a genuinely humorous story placed in an atmosphere of romance and poesy. Manager Henry W. Savage has kept the company in its principal membership largely the same during its career. Arthur Donaldson, Iva Anderson and Ruth Peebles, of the present cast, were in the original performance. Jess Dandy still plays the part of the Cincinnati alderman whose vacation trip to Nice provides the humorous incidents around which the story is built. Ida Stanhope, who played the role of the widow in the London production of this play, will enact that character in the announced engagement. Marie Welsh, Marguerite Ferguson, Pauline Huntley, Jeannette Drusse, James E. Rome, J. Hayden-Clarendon and Peter Swift are others named for the principal roles. The chorus, as pictured, possesses an exceptional measure of pulchritude, and the material equipment of settings and costumes bears the handicraft of the Savage work rooms.

Time for More.

"I'm out o' work, sir," began the absent-minded beggar, "an' the rent's due, I'm tryin' to raise $1.50 an'—"

"See here!" said Goddart, "you're a fraud. I gave you a dollar last week."

"Well, that was last week. You've earned some more money since, ain't yer?"

Hard to Divide.

"I'd just like to know how it feels to have so much money you don't know what to do with it."

"I was that way once."

"Oh, come off!"

"Fact. I only had so much and my creditors were demanding as much again."

Devoutly to Be Wished.

"Wake up, John!" she cried in the dead of night, "there's a burglar in the house. I just heard him in the dining-room."

"Good!" John replied, sleepily, "perhaps, if we don't disturb him, he'll take away that chafing dish of yours."

Love's Answer.

"And hast thou ever loved before?"
He asked, "I pray thee, speak!"
She blushed. Her sweet eyes sought the floor.
She answered: "Not this week."

Miss Edith Andrews, of Grove street, is out after two weeks' detention at home by illness.

Mrs. W. J. Mehary, of Philadelphia, has been spending the past few days with her sister, Mrs. W. J. Counihan, of Spooner avenue.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

The members of the Jersey City baseball team, who have been practicing on Crescent Oval, took most of their relaxation last week at the New Plainfield. They were on hand nearly every night and thoroughly enjoyed the performances.

Kyrle Bellew, who is to come to this city next week, appeared as "Raffles" for the seventh hundred time last Saturday night. The performance was given at the Grand Opera House, Cincinnati, and in honor of the event the members of his company presented him with a silver loving cup.

Tickets for "The Old Homestead" are selling like the proverbial "hot cakes." Local playgoers have seen it time and again but they never seem to tire of it and appearances indicate big houses both matinee and night. The farm hands' quartette, which has always been a feature of the play, is said to be better this year than ever before.

The cast of "The Prince of Pilsen," which comes to the New Plainfield a week from tomorrow night, will include three members of the original company at the Broadway theatre, New York, four years ago. They are Ruth Peebles, Arthur Donaldson and Ivar Anderson. The part of "Hans Wagner," the German brewer who wants to know if you "have efer been in Zinzinnati," is in the hands of Jess Dandy, one of the best dialect comedians on the American stage.

The theatrical papers are at present devoting much space to discussing Miss Florence Roberts, leading woman of the "Strength of the Weak" company, booked for appearance here one week from tonight. Last week's issue of the Billboard had her latest picture on its title page and also detailed her career in another part. She is better known in the Pacific coast region that she is in the East, although she has traveled from one end of the country to the other. She was in Plainfield some years ago as leading woman for Lewis Morrison in "Faust."

Young Color Bearer.

E. Gordon, an engineer on the Jersey Central, attended the reunion of the Second N. J. Brigade today at Jersey City. He was color sergeant of the Eighth N. J. Veteran Vols. in the last campaign from Petersburg to Appomattox, and had the honor of being the first with the colors in the capture of the line on the left of Petersburg on the morning of April 2, 1865. The Second Brigade was in the Second Corps and was the last to leave Virginia at the end of the war. Sergeant Gordon was in charge of his company at the muster out and was not twenty-one years of age, having enlisted in 1861, and was not seventeen years of age at the time, and served with the Eighth N. J. Vols. for the four years.

AUTOMOBILE NOTES.

Members of the Long Island Automobile Club are to attend a performance of the Vanderbilt Cup at the Broadway theatre on Friday evening, April 20. A large delegation is already assured.

The automobile races to be held on the beach at Atlantic City on the 25th, 26th and 27th insts., promises to bring together the greatest aggregation of automobilists ever seen at a race meet. Entries close on the 17th inst., with Alfred Reeves, racing secretary, 29 West 42d street, New York.

While it is true that Chrome Nickel Steel is very expensive, yet the American manufactures, realizing that an automobile cannot be too well built, has been as keen as the foreign builder in realizing that only by the use of the best material obtainable could his reputation be firmly established. These manufacturers will be pleased to name to him the automobile builders who are making use of these high-class materials. It should be a matter of pride to the average American to know that the American manufacturers are at least equal, and in many respects in advance of those abroad, particularly as regards some points upon which Europeans are most prone to claim superiority.

Automobilists Retaliating.

Trenton, N. J.—A measure that appears to be a retaliatory bill against horse owners, on account of the drastic Frelinghuysen automobile bill, was introduced in the New Jersey General Assembly last week by Mr. Perkins, of the Judiciary Committee, which has charge of the automobile bill in the House. This bill provides that two lamps, one on either side, shall be used on all vehicles on public highways from one hour after sunset to one hour before sunrise. It is understood that this is the first of a series of retaliatory measures that will be urged upon the Legislature should the Frelinghuysen bill be pressed through in an unamended form. Senator Frelinghuysen has prepared a new substitute bill, striking out many of the radical features of the old measure, and which is said to be acceptable to autoists.

Fine Display of Spring Flowers.

Charles L. Stanley, the North avenue Florist, has a most attractive display of flowers for Eastertide; just the thing for church and private decorations, also weddings and social functions of any kind. His two stores on North avenue are filled with Easter lilies, palms, ferns, potted plants and growing flowers. Among the favorites being shown are jonquils, narcussus and tulips. Mr. Stanley receives orders for all kinds of decorations and his work in the past is a guarantee of satisfaction in this work.

Special Musical Service.

Under the direction of J. Edmund Skiff, organist, the vested choir of the First M. E. church gave a special musical service last night. Miss Geisswein sang a solo and the choir sang five numbers. Rev. Dr. George H. Whitney was in charge of the service, reading the Scriptures and offering prayer at the beginning and close and pronouncing the benediction.

Dunellenite in the Toils.

George Cooper, of Dunellen, employed by a local truckman, got drunk and disorderly in the borough Saturday night and was arrested by Marshal Dooley. He was unable to give bail and has since been held, awaiting appearance before Mayor Smalley tonight.

Men's Meeting at Hope.

Rines Brothers, the Canadian evangelists who have started a gospel campaign here under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., will hold a men's meeting at Hope chapel tonight. The meeting will be under the direction of the association.

Death of Mrs. John McGinley.

DIAMOND DUST.

And still they come. Not cherry blossoms, but players.

"Doc" Anderson, who prescribes baseball diet for the readers of the Elizabeth Evening Times, exuded the following spasm one day last week; "Hoboken is not as strong this season as formerly, according to Manager Burke, who witnessed the game last Sunday."

Manager Daab's attention was called to the article and he lost no time in putting forth his opinions to the contrary. He believes Manager Burke is laboring under some mental delusion and to show his confidence in the ability of his aggregation of ball tossers he authorizes the sporting editor of The Daily Press to state that he is willing to bet Manager Burke $200 that the Plainfield bunch can defeat the Elizabeth Stars in a single game or series of games.

Manager Burke thought the same way last season until his band was soundly trounced one day on Crescent Oval to the tune of 14 to 3. After that he had very little to say for the rest of the year.

Money talks in all kinds of business. Manager Burke two weeks ago claimed that his team for this year would be able to clean up anything in Union county, Plainfield not excepted.

Now, if Mr. Burke believes what he says himself, it is up to the astute Elizabeth manager to get down to business and accept Manager Daab's defi. Manager Daab is willing to arrange a series with Elizabeth if Manager Burke can bring a strong team down here on Saturday. If Manager Burke desires to increase the amount, a few more dollars can readily be picked up and bunched with Manager Daab's 200 plunks.

Now Mister Burke, and all ye Elizabethtown cranks, if you want a championship series get together and arrange the games before the schedule is filled up and stop all howling.

Plainfield is in baseball for business this season and she intends to remain at the top of the baseball ladder not only in Union county but in the whole State. Manager Daab is also anxious to get a crack at the Ridgewoods should the Brooklynites pose as the Westfield team on Saturdays. Cranks will have the pleasure of seeing the fastest aggregations in the country starting on May 5 when the All Cubans will appear here for the opening attraction.

A word about the series with Somerville. The baseball scribe of the Somerville Democrat has evidently been asleep all winter. Last week he sprung a surprise on ball cranks of that village by making the thrilling announcement that The Daily Press had arranged a six game series between Plainfield and Somerville without him knowing anything about it. Wake up Brother, it is all a fact, and to add to your information bureau Manager Conklin started to negotiate for the series way back in January when he paid a visit to Hoboken to consult Manager Daab in relation to the games.

Further than this Manager Daab wrote to Mr. Conklin last week offering to bring the Plainfields to Somerville on the morning of Decoration Day.

So for the sake of sport wake up and agitate a series between the two towns and quit knocking. Don't lose your nerve before the season starts.

Baseball blood runs in the Shea family. Letter-carrier Daniel Shea, of this city, has a brother who expects to break in with the Toronto Club this season. He is a graduate of the Buffalo City League.

"Willie" Deegan will start getting into shape this week on Crescent Oval for the opening game in Hoboken next Sunday with the Jersey Citys. Deegan has completely recovered from the grip and declares he needs little, if any preliminary work.

In the signing of Bertwhistle, Manager Daab has secured a worthy substitute for Pete Cregan in left field. Bertwhistle is a slugger—better in fact that Cregan, while his fielding is on a par with the former Plainfielder. Bertwhistle was negotiating with two of three teams but after a few weeks' deliberation concluded to accept Manager Daab's offer.

"Red" Waller has made up his mind to be a good boy and go back to Papa O'Rourke at Bridgeport. Waller decided to take this course last week but this will not alter his arrangements to pitch for the Elizabeth Stars on Sundays.

Although the rain kept them from the grounds, the Jersey City ball nine did not pass the morning without profit. A reporter for The Daily Press told Secretary Harry Manning, of the Y. M. C. A., how the players were moping about the Iroquois Hotel with stiffening joints and muscles, and the secretary generously tendered the players the privileges of the gymnasium. The leather handlers jumped at the chance with joyous caroling, and streaked for the association on the run. They tortured the medicine ball and the basketball, did some handball stunts and a little casting of the globule, whereby useful juices were circulated about their joints and other helpful things took place within their works.

Capt. Bean was afraid his men would go back physically when he saw the weather they were up against early this morning, but the gymnasium interlude brought bright and cheerful smiles of relife to his face.

Jersey Citys' Ghost Keeper.

Treasurer Kinkeid, of the Jersey City Baseball Club, came to town yesterday to spend the day with the team at the Hotel Iroquois. He led a round table reminiscence session in the lounging room last night.

Funeral of Mrs. McCann.

The funeral of Mrs. Edward McCann was held at St. Mary's church this morning in the presence of a large gathering of friends. The mass was conducted by Father Bogan and interment followed in St. Mary's cemetery. The pall bearers were Patrick Muldoon, Edward Connors, T. Davenport, John Watson, Bernard Brady and Alex. McGuigan.

SERG'T MICHAEL LEONARD, CAPTAIN OF PLAINFIELD'S TEAM

Captain Michael Leonard, of the Hoboken team, has for seasons been recognized as the premier third sack artist in the semi-professional ranks. Leonard's playing is identical with his personality, clean, earnest and conscientious. For these traits Leonard is held in high esteem among managers and players, as well as the thousands of bleacher gods he has played before in his career. Mike started on his semi-professional career with the famous Ironside team that played at the old Shooting Park, now on the site of the Vailsburg race track. He played on this famous Newark team in 1893 and 1894. His brilliant work attracted the attention of the management of the Oritana Field Club, of Hackensack, which association at that time was represented by one of the strongest teams in the East. Leonard played with the Oritanas until he signed with the Orange A. C. His experience, coupled with his knowledge of the game, made him a valuable man, and while there he captained the team. In 1898 he did not play ball.

That was the period of the Spanish-American War. When President McKinley called for volunteers Mike's Irish blood stirred in unison with the throbs of patriotism in his heart and he enlisted for two years with the First Regiment, New Jersey Volunteers. He was made a sergeant of his company and was honorably discharged in September. During the war the New Jersey troops were stationed on the outskirts of Washington.

The following year Leonard went back to the Orange team and remained with that club until 1904, when he was signed by Manager Daab. Last season he played at Plainfield, and is one of the favorites among the fans of that city.

In connection with his war experience Mr. Leonard relates an unusual incident with Uncle Sam, in which he tried to be honest and as a result he was mulcted out of a month's pay, amounting to $21.60, through the dishonest of an officer. When Mike was discharged the government overpaid him a month's salary. Mike left the company before it disbanded at Sea Girt, and was entitled to a month's pay for camp duty despite the fact that he did not go there, as the other members of the company received pay for it. When Mike received two checks when he was discharged he wrote to the government officials stating his case, at the same time asking what he should do with the other check. He also asked for the pay that was due him for the extra month at Sea Girt.

The matter drifted along for years without any definite advices from Uncle Sam. Finally, a few months ago he received a letter from the army department telling him that a month's pay was due him and to cash the old check. Leonard presented his check at the bank, but he was told it was "N. G.," as the account had been closed. Then Mike started an investigation, in which he discovered that the money had been drawn by one of the officers of the regiment. What the outcome of the matter will be is hard to conjecture as Mike has written to his old commanding officer, giving him five days in which to settle up. If the money is not forthcoming Mike threatens to place the matter before the War Department.

PLAN FOR PARADE OF SUNDAY-SCHOOL CHILDREN APPROVED BY LOCAL MINISTERS

Union Demonstration of the Churches Following Custom in Brooklyn and Elsewhere.

WHAT CLERGYMEN SAY

Suggested That It Take Place On a Saturday on Sunday Afternoon in June—Bands Playing Religious Tunes.

If present plans materialize citizens of Plainfield will witness this year one of the most remarkable religious demonstrations in the history of the city, in the form of a Sunday school parade conducted on the same lines and plans as the annual parade of Sunday school children in Brooklyn, which event is one of the most important of annual happenings in the City of Churches, and which has become famous throughout the country in both civic and religious circles.

Plainfield has in the neighborhood of 5,000 Sunday school pupils who would no doubt participate in such an event if it were arranged. Religious workers of every denomination who have been approached on the scheme unanimously agree that such a demonstration would be productive of much good and result in making a lasting impression on the large number of non-churchgoers in Plainfield. One prominent church worker in this city is very enthusiastic over the idea and said yesterday that he thought the plan, if carried out, would prove a powerful agency for accomplishing a world of good in this city and directly benefit every church and congregation that participated in the event.

The idea of holding such a parade in Plainfield was broached to Rev. L. R. Howard, pastor of Hope chapel, late last fall. Mr. Howard was enthusiastic over the scheme and intimated that he would be willing to lend his assistance to the movement. Now that the matter has gained publicity it is likely that Sunday school workers will join heartily in efforts to bring the plans to a successful determination.

It has been suggested that the parade be held in June or July, on a Saturday afternoon. One of the suggestions has been that the event take place on the Sabbath, on a day to be designated as Children's Day by the different local churches. Others favor Saturday as the proper day for the event. However, these details will be settled at a later date. A conference of those interested in the movement will be called in a few weeks.

Several local pastors were asked for an opinion regarding the advisability of holding an annual parade of Sunday school children in the early spring or summer, and they seemed to favor it if conducted along right lines. These opinions were obtained:

Rev. A. C. McCrea, pastor of the First M. E. church—"It might be made a beautiful and attractive affair. It would mean plenty of work and to be a success all of the Sunday schools would have to join in the movement."

Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, pastor of the First Baptist church—"I have not given the matter any thought as yet. I would prefer to have a little more time to consider it."

Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, rector of Grace church—"I haven't given the matter any attention, but off-hand would say that it might be a good thing."

Rev. Dr. C. W. Parsons, pastor of Grace M. E. church—"I am heartily in favor of the idea. I was a pastor in Brooklyn at one time, and it is the plan to hold such a parade on the second Sunday in June, Children's Day. I see no reason why such an affair could not be made a success here if all the Sunday schools unite."

Rev. A. E. Finn, pastor of Park Avenue Baptist church—"I prefer to think more about the matter before expressing an opinion. However, I would suggest that you interview our superintendent, George E. Hall. While I cannot speak authoritatively for him, I believe he would favor it."

No Sympathy for Rempies.

John Rempies, old offender, was arraigned for helpless drunkenness in the city court this morning. Judge Runyon fined him $3 or ten days in jail. He said a friend would pay his fine, but when Officer Overbaugh went after it the friend told him Rempies would be better off in jail. The friend unfeelingly said that Mr. Rempies ought to get sixty days. He was committed.

BISHOP TRANSFERS REV. GEO. MOONEY

REV. A. C. M'CREA AND REV. DR. PARSONS ARE RETURNED TO PLAINFIELD.

Contrary to general expectations the least number of changes were made in the appointments by Bishop Hamilton at the closing session of the Newark Conference last night. It was after 11 o'clock when the appointments were read.

Only one change is made in this city, that of Rev. George Mooney, who goes from the Monroe Avenue M. E. church to South Orange. Mr. Mooney received a call from that congregation and it was expected that he would be sent there. His place at the Monroe Avenue church will be taken by Rev. E. E. Robeson, of Bound Brook.

Rev. A. C. McCrea was returned to the First M. E. church and Rev. Dr. C. W. Parsons will remain at Grace M. E. church another year.

Rev. Dr. J. M. Meeker, who was pastor of the Park Place church, East Orange, was made presiding elder of the Newark District in place of Rev. W. L. Hoagland, who takes Dr. Meeker's place. In many instances ministers were returned to their old charges for the ninth or tenth time, and so long as it was known that they are doing a good work and are in harmony with their people there was no disposition to make any changes.

Rev. Dr. Jesse Lyman Hurlbut, formerly of the First M. E. church, and who has been at South Orange, to which charge Rev. George Mooney has been sent, will be located at Bloomfield this year. Rev. S. K. Doolittle, of Dunellen, has been sent to the First M. E. church, Hackensack, and Rev. E. C. Deutcher, of Asbury church, Staten Island, goes to Dunellen. Rev. Perry Bascom, who has been at Flemington, goes to Bound Brook, succeeding Rev. E. E. Robeson, who has been sent to Monroe Avenue M. E. church, and Rev. C. S. Woodruff, of Bloomfield, goes to Flemington. Rev. Mr. Little, who has been at Hackensack, has been sent to Verona.

ACETYLENE, NOT SICHE SLUDGE CAUSED TROUBLE.

Siche Refuse is Run in Cesspools, Because It Is Marketable.

Street Commissioner Andrew J. Gavett has removed any possibility of further annoyance caused by the stoppage of the sewer system by the refuse of the acetylene gas machines in use about the city. The acetylene contrivance is sometimes confused with the Siche invention, although they are claimed to be about as much alike as the tallow dip and the incandescent light. The sludge from the acetylene was allowed to flow off in the sewer because it was not used as a by-product, while it is said that the sludge from the Siche machine is a marketable quantity. For that reason, the sludge is allowed to flow into a cesspool, which is really a storage place for it. Mr. Gavett says he knows of no instance where Siche sludge has been wasted by being thrown into sewers. ***

Driver's Narrow Escape.

A driver for Henry Voehl, the baker, had a narrow escape from severe injuries under the heels of a horse this morning at West Front street and Park avenue. The horse he was driving slipped on the car tracks and tumbled. The driver was jolted from his seat and fell ebtween the horse and the shafts, caught so he couldn't get away. A bystander jumped behind the horse and braced himself against its legs as the animal began to struggle, and saved the driver from a kicking that might have ended in fatal injuries. The driver was able to get out only after the horse was unharnessed and the wagon pulled back.

Passion Service.

At Grace Episcopal church this evening beginning at 8 o'clock, a devotional study on the closing days of Our Lord will be held. The peculiar nature of this service has always attracted and interested Christian people of all denominations. One impressive feature of the service is that pictures are largely responsible for the lecture. Very few comments are made from the pulpit. The rector has sixty or more stereopticon slides from pictures of the great masters, Hoffman, Dore, Dubuxe and others. The general public will be welcomed.

TROUBLE IN THE A.O.U.W.

Lodge Members' Scheme to Test Rule by Refusing to Pay an Assessment.

IS DUE THIS MONTH

Question Will Then Arise Whether Delinquent Member Can Be Dropped for Non-Payment of Dues.

The members of the Ancient Order United Workmen of this city and throughout the State are awaiting with considerable interest a test of the amendment to the constitution whereby an emergency fund is to be created. The amendment was passed by a very close vote, nearly one-half of those entitled to vote at the Grand Lodge meeting contending that the action of the State organization was not constitutional, and the others maintaining that it was.

The real test of the amendment will come on April 28, when the regular assessment is due. It is said that many members will force the issue to a final decision by refusing to pay the extra assessment of twenty-five cents on every $1,000 of insurance carried. Then the question will arise, can the lodge drop the member or declare him to be in arrears by his refusal to pay the assessment?

The refusal to pay the extra assessment will be based on the constitutionality of the Grand Lodge action, and if there is a general disinclination to pay then a decision will be expected from Grand Master Workman Fowle. It is possible that the matter may be taken to the Supreme Lodge for the final decision. Judging by the talk of several local members of the lodge, there will likely be a number here who will test the action by refusing to come up with the extra assessment.

The only differences existing among the members of the lodge here and elsewhere are confined to the constitutionality of the Grand Lodge action, otherwise there is perfect harmony. Those who oppose the Grand Lodge action are not against the establishment of a fund to meet the death rate, but they question the method of doing it.

One member, in speaking of the matter today, said that he realized that something would have to be done to meet the death rate, as has been done in other States, but he would like to see some other plan adopted.

An officer of a local lodge who supports the present plan insists that it meets the demands, that neither the old or young member is called upon to stand the entire increase, it being divided in an impartial manner between the two classes of membership. This member maintained that had the Royal Arcanum adopted a similar plan that order would have escaped much criticism.

In the minds of many it is a question whether the Grand Lodge can force the payment of the extra assessment, inasmuch as the legality of the action is in doubt. It is probable that for the benefit of all the members a decision will be hastened by the Grand Lodge, so as not to complicate matters.

Funeral of Miss Agnes V. Kenney.

The funeral services of Miss Agnes Veronica Kenney, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kenney, of East Fourth street, who died at Muhlenberg Hospital last Thursday night, following an operation, were held from St. Mary's church yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. Father Bogan celebrated solemn high mass. There was a large collection of floral tributes from relatives and friends. The interment was in St. Mary's cemetery and the pall bearers were William Rafferty, Leo Kenney, Michael Lyons, Thomas Monsell, Michael McCardell and James Conway.

Conference of Workmen.

Members of the local A. O. U. W. lodges who are opposed to the recent action of the Grand Lodge is establishing an emergency fund, have been invited to attend a conference to be held Saturday afternoon in the law offices of William Newcorn on West Front street. The purpose of the meeting is to discuss a plan of action. It is also expected that Grand Secretary Lippincott will attend and have something to say.

Republican Committee Meeting.

The City Executive Republican Committee will meet at the law offices of William Newcorn on Tuesday night, when it is expected that the list of additional members to be added to the committee will be presented for confirmation.

Easter Exercises on Good Friday.

Special exercises will be held at the Plainfield High School building Friday morning at 11:30 o'clock, when a programme of Easter selections will be presented by the pupils. All friends of the school will be welcome.

NEW COUNTY ROAD FOR OUR SOMERSET NEIGHBORS

FREEHOLDERS WILL AUTHORIZE LONG DESIRED IMPROVEMENT TODAY.

After years of agitation and waiting, apparently hopeless, North Plainfield appears to be on the eve of having her ambition for a county road connection with the back country realized. It is understood that the Board of Freeholders, at its meeting in Somerville this afternoon, will vote the construction of a broad, high grade roadway from the Sterling road to North Plainfield.

The roadway will be constructed from the head of Somerset street up through Watchung through the township to the Stirling road, giving the people of the whole county up-to-date road facilities into the borough. The new road will be of the finest construction, high and well drained.

There will be a lot of undisguised delight in Warren township and the places adjacent to North Plainfield if the road is built. The need for it has been felt by the farmers for years, and recently the Warren residents organized a road association with the persistent agitation for the construction of this road as its object. The road will not only be a great convenience for the back country residents, but it will serve to bring a lot of trade to North Plainfield and this city. For the farmers themselves it will open wider markets for their products and bring the advantages of city trading closer. Opposition from the Somerville section of the county, which is afraid it will lose some profitable trade through the proposed road, has served to block every attempt to get the freeholders to act hitherto, but the board seems to have waked to the fact that the county owed something to this end of the county besides the regular call of the tax collector.

CO. K PARTICIPATES IN REGIMENTAL DRILL.

Complimented by Col. Collins For Their Showing at Trenton.

Forty-seven members of Co. K went to Trenton, last night, to take part in the review of the Second Regiment, N. G. N. J., which was in charge of Col. D. F. Collins in the absence of Brig.-Gen. Gillmore, who was detained by illness. Despite the stormy weather the event was well attended. The local militia boys were honored in being called upon to escort the colors to Col. Collins.

After the review a regimental drill was conducted. Col. Collins handled the regiment in a masterly manner and many difficult movement in close order were performed. Dress parade concluded the programme. This proved a splendid military spectacle. Dancing followed and luncheon was served. On the return home Col. Collins accompanied Co. K and he complimented the boys on their fine showing.

COLLAPSE IN NEWARK.

Rainstorm Causes Rear Wall of House to Fall.

Newark, April 10.—The heavy rainstorm last night washed away a portion of the foundation of a three-story frame house at the corner of Bank street and Fairmount avenue and at 4 o'clock this morning the rear of the house fell with a crash that was heard many block away. Patrick Flanagan, who lived on the second floor with his two sons, was the only person injured, and he is only slightly hurt. The first floor was unoccupied, and John T. Callanan and his wife and five children lived on the third floor.

The floors of the kitchens and dining rooms on the second and third stories collapsed, and Flanagan, who was in the kitchen on his floor, was buried in the wreckage. He was dug out by the firemen. All the other inmates of the house were in their bedrooms and escaped unhurt. The house is owned by Herman Marks. The damage is estimated at $1,500.

Change Grouse Season Date.

Trenton, April 10.—Assemblyman Elvins, of Atlantic county, secured the passage in the House last night of his bill to change the date of the opening of the season for grouse, etc., from November 10 to the first Thursday after the November election, his idea being to have the first three days of the gunning season weekdays.

Redistricting Bill Passed.

The house last night resurrected and passed assembly bill No. 422, the bill providing for the election of assemblymen by districts, which, to the surprise of the leaders, was lost last Wednesday. After the defeat of Wednesday, a motion to reconsider was laid on the table. This put it in position to be taken up again.

Downpour of Rain.

Weather Man Neagle reports that there was 2.12 inches of rainfall last night.

JR. CENTRAL COMMITTEE

Lodges of This Vicinity to Form a District Body.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU

One of the New Organization's Features Will Be the Placing of American Mechanics In Local Shops.

All the Jr. O. U. A. M. councils of this city and vicinity are interested in a plan proposed by Benevolent Council for the organization of a central good and welfare committed to act for every Junior organization in the district in furthering their interests. A meeting of representatives of the councils of this city, Dunellen, New Market and Scotch Plains was held last week, and arrangements for the promotion of the committee were materially advanced.

Benevolent Council originated the idea of the committee for this vicinity, although similar organizations are in active existence elsewhere. The central committee takes charge of all arrangements for social affairs and for joint rallies. In Newark there is a strong and flourishing central committee, a great feature of which is an employment bureau. A bureau modelled on the lines of the Essex county committee's will be conducted by the proposed local organization.

The first meeting of the organizers was held last Friday night at Benevolent Council's rooms. Delegations were present from Somerset and Franklin councils, of this city; William G. Holton Council, Dunellen; Friendship Council, New Market, and Twilight Council, Scotch Plains. Bound Brook Council, although not invited into the committee scheme, sent word that it would join, and the Westfield Council has since signified its desire to get into the committee.

There is scarcely any doubt of its organization. Final plans will be made at a meeting to be held next week.

The strong utilitarian feature of the committee will be the employment bureau. Through this bureau it is planned to bring home to the shops of this vicinity the fact that American-born and bred mechanics are the best workmen. Quite as important as that for the members, of course, is the fact that the bureau will bring to the notice of the mechanics among them openings in the different shops as they occur. Already Benevolent Council has had some experience with a volunteer bureau, conducted by one enthusiastic member. He works in a Garwood shop, and has gotten the different shop managers there to let him know whenever they need men. He has the calls for help read at lodge meetings here, and applicants for the jobs are referred to the proper place. Many mechanics have been placed that way. Trough the success of this man's volunteer work, other members have taken up the same practical method of spreading the principles of the American order. Small as the movement has been, it has served to demontrate that a bureau conducted by such a committee as i to be organized would be a great success.

New Council Not Organized.

Owing to the storm and the small attendance those in charge of organizing the new Plainfield Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., decided not to hold a meeting at Junior Hall, last night. State Council Secretary William H. Miers and Rev. J. Morgan Reed were present, and they decided to postpone the meeting until Tuesday night, April 17. The place for holding it will be announced later, as it will be impossible to have Junior Hall that night.

Chief Doane's Throat Sore.

Fire Chief Doane is under treatment for throat trouble, the result of an old injury. His throat was injured at a fire some years ago, and its structure was weakened. The chief hardship in connection with it, from the chief's standpoint, is that he can not smoke, but, like an old soldier, he stoically obeyed the doctor's orders, and has given up every one of the dozen or more cigars he smoked daily.

Society Masque Ball.

Arrangements are about complete for the masquerade ball to be held at the Casino Easter Monday night. The affair will be an elaborate one and those taking part in the dancing will wear a masque until 12 o'clock. Space will be reserved for on-lookers who do not care to dance.

COUNTY CHAIRMAN SMITH COUNSELS REFORM WITHIN THE PARTY ORGANIZATIONS

Declares County's Representatives Are Not Dominated By Corporation Influences.

FAGAN MAY SPEAK

Jersey City's Mayor Likely to Address Big Meeting at Elizabeth—Judge Runyon to Head Committee of Five.

Not only in Plainfield, but throughout the county, the sole topic of conersation among the politicians was the Colby invasion of Union county, and particularly so the enlistment of Judge Runyon, heretofore known as an organization stalwart. As might be expected, there was general reticence on the part of those close to the powers that be in the city and county, but one or two of the leading lieutenants of the regulars guardedly expressed their views.

Naturally, everyone was eager to hear what County Chairman Frank H. Smith, the right-hand man of Hamilton F. Kean, would have to say, knowing that he spoke ex-cathedra. In discussing the reform movement last night, the county chairman displayed the trait of successful politicians, such as the late Senator M. S. Quay. He had no words of reproach for those who would help in the Republican house-cleaning work, but suggested that the best way to pursue the task would be from inside the organization. That's what Matt Quay always championed.

Mr. Smith said:

"As chairman of the Republican County Committee, I don't care to lend my name or influence to any movement of reform outside of the organization. I have no comments to make or criticisms on anybody attending the Colby meeting or joining in the movement. I see no wrong in Republicans combining for the good of the party. Personally, I believe that more good can be accomplished by work within the organization than without.

"The organization always welcomes suggestions from men interested in reforming the party or placing it on a stronger or sounder basis. These men are sincere in their motives. They are working for the good of the party.

"I don't see where Plainfield has any axe to grind. Union county is well represented in the Legislature. I fail to see how our representatives are dominated by corporate influences.

"You disagree with Senator Colby with what he says about graft in the Legislature?"

"I do so far as this county is concerned. Senator Colby certainly has no cause for complaint, for no representatives have done more to further the principles he advocates than the Union county Assemblymen. Assemblyman Perkins, leader of the House, presented the equal taxation measure, Senator Colby's measure. Assemblyman Tucker is a Colby man. Certainly he wouldn't do anything to antagonize his political leader, and I haven't heard of Assemblyman Tillman opposing any Colby measure."

Mayor James F. Buckle, in his usual cordial way, talked of the movement launched in Union county, and he had no words of condemnation for those who had allied themselves with the reform guards. He intimated, however, that he could see no real necessity for the movement. The Mayor has been an admirer and friend of Judge Runyon for many years and therefore it was not expected by the reporter that he would attack him for the step he has taken.

"I don't care to say anything about this matter," said the Mayor. "You know the history of Plainfield as well as I do and you know whether there is any real reason for complaint. If the people do not think things are run right, the power is in their hands to change conditions for what they think best. I think we have a pretty good government."

It was learned that the reason City Clerk James T. MacMurray could not be found yesterday by the newspaper men was that he was lying ill in New York. His wife went on to his bedside yesterday afternoon.

Senator Ernest R. Ackerman was in Trenton attending to his duties in the Legislature and did not get home last night on account of the storm. Freeholder Wilbur was also in Trenton, it being his custom to attend the Monday night meetings while the Legislature is in session.

HOSPITAL'S BOARD ELECTS MR. KAUFMAN

GOVERNORS ELECT HIM TO SUCCEED THE LATE PAUL TAYLOR BROWN.

Aside from the fact that William T. Kaufman was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Paul Taylor Brown, the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital, at its April meeting last night, considered business purely of a routine nature. Mr. Kaufman resides on West Seventh street, and has been identified with charitable enterprises here for many years. He is connected with the banking house of Harvey Fisk & Sons, New York. He has always shown an interest in the affairs of Muhlenberg Hospital and will doubtless prove a valuable member of the board.

The report of the carnival committee was received, indicating the progress being made in preparing for the annual event. Eleven members were present.

The medical board presented the following report for March:

Patients remaining at date of last report, 27; admitted, 61; discharged cured, 47; improved, 4; not improved, 3; died, 2; remaining, 32; total number treated, 88; operations, 57; hospital days, 974; dispensary patients, 48; visits, 61; operations, 5. The past month was the heaviest in point of operations since possession of the new hospital was taken.

GIRL'S BURNS SERIOUS.

Miss Morrison Suffering Terribly, but Will Recover.

The condition of Miss Hazel Morrison, the twelve-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Morrison, of South avenue, who was burned on Saturday while watching a bonfire, is more serious than was at first supposed. Those in charge at the hospital believed the burns to be superficial, but when the first dressings were removed it was learned that they were deeper and covered a larger area. Not only the left arm and side, but the left leg was burned, and the patient suffers a great deal. It is believed that Miss Morrison will recover, but it will take a long time.

Mrs. Morrison, who was also burned at the same time in trying to rescue her daughter, suffers much. Not only her hands, but her arms were found to be badly affected.

1ST BAPTIST MUSICAL SERVICE.

Sacred Cantata to Be Rendered Thursday Night.

The choir of the First Baptist church will render a sacred cantata by Theodore Dubois entitled "The Seven Last Words of Christ," on Thursday evening, together with other selections suitable for the Lenten time. The solo parts will be taken by the regular quartette of the church, and in addition the Philharmonic String Quartette, Otto K. Schill, leader, will play several numbers, and will assist in the accompaniments of the cantata.

This being a more or less religious service, cards of admission will not be required. All are invited.

Cops Would Play Skeeters.

The police basketball team is trying to arrange a game with a five made up of Jersey City ball players. Capt. Joe Bean headed a swift five last winter and is a crack player. He has material enough in the members of the Skeeter combination to throw a lively quintet together. Capt. Bean said this morning that he would get up a five and play the cops if a rainy afternoon prevented his cohorts from going to the ball grounds. Field practice was too valuable to cut for any indoor work, but he was ready to have a go at the bluecoats any afternoon rain made it impossible to turn out on the grounds.

Pitcher Recovering.

Pitcher Pfanmiller, of the Jersey City team, who was taken ill yesterday with tonsilitis, complicated by chills and fever, at the Hotel Iroquois, is better this morning. Dr. Dundon, the hotel physician, is attending him. Another Jersey City pitcher, H. Eugene McCann, is under the doctor's care for a touch of the same complaint. McCann felt too rocky to join the team in practice this morning.

Borough Street Job.

Surveys in preparation for the macadamizing of Westervelt avenue from Mountain avenue to the bridge will be made next week. It is hoped to put the stone down at the present grade, saving considerable expense. The job will take about two weeks.

NEWS IN THE SUBURBS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY

Indications point to one of the most prosperous years local chicken growers have ever experienced. All the hens are laying well and big hatches of healthy chicks are the rule. The mild weather has kept the hens in good robust condition and the chicks show it.

There will be a great programme at the Gold Medal minstrel show to be presented at Friendship Hall next Tuesday, under the auspices of Friendship Council. New acts will be shown, and a whole bag of new gags dumped out.

Hugh Miller, a student volunteer missionary, and his sister, Miss Laura Miller, spent Sunday with Rev. and Mrs. W. W. Casselberry. He preached at the church in the morning.

The Easter service of the Presbyterian church will be held in the morning this year, instead of at night, as is usually the case. Rev. W. W. Casselberry will preach.

Mrs. Russell has moved from West Front street to East Front street to the house recently vacated by the Bernards. The latter have moved to Lincoln.

Rev. Mr. Casselberry and several members of his church are attending an annual church society meeting at Westfield this afternoon.

The Sewing Circle of the Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Miss Catherine Samson Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Miss Edna Baldwin has resigned her position on account of her health. She is suffering from pharyngitis, tonsilitis and grip.

A family named Platt from Bayonne have moved into the Stevens house on Front street.

The congregational meeting of the Presbyterian church will be held Thursday night.

Miss Ethel Garretson will entertain the Young People's Card Club tonight.

The Study Class met at Rev. W. W. Casselberry's home last night.

Capt. A. B. Cole and family moved into the Lare house last week.

Miss Annie Campbell has resigned her position at Boehm's store.

George Pernell has put up a number of new heavy fence posts.

George Miller, of Roselle, visited O. M. Hetfield, Sunday.

James Touzeau is confined to the house by illness.

REPORT ON LIQUOR BILL.

M. E. Conference Committee Declares Amended Act a Sop.

The Newark Conferenc of the Methodist Episcopal church, at its session in Jersey City, administered a sharp blow yesterday to the Senate committee for amending and distorting the excise bills known as the Bishops' bills, and commended the action of the Anti-Saloon League. The temperance committee of the conference submitted the report, which was adopted. The report was prepared by J. B. Faulks, C. C. Woodruff, R. K. Boyd, J. O. Sparnon and L. C. Muller. It said:

"We are glad to report that during the last year there has been a decided advance in temperance agitation and sentiment in our State. The people are becoming increasingly alarmed at the arrogance of the liquor power, and are coming to see that decent citizens must arise in force for simple self-protection. We rejoice that thousands of voters have manifested, many by petition and others by their presence and personal protest at Trenton, their interest in temperance legislation. It is a matter of great regret that the home rule measure introduced at the present session of the Legislature failed to pass, but there is cause for congratulation that the representatives of one-third of the counties voted for it, and, besides, the agitation it produced is of inestimable value.

"We do condemn with indignation the attitude of man yof our legislators, in that they seem only too willing to give all that the liquor interests desire, and easily ignore the fair requests of those who unselfishly oppose these selfish interests.

"We also condemn the treatment of the measure known as the Bishops' bill. Weakened by amendments, distorted out of all shape by substitution, this apology for right legislation is obviously thrown to us to divert us from the real matter at issue, that is, fair, restrictive temperance legislation. We refuse the feeble sup! We are often urged not to mix this question with politics, but there can be no other course if there is no relief granted us by our legislators."

Superintendent Nash of the Anti-Saloon League paid a tribute to the Roman Catholic clergy for the zeal they displayed in the legislation, and said it marked the dawn of a new era in the anti-saloon fight.

"Because of the confessions made to them," said Superintendent Nash, "by those who know of the sin there perpetrated, the priests know better than any others in the clergy how to deal with the evil."

THE MORRISTOWN MACHINE RECEIVES SOME HEAVY BLOWS.

Democrat Elected City Counsel in Preference to the Voorhees Candidate.

Morristown, April 10.—At the monthly meeting of the Board of Aldermen, C. Augustus Muir was re-elected city counsel for a term of three years. His election was unexpected, as Mr. Muir is a Democrat and the complexion of the Board of Aldermen is Republican. David F. Barkman, a favorite of County Clerk Voorhees, the Republican boss, was nominated, but Alderman Thompson, of the Second ward, refused to vote for him, hence his defeat. The turning down of Mr. Barkman and the failure of the Republicans to agree upon the machine-selected candidate for chief of the fire department is a means to an end of the machine dictation of city offices, it is said.

The Republicans have so far accomplished nothing, with the exception of contracting for the purchase of a $3,000 steam roller, which Alderman Day, chairman of the street committee, succeeded in pushing through after a strenuous fight.

Fire Laddies' Jollification.

Central Hook and Ladder Company of Somerville has issued 200 invitation for a big blowout to be held at its rooms Thursday evening in honor of a handsome new truck, which arrived last week. Among the invited guests are Chief Doane, of this city; Relief Hose Company, of Raritan, the Town Commissioners and fire companies of Somerville and the chief, Mayor and Common Council of New Brunswick. There will be a short parade, followed by a big feast.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

The parish meeting will be held at the First Baptist church tonight. This is the most important financial meeting of the year.

The Christian Endeavor Society meeting at the Congregational church will be omitted on Sunday, owing to the Easter services.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Park Avenue Baptist church met this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank T. Ostrom, of 748 Carlton avenue.

The annual meeting of the First Presbyterian church will be held at the chapel tonight at 8 o'clock, and not tomorrow night as previously stated.

Preceding the annual meeting of the Congregational church and society, tomorrow night, the women will hold a supper in the parlors from 6 until 7:30.

Easter Sunday will be observed as usual at the Congregational church with special services morning and afternoon. Miss Barre is in charge of the decorations.

Rev. Dr. Kerr Boyce Tupper, pastor of the Madison Avenue Baptist church, New York, will speak at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church on Thursday night.

The annual musicale will be held at the Seventh-Day Baptist church on Tuesday night, April 24. Miss Jessie Utter, organist of the church, will be in charge of the programme.

Special Easter music will be rendered by the chorus choir of the First Baptist church on Sunday morning and in the afternoon it will assist the Sunday-school in its Easter programme.

An augmented chorus choir under the direction of Clifford Braider, organist, will give a Lenten musical service at the First Presbyterian church tomorrow night. Admission will be by card.

The thirty-fifth annual meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Elizabeth Presbytery, is being held in the Presbyterian church, Westfield, today. The local Presbyterian churches are largely represented.

There will be a special meeting at the Park Avenue Baptist church tomorrow night to hear the experience of candidates for baptism, followed by the thirtieth annual parish meeting at which reports will be presented and officers elected.

At the Congregational church, tomorrow night, instead of the usual mid-week service, there will be held, at 8 o'clock, the annual meeting of the church and society. From 6 until 7:30 o'clock, supper will be served by the Woman's Association.

"Easter Eve and Morn," a cantata, will be rendered by the vested choir of the First M. E. church on Sunday night. There will be special music in the morning by the choir, and the Sunday-school will have its exercises in the afternoon in Vincent chapel.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. Winfield Decker, of West End avenue, has recovered from an attack of the grip.

Arthur Crone, of the City National Bank, who has been detained at his home in College place with tonsilitis, has recovered.

William McIntosh, of College place, superintendent motive power for the New Jersey Central, has returned home from a southern business trip.

Mrs. John E. Seals and son, George, of Whitehouse, have returned from a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. Adam L. Seals, of West Fourth street.

Miss Frances Cuthbertson, of Philadelphia, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Charles W. Runyon, of the New Madison, is spending a week in Elizabeth. She will return here before going home.

O. T. Waring, of Park avenue, and his daughter, Mrs. L. G. Timpson, of East Sixth street, are expected home soon from California, where they have been visiting Captain and Mrs. Chauncey Humphrey.

Hurt in an Auto Upset.

Morristown, April 10.—The skidding of the rear wheels of an automobile, in which were Mrs. Albert B. Osmun and hir sister-in-law, Miss Anna Osmun, caused the machine to upset yesterday in Washington street, injuring the occupants. As the automobile upset the rear seat of the car struck an iron hitching post, throwing the women out. Miss Osmun cut her face, while Mrs. Osmun was thrown into the gutter, receiving internal injuries.

Revolver in Pocket; Man Dead.

Trenton, April 10.—Sylvan Huckstet, of Hightstown, was found dead in a closet of his home yesterday, with a bullet hole in his breast. It is believed he committed suicide. A revolver, with one chamber empty, was found in his coat pocket. There was no bullet hole through the coat, and it is supposed that he shot himself and then thrust the weapon into his pocket.

Two Rehearals This Week.

The Oshkosh Club will hold rehearsals at the Casino tomorrow night and Thursday night, when a professional dancer from New York will coach the cast in dancing. There is a great demand for the tickets which were put on sale Saturday. The show will be given on Friday and Saturday, May 11 and 12, at the Casino.

COLBY CAMPAIGN FORCES WILL GET TO WORK EARLY.

Preliminary Plans to Be Talked Over as Soon as the Legislature Adjourns.

As soon as the present session of the Legislature is over, Senator Everett Colby and the members of his Essex organization will set themselves to the task of making preliminary plans for the fall campaign and urging the formation throughout the State of organizations similar to their own. According to the present plan, the headquarters in the Scheuer building will be retained as the central meeting place of the county organization and the rooms will be kept open every day for whatever work is to be done.

In their failure last year to name candidates for all positions within their reach the Colby men learned a lesson which they will not neglect to take advantage of. Had they chosen a full list of nominees for the county committee they might have controlled that body. That they may attain control of it next fall will be one of the leading objects of their effort.

As last year, Mr. Colby will begin his campaign early, it is expected, and remain active until the election. The United States Senatorial question will loom large in the coming campaign, with the Colby forces aligned sharply at the outset against the "machine," which has been loyal to Senator Dryden. Just what aspirants will go into the field against the Prudential's president remains to be seen. Idle gossip mentions all sorts of candidates. It is known that Governor Stokes has Senatorial aspirations, but there is still the question of eligibility, which does not appear to have been decided to the entire satisfaction of the citizens of the State.

It goes without saying that the Colby forces will take advantage of whatever victories, direct or indirect, they may have accomplished during the legislative session, and whatever mistakes the "regulars" may have made. The machine, if it decides to enter into open hostilities with the Colby men, will try to show that the reformers have been unable to carry out their plans in legislation and that progressive and remedial measures that have been adopted during the period of lawmaking have been the work of the regular line party men, backed by the regular party leaders.

However the campaign may turn out, it will be a most interesting one—perhaps fully as interesting as the last.

PAINTERS QUIT WORK.

Newark Union Men Demand Increase and Half Holiday.

About fifteen hundred painters and paperhangers threw down their tools in Essex county yesterday and refused to work until their employers, the members of the Master Painters' Association, will grant them an increase in their wages and the Saturday half holiday throughout the year. The strike was ordered after a meeting of the district council of the Brotherhood of Painters and Paperhangers of Essex county, which was held in Lyceum Hall, in Plaine street, Newark, yesterday morning. The effect of the strike will be felt in Newark, Belleville, Nutley, Irvington, Bloomfield and several other towns in the county. The Oranges, it is said, are under the jurisdiction of another district and will not be included in the present strike.

The union men are already claiming victory, and announced yesterday soon after the men quit work that fourteen of the firms involved in the trouble had expressed willingness to sign the new agreement and meet the demands of the men.

The unions made known their intention of asking for an increase of from $3 a day, the present scale, to $3.28 a day in March. It was then said that the new agreement with the half holiday clause incorporated would be presented for the employers consideration on April 1. There was a conference last Wednesday night, at which it is said the bosses turned a deaf ear to the demands of the workmen. Then it was decided by the district council to call yesterday's meeting. The general executive board of the International Union, with which the painters are affiliated, has sanctioned the strike, and a fierce struggle is likely if an amicable settlement is not reached in a day or so.

A. A. Sippel, the spokesman for the Masters' Association, said yesterday that about a year ago the workmen received an increase in wages without any request being made for it by them. Referring to the Saturday half holiday, Mr. Sipple said there were many contracts which had to be taken on which only Saturday afternoon work could be done. With that day as a holiday these contracts, he contended, would have to be refused. There will be a meeting of the boss painters next hursday night, and until then nothing will be done by the employers.

—Mr. and Mrs. Amos Gray have moved from Elmwood place to West Front street, opposite Washington avenue.

—James Elizabeth, the Italian injured at Smalley Brothers' stone quarry last week, is steadily improving at the hospital.

—Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Wilson, of Somerset place, have moved to Elmwood place, the house formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Amos Gray.

George Babcock, of Alfred University, is home for the Easter vacation.

Greatest of All Sales of Muslins, Sheets and Pillow Cases.

PRICES MERCILESSLY CUT, BARRING ALL COMPETITION.

The values this sale presents are so positively sensational that to miss partaking of them will mean losing the greatest bargain opportunity of the season. Other stores, unable to match our prices, frequently remove mill tickets and, trusting to customers not insisting upon seeing the label, offer inferior qualities. Another scheme that oftimes is employed to deceive shoppers is to put on a private label, thus disguising the mill name, and by claiming superior quality obtain high profits. We offer no nameless goods—no inferior grades—no shams or tricks to fool you—but the world's best makes, such as Boston, Lockwood, Will-Wash-Heavier and others that have made a name for quality and wear at prices that are marvelously low.

Sheetings by the yard, also Pillow Casings.

PREPARING BRYAN PRESIDENCY BOOM

New York, April 10.—The Democratic Club will take a leading part in fighting the wave of radicalism and socialism which it fears bids fair to sweep over the country in the next year, and which it believes endangers the very existence of the Democratic party. After prolonging consideration the board of governors of the club has decided to recommend to the club, as a whole, at a meeting on April 25, the nationalization of the club and the change of its name to the National Democratic Club.

Back of all this is a plan, which the leaders in the movement do not try to conceal, to push William J. Bryan to the front as the candidate for the Presidency in 1908 as the candidate of the regular Democracy. It is expected that a sub-committee of the board of governors of the club will this week issue an address to the public, although ostensibly it will be directed to the members of the club, calling attention to the spread of socialism in the Democratic organization and appealing to honest Democrats everywhere to get ready for a finish fight against the radicals.

Perhaps the address will not mention either William J. Bryan or William R. Hearst, but it is said that its meaning will be perfectly clear, and that it will be a boom for Mr. Bryan for the Presidency. Mr. Bryan is in Asia studying social and political conditions, and writing for magazines and newspapers. He will be home this summer or next fall. The club will make Bryan the political lion of the hour.

The Democratic Club people seem to regard Mr. Bryan as the most available man for the Eastern Democrats to rally around to beat Hearst for the nomination. They believe that Mr Bryan will admit that there is no need for a revival of the 16 to 1 issue, and that Mr. Bryan will be willing to name other issues as more important. If he will do this in a public speech in this city, under the auspices of the National Democratic Club, his status as the standard bearer of the regular Democracy will, the clubmen say, be established, and he will be sure of the regular nomination.

This move is intended to compel Hearst to run as a third ticket candidate. The conservatives believe that he can be compelled to do this, and they believe that in such case he will not carry a single State. To crowd Hearst out of the regular organization the conservatives will do their best to make him run on a third ticket in New York State next fall. They reason that if they can compel him to run against the regular ticket the coming fall his political goose will be cooked for all time, and that he will not be mentioned in the next Democratic national convention.

JUDGE AT FIRST WAS COY.

But When a Bride Kissed Him He Twice Repeated Salute.

Elizabeth, April 10.—"Now, judge, this being your first marriage, I think you are entitled to kiss my wife," said Joseph D. March, Sunday night, tt Justice of the Peace William F. Pearse, after Miss Margaret Fitzgerald had become Mrs. Marsh.

The justice, who is married, about forty-five years old, and whose wife was close at hand, said he was much obliged for the kind offer, but he did not think he cared to kiss the bride under the circumstances. The bride, however, insisted, and said she would feel insulted if the justice did not kiss her. He still seemed reluctant, so catching him with both hands about the neck, she planted her lips squarely on his with a smack that could be heard all over the house.

The justice seemed to think, after the sample, that he would like another, so, without even glancing at his wife, he kissed the bride again. Then he kissed her again, and he might have continued had not the husband said they must hurry to catch their train.

The judge now says that he will marry anybody for a five-dollar bill and three kisses, and he is sure his wife won't object.

HUNT NESTS, START A FIRE.

Boys Nearly Cause a Big Blaze at Stirling.

Stirling, April 10.—A small building about twenty feet away from the Y. M. C. A. was burned to the ground Sunday afternoon, and the main building was saved only through the prompt efforts of members of the association who happened to be nearby. Two small boys, whose names are not known, had been searching for eggs in some birds' nests on the roof of the building, and finding none had set the nests on fire. The building was soon in flames.

The boys were too frightened to give the alarm, and by the time some of the members of the Y. M. C. A. were on hand the fire was too far under way to be extinguished. There was a wind toward the main Y. M. C. A. building, however, and the members had to work hard with buckets to have that place. The damage was about $200.

Miss Nettie Beeching, of the borough, who has been critically ill, is reported as being improved.

Mrs. George Rogers, of New York, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Rogers, of West Second street.

G.O.P. CHAIRMAN ON COLBY

ders, of North Plainfield, was among the boroughites who had been enrolled, but was not present at the meeting Saturday night. When asked last night why he did not put in an appearance, Mr. Saunders said that the best reason he could furnish was the famous remark of David B. Hill—"I am a Democrat."

"I received Mr. Colby's invitation," said he, "and in acknowledging it said that I was much obliged for the invitation."

Continuing, Mr. Saunders said: "I wrote him that I thoroughly agreed with him that there was need for reform in the State and in Union county particularly. But I told him I feared that my remedy was very different than his, for I would suggest that a Democrat be put in every job held by a Republican.

"This reform movement, I take it," said Mr. Saunders, "is within the Republican party. I am a Democrat, and therefore I can not see how I am interested."

Samuel St. John McCutchen, a member of the State Board of Education, is another boroughite whose name was found on the rolls. Like Mr. Saunders, he informed the reporter that he is a Democrat, and therefore could not identify himself with the Colby movement to reform the Republican party.

At Saturday night's meeting Chairman Jones was empowered to appoint a committee of five to arrange for the big meeting to be held in Elizabeth. It will take place on Saturday night, April 28. No place has been selected as yet, but probably a large hall will be engaged for the purpose. This meeting, it is said, will be a public one and a general invitation will be extended to every Republican in the county to attend.

A committee of five will be announced by Chairman Jones in a few days. It is known that Judge Runyon, of this city, will be chairman. The other members will no doubt be selected from Elizabeth, Summit, Rahway and Westfield, respectively.

Efforts are now being made to secure Mayor Mark M. Fagan, of Jersey City, the apostle of the reform movement in the State, as the principal speaker. The others who will talk will include Senator Everett Colby, Judge Runyon and Counsellor George L. Record. Possibly one or two others, influential men of Elizabeth and Plainfield, who have not been identified with politics, will be called on to speak.

It was said today that the reform fever is spreading in Elizabeth and Rahway and that the movement is already assuming large proportions.

WENT 96 MILES AN HOUR.

Central's 20th Century Limited Made 108 Miles in 99 Minutes.

Cleveland, April 10.—It was given out yesterday at the Lake Shore general offices that the New York Central Twentieth Century Limited ran at a rate of ninety-six miles an hour part of the way from here to Toledo Sunday night.

From here to Elyria the train was speeded up to eighty miles an hour, and when the train struck Vermillion it whirled through so fast that the lights made a blur. The indicator was showing ninety-six miles an hour and top speed had not been reached.

It was necessary to slow down a little for some railroad yards, and the next stretch showed ninety-one miles an hour, then eigthy-two, and then eighty, as the settlements became thicker and the yards more troublesome. The train pulled into Toledo, having covered the 108 miles in 99 minutes.

MR. COLBY AGAINST EARLY ADJOURNMENT

WANTS MORE TIME FOR CAREFUL CONSIDERATION OF REMAINING BILLS.

Trenton, April 10.—The leaders were last night making a determined effort to close the legislative session on Thursday of this week, but were being met with obstructive tactics by the Colby faction, who are saying that there does not remain sufficient time for careful consideration of the remaining bills. It is believed that the concurrent resolution to adjourn April 12 will make its appearance in the Senate today.

As soon as the Senate opened its evening session Senator Brown (Monmouth) made another effort to get the bill which perpetuates Sheriff C. Asa Francis in office through that body. He called the measure up on second reading and offered an amendment.

Senator Colby (Essex) asked for a full explanation, and when Senator Brown had talked on the measure Colby said that it did not change the supposed intent of the bill, and moved that further consideration of the bill go over. This was the order.

It was announced here yesterday that the recount in Monmouth had defeated Francis by six votes, thus electing Charles E. Close, the Democratic candidate. On the next train Francis came to Trenton, and all last evening was buttonholing Senators and leaders to push his bill through. Members of the Close faction are here asking for a commission for Close, and they are being told that the record of the courts must come to Trenton first before a commission can be considered.

It is now believed that the attempt of Francis to perpetuate himself in office will fail.

Will Build at Asbury.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Cliver, of Crescent avenue, who came here from Asbruy Park last year, will return to the seaside next month to make their home. Mr. Cliver has completed plans for the erection of a home near the Park. The deal for the lot is about to be closed, and he already has the architect's designs.

Party Postponed.

Miss Laura Lewis, of Grant avenue, was to have entertained a number of friends at a birthday party last night, but the storm led to a postponement of the affair. It will be held Friday night. Card games for prizes and dancing will be features of the evening.

Oshkosh Club Rehearsals.

H. Fletcher Reeves, of New York, a professional dancing master, has been engaged to attend the rehearsals of the Oshkosh Club at the Casino tomorrow and Thursday night and give the cast instruction in dancing for the club's show on May 11 and 12.

Congregationalists' Annual.

The annual meeting of the Congregational church and society for the reports and election of officers and other business will be held at the church tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. From 6 to 7:30 o'clock supper will be served by the Women's Association.

Sunday-school Entertainment.

Moving pictures, mechanical slides, also stereopticon views of the eruption of Mt. Pelee, together with recitations and violin solos will comprise the entertainment at the Park Avenue Baptist church tonight under the auspices of the Sunday-school.

An executive meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary, of the Y. M. C. A., followed by a general session of the society, was held at the association building, yesterday afternoon. Thirteen new members joined the society, making a total membership of 299. Encouraging reports from the various committees were received, showing the auxiliary to be in a flourishing condition.

Scotch Plains Indian Pinched.

William Macintyre, an Indian, who drifted to Scotch Plains several years ago from northern New York, was arrested yesterday by Officer Messler for drunkenness. He was meek and apologetic in court this morning and Judge Runyon, having no record of a previous appearance before him, suspended sentence. Macintyre works as a laborer in Scotch Plains.

Danish Lutheran services will be held in the W. C. T. U. rooms tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. All Danish people are cordially invited.

At the Easter celebration Sunday morning in Trinity church, "The Story of Calvary" will be sung. A choir of forty voices will render it. A rehearsal will be held Friday night.

The recent Student Volunteer Convention at Nashville was the largest representative gathering of American undergraduates ever held. There were more than 3,000 student delegates along, while the enrollment of teachers, missionaries and special representatives brought the figures above the 4,000 mark. Above 30 countries were represented. The endorsement of foreign missions by Sir Henry Mortimer Durand, British Ambassador to the United States, was one of the many notable features of the convention. C. E. Vail, of the Park Presbyterian church, was a delegate to the meeting.

The executive committee of the State Christian Endeavor Union has announced the date of the annual State convention October 10, 11 and 12. The meeting will be held in Millville, and the committee in charge of the coming convention is working hard to have all in readiness for the three days' session. President Sproull, who recently spent Sunday at Millville, says that the Millville Endeavorers are a most warm-hearted, enthusiastic band of workers. They recently held a large union meeting in which pastors of the local churches participated, and all were in hearty sympathy with the work and the coming convention. Endeavorers who go to Millville will have a most cordial welcome. They want 500 delegates from the State north of Trenton.

CLUE GIVES GROUND TO THEORY OF MURDER.

Hoboken Police Find Shoes that Fit Unidentified Man Killed Near Lackawanna Tracks.

Hoboken, April 10.—Police Captain Bell has discovered an important clue in the case of the man whose body was found on the Lackawanna Railroad tracks last Friday night, which strengthens the murder theory. William Flohr, who keeps a saloon on Jackson avenue, about 400 feet from the scene of the tragedy, informed Captain Bell that on Friday night a man about five feet seven inches in height, weighing about 150 pounds, wearing a brown derby hat, and evidently a tramp, entered his saloon and offered to sing songs for a drink. He sang several songs, and after lingering about the saloon for a while, departed.

About 10 o'clock he returned again with a pair of shoes bearing the mark of "Snow," offering them for sale for fifty cents. The shoes were bought by William Wolbert, of Jackson street, this city. After receiving the money the man bought a drink and left.

Wolbert, reading in the papers that the dead man was found without his shoes on led him to believe that they may have been the property of the dead man. He took them to Captain Bell, who took them to Volk's morgue, where the body of the dead man is, and discovered that they fitted the victim. There is now a strong feeling by the local police that the victim may have met his death at the hands of the strange man, who disposed of the shoes in Flohr's saloon.

Will Attend Union Service.

The Christian Endeavor Society meeting held on Friday night at the Park Avenue Baptist church will be postponed this week on account of the union Good Friday service. This will also apply to the Young People's Society meeting at the First Baptist church.

C. O. D. TO WASHINGTON, N. J.

Lots of Goods Sent There Recently On False Orders.

Washington, April 10.—When Richard R. Ellis left Washington two months ago he vowed that he would get even with this town. He came here from Mexico and worked for several months as a tailor for Samuel W. Cyphers. He held the place until he was arrested on several charges, including disorderly conduct, assault and battery, and getting money under false pretenses. The December Grand Jury indicted him on the last charge, but he got clear when his counsel proved that the prosecution had failed to show that Ellis did not have $600 in a New York bank, as he had said he had when he had got some goods. Ellis had been held in jail several months, and when he was discharged he was very bitter against the town and those who had complained against him.

About a month after Ellis left town Mr. Cyphers, the tailor, received a consignment of goods from a New York department store, along with a bill for $112. The next day a consignment of clothing from another store, with a bill for $149.50. Before shipping the goods these firms had telephoned the First National Bank here and learned that Mr. Cyphers was all right.

An investigation made by Mr. Cyphers and the police in New York showed that the only way in which the man who ordered the goods had profited was in getting a small consignment of goods and taking them with him.

Since then similar transactions in New York hae been made nearly every day. One day a merchant receives a bill or two from a New York house, and learns that there are goods from that house consigned to him, and in the Washington freight house. Next day come several bills from Philadelphia. Next day two or three are received from Boston. In many cases drafts have been received at the First National Bank of Washington. Most of them are sent by firms that Washington merchants have not dealings with.

The merchants whose names have been used are S. W. Cyphers, J. R. Bryant, J. W. Fitts, J. S. Shive, F. N. Jenkins, George W. Beers and William Barron. The amounts run from $62 to $3,500.

Among the goods which Ellis has caused to be sent here are several cases of clothing, a box of hats, a $300 lot of ladies' waists, books worth $150, a complete encyclopedia set, a case of watches, a $75 lot of beer, and $375 lot of whiskey.

The case has caused the bank officers here much anxiety, and the cashier of the First National Bank has worried so much that he has planned a season of rest at Lakewood.

Mrs. Frances E. Whiteside is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Hockridge, of Grant avenue. During the coming summer Mr. Whiteside will spend much of his time in this city.

LITERARY.

The American Boy for April will certainly please the boys, with its 101 pictures illustrating stories and leading articles of absorbing interest to the young. Boys who love animals will follow with eager delight "Shaggycoat," the biography of a beaver, by Clarence Hawks, the blind naturalist, "Shad Fishermen Casting Their Big Nets," and "Bird Migrations," by Professor Thoms. Games and sports are represented by a baseball story, it being number six of "Stories Out of the Editor's Life." Under the heading of athletics comes "My Tour of the Antipodes," part 1 of the story of Arthur Duffey's sprinting contests in Australia as told by himself. Of short stories there are "A Brave Korean," "Wolves at the Door," "The Biggest Fool at Last," and "The Truth About the Cowboy." Other titles are "Working Your Way," "Some Boys Mistakes," "William R. Harper," "Among the Boys," "About Marbles," "Harry Castlemon," "The True History of Captain Kidd," "Uncle Sam's Weather Map," "Mexican Boy Cargadores," "Sliding to Bases," "Boyhood of Great Americans," "Young Prince Joachin," "The Boys' Garden," "Care of the Teeth," "Stamps, Coins, and Curios," "The Boy Photographer," Experimental Lessons in Electricity," "The Wizard of Menlo," "How to Make a Sand Wheel," "Chemistry for Boys," and nearly fifty puzzles, tricks, problems and contests that will keep the boys busy through the month.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR.

The oftener a man swears off the easier he thinks it would be to live up to it.

Once in a while the world has as good an opinion of a man as he has himself, but it is after he is dead.

About the meanest thing people do in the world is the way the red-headed ones pass it along to their children.

There is hardly anything so surprising as to kiss a girl when the lights go out and find it was somebody else.

A man would have to be mighty rich not to begin to grumble about the stock market when he suspects somebody is going to strike him for a charitable subscription—N. Y. Press.

Theodore Randolph, formerly of this city, where he was engaged in the shoe business with his father, is spending a few days here. He was called to Plainfield by the death of his sister and illness of his mother and another sister.

A CHOICE CUT

of meat can be had here at any time, because we always have enough to give our customers their choice. The Beef, Veal, Lamb and Poultry sold here are from prime Stock. GOT HIS HAIR BACK.

Was Perfectly Bald When He Started to Use Newbro's Herpicide.

Frederick Manuell, Maryland block, Butte, Montana, bought a bottle of Newbro's Herpicide, April 6, '99, and began to use it for entire baldness. The hair follicles in his scalp were not dead and in 20 days he had hair all over his head. On July 2 he writes, "and today my hair is as thick and luxuriant as any one could wish." Newbro's Herpicide works on an old principle and with a new discovery—destroy the cause and you remove the effect. Herpicide destroys the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair, and finally baldness, so that with the cause gone the effect cannot remain. Stops falling hair at once and a new growth starts. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

INDIAN HAS SAILOR WALK

His Step Is Nearly Flat-Footed and His Poise Is Like the Mariner's.

A woodsman walks with a rolling motion, his lips swaying an inch or more to the stepping side, and his pace is correspondingly long. This hip action, says Field and Stream, may be noticed to an exaggerated degree in the stride of a professional pedestrian, but the latter walks with a heel-and-toe step, whereas an Indian's or sailor's step is more nearly flat-footed. In the latter case the center of gravity is covered by the whole foot. The poise is as secure as that of a ropewalker. The toes are pointed straight forward, or even a trifle inward, so that the inside of the heel, the outside of the foot and the smaller toes all do their share of work and assist in balancing.

Walking in the woods in this manner, one is not so likely, either, to trip over projecting roots, stones and other taps as he would be if the feet formed hooks by pointing outward. The advantage is obvious in snowshoeing. If the Indian were turned to stone while in the act of stepping the statue would probably stand balanced on one foot. His gait gives the limbs great control over his movements. He is always poised. If a stick cracks under him it is because of his weight, and not by reason of the impact. He goes silently on and with great economy of force. His steady balance enabled him to put his moving foot down as gently as you would lay an egg on the table.

THE RETORT COURTEOUS.

Torrid Tirade of Juvenile Caucasian Coolly Countered by Small African Recipient.

A little Afro-American was trying to sell papers near Times square. He evidently was a novice in the ways of newsboys, says the New York Times, for he displayed no timidity about poaching on others' territory. But his innocence of custom was not to last long. A boy of about his own age came along and looked his African rival over. Then he said unkind and even rude things to the newcomer. They were to the effect that if the African tarried long in the vicinity various and sundry unpleasant things would happen to his anatomy that would make it difficult to identification after his body had been laid on a wet slab at the morgue.

The information was imparted garbed in language far more forceful than would have been approved by the Gerry society. The young Caucasian also informed his rival that he was many things, which, it seemed, was news to the African, whose countenance was a picture of amazement and incredulity. The tirade of the white boy lasted about three minutes when he paused because he had run out of anathemas. Then he spoke once more, and followed his remarks with a swing for the right side of the other's jaw. The blow was neatly dodged, and as the African hastened away he cried back:

"All them things what you said I is, you is 'em."

THE FIGHTS OF BUFFALOES.

When Young Bulls Aspire to Leadership of the Herd Trouble Ensues.

The buffalo, like other animals, was horribly pestered and annoyed by fleas. To rid himself of these and also to cool his hot sides, he wallowed in the earth in a manner peculiar to himself. Kneeling first, and then placing one shoulder on the ground, he revolved by the use of his hind legs, thus making what was called a buffalo wallow. Standing water was often found in these hollow places far into the dry season. Every young bull aspired to become the leader of a herd. The question of rank, says Recreation, was invariably determined by tests of strength and combats, fierce and furious, were of frequent occurrence. Sometimes the death of one or both of the contestants resulted, but usually the vanquished bull took his place far in the rear ranks of the herd. If the victor had previously been the leader, he retained his ascendency, but if he could not maintain his position he was supplanted by his antagonist, without even the consolation of honorable retirement. Might made right in the buffalo herd.

He Was "It."

"My wife," remarked the homely man at the church fair, "is never happy unless she has a grievance."

"How very happy she must be since her marriage," said the pretty girl at the flower booth, as she sized him up.

And in his hurry to get away the homely man forgot his change.—Chicago Daily News.

Her Unhappy Day.

"That girl has an unfortunate idea of repartee."

"Yes," answered Miss Cayenne. "She has an idea that she is saying smart things when she is merely saying things that smart."—Washington Star.

A Different Viewpoint.

Mr. McSplurge—Maybe they'll think I've been cracking a safe.—Cleveland Leader.

Odd Legacy Condition.

A Frenchman who died in Constantinople recently left $3000 to his nephew, M. D'Albi, who lives in Paris, on condition that the latter come to Constantinople to get the legacy.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

That the quaintest, most original and most attractive of all rural plays, "The Old Homestead," will meet with its usual warm welcome here next Saturday goes without saying. The pioneer of rural drama has stood on its own merits for twenty years and yet its power to attract and please audiences seems not to lessen in the slightest. Every child gets his first dip into the joys of the theatre through the medium of "The Old Homestead," for every parent has seen and enjoyed the wholesomeness of this old play and wants his children to do the same. To old and young alike it is a well spring of pleasure. The company playing "The Old Homestead" this season was selected carefully by Mr. Thompson himself and each individual character is said to be played with the same natural art that made Mr. Thompson himself one of the famous men of our stage.

Considerable interest attaches to the engagement of Florence Roberts, the noted emotional actress at the New Plainfield theatre next Monday night, in that she will present her new production of "The Strength of the Weak," described as a modern play in four acts, by Alice M. Smith. Florence Roberts is an established star of the emotional type. She has quite the most pretentious play of her career and the most notable company of players she has ever assembled. Her own part is particularly well suited to her capabilities and provides her with every opportunity to run the full gamut of human emotions. "The Strength of the Weak" will provide an innovation so far as theme is concerned. Its construction as a play is said to make the situations consistent, while all of the characters are natural types. The play will be seen at the Liberty theatre, New York, beginning April 17.

"The Prince of Pilsen," the popular musical comedy by Frank Pixley and Gustav Luders, will be played at the New Plainfield theatre next Tuesday night. Manager Henry W. Savage in sending this popular entertainment upon its fourth season's tour, limited its presentation to this one special company, which in its personnel represents a judicious distribution of the various characters among those who have shown their superiority in previous Pilsen casts. Jess Dandy continues as Hans Wagner, and Arthur Donaldson and Ivar Anderson retain the roles with which they have been identified since the original production. MRS. APPLEGATE WELL AGAIN!

"I have had a bruised leg and foot for several years, caused by the brass eyelets of my shoe, which became very sore and painful especially at night. It itched, burned and ached me till it nearly set me crazy. I used everything I found and was suggested to ease it and nothing gave me any relief till I found and applied Azienza Cream which I think is a wonderful remedy for all sores and inflammation of the skin. The hard knots on my legs were as painful as bee stings, with discolored and purple spots. A running sore on my instep size of a half-dollar; the top of my foot a seething sore clean around to my heel. The bone was sore for a whole year and very painful. I used five and one-half jars of Azienza Cream and healed the sore all up. The foot remained tender and I continued to use to strengthen and toughen the skin until now it is entirely well." THIRD DAY OF THE CARPET SALE

In spite of Monday's wretched weather, the first day of our big Spring carpet sacrifice came well up to our expectations and the business thus far today bids fair to excel anything ever done at this store. Such values as these in brand new Spring floor coverings cannot fail to attract wide-spread attention. Indeed, this is the carpet buying opportunity of many seasons.

one week from Wednesday night of the comedy drama "A Ragged Hero," must surely be welcome to all who delight in that most popular of all forms of theatrical amusement, for the play comes here with a record for that success that is unparalleled this season. It is to be presented in the most sumptuous way, its scenery alone representing the entire cost of two average productions. It is enacted by a remarkably strong company of thirty and has every element of success both from the viewpoint of the management or from the viewpoint of the satisfaction of the audiences that witness it. It is a peculiar fact that during its city runs there were to be found in the audience night after night many people who had seen the play two and three times. This is rather a neat compliment to its quality.

Local playgoers will enjoy a genuine treat in the appearance of the celebrated English actor, Kryle Bellew, in his unique play, "Raffles, the Amateur Cracksman," at the New Plainfield theatre one week from Friday night. Manager Counihan makes this announcement with no little pride, for so great is the popular demand in various sections for this the leading romantic actor of the English-speaking stage there are many proffered bookings he is compelled to refuse.

New Combined Car.

An experiment is being made of a new type car of the combination dining and sleeping style, on the Central Railroad of New Jersey. The car is being run every day on trains between Jersey City and Philadelphia. The car is a product of the American Palace Car Company and the interior is ingeniously arranged to fit the above requirements. The berth furnishings are carried in steel pockets under the floor. During the day the car is provided with chairs in the same way as the ordinary parlor car, and the necessary kitchen and other facilities are provided for the serving of meals.

Miss Lulu Randolph, of West Eighth street, has been visiting relatives at Bound Brook.

Mrs. L. W. Serrell, of West Seventh street, has been entertaining her brother from Jersey City.

Miss May VanFleet, of Plainfield avenue, who has been visiting friends in Somerville, has returned home.

Miss Ruth Maxson, of West Seventh street, has so far recovered from her severe illness as to be about the house.

OVER $6,000,000 IS THE AMOUNT loaned by The Prudential on Bond and Mortgage in this State. It shows how The Prudential encourages the development of New Jersey homes and industries.

Since this Company's inception in June, 1902, its growth has been continuous, until today the deposits amount to $1,800,000.00 and the number of its depositors to over 3,000

Surely there can be no better proof of satisfactory service than that which is evidenced by constant growth.

AUTOMOBILE NOTES.

Automobile legislation keeps pace with the increase in arrests for violations of speed laws. Some arrests are undoubtedly unjust, others are merited. For the regulation of traffic speed limits are absolutely necessary. There are drivers who get a great deal of enjoyment out of automobiling and yet strive to keep within the law. There are others who give way to the temptation to go fast and take their chances. There are still others, quite often chauffeurs out for a lark with their employer's car, who are reckless without regard to life and limb. It is the latter class which is causing nine-tenths of the trouble. Motorists themselves must take the bull by the horns if they are to change maters. Every man driving a motor car should aim, however distasteful it may be, to keep within the speed limits. If he sees any one driving recklessly it is his duty to warn the man and if that has no effect, to aid in bringing the offender to justice. The public mind is very plastic. If the body of automobilists show concerted action in prosecuting offenders a healthy regard for their good faith, which is lacking now, will be born and with excellen results.

PERSONAL.

DYING FROM WORRY.

Mrs. Miller Ill, Grieving Over Absence of Her Son.

Millville, April 10.—Mrs. Miller, a widow of this city, is practically dying from worry over the absence of her son, Albert. A year ago, her son left for Gas City, Ind., where he had secured employment at his trade of glassblowing. For a few months he wrote, and then all trace of him was lost. His mother, who opposed his going, commenced to complain as soon as the letters ceased to come and now it is feared she is fatally ill.

Efforts are being made to find the son through the American Bottle Blowers' Association.

"SKEETERS" AT Y.M.C.A

Captain Bean and Players Accept Secretary Manning's Hospitality.

STARS ARE EXPECTED

Manager Murray Said to Be On Still Hunt for Two Heavy Batting Infielders and twirler—Two Players Ill.

Yesterday the Jerseys encountered a siege of rain but the fact did not deter them from keeping up their practise work. Secretary Harry Manning, of the Y. M. C. A., came to their rescue and offered Captain Bean the use of the gymnasium. The players hastily accepted the chance and disported about the gym the greater part of the day, the operations concluding with a plunge in the swimming pool.

Two of the team's pitchers were on the sick list yesterday, McCann being confined to his room with an attack of tonsilitis, while Pfanmiller is laid up with chills and fever. The former called in a physician who says he will be unable to resume practice for a couple of days at least.

Why Cassodyor Handford did not report is a mystery to the players. It seems to be the opinion that Cassody will not be with the team, but in such an event his place will be filled by Merritt, who covered first bag last season during Cassody's incapacitation to the satisfaction of Manager Murray and the club owners.

An interesting rumor exploded in the training camp yesterday, which if it comes true will make the Skeeter aggregation look like sure pennant winners. Manager Murray has not been in town since Friday and gossip says that he is on a still hunt for big timber, three players who saw service in the National League last season, two infielders and a slab artist. Who the players are nobody knows, except Manager Murray, but they are due to arrive this week. Manager Murray admitted before leaving that he expected some "ball players" this week, but said he would not divulge their names until he produced the goods.

RAINY DAY BUNTS.

Despite the inclement weather yesterday, Jocko Hallogan, the heavy base hit slugger of the Jerseys, but in a "torribly fine" day. Jocko was piloted to fire headquarters by a local scribe and formally introduced to Chief Doane, who according to history introduced the national game in Plainfield. The veteran fire fighter and the big man from down Penn Yan and Canogaharie way had an interesting pow wow which lasted for fully two hours.

Jocko explained in his introductory remarks that he had been in the baseball "biz" since 1886. He told how he was a catcher for Omaha and was sold out to Cincinnati for a fielder. Since those halcyon days he explained that he never donned a mask since his "Cincy" experience.

Jocko dealt out some baseball philosophy in good sized hunks. He says put a good pitcher and catcher, short stop and second baseman on a team, you will have a winner. He claims that if a battery is working right the short stop and second baseman will take care of the fielding, as nine-tenths of the hits are trained toward their territories. Put school boys in the outfield and they will catch all the flies.

Jocko also reiterated that he had taken part in squeeze plays and similar tricks in the old Brotherhood days. According to Jocko, it makes him laugh every time he reads about the "finds" and "world beaters" coming out.

Before Jocko started in the baseball "biz," he steered a plow on a farm near Penn Yarn. Jocko, along with his pal of ten years' standing, Gene McCann, piloted by two scribes, took a trip to Piscataway Sunday and was very much impressed with the scenic surroundings. Jocko was surprised about the large number of chickens being raised in the vicinity, and said it beat anything he ever apprehended in York State. Mr. Hallogan was also interested in the township poor farm where Noah Raby lived and died. He also thought the cows and hogs looked pretty healthy.

Mr. Vandegrift, the star backstop of the team, became homesick Sunday and took the first Blue Liner home to Trenton.

The topic of discussion in the camp is: "Who sent that bunch of violets to Gene McCann?"

Captain Joe Bean is the only Pilgrim in the bunch. He hails from Cambridge, Mass.

Wilson behind the bat looks good. He works fast and exhibits a well shaped throwing arm.

"Billy" Foxen sojourned at Tenafly over Sunday.

Hon. "Zippo" Holmes, of Iowa, is worried over the non arrival of his trunk and afraid of running short of "duds" before the team moves.

Jimmy Brogan and Mr. Reilly look like twins. This is no joke. Take a look for yourself.

Keister is a disciple of Isak Walton and is studying up the geographical conditions in the hope of locating some fishing holes.

Secretary Kinkead's visit was immensely enjoyed. During his short stay he passed around the cigars very liberally. By the way Mr. Kinkead is a warm admirer of Sammy Swackhamer. Saturday he shook hands with the Somerset statesman.

Since he became a benedict Mr. Clements is a very scarce article among the boys.

Mr. Lombardy, of Washington, D. C., the latest recruit, has not had an opportunity to show himself yet.

DIAMOND DUST.

Captain and Sergeant Michael Angelo Leonard announces that he is a red hot Democrat of the Colby stripe. There are others.

"Warry" MacLaughlin jumped in the game at Port Chester Sunday for the first this season, pitching for the Port Chesters against the Cuban X Giants. The negro team was defeated by the overwhelming score of 16 to 1. MacLaughlin allowed but three hits to the dusky artists and fanned out nine men.

Manager Daab is on the trail of Stallings, of Bayonne, to cover first base this season. Stallings played a few games with Westfield on and off for the past couple of seasons and is considered a good batsman and reliable fielder. With the acquisition of Stallings the team will be complete and a far heavier hitting team than last year and equally as fast in fielding. Curley, the new short stop, played a rattling game Sunday against the Cedars, accepting all the chances that came his way as well as tallying three good sized and juicy swats.

"Rube" Oldring played second base for the Philadelphia Athletics Sunday against Newark and gave a good account of himself. He accepted three chances and banged out one hit.

"Gene" Gauven, the former Hope chapel first baseman, is catching this season for Nat Strong's Murray Hill team.

Bertwhistle made a very graceful debut with the Hobokens Sunday in the game against the Cedars. He hasn't lost his batting eye by any means and during the game soaked out two tripples and a double.

Russell, the Northern New York League phenom, reported Sunday without any baseball shoes and was compelled to sit on the bench. Pitcher "Gene" McCann tells a story about pitching a game in his stocking feet once upon a time.

"Kid" Brogan should be in fast form when the season opens. The aggressive second bagger will practice all of the week with Manager Murray's players.

Manager Frank Burke, of Elizabeth, will have an opposition team before the season gets well underway. The new team will be known as the Invaders and will be managed by Al Neubeck, an old time semi-professional player of Elizabeth. Neubeck managed a minor team last season with good success. He has secured option on grounds situated on Jersey avenue in the El Mora section and expects to open the season early in May. Neubeck would have been engaged in baseball on a large scale last season but was unable to secure satisfactory financial backing for his new venture. During the past winter, however, he cleared $500 on a real estate deal, which he has salted into the enterprise. Two teams playing Sunday ball in the county seat may result in a war, the outcome of which will probably be that Sunday playing will be prohibited.

The Sporting Life stated last week that "Warry" MacLaughlin had signed a contract with the New London club. "Warry" says he knows nothing about it. The Plainfielder is still undecided as to what he will do in the baseball line.

Anxious cranks who want to get a line on this season's team will be given the opportunity next Sunday when the season will be opened in Hoboken with a game with the Jersey City team.

Since the Union County League has dropped the Clinton Avenue team of this city for the reason of it being too far from the county seat, President John Kriney, of the West End association, contemplates organizing a league to constitute Dunellen, New Market, Plainfield and possibly Bound Brook.

The Plainfield High School baseball team will have three strong games this week that will tend to test its strength. Tomorrow afternoon the first game will be played here with Rahway H. S. On Friday afternoon the opposing team will be DeWitt Clinton, of New York, and on Sinday afternoon the Commercial High School, of New York, will be here. All games will be called at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon. It is now practically certain that "Phil." Smith will not pitch for the local team, and Mahaffey and Stuart Freeman will be depended upon to do the twirling.

CLOSED PORTALS.

Jerusalem Chapter, No. 24, R. A. M., will hold a convocation on Thursday night and confer the Royal Arch degree on four candidates.

200 KILLED BY ASHES FROM VESUVIUS VOLCANO.

Five Hundred Dead in Zone of the Great Eruption.

Naples, April 10.—Two hundred homeless refugees from the volcano district were crushed to death this morning in the collapse of the great Mount Oliveto market place.

The great building had been turned into a barracks to shelter a part of those who had been driven from their homes by the eruption of Vesuvius. It was crowded to its capacity when the roof fell in from the weight of cinders and ashes from the volcano.

From every point throughout the district surrounded by Ottajano terrifying news is being sent out. Reports indicate that an immense area is buried beneath the ashes and cinders from the erupting volcano.

So great is the disaster that it is being looked upon as a repetition of the catastrophe of Pompeii and Herculaneum, except that in this instance ashes rather than lava cover the devastated places.

The loss of life cannot be determined at this time. It grows as the reports continue to come in.

All efforts on the part of press representatives and the authorities to ascertain the exact number of those who have already fallen victims have so far failed.

CELEBRATE PASSOVER.

Jews Here and Everywhere Observe Their Great Holiday.

The celebration of the Pesach, otherwise known as the Jewish Feast of the Passover, began last evening and will continue for eight days. It was estimated that 200,000 Jews attended the synagogues throughout New York city last night.

This celebration marks the anniversary of the exodus of the Jews from Egypt. All over the world the Passover is now being observed. It is said that more than a million of dollars was spent in preparations for the holiday.

FATHER, AS CLERGYMAN, WEDS COUPLES; SON, AS LAWYER, WOULD DIVORCE 'EM

In two petitions for divorce now pending the peculiar situations develop of father and son working at cross purposes. In both cases the principals were married by the father, who is a minister of the gospel, and are now seeking to be put asunder by the son, who is a lawyer.

Rev. Carl Girtanner, pastor of the Blum Street German Reformed church, is the father who tied the knot which his son, Paul F. Girtanner, is tugging at strenuously. In the case furthest advanced Robert Neigisch is seeking to be divorced from Amelia Fiedler Schmoeger Niegisch, the ground for the action being desertion. According to the papers in the case the Niegischs were married by the elder Gertanner, October 31, 1898, and lived together but four months.

The petition for divorce came up for a hearing before Thomas Anderson, a special master in chancery, recently. Though Mrs. Niegisch is said to be still a resident of this city, she did not make any defense. Desertion is also alleged in the papers in the other case, in which William Vahrenkamp and Anna Wickel Vahrenkamp are the principals. It was on March 12, 1899, that they called upon Mr. Girtanner, Sr., to have him join them in matrimony, and all went well for a year, when Mrs. Vahrenkamp is alleged to have packed her trunk and hied herself to distant parts.

MASON BUILT CHIMNEY, THEN HAD TO TEAR IT DOWN TO RELEASE HIS FEET

Califon, April 10.—A miscalculation as to the size of his feet caused Henry Conwell, a mason and builder, of Cokesbury, much extra work and considerable annoyance Saturday. He was building a chimney on the David Philhower residence in Main street. While working from a scaffold, he allowed his feet to hang down between the scaffold and the newly constructed chimney. When the chimney was completed he found he had not taken in consideration the size of his feet and he was firmly wedged fast. The scaffold was so constructed that if any part was removed he would be precipitated to the ground thirty feet below. Before conceiving the idea that the removal of his footwear would extricate him, he tore down the chimney and yesterday his friends were smoking cigars at his expense.

HORSE WOULDN'T MOVE EVEN WHEN ENGINE HIT WAGON

Robert Knight, of Westfield, driver for Julius Hilton, the Garwood baker, had a narrow escape from being killed at Garwood, last night. He started to drive across the New Jersey Central tracks, when he noticed an engine attached to the pay car approaching at a high rate of speed. Ordinarily he had sufficient time to cross, but the horse instead of responding to his driver's urging, stopped in the middle of the crossing and refused to move.

Knight quickly jumped out of the wagon and grasping hold of the horse's bridle did his best to get the animal off the tracks, but all to no purpose. He had scarcely left the wagon, when the train struck it full force and demolished it completely. A remarkable fact was that the horse was not injured, neither did he become frightened over the accident. The wagon was a new one and this was its first trip out. Nothing but splinters were left of it.

CHURCH FREE FROM DEBT

Treasurer's Report at First Baptists' Annual Meeting Reveals Prosperity.

RAISED OVER $25,000

Alexander Gilbert and Alfred W. Day Named As Trustees—To Publish a Church Annual.

The most gratifying feature of the annual parish meeting at the First Baptist church last night was the statement of the treasurer, J. Herbert Case, that the church has practically met all claims and is entirely free from indebtedness, with a balance in the treasury that is almost sufficient to pay the few remaining claims.

This condition was the subject of a few congratulatory remarks on the part of L. V. F. Randolph, moderator of the meeting. He said that the report of the treasurer showed the cleanest and most satisfactory condition for many years, and he referred especially to the fact that $1,200 had been raised to pay off the standing indebtedness, which now practically clears the church of debt. Another gratifying feature spoken of by Mr. Randolph was that all of the reports show an upward tendency and a substantial gain. He urged that the members be prompt and liberal in their contributions.

In all departments the church has raised during the past year over $25,000. The report of the treasurer last night covering current expenses showed the receipts for the year, exclusive of benevolences and other items, to be $10,508.50, and the disbursements were $10,343.64, leaving a balance in that fund of $164.86.

In the selection of two trustees for three years to succeed Alexander Gilbert and Frank E. Kinsman, whose terms expire, Mr. Gilbert was re-elected and Alfred W. Day was chosen in place of Mr. Kinsman.

J. Herbert Case made a brief statement about the efforts of the Men's Club to increase the contributions to the church through the envelope system and said that the work is progressing.

E. L. Bonny suggested that the Board of Trustees have a church sign placed on the front of the edifice, thereby indicating the name of the church, the pastor's name and hours of service, and it is quite likely that the idea will be adopted. Harold Serrell also made a suggestion that the trustees give their attention to the stairs leading from the vestibule to the gallery. He said that owing to the peculiar wind to the stairs it is exceedingly difficult for persons to go either up or down. This matter will be looked into.

The question of publishing a church annual was introduced by Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, the pastor. He spoke of the advantage and need of publishing once a year a convenient size book containing the reports of all departments, the list of officers, committees and a complete directory of the members with correct addresses. He recommended that this be done, and by a unanimous vote the pastor and Clerk, O. B. Leonard were authorized to have such a book printed.

Another improvement suggested was that either water or electric power be employed to blow the organ. In this connection Mr. Kinsman said that he had information that would be beneficial to the trustees and that he would be glad to consult with them at any time about it. The suggestion was gladly received and some action will be taken within a short time.

DEFER BROOK ACTION.

Somerset Freeholders Get Communication from the City and File It.

A formal communication from City Clerk J. T. MacMurray, regarding the cleaning and deepening of Green brook from Scotch Plains to the city, was read at the meeting of the Somerset County Board of Freeholders yesterday. The letter was sent in accordance with a resolution passed by the Council at its last meeting in line with Councilman Gloak's suggestion that the freeholders of the two counties clean out the brook. The Somerset board placed the letter on file.

Staats Veghte asked the board for damages for a wagon broken on the road near the Bridgewater township farm. Action was deferred.

Contract for the Woodward bridge in Bernards was awarded to Curtis O. Dunster (masonry) at $4 a cubic yard and Dover Boiler Works (iron) at $117. John C. Cooper was awarded the contract for the Bender bridge in Warren at $5.74 a cubic yard for masonry.

A petition for a stone road in Franklin township was filed.

The building committee reported it had leased the old and new chapels of the First Reformed church for holding courts.

DINNER TENDERED TO BASKETBALL TEAM

Y.M.C.A. FIVE REWARDED IN LIVELY PLAYING BY PHYSICAL COMMITTEE.

As guests of the physical work committee, the members of the Y. M. C. A. basketball team were entertained at dinner last night. The feast was spread at the Old Homestead, Washington avenue, North Plainfield.

The team closed its season on March 31, and the dinner was arranged to mark the windup of the play. The team made a showing better than any Y. M. C. A. five had in years, and the committee felt some testimonial was due to it.

A fine dinner was spread and five of the eight men on the team enjoyed it. Harry Scull, Ned Leary, Fred Letson, Theodore Gavett and Christopher Utzinger were the players present. Ray Smith, Edward Neal and Harry Thompson were unable to attend. Dr. Browning, the manager; C. B. Morse, the referee; Dr. Norman Probasco, chairman of the physical work committee; Kenneth Robbfe, who is acting-physcial director, and President J. W. Gavett, who, as an ex-athlete, takes great interest in the physical work department, were also there.

Informal speeches were made by C. B. Morse, Mr. Gavett, Dr. Browning, Harry Scull, the team captain, and Dr. Probasco. The players blushed under sundry compliments.

The five, although it suffered a number of defeats toward the close of the season, was, as a matter of fact, one of the fastest quintettes the Y. M. C. A. has ever put out. They played the pick of the teams in the metropolitan district, and that they won the majority of their games indicates their true measure and not the bunched defeats of the tail-end of the schedule. They fought the losing games hard. The regular picked five was made up of Thompson and Smith, forwards; Scull, center; Leary and Letson, guards.

ASSEMBLYMAN FORDYCE JOINS THE COLBY RANKS

LAWYER SEEKS NOMINATION FOR STATE SENATOR ON ANTI-BOSS PLATFORM.

New Brunswick, April 11.—Alexander R. Fordyce, Jr., who served two terms in the Assembly, in 1904 and 1905, and was defeated for the nomination for a third term at the last Republican County Convention, has announced himself a candidate for the Republican Senatorial nomination next fall. He has declared himself on an anti-boss platform and has begun a Colby ymovement in Middlesex. He will be opposed by the regulars, who will doubtless renominate Senator Jackson. Fordyce is a graduate of Princeton in the class of 1896. He lives at Dayton, and is a lawyer, practicing in New York.

In his platform he says:

"I have been requested to indicate my position with reference to the Senatorial nomination next fall, and after due consideration, now desire to state publicly that I shall be a candidate for that office and will make a campaign for the purpose of securing delegates to the Republican County Convention.

"In seeking this nomination it is my intention to appeal to the people directly, as I believe in government by the people and not by bosses; representation of and responsibility to the people, not of and to a boss.

"The boss, representing not the people, but special interests, dictating party nominations, making public officers his puppets, usurps the sovereignty of the people and barters away their rights and liberties, to his own pecuniary profit.

"Bossism and graft, going hand in hand, have been undermining the very foundation of representative government in this commonwealth.

"I believe that the people, with the scales fallen from their eyes, with an awakening sense of present evils and dangers yet to come from these vampires, will repudiate and throw them off entirely.

"I have sustained to the best of my ability the confidence of my fellow citizens in this county placed in me during my term in the Assembly; and if nominated and elected to the Senate I shall keep their confidence unsullied, be their representative in fact as well as in name, and shall look only to the advancement of the interests of the people of this county and State."

Blazing Fat Burned Her Hands.

While attending some kitchen work at her home yesterday, Mrs. George W. Cole, of West Second street, threw a piece of fat in the range. It blazed up so suddenly the flames caught her hands and as a result both were severely burned. Today they are in bandages and are very painful.

JOHN MOODY QUITS AS PARTY CHAIRMAN

HE RESIGNS BECAUSE DEMOCRATS TURNED DOWN HIS RESOLUTION.

John Moody, of Cranford, who has been chairman of the Union County Democratic Committee for a long time, sent his resignation to the secretary of that body today.

The expounder of the single tax idea quit because the county committee refused to endorse his views in changing the Democratic platform, as expressed at the conference of reformers held in Newark, last year.

The committee met at Elizabeth a few nights ago and engaged in a heated discussion regarding Mr. Moody's proposed changes. It was decided by a vote of twenty-two to three to reject his prosition.

Mr. Moody is chairman of the "True Democracy" of New Jersey, which includes the radical men of the party.

FORMER COMMISSIONER MARSHALL AT EL CANEY.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Marshall Home After a Visit to the West Indies.

Browned by southern sunshine and enjoying the best of health, Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Marshall, of Grant avenue, returned home, last night, after an enjoyable seven weeks' trip to the West Indies. They sailed originally for Jamaica and after spending a short time there continued on to Cuba, where much of the time was passed in going over the ground made familiar to Americans by the Spanish war. The sight-seeing included several of the battle grounds and a number of the larger cities.

They climbed San Juan hill, up which Roosevelt and his Rough Riders swept, viewed the trenches at El Caney and also visited Santiago and Havana and went through the historic Moro Castle. The return home was made by boat and was one of the pleasantest parts of the trip.

MR. DETWEILER'S FUNERAL.

Delegation of Fifty Local Elks Included in the Large Attendance.

The funeral of Daniel Detweiler was held at his late home on Carlton avenue, this morning, with a large gathering of relatives and friends in attendance. There was also a delegation of fifty members of Plainfield Lodge, No. 885, B. P. O. E., present, while the firm of V. Perrin & Co., of which Mr. Detweiler was general manager, was represented by the heads of the concern in New York, Chicago, Kansas City and Plainfield. The service was conducted by Rev. George A. Warner, rector of Holy Cross church. Two selections, "Nearer My God" and "Abide With Me," were sung by a quartette from the Elks, composed of George O. Stevens, E. E. Runyon, William N. Runyon and George Schoonmaker.

The floral tributes were very numerous and included set pieces from the Elks and the employes of the Perrin glove factory in this city.

The body was sent to New York to be interred in Mount Hope cemetery. Those who acted as pall bearers and accompanied the remains to their last resting place were H. C. Vanemburgh, A. D. Findlay and Hippolyte Texier, representing Plainfield lodge; Eugene C. Wile, A. L. de Willers, of New York, and H. Gontard, of Gloversville, representing the Perrin company.

DEATH OF CHARLES McCANN.

Well Known West End Resident Passes Away After Short Illness.

Charles McCann, for many years a well known and respected resident of the West End, died at his home on West Third street at 10:15 this morning. He was taken ill last Thursday with a light attack of the grip but it rapidly changed to acute erysipelas and his condition became alarming. Previous to last week he had enjoyed the best of health and his sudden demise was a great shock to relatives and friends.

Mr. McCann was sixty-two years old and for a long time after first making Plainfield his home was employed as a foreman on the New Jersey Central. For the past twenty years he had been with the Scott Press Works, where he was greatly liked by the men. He leaves a widow and five children, the Misses Katherine and Julia McCann, Mrs. Allen Squier, Edward McCann and Charles F. McCann, all of this city.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been made, but it will be held at St. Mary's church, of which he was a communicant.

—The Compressed Air House Cleaning Co. will demonstrate at Truell Inn, Thursday, April 12, at 2:30 p. m., their 20th century method of house cleaning. The public is cordially invited. ***

PLANNING COLBY MEETING

Judge Runyon to Confer With Other Members of Special Committee.

DISTRICT ORGANIZATION

League for Reform in Every Section of the County—Mr. MacMurray Has Nothing to Say.

Preliminary plans are now being made for the organization of the Colby movement in every district in Union county, it being intended to get things in shape to wage a campaign before summer sets in. It is said that three men will be agreed upon for Assemblymen, one of whom it is said will be the present incumbent, Everard K. Tucker, of Elizabeth.

Immediately following the meeting at Elizabeth, it is said that steps will be taken to effect an organization of some size in this city. It is known that there are many prominent men who have not taken any part in politics but who are in hearty sympathy with the movement and will identify themselves with the Colby movement. A canvas will be made of the city at an early date and recruits enrolled as speedily as possible.

Chairman Jones, of Saturday night's meeting, has appointed Judge W. N. Runyon, of this city; Mayor Ferber, of Rahway; R. B. Cissell and E. K. Tucker, both of Elizabeth, and Thomas Dubois, of Summit, as a committee to arrange for the big meeting to be held in Elizabeth on Saturday night, April 28.

Judge Runyon communicated with the members of the committee today to arrange for a meeting to perfect plans. He says that Mayor Mark M. Fagan, of Jersey City, will be invited to make the principal speech. Several men from Elizabeth and Plainfield, whose names are not annuonced, will be sprung as surprises on the meeting as Colby men, and they will be asked to speak.

City Clerk MacMurray, who returned to town yesterday, had no comment to make on the loss of his chief political lieutenant, Judge Runyon, and the invasion of Colby yinto Union county. He said that he had not read anything about the meeting.

Andrew McCardell, in referring to the Colby movement, said: "We are all reformers. There isn't anybody in Plainfield but what is interested in the cause of good government. Personally, I wouldn't stand for corruption in office. Speaking for Plainfield, I know that we have an honest government here."

P. S. C.'s CERTIFICATES FOR ELECTRICAL WORK.

Arrangement with Underwriters as a Guarantee of Good Insurable Risk.

The Public Service Corporation has perfected arrangements with the Underwriters' Association of the Middle Department to furnish each customer using electric light in the company's territory with a certificate approving electrical work. Announcements of this were received by patrons of the company today.

This arrangement was made to avoid any question that might arise in connection with the insurance of the buildings or the contents thereof, and upon the prompt return of information as to the owner and occupant of the property, together with the address and total number of lights installed, the company will furnish a certificate without cost to the patron, providing that the returns are received not later than April 15.

C. B. Morse Honored.

C. B. Morse, of this city, has been elected second vice-president of the Technical Publicity Association. He represents the Ingersoll-Rand Co., whose magazine, Compressed Air, he formerly edited.

Annual Meeting Put Off.

Because of a lack of a quorum, a result of the wet weather, the annual meeting of the First Presbyterian church was put off for a week last night.

New Hospital Steward.

T. A. Weaver, of Company K, has been appointed hospital steward of the Second Regiment to succeed N. R. Titsworth, discharged. The latter did not re-enlist.

Sesame Club Meeting.

The next meeting of the Sesame Club will be held tomorrow morning at the residence of Mrs. Frank Howland, 772 Kensington avenue.

—For high grade olive oil the place to go is Neuman Brothers' store. A new lot of strictly good quality, direct from France, has just been received.

—The Union County Republican Committee met at Elizabeth last night, but owing to the small attendance very little business was transacted.

"CHRISTY" MATHEWSON CONFINED TO HIS BED

GIANTS GREAT TWIRLER SUFFERING WITH NASAL DIPHTHERIA.

"Christy" Mathewson, the star twirler of the New York Nationals, is still confined to his bed, the result of a heavy cold and nasal dipptheria, with which he was attacked while on the southern training trip. "Matty" is under the care of Dr. Cregar, and is improving slowly. He will be unable to report for duty before next week. Southern training trips do not seem to benefit Mathewson very much. Last year he contracted a heavy cold while in the South and he was several weeks regaining his strength.

In the absence of Mathewson, McGraw will have to depend upon McGinnity, Wiltse, Taylor and Ferguson to do his twirling. The National League season will open tomorrow. The Giants will meet the Phillies in the Quaker City.

STOLE TWO BAGS OF POTATOES FROM HUCKSTER.

Newark Peddler Arrested on Plainfield Fellow's Complaint in State Metropolis.

John Southards was turned over to the local police by the Newark authorities yesterday to answer to a charge of theft preferred against him by George Kiersted, of this city. Southards was arrested in Newark, under a warrant sworn out before Justice Mosher last week.

Both principals are hucksters. Kiersted alleges that Southards entered his (Kiersted's) barn on East Fourth street, last Wednesday, and stole two bags of potatoes. A warrant was issued at once, but it was not until yesterday that the police of Newark, where Southards lives, were able to locate him. Southards will be arraigned before Justice Mosher this afternoon, when Kiersted comes back from a peddling trip. Southards' picture was taken this morning for the Rogues Galley.

MONT PELEE ERUPTION.

Lecture on Volcano Disaster at Park Avenue Baptist Church Affair.

The Sunday school of the Park Avenue Baptist church held an entertainment last night. In spite of the wather there was a good attendance.

Wesley Brokaw lectured on the eruption of Mont Pelee, his talk being illustrated by lantern slides. Moving pictures and mechanical slides were shown. Mrs. Wesley Brokaw played violin solos and recited, and an informal social time was enjoyed.

The affair was arranged by the Sunday school social committee, made up of Miss Florence G. Hawkins, Mrs. W. S. Lowry and Miss Cora R. Brokaw.

APPLAUDED EASTER MUSIC.

Pupils Censured by Principal For Display of Enthusiasm.

The High School pupils rehearsed their Easter programme yesterday afternoon. When the chorus finished singing, the other pupils burst into applause. Some of the boys cheered—the singing was so good.

Principal Ira W. Travell got up on the platform and looked with horror and disapproval at the school.

"Don't ever do that again," he said. "I am surprised. You must not applaud or show such signs of enjoyment at Easter music.."

"Tony" Ross Released.

Because Henry Clearfield, of Westfield, who was the complainant, has disappeared, "Tony" Ross, an Italian, charged with assault and battery, and who has been detained in the Union county jail for seven months, was released today in $100 bail. Clearfield conducted an all-night lunch wagon at Westfield and while on his way home late one night got mixed up with a gang of Italians, one of whom, supposed to be Ross, assaulted him.

In the Borough Court.

Michael Gleason, who was arrested in the borough early Sunday morning and who tried a fistic argument with Marshal Dooley, was fined $7 or seven days by Mayor Smalley, last night. He paid up and was released. George Cooper, also arrested Sunday morning, was let go on suspended sentence.

T. C. Aldrich Resting Easy.

Thomas C. Aldrich, of Grove street, who was taken seriously ill on Thursday, is reported as resting easy today, with a slight change for the better. Dr. Delafield, of New York, was called in consultation with the family physician this afternoon.

Hoodooed Lobbyists.

Thirteen South Plainfielders went to Trenton Monday to work for the advancement of the borough bill from committee to the floor of the Senate. They couldn't move it. Some of them are wondering if their number hoodooed them.

CITY BUDGET WILL BE BUT LITTLE LARGER

DEPARTMENTS WANTS MORE AND MAY GET UNIMPORTANT ADVANCES.

The finance committee of the Common Council held a late session last night preparing the annual tax ordinance which will be presented at the adjourned meeting tonight. As already stated in The Daily Press, the committee decided to wait on the final action of the Hillery maximum tax rate bill, which passed the House yesterday and is now ready for the Governor's signature, having previously passed the Senate. The bill as amended provides for a uniform maximum rate of $2, instead of $1.75, as originally intended.

In conversation with President Tolles, of the Common Council, last night a reporter for The Daily Press was informed that there is not likely to be much change from last year's budget, although the total will probably be a little larger. The different departments want more money, and the committee will try to secure it for them. Mr. Tolles said he could not make a statement regarding the budget until it was presented to the Council, but he confirmed the report that all the departments wanted more money.

It is probable the tax rate may be put at $2.5¢ again unless a new State law compels a change.

FAVOR CITIES HOLDING OWN ELECTRIC PLANTS

IN SPECIAL MESSAGE IGOVERNOR ADVOCATES PASSAGE OF LAW RELATIVE.

Governor Stokes yesterday sent a special message to the Legislature relative to the many bills concerning municipal ownership of public utility franchises, the diversity of their provisions and the general lack of uniformity in them.

The Governor recommends that before legislation of this kind be enacted the lawmakers shall agree upon some plan in order to avoid the confusion that generally arises in cases of this kind.

The Governor says that there have been introduced in the Legislature fourteen municipal lighting bills, some of which have passed and others are pending. He suggests that legislation on these lines should be carefully drafted, and municipalities should have expert boards entirely divorced from politics to supervise these enterprises. The Governor says that many attempts of the kind have failed because of lack of careful management.

The message goes on to say that those who desire municipal lighting expect from the Legislature a practical working scheme, and the people also look for a consistent, harmonious policy on the subject. The measures before the Legislature seem to be based on no well defined plan, being conflicting in their application.

The Governor says that he can hardly conceive that it was the legislative intent to have so many acts contradictory in their provisions simultaneously placed upon the statute books to result in the complete confusion of the law upon the subject.

Although many bills have passed only one has reached the Governor's hands and he feels that it would not be the part of wisdom for him to approve of morethan one on account of the discord of provisions.

Governor Stokes suggests that it not too late to devise some means of passing a complete, comprehensive and consistent law. He says the people will not be content with a law the title of which provides for municipal lighting, but the provisons of which are ineffective and impracticable.

MOTHER'S DEATH COMES SOON AFTER DAUGHTER'S.

Mrs. Mary F. Randolph Passed Away This Morning; Miss Alice Randolph Died Friday.

Mrs. Mary F. Randolph, widow of Daniel D. F. Randolph, died at her home on West Seventh street this morning, after an illness of several weeks with pneumonia. Her death was preceded by that of her daughter, Miss Alice F. Randolph, who passed away last Friday. She was in her eighty-third year and leaves one daughter, Mrs. Runk, who lived with her, and one son, Theodore Randolph, at one time in the shoe business on West Front street. She was a member of the First Baptist church and enjoyed a wide local acquaintance.

The funeral will be held at her late home Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

Health Bill Goes Through.

Assemblyman Barber got his public health bill, No. 488, through the Assembly yesterday. It is a supplement to the act to secure the purity of foods, beverages, confectionery, drugs, medicines, etc.

APPROVE PARADE IDEA

WHAT CLERGYMEN SAY

Rev. C. L. Goodrich, Rev. L. R. Howard, Rev. Phil. A. Parsons and Others Give Their Views.

Further discussion of the idea of holding a Sunday school parade in Plainfield during the early spring or summer shows that the scheme meets with the approval of many persons prominently interested in Sunday school work. They believe that if conducted along right lines it would be an imposing demonstration.

As previously stated, there are about 5,000 children in the local Sunday schools, and it is said that a large majority would be willing to lend their efforts towards making the affair a success. It has also been proposed that several bands of music be engaged to play appropriate hymns which the children could sing, and other sacred music. It is believed that it would result in arousing a greater enthusiasm in Sunday school work.

Rev. Joseph O. McKelvey, pastor of Warren chapel, said today: "If the affair could be worked successfully I believe it would be a good thing. I would favor it if conducted along right lines."

Rev. C. L. Goodrich, pastor of the Congregational church, said, when asked for his views: "I don't know how such affairs are planned and carried out, but I have heard that in Brooklyn the annual children's day parade is one of the greatest interest and one that both children and others look forward to. I think such a parade could be made a pleasing affair here provided the line of march was not too long, especially for the little ones who would be expected to take part."

Rev. L. R. Howard, pastor of Hope chapel, stated: "I see no reason why such a demonstration should not be brought to pass. It might be an interesting thing, but there would have to be a free and full discussion of ways and means."

"It's a splendid thing. We don't do enough along that line," was the comment of Rev. Phil A. Parsons, pastor of the First Church of Christ. "Such demonstrations can not fail to have a good effect. Personally I would like to see such a parade once a year and would do what I could to make it a success."

VERDICT AGAINST DENMAN.

Westfield Baseball Leader Fails to Appear to Defend Johnston Suit.

Judgment against Charles Denman, the Westfield baseball magnate, for the $25 George Johnston claimed to be due him on a loan made at one of the games last summer, was rendered by Justice Mosher this morning. Denman failed to put in an appearance at court, either personally or through counsel, and the action was purely formal.

Denman's comments on the suit when it was instituted indicated that he intended to contest it, and the plaintiff was surprised at the Westfield man's non-appearance. Execution will be issued. The verdict is for $25, interest and costs. Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., represented Mr. Johnston.

Patronesses for Colonial Tea.

Under the auspices of the Continental Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, a colonial tea will be held at the Park Club on Tuesday afternoon, April 24. The patronesses are Mrs. Frederick H. Adams, Mrs. Barclay, Mrs. Charles E. Brooks, Miss Mary E. Brown, Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Edward O. Chickering, Mrs. Rowland Cox, Mrs. Norman W. Currie, Miss Addie Dietrich, Mrs. M. E. Dwight, Mrs. Charles J. Fisk, Mrs. John G. Foster, Mrs. David Prescott Hall, Mrs. John C. Harmon, Mrs. A. V. D. Honeyman, Miss E. E. Kenyon, Mrs. Charles P. Leggett, Mrs. Charles W. McCutchen, Mrs. Henry McGee, Miss Sarah Manning, Miss Harriet Manning, Miss Mary A. Mellick, Mrs. Lawrence Meyers, Miss Susan E. Negus, Mrs. A. Stuart Patterson, Mrs. Rocap, Mrs. David Hall Rowland, Mrs. Harriett A. Schuyler, Mrs. Lemuel W. Serrell, Mrs. Stephen R. Struthers, Mrs. Mason W. Tyler, Mrs. Philip V. R. Van Wyck, Jr.

Stevens to Settle Trouble.

The marital troubles of Mr. and Mrs. John Stevens, which threatened to come out in court Monday, when Mr. Stevens was arrested on his wife's complaint, will probably be settled in private. The case was to have been heard this morning, but when the judge called it in the city court, counsel for both sides informed him that they desired a month's adjournment. The postponement was granted.

NEWS IN THE SUBURBS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY

Supt. Meseroll is studying the work at the Plainfield High School, in order to learn the requirements for students at that institution. The information is necessary in preparing studies for pupils who enroll for advancement to the Plainfield school under the new high school arrangement with the city. The Plainfield Board of Education has been officially notified that the borough accepted its offer of tuition.

Property owners in different sections of the borough who have broken the ordinance against dumping ashes and sweepings in the streets during the winter, have been notified by the borough clerk that the practice must stop. The offenses have been particularly noticeable at North and Lincoln and North and Washington avenues.

Dr. Tuttle, of Brooklyn, who has purchased the Goldson Smalley farm, will make his home there. Dr. Tuttle, who is an old physician of note in the city, will retire from active practice. Several people in this vicinity are acquainted with him.

The erection of the new Parker school in the township is to cost about $2,000. George Weigand will do the work. The new building committee, which will oversee the construction, is composed of Messrs. Ten Eyck, Nelson and Piddington.

The annual meeting of the building and loan association will be held tomorrow night. Four directors and an auditor are to be elected. The meeting will be held in the borough hall at 8 o'clock.

David Smith, a former resident here, and one time manager of the borough nine, has become the United States Express agent at Westfield. He was transferred from the New York office.

The insurance on the schools has been renewed for three years at the old rates. Fire rates advanced this month and the finance committee of the board forestalled the advance.

Asbestos covering has been placed over 150 feet of steam pipe in the Lincoln school to increase the fire protection. The recent fire loss has been settled for $20.

Rev. A. S. Phelps, who has been at Atlantic City for his health, is regaining his strength rapidly. He will conduct the Easter Sunday services.

New grating doors are to be fitted to the borough jail cells. Action on the improvement is to be taken at the May Council meeting.

Miss Matilda Vars, formerly a resident here, has been the guest of Miss Ella Boice for several days.

The new borough safe, purchased at a cost of $110, has been received and installed in the borough hall.

Louis Whitley and family will shortly move into the David Lawson house.

Charles Doolittle is home from Rutgers College for his Easter vacation.

Theodore W. Day is to receive $60 salary this year, the same as hitherto.

Miss Mabel Cole has returned from a visit to friends in Bayonne.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Willie Deegan pitches his first game of the season on Sunday for the Hoboken team. "Willie" has been gradually getting into shape for several weeks, and is said to be of midsummer quality.

The Public Service Corporation could improve upon the electric light service on Front street. Several of the lights have been out for several nights.

Miss Littell, a former member of the corps of teachers, but now a teacher in one of the New York schools, visited the school yesterday.

Miss Anna Bruchmann, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Bruchmann, has returned to her home at Newark.

Miss Bella Hyams, who has been spending several days with Miss Susie Parse, has returned to her home in New York.

John Schroeder, of New York, has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Hand, of Park avenue.

Special Easter music will be rendered at all the local churches Sunday morning.

Miss Sadie Lee has returned from a visit with friends in Plainfield.

WESTFIELD.

Westfield High School baseball team has dates scheduled up to June 9. The first game will be played next Saturday with the Rahway High School at Rahway. As there will be no regular team in the field the High School team has the use of the old ball field for its home games. L. G. Sanders is managing the team and Clinton Gilpin is captain.

Westfield Council is having the grade of the east side of Summit avenue, from Park street to Grove street, taken with a view to having flag walk laid on the east side of the street between these points. Over a mile of stone sidewalk is in contemplation by the street committee for this season.

Anna, the three-year-old daughter of Abraham Short, Prospect street, Westfield, died suddenly Saturday night of ptomaine poisoning. The physician of the Health Board will investigate the matter.

The annual meeting of the Men's Club of the Westfield Presbyterian church was held at the chapel last night. Reports of the first year of the club were given and officers for one year elected.

Garwood Council held an adjourned meeting last night.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

The thirteen men who went from here to Trenton, Monday, seeking to advance the borough bill to successful action in the Senate, have returned home. The bill still remained in committee hands.

Lewis Campbell, residing near Pumptown, will sell personal property consisting of one horse, hay, grain, etc., on Thursday afternoon, April 12, at 1 o'clock.

The local school has closed for the Easter vacation. South Plainfield does not hold school on Good Friday.

Mrs. George A. Strong, of Central avenue, has returned from Atlantic City, where she has been recuperating.

Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, of Central avenue, returned yesterday from a short visit in East Orange and New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Hagerdorn have returned to their home on Rahway road after spending the winter in New York.

—Oliver Hill, of the New Madison, has plans out for the erection of a new house on Martine avenue and work will be started soon.

—The annual meeting of the Monday Afternoon Club will be held at the Casino in May. There will also be the club entertainment about the same time.

Corporation Notice.

Sewer Assessments.

Second Notice.

The subscriber, the Collector of Taxes of the City of Plainfield, hereby gives notice pursuant to section 25 of the act of the Legislature entitled, "An Act to provide for drainage and sewerage in cities of this State," Approved April 7th, 1890, and the amendments thereof and supplements thereto, that unless the assessments hereinafter specified, with interest thereon at the rate of one per centum per month, and all costs and fees shall be paid to the subscriber, at his office, No. 151 North avenue, Plainfield, N. J., within thirty days after the first publication of this (being the second) notice, the subscriber will, on Monday, the sixteenth day of April, 1906, at his said office, No. 151 North avenue, in the City of Plainfield, New Jersey, between the hours of one and five o'clock in the afternoon, that is to say, at two o'clock in the afternoon of that day, proceed to make sale of and to sell at public auction, the several parcels of land and real estate upon which the said assessments shall remain due and unpaid, being those hereinafter particularly described, for the lowest term of years, but in no case exceeding fifty years, for which any person will take the same and pay the amount of such assessment, with the interest thereon as aforesaid, and all costs and fees, including the expense of advertisement and sale. The assessments above referred to are the assessments made by Robert A. Meeker, John W. Murray, Jr., and Samuel P. T. Wilbur, the Commissioners of Assessments of the City of Plainfield heretofore appointed under the ordinance entitled "An Ordinance to provide for the appointment of Commissioners of Assessments to assess damages and benefits under and by virtue of the act entitled 'An Act to provide for drainage and sewerage in cities of this State,' approved April 7, 1890, and acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto," approved February 8th, 1905, as ratified and confirmed by the Common Council of said city September fifth, 1905, containing the assessments of damages and benefits or expenses, as the case may be, for the making and constructing of sewers and appurtenances (including house connections), under and by virtue of the act of the Legislature entitled "An Act to provide for drainage and sewerage in cities of this State," approved April 7th, 1890, and acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto, and ordinances and other proceedings of the Common Council had under said acts of the Legislature, said report and assessments covering the whole of said system of sewerage and appurtenances already completed (not covered by assessments heretofore made) and particularly in and through the following named streets and parts of streets, to wit:

"JUST RIGHT" CLOTHES FOR EASTER WEAR.

There is a snap and style to the clothing we sell that is unmistakable. No custom tailor can turn out more perfectly finished clothes than the "Just Right" product. Every trick known to the trade is employed in fashioning and finishing this clothing in the best possible manner. Designers of acknowledged skill—some of the highest priced men in the country—begin the good work. Skilled cutters cut from perfect patterns which are the result of many years of experimenting. Expert tailors assemble the parts, put them together and finish the garments, and the finished clothing comes to you as perfectly made as clothing can be.

Examine our better suits and overcoats in any way you like, look closely at the clothes, at the stitching, at the lining—dissect it in any way you like, and you will find it flawless.

We Do Not Boast when we say this clothing is superior to most ready-to-wear stuff, and we do not brag when we claim it to be equal to the best the custom tailor can give you, no matter what his price.

We want you to drop all prejudice and give us an opportunity to at least show you some of this clothing. Let us prove to you that, not only is the clothing first class in every particular, but that we can fit you as accurately as any tailor ever could.

We would like to sell you your Easter suit as well as a new topcoat.

Dressy Frock Coats and Vests in the newest models, made of excellent materials, splendidly tailored; the higher priced ones beautifully lined with silk; at prices ranging from $15.98 to $42.

Trousers, suitable for wear with frock coats, in handsome and effective stripes, at from $4 to $10.

Black Cutaway Suits in the best new models, at from $15 to $35.

Spring Suits in materials both conservative and showy, cut in distinctive styles, faultlessly tailored, at $12, $15, $18, $20 and $25.

Top Coats from the extremely short to the more conservative lengths, in tans of many shades, gray mixtures and stripes, and in the dressy blacks, some of the latter silk-lined to the edge, at prices ranging from $9.98 to $35.

Fashionable Surtouts, $25 to $35.

We are sole agents for the Stetson Soft and Stiff Hats.

We sell a good Black Derby Hat for only $2.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

Denman Thompson's always admirable "Old Homestead" is announced as the attraction at the New Plainfield Saturday. Of this quaint, delightful old New England idyl nothing new can be written, any more than of some of the older classics, for the play is a classic even though a New England one. It has no peer among American domestic dramas. It stands for what is good and wholesome, true and honest in New England life, and it is bound to have perennial youth because it tells a true story of the human heart in a homely and sympathetic way.

Quite the most important theatrical event of local interest concerns the first engagement here of Florence Roberts, the clever emotional star who comes to the New Plainfield theatre next Monday night in the leading role of "The Strength of the Weak," a new modern play in four acts by Alice M. Smith. Contrary to the policy pursued by Miss Roberts in former years when she interpreted such roles as "Zaza," "Magda," etc., she begins this season a new regime of her career which provides for a new play each season for the next five years. In "The Strength of the Weak" Miss Roberts is said to have an excellent play and a part admirably suited to her ability as an emotional actress. The action of the play occurs in and near New York city, the first act showing a woman's college on graduation day. The story concerns a young orphan whose education has been provided for by her guardian. She has written a book, published anonymously, which reflects certain phases of her life and narrates her relations with the unscrupulous guardian. The latter's son becomes an ardent suitor for the woman's hand, although she is not aware of his relationship with her guardian. The complications arise when the authorship of the book is disclosed and continues through splendid dramatic situations to a perfectly natural denouement. The characters have been drawn with bold, broad strokes and represent types of people who are real rather than those of theatrical creation. The scenes occur at a woman's college, a hunt club hall in a fashionable Long Island residence and the apartments of the heroine in New York, all providing excellent locales for the many strong situations.

At the New Plainfield theatre next Tuesday night the Pixley & Luders cycle of musical comedy will be continued in the presentation of "The Prince of Pilsen," a work which enjoys deservedly a larger share of popular favor than often falls to the lot of this evanescent form of stage entertainment. Its story has much to commend in form as substance, the adventures of the alderman from Cincinnati on his holiday trip to Nice being narrated in a manner that does no violence to the "eternal verities;" the songs are dainty and poetic and the music supplied by Gustav Luders suggests spontaneity and inspiration rather than the reminiscent pilferings of made-to-order compositions. The company sent by Manager Henry W. Savage has in it many who have remained by the Prince during his entire reign, and the cast in its entirety suggests that the management experiences no trouble in keeping the organization fully up to the standard fixed by the original performance. Jess Dandy will be again the Cincinnati alderman with "splintered speech."

Herbert E. Denton, who heads the strong company which will present the magnificently staged modern high class melodrama, "A Ragged Hero," at the New Plainfield theatre on April 18, has earned the enviable position he now holds as the absolute leader in melodramatic work, by the intelligent exercise of his remarkable talents and by hard conscientious work.

Plainfield, N. J., April 11, 1906.

Through the kindness of Governor Stokes, Foster M. Voorhees has been able to sever his connections with the "Down and Out Club." He has left the political mourners' bench and will soon be seen on the law bench. Congratulations to Judge Voorhees.

In the face of the strong protest made by North avenue merchants and business men generally, there is but one thing for the Common Council to do with the Schanz petition tonight. No member of that body can conscientiously vote to grant a license for a saloon in the face of public sentiment against it. The petition should be refused without any dissenting vote.

It does not seem to be altogether fitting to have Easter carols sung in the public schools on Good Friday, the most solemn day of the year. Exercises of a gladsome nature though they be religious were not intended for the day on which the Saviour died to save the world. That is the day set aside for mourning throughout the whole Christian world and surely this is a Christian nation. Were Good Friday a sectarian observance, the case would be different, but practically all believers in Christ hallow that day. Here in Plainfield nearly every church of the many Protestant denominations observe it in some way or another. Many of them have arranged for special services. To make it more significent, union services of the twenty odd congregations in the city and borough are held and without respect to creed the ministers with their parishioners join in a solemn service, following a custom established years ago. Would it not be more in keeping with the spirit of the day to suspend sessions in the schools and thus instill in the minds of the pupils the meaning of Christ's sacrifice for His children?

JEWISH NEGROES HERE IN FORCE FOR PASSOVER

PLAINFIELD THE JERUSALEM FOR THE COLORED SABBATARIANS OF THE EAST.

Negroes who belong to the Sabbatarian sect that worships under the title of Saints of God and Church of Christ from all over the central and northern East will congregate at Reform Hall tomorrow and Friday to observe the Passover. There is a strong colony of the sect here, and Elder Trent, their leader, arranged the convocation.

The first delegation from out of town arrived in town this morning from Boston. There were between sixty-five and seventy-five in the party, which was composed of men and women of all ages. Elder Trent met them at the station and, like a patriarchal leader, headed them, marching two by two, through the city to Reform Hall. A preliminary service will be held tonight.

Elder Trent said seventy-five different churches would be represented at the gathering. He estimated that pretty nearly 3,000 of the faithful would be here by Friday.

IT'S JUDGE VOORHEES NOW IF YOU PLEASE.

Former Governor to Go On the Circuit Court Bench.

The Senate yesterday confirmed the appointment of former Governor Foster M. Voorhees as a circuit court judge. The confirmation of Governor Stokes' appointee was made in executive session and there was no discussion on it.

What circuit Judge Voorhees will be assigned to is not known. He is a resident of Elizabeth and that fact leads some to believe that he may hold court in the fifth circuit, which includes Union and Middlesex counties.

FAILED TO RAISE RATE IN HILLERY TAX BILL

ASSEMBLYMAN MARTIN PUT UP STIFF FIGHT BUT WAS VOTED DOWN.

Assemblyman Martin, of Essex, failed in an effort in the Assembly at Trenton yesterday morning to get an amendment into the new Hillery maximum tax rate bill, Senate 108. Mr. Martin endeavored to change the maximum rate from $1.75 on the $100 to $2. The amendment was lost by a vote of 20 to 22.

The bill has passed the Senate and came up in the House on second reading. Mr. Martin immediately proposed his amendment. He insisted that Newark could not exist with a rate of $1.75. He declared that the average rate in the State was $2.20, and a $2 rate was fair and necessary in large cities.

Mr. Perkins opposed the change. He said investigation showed that if property was assessed at the constitutional value a $1 rate would be ample. He also called attention to the fact that the additional millions to be collected from the railroads under the new law would probably obviate the necessity of collecting any State school tax. This new order of things would tend to keep the tax rate down. The vote was then taken and the amendment was lost.

The Senate passed the bill by a vote of 13 to 0. It had a repealer attached. The bill provides that in districts where the tax rate last year did not exceed $2 per $100 worth of property, the rate shall not be exceeded this year, and shall be annually diminished by not less than five cents per $100 until reduced to $1.75; that where the rate exceeded $2, it shall be reduced 10 cents annually, and that when the $1.75 rate is reached by all districts in any county the tax rate for county purposes shall not exceed 50 cents. The limit does not apply to State tax or amounts necessary to pay judgments against taxing districts.

Mr. Hillery had the bill placed back on second reading and introduced three amendments to make the reduction begin in 1906 instead of 1907. Mr. Horner remarked that municipalities had made their appropriations without having this bill in view, and that it would not be right to jump the bill on them, with the proposed amendments, without notice. Mr. Hillery said that rather than endanger the bill he would withdraw his first three amendments changing the time, and let the bill go back to the House. He, however, let the amendments go before the Senators, and they were promptly voted down. The fourth amendment, containing the repealer, was passed unanimously.

The Men's Club of the First Baptist church will hold its regular meeting on Monday night.

MEETING OF THE WEST JERSEY PROPRIETORS

ANCIENT SOCIETY HOPES TO HAVE STATE PRESERVE VALUABLE PAPERS.

Burlington, April 11.—In the belief that the State is soon to make an appropriation for the better preservation of the building and records of the West Jersey Proprietors in this city, more than unusual interest was taken by the people of this vicinity in the 230th annual meeting of that old organization, which was held here yesterday. While this organization has but little significance in the eyes of the law, and is continued more for its historical connections than for any other reason, it has in its possession records and maps of the utmost value to the State of New Jersey. These papers, while carefully preserved in the surveyor general's office in this city, are constantly exposed to loss from theft or fire and should they ever be lost or destroyed could never be replaced.

A movement to secure these papers for the State was defeated a few years ago, when a bill was introduced in the Legislature authorizing the purchasing from the proprietors of all their claims by the State. The bill neer passed, and as the proprietors have refused to surrender these papers to the State the present bill calling for an appropriation of $2,000 to be expended for placing of better safeguards about these relics of the earlier days of the commonwealth. The measure is said to meet with popular approval and will probably be passed.

The home of the proprietors and also the place of storage for the maps and records is in the surveyor general's office—a little one-story building of red brick, located near the center of the city. Iron gratings enclose the windows and give the place a general air of security. A few years ago this little building, with its valuable records, was threatened with destruction, when fire destroyed a large hall and skating rink on adjoining property. It was saved by firemen, who concentrated their efforts in driving the flames from that quarter.

At the meeting of the proprietors today the most important business transacted was the electing to membership of Frank D'Olier to fill the vacancy caused by the death of his uncle, the late Mayor Franklin C. Woolman. The other members of the council in this city and vicinity are Walter E. Robb, Richard Mott, of Burlington; Frank Earl, of Pemberton; Henry J. Irick, of Vincentown, and Henry S. Haines, of this city, the present surveyor general. Benjamin Cooper, of Philadelphia, a member of the Gloucester division, is now the oldest member and largest shareholder in the proprietary council.

Among the records that are most cherished by the proprietors is their original constitution, under which the State was governed during the early days of its settlement, more than two centuries ago. There are also the sets of minutes of the society and other papers rich in historical interest. The West Jersey Proprietors are almost as old as the commonwealth of New Jersey itself, and are inseparably connected with the early history and colonization of the State. The council was organized in 1687, and its members were large property owners who had come into possession of certain grants in New Jersey, or New Caesarea, as it was then known, either from the crown or through purchase. For a few years prior to this the land was held by Lord Berkley and Sir George Cartaret, who received their grant to the tract from the Duke of York.

Later, however, Berkley became dissatisfied with the financial prospect in the new colony and sold out his undivided moiety of the State to John Fenwick, a Quaker. The purchase price was £1,000 sterling and a royalty of forty beaver skins annually. The money was supplied for this purchase by Edward Billynge. Billynge soon became financially embarrassed and his creditors then laid claim to Fenwick's grant, which he had purchased from Lord Berkley. William Penn was made one of the arbitrators to settle the dispute over the ownership of the land. He decided in favor of Billynge's creditors, and the land was divided up and sold to settle their claims.

Purchasers of these lands were known as proprietors, and it was the more wealthy and prominent of these that founded the Proprietary Council, which for several years had considerable weight in the governing of West Jersey, and even took part at times in the choosing of the State Governors. Later this body was succeeded by the Central Assembly, and its power gradually became less. The ol dorganization was continued, however, and for the last two centuries it has been perpetuated by an annual meeting of the heirs to the original proprietors, now seven in number.

CRIES OF "LYNCH HIM!" ON NEW YORK "L" TRAIN.

Negro Strikes White Woman, and a Riot on Crowded Car Results.

In a crowded car of an elevated train on Columbus avenue, New York, last night, Albert Trott, a negro, brutally struck Miss Isabel Oliver, an Alabama woman, living at 292 West 142d street, New York, in the face, cutting her nose, blackening both eyes, and knocking her down. The men in the car, fired with anger, attacked the negro, who fought desperately, amid cries of "Lynch him!" and "Kill the nigger!" A policeman had to draw his club to defend the negro from being wrested from him and probably killed by the infuriated male passengers.

Miss Oliver was in the center of the car holding a strap. Just in front of her was the negro, also hanging to a strap. As the train drew into the 72d street station the negro lurched backward against Miss Oliver, who said:

"You should be more careful."

The negro replied profanely and insolently.

Angered by his brutal remark, Miss Oliver replied: "Where I come from negroes are more polite. They know their place."

The negro then deliberately struck Miss Oliver a terrific blow in the face before any one could interfere. He followed the first blow with others, hitting her in both eyes and knocking her down.

In a second the car was in a turmoil. The negro attempted to escape, as the train had come to a stop at the station, but he was surrounded by an angry crowd of men, wildly shouting, and he was forced to defend himself. The car was jammed, and the men fought at such close quarters that many of the blows intended for the negro landed on men who were in turn fighting desperately to get at the colored man. The angry cries of the men, screams of fright from the women and the noise of the fray was heard all through the train. Passengers in the other cars were intensely excited.

The conductor tried to force his way into the car, but could not pass the dense mass of struggling and fighting men. The motorman blew his whistle several times for help.

Patrolman Slattery rushed up to the station and had to fight his way through a crowd of several hundred people. Drawing his club, he reached the side of the colored man, who, although overwhelmed with numbers, was fighting desperately. As Slattery started to take his prisoner out an attempt was made to wrest the man from the policeman.

In the station house Miss Oliver became hysterical and pulling a hatpin out of her hat made a lunge for the negro. Sergeant Stevenson jumped from behind the desk and caught the woman before she could accomplish her purpose. She said she would appear against the negro in the West Side Court this morning.

BLAMED IN ON FIVE ACES.

Causes Trouble, It Is Said, in a Washington, N. J., Barber Shop.

Washington, N. J., April 11.—The sudden discovery of five aces in one pack of cards, it is said, resulted in the wrecking of J. W. Miller's barber shop here Sunday, and the incident occurred as the people were going to church. The playing, the story goes, had been going on since 11 o'clock the night before. Suddenly, one of the players declared there were five aces in the pack and that he was being robbed. There was instant tumult.

There were some personal encounters, during which, it is said, William Laury struck Grant Heed over the head with a chair, causing a scalp wound; several coats were torn, hats crushed and other damage done. It is said that Laury is the man who discovered that there were five aces in the pack.

HEAVENLY REST CHURCH EASTER MUSIC PROGRAMME.

Special Orchestra as a Feature of Sunday's Services.

The Easter Day programme of music at the Church of the Heavenly Rest, under the direction of Garret T. Dunham, organist, will be particularly attractive this year. A special attraction will be an orchestra composed of Ernest Higham, violin; George W. V. Moy, viola; M. Muller, 'cello; Dr. J. Hervey Buchanan, bass viol.

The arrangement of the music is as follows: Opening Voluntary, orchestra and organ; Processional Anthem, "As It Began to Dawn," Vincent; Responses; Chant, "Christ Our Passover," Rudd; Glorias; Te Deum "No. 4 in C," Buck; Jubilate Deo "in B flat," Buck; Responses; Hymn "No. 111," Rimbault; Kyrie Elieson, Tuckerman; Gloria Tibi, Gounod; Hymn "No. 117," Neander; Offertory Anthem, "Hosanna," Jules Granier; Nicene Creed, Bruce Steane; Sanctus, Bruce Steane; Communion Hymn, Bruce Steane; Lord's Prayer, Bruce Steane; Gloria in Excelsis, Bruce Steane; Chant, "Nunc Dimittis," Bruce Steane; Recessional Hymn "No. 121;" Postlude.

Rines' at Y. M. C. A.

On account of the weather there was an attedance of only about forty men at the evangelistic meeting conducted by the Rines brothers at the Y. M. C. A. last night. The meeting was a good one, however, earnest and helpful. Several of the men present gave testimony. Albert Rines spoke. Both of the brothers sang. The evangelists will hold a meeting at Faith chapel tonight.

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

Careful trucking is done by H. J. Wierenga. Let him do yours. He will give entire satisfaction. North avenue.

F. J. Huff, Esq., the West Front street lawyer, will attend to all legal matters for you promptly and at reasonable prices.

Timbo's restaurant on North avenue is just the place to feed the inner man. Full line of tobaccos and cigars always in stock.

Men's furnishings are a feature at Putnam & DeGraw's dry goods store on West Front street. Good place to purchase your Easter furnishings.

Clayton M. Neagle, of West Front street, conducts a first class drug store. Everything up-to-date and only reliable medicines and drugs sold.

Do you want coal of the finest quality? Then order yours from L. A. Rheume, East Fourth street. His coal is clear burning. No slate or dust.

Carl Silbert, the West Front street jeweler, carries a large stock of the best watches, diamonds and silverware of all kinds. Inspect it and you will surely buy.

If you have not purchased your new Easter hat or furnishings stop at O. M. Dunham's store in Park avenue at once. His stock is the best and prices reasonable.

House-painting, inside and out, done by Woolston & Buckle, North avenue, is just right. You never need worry about the work of the W. & B. force. It is always of the highest possible grade.

There is something for everybody who wants to beautify the living room or the dining room of the home in J. W. Gavett's store. Utilitarian articles as well. The line of chinaware is tip-top.

L. W. Randolph, the West Front street druggist, has one of the most attractive Easter decorations at his pharmacy, reminding his patrons that he is always mindful of the various seasons. His well stock store is headquarters for drugs and medicines.

The line of spring clothing shown by Harry Werner, West Front street, is full of suggestion and attention for the young man. No matter how fastidious a dresser he is, the prospective buyer will find things to make him anxious to possess them in the Werner stock.

HOW TO SAVE COAL.

Not in the Household, but in Great Industrial Plants.

In addressing the Glasgow University Engineering Society the other day the president, G. T. Beilby, said that there are in Great Britain steam engines and boilers with a yearly output of at least 5,000,000 horse power. The coal consumed by these is not less than five pounds per indicated horse power hour, or on the whole 40,000,000 tons. By the use of gas engines and steam turbines the coal consumption might be reduced to one and one-half pounds per indicated horse power hour, or on the whole to 12,000,000 tons. The saving in coal, therefore, would be equal to 28,000,000 tons, valued at £9,800,000. The cost of making the change need not exceed £50,000,000, or, if the power is to be delivered as electricity, £60,000,000, or respectively, $250,000,000 and $300,000,000.

Theoretical economies of this kind, he added, were often disregarded, but in the present instance they would amount to over 16 per cent. on the capital expenditure, and still more would result if one takes credit for more efficient plant reducing working costs.

Rev. Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Hubbell, of Central avenue, have returned from the South.

Mrs. Elmer Volk, of Elmwood place, is very much improved from a long and tedious illness.

Miss Edna Baldwin, of Dunellen, who took a position at typewriter and stenographer at the law offices of W. S. Angleman, has been obliged to resign owing to poor health.

COME REASONS.

Why Plainfield People Should Follow This Valuable Advice.

Because the proof is in Plainfield.
You can easily investigate it.
Not necessary to experiment
With some untried remedy.
Profit by the experience of a citizen.

A. C. Lazzi, stone-cutter and carver, of 244 East Third street, Plainfield, N. J., says: "For several years I was troubled with a distressing backache and with pains in the region of the kidneys. My head also ached severely and the secretions from the kidneys were not at all natural. I tried several doctors and some so-called kidney remedies, but none gave me any relief, and as my case became more and more persistent, I became somewhat discouraged because I could find no relief. I saw an advertisement regarding Doan's Kidney Pills and got a supply at Randolph's pharmacy. Soon after taking them my troubles vanished like the mist and since then I have felt stronger and better in every way."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

IT IS FOR LADIES, TOO.

They Can Stop Their Hair Falling Out With Herpicide.

Ladies who have thin hair and whose hair is falling out, can prevent the hair falling out, and thicken the growth, with Newbro's "Herpicide." Besides, Herpicide is one of the most agreeable hair dressings there is. Herpicide kills the dandruff germ that eats the hair off at the root. After the germ is destroyed, the root will shoot up, and the hair grow long as ever. Even a sample will convince any lady that Newbro's Herpicide is an indispensable toilet requisite. It contains no oil or grease, it will not stain or dye. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

NEXT!

Little Willie is still doing things to the baby. Here's his record to date:

Willie tied the baby's ear
Firmly to the chandelier;
Baby chuckled, full of glee—
'Twas his ear of corn, you see.
—Princeton Tiger.

Willie pulled him by his tongue;
Round and round the room they swung;
Baby seemed to like it, though—
'Twas his wagon tongue, you know.
—Chicago Tribune.

Willie having done these two,
Looked to find what else to do;
Cut his head up half an hour—
'Twas his head of cauliflower.
—New York Mail.

Willie pounded baby's head,
And the infant, smiling, said:
"Oogie googie, umpty tum"—
'Twas the head of baby's drum.
—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

Willie, with his papa's hatchet,
Gave the baby's face a knock;
Baby crowed with joy, for 'twas the Face of baby's nursery clock.
—Boston Post.

Willie's little appetite
Longed for something nice and light;
Ate his leg, the little glutton—
'Twas his little leg of mutton.
—Montreal Star.

Willie then, for a surprise,
Dug out both of baby's eyes;
Baby laughed, gave Will a hug—
'Twas his 'tater's eyes he dug.
—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Little Willie took a drop
While held by his loving pop;
Did it hurt him? Not a bit.
Paragoric makes pain git.
—Yonkers Statesman.

Willie sawed his leg in two,
Fed it to him in a stew;
Baby didn't care a button—
It was baby's leg of mutton.
—Cleveland News.

Willie hacked the baby's thigh
Bare of meat, without a sigh;
Baby laughed and sucked the bone—
'Twas a rooster's, not his own.
—Kansas City Telegram.

Willie found a fat cigar,
It was strong and black as tar;
Baby ate it; did not choke—
For it was a candy smoke.
Cincinnati Enquirer.

Willie's such an awful cuss,
Always planning for a muss,
Guess by this time baby of'en
Wishes she was in her coffin.
—Washington Post.

Willie cut the little toes,
Baby's yells in anger rose.
Without toes he quickly ran—
Toma-toes were in the can.
—Exchange.

Willie cracked babe's little neck,
My! it was an awful wreck!
Baby tried young Bill to throttle;
Bill had cracked the baby's bottle.
—Trenton True American.

Willie pulled out baby's teeth,
Not because of pain or ache;
Only just to have some fun;
Teeth belonged to baby's rake.

Now Mrs. Chandler.

On the advice of friends, Mrs. Florence Maybrick, who returned to the United States last year after her release from an English prison on a ticket-of-leave, has decided to assume another name in order to escape unpleasant notoriety. Henceforth she will be known as Mrs. Chandler.

MRS. APPLEGATE WELL AGAIN!

"I have had a bruised leg and foot for several years, caused by the brass eyelets of my shoe, which became very sore and painful especially at night. It itched, burned and ached me till it nearly set me crazy. I used everything I found and was suggested to ease it and nothing gave me any relief till I found and applied Azienza Cream which I think is a wonderful remedy for all sores and inflammation of the skin. The hard knots on my legs were as painful as bee stings, with discolored and purple spots. A running sore on my instep size of a half-dollar; the top of my foot a seething sore clean around to my heel. The bone was sore for a whole year and very painful. I used five and one-half jars of Azienza Cream and healed the sore all up. The foot remained tender and I continued to use to strengthen and toughen the skin until now it is entirely well." (Signed) Mrs. Hannah Applegate, Evergreen Ave., Avon, N. J., Sept. 3rd, 1905. 50 cents. Ask the druggist or by mail Azienza Specialties Co., Jersey City, N. J.

GOTHAM'S AMUSEMENTS

The third duo of stars under the direction of David Belasco to occupy the Academy of Music, New York, took possession of the great theatre on Monday last. It was Miss Percy Haswell and Robert Haines, who play the principal parts in Mr. Belasco's Oriental tragedy, "The Darling of the Gods." The play ran for a season at the Belasco theatre two seasons ago. The revival at the Academy of Music is distinguished by the magnificence and care in every detail which made it such a notable offering originally. Miss Haswell, as Yo San, and Mr. Robert T. Haines, as Kara, have established themselves as favorites in New York, and the whole production has been lauded by the critics and endorsed by immense audiences. Mr. Belasco has held possession of the Academy for several months, and it can be truly said that the historic playhouse, never had such an era of prosperity as it has enjoyed while the wizard's plays have held the boards. The receipts at the box office during Mrs. Carter's six weeks' run were $103,000. These figures have been sworn to by Mr. Belasco and E. G. Gilmore, manager of the Academy of Music, before a notary public.

The "standing room" sign is in evidence at the Studebaker theatre, Chicago, where the special western company of "The College Widow," headed by Thomas Meighan, Frances Ring, Katherine Nugent and Lida McMillan, is presenting this laughter-compelling comedy. The impetus already obtained by this merry college play indicates that George Ade's masterpiece will run in the Studebaker all summer, and theatre parties from suburban cities are a feature.

Crowded houses still attest the popularity of George Ade's laughable success, "The College Widow," which is nightly delighting thousands at the Garden theatre, New York. The 360th performance in Greater New York has been reached by this special company, which includes all the original favorites, who have received the stamp of approval by thousands of metropolitan playgoers. Dorothy Tennant as the widow and Gertrude Quinlan in her inimitable characterization of Flora Wiggins, daughter of the village boarding house keeper, Frederick Truesdell, as Billy Bolton, the half-back, Stephen Maley, Frederick Burton and others, all maintain the same standard of excellence and play with the same enthusiasm as marked the original performance of this comedy in New York.

James McIntyre and Thomas K. Heath, the only living genuine delineators of the old style of negro, who flourished in the South in the days of their youth, are the stars of Klaw & Erlanger's production of George V. Hobart's big musical vaudeville, "The Ham Tree," which proved a sensational success on Broadway, Philadelphia, Pittsburg and Chicago, and which is at the Grand Opera House, New York, this week. These artists, who have been before the public for thirty years, present the negro with all of his natural comedy. McIntyre and Heath long ago established their right to be recognized as artists and hold the position of leaders in this field of entertainment. There is no riot of ragtime, coon shouting and obtrusive substitution of the counterfeit of the real negro in this performance. They present a remarkable contrast in their performance to the garish, noisy style of their inartistic contemporaries. It is certainly refreshing to see two men, with a few old clothes and the daub of burnt cork on their countenances, create the genuine atmosphere of the Southland with the natural touch of the negro whose very seriousness is productive of laughter. It is this quality in their performance in "The Ham Tree" which raises them far above the ordinary and which proves a revelation to many who have not heretofore seen them or known of their remarkable success on the vaudeville stage.

MAY CONTEST TAX ACT.

Railroads Expected to Force State to Go to Court.

Trenton, April 10—There is a persistent rumor about the State House to the effect that the railroads have determined to fight the Perkins equal taxation act, by which their taxes will be increased from $1,000,000 to $4,000,000 a year.

It is said they have already given instructions for their representatives to ignore the section of the bill which requires the filing with the State authorities of annual valuation statements. This will lead the State to begin litigation to compel the observance of the requirements of the law and the result will be that the courts will pass upon the constitutionality of the measure.

—The thirty-six cases of birds secured from the estate of the late Prof. Howlett have been placed in the North Plainfield High School building on Somerset street, where they can be seen and appreciated. A platform was erected especially for the cases which have been arranged three high. The collection is probably one of the most valuable and rare to be found in this country and will assist the teachers largely in their instruction to the children.

John Gaub, of Duer street, is able to be out again after an attack of tonsilitis.

Miss Elmira C. Runyon, of Arlington avenue, has returned home after a visit in Boston.

On checking accounts 3 per cent interest is paid from the day of deposit until withdrawn, providing a balance of $200 or more is maintained. This interest is credited quarterly, June, September, December and March.

BASEBALL TEAM NOW PROMISED FOR WESTFIELD

PLANS HAVE BEEN PERFECTED TO LOCATE SEMI-PROFESSIONAL NINE.

Baseball in Westfield is not dead, by all means, and the natives of Mt. Ararat will see the national game played at Recreation Park this summer, despite all yarns to the contrary. The team has been organized by a Mr. Nichols, a well known baseball man, of Elizabeth, and Mr. Hill, an enthusiast of the national game, who resides at Westfield. The season will be opened in May, the initial contest being between the Garwood A. C. or Rahway team. A crack battery has been signed, and it is expected that the new management will soon begin negotiations with Manager Daab for a series with Plainfield.

Arrangements have been made with Charles H. Denman for the rental of the baseball grounds. Mr. Nichol assures the Westfield public that the team will be composed of strong players who will be fully able to uphold the reputation of the town gained in past years under the management of Mr. Denman.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, preached a Lenten sermon on Monday night in the Reformed church, Belleville, of which Rev. William W. Connor is the pastor.

Rev. George Mooney, who has been transferred to the South Orange M. E. church, will have charge of the prayer meeting at Monroe Avenue church tonight.

Rev. Dr. J. B. VanMeter, formerly pastor of the First M. E. church, but now dean of the Women's College, Baltimore, has returned after a visit of several days in town.

The annual meeting of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church will be held tonight. Reports for the year will be presented, and four elders and two deacons will be elected.

The annual meeting of the Women's Home Missionary Society of Grace M. E. church will be held at the home of Mrs. E. A. Vermeule, 28 Jackson avenue, tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The Christian Endeavor flower committee, of which Mrs. Charles Van Winkle is the chairman, will have charge of the Easter decorations at the Park Avenue Baptist church on Sunday. It is proposed to send the flowers to the sick afterward.

Arrangements are about complete for the Friends' conference to be held at the Watchung avenue meeting-house on Saturday and Sunday, April 21-22. There will be a large attendance of Friends from New Jersey, Pennsylvania and New York and also several prominent speakers.

Anchor Lodge, No. 149, F. and A. M., held a communication last night and conferred the master mason degree on two candidates.

AUTOMOBILE BILL PASSES IN HOUSE

MEASURE BARS INTOXICATED PERSONS FROM RUNNING CARS.

Trenton, April 11.—When the Automobile bill came up in the House upon second reading, and its title was amended so as to fully describe the body of the act, as required by the State Constitution, and other technical points were cleared up, the first fight occurred over Leader Perkins' amendment to Section 9, eliminating the twenty-one inspectors of automobiles and providing for the salaries of the Automobile Commissioner and his assistant at $1,500 each.

Under an amendment by Mr. Elvins, of Atlantic, chain tires cannot be used on gravel roads.

The bill passed fifteen minutes before midnight by a vote of 35 to 0, and goes to the Senate for concurrence on amendments, and provides for the registration of all autoists, non-residents, to make the Secretary of State their agent, on whom summons in damage suits can be served. Manufacturers and dealers may have omnibus numbers for their machines under certain restrictions. No person under sixteen years of age can be registered as an autoist. Thirty horse power machines must pay a fee of $1 per year, with $1 fee for higher power car.

The bill bars intoxicated persons from running a car, and no one is to use a car without the consent of the owner; all license numbers shall be displayed conspicuously back and front; registration papers must bear signature of licensee, and must be shown whenever any officer demands them; racing is strictly prohibited, lights, hour before sundown to hour after sunup.

Autoists must keep to right of road, and stop when drivers of approaching horse wagon holds up his hand.

Speed limit—limited to one mile in seven minutes at sharp curves and corners; one mile in five minutes in cities, and twenty miles an hour in the open country.

Money collected is to be used in road repairing, distributed among counties, according to their mileage of improved roads.

Should Governor Stokes sign the law, it will go into effect July 1, when all licenses now in force will expire.

AUTOMOBILE NOTES.

Explosions in the muffler indicate weak batteries, poorly adjusted coil or too thin a mixture of gasoline. If a machine is found to be thus affected the driver should try the reserve battery and if the trouble continues he should adjust the coil properly. He might also see that there are no loose connections.

Special highways in general for the automobile and an automobile speedway between New York and Philadelphia in particular formed the subject of a recent address delivered before the Automobile Club of America by John Brisben Walker, who advanced some very novel ideas. In view of the contemplated drastic action against the automobile, Mr. Walker contended that such special highways would soon be essential and urged upon his hearers that they take the initiative in the promotion of the New York-Philadelphia project.

MORRIS - ORANGE PRESBYTERY.

Excise Question Likely to Be Most Important Matter Discussed.

Chatham, April 11.—The Orange and Morris Presbytery began its annual session in the Ogden Memorial church here yesterday. Rev. Dr. A. C. Dwight, moderator of the presbytery, presided. The opening session was secret, plans being made for the questions that will come up at the open session later.

The excise question will probably be the most important matter that will come before the presbytery outside the regular business that will be transacted. There are about sixty delegates in attendance at the gathering, representing all the leading churches of the presbytery.

MURRAY DROPS IN TOWN

"Skeeters" Manager Personally Supervising the Boiling out Process.

READY FOR THE FRAY

Despite the occasional April showers yesterday the Jerseys got in some stiff practice work in both morning and afternoon. Manager Murray arrived in town after a four days' absence and personally supervised the boiling out process. Captain Bean said yesterday that all of the players were in fast trim and ready to enter the fray for the Eastern League championship.

Charlie Handford, the hard hitting fielder of the Trenton Y. M. C. A. team, joined the team yesterday morning and made a favorable impression on Manager Murray and his team-mates. Handford was the only man on the Trenton aggregation that twirlers term a hitter. Handford looks to be in the pink of condition and there is no doubt but that he will make good. Another player expected today or tomorrow is Munson, the catcher secured by Manager Murray from the Philadelphia National League team.

Pfanmiller and McCann, who have been on the sick list during the past few days, are on the mend and expect to resume practice again today or tomorrow. The players are anxiously awaiting the coming of Sunday when they will clash with the Hobokens. Kid Brogan, who has been getting a try out with the Jerseys, will cover second bag for the Hobokens. Young Mack will probably do the bulk of the pitching.

Billy Foxen, the Tenafly boy who played with Hartford last season, is showing up strong in the preliminary work and is looked upon as one of the coming stars of the league. Foxen is devoting his efforts to what is known "Down East" as the "pon toon baH."

Catcher Vandergrift describes the invention as the most intricate baseball wobble he ever beheld behind a bat. Vandy says the ball starts at a zig zag pace until it reaches the plate, which is followed by a heavenward shoot, which suddenly transforms itself into a wiggle and disappears into the catcher's mit by way of the batter's ear. Foxen refuses to divulge just where this curvical stunt originated, but does not deny the charge that he has been practicing it during the past winter up on the Tenafly farm.

Manager Murray has three games arranged for the Easter trip. On April 18 the Jerseys will tackle the New Bedfords and will play in Fall River on April 19 and 21. After these games Manager Murray expects that the new ball park will be in condition for the team to practice on until the opening game with Montreal on April 26.

TRAINING CAMP WHISPERS.

It is a remarkable fact how visitors fall in love with Plainfield. The latest one to become fascinated with the charms of the Queen City is Captain Joseph Bean, and as a result the city of Cambridge, Mass., will lose one of its distinguished citizens in the near future.

Mr. Bean has made up his mind to emigrate to Jersey and embark in the chicken raising business. He has been looking over a number of desirable plots and may locate in the vicinity of Pete Feiring's domicle in Bull Frog City, provided satisfactory arrangements can be made for the purchase of the land.

"Joe" means business. He has written home to Mrs. Bean not to buy coal for next season, strike or no strike.

Jocko Halligan also has the chicken raising fever but prefers to establish his hennery in Piscataway.

"Kid" Brogan says put him down for three hits Sunday for Hoboken against Jersey City. Vandy looks upon this as a joke, but then he never saw the Kid handle the willow.

Messrs. Pfanmiller and McCann are slowly recuperating from their indisposition.

Mr. Reilly denies the report that he looks like Kid Brogan. Mr. Brogan says he is mistaken.

Jocko Halligan says the only fault he has to find with Plainfield is that he cannot find a tobacco store that keeps Polar Bear in stock.

Zippo Holmes attended the Salvation Army meeting last night.

According to reports from down Boston way Captain Joe Bean is in line for the prohibition nomination for the mayoralty.

Carl Moore is the literary man of the team. He subscribes for ten magazines per week and spends his spare time in reading.

Billy Foxen was the chief artist at a piano recital given in the hotel parlor last night. Mr Reilly rendered very acceptably "Put Me Off at Buffalo."

Since Gene McCann has been laid up Mr. Wilson has been entertaining the feminine sex in the West End.

"All good pitchers get sick early in the season, McCann, Pfanmiller and Mathewson, for instance," says Manager Murray.

Baseball has received a boom in Dunellen since it became known that two Eastern Leaguers in the persons of McCann and Halligan passed through the village last Sunday with two reporters.

Walter Woods writes from Portsmouth, N. H., that he will join the team at New Bedford.

George Pfanmiller went home to Jersey City this morning, to give his home climate and hearthside nursing a chance to knock out his tonsilitis. George was a sick man last night, and the doctor said this morning that a change of air might do him more good than a whole lot of medicine in this city. Not to mention the difference in the treatment a patient can command in his own home, as compared with what he is able to secure in a hotel in a strange land. Pfanmiller won't do much practicing before the season opens, but Manager Murray hopes to have him back in shape for the battle when the pennant race begins in earnest.

Mrs. Clements, wife of Outfielder Clements, was taken ill with tonsilitis this morning. She is the third victim of the ailment in the Skeeter party. Gene McCann, the twirler, who was seized with an attack two days ago, is better today. He didn't practice, but feels much livelier.

DIAMOND DUST.

After all the mid-winter talk Westfield seems to have a spark of enthusiasm left and will start off with a team.

A Westfield crank last night classified George Mallen as a fool to play with Plainfield after all of the abuse heaped upon him during the past few years.

Acording to the prophecy offered by Kid Brogan he will be a good fellow to hold in the base hit pool Sunday.

Phil Smith declares he would like to take a whack at the Jersey City bunch. The High School boy is in excellent fettle and expects to make a big "rep" this season.

Philadelphia papers claim that Rube Oldring is too clumsy for a big league.

Elizabeth people say "Red" Waller is tickled to death over the strong team behind him. Looks pretty good when six errors are piled up in one inning.

Manager Burke has not yet accepted Manager Daab's offer to bet $200 on a series between Elizabeth and Plainfield. If your are sincere, Mr. Burke and think you have the best team show the color of your mazuma. Money talks at all times.

The Clinton Avenue team will play a practice game with a picked team representing the Aluminum Press Company Saturday afternoon on the Clinton Avenue grounds.

Manager Murray, of the Jersey City team, offered a valuable suggestion yesterday which may be carried out with good results by the local baseball association. Mr. Murray claims that a grass diamond beats a skin surface all to bits and says a sod diamond is superior in every respect. He declares the players are able to play faster, hit the ball harder and field quicker. This is brought about because the ball retains its smoothness which enables the pitcher to curve the ball more. It also hardens the cover and assists the batter materially in making longer hits. Manager Murray says the ball is always lively and a much more spirited game can be played under these conditions. He said the expense in sodding the local diamond would not exceed $60 or $75 and in the end would be a means of saving money in keeping the diamond in repair. With a grass diamond it is only required to cut the grass and roll the ground occasionally. All league clubs have done away with skin diamonds and substituted grass plots; even the minor organizations and many independent clubs. It might be well for the ground committee to at least consider this idea. If it is a good thing for league players it ought to operate well for minor teams.

The appearance of the All Cubans in this city as the opening attraction on May 5 will mark the first game of the Cuban champions in the United States this season. The Cubans will be in first class shape as the team has been playing ball during the whole winter.

Virgil Garvin, formerly of Plainfield, made a good record with the Portland team in the Pacific Coast League last season. Portland was a tailend club yet Garvin ranked sixth in the list of pitchers, winning 26 games and losing 20.

Cassidy Heard From.

Cassidy, the Jersey City first baseman, whose failure to report has caused his fellow players to wonder what was up in Cassidyville, will be on hand when wanted by the club. Manager Murray brought back word last night that Cassidy would report when he gave the word. Murray saw Pete and learned what was holding him back. Cassidy has just purchased a $10,000 hotel and is trying to break a new man into the management before he goes away. Pete has had no thought of shying away from his contract.

The ordinance of baptism will be administered at Faith chapel Sunday night. There are five candidates.

The Rines Brothers will speak and sing at the men's meeting to be held under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. at the Faith chapel this evening at 8 o'clock.

MORRISTOWN GETS THE CONFERENCE FOR 1907

INVITATION OF REV. RALPH B. URMY FOR NEXT YEAR'S SESSION IS ACCEPTED

Jersey City, April 11.—In compliance with action taken by the board of trustees of the Morristown Methodist Episcopal church, Rev. Ralph B. Urmy, its pastor, extended an invitation to hold the semi-centennial session of the Newark conference in that edifice next year, at the last day of the present session in West Side Avenue church. The offer was unanimously accepted and a further motion was adopted requesting the board of bishops to assign Bishop Henry A. Spellmeyer, formerly pastor of Centenary Methodist Episcopal church, Newark, as presiding bishop. There was some little debate as to the propriety of acting on the invitation of Bishop Hamilton, who was attending a cabinet meeting. Rev. Dr. Wenfield C. Snodgrass, of Perth Amboy, who was in the chair, declared a motion to accept was out of order, but eventually it was decided that it would be no impropriety to act.

Secretary John F. Dodd was designated to interview the board of bishops regarding the assignment of Bishop Spellmeyer. He said that there was no question but what it would grant the request.

Rev. Richard B. Lockwood said that in the event of Bishop Spellmeyer not being sent, it might prove embarrassing to the bishop who was sent. There was a chorus of "Oh, noes," and that ended the discussion.

STATE GUARD MAY GET MORE CASH FROM NATION.

Bill Enabling Militia to Conform to Dick Law Through House.

Trenton, April 11.—Much to the surprise of those who remember the fight of two years ago over the bill to enable the militia of New Jersey to conform to the Dick military law, Senator Frelinghuysen's bill for that purpose passed the House last night without any debate or without a dissenting vote.

This places the New Jersey National Guard in line with other States which have accepted the provisions of the Dick military law, under which act of Congress New Jersey has for four years now received $23,000 appropriation for National Guard purposes each year.

A pending bill in Congress, reported favorably two weeks ago, doubles the appropriation, making New Jersey's share $46,000.

WHO DOESN'T LOVE A BABY?

Who doesn't love a baby
With al its winning ways?
To dream about at eventide
And work for half his days?
Who doesn't love the way she has
Of talking with her eyes,
Or holding up her pouting lips
In dignified surprise?
Who doesn't love to feel her hand
Soft nestling in his own,
While cuddling deftly in the way
That's but to babies known?
Who doesn't love a baby
When baby's twenty-nine,
Her height just to his shoulder tip,
And she owns a silver mine?

CHURCH CONTRIBUTED $25,870 TO BENEVOLENCES

In All $38,464 Was Given By Crescent Avenue Congregation in the Past Year.

ALL RECORDS BROKEN

Sum Exclusive of Amounts Raised in Its Three Chapels—Congregation and Sunday-schools Growing.

Holding their annual meeting in the church parlors last night the members of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church learned that the past year, so far as finances were concerned, had been the most remarkable in its history. During the twelve months ending April 1 the congregation had raised a total of $38,464.04, of which $25,870.70 had been expended in benevolent work. This is about $6,000 more than was contributed for the same causes last year and is a record that stands for any religious institution in the city. This is exclusive of the amounts raised by Hope, Warren and Bethel chapels, fostered by the Crescent Avenue people.

Rev. Dr. J. S. Zelie acted as moderator of the meeting and Dr. B. VanD. Hedges was clerk. After the preliminary business of a routine nature had been disposed of the reports were called for and were submitted by various officials for the home church and by superintendents and pastors of the dependent chapels. The home church report was read by the clerk and showed the total membership to be 1,675, divided as follows: Crescent Avenue, 942; Bethel chapel, 76; Hope chapel, 396; Warren chapel, 265. This is an increase of twenty-nine over last year for the parent congregation and fifty-six for all combined. The combined membership of the four Sunday schools is now 1,764, a gain of twenty-one, the enrollment crediting the home school with 430, Bethel chapel with 289, Hope chapel with 634, and Warren chapel with 411. The report of Superintedent Henry J. Cochran, of the home school, showed that in the past year the receipts had been $627.90 and the expenditures $511.89.

The total membership is 385, divided as follows: Officers, 10; teachers, 44; senior and junior departments, 167; intermediate department, 26; primary, 90; kindergarten, 48. The enrollment last year was 359. The average attendance has been 211, as against 187 for the previous twelve months.

Dr. Hedges also read the report of Treasurer Andrew J. Gavett, and as before stated, the total amount raised from April 1, 1905, to April 1, 1906, had been $38,464.04. The congregational expenses were $12,593.34, and the outside benevolences were divided as follows: For foreign missions, $5,718.29; home missions, $3,583.96; Warren chapel building fund, $4,772.68; support of Hope, Warren and Bethel chaples, $4,837.17; education, $428.37; deacons' fund, $1,437.25; ministerial relief, $2,020.70; aid for colleges, $241.55; freedmen, $122.02; synodical home missions, $487.50; publication and Sabbath Society work, $112.80; church erection, $131.42; Bible Society, $54.25; general assembly, $129.82; temperance, $10; Plainfield charities (including Muhlenberg Hospital and the Children's Home), $868.16; miscellaneous items, 939.76.

All the societies were represented at the meeting and the reports showed excellent progress both in regard to membership and finances. These were presented by Howard Williams for the Young People's Society, Dr. Zelie for the Ladies' Aid Society and S. H. Whitney for the deacons. Superintendent Henry C. Squires and Pastor L. R. Howard spoke for Hope chapel, Superintendent F. H. Andrews and Pastor McKelvey for Warren chapel, and Superintendent A. W. Duxbury and Pastor F. D. Tildon for Bethel chapel. In reply to a query it was stated that new plans and specifications were being prepared for the new Warren chapel and that they would be ready in about three weeks. Because of the increased cost of materials the work has been delayed from time to time, but it is now hoped to have ground broken before spring is over.

In the annual election S. H. Whitney and T. F. Budlong succeeded themselves as deacons and W. D. Murray, A. W. Duxbury, G. H. Condict and E. E. Parvin were named as elders.

NOT ONE VOTE FOR SCHANZ APPLICATION

COMMON COUNCIL PLACES ITSELF ON RECORD AGAINST ANY MORE SALOONS.

Naturally not wishing to put himself on record as favoring the application of Charles Schanz for a liquor license, Francis L. Montgomery, as chairman of the license committee, endeavored to evade the usual course in presenting such applications at the adjourned meeting of the Common Council last night. On Mr. Montgomery's motion the members took a ten minute recess which last considerably over an hour. While out there was a discussion of the Schanz application and the remonstrance against it presented by a majority of the property owners on North avenue.

When the members returned to regular session Mr. Montgomery moved that a vote be taken as to whether the Common Council wanted to grant the application or not. There was exception taken to this way of putting the motion, and Mr. Buxton, whose name was the first one mentioned on roll call, stated: "I will vote that it be granted or not."

Mr. Daniel said that such a vote would not dispose of the matter, neither would it determine the question. After several minutes were lost in sparring for points, Mr. Gloak arose and asked why Mr. Montgomery did not come out in a straightforward manner and put the motion as it should be.

These remarks nettled Mr. Montgomery somewhat, and then he moved that Mr. Schanz's application be granted, but not a single member would second the motion. He then moved that the application be refused. Mr. Hibbard seconded the motion, and on the roll call every member voted in the affirmative.

Mr. Schanz was applying for a license for the property at 126-128 North avenue, now occupied by Lawrence Paoli, but a majority of the property owners objected to a saloon being opened there.

OSHKOSH WILL BE A BIGGER SHOW THAN EVER

HEAVY MOUNTINGS AND NEW ACTS TO MAKE IT BRILLIANT.

If the Oshkosh show, which will appear for its second year at the Casino May 11 and 12, had a press agent, the newspaper offices would be jammed with "stuff." There are more good things to write about in the show than three good press agents could handle in a month.

Big and well staged as was the show last year, it will be far livelier and more brilliant in staging this season. Electrical effects will be largely used.

The scenes will be laid in New York. Centers of interest known all over the country will be pictured, some of the settings being Chinatown, Bronx Park Zoo and Central Park.

New and fancy dancing steps will mark some of the acts. At a long rehearsal last night, a professional dancing master from New York directed the steppers. The rehearsal lasted until after midnight.

The advance sale of seats has begun already with a rush. Indications point to a complete sell-out before the show night arrives. Tickets are on sale at Armstrong's drug store.

"DON'T ANSWER P. S. C." SAY BANDED CONSUMERS.

P. P. A. Asks Public To Withhold Information As To Number of Lights.

The Plainfield Protective Association doesn't want the users of electricity in this city to furnish the P. S. C. with information regarding the number of lights in their houses, as per circular request just sent around to the patrons of the corporation here.

The circular was considered at a meeting of the executive committee of the association last night, and it was decided to task the papers to request their readers not to answer the P. S. C.'s queries until the P. P. A. learned whether the information must be given. The association will communicate with the Underwriters' Association at once to obtain full information as to the necessity of complying with the P. S. C. request.

WATER ELECTION, JUNE 5

Date Agreed Upon Provided That Councilmanic Committee First Plan Line of Action.

REASONS FOR DELAY

Chairman Buxton Prevented by Chain of Circumstances from Getting Plans in Shape.

For more than one hour, the Common Council, in executive session last night, threshed out the much mooted question of municipal ownership of the water supply, the particular subject of debate being whether a special election should be called for June 5. The upshot of it all was that the public affairs committee will plan out its mode of procedure fully in order that the city fathers, and the public as well, be fully informed as to just what is proposed, before any vote is taken on the primary question of allowing Common Council to appropriate a sum sufficient to conduct an investigation.

Councilman Tyler, an avowed champion of municipal worship, fought hard for immediate action on the question, but it became known that through a trend of circumstances, it had been impossible for the public affairs committee, of which Councilman Herbert Buxton is chairman, had been unable to map out any definite line of action. For that reason, the councilmen came to the decision that it would be preferable not to set a date for the election until every step in the matter is fully planned.

Not until March 24 did the governor sign the bill enabling Plainfield to hold an election for this purpose. As first announced in The Daily Press, the election held under the old acts was imperfect and invalid. Corporation Counsell Craig A. Marsh, who drew up the enabling act, had instructed Chairman Buxton that he could do nothing in the matter until the new measure became a law. For that reason, it was stated in the executive session last night, that no mode of procedure had been outlined.

At the meeting, Councilman Tyler argued against any delay on the ground that the franchise and plant of the Plainfield Water Supply Company is becoming more valuable every day.

Mr. Buxton stated to a representative of The Daily Press last night that he and the other members of the committee, Councilmen Frank Randolph, Mellick, Gloak and Daniel, would hold a meeting in a few days. At that meeting the line of action will be agreed upon and at the May session of the city fathers everything will be in chape to go ahead. In all probability a special election will take place before summer sets in and possibly June 5 will be the date.

FLOWER-CROWNED GUARD AT ST. MARY'S CHURCH.

First of the three Tenebrae services—the Lamentations of Jeremiah set to music according to the rules of the Catholic church—was held at St. Mary's church last night. There was a very large attendance. The service will be repeated tonight and tomorrow night. After the Tenebrae tomorrow Father Bogan will preach a sermon on the passion of Christ.

There was a large congregation at the church this morning for the celebration of the solemn high mass. The service was impressive to a high degree. There were twenty-eight altar boys and sixty of the smallest children of the school, dressed in white and crowned with smilax and roses, acted as a guard of honor in the Procession of the Blessed Sacrament.

Herman Eichorn to Sing.

Herman Eichorn, of Elizabeth, the great tenor soloist, will sing the prize song, "In Den Niebelunger," from "Der Mestersinger," in the song fest at Saengerbund Hall, Monday night. Mr. Eichorn is a member of the Elizabeth Maennechor and is well known throughout the state as a vocalist. He will be accompanied by the same delegation from the Maennechor that has been taking part in the cup competitions.

CONGREGATIONAL MEETING

Pastor Says Midweek Meetings Are Not Attended Largely Enough.

STILL, YEAR WAS GOOD

Membership Touches Highwater Mark and Unusually Large Balance is on Hand—Dinner and Two Meetings Held.

In his report at the annual meeting of the Congregational church last night Rev. Charles L. Goodrich, the pastor, told his congregation that there were two unsatisfactory things in the year's record. The attendance at the mid-week meetings was too small, he said, and the adult classes of the Sunday school were not as largely attended as they should be. Everything else about the church reports, however, was encouraging. All the debts were paid and a balance of over $100 was on hand.

There were two meetings, as usual—the church first and the congregational society following that. Mr. Goodrich presided over the initial meeting and Roland D. Rice acted as clerk. The pastor's report was the first thing after the reading of the minutes.

Before calling attention to the weak places in the church activities, Mr. Goodrich recorded the fact that in January the membership touched highwater mark, with a total that lacked but one of 300. There were seventeen additions during the year, ten on confession and seven by letter. The membership now is 296. Touching on the adult classes of the Sunday school, Mr. Goodrich said the attendance of the men was larger than that of the women. The attendance at the mid-week meetings he characterized as "another weak place in the church." It was even smaller this year than last, he said.

J. M. Whiton and George S. Raynolds were re-elected deacons, and Henry Nomer, G. F. Fisher and Curtis M. Bates were re-elected to the official board. L. B. Morgan and Mrs. Goodrich were elected delegates to the coming convention of the Congregational Society in Washington, D. C.

E. L. Suffern was elected moderator of the society meeting, and R. D. Rice secretary. Considerable discussion was held on a suggestion to install electric lighting in the church and in the proposed inauguration of individual communion cups.

Acting on a request from the trustees, Treasurer M. C. Van Arsdale presented an estimate on the cost of replacing gas illumination with electricity. The work would cost $179, and Mr. Van Arsdale advocated it. After a long discussion, in which considerable opposition was manifested, the matter was referred to the trustees, with power.

E. I. Weseman moved the establishment of individual communion service. Alexander Millar objected to the motion on the ground that matters connected with the worship of the church should be brought before the Congregational Society. There was a lot of argument over the point, and the chairman finally ruled the motion out of order. On a test vote to table the resolution the supporters of the change appeared to outnumber its opponents by a goodly number. One of the women moved that the church call a special meeting to consider the change immediately after the society adjourned. Mr. Goodrich explained that a special meeting could only follow a written request to the pastor signed by seven members and had to be announced at the Sunday service preceding it. Three minutes after the session closed Mr. Weseman handed a request for a meeting duly signed by seven members, to Clerk Rice. The meeting will be held Wednesday, April 18.

Treasurer Van Arsdale's report showed that the church took in $3,683.48 in the twelvemonth and expended $3,559.15, leaving a balance of $124.33. It was announced that the general expenses would be heavier than usual this year, on account of certain repairs that must be made. The balance on hand is the largest recorded in some years.

M. C. Van Arsdale, J. E. Morse, Alexander Millar and C. A. Rice were re-elected to the board of trustees, and Philip Suffern was made auditor. At a meeting held immediately yafter the session the trustees elected the following officers:

President, J. E. Morse; secretary, Everett L. Morgan; treasurer, ? ?? Morris C. VanArsdale; chief usher, Clarence La Rue. They are all re-elections with the exception of Mr. La Rue.

Following a regular custom, the women of the church served a dinner before the meetings. It was catered by Mrs. Lena Hellstrom, who had full charge of the service. Covers were laid for 125. The tables were attractively set and the menu was delightful.

FAVORS RETIREMENT BILL

Former Judge Codington Tells Hoboken Teachers Why They Should Not Oppose Measure.

PROVIDES FOR OLD AGE

Peace of the Gathering Disturbed by Impertinent Questions That Are Not Answered by the Advocates.

Former Judge William R. Codington, of this city, was the principal speaker in favor of the new Teachers' Retirement Fund bill now pending before the Legislature, at a meeting held in Hoboken yesterday afternoon for the purpose of convincing the teachers of that city opposed to the bill that it would be a good measure and should be passed. Dr. Henry M. Maxson, superintendent of the local schools, was among the prominent educators on the platform and took part in the discussion.

About one hundred teachers attended the meeting, which was in marked contrast to the previous meetings held for the purpose of discussing the bill. he champions of the bill held the platform undisputed and were given every opportunity to put forth their views upon the value of the bill to the teachers of New Jersey and it was not until just prior to the close of the meeting that any interruptions in the shape of questions were made, but when these questions did come, the peace which had hovered over the meeting disappeared and war clouds hung heavily, but except for several light skirmishes did not break, as the meeting was adjourned before the opposition had a chance to put and have answered questions it had in mind.

Judge Codington was introduced as the main speaker with the explanation that it was thought best to have some one who knew more about the bill than the teachers explain it, and Judge Codington then took the floor.

He spent considerable time in telling of the amount of time and work which had been spent upon the preparation of the bill, and by the committee appointed to investigate it, of which he was a member, and assured the teachers the fund would be a benefit not only to the teachers of New Jersey, but to the public at large as well, for by having a fund on a sound business basis the teachers as they "grow older and weaker may retire and younger and stronger teachers take their places."

Judge Codington explained that it would not be compulsory for teachers now members of the present fund to join the new one and told them "they could remain just as they were if they so desired," at which, in various parts of the hall remarks such as "Yes;" we can stay in the old fund until it goes to smash," "That's a fine privilege," etc., were plainly audible.

A nopinion as to the constitutionality of the act rendered by Attorney General McCarter was read, in which the attorney general stated that in answer to various questions submitted to him by State Superintendent Baxter he could see not reason to believe the act to be unconstitutional, and even if certain sections should be decided by the Supreme Court to be unconstitutional that would not have any effect upon the balance of the act.

The speaker strongly advised the teachers to advocate the passage of the bill, even if they did not think it was just what they wanted, and told them if there were portions of the bill they objected to they could have it amended later on. With another plea for the placing of the fund on a sound financial basis backed up by a forcible law Judge Codington sat down.

STAINER'S "CRUCIFIXION" SUNG BY MIXED CHOIR.

Annual Lenten Service at the First Presbyterian Church.

An audience that filled the church enjoyed the annual Lenten musical service of the First Presbyterian church last night to the full. Stainer's "Crucifixion," the chief number on the programme, was admirably sung by a mixed choir of twenty-five voices, under the direction of Clifford A. Braider, the organist.

The order of the service was as follows: Organ Prelude, "Largo," Handel; Prayer; Anthem, "There Is a Green Hill," Lansing; Hymn 203; Scripture Lesson; Cantata, "Crucifixion," Stainer; Address by Rev. A. H. Lewis, D. D.; Offertory Solo, Miss Raybert; Hymn 197; Benediction; Vesper Hymn, Shepherd.

The solo work was executed with much excellence by Fred C. Iglehardt, Jr., bass, and Elmer D. Cutting, tenor. Miss Etta Raybert was leading soprano, and Miss Edna Nicholl premiere contralto. Miss Alice C. Miller was at the piano.

TAX BUDGET FIXES $52,000 FOR GENERAL FUND

Figure Does Not Include School, State, County, Fire or Library Tax.

AN INCREASE OF $8,050

For Streets, $31,00; Fire Department, $25,600; Library, $5,100; Poor, $6,500—Act On Tax Ordinance.

According to the annual custom, at the April meeting, the tax ordinance was presented at the adjourned session of the Common Council last night, by Chairman Daniel, of the finance committee. It provides for a total increase of $8,050 over that of last year to be raised for all purposes.

Last year there was raised for general purposes, exclusive of school, library, poor, fire and State and county taxes, $49,500. This year the amount named is $52,000, an increase of $2,500. There is an increase of $1,800 for streets, the amount desired being $31,000. Last year 29,200 was raised. Another increase is that in the interest on the sewer obligation. Last year the amount was $6,400, and the amount fixed this year is $8,800. An increase of $400 is given to the Public Library, the amount appropriated being $5,100, as against $4,700 last year. The fire department is given an increase of $600, the amount appropriated being $25,600, as against $25,000 last year. The only other increase is in the interest on school bonds, the amount appropriated being $5,400, as against $3,700 last year, an increase of $1,700.

The tax ordinance as adopted on first and second readings and ordered engrossed and advertised is as follows:

General fund, exclusive of school, library, poor, fire and State and county taxes, which also includes $18,000 of the amount appropriated for streets, $52,000; streets, $31,000; lights, $14,250; principal on sewer bonds, $4,000; interest on sewer obligations, $8,800; poor, which includes $1,000 appropriated to the hospital for the care of the indigent poor, $6,500; library, $5,100; fire department, $25,600; interest on school bonds, due in May, $5,400; principal on garbage plant, $700: dog tax, $2.

GOOD FRIDAY SHOULD BE GOOD WEDNESDAY

WRONG DAY COMMEMORATED, DR. LEWIS, ANNOUNCES IN ADDRESS.

The address by Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis, editor of the Sabbath Recorder, at the Lenten musical service of the First Presbyterian church last night, touched on the historical basis for fixing on Friday as the day commemorative of the Crucifixion. Dr. Lewis came prepared to speak on lines different from those followed. The music moved him to the expression of thoughts that seemed more time and opportune than the words he had in mind before the service opened. The service was deeply impressive in tone and atmosphere, and the audience felt its influence as plainly as the speaker.

"We have listened to the immortal story of eternal love—redeeming and sacrificial love," said Dr. Lewis, in opening. The story was eternal, he said, because human hearts longed for the consciousness that divine love was poured out upon them for their uplifting and redemption.

Dr. Lewis referred with special emphasis to the fact that the service was held on Wednesday. He had wondered, he said, if those who arranged the service were in sympathy with the facts expressed by the noted evangelist, Dr. Torrey, who was conducting services in Philadelphia. Dr. Torrey said that for two or three centuries past noted scholars in Germany and this country had announced it as their opinion that the crucifixion of Christ had not occurred on Friday, but on Wednesday. This announcement had been made by Dr. Torrey in a booklet entitled "Hard Problems of Scripture," published by the Ram's Horn. The doctor added that he had reached the same conclusion through historical investigation, and published his conclusions forty years ago.

"I am doubly impressed," he said, "that, according to Dr. Torrey's conclusion, it is just 1,876 years ago today that the crucifixion, to the story of which we have just listened, took place on Calvary."

LITIGATION MAY FOLLOW REFUSAL TO PAY DUES

ANOTHER POINT RAISED IN THE A. O. U. W. CONTROVERSARY.

In connection with the current rumor that some of the members of the Ancient Order of United Workmen would refuse to pay the extra assessment as provided by the recent action of the Grand Lodge at its session held in Atlantic City, whereby an emergency fund is to be established, an officers of the organization said today:

"If any member refuses to pay the assessment it would be a matter for serious consideration as to whether he would be entitled to sick or death benefits. It would probably lead to litigation, as the amendment adopted by the Grand Lodge is now one of the laws of the order and must be sustained until set aside by the persons who have authority to do so. Such action would complicate matters more than ever, and besides the Grand Lodge would be compelled to turn its relief fund over to the Supreme Lodge, and there is now no provisions made for paying it back to help the local lodges in meeting their sick or death claims."

It is expected that some of the Grand Lodge officers will attend the conference of Workmen to be held at the law offices of William Newcorn, Saturday afternoon, when those who oppose the Grand Lodge action will discuss plans for the future in support of their appeal.

Quietly Wedded.

Miss Katherine Wilson, daughter of N. S. Wilson, of East Millstone, and Dr. J. Howard Cooper, of Middlebush, well known here, were quietly married last night at the home of the bride by Rev. Henry Lockwood, pastor of the Reformed church. Today the couple left for a wedding trip to Bermuda. Upon their return they will reside at East Millstone, where Dr. Cooper is a practicing physician.

Council Flouts Invitation.

The city Council received an invitation from the National Municipal League last night, to attend the annual meeting of the organization at the Hotel Chalfonte, Atlantic City, Tuesday, April 24. The invitation was received as a joke. Mr. Daniel made a motion that all the members attend and pay their own expenses. There was no seconder.

2ND ASST. CHIEFSHIP IS FINALLY ABOLISHED

ONLY FOUR MEMBERS HELD OUT IN FAVOR OF MAYOR'S APPOINTEE.

Councilman George P. Mellick's ordinance to abolish the office of second assistant engineer of the fire department was passed on third reading last night, Councilmen Tyler, Gloak, Charles C. Randolph, Mellick, Hibbard and Daniel voting affirmatively, and Councilmen Buxton, Montgomery, Frank Randolph and Tolles cast their votes in the negative.

From the beginning Chairman Mellick, of the fire committee, opposed the appointment of John Cose to the position of second assistant engineer to succeed John W. Murray, Jr., on the grounds that he believed that Captain Townley was entitled to it and also for the reason that he considered the appointment of Mr. Cose was in the nature of a payment of a political debt, as he stated on the floor at a previous meeting.

BETTER FURNITURE FOR COUNCIL COMMITTEE ROOM.

City Fathers Appropriate $150 for the Purpose.

The Board of Assessors having called attention to the fact that it has no suitable place where it can meet to transact the business of the board or hold a conference with taxpayers, Mr. Daniel, chairman of the councilmanic finance committee, offered a resolution last night appropriating $150 to properly fit up the council's committee room and that Councilman Hibbard be appointed a special committee of one to attend to the matter. The resolution was adopted.

Mr. Daniel stated that the committee room now contains a couple of pine tables, an old settee and a few old chairs. A large table and a number of chairs more in keeping with the tone of the councilmanic chamber will be purchased.

AN EASTER PICTURE OF HIGHEST MERIT.

Lithogravure in Ten Printings With The North American.

An Easter picture that fits the occasion is one of the timely features provided for the delectation of buyers of the Sunday North American for April 15. Nearly all of the articles and pictures in the paper for Easter Sunday breathe the Easter spirit, but the one that will appeal most strongly is a handsome lithogravure of a little girl surrounded by rabbits—the child's Easter animal.

To give to the artist a full and perfect expression of his work the printers have done the picture in ten printings, getting into the composition every shading of color that can be produced by mechanical means. The result is a delicate, finished reproduction, even more attractive than the wonderfully faithful original.

The Gibson picture series will be continued on Sunday, April 22.

The circulation of the Sunday North American has increased over 30,000 copies in the last sixty days. Next Sunday will be larger than ever. See your news dealer and place your order now.

DUKE ESTATE IMPROVEMENTS.

Somerville Property to Be Beautified by Construction of Two Lakes.

Somerville, April 12.—The James B. Duke estate is undergoing a complete change and all previous transformations will be eclipsed by this season's extensive alterations. Two steam dredges and several trains of dirt cars have been engaged all winter, excavating two large lakes, which, when completed, will have, among other things, fountains on islands. Statuary recently imported from Europe will set off the grounds surrounding these lakes.

Between the two lakes a site is being prepared for Mr. Duke's new mansion, which is to be built in the near future. The work of remodeling the swan lake was commenced last week. This lake will be dredged larger and deeper and connected with the other two lakes now being excavated.

Two carloads of evergreen trees have just arrived from Europe, and the trees will be transplanted as soon as the weather permits. It has also been planned to place a number of rustic wells on different parts of the estate for the accommodation of the public.

E. W. Elkins, of Park Lane, Netherwood, has returned after spending the past season in New York.

Rules for Yellow Journalism.

Rules for trouble making, or how to fool some people all the time.

Make trouble; make it turbulent trouble if you can, but make trouble.

An enterprise that gives employment to people, pays taxes and builds up a community affords unlimited scope for trouble. Once it gets established, hop onto it. Its special privilege is to do the best it can; ours the special privilege to do it. Show how it makes money. Others who make money are our meat; we need it. Show how it makes more than any workman in its employ; that makes the workmen suspicious and they will buy tomorrow's paper to find out how they are being jobbed. Then they will vote for us because we tell them what wicked men are those who pay them wages.

When one of our readers and voters makes trouble, help him along. He's our kind. If it is criminal trouble, put it onto the fellow who does not vote our way.

Remember that trouble making becomes contagious; like breeds like. If one of our fellows gets so enthusiastic that he just has to go out and kill a few people or blow up some properties, remember that we put him up to it, and stand by him. He is playing our game. Put the crime onto the corporations, the owners of properties and the employers. It tickles our fellows, and the others are against us anyhow.

It may bother some people to understand why rich men should kill each other and blow up their own properties. They will buy our papers to get the answer. (This is about the cleverest thing we do.) Trouble, trouble, until the people are unable to think! Then they get to guessing we must be right. See?

If no witness or corroborative evidence is secured against our assistant trouble maker, say that it was all malice and hatred and a plot of the employers to cast odium on the men they hate so much that they lie awake nights planning how to give them work.

If witnesses appear and corroborative evidence is secured, call the witnesses liars and hired assassins and say the evidence was manufactured. Say it every day, and some people may believe it.

Keep the people guessing. Never let them rest a minute; they might get to thinking. There are always new ways to make trouble. Persistence and faithful pursuit of them will earn you a nice ham every Christmas so long as you are able to keep on troubling, and a big funeral when you die.—The Denver Republican.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Bird have returned to their home in Mariners place, after a two months' absence from town.

Wagner, Charles—By the fireside. Plea for family spirit and a realization of the highest possibilities in the family relation.

Kellor, F. A.—Out of work: a study of employment agencies. Contribution to problem of domestic service. Reports, investigations in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, etc., and reveals many abuses. Suggests remedies.

Tarbell, I. M.—History of the Standard Oil Company. 2v. Valuable contribution to knowledge concerning development and methods of this great monopoly. Open-minded as to facts, but bases condemnation on assumptions not yet generally granted in business world. Published in McClure's magazine.

Hunter, Robert—Poverty. Study of causes and rapid increase of poverty in American cities, with some practical suggestions for improved conditions. By New York settlement worker.

Steffens, J. L.—Shame of the Cities. Scathing indictment of municipal corruption in six American cities. Concludes that the business man's use of politics for personal advantage is the root of the evil.

Wilcox, D. F.—The American city: a problem in democracy. Devoted mainly yto analysis of conditions of city life and changes needed to bring individaul to responsibility for government. Two chapters on administrative questions.

Henderson, C. R.—Modern methods of charity. Comprehensive account of the various systems of relief, public and private, in principal countries of world.

Devine, E. T.—Principles of relief. Discusses principles which should control in giving aid, presents instructive typical cases, sketches some aspects of English and American plans, and describes action in sudden disasters, as Chicago fire, Johnstown flood, etc. The Annals of American acadamey says it is "a distinct contribution to the literature of scientific philanthropy. Point of yiew constructive—both for practical worker and scientific student, the authoritative work."

Education and Useful Arts.

Briggs, LeB. R.—Routine and ideals. College and school addresses and essays, emphasizing necessity of thorough drill, constrained by inspiring ideals.

Washington, B. T.—Working with the hands: a sequel to "Up from Slavery." Rightly called "Working with the hands" rather than "Story of Tuskegee." The principle is larger than the institution and he tells something of its wider applications.

Lorimer, G. H.—Old Gorgon Graham: more letters from a self-made merchant to his son. Continues advice of the self-made merchant to his son in business and domestic affairs.

Sanford, F. C.—Art crafts for beginners. Design, tin woodworking, pyrography, sheet metal work, leather work, bookbinding, simple pottery, basketry, beadwork. Rudimentary principles and simple problems.

Powell, E. P.—The country home. Practical, pleasantly written advice on selecting a site, building, water supply, lawns, flowers and fruit and vegetable growing. Photographic illustrations.

White, Mary—How to make pottery. Practical, detailed directions for the untrained worker, taking up clay, tools, glaze, the kiln, the wheel, etc. Chapters on Indian and modern American pottery.

Fine Arts and Amusements and Sports.

Potter, M. K.—Art of the Louvre. For traveler and amateur. Brief history of palace, with descriptions and mainly quoted criticisms of oil paintings. Plans and about fifty halftones.

Sturgis, Russell—Appreciation of sculpture. Attempts to help general readers to discern he qualities which command admiration in the best ancient and modern sculpture.

White, Mary—How to do beadwork. Clear and simple directions for making chains, belts, bags, etc., by, stringing sewing, knitting, crocheting or handloom weaving.

Kingsland, Mrs. F.—Book of indoor and outdoor games. Excellent collection for all ages and occasions, with suggestions for special days, dinners, dances, tableaux and wedding anniversaries. Games mainly with apparatus.

GOTHAM'S AMUSEMENTS

Elsie Janis in "The Vanderbilt Cup," at the Broadway theatre, has an "auto" vehicle that is winning an endurance test. Before the season closes it will record one of the longest runs of the theatrical year on the great white way. One of the sensations is Barney Oldfield's auto race, which is the personification of realistic effect. There is not one dull moment in the whole show. From start to finish the big audiences are furnished one continuous round of enjoyment and amusement. Miss Janis' imitations of Eddy Foy, George M. Cohan and Maude Adams are the richest thing of the kind that has been done for a long time and has proven an immensely popular feature. Order your seats by mail. Broadway theatre, Broadway and Forty-first street. Evenings at 8:15. Matinees Wednesday and Saturday at 2:15. The best seats at the matinee performances are but one dollar, a popular price for suburban shoppers.

FISH AND GAME BILLS KILLED.

Two Measures Defeated in Assembly, One in Governor's Hands.

Trenton, April 12.—Two of the fish and game bills were killed in the House Tuesday. One provided for the killing of kingfishers and the other allowed the shooting of doves at certain seasons.

Senate bill No. 65, which calls for a repeal to the measure to provide for the destruction of foxes, is in the hands of the committee and may not be reported.

Senate bill No. 124 has passed both houses and is now in the hands of the Governor. The bill provides: "It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to set or draw any net or seine which shall exceed twenty-five fathoms in length in any of the rivers, bays or creeks or waters of Upper Township in the county of Cape May and within the jurisdiction of said county, provided, however, that this act shall not apply to the use of seines or nets in the waters of the Atlantic Ocean."

Senate bill No. 155 is in committee and has little chance of passing. It reads: "It shall be unlawful to capture, kill, injure or have in possession any reed bird, excepting only from the fifth day of September to the thirty-first day of December, both dates inclusive, under a penalty of $20."

COUNTY TAX BOARD BILL REPORTED IN THE HOUSE.

Avis Substitute Measure Goes Over, So that It May Be Thoroughly Digested.

Trenton, April 12.—Mr. Perkins, chairman of the Judiciary Committee, reported in the House yesterday a committee substitute for the Avis County Equalization Board bill. He said it was a substitute indorsed by the government, and that it made no material changes in the original bill.

Mr. Martin made na unsuccessful attempt to have the bill sent back to the committee, saying that he had important amendments to offer to the bill. His motion was defeated and the bill went to second reading. Then Mr. Martin moved that further consideration of the bill be postponed until after recess, so that the measure could be printed.

It was one of the most important bills now before the Legislature, he said, and eh thought that the members should have an opportunity to study the printed substitute bill before acting upon. Mr. Perkins agreed with Mr. Martin and the bill went over.

BADLY HURT IN AUTO MISHAP.

Rahway, April 12.—Mr. and Mrs. William Mays and daughter, Florence, of East Rahway, with Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Glendenning, of Clinton street, this city, as guests, while automobiling Tuesday were thrown from their car through its becoming unmanageable.

The whole party, when near Picton Station, pitched headlong into the gutter, with the machine on top. Part of the car rested on Mr. Glendenning's back. Mrs. Glendenning was seriously injured. They were sent to their homes in carriages.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

"The Old Homestead," which comes to the New Plainfield theatre Saturday afternoon and night, is a perfect transcript of life. Its characters are real people, whose troubles and joys are real as are their comedy and pathos which invariably beget laughter and tears. The company this season is practically the same as that of last year, including the famous double quartette, which will be heard in the old favorites and also in some new and effective numbers. The production from a scenic point of view, will be elaborate and characteristic.

Considerable interest attaches to the engagement of Florence Roberts at the New Plainfield theatre next Monday night in that she will produce for the first time here, "The Strength of the Weak," described as a new modern play in four acts by Alice M. Smith. The locales of "The Strength of the Weak" are placed in and around New York city. There is nothing cynical or unsavory in the play, but the lines are permeated with optimism and in the characters will be found a coterie of natural types well portrayed and defined. The theme is not a new one, since themes in drama are confined to a small number, which have already been exhausted, but it is in the manner of its telling and the atmosphere of its construction that an innovation is promised.

"The Prince of Pilsen," the familiar musical comedy by Frank Pixley and Gustav Luders, will be played at the New Plainfield theatre next Tuesday night. Manager Henry W. Savage in sending this tuneful and popular entertainment on its four seasons' travels, has limited its presentation to one company, which in its personnel represents a judicious distribution of the various characters among those who have shown their superiority in previous casts of this play. Jess Dandy retains his humorous impersonation of Hans Wagner, the Cincinnati alderman, who, on a holiday trip to Nice, is mistaken for the Prince of Pilsen, and has an embarrassing flood of honors showered upon him. Ida Stanhope is playing Mrs. Crocker, the coquettish widow, and it is noted that she had this character in the London production of the play several months ago. Ruth Peebles, Arthur Donaldson and Ivar Anderson are members of the original cast who retain the parts then played. James E. Rome and Marguerite Ferguson are among the newcomers in the company and Marie Welsh brings to it a voice of pleasing quality and a personality that fits admirably into the pictures.

The announcement of the presentation at the New Plainfield theatre next Wednesday night of the comedy drama, "A Ragged Hero," must surely be welcome to all who delight in that most popular form of theatrical amusement, for the play comes here with a record for that success that is unparalleled this season. It is to be presented in the most sumptuous way, its scenery alone representing the entire cost of two average productions. It is enacted by a remarkably strong company of thirty and has every element of success both from the viewpoint of the management or from the viewpoint of the satisfaction of the audiences that witness it.

Count Leo Tolstoi, whose famous works have thousands of admirers in America and who is best remembered for his "Resurrection" and the sensation that it created throughout the world, has consented to a dramatization of his greatest work, "Not Like Other Girls," for American production, and Frederick Schwartz, the noted author, after a personal visit to Moscow to Tolstoi, has made, after months of preparation, the necessary arrangements for its production, and so far, the success of "Not Like Other Girls" has far exceeded the expectations of those concerned. The production is the most talked of event in theatrical circles and three companies are now organized to tour the United States and Canada, and the popularity already achieved makes it, the one dramatic success of the year. Our theatre goers will have an opportunity to witness this great play at the New Plainfield theatre one week from tonight.

START WORK ON SANITARIUM.

Building of State's Tuberculosis Institution to Be Rushed.

Glen Gardner, April 12.—A number of men arrived at Mt. Kipp yesterday to work on the State tuberculosis sanitarium, which is in course of construction. The work will be pushed as rapidly as possible. The foundations are up and steel girders are being placed in position. The work has been greatly retarded by stormy weather and bad roads. The roads, which, for the most part, are muck and clay, have been in a terrible condition this spring.

This, it is hoped, will soon be remedied, as the commissioners have asked for an appropriation of $25,000 to macadamize the road leading from the railroad station to the sanitarium site, a distance of a mile and a half. An appropriation of $60,000 has also been asked for to maintain the institution after it is completed.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Hockridge, of Grant avenue, have leased the house at 720 Watchung avenue, and will move there soon.

Plainfield, N. J., April 12, 1906.

Wings and Flies

By Tom Muir.

Looks as though the S. R. O. sign will be in evidence at the New Plainfield Saturday. "The Old Homestead" has caught the town as of yore and evidently everybody in the family from grandma down will be on hand.

Owing to its success in Philadelphia, the run of "The Redskin" has been extended at the Chestnut Street theatre there, and in consequence Plainfield loses this attraction. In its place Manager Counihan has secured the strong drama, "Not Like Other Girls," dramatized by Count Tolstoy, for next Thursday night.

Al Leech, the phenomenal comedian—phenomenal because of his rapid rise to stellar heigths—is coming to the New Plainfield on May 5. He will bring with him "The Three Rosebuds," famed the country over because of their beauty and talent, and a supporting chorus of forty for the presentation of the musical success, "Girls Will Be Girls."

Robert Denton, the leading man of the comedy drama, "A Ragged Hero," is probably the youngest and, his admirers say, the handsomest leading man on the stage today. He is only twenty-four years old and has been playing "leads" for four seasons, having won his present position by remarkable talent and an adaptability for hard, conscientious work.

"The Prince of Pilsen," which comes to the New Plainfield next Tuesday night, probably contains more delightful musical numbers than any production of its kind placed on the boards in recent years. Among the best known are "The Message of the Violet," "The Tale of the Sea Shell," "The Stein Song," "Pictures in the Smoke," and "The Tale of the Cities." The effective manner in which the latter is given is one of the hits of the piece.

PARK AVENUE BAPTISTS HOLD 30TH ANNUAL SESSION.

George E. Hall, G. W. V. Moy and R. C. Treadwell Re-elected Trustees.

George E. Hall, G. W. V. Moy and Roland C. Treadwell were re-elected trustees for three years at the thirtieth annual parish meeting of the Park Avenue Baptist church last night.

Treasurer L. R. Schofield presented his report for the past year as follows: Balance, April 1, 1905, $1.49; subscription to floating debt, $540; special subscription, $265.03; envelope collections, $2,867.65; basket collections, mornings, $101.14; evenings, $148.17; note discounted at bank, $300; rebate on coal, $8.77; total, $4,232.25. The disbursements were as follows: Pastor's salary, $1,700; sexton's salary, $300; gas and electric light, $147.63; interest, $483.09; music, $247.10; repairs, $317.96; pulpit supplies, $58; trustee notes, $640; sundry bills, $166.21; John Johnston's note for coal, $97.50; balance in bank, $74.76.

In addition to the financial statement it was reported that the standing debt on the church property had been reduced by $837.19. It was announced that Mrs. Clara M. Naylor, Miss Gladys Edsall, Walter H. Cuming, Clarence F. Bechtel, Roland McK. Stover and Cedric Ostrand would be baptized at the Easter service Sunday night.

—The annual meeting of the Home Building and Loan Association will be held on Monday evening, April 16, in its rooms, 109 Park avenue. A new series will be opened at this meeting.

COUNCILMANIC ROUTINE

Minor Matters Considered at the Adjourned Meeting of the City Fathers.

ADJUST ASSESSMENT.

Elston M. French's Offer to Comprise Claim Accepted—Pay Bill of $300 For Auditing Work.

Elston M. French, who owns the property at 1357-1361 Evergreen avenue, over which there has been a dispute regarding the assessment for 1904 taxes, communicated with the Common Council last night at the adjourned session, signifying his desire to compromise in settlement by paying the face value of the assessment and thereby agreeing to discontinue his appeal before the State Board of Taxation. As Corporation Counsel Marsh recommended a settlement upthe terms offered by Mr. French, Mr. Daniel moved that this be done. The resolution providing for an adjustment of the matter was adopted.

H. C. Tracy and others asked for three electric lights on Prospect avenue, between Woodland and Hillside avenues, and the petition was referred to the light committee.

William Hand asked that an assessment for $24.62 on property owned by him be adjusted by refunding him $15.50, the amount paid in error. The matter was referred to the finance committee. F. J. Harris petitioned for the release of property on the northeast corner of Clinton avenue and West Seventh street, which has been assessed to W. H. Wells. He claimed that he is the owner of the property and has paid the taxes for years. The matter was referred to the finance committee.

The complete report of Auditor George E. Collins, who has been going over the city's books, was presented, and Mr. Daniel stated for the benefit of the members that it had been carefully examined by the finance committee and found correct, the various accounts in detail being found to correspond, and the departments are in good shape. He then moved that Mr. Collins' bill for $300 be paid, which was done.

Corporation Counsel Marsh reported that the First National Bank had redeemed some property for 1902 taxes which was sold under the Martin act and advised that the tax collector give the bank a copy of the certificate of sale, which had been recorded in the Union county clerk's office. Mr. Daniel, of thefinance committee, to whom the matter was referred, reported on it later, following out the advice and instructions of Mr. Marsh.

Mr. Daniel also reported the adjustment of a tax assessment matter wherein Harriet Terry was the complainant. She had been assessed for two house connections on East Seventh street, when it should only have been one. Mr. Cottrell, the other owner, had agreed to pay his share, and thus relieve the complaint.

Mr. Daniel offered a resolution fixing the annual appropriation for the Board of Health at $5,000, according to its request, and which provided that it be appropriated from the general fund. This resolution, as well as another one fixing the appropriation for the Plainfield Public Library and Reading room at $5,100, was adopted.

Still another resolution by Mr. Daniel, which was adopted, provided that $14,250 be appropriated for street lighting for the coming year. He stated that last year's appropriation was $13,800, but that there is a constant demand for lights, which must necessarily increase the appropriation. Mr. Daniel's resolution fixing $2 as the tax to be levied upon the owner of every ydog was adopted.

Mr. Daniel reported back the petition of E. E. Robinson & Co., of New York, asking the Common Council to purchase a new atlas and map of Plainfield, but suggested that it would not be wise to subscribe for it until it is completed, and this, he understood, would be four months off. Mr. Daniel's suggestion was adopted.

Mr. Gloak reported on the petition of the residents of Clinton avenue asking for the establishment of the proper grade, and he stated that the work was almost completed.

TEACHERS' RETIREMENT FUND BILL HAS PASSED.

The New Law Will Compel Teachers to Contribute.

The State Senate last night passed House bill No. 447, the State teachers' retirement fund bill. It provides that the board of trustees shall consist of the State superintendent of public instruction, three members not teachers, and five members who are also members of the fund. The bill compels teachers who begin to teach after Jan. 1, 1908, as a part of their contract, to join the fund.

The deductions from salaries to the fund are to be as follows: Two per cent. of salaries where teachers shall have been such 10 years or less; 2½ per cent. for teachers who have been such between 10 and 15 years and 3 per cent. above 15 years. But no deduction from any one teacher shall exceed $50 a year.

READY FOR SANITARY SEWER EXTENSION BIDS

MUST BE FILED WITH CITY CLERK BY MONDAY NIGHT. MAY 7.

Plans for extending the sanitary sewer system were introduced by Chairman Gloak, of the street committee, at the adjourned meeting of the Common Council last night. It was the purpose of last year's street committee to do the work, but it was finally decided to lay the matter over for the incoming body. While the plans presented by Mr. Gloak do not cover all of the streets considered last year, they take in many of them. The extension will add about two miles to the system.

Accompanying the plans, specifications, maps, etc., presented by Mr. Gloak was a resolution fixing Monday night, May 7, as the time when bids will be received for the work. The resolution authorized the city clerk to insert advertisements in The Daily Press and other papers.

The plans call for an extension of the system in the following named streets: Darrow avenue, North Front street, Park lane, Park terrace, Essex street, between Spooner and Darrow avenues, Midway avenue, 125 feet east of Third street; East Sixth street, between Richmond and Central streets; Columbia avenue, between Frederick street and Leland avenue; Leland avenue, between Columbia and North avenues; East Seventh street, between Leland and Belvidere avenues; Berckman street, between East Front street and North avenue; East Fourth street, from Richmond street, 750 feet west; East Second street, from Berckman street to Netherwood avenue; North avenue from the end of the present sewer system at the water works to Terrill road.

DISPLEASED WITH FOREMAN, SECTION HANDS STRIKE.

Gang in Plainfield District Remain Loyal to Bernard McNevin, Recently Removed.

Twelve section hands on the Jersey Central who look after the tracks in the Plainfield district quit unexpectedly yesterday afternoon because, according to one of them, they were not satisfied with a new foreman, John Gavin. They have been in charge of Bernard McNevin for a long time, but he was removed a few days ago by the powers that be and the humble trackmen showed their displeasure in a protest. When no attention was paid to them they adopted the next best course, and that was to "strike." Gavin was left to himself yesterday, and this morning the gravel train crew was used as a means to get him a new supply of laborers.

When an official of the road was asked about the matter, he denied that the men had quit because of dissatisfaction with the foreman, but stated that they had asked for more pay. All had good jobs, he said, but as they had seen fit to leave because their demands had not been complied with, the road was through with them.

Easter Day Programme.

Special Easter exercises will be held at the Park Avenue Baptist church Sunday night under the auspices of the Sunday-school, of which George E. Hall is the superintendent. The programme will be as follows: Prelude, processional, opening chorus, "The Banner of the Risen King," school; responsive Scriptive reading, superintendent and school; carols, "Easter is Here," "Sing of a Risen Saviour," "Jesus Arose," "Jesus is Risen," "Let the Song Exulting Ring," "Golden Gates of Easter Morning," "Sing We Alleluja," by the school; prayer, Rev. A. E. Finn; exercise, "A Story of Faith," intermediate class; solo and chorus, "Glory to the King," Miss Anna Clark and intermediate choir; exercise, "The Easter Cross," seven young women. At the close of the exercises there will be the ordinance of baptism.

—Strictly fresh eggs are a feature at Neuman Brothers' store. They will have big consignments especially for the Easter demand.

"Huyler's" Candies for EASTER.

"Huyler's" is the most popular Candy of the day, because its standard of Purity and High Quality is always maintained.

THE DAY OF SORROW AT HOLY CROSS CHURCH.

Order of Service Arranged by Rector For Good Friday.

During the three hour Passion service to be held at Holy Cross church tomorrow from 12 o'clock to 3 o'clock, the choir will be in the chancel and assist in the singing of familiar hymns and the litany of the Passion. The church will be draped in black and all the altar memorials removed.

"The Seven Last Words" will be taken in order as follows: "Father! Forgive Them for They Know Not What They Do." "Today Shalt Thou Be With Me In Paradise." "Woman! Behold Thy Son. Son! Behold Thy Mother." "My God, My God, Why Hast Thou Forsaken Me?" "I Thirst." "It is Finished." "Father, Into Thy Hands I Commend My Spirit."

Each of these words in turn, at intervals during the service, will be the theme of a meditation, by the rector, Rev. George A. Warner.

The hymns usual to the occasion will be sung, among them, "O, Come and Mourn With Me Awhile," "See the Destined Day Arise," "O, Thou From Whom All Goodness Flows," "Sweet the Moments Rich in Blessing," "When Our Heads Are Bowed With Woe," "Far From My Heavenly Home," "'Tis Finished, So the Saviour Cried," "O, Sacred Head Surrounded."

This service is open to all and the sittings are free. Those who attend may remain as long or short a time as they wish. Easter Even at the 5 o'clock service there will be several children and adults baptized.

TEARS FREELY SHED AT DIVORCE TRIAL.

Both Plaintiff and Defendant, Who Tell Different Stories, Overcome on Stand.

Tears were in evidence at the hearing yesterday of a suit for divorce before Vice-Chancellor Stevens, at Newark. The action is brought by Joseph J. Hartmann, of Newark, against his wife, Anna M. Hartmann. The statutory offense is alleged as the basis of the action.

Hartmann broke down when testifying that the night of last July 1 he, accompanied by three private detectives, broke into a room in the Hotel Victor, 75 Frelinghuysen avenue, and found his wife in the room with another man. Hartmann could not restrain his tears while he related that the other man was his friend and a member of the same fraternity.

Mrs. Hartmann also was in tears when she gave her testimony. She admitted having gone to a room in the hotel in question with her husband's friend. She explained that she had gone to Lorraine to secure a prize she had won in a bowling contest and had met the friend on the trip. While returning to Newark, she said, she was attacked with heart weakness and went to the hotel, where she was attended by the wife of the proprietor. She claimed not to remember the appearance of her husband and also declared she knew nothing of the presence of the three detectives.

She denied that they could have witnessed the scene to which they testified, and which tended to compromise her.

Free Organ Recital.

Gottfried H. Frederlein, associate of the American Guild of Organists, will give an organ recital at Grace church on Thursday night, April 19, at 8 o'clock, assisted by Miss Mary C. Hubbell, contralto, and Dr. Leonard Waldo, 'cello.

This programme will be rendered: Sonata No. 111—first movement—Allegro maestosoe con fuoco, Guilmant; "Berceuse," Spinney; "Pilgrim Chorus," Wagner; contralto solo, "My Heart Ever Faithful," Bach, Miss Hubbell; "Pastoral Sonata—opus 88—pastoral, intermezzo, fugue, heinberger; 'cello solo, "Largo," Handel, Dr. Waldo; prelude and fugue—A minor, Bach; contralto solo, "Ave Verum," Mozart, Miss Hubbell; "Andante Religioso," Lemaigre; "Burlesca e Melodie," Baldwin.

OLD FIRE-FIGHTERS MAY HAVE TO WALK PLANK.

Rumored in Jersey City that More than a Score Will Be Retired as Incapacitated.

The Jersey City Fire Department is stirred over a rumor that the Civil Service Commission, composed of Andrew J. Corcoran and William George Nelson, appointed by Mayor Fagan Wednesday, intends to dismiss at least a score of fire fighters who by reason of age are incapacitated from doing the work that younger men can perform.

To Chief Conway has been assigned the task of submitting a list of these men. It is said that nearly every one selected to walk the plank has served in the department over twenty years.

Several fire officials, including two captains, it is said, have sent in their resignations and asked to be retired on half pay pension, to which they are entitled. Others who are said to be on the incapacitated list and who have not yet served the prescribed time to entitle them to pensions, will legally combat efforts to remove them.

Consolidation Move.

The Board of Trade's communication asking the appointment of a committee to confer with a North Plainfield councilmanic committee on the ways and means for bringing about consolidation was received by the Common Council last night. President Tolles referred it to the committee on public affairs without comment.

BOY SUES RAILROAD FOR LOSS OF HIS FEET.

Father Holds Lad in Court So that the Jurymen Can See the Stumps.

Reclining in the arms of his father, Henry Feld, five years old, son of a well known business man of Passaic, was carried into the Supreme Court in Newark yesterday, where the trial was begun of a suit for $50,000 damages against the Jersey City, Hoboken and Paterson Street Railway Company. Of that amount four-fifths are asked for the boy, whose feet were cut off by a trolley car in Passaic over a year ago, and the balance is asked by his father for loss of services and expenses.

During the trial Feld held the boy on his arms with the stumps exposed so that the jury could see them.

The evidence showed the boy was knocked down and run over when crossing the street near his home.

Howard McSherry, counsel for the company, asked for a non-suit, claiming that the parents of the boy had been negligent in allowing him to run in the street. Chief Justice Gummere denied the motion. The trial was not concluded.

Huckster Committed.

John Southards, the Newark huckster arrested for the alleged theft of two bags of potatoes from George Kiersted's barn, West Fourth street, was committed to the county jail this morning, to await the action of the grand jury. He was arraigned before Justice Mosher.

—Dr. N. C. Schaeffer, State Superintendent of Schools in Pennsylvania, will lecture before the teachers of the city and borough public schools at the Plainfield High School on Wednesday, April 25.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning April 15.

By REV. S. H. DOYLE.

Topic.—Christ's Life, IV. Lessons from His resurrection miracles.—John xi, 1-46; Luke vii, 11-17; viii, 41, 42, 49-56. (Easter meeting.)

Jesus Christ was pre-eminently a teacher—a teacher of spiritual truth and its lessons. He came to reveal God to man, and man in his ignorance needed much instruction concerning God, and Christ, in deed as well as in word, was constantly giving man this instruction. His miracles strikingly illustrate this character in Him. They were primarily signs to prove His deity, but they were also lessons on spiritual truth. They may well be called parables in action. In His parables He taught with words, in His miracles with deeds, and the miracles of Christ almost equally with His parables have always been used as mediums of instruction by those whose chief business in life has been to interpret and to apply His teachings to the human soul. This is especially true of His resurrection miracles—the occasions upon which He used His miraculous power to raise the dead to life. These miracles stand out as great object lessons, which all may do well to study and to profit thereby.

Three times only Christ used His miraculous power to raise the dead, which in itself is a significant fact and rich in instruction. In this fact Christ clearly teaches that death is not the terror that we usually consider it. In each of the three instances He raised the dead not for their sakes, but for the sake of the living. No cry from the dead reached His ears, but the appeals of burdened human hearts still in life did reach Him and called forth His gracious response. In one instance it was the breaking heart of a mother who was a widow mourning the loss of an only son, in the next it was the anguishing cry of a father disconsolate over the loss of an only daughter, and in the last instance it was the sorrow of sisters over separation from a brother dearly beloved. Christ could have spoken the word and earth and sea would have given up their dead as quickly as the grave gave up Lazarus at His command, "Lazarus, come forth!" But He did not do it, for in Him death has been robbed of its sting and the grave of its victory. In all these resurrections we are taught a lesson on the sympathy of Christ. In each case the miracle of resurrection set forth His sympathy for all who mourn. It may not raise our dead, but He still sympathizes with us in bereavement and in all our other troubles and sorrows.

Each resurrection miracle teaches us many important lessons, but we can select only one from each occasion.

1. The resurrection of the son of the widow of Nain teaches us the lesson of Christ's sympathy for all human suffering. This woman was a stranger to Him. She had no claims upon Him whatever. She asked no favor of Him, but He saw her passing. Already death had claimed her husband, and now her only son was being carried to the tomb. And when Christ saw her "He had compassion on her and said unto her, 'Weep not.'" On all He has compassion. He may be unknown to you, but He knows you and sympathizes with you in all your sorrows.

2. The resurrection of the daughter of Jairus teaches us a lesson on Christ's appreciation of faith. Greater faith could hardly have been possessed than that of this Roman officer. He believed that Christ had complete power over death. A word was all he asked Christ to give, and Christ raised her in response to his great faith. Christ appreciates our faith in Him. It should be an absolute faith. It should exclude all doubt. He will also respond to our faith, for "according to your faith be it unto you."

3. The resurrection of Lazarus teaches Christ's love for His friends. Mary and Martha and Lazarus were His friends. He loved them, and this resurrection miracle was a testimony to His love and fidelity to His friends. And we may be His friends and have Him for our friend by believing in Him, obeying Him and working for Him. "Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you." Do you want Christ as your friend? Then obey Him, and He asks of us faith, love and obedience.

BIBLE READINGS.

Ps. i, 1-6; cili, 1-5; Isa. xl, 39; Matt. i, 20; vii, 7-11; viii, 16, 17, 20-22; xiv, 14; John xv, 10-17; Heb. iv, 14-16.

An Entrance Prayer.

The following versified invocation was written by Rev. Will C. Wood of Boston and is intended to be committed to memory and used by Christians as a prayer upon entering church. Some churches have already decided to have the poem repeated audibly by the congregation as a part of the opening exercises. Endeavorers may like to have it printed (it is not copyrighted) to hand to visitors as they enter the church:

God bless me here,
On holy ground,
Where God is found,
God bless each here;
Pastor and choir
Bless and inspire!
Loved ones at home,
Who cannot come;
The world abroad—
May they seek God!
God give all here
The holy cheer
Of Christ's rich grace,
Sight of God's face.
Amen.

Key to a Happy Year.

Let us say with Paul, "This one thing I do—forgetting those things which are behind and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus." And it will be a "happy New Year" to the very end.—Grace L. Jones.

SCIENCE PREVENTS BALDNESS.

The Fatal Germ and Its Remedy Now Facts of Science.

It is the rarest thing in the world for a man to be necessarily bald. No man whose hair is not dead at the roots, need be bald if he will use Newbro's Herpicide, the new scalp antiseptic. Herpicide destroys the germ that cuts the hair off at the root; and cleans the scalp of dandruff and leaves it in a perfectly healthy condition. Mr. Mannett, in the Maryland Block, Butte, Mont., was entirely bald. In less than a month Herpicide had removed the enemies of hair growth, and nature did its work by covering his head with thick hair an inch long, and in six weeks he had a normal suit of hair. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

April 15: "The Resurrected Life" (Easter Sunday)—Gal. ii, 20; Rom. vi, 4-14; Eph. ii, 1-7; Col. ii, 10-15; iii, 1-17.

By REV. WALTER J. YATES, D. D.

The resurrection of Jesus was a glorious fact which those who had been associated with Him in His earthly life and dying could not forget or pass over lightly. It is the one last thing needed to confirm his claim to Divine Sonship and prove the truth of His message to men. It settled the belief of His followers and established their hope on an immovable basis. It made clear the nature of His kingdom and brought prominently into view the certainty of future blessedness after death for the people of God.

But not even Peter and John saw the full significance of the fact of the resurrection of Jesus for the faith of men as did St. Paul.

He was a student in Jerusalem in the school of the noted teacher of the law, Gamaliel, at the time when Stephen was so eloquently preaching in the synagogue of the freedmen in Jerusalem and most likely heard him and was among those who were overcome by the arguments of Stephen. Because unable to successfully combat the reasoning they became violently prejudiced against the man and succeeded in putting him to death, but the truth which Stephen declared could not be shaken off was a great factor, doubtless, in the conversion of Paul at Damascus. He was prepared for the revelation of the risen Christ at Damascus by the reasoning of Stephen at Jerusalem.

In his preaching, the resurrection of Jesus Christ becomes the pivotal fact on which all else turns, but it is not as a matter of doctrine alone that he puts stress upon it.

If Christ died He died unto sin. This was once for all. He now lives for the God-life, above all power of death.

If we are Christ's we have by His death been released from the power of sin and death and may rise to sharing here and now in the life which Christ now lives and receive hereafter the fullness of adoption in the redemption of our bodies by resurrection in His likeness.

We are, then, under obligation to live now the risen life. We must no more have anger, malice, blasphemy, uncleanness or any evil in our spirits or lives. His spirit must cleanse and raise us here to fellowship with Christ and fraternity with our fellow men.

This is the gospel according to St. Paul. He demonstrated in his life and death its power. It has molded the Christian life during these past centuries. It is still the power of God unto salvation to every one who believes it.

Are you on this Easter day living with Christ the resurrected life?

Access to God.

It is not an easy matter for men of inferior rank to get access or freedom of conference with one that is an earthly prince. Admission to all would weigh him down to a slave. He cannot be a center large enough to receive all the lines that come from the vast circumference. But had he an ear for all he could not have wherewith to grant and satisfy all. Nor were men sure to speed, although they were admitted. He that to all should grant what is asked would quickly leave himself nothing at all to grant. He might, perhaps, enrich some others, but he should be sure to impoverish himself. How great, then, are the freedom and the prerogative of the devout Christian who hath a reverence and an affection to the greatness and goodness of his God. Though he often lives here in a slight esteem among men, yet by his prayers and the ardent effusion of his groans and wishes he can freely confer with the King of Heaven.—Owen Feltham.

More and More.

God's promises are ever on the ascending scale. One leads up to another, fuller and more blessed than itself. In Mesopotamia God said, "I will show thee the land;" in Canaan, "I will give thee all the land and children innumerable as the grains of sand." It is thus that God allures us to saintliness—not giving us anything till we have dared to act, that He may test us; not giving everything at first, that He may not overwhelm us, and always keeping in hand an infinite reserve of blessing. Oh, the unexplored reserves of God! Who ever saw His last star?—Rev. F. B. Meyer.

The Test.

To be beaten, but not broken; to be victorious, but not vainglorious; to strive and contend for the prize and to win it honestly or lose it cheerfully; to use every power in the race and yet never to wrest an undue advantage or win an unlawful mastery—verily, in all this there are training and testing of character which search it to the very roots, and this is a result which is worth all it costs us.—Bishop Henry C. Potter.

A Prayer.

I ask for strength to stand erect
And face my fellow man.
I ask for power to sow the seed
Of joy where'er I can.
I ask for faith that I may fight
The battles of each day
And view the triumphs I may win
In a humble, Christlike way.

I ask for light that I may see,
With vision bright and clear,
The regal splendors of my Lord
As daily they appear
In sea and sky and flower and tree,
In meadow, brook and song of bird;
In valley or on mountain top,
Where'er His joyous voice is heard.

I ask for health that I may toil
And earn my daily bread
And meet the needs of every hour
With neither fear nor dread.
I ask for help to turn to Thee
Whene'er my race is run
And meekly say, with trusting heart,
"My Lord, Thy will be done."

Thomas Holmes in Trenton State Gazette.

TWO CLASSES.

There are two kinds of people
On earth today,
Just two kinds of people,
No more, I say.

Not the sinner and saint,
For 'tis well understood,
The good are half bad
And the bad half good.

Not the rich and the poor,
For to count a man's wealth
You must first know the state
Of his conscience and health.

Not the humble and proud,
For in life's little span,
Who puts on vain airs
Is not counted a man.

Not the happy and sad,
For the swift-flying years
Bring each man his laughter
And each man his tears.

No, the two kinds of people
On earth I mean,
Are the people who lift
And the people who lean.

Wherever you go you will find
The world's masses
Are always divided
In just these two classes.

And, oddly enough, you will find,
Too, I ween,
There is only one lifter
To twenty who lean.

In which class are you?
Are you easing the load
Of overtaxed lifters
Who toil down the road?

Or are you a leaner
Who lets others bear
Your portion of labor
And worry and care?

—Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

DECADENCE?

(A carboy of mineral water, put too close to a radiator, exploded in the Republican cloakroom of the House while J. Adam Bede, the recognized jester, was telling a funny story. A dozen members scrambled away. Nobody was hurt.—Washington News.)

No cloakroom made for our great men
A mineral water drinking den
When eloquence took foremost rank
And was the mode—
The things that Clay and Webster drank
Did not explode!

Or cold or hot these things were served,
And though the orator they nerved,
He knew their nature, bold and frank
No grudges owed—
The things that Clay and Webster drank
Did not explode!

"Decadence" has no pleasant sound;
Our oratory's almost drowned
In vichyous noise and horseplay prank
Which ills forebode—
The things that Clay and Webster drank
Did not explode!

—Brooklyn Eagle.

EVERYBODY'S PAID BUT TEACHERS.

Everybody's paid but teacher,
Carpenter, mason and clerk.
Everybody's paid but teacher,
She gets nothing but work.

Everybody works but teacher,
Toiling day and night.
Everybody's paid but teacher,
Drawing her slender mite.

Everybody's paid but teacher,
Butcher, baker and cook.
Everybody's paid but teacher,
Grafter, fakir and crook.

Everybody's paid but teacher,
McCurdy, McCall and Depew.
Everybody works (us) but teacher,
Lawson, Harriman and crew.

Everybody's paid but teacher,
Paid with a scowl or a smile.
Everybody's paid but teacher,
Whose work is not worth while.

Everybody's paid but teacher,
Seeking her pay above.
Everybody's paid but teacher,
Living on ethereal love.

Everybody loves the teacher,
Everybody gives her praise.
Everybody says she's a wonder,
But nobody offers her a "raise."

Everybody's paid but teacher,
Everybody works but teacher.
Everybody gets and everybody spends,
But nobody earns more than teacher.

—Exchange.

A TRAGEDY.

"Oh! would I were a glove upon that hand,
That I might touch that cheek!"
Thus at the play, in a fervid way,
Did lovesick Romeo speak.
The gentle Juliet did not hear the words,
Therefore made no reply.
My soul was filled with romance as we sat
Queenly Irene and I.

But later, after supper, when I spoke,
Irene made a reply:
Alas! that I should hear it, for it caused
My young romance to die.
She donned her gloves, I made the speech,
The same as Romeo did.
Quick she responded, "You'd not wish to be Any more kinds of a kid!"

—J. E. Butler.

"The Empty Sleeve."

Such is the title of Charles Dana Gibson's latest picture to be issued as a supplement to the Sunday World next Sunday. It is full of pathos. Every one will want it. Tell your newsdealer today, so he may set aside a copy of next Sunday's World for you.

MRS. APPLEGATE WELL AGAIN!

"I have had a bruised leg and foot for several years, caused by the brass eyelets of my shoe, which became very sore and painful especially at night. It itched, burned and ached me till it nearly set me crazy. I used everything I found and was suggested to ease it and nothing gave me any relief till I found and applied Axienza Cream which I think is a wonderful remedy for all sores and inflammation of the skin. The hard knots on my legs were as painful as bee stings, with discolored and purple spots. A running sore on my instep size of a half-dollar; the top of my foot a seething sore clean around to my heel. The bone was sore for a whole year and very painful. I used five and one-half jars of Axienza Cream and healed the sore all up. The foot remained tender and I continued to use to strengthen and toughen the skin until now it is entirely well." The firm has the reputation for selling the best goods and is constantly increasing its business in consequence. Place your orders early for Easter and you will have no trouble in delivery.

MIGHT PERMIT COAL COMBINE.

Belated Wakelee Bills Obtained from Gilbert Collins Halted in Senate.

Trenton, April 12—A quiet, unobtrusive, yet nevertheless conclusive, method of effectuating the old "coal combine" act of 1893 is found in two bills introduced in the Senate Monday night by Mr. Wakelee, of Bergen. Ostensibly the proposed acts simply amend the existing railroad law so that a New Jersey corporation may have the right to acquire as well as lease and operate other railroads.

The first of the two bills, which amends Section 69 of the general railroad act, revision of 1903, adds to the section, "or may take a lease of the road or any part thereof of any other railroad company of this or any other State."

In substance the bill repeals that provision of the general railroad act which requries a special act for the leasing or merging of two or more railroads. It is regarded as similar to the attempt made in 1893, which was then characterized as a coal combine measure.

When the bills came up yesterday morning Mr. Wakelee said he had received them from Gilbert Collins, who said they were necessary to enable the New Jersey corporation which is now constructing a tunnel under the Hudson River to absorb another company. Under the present law, he said, the foreign corporation could take over the home company, but the latter is barred from becoming the controlling factor.

Senators Colby and Minturn objected to the bills principally because they said such important measures should not be withheld until the eleventh hour. At their suggestion the bills were temporarily laid over.

ANTHONY HOPE'S NEW ROMANCE.

Sophy of Kravonia—The Woman of the Red Star.

Anthony Hope, the famous author, who wrote "The Prisoner of Zenda" and other stirring romances, has just completed a new romance, "Sophy of Kravonia, or The Woman of the Red Star." It is full of soul stirring interest and is declared by all critics to be better than "The Prisoner of Zenda," which made Hope famous. This wonderful story begins publication exclusively in "The Philadelphia Sunday Press," April 22. On this day "The Sunday Press" will also give away, absolutely free, a fine art supplement picture, size 14x21 inches, entitled "The Masqueraders," printed separately in six colors on heavy paper. Be sure and get "The Sunday Press" on April 22, and each Sunday thereafter, to read this great romance. Notify your newsdealer or carrier to reserve your paper, as the demand on this day will be enormous and late callers may be disappointed. Such great value in a Sunday newspaper is unprecedented and yet it's the great "Sunday Press" that always leads in giving the people the best of everything.

LOCAL OPTION IN NEW YORK.

Albany, April 12.—By a vote of 79 to 39 the Assembly Tuesday afternoon voted to discharge the excise committee from further consideration of the Wainwright local option bill. This action indicates that the bill will pass the lower House, and the belief prevails that a local option bill of some kind will pass both Houses. The Wainwright bill will be placed on today's second-reading calendar in the Assembly.

The Democrats voted solidly against the discharge of the committee, with the exceptions of Messrs. Palmer and Oglesby, who voted with the Republicans to discharge the committee. All of the municipal ownership Assemblymen present voted against the discharge of the committee.

Twenty Years' Success.

With considerable pride Harry Werner, the West Front street clothier, announces the twentieth anniversary of his business career in Plainfield. It has not only been a successful one, but has been marked by fair and honest dealing, which have brought to Mr. Werner a steady increase of business each year. In celebrating this noteworthy event Mr. Werner announces that at his annual spring opening, which is now on, he will present a beautiful souvenir Easter card to each purchaser of $5 or over. Patrons will find a new-up-to-date line of all the latest styles of clothing, comprising men's suits, boys' and chidren's suits, top coats, cravenettes and men's furnishings in general. The prices are very reasonable and satisfaction is guaranteed.

Jail For Two Drunks.

Two drunks started for a long stay at the county jail from the city court this morning. Charles Williams, bored by a week of freedom, smiled cheerfully when the magistrate carded him for two months. John Giles went down for forty days.

MANY MODELS OF NEW AUTOMOBILES.

"Licensed" and "Independent" Hand Book Show 165 New Types.

Interesting statistics illustrating the growth of the automobile industry in this country and the variety of tastes catered to in style and price of gasolene motor vehicles are furnished in the handbooks of gasolene automobiles for 1906, just issued by the Association of Licensed Automobile Manufacturers and the American Motor Car Manufacturers' Association. In these two organizations are included fifty-two different concerns manufacturing gasolene vehicles.

The A. L. A. M. or "Licensed," hand book shows 108 distinct models of pleasure vehicles of thirty-one different makes. The A. M. C. M. A., or "Independent," hand book shows fifty-eight different models of pleasure vehicles of twenty-one different makes. The total number of catalogued models in the two organizations is 166. These range from single cylinder runabouts, selling at $650, to four cylinder high speed machines listed at $18,000.

The prices of American made machines average much higher than is generally believed. For instance, the 108 models of the "Licensed" group average $3,600, while the fifty-eight models of the "Independent" group average $2,025 per car. The grand American average price is therefore $2,812.

The "Licensed" prices run from $650, for Oldsmobile runabouts, to $18,000 for a four cylinder Locomobile of ninety horse power and Vanderbilt Cup type. Twenty-six different "Licensed" models are listed at $5,000 or more.

The employment of four-cylinder engines is general in both groups. Among "Licensed" models 86 are equipped with four-cylinder motors, 13 with double cylinders and nine with single cylinders. In the "Independent" group the figures are 34, 16 and 1, respectively. A three-cylinder engine is built by one maker in each group.

The manufacturers are building six-cylinder engines for high power cars. These are the Franklin and Stevens-Duryea in the A. L. A. M.

DIAMOND DUST.

Suicide's "Joke" Was Real.

New Brunswick, April 12.—A well dressed man, between thirty-five and forty years old, who had been loitering near the Empire Foundry, in Jersey avenue, Tuesday, stopped several workmen as they came out at noon and asked them for a revolver, saying he wanted to kill himself. All thought he was joking. He went to the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks, at the rear of the foundry, however, waited until a westbound passenger train came along, and, kneeling in front of it, put his head on the rails. He was killed. The only clue to his identity was a business card of Bond & Co., china dealers, 1329 G street, Northwest, Washington, found in his pocket, with a lead pencil and a toothbrush.

'TIPPO' DREAMS BASEBALL

Mc Cann Prepared to Skiddoo When Roommate Dashes After Imaginary Ball.

IN THE "AMEN CORNER"

Jocko, Whose Real Name is Willie, Holds the Floor for 120 Minutes at the Experience Club's Session.

According to Manager Murray the Jerseys have just enough edge on them to jump in the Eastern League race. The team is in excellent condition with the exception of Pfanmiller and McCann. Pfanmiller was sent to his home in Jersey City yesterday, where he will recuperate, while McCann has been keeping indoors and will doubtless be out this afternoon. Captain Bean has arranged to play a practice game with the colts who will be augmented by Deegan, MacLaughlin, Wiltse, Smith and other Plainfield players.

An exciting event scheduled to take place tonight is a billiard match between Halligan and Holmes. The latter claims the championship of the central west and if he is successful in the match with Halligan he announces that he will immediately issue a challenge to Willie Hoppe, the former Hoboken boy who is now the international champion.

Holmes has been christened "Zippo" by his comrades. The team had planned to formally initiate him tonight, but owing to the presence of Manager Murray the ceremony has been postponed until the team reaches New Bedford. Zippo rooms with Gene McCann and according to the Baltimorean he is the soundest sleeper in the bunch. It is reported among the players that McCann experienced a frightful scare Tuesday night and awoke from his slumber with fear and trembling. Zippo, it seems, had been dreaming that he was in a ball game, for when McCann awoke the Iowan was running about the room trying to pull down an imaginary fly ball and shouting at the top of his voice, "Look out, Jocko, I got it, I got it." According to the yarn McCann grabbed his baseball bat and slippers and was prepared to skiddoo when he beheld the spectacle to be none the less than Zippo Holmes in a strenuous night-mare.

The players are anxiously awaiting the struggle with the Hoboken team Sunday and it is probable that the team will leave Plainfield Saturday morning for Jersey City.

Handford, the recruit from Trenton, practiced for the first time yesterday and showed up pretty strong. Manager Murray is much pleased over his style and says he will strengthen the team in the fielding department. Handford turned in with a sore arm and will let up in work today.

The fanning session was called to order promptly at 7 p. m. last night. In order to accommodate the fanners, Proprietor Leary removed the chairs from the reading room to the outer sanctum. Jocko Halligan, being in his slippers, acted as chairman in place of Gene McCann. It was moved and seconded that Brothers moved and seconded that Billy Nash be produced at a special meeting to be held this evening at the appointed hour and in the same place. On motion of Mr. Reilly, Brother Hacquer was excused two hours for the purpose of covering two church assignments. Mr. Halligan was accorded the privilege of the floor and held his hearers spellbound for a period of 120 minutes. During that time he gave an interesting, as well as profitable, discourse on the life and deeds of Tommy Hess, a noted backstop artist with whom he chummed for twenty years. His remarks were interpersed with humorous sayings in connection with Mr. Hess' stunts on the diamond. He brought out that fact that Tommy couldn't read or write, but one of his proficient talents was the art of profanity. Mr. Halligan also laid stress on the matter of his Christian name Jocko. He couldn't explain where or how he got it, but related how a friend lost $10 by making a bet with another fellow that his name was Jack or John. Mr. Halligan's correct front piece is Willie. Among the other interesting points of his career brought out was a graphic description of how he hired out to Weedsport as a pitcher. The climax was that he won his game 16 to 8 and received $25 for his services. As Mr. McCann's throat was out of order he was excused.

Mr. Zippo Holmes has an able discourse on 18-2 balk line three carom billiard contests and also told how he visited a newspaper office in Chicago last season and the good time he had with the sporting editor. Mr. Foxen discoursed on baseball as conducted in the Nutmeg League. On being cross questioned by Mr. Vandergrift he denied that he had ever heard of the league being referred to as the "pie crust league." At this point Manager Murray appeared but was unable to get an opportunity to tell about good old Providence. He adjourned to the writing room, devoting one hour to wielding the pen. Before adjournment Grand Worthy Patriarch Halligan announced his topic for this evening would be "Halligan's home run over the right field fence at Skeneateles."

Jocko Halligan confessed last night that he was once upon a time a "newspaper man." It was about 25 to 30 years ago on the Watkins Democrat. From all accounts it was a short but honored career in the journalistic field, which will go down in the annals of literary stunts way down Canojaharie and Penn Yan way. Jocko's duties, according to his own story, consisted of firing up the boiler, greasing the cog wheels of the press, and carry two bushels of mail matter to the village postoffice every printing day. Jocko was fully satisfied with this layout of work, but one day the editor ordered him to unload a ton of coal. At this point Jocko objected and fired up his job. "Gol darn," said Jocko, "I never could get through my noddle how a newspaper man could be expected to carry coal."

Mr. Halligan says the biggest water melons in the world grow in Iowa, about half a mile from Zippo Holmes' place. Halligan says he bought a 57 pounder there for 15 cents about twenty years ago.

Mrs. Clements is on the sick list with an attack of tonsilitis.

Captain Bean says the players are rounding to in rapid form.

Treasurer Charles Runyon, of the Plainfield Baseball Association, was entertained during the reminiscent session last night. Mr. Halligan obliged with cock fighting yarns while Gene McCann contributed some hear-raising tales about his experiences with patent medicine fakirs around the different parts of the country.

Captain Bean was a guest last night at the Elks' clubroom. He was piloted by George O. Stevens, the coal merchant.

Buffalo's two victories over Cincinnati has given the impression that Ned Hanlon will have trouble in Porkopolis this summer.

Carl Moore turned in with the feathers last night at 8:30 o'clock, the record breaker of the train trip.

Lou Wiltse declares that young Mack is using too much speed in practice and if he keeps it up he will be nursing a lame arm when the May blossoms start to bloom.

A person, supposed to be impersonating Billy Nash, the famous third bagger of the Bostons a few years ago, who visits town every Tuesday, has caused considerable amusement among the players. The supposed Mr. Nash has been spreading yarns about his prowess in the baseball line here for the past two years. He was introduced to Mr. Halligan but the New Yorker failed to recognize him. This is rather funny because the real Mr. Nash and Halligan were intimately associated less than ten years ago. The Jerseys claim he is a fakir, pure and simple, and declare that his sponsors were duped.

There is some talk about George Merritt coming out again this season as a pitcher. Five years ago he could put them over the plate some.

Munson is expected to drop in town some time today.

DIAMOND DUST.

Jerome Leary is warming up faster this season than ever before. Since the Jerseys have been in town he has become a victim of a genuine attack of baseballibitis, which shows signs of lingering twenty-five years or more. Mr. Leary is now planning to organize a party of cranks to attend the opening game in Jersey City on April 26, when the Skeeters will meet Montreal. Fellow fanatics and cranks who desire to take the trip should be enrolled at once.

Bert Rogers, the accommodating clerk of the Iroquois, is a warm favorite of the players. He is known among them as "Kid Speer."

Stuart Freeman, the High School pitcher, is following the footsteps of his father, Walter Freeman. Yesterday young Freeman made his first appearance as a dispenser of curves and signalized his debut by striking out fifteen of the opposing players. Papa Freeman was the man who introduced curve pitching in Plainfield some years ago.

It begins to look that Manager Burke, of Elizabeth, was playing the bluff game when he declared recently that his band of Stars could easily defeat Plainfield. Manager Daab has not withdrawn his offer to bet $200 on a series between the two teams.

Gastmeyer, the former Alis third baseman, has signed to play with the New London team.

After all Warry MacLaughlin will go back to his old love, the New Londons, and will report in time for the opening game on April 27.

Peter Cregan will be interested in organizing a team at Peekskill this season. Peekskill was formerly in the Hudson River League and considered a good baseball town. As Pete is extremely popular in that section the "go" should be a success, at least his friends in this city hope it turns out in this manner.

Harry Blimm has resurrected an old idea of his to organize a league composed of teams from dry goods stores and haberdashery establishments. If the movement is a success games will be played every Wednesday afternoon.

Last year there were twenty or more applicants for the position of official scorer. This year there are none.

Willie Deegan was out indulging in light practice yesterday. Barring a slight stiffness his arm is in fair condition.

Richardson, who captained the Alis aggregation three seasons back, has signed to play with Summit again this year. Richardson led the first basemen in the Lackawanna League last season and was the favorite among the cranks of Summit, who are glad to learn he is coming back again.

P.H.S. STARTS OFF WELL

School Team Defeats Rahway Lads Handily By Score of 5 to 0.

FREEMAN AS TWIRLER

Takes Phil Smith's Place in the Box —Game With De Witt Clinton High School Tomorrow.

Plainfield High School opened its baseball season yesterday with a game with Rahway High School on Crescent Oval. Despite the poor condition of the grounds, the boys played a snappy game, the score being 5 to 0 in favor of the local team, but the score does not indicate the real strength of the Plainfielders, as Captain Davis gave most of his candidates a tryout. The result of this game will help Davis to select his regular team for the game tomorrow with the DeWitt Clinton High School, of New York.

Stuart Freeman was in the box for the locals, in the absence of "Phil" Smith, the regular twirler, and demonstrated his ability as a first clas pitcher. Fifteen of the visitors were victims of strike outs, and not a hit was secured from his delivery. He had good control and plenty of speed. In the absence of Smith in the coming games he will probably do most of the work. For so early in the season the local boys showed good handling of the stick, and it is hoped that this will be improved considerably before the next game.

Harding, Van Deventer and Snyder showed up well in the field, while Loizeaux filled the position of catcher in clever style during the absence of Davis, the regular man, who is kept out of the game by a sprained ankle. The High School team will play DeWitt Clinton High School tomorrow and Commercial High School on Saturday afternoon. Both teams are from New York and will give the locals their hardest test. CHORAL LENTEN SERVICES

Chorus Choir and Soloists of First Baptist Church Render Sacred Composition.

"SEVEN LAST WORDS"

Philharmonic String Quartette With Mme. Rossini, Harpist—Mrs. Ward, Miss Harris and Others, Soloists.

"The Seven Last Words," a Lenten choral musical service, by Th. Dubois, from the English version by Dr. Theodore Baker, together with other appropriate selections for Holy Week, were rendered by the chorus choir of the First Baptist church last night, assisted by the Philharmonic String Quartette and Mme. Rossini, harpist, of New York. Howard M. Case presided at the organ and Edward J. Fitzhugh was the conductor. The soloists were Miss Luella C. Harris, soprano; Mrs. Ferd. M. Ward, contralto; George H. Smith, tenor, and William Holmes, baritone.

There was a very large congregation of worshippers, and the entiee musical production was appreciated in its true sense. The work of the soloists as well as that of the chorus, augmented for the occasion with additional well trained voices, was up to the high standard set at this church. Too much praise cannot be given the work of the string quartette, the harpist and that of Mr. Case. In several instances Mme. Rossini accompanied the soloists and the chorus and a harp selection was a feature.

Part first comprised these numbers: "Largo," in F minor, John Sebastian Bach, by the string quartette; evening hymn, "The Day Is Ended," J. C. Bartlett, by Mrs. Ward and the choir, with violin obligato; "Ave Verum," Edward Elgar, by Mme. Rossini; "Andante," from quartette (opus 29), Franz Schubert, by string quartette; "By Babylon's Wave," Gounod, by the chorus; "Andante Expression," from quartette (opus 12), Mendelssohn, by string quartette, and "The Pilgrims," Henry Leslie, by the chorus.

Part second was devoted to the rendition of "The Seven Last Words," as follows:

Introduction—"O vos Omnes," Miss Marris; first word, "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do," William Holmes, George Smith and chorus; second word, "Verily, thou shalt be in Paradise today with Me, Amen. So I tell thee!" duet, George H. Smith and William Holmes, with chorus; third word, "See, O woman! here behold they son beloved," Miss Harris, William Holmes, with chorus; fourth word, "God, my Father, why hast Thou forsaken me?" William Holmes; fifth word, "I am athirst," George H. Smith and chorus; seventh word, "It is finished," Miss Harris, George H. Smith, William Holmes and chorus. The musical service closed with a prayer sung by the entire choir.

The members of the Philharmonic String Quartette were Otto K. Schill, first violin; Ernest Roentgen, second violin; Carl Schoner, viola, and Udo Gossweiler, violoncello.

CHRIST TAUGHT THE BROTHERHOOD OF MAN.

Essential Unity of Christian Worship Pointed Out by Dr. Tupper.

Dr. Kerr Boyce Tupper, pastor of the Madison Avenue Baptist church, New York, spoke at a special Lenten service at the Crescet Avenue Presbyterian church last night. His topic was "The Philanthropic Christ." The attendance was large.

Speaking from the text, "And He went about doing good," Dr. Tupper dwelt on the message of love and gentleness that Christ has brought to the world. He preached of the loving kindness of the Father, and taught that all men were brothers. Dr. Tupper laid emphasis upon the essential oneness of the Christian faith, whatever the guise under which its followers worshipped.

"Christ taught that every man who says "Father" before "God," he said, "is the brother of everyone here."

Constable Loses Badge.

Constable John Manley has lost his badge and the finder will confer a favor by returning it to him. The badge formerly belonged and was worn by the late Constable Robert Mattox and was loaned to Mr. Manley. Because of this Mr. Manley is very anxious to find the lost insignia. It can either be left at The Daily Press office or Mr. Manley's home in Park avenue.

Second Tenebrae Service.

There was a large attendance at the second rendition of the Tenebrae service at St. Mary's R. C. church, Liberty street, last night. The service will be sung for the last time tonight. A sermon by Father Bogan, the rector, will follow it.

MARCONNIER CHAPEL TO HAVE A REGULAR PASTOR

REV. MR. LANSDALE WILL PROBABLY BE RETAINED TO TAKE CHARGE.

Rev. J. T. Lansdale, who has been serving at Marconnier chapel as temporary supply, is expected to become the permanent pastor of the chapel very shortly. The first step toward installing him in the charge was taken by Trinity church consistory last night, after Mr. Lansdale had made an interesting statement on his work at Oak Tree for the past seven weeks, and the prospects of developing the chapel membership.

Mr. Lansdale made a strong impression on the consistory members. When he finished his report they felt that he was the man to put at the helm of the chapel. Although Trinity is the mother church and Marconnier takes no important action in church affairs without seeking the approval of Trinity, the retention of Mr. Lansdale as permanent pastor must be voted by the chapel; the members must be prepared to assume a part of his salary. What the consistory of the church did last night was to vote that the Marconnier chapel committee raise one quarter of Mr. Lansdale's salary. Mr. Lansdale's work has been so satisfactory at the charge that there is hardly any doubt that the chapel aggregation will ask him to stay with them.

In his statement last night, Mr. Lansdale expressed a conviction that conditions at Oak Tree were such that a healthy, if small, growth could be expected at the chapel. He was full of enthusiasm over the prospects. He reported seventy-seven families in the vicinity of the chapel, fifty of which attended the Sunday-school and a goodly number, the evening service.

If Mr. Lansdale is installed as permanent pastor, he will be the first one the chapel has had. He is an energetic, able young man, who has had experience in mission church work about New York city. He is anxious to secure a country charge, and is particularly interested in Marconnier's field. He said last night that he had been in many mission chapels, but none so delightful and attractive in appointments and keeping as the one at Oak Tree. The chapel is, as a matter of fact, one of the best-equipped of its kind.

The annual collection for Marconnier will be taken at Trinity church the latter part of May. The Trinity congregation will have an opportunity to head Mr. Lansdale on April 29, when he will exchange with Dr. Schenck in the evening.

If Mr. Lansdale is retained as pastor, he will settle with his family in a house at Oak Tree in the summer.

AT STATE GATHERING.

Superintendent Krebs to Preside at Semi-Annual Meeting of Educators.

Superintendent H. C. Krebs, of the borough schools, will attend the semi-annual meeting of the State Council of Education, of which he is president, at Trenton tonight. It will continue over until tomorrow and will be attended by many of the best known educational men in the State. The membership of the organization is limited to sixty and is composed only of superintendents and principals.

Several topics of importance to school work will be discussed. Among the announced subjects are "A shorter day for the primary pupils" and "The relation between the kindergarten and elementary school."

W. S. Reinhart's Job.

Walter S. Reinhart, formerly of Plainfield, has been appointed assistant postmaster at Cranford, where he now resides. Mr. Reinhart, previous to his removal to Cranford, was employed in the stock room office of the Pond Machine Tool Works. When the free delivery service was established at Cranford less than six years ago, he was appointed one of the letter-carriers. He filled this position until a few months ago when he was made a clerk in the postoffice. Now he has been appointed assistant postmaster at a substantial increase in salary, as this is a second-class office.

Brunswick Elks Coming Here.

Plainfield Lodge, No. 885, B. P. O. E., has planned to entertain the New Brunswick Elks next Wednesday night. The visitors will come to this city by special trolley and will be taken to Knights of Columbus hall, where a programme is to be given in charge of Exalted Ruler William N. Runyon. It will include many "big" features and as the New Brunswick men have plenty of good talent an enjoyable evening is anticipated.

—The big vegetables display at Neuman Brothers' tomorrow will include asparagus, spinach, green and wax beans, green peas, egg plant, new beets, lettuce, rhubarb, radishes, cucumbers and tomatoes; all strictly fresh.

THIS CITY HIS HOODOO

Death of Showman Recalls Story Why Barnum & Bailey Gave Us "The Go By."

HARD LUCK HERE

James A. Bailey Cut Plainfield Out of Circuit Ten Years Ago—Railroad's Pleadings Futile.

The death of the veteran showman, James A. Bailey, at his home in Mount Vernon, N. Y., Wednesday afternoon recalls the fact that it was he who had Plainfield stricken off the route map of the Barnum & Bailey circus because of an alleged "hoodoo" that always attended its local appearance. The big tented organization has given this city the go-by for ten years, even in the face of urgings from the New Jersey Central to play it instead of smaller places nearby, but all to no purpose. Bailey had decreed that it meant hard luck to come here, and no amount of talking could make him believe any other way.

Previous to its final appearance in Plainfield the circus came to town in alternate years, but somehow or other it always struck a rainy day or one on which conditions kept down the attendance. Its last visit was in 1896, and though Old Sol looked his brightest the management took in less than it paid out, and then James A. said "cut it," or words to that effect. He still had in mind the fate of his other show, the Forepaugh-Sells Brothers, which got mired in the mud on the Richmond street lot in 1894, and never got away for two days, losing dates at Easton and Allentown.

Last year the Barnum & Bailey combination stopped at Elizabeth and Somerville, billing the latter place despite the protests of the Central officials that there was not sufficient yard trackage to accommodate the cars, and it would be better to visit Plainfield. Elizabeth gets the circus again this year, but the ban is still on this city. There is a prospect, however, that the Ringling show is to come here this summer, for although Bailey had an interest in it, he had nothing to do with the booking.

JOHN LAMBERT DEAD.

Had Been a Resident of Fanwood All His Life.

John Lambert, a life long resident of lower Fanwood township, died at his home at 3 o'clock this morning. He had been ill for the past month principally from the infirmities of old age and his death was not unexpected.

Mr. Lambert was eighty-two years old and was widely known in Plainfield as the conductor of a distillery, which he operate with his brother, Isaac Lambert. He also farmed and disposed of most of his crops to local merchants. He was married twice and leaves twelve children by his first wife. His second wife survives him.

The funeral will be held from Willow Grove chapel Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock and interment will be in Fairview cemetery, Westfield.

Death of Mrs. James Day.

Mrs. Emma L. Day, wife of James Day, of Dunellen, died at her home in that borough at 7 o'clock last night, following a few weeks' illness. She was in her forty-second year and was a native of New Market. She leaves five children and one brother, Philip Mitze, of this city, who is the last surviving member of his family. The funeral will be held at her late nome Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and interment will be in the South Plainfield cemetery.

Arrested as Suspicious Character.

Walter Eberlen, a young Swede, was found at Grove street and Prospect place by Marshal Dooley late last night, and failing to give a proper account of himself, was arrested as a suspicious character. He claimed to have worked in the Perrin glove factory and today this fact was substantiated. Friends also came forward and vouched for him so that his release was ordered.

Quietly Wedded.

Robert Kirch, son of George Kirch, of Somerset street, and Miss Harriet Edgar, of Westfield, were quietly married last night by Rev. J. O. McKelvey, pastor of Warren chapel. The ceremony was performed at the clergyman's home and was witnessed by a few friends. The young people will make their home in the borough.

Basketball Field Laid Out.

Arrangements for outdoor basketball games were completed at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday, and the first of the contests will be played on the field this afternoon, when the different classes report. The field was freshly marked this morning.

CAPTAIN MARTIN MAKES WONDERFUL RIFLE RECORD

SHOOTS A STRING OF 116 BULLSEYES AT COMPANY K RANGE.

Capt. Martin, commander of Company K, hung up a new record for straight bullseyes on the company range last night. He shot a string of 116 on the seventy-five foot range, the biggest record of its kind known in this or any other State.

Captain Martin is one of the crack marksmen of New Jersey, and ranks with the best in the country. For several years he has been well up with the leaders in the National shoots among guardsmen and army men. Two years ago he was a member of the team that went to England to represent this country at the international shoot.

This year, Captain Martin is in better shape than ever, and stands to win more laurels. He will be a conspicuous figure in the National match at Sea Girt this summer.

DEBTS OF MADAME MANY AND VARIED

FOR ANTIQUES, SUMMER SCHOOL, FURS ICE AND SO ON.

Mrs. Florence J. Rosse, formerly of this city, now residing at 214 West Forty-fifth street, New York, has filed a petition in bankruptcy with liabilities of $8,109 and no assets. The debts were contracted between 1901 and 1905 in this city, White Plains, Flushing, Baltimore, Washington and London. They are for borrowed money, antiques, board, doctors, dresses, dry goods, clothing, furniture, furs, flowers, groceries, hairdressing, ice, jewelry, livery, millinery, photos, piano hire, shoes, stationery, summer school, tailoring, telephone, trunks, etc.

Mrs. Rosse was a student in a theatrical school at the Berkeley Lyceum and was the widow of a Washington physician. She was the author of a book called "Froth and Philosophy," always paid her bills at the boarding house promptly and paid heavy telephone bills for talking to her brother-in-law, who is in the Postoffice Department in Washington, and to her boy at school in Pennsylvania.

FOR U. S. SENATORS BY A POPULAR VOTE.

House Commitee Acts Favorably on Resolution to that End.

Washington, April 13.—A resolution providing for the election of Senators by direct vote of the people has been favorably acted upon by the House Committee on Elections. The resolution, which was introduced by Mr. Morris, of Nebraska, makes the term of members of the House four years, instead of two. Both propositions are to be accomplished by amendments to the Constitution.

Reasons why the term of members should be four years are stated to be because no party can inaugurate its policy in two years.

Death of Infant Son.

Henry Carl Wilbee, the eight-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick D. Wilbee, of West Front street, died last night. The funeral will be held from the parents' home tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 and interment will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

Musical Entertainment.

The musical clubs of the Plainfield High School will give its annual entertainment in the High School auditorium on Tuesday evening, April 17.

Theodore Ruten, of Duer street, is slowly recovering from a severe illness. His great age—he is eighty-three—is against his recovery, but he holds his own in spite of it.

Annual Junior Play.

"A Proposal Under Difficulties," will be given by the junior class of the Plainfield High School on April 28.

Sweepstakes Rifle Shoot.

The Independent Gun Club will hold a rifle shoot Monday afternoon. The shoot will be a sweepstakes.

Mrs. George Whitley, of West Fifth street, returned yesterday from Florida, where she has been spending several weeks for the benefit of her health.

Miss Helen Lynch, of St. Vincent's Academy, Newark, is spending her Easter vacation at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Lynch, of West Fifth street.

—Lester Matthews, of Somerset street, has taken a position with the Pedrick & Ayer Company.

HAND HOT AFTER A JOB

Plainfield Real Estate Man Wants Position on County Board of Taxes.

THREE TO BE NAMED

Board to Have General Supervision of All Local Boards—Now Up to the Governor.

The committee substitute for Senate No. 41, the Avis measure, creating county boards for the equalization of taxes, was passed by the Legislature yesterday and is now up to the Governor. The bill barely got through by 32 to 22.

Charles H. Hand, a member of the board of assessors and one of the best informed real estate men, is a candidate for membership on the Union county board. He has spent a lifetime in the realty business. Mr. Hand is the only avowed candidate from Plainfield and it is said that he has the support of the Republican organization.

Mr. Hand said today: "I am out after that job and I am going to land it if I can. If anyone from Plainfield is named, I think it ought to be me. For many years I have worked hard for the Republican party and I think I know a little about the real estate business."

Elizabeth has half a score of candidates from which one man will be chosen, and Rahway will present one or two names. A report has it that Thomas Hanna is a candidate for the job, but verification could not be obtained today.

The bill provides for a board of three members in each county, who are charged with the general work of equalizing taxes. They are given general supervision of all local assessors and their work. The bill abolishes the present commissioners of appeal. Before being passed the substitute was amended so as to give a minority representation so that not more than two members may be of one party. The salary in the small counties was also raised from $800 to $1,000.

Assemblyman Martin opposed the bill on the ground that this was not the time to take this step. He said 21 new boards would be created at an expense of $100,000. Mr. Martin insisted that all the work proposed to be delegated to the county boards should be done by the State board. He claimed also that the bill gave the boards too much power.

Mr. Miller also opposed it. He said under existing laws invested securities cannot be taxed as they should; therefore, if this bill became a law, the result of tax equalization would be to raise taxes on farms and other real estate. On this ground, he said, these boards would be useless.

Leader Perkins spoke in favor of the measure.

SUNRISE SERVICE.

Young People to Gather at Trinity on Easter Morn.

In accordance with its custom, the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of Trinity Reformed church will hold a special meeting at 6:30 Easter morning in the lecture room of the church. Joseph W. Gavett will make an address and there will be special music. An interesting and helpful meeting is contemplated. Other Young People's Societies of the city and borough have been invited to meet with them and a large attendance is expected.

Many who have attended these services in the past have felt amply repaid for their trouble, and have expressed great appreciation of the meetings. One of the members says: "It seems quite fitting that as the Master's disciples went early to the tomb, His followers now should 'early in the morning' seek the place of spiritual refreshment."

The society announces that it will be very glad to welcome all who can make it convenient to attend this service.

Insurance Lid to Be Lifted.

The Senate yesterday afternoon adopted a resolution providing for a searching inquiry into all New Jersey insurance companies, and similar concerns doing business in the State. The purpose of the investigation is to report to the next Legislature the exact condition of insurance affairs in the State and to recommend such remedial insurance legislation as may be deemed advisable.

Truancy Cases.

Three truancy cases were brought before Judge Runyon in the city court this morning. Thomas Waldron, John Scott and James Saunders, all colored, were cited to appear and explain why their sons were absent from school. Saunders had a good excuse, but the others were sharply warned to send their children to school.

WHY P. S. C. INSPECTS ELECTRICAL WIRING

EMPLOYE SAYS IT IS IS FOR PROTECTION OF PROPERTY OWNERS.

There has been much discussion regarding the circular letter issued by the Public Service Corporation asking consumers of electricity to give certain information so that certificates can be issued in accordance with the rules of the Underwriters' Association of the Middle Department. Yesterday the Plainfield Protective Association, organized to fight alleged extortion in rates and any other irregularities found in corporations, issued a letter warning the consumers of electricity not to give the information desired until the executive committee of the association consults the Underwriters' Association.

A P. S. C. official said today:

"For the reason that the insurance companies are demanding a certificate of inspection on all work, an agreement was entered into between the Public Service Corporation and the Underwriters' Association of the Middle Department, under the terms of which the Underwriters' Association agrees to issue provisional certificates on all existing electric connections and making the inspection without charge.

"Most insurance policies contain a clause practically as follows: 'Permission is granted for the use of electrictiy for light and power provided the wiring has been inspected and the certificate issued by the inspection bureau having jurisdiction.' The only interest the Public Service Corporation has in the matter is to standardize wiring and to protect the interest of the customer and to prevent incompetent and dishonest wiremen from installing work which is unsafe and dangerous."

Customers who fail to send the asked-for information to the company by April 16, may find the delay dangerous. In case a consumer is asked to show a certificate showing that the electric wiring in his house or store is all right and cannot do so, the companies, it is alleged, can compel an inspection and this may cost ebtween $2 and $5, according to the extent of the inspection.

EASTER EXERCISES IN THE HIGH SCHOOL.

William D. Murray Makes Address Following Musical Programme.

A programme consisting for the most part of music was given in commemoration of Easter this morning at the Plainfield High School. Charles L. Lewis led the singing and took the part of narrator in the cantata "Calvary." The Plainfield High School orchestra, with Miss Mabel Maxson as accompanist, assisted. Other music rendered was the "Pilgrim's Chorus," by Tannenhauser, and the anthem, "They Have Taken Away My Lord."

The programme ended with a talk by William D. Murray. He spoke, at first, of olden times in the Plainfield High School when he attended it.

Many of the alumni of the Plainfield High School were in attendance at the exercises.

Local Bridges Will Be Repaired.

The bridge committee from the Union County Board of Freeholders, which inspected the Scott avenue bridge this week, has decided to recommend general repairs to the structure. The bridge which is near the Scott Press Works and spans Cedar brook is used to a large extent and it will be attended to right away. The committee has also decided that the Leland avenue bridge is badly in need of repairs and as soon as a joint meeting with the Somerset County Board can be arranged, no doubt the bridge will receive attention.

"On Change" Progressing.

The Comedy Club held a rehearsal at the Park Club, last night, of the play "On Change," which will be given at the club on Friday night, May 4. Alfred Young, the coach, expressed his approval of the progress being made by the cast in its work and is doing his best to bring out the strong points in the characters and the ability of the actors. Special efforts are being made to stage the play properly, as it requires elaborate and rich settings. The tickets for the play were put on sale today.

"Christy" Mathewson Improving.

"Christy" Mathewson, the premier twirler of the New York Nationals, who has been detained at the home of his brother-in-law, Dr. P. B. Cregar, of Grant avenue, since his return from the training trip with the Giants in the South, continues to improve.

Will Make No More Gas.

The management of the Hotel Kensington has given up its gas machine and resumed the P. S. C. gas service. The connections were made this morning.

"FEAST OF WILDERNES"

Negro "Jews" are Ready For Their Passover Celebration.

NEARLY 1,000 GATHER

They Have Come Here From Places in the South, the West and Down East—Preliminary Service Tonight.

Nearly 1,000 members of the Church of God and Saints of Christ, the strange sect who insist that the negro is the real Jew, from all over the West, the South and New England, as well as this State, have gathered in this city so far to join in the Passover service of their religion tomorrow, and more are expected tomorrow, when their Feast of the Passover will begin in earnest.

Elder Trent, head of the local church, who is in charge of the commissary work of the gathering, gave out the following figures as to arrivals from the out-of- town churches:

Boston, 110; Newark, 100; New London, Conn., 25; Bridgeport, Conn., 25; Providence, R. I., 25; Philadelphia, 300; Pittsburg, 80; Coatsville, Pa., 30; Washington, D. C., 75; Clover, Va., 30; Richmond, Va., 20; Lynchburg, Va., 18; Belleville, Va., 50; Fredericksburg, Va., 17; a total of 905. It is expected that the pilgrims will number close to 1,500 by tomorrow night, when the Passover feast begins. They are being housed in various colored homes about the city and in a loft in the Scheptlin building, where straw has been spread for bedding.

Prophet W. S. Crowdy, of Lawrence, Kan., head of the sect, is here and in supreme charge of the services. Other leaders of the faithful who came with the pilgrims are Evangelists Frank Smith, of Topeka, Kan.; John Dickinson, of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Melissa Morris, of Newark; Abel Deckenson, of Pittsburg.

The faithful were ordered to congregate here yesterday. The first of the stated services will be held tonight, at Reform Hall, when the Feast of the Wilderness will be observed. Tomorrow the Feast of the Passover will be started, and continue for eight days. An informal evangelical service was held last night—"to keep the people from the streets," one of the evangelists said.

The sect claim that the Jewish people spoken of in the Bible as the chosen of the Lord were negroes. They say there are twenty places in the Bible where this claim is substantiated. They believe they are the real Jews—"God spoke of the Jew and the Gentile," they argue. "We know we are not Gentiles, so we must me the Jews." Job, they point out, referred to his skin of black. The prophets were black and Solomon was a black king, they declare.

On Sunday night one of the leaders of the sect will deliver a sermon on "Who Is the Real Jew?" All the services will be held in Reform Hall.

The "Saints" are known among the Gentiles as the "Feetwashers." The name comes from their practice of washing the feet of converts, in accordance with the custom of Biblical times. They "breath upon" converts also, and practice the salute of the holy kiss. There is a general belief that they wash one another's feet at every service, but Elder Trent said last night that this was not so. The footwashing is simply part of the rite of admission to the church. Saturday is, of course, the Saints' Sabbath.

The Plainfield church has a membership of twenty-five, at the head of which is Elder Alexander Trent. It was started about three years ago, and is firmly established.

Two distinguished visitors from abroad, in the persons of Elder John M. Skesekeya, and the wife of Bishop Christian, of Africa, arrived in the city yesterday, to take part in the Feast.

Paper By Chief Kiely.

Chief of Police Kiely, at the convention of the International Police Chiefs' Association, in session at Hot Springs, Ark., read a paper Wednesday on "Detection of the Floating Criminal Element in a Small Town." The paper was brief, but full of practical suggestions culled from the chief's own experience in this city. As is usual with papers of that character the association will have it printed in pamphlet form for distribution among the members.

James Elizabeth Returns to Work.

James Elizabeth, the Italian employed by Smalley Brothers' at their stone quarry, who was injured several days ago following a blast at the quarry, has been discharged from the hospital and returned to work.

GERMS CAUSE DYSPEPSIA

IF YOU DON'T KILL THE DISEASE GERMS THEY WILL KILL YOU. PEPSOIDS DRIVE THE GERMS OUT OF THE STOMACH AND REBUILDS IT. WRITE FOR A FULL SIZED BOTTLE—FREE.

A noted physician of Pittsburg, Pa., in a recent letter to Dr. Oidman says:

"In your prescription known as 'Pepsoids' you have given the medical world the greatest and most valued discovery in medicine of the present century. You have at last solved the problem that has baffled the skill of the best physicians of recent times, how to cure permanently all Acute or Chronic Stomach Diseases known as Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Catarrh of the Stomach and Digestive Weakness. I have used your prescription, 'Pepsoids,' in hundreds of cases without a single failure. I attribute the success of your treatment mainly to the fact that the disease germs of the stomach cannot resist Pepsoids. Your theory that most Stomach Diseases are brought about by multitudes of nefarious disease-breeding germs must be correct, judging from the remarkable results attained from the use of your 'Pepsoids.' I consider 'Pepsoids' the best and most valuable remedy yet discovered, for the treatment of stubborn stomach ailments."

Pepsoids cure Dyspepsia and all Stomach Diseases, in a new way, by repairing the wornout lining of the Stomach and at the same time, destroy all disease-breeding germs. Dyspepsia and the worst forms of Stomach Disorders once cured in this way never returns.

If you have not used Pepsoids before, we will send you a 50-cent bottle FREE. Send us your name and address and you will receive promptly, a full sized bottle.

You do not obligate yourself to pay a cent. All we ask, after Pepsoids have cured or greatly benefitted you is, that you recommend Pepsoids to your friends. Try Pepsoids to-day—they will cure you. The Vio Chemical Co., Chicago, Ill. 9

Dr. P. W. Brakeley was in New York yesterday.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Hardly a day passes but what some narrow escape is recorded between automobiles turning from Park avenue into Front street. Both these streets should be posted, warning automobile drivers of this dangerous corner, and the speed limit should be cut down to not over five miles an hour. Only the cool headedness of the chauffeurs have averted several bad collisions and possible loss of life lately, one driver being compelled to run his car up on the sidewalk to escape a driver who turned the corner at fifteen miles an hour speed.

Township Clerk Edward L. Hand, who recently sold his hotel property, has opened a general real estate and fire insurance office, being located for the present in Conrad Peltz's tonsorial parlors.

Leland avenue switch seems to be a fatal spot on the main line of the trolley. Another car was off the track there between 6 and 7 o'clock last night, tieing west bound travel up for some time.

That old but ever popular "Old Homestead" will be the attraction tomorrow afternoon and night at the New Plainfield theatre.

Mrs. H. C. Smith, of Westervelt avenue, has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Louis B. Coddington, of Park avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Archibold, of Westfield, have been visiting Mr. Archibold's parents in Washington Valley.

Ground will be broken for two more houses on Westfield avenue, near Forest avenue, within a week or two.

The weekly prayer and praise meeting of the Baptist church will be held tonight in the parlors of the church.

Thomas Sellers has taken a position with Louis Morel, the plumber.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the German Reformed church will hold a fair on April 23-26 inclusive.

The Men's Club of the First Baptist church will meet Monday night and enjoy a good programme.

In connection with the Easter service at Faith chapel Sunday night, Pastor Musson will baptize five new members.

The Rines Brothers, evangelists, will speak and sing at the meeting for men to be held at the Y. M. C. A. Hall this evening at 8 o'clock.

During the past month 240 children were cared for at the King's Daughters' Day Nursery. The work is progressing very satisfactorily.

On account of the union Good Friday service at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, the Epworth League meeting at the First M. E. church will be postponed.

The monthly meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society of Faith chapel was held last night, when encouraging reports were presented. George Van Horn, treasurer, presented a statement showing the receipts for the month to be $14.70, disbursements $2.01, leaving a balance of $12.69. Of this amount there is $9.65 collected for the Century Memorial Fund.

Mrs. William Van Duyne, of the borough, has returned from a visit with relatives in Somerset county.

President Tolles, of the Common Council, has entirely recovered from an attack of rheumatism and is enjoying excellent health again.

Mr. and Mrs. William Cadmus and children, Helen and Edna, of Brooklyn, N. Y., have been visiting Mrs. Cadmus' mother, Mrs. Georgianna Coles, of 427 West Front street. They will return tomorrow.

—Miss Downing, of this city, has taken a position as assistant typewriter and stenographer in the local office of the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company.

Wings and Flies

By Tom Muir.

George M. Cohan's latest production, "George Washington, Jr.," is to be withdrawn from the Herald Square theatre, New York, in two weeks. Though not a failure it did not attain the heights anticipated by the author or Manager Sam Harris.

The company which will support Miss Florence Roberts in "The Strength of the Weak" at the New Plainfield, Monday night, will include Max Figman, brother of Oscar Figman, who was seen here a short time ago in the title role of "The Tenderfoot." Max stands as high in the dramatic world as Oscar does in musical comedy circles and both are among the best known men in the profession.

Willie Collier and his company, which appeared at the New Plainfield in February in "On The Quiet," left New York yesterday for San Francisco, from which place they will sail next week for Australia. They will tour the provinces for several months presenting "On the Quiet" and "The Dictator." The company is to embark on the steamer Sonoma and during the three weeks' voyage Mr. Collier will hold daily rehearals.

Thompson & Dundy last night announced their arrangements for the disposition of "A Society Circus," now at the Hippodrome, and "A Yankee Circus On Mars," the entertainment which opened the big playhouse a year ago and which is at present at the Grand Opera House, Philadelphia. The entertainments will take the road early in October in the form and character and conduct of itinerant circuses, with special trains, menageries, stock, calliopes and parades. They will differ from the nomadic midsummer tented organizations only in that they will exhibit in theatres and that they will combine their dramatic and spectacular features with circus proper. "A Society Circus" will travel in a specia train of twenty-four cars, requiring two sections. It will play only the very largest cities of the country, making its start from Atlantic City, where it will show its charms during the summer.

—Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Ward, of Fairview avenue, will move to New York May 1.

—A meeting of the City Republican Committee will be held Tuesday night at the offices of William Newcorn.

MEN AND BOYS MAY BE WELL DRESSED AT SMALL COST

IF THEY BUY CLOTHING HERE.

More men every day are getting to know of the goodness and beauty of the clothing sold in this establishment; little by little, wiping out the prejudice that has existed against ready-to-wear clothes and the more inexcusable prejudice against Department Store clothes. When you stop to think of it, isn't it simply ridiculous that any one should imagine for a minute that a store like this, with all its tremendous resources and its buyers of ability, can not command as good or better made clothing than an ordinary clothing house. And is it not absurd to imagine that the designers, cutters and tailors employed by establishments catering, not only to some of the best metropolitan trade, but to good trade throughout the United States, having an experience of years back of them, and producing millions of dollars' worth of clothing, could not turn out as good clothing, if not better in many particulars, as the most skilled custom tailor?

The "Just Right" Clothing which we sell for men and the "Exactly Right" Clothing which we sell for boys, is not excelled by any clothing or tailoring shop anywhere—we bar none—and equal clothing is not sold at lower prices. This is a plain statement and we invite you to test the accuracy of it by giving us an opportunity to sell you your Easter Suit or Topcoat.

"JUST RIGHT" CLOTHING FOR MEN.

If we cannot show you suits in fabrics you like, if we cannot fit you, if our prices are not as low as they should be, or as low as others will ask you for equal clothing, then we will not expect to sell you. But, if we do show you handsome fabrics, perfect tailoring and give you an accurate fit, at a price no other store will beat, then we will expect your patronage.

On this basis we invite you to come to our Clothing Store on the Second Floor tomorrow.

Frock Coats and Waistcoats, cut in the newest conservative and swell modles; made of fine black Thibets and Vicuna cloths; beautifully lined—better one with silk; splendidly tailored; at prices ranging from ..... $15.98 to $42.00

Trousers in handsome and effective stripes, many of them to be found nowhere else; a large variety to choose from; suitable for wear with frock coats, at from ..... $4.00 to $10.00

Black Cutaway Suits of unfinished worsted and cheviot; cut in the best new models; perfect fitting in every particular, at from ..... $15.00 to $45.00

Spring Suits, conservative materials for dress wear and for business, and in the showier fabrics for those who like them best; cut in the most distinctive styles; nicely trimmed; faultlessly tailored, perfect in fit, at prices beginning at $12 and rising at easy stages to $25.

Top Coats of tan coverts in many shades of gray mixtures and stripes, and in dressy blacks; some of the latter silk lined to edge; cut in the extremely short to the more conservative lengths; prices begin as low as $9.98, going up to $35.00

Fashionable Surtouts, $25 to $35.

"EXACTLY RIGHT" CLOTHING FOR BOYS.

We cann not praise our boys' clothes too highly, as it measures up in every way to every expectation the boy may have as to good looks, and to everey desire of the parent in the way of wear and moderate cost. Bring the boy tomorrow and let us show you what we can do.

Boys' Double Breasted Suits—Coats with belts; with two pair of Knickerbocker trousers; made of handsome fancy mixtures and gray cheviots in neat patterns, strong and serviceable; trousers lined throughout; 8 to 17 year sizes; the suit alone worth $1.00 to $1.50 more than our selling prices; to be sold tomorrow with extra pair of Knickerbockers ..... $3.98, $4.98 and $5.98

Boys' Norfolk and Double Breasted Suits of worsteds, cheviots, cassimeres, some with straight, some with Knickerbocker trousers; sizes 7 to 17 years, at prices ranging from .... $1.98 to $10.98

Boys' Russian and Sailor Blouse Suits, of neat mixtures in worsteds, cheviot, serge and cassimere; some made with eton collar in plain colors; some with embroidered shields or sleeves, and some with both; the majority with bloomer trousers; 3 to 12 year sizes; prices range from ..... $1.98 to $9.98

Boys' 3-Piece Suits and Novelty Suits of plain blue serge, mixed cheviot, for larger boys, and white pique duck and fancy mixed suits for the smaller boys; 3 to 12 years sizes in the collection ..... $2.98 to $12.98

Suits and Trousers are here for extra stout boys. We make a specialty of them.

Particular attention is called to the Suits we sell for $2.98 and $3.98. We do not believe you can equal them anywhere under $1 or $2 more.

Boys' Reefers and Top Coats of covert cloths in light and dark tan and olive, and of cheviot, cassimere, worsted and serge, in gray, blue and mixtures, handsomely made and finished; 3 to 16 year sizes at ..... $2.98 to $9.98

Boys' Trousers of almost any sort of cloth and in practically any shade you could wish for; all with taped seams and patent waist bands; 3 to 16 year sizes ..... 49c to $2.50

Boys' Blouses and Waists of chambray, percale, cheviot and madras in stripes, plaids and plain colors; with collar band for attached collars ..... 24c to 98c

SENATE O. K.'S APPOINTMENTS.

Rahway Managers and Other Officials Confirmed.

Trenton, April 13.—In executive session the Senate has confirmed the following appointments:

Luther H. Long, member of the board of managers of the State Hospital at Trenton.

These appointments, received from the Governor, were immediately confirmed:

John T. Gillson, of Paterson, member of the board of managers of the State Asylum at Morris Plains.

A. B. Allen, member of the board of managers of the State Hospital at Trenton.

INSURANCE PROBE MAY YET BE PLIED.

Hillery Introduces Resolution Providing for Thorough Investigation.

Trenton, April 13.—Senator Hillery introduced yesterday an important resolution for the investigation of the insurance question and requiring that a report be made to the next session of the Legislature.

The committee is charged with the examination of the bills presented to the New York Legislature by the Armstrong committee. It is empowered to inspect the records and files of the Department of Banking and Insurance and to call upon life insurance companies doing business in this State for such other information as they may deem necessary.

The committee is directed to present such bill or bills as it may feel like recommending.

Resumption of Social Festivities.

The response to the invitations to the society masquerade ball at the Casino on Monday night indicates that it will be one of the largest affairs of the kind ever held here. Special effort is being given to the costuming and in this respect it will be a brilliant spectacle. Only those who mask will be permitted on the floor, but a place will be reserved in the gallery and the boxes for those who wish to be onlookers only. This event will be the first of a number of social festivities to follow the Lenten season.

YANNIGANS GOT LONE RUN

Captain Bean's Men Scored Agrinst by Gene McCann's Nine.

MACK'S GREAT SPEED

Only Kid Brogan and Wilson Could Get Their Eyes on Regular Pitcher's Curves—More Scrub Games.

In the catching department the Jerseys will be as strong, if not better fixed, than other clubs in the Eastern League. Yesterday Munson, whom Manager Murray secured, through the courtesy of Manager Hugh Duffy, of the Philadelphia Nationals, arrived in town in time to take part in the practice game between Captain Bean's regulars and the "Yannigans," led by Gene McCann. The game lasted five and a half innings and was a spirited contest, winding up with the score of 5 to 1 in favor of the regulars.

The players of both teams play with midsummer vim and dash. Young Mack twirled for the regulars and Vandergrift did backstop duty behind the rubber. Mack's arm was in good working order as was Vandergrift's, the Trentonian lining them down to second with remarkable speed and accuracy.

The regulars lined up with Mack, pitcher; Vandergrift, catcher; Handford, first base; Bean, second base; Reilly, short stop; Moore, third base; Clements, left field; Halligan, center field; Kiester, right field.

Score by innings:

Regulars .....3 1 0 0 1 x—5

Mack had wonderful speed and control and was relieved by Kiester after three innings. The Yannigans were unable to do anything in the swatting line with the exception of Kid Brogan and Wilson.

Two more scrub games will be played, one this afternoon, and the training trip will probably be climaxed by a nine inning clash Saturday afternoon and the return made to Jersey City Sunday morning.

TRAINING CAMP NOTES.

Manager Murray took a half holiday and made to trip to Brooklyn, where he witnessed the opening game between Brooklyn and Boston.

Jocko Halligan had his batting eyes and running legs with him in the practice games and looks fit.

Munson has the goods and will be a good working mate for Vandergrift.

Charlie Handford's playing around first bag bears the stamp of Dig Dan Brouthers when he was in his palmy days.

Handford was known in Trenton as "Silent Charlie," which sobriquet will likely clung to him on the Eastern League circuit.

Vandergrift has been staying indoors of late expecting to have a call from his old friend, Jimmy Penny, who was interested in the Ingersoll Sergeant team in Easton when "Vandy" was its backstop. But Jimmy didn't show up.

Jimmy Montross has been laying off his work while the Jerseys have been in town and has been getting in some good practice. Jimmy hasn't signed with any team yet, but it is probable that he will be seen in a Somerville uniform again this season.

Kid Speer is sorry the Jerseys are going to leave town. He announced last night that he had half a notion to follow them around on the circuit this season.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Kleiber were interested spectators in the grandstand yesterday who watched the practice game. "Never saw so fast playing as that down Asbury Park way," remarked Al when he was leaving the grounds.

Invited to Brunswick Function.

A large number of Plainfielders have received invitations to the annual reception of the Brunswick Bicycle Club which takes place Wednesday night, April 25. It is one of the most important social affairs of the year in the Middlesex county seat and promises to be conducted this time on a more elaborate scale than ever.

Mrs. W. K. McClure and daughter, who recently gave up housekeeping in the New Madison, will soon go to Montreal, Can., to visit relatives.

Plainfield, N. J., April 13, 1906.

On page five of this issue will be found the words of one of the greatest of all religious compositions, the Stabat Mater. It is peculiarly fitting inasmuch as today is Good Friday, the day of sorrow in the ecclesiastical calendar, and particularly so inasmuch as the translation is by a Plainfielder, the Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, the scholarly divine who ministers to the First Baptist congregation.

Announcement of the candidacy of Charles H. Hand for a place on the Union county board for the equalization of taxes will be viewed with interest by those who watch the trend of local politics. No appointments can be made until Governor Stokes signs the bill which the Legislature passed, but there is no reason to doubt that he will do so in a few days. Three men will be named in each county. Mr. Hand wants to be one of the trio in Union and from a standpoint of fitness as well as politics he has pretty good credentials. There is no denying the fact that the candidate has worked zealously for the Republican organization. A further and better argument he presents is that he is particularly well qualified to discharge the duties of the office. Few men are better posted on county realty values and this, it may be said, is the strongest argument why he should land the job.

WATCHMAN SPOILED PLAN OF THREE SAFE-BLOWERS.

Three burglars made an unsuccessful attempt shortly after 2 a. m. yesterday to blow the safe in the Spring Lake postoffice, which is situated in the First National Bank Building, on the principal street of the borough.

Night Watchman Nelson Poland discovered the cracksmen engaged soaping the safe preparatory to blowing off with nitro-glycerine the heavy steel and concrete door.

"What are you doing there?" Poland asked.

"None of your business; 'twenty-three' for you," one of the burglars replied.

Drawing his revolver, Poland shot directly at the men through the doorway, but owing to the dim light his marksmanship was uncertain. The men retreated behind the safe and refused to budge, while Poland continued firing until his weapon was empty.

He then ran to his home a few doors away and procured a double-barrel shot gun. The men were still in the postoffice, but the whirring of No. 6 rabbit shot spurred them and they made their escape through a rear window while he was putting in two new shells.

Small Cut Causes Death.

Domenico Matucci, sixteen years old, of No. 220 Seventh avenue, Newark, died at the City Hospital yesterday from the effects of a slight cut on his right foot, sustained when operating an elevator in the saddlery hardware factory of August Buermann, No. 220 Jelliff avenue, last February 24. Matucci's foot was caught between the car and the floor. His injury was not thought serious, but blood poisoning ensued and his removal to the City Hospital was necessary. Three weeks ago the sufferer refused to take food and continued to do so until he became unconscious from weakness and the ravages of the poison.

Spectacular Fire.

A spectacular fire, which illuminated the country for miles in all directions destroyed last night the paint department of the Dewitt Wire Cloth Works at Belleville. The loss was only about $5,000. The building which was burned was a high tower which was necessary for the handling of the product, and most of the fire burned high in the air like a giant torch and beyond the reach of the firemen.

VERITABLE AMERICAN EDEN

Most Favored Region of All the Earth Is Among the Ozarks of Missouri.

The Ozark mountains, where it has been proposed to remove the capital from Washington, is the most favored section in all the world. In no locality on earth has nature done more for man than in southwest Missouri, writes a Washington Star correspondent of that section. It has been fitly and tersely described as the "Garden of the Gods." Italy has no fairer skies than the Ozarks. There verdure-clad hills alternate with sunny prairies, and babbling brooks course through rich meadows; the rich, golden grain waves like the illimitable sea, or is gathered in countless sheaves; fruits of all kinds wear down the creaking branches and lend their bright colors to contrast pleasingly with the green of the foliage, the great gifts of the Creator are here enjoyed in their fullest and most beautiful realization. In winter the farmer of the Ozarks is abroad in his fields, and mayhap his daughters are gathering wild flowers and strawberries. Although the summers are long, they are very mild. The evenings and nights are delightfully cool and pleasant. There north and south meets on terms of equality.

Springfield, the capital of that section, is known as the "Queen of the Ozarks," a daughter of the gods devinely fair, and well deserves the name. It is 1,500 feet above the sea level and over 1,000 feet higher than St. Louis. In such a climate the spiritual and intellectual becomes as pure as does the material. Graft could not exist in such an atmosphere. With our capital situated so fortunately, not only this government but the entire world would be benefited.

COACHING IS ANTIQUATED.

People Stare Now When a Four-in-Hand Is Seen in the Metropolis.

That motor cars have dealt a very serious blow to coaching it is no longer possible to deny. Until this year, says a New York exchange, it was confidently asserted that there was room for both, and that drag and motor could flourish side by side.

Spring, summer and fall of 1905 have shown this belief to be a fallacy. Several road coaches, which formerly were wont to run out of New York to Lakewood, have been abandoned this year.

The parking places for drags at the races and open-air suburban horse shows are now entirely monopolized by motors, coaches being few and far between, while private four-in-hands on the avenue are nowadays so rare as to cause people to turn around and stare as if at some antiquated mode of conveyance.

Indeed, it is a question whether New York will ever witness again another coaching parade, for the last one, which took place in the spring, was so manifestly attended as a matter of duty rather than pleasure that it is very doubtful whether it will be possible to assemble again a sufficient number of drags in line to warrant a meet of the club.

In Europe matters are still worse from a coaching point of view, and in France the coaching season has been the most disappointing and discouraging ever known since four-in-hand driving was taken up as a popular form of sport.

DAIRIES IN FAR SIBERIA.

Are Now Exporting Annually More Than 80,000,000 Pounds of Butter.

A firm of London importers of foodstuffs predicts that there will be a slump in the price of dairy products the world over as soon as Siberia strikes a steady gait in butter production. The reason assigned for this astonishing prophecy is that Siberia is now exporting annually a little more than 80,000,000 pounds of butter, while the dairy regions are capable of producing 15 times as much, or more than the imports of Great Britain from all her possessions.

The London firm, having studied the Siberian dairy products on the ground, thinks that it will be so difficult for Canada and New Zealand, the chief sources of Great Britain's butter supply from her colonies, to compete with Siberian butter that they will have to drop out of that department of dairy exporting and confine their attention to cheesemaking. It adds that Denmark is already feeling the strain of Siberian competition.

However this may be, it is certain that butter making is becoming nearly as important in Siberia as all her other industries put together. Yet it is possible that the great slump in the dairy business will be averted. There is evidence of a growing appetite for butter among the far eastern Asiatics. If those countless millions add butter to their bill of fare the cows will have a busy time of it.

THE STABAT MATER

As being appropriate to the day, Good Friday, The Daily Press reproduces what is considered by scholars of America and England, as well as Continental Europe, to be the best translation of the Staba; Mater. It is the work of Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, pastor of the First Baptist church, of this city, widely known for the excellence of his translation. The original Latin is published for the purpose of comparison.

One of the greatest scholars of the day says of his English version: "Dr. Chambliss's translation of the Stabat Mater appears to me distinctly superior to all the others I have seen. Taking the three given in "The Seven Great Hymns of the Mediaeval Church," I think it a more exact rendering than that of Gen. Dix, and more melodious and poetical in diction than that of Dr. Coles; while Lord Lindsay's translations, however excellent in some respects, fails to reproduce the metre of the original."

The Stabat Mater, universally regarded the most pathetic of hymns, was written in the latter part of the Thirteenth Century. Its author belonged to a noble Italian family (the house of Benedette), and began life as a jurist. Severe affliction, however, plunged him in gloom, and forsaking the world he joined the Order of Saint Francis. He is known in literature as Jacobus de Benedictis. He composed many "Spiritual Hymns," among which the one here given is most famous, being only second to the incomparable Dies Iroe of Thomas de Celano.

THE STABAT MATER.
(Latin.)

I.
Stabat Mater dolorosa,
Juxta crucem lacrymosa,
Dum pendebat filius.
Cujus animam gementem,
Contristatam et dolentem,
Pertransivit gladius.

II.
O quam tristis et afflicta.
Fuit illa benedicta
Mater unigeniti!
Quae moerebat et dolebat,
Pia mater, dum videbat
Nati poenas inclyti.

II.
Quis est homo qui non fieret,
Christi matrem si videret
In tanto supplicio?
Quis posset non contristari
Piam matrem contemplari
Dolentem cum filio?

IV.
Pro peccatis suae gentis,
Vidit Jesum in tormentis,
Et flagellis subditum.
Vidit suum dulcem natum,
Morientem, desolatum,
Dum emisit spiritum.

V.
Eia mater, fons amoris,
Me sentire vim doloris
Fac, ut tecum lugeam.
Fac ut ardeat cor meum,
In amando Christum Deum
Ut illi complaceam.

VI.
Santa Mater, istud agas,
Crucifixi fige plagas
Cordi meo valide.
Tui Nati vulnerati,
Tam dignati pro me pati,
Poenas mecum divide.

VII.
Fac me vere tecum flere,
Crucifixo condolere,
Donec ego vixero.
Juxta crucem tecum stare,
Et tibi me sociare
In planctu desidero.

VIII.
Virgo virginum praeclara,
Mihi jam non sis amara;
Fac me tecum plangere.
Fac ut portem Christi mortem
Passionis fac consortem,
Et plagas recolere.

IX.
Fac me plagis vulnerari,
Fac me cruce inebriari,
Et cruore filii.
Inflammatus et accensus,
Per te, Virgo, sim defensus,
In die judicii.

X.
Fac me cruce custodiri,
Morte Christi praemuniri,
Confoveri gratia.
Quando corpus morietur,
Fac ut animae donetur
Paradisi gloria.

THE STABAT MATER.
(Translation.)

I.
Near the cross with tears of anguish,
Where her son was stretched to languish,
Stood the mother whelmed in woe.
Through her own soul, also, wailing,
Pangs of sorest grief assailing,
Did the sword, alas! now go.

II.
Oh! how sorrowful, heart-broken,
She who Blessed once was spoken,
Who the One-begotten bore!
Oh! what agonies did rend her,
While such stripes that mother tender
Saw her glorious son endure!

III.
Who, no tear for pity falling,
In her sorrow so appalling
Christ's dear mother could behold?
Who could see that mother sharing
All the woes her son was bearing,
Nor partake her grief untold?

IV.
Torments vile she saw inflicted,
Jesus to the scourge subjected,
Punished in his people's stead.
Him, by mortal pangs o'ertaken,
Her sweet son, she saw forsaken,
Till, dismissed, his spirit fled.

V.
Mother, fount of love, oppress me
With the sorrows that distress thee,
That my grief as thine may be.
Grant it, that my heart all burning,
Love to Christ divine returning,
He well-pleased may look on me.

VI.
Holy mother, I would have thee
Set the bloody marks of Calvary
Fadeless ever in my heart.
Of thy wounded son's affliction,
Guiltless borne for my protection,
Grant that I may bear a part.

VII.
While I live, O fix my station
With thee in thy desolation,
Suffering with the Crucified.
Near the cross with thee remaining,
Partner of thy sad complaining,
Let me evermore abide.

VIII.
Virgin, virgins all excelling,
View me not with frown repelling,
Let me rather wail with thee.
Death of Christ—O let me bear it!
His dread passion—let me share it!
Ope his wounds afresh in me.

IX.
Wound me with the wounds that tore him,
Let me from the cross that bore him,
Deeply drink the crimson tide.
Thus inflamed with zeal consuming,
To the day of judgment coming,
Shield me, Virgin, by thy side.

X.
By the guardian cross attended,
By the death of Christ defended,
Nourish me with grace divine.
And when flesh at last shall fail me,
May thy favor still avail me,
Glory, Paradise, be mine.

SUSPENDS TERMS OF LIMITED GRANT ACT.

Senate Passes Bill Protecting Railroads in Grade Crossing Matter.

Trenton, April 13.—The Senate passed a bill Wednesday night suspending the terms of the limited franchise act so far as the use of streets by any railroad now existing or hereafter created is concerned. The act in substance is as follows:

"The provisions of the act entitled 'an act regulating the granting by municipalities of consent to the use of streets, avenues, parks, parkways, highways and other public places,' approved March 27, 1906, shall not apply to or affect any railroad company now existing or hereafter created and organized under any law of this State, or any such company of any other State authorized to conduct or operate any line of railroad within this State; provided, however, that this act shall not be construed as authorizing any railroad company to hereafter construct a railroad at grade across or upon a street in any city of this State without first obtaining from the municipal authorities such consent therefor as is now required b ylaw, unless such construction be occasioned by the change of any railroad located at grade upon or across such street."

Senator Hillery, who introduced the bill, said it was never intended to have the limited franchise act apply to railroads crossing streets at over or under grade. The supplement continues the rights now existing, but does not authorize a grade crossing without municipal consent.

TAX BOARD DATES FOR HEARING APPEALS.

State Equalization Body Sets Time for Audiences of the Various Counties.

Trenton, April 13.—The State Board of Equalization of Taxes will sit at the State House next Tuesday to hear a number of Mercer County appeals from the assessments made by local assessors. The board has set the following dates for further hearings:

Wednesday, April 25—Atlantic City, appeals for Camden and Atlantic counties.

Thursday, April 26—Bridgeton, appeals for Cumberland, Cape May and Salem counties.

Friday, April 27—Burlington, appeals for Burlington county.

Wednesday, May 2—Toms River, appeals for Ocean and Monmouth counties.

Thursday, May 3—New Brunswick, appeals for Middlesex county.

Friday, May 4—Phillipsburg, appeals for Warren, Hunterdon and Morris counties. Referred to Messrs. Lentz and Simonson.

Wednesday, May 9—Hackensack, appeals for Bergen and Passaic counties.

Thursday, May 10—Newark, appeals for Essex county.

Friday, May 11—Jersey City, appeals for Hudson county.

Wednesday, May 16—Elizabeth, appeals for Union county.

TAX BOARD BILL GOES THROUGH THE HOUSE.

Avis' Act for Equalization Board Narrowly Passed by House.

Trenton, April 13.—Senator Avis' bill for the establishment of county boards of equalization of taxes came up for final passage yesterday afternoon. Cottell spoke briefly for it. Then Martin opposed it. He said there had been enough legislation on the subject of taxation by the present Legislature, and it was not necessary to complicate what had already been accomplished. It was better, he thought, to test what had already been enacted. Miller also opposed, on the ground that it was no one's business what a municipality or township chose to fix the tax rate at. If they were making improvements and were willing to stand the expenses, no one should interfere.

Perkins defended the measure. He said what was universally demanded was the equalization of taxes.

It required a great deal of scurrying around to secure the necessary number of votes, but it passed by a vote of 32 to 22.

Easter Footwear;

Women, Girls, Boys, Babies.

All Newark is talking about the beauty of our shoes, unsurpassed in artistic shoe making. This busy department is fast outgrowing its present room—more shoes are sold here to the square foot occupied than in any shoe room in the country. It is the quality and style that does it—no need to tell you that Bee Hive prices are tempting. You get your money's worth here always. If you don't we want to know it, for we're only too happy to make good every wrong.

Sorry we couldn't wait on all who thronged the department last few days, but we're well equipped to serve you now—more help to wait on you promptly, replenished stocks to fill every want. We've kept wires and express companies busy. Delinquent manufacturers are stirring themselves to fill the great demands we make on them. Our system of buying keeps us well in touch with the manufacturer's latest ideas, our stocks are always bright and new. We're not only up-to-date, but also a little ahead.

We have the latest in summer shoes and even some new styles in boots that will be the vogue for fall of 1906. Not a bad thing to remember if you are contemplating a trip this summer and will not return before fall. You can lay in not only your summer supply, but you may anticipate your fall wants and supply them here before you go.

Our famous lines—"Custom Made," 3.50, 4.00 and 5.00; "Princess Bee," 3.00; "Elmo," 2.50, and "Bee Hive," 2.00—will be more famous still before the season has fairly started, for women will find here the very best variety of newest styles that were ever shown in any one store—best shoes for the money in the world.

The Highest Type of Ready-to-Wear.

Easter CLOTHING

Economically Priced

For Men, Young Men and Boys.

Who isn't going to have a new Easter Outfit? Of course YOU are. And the man or young man who wants the newest styles—apparel of pronounced distinctiveness, as well as goodness, will turn to the Marshall & Ball store just as particular dressers have for nearly fifty Easters.

You can walk out of the M. & B. store with absolutely correct Easter attire from head to heels, no matter what your fancy. You will not have strained your purse, either. The proportions of our "Frenchcut" Overcoats, so popular this season with young men, are correct in every detail. Our Easter showing of Suits, Top Coats and Rain Coats, including Paddocks, is more satisfying than ever before. Perhaps you're thinking of a fancy vest for Easter. They're here in the greatest variety.

"Frenchcut" Overcoats $15 to $30
Raincoats $12 to $35.

Suits and Top Coats $10 to $30
Fancy Vests $1.50 to $6.50.

BOYS' OVERCOATS $3 to $10.

Mothers of boys know, too, where clothing economy can be practised at Easter or any other time with safety. Never was our boys' clothing so attractive.

Top Coats of Covert and Raincoats for boys, mannish in style. Also long, loose overcoats and double-breasted reefers for the little fellows in all the new Spring fabrics.

BOYS' SUITS $2.50 to $10.

Your boy will feel proud of himself with an M. & B. Suit on Easter morning. You'll feel proud of him, too.

Norfolk, Russian Blouse, Eton Sailor, Buster Brown and double-breasted suits in the popular materials, some with either knee pants or bloomers, finished equal to our men's clothing. Also everything in furnishings for boys.

EASTER NECKWEAR.

A new scarf for Easter is a necessity. 50c is the popular price for a tie and our assortment at that price is unusually complete.

Silk Neckwear, 25c to $1.50.

EASTER HATS.

Wouldn't think of making your old hat do Easter service, would you? There's distinctiveness as well as quality in M. & B. hats. No fancy prices.

Derbies and Alpines, $2, $3 and $4
Silk Hats, $5 and $6.

EASTER GLOVES.

Soiled or shabby gloves on Easter Sunday? Never! No excuse for it when M. & B. gloves are so uncommonly good and so moderately priced.

Tans, Browns and Grays, $1 to $3.

EASTER SHOES.

The Easter suit demands new footwear. There's style and distinctiveness in M. & B. shoes. Made on correct lines they fit all over. They're comfortable.

The Nassau, $3.50 and $4.
M. & B. Tru Treds, $5 and $6.

Open This Evening Till 9; Saturday Evening 10:30.

Greatest of All Sales of Muslins, Sheets and Pillow Cases.

PRICES MERCILESSLY CUT, BARRING ALL COMPETITION.

The values this sale presents are so positively sensational that to miss partaking of them will mean losing the greatest bargain opportunity of the season. Other stores, unable to match our prices, frequently remove mill tickets and, trusting to customers not insisting upon seeing the label, offer inferior qualities. Another scheme that oftimes is employed to deceive shoppers is to put on a private label, thus disguising the mill name, and by claiming superior quality obtain high profits. We offer no nameless goods—no inferior grades—no shams or tricks to fool you—but the world's best makes, such as Boston, Lockwood, Will-Wash-Heavier and others that have made a name for quality and wear at prices that are marvelously low.

Sheetings by the yard, also Pillow Casings.

The following low prices cannot be matched in this city. We defy competition, and can prove to every person who comes that we sell cheapest in the city. No fake brands, but only those of national reputation.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

There could be no more welcome announcement for the amusement loving public than the appearance here of "The Old Homestead." The dear old pastoral play itself is by this time so familiar to everyone that any attempt to describe it would be superpurgation. The mere mention of the names of Joshua Whitcomb, Cy Prime, Seth Perkins, Aunt Matilda and Rickety Ann is sufficient to bring to mind all of these delightful rural characters, and at the same time arises in the background the pictures of the old farm, the homestead in Swanzey, Grace church on Broadway, in New York City, and the aristocratic mansion of Henry Hopkins, the metropolitan merchant and millionaire. The company this season is practically the same as last, and the production is said to be perfect in every detail. It will be at the New Plainfield theatre tomorrow afternoon and night.

Al. Leech, the inimitable, with his three Rosebuds and a supporting company of forty excellent singers and comedians, will appear at the New Plainfield theatre on May 5.

All sorts of good reports have reached this city about "Raffles, the Amateur Cracksman," and now at last Kyrle Bellew will present the play at the New Plainfield theatre next Friday night. Mr. Bellew has made a genuine and tremendous success in the Hornung Presbrey drama wherever he has played it in the United States, and this city will probably give the same verdict. "Raffles" is decidedly one of the most interesting dramas of its kind, and the title role, that of the debonair, polished man of the world, who steals because he can't help it, fits Mr. Bellew precisely, even better, perhaps, than did some of the romantic hero roles in which he has been seen before. In E. M. Holland, as the detective, he has a remarkable supporter—in fact, one who naturally divides the honors with him. As for the rest of the cast, it is one of the strongest that Liebler & Co. have yet organized, and they have a reputation in America for making splendid dramatic productions.

Of the cast which will present the Pixley and Luders musical comedy, "The Prince of Pilsen," at the New Plainfield theatre next Tuesday night, Messrs. Arthur Donaldson and Ivar Anderson and Miss Ruth Peebles have been with this play since its initial production. They played in the London production of the comedy at the Shaftesbury theatre for five months. Ida Stanhope also played in the London production, having the role of the widow, in which she will appear here. Jess Dandy has the part of Hans Wagner and has played it over 500 times.

Sparkling in comedy, thrilling in snappy situations, delightful in romance, magnificent in scenic splendor and wholesome throughout, "A Ragged Hero," which is to be seen at the New Plainfield theatre next Wednesday night, promises to be the best attraction of the current theatrical season here. It is of the highest class of up to date comedy drama, written by Maurice J. Fielding, American playwright, whose great success with several plays of his in London has attracted international notice. The action of the play is rapid, the comedy is delightful and the scenic settings are gorgeous. No play, either a comedy drama or any other kind, has ever been given so splendid a scenic production.

Miss Alyce Kee Nan, who comes to this city to the New Plainfield theatre next Thursday night, never tires of discussing her recent visit to Italy. Miss Kee Nan believes in going through life with her eyes wide open, and although the public is accustomed to seeing her in varied lines, thus quite naturally forming the opinion that she is interested only in the lighter vein of things theatrical, Miss Kee Nan is a close student of everything that pertains to the stage, and this year she has been fitted with a character in "Not Like Other Girls" that suits her personality, and on her appearance here her many friends, who are legion, will doubtless give her an ovation.

Florence Roberts, will give the first production here of "The Strength of the Weak," described as a new modern play in four acts by Alice M. Smith, at the New Plainfield theatre next Monday night, and which will be produced at the Liberty theatre, New York, April 17. Miss Roberts has interpreted many satisfactory parts with much success, but her work in the past has been confined to the roles made famous by other actresses. This season she enters upon a new regime of her career, as by the terms of her contract with John Cort she is to produce at least one new play each season for the next five years. Since her advent on the stage Miss Roberts has steadily demonstrated her ability, advancing each year to more serious work, until finally, by common consent, she is placed among the leading feminine stars of the country. In "The Strength of the Weak" Miss Roberts has a role which it is promised will reveal the popular emotional actress in an atmosphere entirely different from anything she has ever before attempted. Coupled with this are the facts that she has created the part and at the same time produces the play for the first time in the East. It is therefore reasonable to suppose that the event should awaken uncommon interest among playgoers.

On checking accounts 3 per cent interest is paid from the day of deposit until withdrawn, providing a balance of $200 or more is maintained. This interest is credited quarterly, June, September, December and March.

AUTOMOBILE NOTES.

The Senate has concurred in the House amendments to the "Bishops" bill, and the Frelinghuysen Automobile bill, and these much discussed and bitterly contested measures are now in the hands of Governor Stokes. It is expected that he will sign both bills. The "Bishops" bill will go into effect July 24 and the Automobile bill July 1 next.

The New Jersey Automobile and Motor Club is planning for an automobile meet to be held at Waverly Park in May or early in June. The plans have not as yet been perfected, but will be arranged by the racing committee within the next few weeks. The two former meets met with such success as to encourage the club in holding such affairs each season, and one of these, the motorists feel, should be held early in the season. The crowds that have heretofore turned out to witness the Waverly Park events were pronounced larger than have ever assembled at any of the meets in some of the larger cities, clearly demonstrating the interest taken in automobiling in this vicinity. The annual meeting of the club will take place early next month, when the election of officers will be held. By that time it is expected all arrangements for the spring meet will have been completed.

TRAINING CAMP NOTES.

Young Mack—correctly but unfrequently called Mr. McQuillan—is down with an aggravated attack of snuffles and a feeling of goneness. He was too ill to go out this morning, but a day or two of rest will probably straighten him out. He complained of sore throat and a buzzy head last night and went to bed early. He is the third of the Jersey's pitchers to get sick.

The diamond was rolled with a horse machine this morning and put in fast shape. A lively game between the regulars and the Yannigans will be played this afternoon.

GOLF.

As the valuation of land advances in all large cities, so increases the problem confronting hundreds of golf clubs, and it seems only a question of time when all clubs, save those owing their courses, will be forced to disband. In fact, a good many organizations, including quite a few in this State, have seen the handwriting on the wall and acted accordingly. On this score, such bodies as the Essex County Country Club, Montclair Golf Club, Morris County Golf Club and the recently formed club at Upper Montclair need not worry, for the land is theirs till such time as they may choose to dispose of it. In addition to these, there are any quantity of others which have long leases on their courses, with an option of buying. The actual risk which golfers take in getting together and purchasing the land is comparatively slight, and, in most instances, a handsome profit could be realized after a few years, in the event of their wishing to sell. Despite the fact that several clubs throughout the country were compelled to wind up their affairs last year, because their courses had been sold for real estate purposes, statistics prove that for every club to go out of business there were three to take its place. It is also noticeable that a majority of the clubs being organized nowadays are purchasing the land wherever feasible. Reports from those in the trade, who have been on recent trips, show the game to be in a healthy condition, and the fact that more golf supplies are being sold than before speaks for itself.

DREDGING FOR HUSBANDS.

How London Social Gravel Is Raked for Matrimonial Nuggets of Value.

Dredging for a husband is a development of the times which causes much amusement to the observant, says Truth. A girl who occupies a good position in "society" and is intelligent soon discovers that the number of rich bachelors of her own standing in life is very limited, that most of them are almost captured already, and that many of them will have little to do with her.

She then commences to "dredge" the bed of the social stream. Buried in the gravel of this are many rich men, the sons of still obscure financiers, manufacturers or merchants, and careful dredging often brings some of these to the surface. Then the connections are generally cast back into the water, and only the valuable elder son retained for use.

"Dredging parties" have recently become the rage. An expert "dredger" spends the winter in gathering the necessary material in hotels on the continent and in other directions, and in the spring and summer gives a series of at homes to West End "customers," charging a commission on each completed transaction.

Thus a "customer" captivates a "dredged" bachelor, and becomes engaged to him. If his income is £10,000 a year, the percentage is capitalized, and the amount is paid to the "dredger" on the wedding eve by the parents of the girl.

The "dredgers" have hitherto mostly been the divorced wives or widows of knights or baronets, but as the business is so remunerative many of the best known women in London are adopting it, for it is obvious that a duchess would be able to rake the "social" deep much more effectively than can even a lady who has made one reputation in "society" by losing another in the divorce court.

BALLOON IN FRENCH COURT

Aeronaut Is Seized and Arraigned for Knocking Over Chimney Pot.

The balloon is now fighting its way for a standing before the French courts. Though it appears to have become as established a fact as the bicycle or the automobile, nevertheless the idea is too new and original for the courts to have many precedents providing for aerial navigation as a method of transit, says a Paris report.

However, the subject of ancient lights and ancient rights of air, etc., promises to some before the courts of France in hundreds of different ways in the not far distant future. The first balloon case of the kind has just been before the court for adjustment.

The suit grows out of a balloon accident of last year. An aeronaut named Bacon was passing in his balloon over Paris when he unexpectedly came to within a few yards of the roofs. Finally he knocked down a chimney pot. Thinking him in danger some people promptly seized the dragging guide rope and in spite of the aeronaut's protest hauled him down into the street. He therefore had no choice except to order them to shut their windows while he deflated his gas bag. The gas entered a house through a window carelessly left open and caused an explosion in which a man named Gouzeau was killed. The question at issue was as to whether the aeronaut having been an unwilling sufferer himself was responsible for the situation created. The courts finally decided against the aeronaut and sentenced him to pay damages to the amount of $1,000 to the widow of Gouzeau, the man who was killed.

Arbitration Board Again Spared.

Trenton, April 13.—In the Senate yesterday Mr. McKee made an unsuccessful attempt to resurrect his bill for the abolition of the State Board of Arbitration. Only ten Senators favored the measure. They were Colby, Cresse, Frelinghuysen, Horner, Jackson, McKee, Minturn, Plummer, Price and Shinn. When the last named voted for the bill Mr. Jackson raised a laugh by remarking "while the lamp holds out to bourn." Senators Bradley, Brown, Lee, Minch and Wakelee voted against the bill, Wakelee remarking that it was not because he anticipated having a resident of Bergen county appointed to the board that he was opposed to the abolition of the board. This bill is dead for the session.

There will be a regular church service at the German Reformed church tonight at 8 o'clock.

Fine Garments for Easter Wear.

There is a prominent distinction about our Garments which classes them above the ordinary ready-to-wear clothing.

The standard of The People's Credit Clothing Co.'s Made Garments is superior in every respect. They are made by us to create a graceful appearance to the wearer and to reflect credit upon us. The inferior garments offered by the irresponsible firms may look like the genuine, but the wear will betray their fraud. They have done it in other cities and will do so in this city, as sure as you live.

The People's Credit Clothing Company don't offer one dollar as a prize catch. For every person who comes to our store our standard reputation speaks for the Plainfield public.

We are the largest Credit Clothiers in America. We sell more clothing in one day than the petty concerns sell in one year.

Our usual guarantee is back of every garment we sell—that it must suit our customers or you need not keep it.

GOTHAM'S AMUSEMENTS

John Philip Sousa's new military comic opera, "The Free Lance," will receive its metropolitan premiere at the New Amsterdam theatre next Monday evening. Klaw & Erlanger are responsible for the production, elaborately staged with beautiful scenery and costumes, and Harry B. Smith, the well known librettist, stands sponsor for the book and lyrics. The verdict of the critics in Springfield, Hartford and Philadelphia is that Mr. Sousa has never composed more brilliant and catchy music, Mr. Smith has never written a more comic story and Klaw & Erlanger have never made a more artistic production. The company numbers 125 people. A notable feature is made of the male chorus of 50 voices which greatly aids in the rendering of Mr. Sousa's spirited martial music, especially his new march number, "On to Victory," the finale of the first act. This is considered a worthy successor to "The Washington Post" march and "The Stars and Stripes Forever." "The Free Lance" is a genuine comic opera. The principal comic interest is carried by Joseph Cawthorn as Siegmund Lump. The musical numbers are sung by Mr. Cawthorn as Siegmund, Nella Bergen as Princess Yolande, Jeannette Lowrie as Griselda, Albert Hart as the Duke, Harry MacDonough as the Emperor and George Tallman as Prince Florian. Other noted principals are Sim Pulen, Louis Haines, Charles Santra, Junia Allen, Geraldine Malone, Monte Elmo, Estelle Thebaud and Dorothy Southwick.

Manager John Cort will introduce a new star to the New York public at the Liberty theatre next Monday evening in Florence Roberts, who will appear in a new four-act modern play by Alice M. Smith, called "The Strength of the Weak." There is a problem in the piece and a betrayed girl, but the theme is handled very differently from the conventional problem play. The action begins on graduation day at an American university for women. Pauline Darcey, the valedictorian, played by Miss Roberts, is a betrayed girl, who writes a book reflecting certain phases of her life and her relations with her unscrupulous guardian, with whom she sinned before realizing its enormity. From this point the problem assumes a new aspect. Her book is published anonymously and becomes the subject of much discussion. In the meantime Miss Darcey has fallen honestly in love with a young architect. They become betrothed. The complications then lead through powerful gramatic situations to a natural denouement. The girl has to confess her sin and the young man forgives her, but it finally develops that he is the son of Pauline's guardian and betrayer. These are the salient points in Miss Smith's story. Mr. Cort has surrounded Miss Roberts with a strong company. The leading principals are Tyrone Power, Max Figman, H. S. Northrup, Eugene Ormonde, Robert McWade, Frank Richter, Donald Weldon, Adelaide Manola, Florence Robinson, Mary Bertrand, Ruth Allen, Fanny Cannon, Lucille Yorke and Emma Campbell. The scenes of the play are laid in and near New York.

RATS OWN CITY HALL;
BUILDING TO BE CHANGED.

Butcher Shops on Ground Floor Attract Rodents, So the Stalls Will Be Driven Out.

Because of the presence of rats, which at times have almost put the departments out of business, a number of changes are to be made in the City Hall at Elizabeth. When the hall, a brick building, occupying about a block, was built in 1865 part of the ground floor was set off for a market, and it has ever since been occupied by butchers. The butcher shops attracted rats.

The members of the Board of Health, who have their headquarters in the hall, tried wainscoting and tar paper, but they did little good, and on the death of a rat they have had to use creosote.

It has now been decided to do away with the butcher shops and changes are to be made which it is expected will cost about $5,000. Companies C and I, of the Second Regiment, which have their quarters on the upper floor of the building, are to be moved to the ground floor, and the offices of the Board of Health, Overseer of the Poor, Sealer of Weights and Measures and Board of Excise are to be moved upstairs.

MRS. APPLEGATE WELL AGAIN!

"I have had a bruised leg and foot for several years, caused by the brass eyelets of my shoe, which became very sore and painful especially at night. It itched, burned and ached me till it nearly set me crazy. I used everything I found and was suggested to ease it and nothing gave me any relief till I found and applied Azienza Cream which I think is a wonderful remedy for all sores and inflammation of the skin. The hard knots on my legs were as painful as bee stings, with discolored and purple spots. A running sore on my instep size of a half-dollar; the top of my foot a seething sore clean around to my heel. The bone was sore for a whole year and very painful. I used five and one-half jars of Azienza Cream and healed the sore all up. The foot remained tender and I continued to use to strengthen and toughen the skin until now it is entirely well." PRESBYTERIANS MAY BUILD A CATHEDRAL

UNION OF TWO WASHINGTON CHURCHES THOUGHT TO INDICATE IT.

Washington, April 13.—The union of the New York Avenue and the Assembly Presbyterian churches was ratified at Tuesday's meeting of the Presbytery of Washington, by a unanimous vote. The union of these two congregations is generally understood to be the basis of the nucleus of the foundation of a Presbyterian cathedral at Washington.

The name of Justice Harlan, of the Supreme Court, has been intimately associated with the efforts to provide such an edifice at Washington. Justice Harlan, at the meeting, repudiated the idea, which, he said, seemed to be current that he was the sponsor for the cathedral plan, and assured the Presbytery he was entirely content with its decision. He added that he certainly would do everything in his power to build up a great Presbyterian Church in Washington, but that that subject was not under consideration just at this time.

During the debate on the question of union there was a spirited exchange of words between the Rev. Teunis S. Hamlin, the pastor of the Church of the Covenant, which is located on Connecticut avenue in the most fashionable section of the city, and Justice Harlan, who is a member of the New York Avenue Presbyterian church. Dr. Hamlin said that he would vote for the union of the two churches because he liked to see Presbyterianism grow, and her churches strengthen, but that he was positively against an overshadowing Presbyterian church in Washington. In this connection Dr. Hamlin quoted from some of Justice Harlan's remarks.

Justice Harlan took exception to Dr. Hamlin's remarks and added: "If you think we are coming up into the rich and fashionable portion of this city to set up a rival church to the Church of the Covenant, or any other church, you are very much mistaken. Not for one minute would I sanction such a scheme. I am tooth and toenail against frills in a church, and exalted ministerial position has no weight with me whatever, but I do think that Presbyterianism should have the proper dignity in Washington, the capital of the nation, and I think this new church should have the approval of every man in the city, Presbyterian or any other denomination."

MANGLED BISHOPS' BILL

Machine Amended Measure Passes After Tucker and Perkins Hit at Each Other.

COLBYITES ASSAIL IT

Sergeant-at-Arms Called to Do Service—Stormy Scene in the House Yesterday.

The ex-Bishops' bill came up in the Assembly at Trenton yesterday afternoon in the House on second reading, and Assemblyman Miller offered the original bill as a substitute for the bill passed by the Senate, which is itself a substitute. Mr. Miller called the present measure a brewers' bill. The substitute was opposed by Crowthers and Martin. The latter said he would offer amendments of his own later, especially where the bill attempts to take authority away from Mayor Fagan, of Jersey City. Mr. Miller's substitute was beaten, 11 to 39.

After the stormiest debate of the session and after the bill had been riddled by amendments, it passed, 34 to 20.

Mr. Morgan offered an amendment striking out the section giving the appointment of excise boards to the Common Pleas judges instead of the Mayor or governing body in cities. Martin supported Morgan's amendment with vigor. He said the bill as it stood was putting the judiciary into politics. It was contrary to the decision of the courts. It was contrary to home rule. The Common Pleas judge, he said, had a good deal of influence with the grand juries, and if he was the executive and granted the licenses, he would be both the prosecutor and a juror.

Crowther favored the judge. He thought they were competent to act. Bierck favored the Morgan amendment. He thought the section represented pernicious legislation. The only reason for the section was to satisfy the political scheme of one man. It was a distardly piece of political trickery, and the Republican party would be responsible for a violation of an important decision of the Supreme Court.

Barber opposed the Morgan amendment. He thought public policy demanded a judge rather than excise commissioners. Perkins charged that the present Excise Board of Jersey City was composed of men who had been indicted and liquor dealers. He thought the judge of Common Pleas would be better. There were some further remarks along this line, and then the Morgan amendment was beaten by a vote of 21 to 28.

Scott, of Hudson, said he did not think Martin should be allowed to talk, because he was not a Republican. Martin came back with the statement that he was a good, loyal Republican, representing what he deemed to be the real principles of the party. This brought out a round of applause. The amendment excluding first class cities from the provisions of Section 5 was beaten by a vote of 21 to 30.

Morgan then offered an amendment raising the license fee from $300 to $500, as the original bill provided. Thompson, of Mercer, said he might like to support the amendment, but too much time was being wasted and the Senate had thrashed it all out.

Martin rapped the Mercer man. He said the House was not subsidiary to the Senate and should take all the time necessary to discuss and determine important questions. The amendment was defeated, 17 to 30.

Bierck offered an amendment providing that the present Excise Commissioners shall remain in office until their present terms expire. It was lost, 17 to 34.

Walsh put in an amendment that the excise boards shall order the screens down. The present bill says the boards may order them down.

Martin said that he defied the House to tell who was the father of the measure. If the bill were amended so that the screens would have to come down during prohibited hours, he said, the measure would be much better. This amendment was adopted.

The speaker offered an amendment making the age limit twenty-one, which was in the original bill, instead of eighteen. The speaker said it was an outrage to provide that liquor could be sold to minors. He would rather see the entire bill fail than have such a provision inserted. The amendment was adopted, 37 to 4.

Bierck offered an amendment providing that where excise boards are now elected by the people they shall hereafter be appointed by the judge, so as to make the law uniform. It was beaten.

Tucker, of Union, said nobody wanted the bill. He said this in reply to Perkins, who said that, if the bill was going to be passed and amount to anything, the House must stop amending it. Tucker shouted: "We all known nobody wants it. I am willing to go before my constituents on the proposition."

Then came a fight, which many think presages closing scenes of bitterness. Martin said the whole business emanated from an attempt to legislate out of office Mayor Fagan, of Jersey City. That was all there was to it, and they (the Colby men) were ready to meet the proposition.

Bierck had previously put in an amendment. Barber said it was drawn by a prominent North Jersey man who was doing all he could to destroy the Republican party. He referred to George L. Record, many thought. Bierck was on his feet in an instant. He seemed very angry. He arose to a question of personal privilege. Before he could say anything, Perkins demanded that the lobbies be cleared. This was done after some delay.

Then Bierck denied emphatically that any one had drawn the amendment. He drew it himself and he wanted Barber to understand that he had no right to cast such reflections. Barber had previously said he would accept Bierck's amendment.

Bierck protested and refused to take his seat. Elvins, who was in the chair, ordered Bierck to take his seat. Then he requested the sergeant-at-arms to see that the Hudson man took his seat.

Miller moved that the House take a recess for one hour. Speaker Robbins, who sat at the rear of the House, protested, and the motion was voted down. The sergeant-at-arms had then reached Bierck, and then Bierck sat down. Berg got up and offered an amendment. Perkins moved the previous question. Berg refused to stop talking. Elvins, in the chair, ordered the sergeant-at-arms to compel Berg to take his seat. Berg, who is a big man, shouted, "It will take a pretty good sergeant-at-arms to make me sit down."

The sergeant-at-arms got an assistant of powerful physique, and when the two reached Berg, he dropped into his chair.

The bill then passed to third reading. Thompson made a short speech in favor of it. Then came the fusillade. Miller called the bill the most injurious political trick ever played in the State. He could not vote for it.

Then Martin pitched into the measure in terrific fashion. He said the bill was in the interests of the back rooms and the notorious blue fronts. It was against the people and the bishops and solely in the interests of the degraded men and women and the saloonkeepers. All that was meant by the men who drew the measure was to injure Mayor Fagan. That was all they had in view. The bill was now a lot of tatters; it allowed men to sell liquor without license. It might better be thrown away. The blue fronts could sell illicit liquor with impunity. He had been told—he did not know how truly—early in the session that the Bishops' bill was the work of James Smith, Jr., in order to put the Democratic party back in power. If it were true, the present bill would probably accomplish the same object. He hoped the measure would be beaten.

Barber, of Mercer, defended the bill on the ground that it was a good measure, although, perhaps, not good enough; he made no reference to the arguments advanced by Martin, except to declare he personally was not trying to slap any politician in the face.

Bierck said the odium of this measure would be upon the Republican party. The original bill had been torn to shreds and the members had not the courage to face the situation.

Speaker Robbins intimated that the Essex and Hudson members were carrying water on both shoulders. He believed the bill was a step in the right direction.

Morgan would not stand for a bill prepared by the bishops, which had been so amended that the bishops now abandoned it.

Miller attacked the "brewer ripper" as he called it. He said it was a dastardly measure intended to deceive the people. The people had their eyes open and would not be deceived.

Martin said his delegation had been charged with playing double. He read from the bill a section which showed that a saloon could be established within 200 feet of a church or school, thus repealing the present law. This came like a bombshell to the advocates of the bill. They simply had nothing to say. Martin said if this did not satisfy them, he would show some more tricks in the bill. The advocates were apparently satisfied. The bill then passed.

The bill now goes to the Senate for action on the House amendments.

Tells of Robbing the Passaic.

Paterson, April 12.—When the taking of testimony was resumed yesterday in the suit of the city of Paterson against the East Jersey Water Company for diverting the waters of the Passaic River, General J. W. Congdon, president of the Phoenix Silk Manufacturing Company, was called to the stand. He said there had always been sufficient water to operate turbine wheel before the water corporation put in its plant at Little Falls. Formerly there had been boating and fishing in the river in the rear of the mill, he said, while now the bed of the river is exposed. Where persons formerly swam across the river they now walked across.

GREAT THRONG AT UNION GOOD FRIDAY SERVICES

"WORDS OF BEHOLDERS"

Theme for Pastor's Addresses—Appropriate Hymns by Quartette Choir and the Worshippers.

The Union Good Friday service held in the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church last night attracted a large gathering of worshippers from the local evangelical churches. In form the service differed from that used during the past ten years, when it was the custom for the ministers to speak on "The Last Seven Words on the Cross." Last night the service was entitled "The Cross. The Words of the Beholders."

Rev. Charles L. Goodrich, pastor of the Congregational church, was in charge of the service, and conducted the "opening sentences" and the general confession, in which the whole congregation united, concluding with the Lord's Prayer. Rev. L. R. Howard, of Hope chapel, led the responsive reading, which was followed with an anthem by the quartette choir of the church. Rev. A. E. Finn, of the Park Avenue Baptist church, read the Scripture lesson, which closed the first part of the service.

Four pastors were chosen to speak on "The Cross—the Words of the Beholders," the first being Rev. A. C. McCrea, of the First M. E. church. His topic was the word of the soldiers: "Let us not rend it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall be." Referring to the garment of Christ, the speaker said that sometimes the most sacred things became profane in the hands of some people, while the most simple things are mighty in the hands of others. He described the garment as being the same one which the woman touched and was healed. Continuing, Mr. McCrea spoke in part as follows:

"If Christ had not come and taught the Golden Rule men would be cruel in their nature, and had he not touched their eyes they would be just as blind as were the men of old. Real value are not to be found in the material things of life. Unless we have the spirit of Christ we, too, will be blind. In grasping for the garment let us not forget to lay hold on Christ."

The word of those who passed by and the priests was the topic assigned to the second speaker, Rev. Erskine M. Rodman, rector emeritus of Grace church. He referred at first to the annual custom of the churches during the past ten or fifteen years in holding the union Good Friday service and of the rule to follow the subject of "The Seven Last Words on the Cross." He said that he could not help but note the great contrast between that subject and the one chosen this year. Dean Rodman then spoke of the great agony of the Lord at His crucifixion, and the ridicule of the crowd when he said that "He could destroy the temple and build it again in three days," also that "He had power to lay down his life and take it up again." "He had power to descend from the cross," said the speaker, "and if He had exercised this power it would have been no greater than other miracles performed by Him. The horrible taunts of Christ's enemies I believe were a part of the cup of bitterness He had to drink; yet he asked His Father to forgive them, because they knew not what they were doing. He bore the blasphemous remarks, notwithstanding His sensitive nature, and I am inclined to believe that the insulting words, the mocking and scourging and the jeers of the crowd, caused the greatest suffering, and yet he suffered it all. May God give us grace and may this meeting give us grace to bear our suffering and help us to love Him more."

The word of the repentant thief was the third topic, and Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, of the First Baptist church, was chosen to speak upon it. In his introductory remarks he spoke of the fall of Satan at the crucifixion and the triumph of the cross whose wonders would never cease.

"Who this robber was or for what crime he was hung on the cross beside the Saviour, we are not told," said Dr. Chambliss; "but we know that he was a criminal of the deepest dye. He was brought to the crucifixion, we believe, without one thought of regret, but as the hours passed his views changed and he began to recall things he had heard, perhaps the prayer of the Saviour. He was

BOY'S MIRACULOUS ESCAPE FROM DEATH

EDWIN SMITH, AGED SIX YEARS, FALLS THIRTY-FIVE FEET.

While playing inside Charles W. McCutchen's new building on Park avenue yesterday afternoon, Edwin Smith, the six-year-old son of Mrs. William Smith, of 110 West Second street, slipped and fell from the second story to the ground, a distance of thirty-five feet, receiving a fracture of the femur, the bone extending from the hip to the knee. The break extended over two-thirds of the bone. The lad was accompanied by a companion, Jakey Jones, and he saw Smith fall.

Young Jones rushed downstairs to where his playmate lay and found him helpless. He then carried the injured lad to his home in West Second street, and Dr. Marcus L. Clawson, the family physician, was summoned. When he arrived he made a thorough examination and at once arranged to have the lad taken to the hospital in the ambulance. There the fractured bone was set. Today the boy was reported to be doing well.

The lad's escape from being killed was miraculous. The fact that he landed on his side instead of his head is the only thing that saved him. He did not even lose consciousness, and as soon as his companion reached him gave directions to be taken home. There were no workmen in the immediate vicinity at the time of the accident, and they did not hear of it until young Smith called their attention to it. The boys had no business inside the building, and the foreman in charge of the work there has given strict orders to keep out all persons except those employed about the structure.

CHARLEY WOOLSTON A BENEDICT NOW

WEDDED THIS MORNING TO MISS NELLIE A. BECHTEL.

In the presence of only relatives of both families, Miss Nellie A. Bechtel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Bechtel, of Carlton avenue, and Charles Stanley Woolston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel B. Woolston, were quietly married at 11:30 this morning. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents by Rev. A. C. Nickerson, pastor of All Souls' Unitarian church. The guests in all numbered twenty-five.

Miss Bechtel was attended by Miss Dora Lipincott, of Philadelphia, as bridesmaid, and Marcus Hoyt acted as best man. The bride, who was attired in a gown of pale gray chiffon cut Princesse, was given away by her father. She carried a bouquet or violets and orange blossoms. Miss Lipincott's gown was of Alice blue trimmed with point lace. The parlor, dining room and hall were decorated with palms and southern smilax.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served and later Mr. and Mrs. Woolston took their departure for a wedding trip. As they left the house they were showered with rice and many of the younger guests followed them to the station, where they were subjected to noisy congratulations. The young couple will spend a short time at Atlantic City and later will go to Washington and then Niagara Falls. On returning they will reside at Truell nn.

The groom is engaged in the clothing business on North avenue and is well known as a baseball and automobile enthusiast. His bride has been a resident of the city but two years, coming here with her parents from Brooklyn.

Strong Financial Condition.

In another column will be found the report made by the Dime Savings Institution of Plainfield to the Banking Department, showing it to be in a strong financial condition. The institution is managed by its directors on a sound and conservative basis, the mortgages held by it are on the best properties in the city and are made on a 50 per cent. valuation, and all interest on them is paid. The bonds are first class and of the best and strongest security. There is not a better or stronger institution in the State. A comparison of the statement will verify it.

Now Three Score and Ten.

Stephen D. Mangam was tendered a surprise party by his daughters, Mrs. John Millwater and Mrs. Samuel G. Traynor, last night, in honor of his seventieth birthday. Friends were present from New York, Newark, Brooklyn, Plainfield and other places.

SAW UNDERWRITER

Told That Certification of Wiring Was Not Required from Private Residences.

President R. Henry Depew, of the Plainfield Protective Association, issued a statement this morning in reply to the P. S. C.'s explanation of its circular request for immediate information as to all the lights in private houses, published in yesterday's Daily Press. Mr. Depew, on the authority of an interview with one of the officials of the Middle Department of the Underwriters' Association, denies that the Underwriters require residence users of electricity to secure a wiring certificate. He repeats the P. P. A.'s request that householders give no information to the P. S. C. until their rights are fully understood.

Mr. Depew's statement is as follows:

"I had an interview yesterday with Mr. Creighton, of the Underwriters' Association of the Middle Department, and laid before him the circular letter which was issued by the Public Service Corporation, asking 'resident consumers of electric light' 'residence consumers of electric light' to inform them how many lights were installed in their houses, so that certificates could be issued.

"He stated that they had made an arrangement with the Public Service Corporation to furnish these provisional certificates, but in answer to my question as to whether the Underwriters required a certificate to be issued, he stated that they did not require them on private houses, though they did on mercantile, manufacturing and similar buildings. He said that the P. S. C. would not turn on the current until a certificate had been issued.

"It appears to be rather inopportune for the P. S. C. to have taken up this matter at this time, when the public are wrought up over the whole gas and electric light situation, and it seems strange that circulars which were printed before April 1st were not sent out till the 11th, and answers asked for by the 15th. If they needed the answer by the 15th, why did they not send them out earlier and give two weeks or a month for a reply, and by so doing allow time to investigate the necessity of it?

"We expect to be able to report fully on the subject within the next few days, and would again suggest that answers be deferred in the meantime; but it might be well for householders to examine their insurance policies, and if they contain any reference to a certificate, send the policies to the companies and have the restriction taken off."

"AUTO HOT CROSS BUNS."

Frelinghuysen's "Thoughtfulness" Gets a Vote of Thanks.

Trenton, April 14.—Soon after midnight yesterday morning the busy proceedings of the House were interrupted by the appearance at one of the doors of two white-coated waiters bearing trays filled with small ice cream boxes. These they proceeded to distribute among the members, and when they were opened each was found to contain a bun and a card bearing this legend:

: Auto Hot-Cross Bun. :
: Compliments of :
: Senator Frelinghuysen. :

Upon motion of Mr. Perkins, the thanks of the House were extended to Senator Frelinghuysen "for his thoughtfulness," and a bill of teh Senator coming up next was passed unanimously without any explanation being made of its provisions.

Workman Killed by Train.

Elizabeth, April 14.—Dominic Flannery, an iron worker, was struck and killed yesterday afternoon at Elizabeth by an eastbound Philadelphia flyer on the Pennsylvania Railroad. The victim lived in New Brunswick and left a wife and family. Two fellow workmen barely escaped his fate.

BEGIN THEIR PASSOVER

Prophet Crowdy's Followers Have Midnight Feast of "Paschal" Lamb.

ELIJAH LEADS PARADE

His Hosts March and Ride Through the Streets—Faithful All Dress in Symbolic Colors.

With a feast of lambs at midnight, the Church of God and Saints of church pilgrims, known among the Gentiles as the "Feetwashers," began their Passover celebration in Reform Hall last night. Over 1,000 of the faithful, all of those who flocked into town for the annual observance, took part in the feast. A good many lambs were used up; none of the ushers knew just how many. Instead of wine, the feasters drank water. Prophet Crowdy says that is what was drunk at the Last Supper.
